DAYTON (Campbell Co., Ky): "This 4th cl. city is located across the Ohio R. from Cinci., e and n of Bellevue, n of Ft. Thomas, and a little over 1 mi ne of the Newport po. Dayton was the product of a merger in 1867 of the two adjacent but separate commu's. of Jamestown and Brooklyn, which had been chartered in 1848 and 1849, resp. The local po, which was est. on 11/12/1849 as Brooklyn with Sam'l. Bassett, pm, was disc. in 1856 and re-est. as Dayton in 1868. In 1896 it became a branch of the Newport po. No one really knows why any of these names was applied. It is thought that some of Brooklyn's early settlers had come from NY; Jamestown might refer to the Va. colony since nearby Newport was named for the Engl. sea captain who had brought the first settlers to Va. It is no longer accepted that Dayton was named for the Ohio city, nor is there any evidence that the name refers to the early Dayton Mill here, which is said to have been established by a pion. family of Daytons. In 1866 a Cinci. newsp. reported a list of names that had been suggested for the new town: Crescent, Stanberry, Bendville, Berryville, North Point, Hallam, Lookout, Campbleton (sic), Buchanan, and Skillbeck. But by July 4, 1866, the Dayton name had been applied and accepted by the residents." (Book-P. 79);

(CONCLIN' NEW RIVER GUIDE OR A GAZETTEER OF ALL THE TOWNS ON THE WESTERN WATERS....Cinci., 1850. in Filson Club Libr.);
DAYTON (Campbell Co.): No one knows why this was selected as the name. Brooklyn was laid out on a section of 1500 acres that the elder Jas. Taylor had given to his son, Edmund. Later part of it was acquired by Burton Hazen a Fulton, Ohio shipbuilder. Platted 11/1848. Act to est. Brooklyn was approved 2/27/1849. Jamestown was inc. 3/1/1848 and laid out on land of James Taylor Berry, Jas. M. McArthur, and Henry Walker. (From Margaret Hartman's tour guide to N.Ky., P. 8).
DAYTON (Campbell Co.): Settled 1847. Inc. as Jamestown 1848. Brooklyn, another village, joined Jamestown. Combined on 5/12/1867 to become Dayton. ...(WHO'S WHO ON THE OHIO RIVER AND ITS TRIBUTARIES, by Ethel C. Leahy, Cinc. 1931, Pp. 529-30); List of names suggested for the new town to be composed of the union of Brooklyn and Jamestown=Crescent, Stanberry Bendville, Berryville, North Point, Hallam, Lookout, Campbleton (sic), Buchanan, and Skillbeck. (CINCI. DAILY ENQ. 4/26/1866, P. 1:5) Later that spring the residents of the combined town named it Dayton. (Ibid., 7/4/66 P. 1);
DAYTON (Campbell Co.): The Cinci. Daily Enq. on 5/23/1867, P. 3 inquired why a new name had to be adopted when either of the originals, unique in the state, could have done as well and why a name that could only lead to confusion with another nearby city. Assumes that the residents of Brooklyn and Jamestown could not accept the other name. Predicts much confusion and error because of the similarity with the name of the better known Dayton, Ohio. Favors returning to one of the original names or to a new name.
DAYTON (Campbell Co., Ky): Chas. Tharp of Ft. Thomas is most knowledgeable about this area's hist. JAMESTOWN had 170 acres and may have been named for Jas. T. Berry and Jas. M. McArthur, co-founders with Henry Walker. Or for Jas. Taylor (Jr), Berry's father-in-law. It merged with BROOKLIN (sic) which was w. of Jamestown. The merger was based on the inability of Jamestown to secure its own po. Steamboat landing. Rope works. Origin of DAYTON name is unknown. Watch Case Co. (Reis, Vol. 1, Pp. 120-22); DAYTON is a working cl. town on the Ohio R. The area was 1st settled in 1796 by Washington Berry & family. Two river towns with rope works, sawmills, and hotels. C&O arr. in D. in 1888. Pop. decline due to flooding when people relocated in Ft. T. (KY. ENCY. P. 259);
DAYTON (Campbell Co.): 1796, Washington Berry of Clark Co., Ky. bought 1000 acres of the Dayton site for $1 an acre. At the time Jamestown was chartered by the Leg., title to the land (or part of it) was held in fee simple by John F. Taliaferro...Two towns were adjacent and fronted on the Ohio R. J'town was above Bklyn. Virtually nothing is known of Bklyn's early hist. Brooklyn was named for the city in NY. Two theories about the naming of Dayton: from Dayton, O. or the name of an old mill in the eastern part of the town...(C.B. Truesdell in a letter to Emmett L. Hardy, 11/14/1949);
DAYTON (Campbell Co.): ("Da/[t]von") DK the origin of Jamestown but guesses it was named for Jamestown, Va. since, acc. to Gen'l. Taylor's granddaughter, Newport was named for Christopher Newport. Guesses Brooklyn was named for Brooklyn, N.Y., a great shipbuilding ctr. There was a Dayton family in the county in the early 19th cent. Truesdell speaks of a Dayton Mill. Doubts it was named for Dayton, O. and leans to the theory that it was named for the local family. But evid. is lacking. (Margaret Hartman, interview, 5/2/1979); DK why the 2 commu's. united. Thinks that some of the early settlers of Brooklyn may have come from NY. She has some data on this but would have to refer to this (child.)
JAMESTOWN may have been named for 1 or 2 of its 3 founders—Jas. T. Berry, grandson of Newp. founder Gen. Jas. Taylor, Jas. M. McArthur, and Henry Walker. Or it could have been named for Jamestown, Va. This was the east. p of the future DAYTON, betw. the Ohio R (n), Clay St. (e 7th St. (s), and Clark St. (w). BROOKLYN's dev't. was spearheaded by Burton Hazen, a realtor. He laid it out 11/1848. Burton a relative Lewis Hagen bought most of the site from M&M Robt. Todd in 8/48 to which add'l. land was added in 1850. Suggestions for new name of the merged city: CRESCENT, STANBERRY, BENDVILLE, BERRYVILLE N. POINT, HALLAM, LOOKOUT, CAMPBLETON (sic), BUCHANAN, and SKILLBECK. (Sources given for several of these names....) This was acc. to a newsp. acct. dated 4/26/
1866. Acc. to a 7/4/1866 acct. in a Cinci. newsp., DAYTON was selected and named for the city in Ohio. (which had been founded in 1803.) (Reis, Vol. 3, Pp. 170-74);
DAYTON (Campbell Co.). Believed that LaSalle's party landed on a sandbar at this pt. 1669; now called the Dayton Bar and met a group of Miami &/or Iroquois Indians. Geo. R. Clark may have had an unsuccessful encounter with Indians there 1779. In 1796, Washington Berry & family from Clark Co., Ky. settled on site. Bought 1000 acres for $1 an acre. (P.4). What later became Dayton started as 2 independent towns: Jamestown and Brooklyn. Jamestown inc. by Leg. & app. by gov. 3/1/1848 on land owned by Jas. T. Berry, Jas. M. McArthur, & Henry Walker and to be called Jamestown. (P.5)... Brooklyn chartered 1849 by Leg. app. by gov.
2/27/49. Berry St. was orig. boundary betw. th 2 towns. (P. 7) Brooklyn had po but Jamestown couldn't get one since another po by that name. The 2 towns tended to/ union: similar interests, common social base. Thought it best to actually unite. Formally combined by Leg. 3/67 Citizens had voted to consolidate earlier. Acc. to Leg. Act, new "city" was to be called Dayton from combined "towns" of J. and B. (P. 8 Corp. limits expanded 1870 with later annexations in 1894, 1922, 1937. (P. 9).... (CENTEN. The land was called "Flagg Spring Tract" at least by 1800. (Margaret Hartman, interview, 5/22/1979); It has to be GUBSER MILL (Campbell Co.): ("Ghoob/sar Mihl"

They say John Cooper was John Gubser. The 184 Atlas gives John Gubser as having settled there in 1844. He was a miller from Switz. and settled around 1844. If this is so, then Truesdell's acct. is wrong. But there could have been a mill there before he took over...
Informant questions whether John Gubser actually had a mill there in 1825. (She is not trying to place all the early mills on the land and is working with Mr. Stevens). (Marg. Hartman, interview, 5/22/1979); Assumes it was a spelling error. She doesn't believe that Cooper was derived from Gubser tho some others seem to accept this. The Coopers were an (early-family) earlier family. She thinks the atlas date is correct. Gubser didn't have the 1st mill there tho' he didn't have it earlier than 1870. But not as early as 1825 as Truesdell says. There are Chalks still living in the county. (Ibid.)

In early settlement times, the road thru this vic.--which is now KY 8, was called Twelve Mile Tpke.; the toll houses were 5 mi. apart. The carriage factory, operated by the Helms, was probably built in 1889 or '90 and the town was laid out by John D. Ellis, a civil engineer, in 1890. The 1st lot was sold in 1892. Berry's Chapel (later the Meth. Chu.) lot was bought in 1892. The Melbourne name was used on the plot of 1890. The town was not inc. until 1912 but the incorporation "lay dormant" from 1913 to 1970. He thinks that Hubbard Helm "was the man who purchased the site and named it Melbourne."

For years the C&O provided many of the basic municipal services. (It incorporated sometime after 1949). (C.B. Truesdell of Ft. Thomas, Ky. in a letter to Emmett L. Hardy, 11/14/1949); [signature] (Hartman, 5/22/1979, she cf. to Truesdell) SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co.): ("Sowth/ghat") Not named for Wm. but for Rich'd. who owned the land there. Salisbury was not at this site. cf Bicent. book on Southgate at the KHS...

(Marg. Hartman, interview, 5/22/1979)
SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co., Ky): "This 4th cl. city centers on the present US 27, just over 1 mi sse of the Newport po and 7½ (air) mi nnw of the ct. hse. at Alex. It was est. as a city in 1907 and named, it is said, by then Circuit Judge Albert S. Berry, for pion. landowner Richard Southgate (1773-1857), a NYC-born lawyer who settled in Newport around 1795. It has also been suggested that Judge Berry sought as well to perpetuate the strategic significance of the place as 'the southern entrance to Newport' for its location on a principal route betw. Newport and the bluegrass sect. of Ky. The name may have been doubly approp. since the family's name was allegedly derived from their ancestors' role as keepers of the so. gate of London. The comm. never had its own po."(sic) (Book-P. 276);
SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co., Ky): "Squire Grant was authorized to establish the town of Salisberry on the South East corner of Pond Creek and Licking which later became Southgate and the County Seat of Campbell County about 1823." (Wm. R. (Rus) Stevens, in his col. "Campbell County History" in FALMOUTH OUTLOOK, 10/15/1982, P. 25:1-5)
SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co.): Named for Wm. W. Southgate (1800-1844) and his family, Campbell Co. pioneering family...Inc. 5/16/1907 by order of Judge Albert S. Berry of Camp. Co. Circ. Ct....(C.B. Truesdell, Ft. Thomas, Ky. in a letter to Emmett L. Hardy, 11/14/1949); Albert S. Berry (5/13/1836 to 1/6/1908), In 1866 he was practicing law. Was Demo. Cong. from 1893-1901, mayor of Newport 1870 and Stat Sen. 1878, 1884. Was circ. judge from 1905 to death.
SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co.): Named for the family of Richard Southgate who was near NYC 1773 and arrived Newport vic. c. 6/1792 (or rather that is when he bought his land there. Practiced law there and was (first) Commonwealth Atty., Camp Co. 1798. Also owned a drygoods store in Newport. Bought much land in the area some of which he sold and leased to others. Died 1857 (Paul T. Knapp, FORT THOMAS, KY: ITS HIST... ITS HERITAGE, 1967, Pp. 11-12); Acc. to P&G, there was a South Gate (sic) PO in operation from 1824 to 1825;
SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co.): Richard Southgate was an early landowner in what later became part of Covington. Wm. W. Southgate was Covington's 1st city atty., 1834. (KENTON CO., KY. CENTENNIAL, 6/14-23/1940, n.p.); On 1000 acres of land assigned to Richard Southgate 8/10/1808 the day after Squire Grant had assigned it to Wm. Mosby Grant who assigned it to Southgate. A town named Southgate allegedly founded there and named for Richard. Laid out on the site of what became Salisberry. Laid off by Robt. B. True. This served as county seat....1824. (P.28) G.A. approved Act of 1/10/1825 giving to citizens at an election a choice of 4 place for the county's seat--Visalia, Southgate,
SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co.): Richard Southgate moved to Newport in 1795. He was a lawyer. (Henry H. Lindsey, paper before the Christopher Gist Hist. Soc., 8/25/1953, in PAPERS, Vol. 5, Pp. 14-23); 25 families built homes there c1907. On 4/9/1927 (ch. year) Southgate was est. as a city by the Campbell Co. Circ. Ct. Name suggested by Cong. Albert Berry, owner of much local land, both to honor the Southgate family of area pioneers and for its significance "as the southern entrance to Newport." Name was doubly approp. since family name was derived from the fact that ancestors were "keepers of the south gate of London." In the late 19th cent. on Alexandria Pike, the main rd. between Newport & Leitch's Sta. (Cold Spring were several taverns, ice house, and a numbe of slaughter houses maintained by Ger-Am. families.... ("Hist. of City of Southgate" by Cliff Specht, City Clerk, ms. for dedication ceremonies for musi. bldg. 7/22/1939; copy on file in Southgate Vert. Files, Kento Co. P.L., examined by me, 5/1979);
SOUTHGATE (Campbell Co., Ky): In 1822 this town was est. at the mouth of Pond Creek, on Beck Rd., off Indian Trace Rd; Roberts Ferry and Mill was at the mouth of Plum Creek. It was later called GRIFFINS FORD (Stevens, OUTLOOK, 8/24/1979, P. 16); This commu. is in the ne Camp. Co. hills, just se of Newport. Inc. 1907 and named by Albert S. Berry for Richard Southgate who had settled there ca. 1795. Pop. (1990) = 3,266. (KY. ENCY., P. 836); Named for the family who co-owned most of the site with the Shaler family. But the Southgates lived in Newport while the Shalers lived on a hilltop ca. 1853. It was laid out in 1896 for Nathan Southgate Shaler and inc. 1907. Name also involved the site's id. as "the south gate to Newport."
Several annexations since enlarged the city's terri. at least threefold. (Reis, Vol. 2, Pp. 104-06); It was named for Richard Soutgate. Is believd to have been developed on the site of the prop. town of SALISBERRY. This was part of 1000 acres purchased on 8/9/1796 by Squire Grant from Wm. Kennedy around the mouth of Pond Creek. Just above the mouth of that creek, on 16 acres, a town would be est. (by act of 12/22/1806) to be called SALISBERRY. No other records mention such a town. On 8/9/1808 Squire Grant "assigned the 1000 acres to Wm. Mosby Grant, who the next day, assigned it to Richard Southgate." The 1st record of a town called SOUTHGATE was on a motion made in Nov. 1823 for a rd. betw. this place and Alexandria. Robt. B. True laid off town that yr. SOUTGATE was then a serious contender for Campbell's seat and in fact may have been a seat for a short while in 1824. (Reis, Hartman's Campbell Co. Hist. in THE OUTLOOK, 1972, Pp. 28-30); SALISBERRY (Campbell Co.): Est. as a town by the G.A. 12/22/1806 on the Licking River in the southern part of the county. No record remains of the town and what happened to it. (C.B. Truesdell, Ft. Thomas, Ky. in a letter to Emmett L. Hardy, 11/14/1949); The site is now farmland. Probably never got much more than off the ground. ("Säliberri") (Margaret Hartman, interview, 5/22/1979); The site is up on Pine Creek. Not Southgate. cf Camp. Co. hist. in Falmouth Outlook. (Ibid Created to be co. seat but probably flopped a a commu. (Ibid.);
TEN MILE PO (Campbell Co., Ky): is shown on 1883 map. On the present E. Alexandria Pike, betw. Low Gap Rd. & Tug Fork Rd. (Stevens letter to me, 6/17/1987); Acc. to 1879/80 Gaz., this was called TEN MILE HOUSE. Balthasar Ziegler was pm and gen. storekeeper. Michael Steffen was a wagonmaker; Acc. to 1876/7 Gaz. C. Schaber ran gen. store; Acc. to Balth. Ziegler, 9/14/1885, the TEN MILE po was serving a place locally known as TEN MILE HOUSE and was 3/4 mi w of Ohio R. and on the e. side of Goose Creek, 2 1/2 mi n of Alex. po, 3 mi. s of Cold Spring po, 2 1/2 mi from the Hawthorne po. (SLR);
TEN MILE STATION (Campbell Co., Ky): est. c. 1792 by John Beall, James Miller & John Miller on the bottom below the mouth of Ten Mile Creek. Never precisely located. (Margaret Strebel Hartman, "Ten Mile Station" in FALMOUTH OUTLOOK, 12/21/1979, Pp. 18-9)
TEN MILE STATION (Campbell Co., Ky): at the mouth of Tenmile Creek, on the Ohio R. (See Margaret Hartman's paper on this, 12/21/79). Ten-Mile Rd. followed the creek to the ridge where it crossed Four and Twelve Mile Rd. to Alexandria. Assumes that Tenmile Creek and Twelvemile Creek referred to their distances above Cinci. (Wm. R. Stevens, letter to me, 6/17/1987); Actually Tenmile Creek is c. 10 1/2 miles above the mouth of the Little Miami R.

10 mi. Rd = 10 mi. Creek Rd.
TEN MILE (Campbell Co., Ky): DPO. Est. 4/6/1867. Balhazer (or Balthaszer) Ziegler. Disc. 12/15/1910 (m. to Cold Spring) (NA). The post office was at the Ten Mile House owned by Baltzer (sic) Ziegler, the postmaster. Probably named for its being 10 miles from Newport on the Alexandria Turnpike. "The Tpk. was part of the Washington Rd. to the Miami Settlement as authorized by the Mason Co., Va. Court in 1789." (Wm. R. Stevens, letter to me, 6/17/1987) Tenmile House (F8n) is where Low Gap Rd. joins Upper Tug Fk. Rd., ½ mi. NNE of Low Gap on US 27, just N. of Alexandria.

or 10 mi. from the Ohio R. at Newport.
TWELVE MILE CREEK (Campbell Co., Ky); Originally known as Wells Creek. The Baptist Church at Twelve Mile was org. 9/18/1818 in the home of Samuel Belveal (or Bellville). ("Campbell Co. Hist." FALMOUTH OUTLOOK, 1978 P. 12, by Margaret Hartman); Wells Creek had been named by the Wells bros. when they were surveying that area. Twelve Mile Pike follows the creek from its mouth west to Flagg Springs Pike (now Ky. 10) which also follows the creek s. to its head in s. Camp. Co. (Wm. R. Stevens, letter to me, 6/17/87); Twelve Mi. Creek joins the Ohio R. at Oneonta, about 1 mi. below and opp. New Richmond, O. It joins the Ohio 2 miles above the mouth of Tenmile Creek.
TWELVEMILE CHURCH: on Twelvemile Creek (as spelled on current maps), 2 miles from the Ohio R. — First Twelvemile Church (1901) [n. ch.]

12 mi: Sch and Ngbd.
Threemile Creek (Campbell Co., Ky): early referred to as the Three Mile of Licking. (Margaret Hartman, "Camp. Co. Hist." in FALMOUTH OUTLOOK, 1978, P. 12); Joins Licking R. from the east, 3 miles above its confluence with the Ohio R. opp. downtown Cinci; The creek extends nearly 3 miles w. to the Licking R. in Wilders, opp. Covington. Also Threemile Ngbd. and Road;
TIBBATS CROSS ROADS (Campbell Co., Ky): po est. 4/11/1840, Henry Thomas; Disc. 2/3/1842; Re-est. 4/20/1842, Hubbard D. Helm; Disc. 4/28/1843; Re-est. 12/14/1846, Leo Tibbatts; 12/14/1848, Edmund H. Tarvin...10/12/60, Leo Tibbatts; 11/5/1861, John A. Tarvin; Disc. 3/16/75 (POR-NA); In 1881 the 1848 po bldg. was the home of Edward C. Schabell on Burns Rd (where it says G.W. Tarvin on 1883 map). Where this road "enters Ky 154 anc Herringer Rd. continues to old 27." John W. Tibbatts acquired 440 acres of the Carrington Patent. The 1st pc site was probably at the home of Henry Thomas, the 1st pm. Leo Tibbatts probably built the log po bldg. which housed the office till it closed. In the Lake Atlas (1883) the xrds. is identified by L. Tibbatts. The po served the SW corner of the county. (Wm. R. Stevens or "Tibbatts X Rds PO" in FALMOUTH OUTLOOK, 5/1/1981, P. 26); John W. Tibbatts was a Newport lawyer c.1840. He was a commander of the 16th Ky. Reg. in the Mex. War with the rank of col. (Reis, II, P. 21); TIBBATS X RC was at the jct. of Burns Rd. and Ky 154 (Rus Stevens in 1978 Camp. Co. hist. in OUTLOOK, P. 36); Acc. to John A. Tarvin, 5/23/1868, this po was ½ mi NW of Twelve Mile Creek, 3 mi E of Grants Lick po. (SLR);
TRACE (Campbell Co., Ky): po est. 9/24/1891, Henry Koeninger (?); Disc. 11/16/1913 (mail to California) (POR-NA); Hartman didn't know where this po was located (5/22/1979); Acc. to 1896 Gaz. this was just a po; Acc. to Henry Koeninger, 8/5/1891, the name prop. for this po was LINDWOOD and it would be 3 mi sw of Oneonta po, 4 mi due e of Alex. po, 3 mi w of Carthage po, on the w. bank of Twelve Mile Creek, 3 mi sw of the Ohio River. (SLR);
UPPER and LOWER EIGHT MILE ROADS extend between Ky. 8, along the Ohio R., roughly sw to Ky. 547 (which parallels Fourmile Cr.) n. of Camp Springs. It joins Ky. 8 about where an Eightmile Creek might once have joined the Ohio R. below Ross. An unnamed creek is shown on most maps where an Eight-mile Creek ought to be. Its 2 forks seem to follow the routes of these two roads. That's about all Stevens could say on this. (Wm. R. Stevens, letter to me, 6/17/1987)

This alleged Eightmile Cr. is 2 3/4 miles below the mouth of Tenmile Cr. and 4 3/4 mi. above the mouth of Fourmile Creek; were these named for an 8 mi. Creek?
WILDER (Campbell Co.): (sic). Along 3 mile stretch of Ky. 9 (the Licking Pike), just s. of Newport (which provides postal service), e. of the Licking R., just n. of I-275. Plans for a river port and a 600 acre industrial park in sw section of town. Former Mayor Glor Terrell compiled a hist. of the town. On sit of 19th cent. dairy farms and vineyards maintained by German immis. c.1900 a family-owned Newport shipbuilding firm called Andrews Stee Co. built open hearth furnaces in vic. along the river; then called Finchtown. On company­ owned riverside property, they built homes for Hungarian laborers they had imported. The Company encouraged the est. of an incorporated city around the factory. And named it for a rr sta. just north of it that had been named for a Cov. ophthalmologist. Slow growth till the mid. 1950s, then grew eastward along Three Mile Creek Rd. Became 5th cl. city in 1970. In 1976 annexed land south to I275 and later south to Pooles Creek Rd. Expects considerable industrial expansion in the nr. future. Talk now of merging with nearby Southgate....("Growing Community Want to Retain its Identity" CINCI. ENQ. 2/26/1979); Rolf Wiegand WILDERS (Campbell Co.): Wilder=rr name. L&N. 5th class city with an esti. 1975 pop. of 850. Wilder Sta. was located where the L&N crosses the Licking R. Station was named for Wm. Hamlin Wilder (1860-1931), a Covington-born ophthalmologist. When inc. in 1935 the city took the name of the station. Includes much of the county's best industrial property. . . .

("Wilder History" Campbell Co. Citizen, 9/17/1975); ("Wahl/derz") DK anything about it. (Margaret Hartman, interview, 5/22/1979);
WILDER'S STATION (Campbell Co.): So identified on the 1883 atlas as on the LC&L RR between the Licking R. and the Licking Tpke., between Newport & Finchtown, the latter so identified on the map. LEITCH'S STATION was settled in 1789. Never developed as a commu. since overshadowed by Newport. Now WILDER. (Reis, Vol. 3, Pp. 187-8); WOODLAWN (Campbell Co.): Inc. as 6th cl. city in 1922. In 1905 the Woodlawn Home Co. subdivided the Odd Fellows Grove and renamed the commu. Woodlawn. Between Newport on the w. and Ft. Thomas on the e. ... (Cindy Schroeder, "Living Up On the Hill...Like Being in Country" - CINCY. ENQUIRER, 2/19/1979) (cf.
