

From the Lexington Gazette.

A letter from Governor Wickliffe, of course a scolding, contained in the Observer of yesterday, has attracted the highest importance to the citizens of Kentucky.

The party which has vindicated our Government for years and which has been the champion of the State, has been in the "necessitous habit" of opposing the General Assembly, and has been "handed out" by the State.

The Governor calls upon the capitalists of the State to purchase the State bonds, and thereby relieve his embarrassments, and thus for a moment such a thing as the State of Kentucky is the most wretched of the present world.

It is not the province of the true patriot to refuse his aid, because that country has acted unphilosophically, when she is in difficulty, if in her power. When, we hope that those having the ability will meet the crisis, and will, by taking the State bonds to the amount of $200,000, which he thinks will be sufficient to meet the crisis.

Dr. Van Buren is a subject deeply interesting to the State of Kentucky, and one who has been in common with others of your fellow citizens, will acknowledge calls for the aid of all who have taken any part in giving him the money which has been appropriated for his aid.

From the New York Evening Post.

When Mr. Van Buren arrived on the 10th inst. at Onondaga, he was met by a large number of his friends, and a cordial greeting, he was welcomed by all at a public reception, and a cordial greeting, he was welcomed by all at a public reception, and a cordial greeting, he was welcomed by all at a public reception.

He closed with alluding to the ferocity with which he had gone through the whole of his public career had been attacked by his political enemies, maligning and misrepresenting, and misapplying his motives, and covering what should be a controversy for principles and measures in the conduct of the individual.

These are the attacks upon him from those who agree with him in principle in the remotest corner of the land, testifying to the honesty of his motives, and his disinterestedness in the pursuit of his duty.

INDEPENDENT TREASURY.

The reason for the adoption of the Independent Treasury is the desire to secure the independence of the Treasury from the influence of the Executive and the Legislature.

The only safe course for the government or the people, is to collect no more money from the people in the shape of a tax, and to pay out no more money from the Treasury than is necessary for the ordinary expenses of the government.
