

KY. CHILDREN'S HOME QUOTA IS PASSED; IN DAY

Last week Rowan county citizens were called on to make a slight return to the Kentucky Children's Home for the many favors shown them during the past few years, when a representative of the Home visited Morehead on her annual solicitation of donations to the support of the Home. Mrs. N. L. Wells who has had contact with the authorities of the home for several years aided in the solicitation of funds. Rowan county, whose quota was set at $100.00 was the only county in the state to exceed its quota. A total of $135.00 was collected and turned over to the home. The nearest any other county approached this amount was $97.50.

Discussing what the home has meant to Rowan county, Mrs. Wells stated that in the past five years this county has sent to the Kentucky Children's Home at Lyndon, over one hundred children, whose parents were either dead or unable to support them. Many of them were taken from disreputable homes, homes that were given up by their mothers who were unable to provide for them and who were willing to sacrifice their desires to keep their children with them, in the hope that they would be better provided for at the home.

At present there are 48 Rowan county children in the Kentucky Children's Home at Lyndon. This does not mean that all of the children who have been taken to the Home are still there, as over fifty of them have been adopted out in various parts throughout the state.

Since January 4, 1932, Rowan county has sent 22 children to the Home. Five of these were taken down on Tuesday of this week. Of the forty three children now in the Home, most of them will remain, since children with defects are not adopted out. This means that Rowan county is undeniably contributing their share of orphans to the problems of the Home, and should for that reason alone, do a little more than its share in supporting the Home.

According to Mrs. Wells, a number of others have promised to send checks to the Home which will swell the total contribution to nearly two hundred dollars, a trifling amount when it is remembered that the Home has relieved Rowan county of the necessity and burden of supporting these orphan children for several years, but that by taking them out of the homes and places from which they came, they have also succeeded in giving the children a chance to become useful citizens.

Those from this county who visit Louisville and fall to visit the Kentucky Children's Home are missing a rare sight. It is worth the short time required to go out to Lyndon which is only a short distance from Louisville. Anyone who visits the home will come away with a much better idea of the stupendous work accomplished by these men and women who have charge of the work.

To Unite In Song For E. K. E. A.

A plan is being worked on by the music department of the Morehead State Teachers College whereby a number of rural school children may gather in Ashland this fall to form a large chorus to sing before the Eastern Kentucky Education Association. The purpose of this proposed gathering is to demonstrate the advantage being made in the field of music in the state teachers college, bring to the rural schools and to the advantage the farming sections through their music department. From fifty to a hundred children from each county composing the E. K. E. A. group would form a group of around one thousand. The songs they will sing at Ashland will be taught in the individual school room by the teacher, followed by one or two brief rehearsals in a group.

Burton Goes To Eddyville To Die

Officers from Sandy Hook took Harve Burton, 52, convicted of slaying his wife and sentenced to death, to Eddyville last week.

Burton will be executed September 30, according to an order from Elliott Circuit Court. A new trial is being sought.

The death sentence pronounced on Burton was the first ever given out in Elliott county, Rowan the adjoining county has never sent anyone to their death.

Citizens of Elliott county recall the mobbing and hanging of three men about forty years ago. The men that were hanged were accused of traveling through the county, buying a farmer's cattle, paying him in cash, and a follow up band of partners robbed and often killed the farmer in order to get the money back, and keep the cattle. Enraged farmers strung them up on a tree near Sandy Hook.

"Unashamed" To Show At Cozy

With one of the most spectacular sequences in the history of talking pictures, and with a mystery injected into an ultra-modern romance of the youth of today, "Unashamed," Bayard Veiller's latest thriller comes August 10 and 11 to the Cozy Theatre.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer production is a dramatic story of love, in which its heroine, in her quest for thrills and romance, finds herself in the toils of a fate that forces on her the choice of her brother's life or the loss of her own reputation. One of the most elaborate courtroom sequences, played in an ultra modernistic courtroom in a vivid detail, is the new story by the author of "Within The Law," "The Trial of Mary Dugan" and other stage thrillers.

"DOC" JAMESON EIGHTY EIGHT YEARS YOUNG

Dr. Joe Jameson is 88 years young, and that is some young, Doc, as he is affectionately called by his friends who number every man, woman and child in Rowan county, is probably the youngest man in Morehead today. He celebrated his 88th birthday on July 26 by attending both carnivals at night and he enjoyed himself just a little more than anyone else who was there.

This is one time the Rowan County News congratulated a man and that man is Dr. Joe Jameson. May he live to be a really old man, who never grows old.

RIFLE CLUB COMPLETES ORGANIZATION PLANS

Ninth District Voters Go To The Polls

A situation unlike any that has ever confronted the voters of Kentucky is now confronting them in the Primary election to be held Saturday, August 6. For the first time in the history of Kentucky, the voters are called on to choose candidates from the state at large. People of Eastern Kentucky must realize what this means to them and must cast their votes accordingly.

In both the Democratic and Republican ranks the same thing holds true, Eastern Kentucky is likely to be without representation in the lower house unless they cast their vote for Eastern Kentucky candidates. It is obvious that in both parties, the cities have the largest vote. In the Democratic primary for example, Louisville has five candidates on the ticket. There is a strong possibility that in the coming election on Saturday if the Democratic voters of Louisville vote solidly for the five candidates that Louisville will have five representatives in Congress while other sections of the state will be left holding the sack. What is true of the Democratic party is equally true of the Republican party.

It is a matter to make the men and women voters of this section think and think hard. In this, our own district the Democrats have Fred M. Vinson whose name appears far down on the list, as a candidate. The ballot contains twenty six names and Mr. Vinson's is ninth from the bottom. Every Democrat in Eastern Kentucky wants to vote for Vinson. They want him nominated. There is only one possible chance to overcome the heavy vote in Western Kentucky and insure ourselves representation in Congress for the next two years. That is for every voter to go to the polls and assist in getting every other voter out.

The Republicans have two candidates on the ticket from this district. It is as important to them as it is to the Democrats to see that one or the other of these candidates is included in the nine successful candidates after the primary. By nominating a man on both tickets from this district, Democrats, go to the polls and register your sentiments for Fred M. Vinson. Republicans, go to the polls and vote for an Eastern Kentucky man.

L. Flood And Sons To Open Business

Morehead is to have an exclusive furniture store for the first time in its history, according to an announcement by L. Flood of Ashland who was here last week completing arrangements. Mr. Flood has leased the McKinney building on Fairbanks Street and expects to be open for business by August 15. His store will occupy the room formerly occupied by the Rowan County News and that occupied by the Grocery Department of the A. B. McKinney store.

The new firm will go under the name of L. Flood and Sons. Mr. Flood and his sons have had years of experience in the furniture business and know the ins and outs of the trade. He intends to carry a complete line of furniture in both the better grades and the cheaper varieties. He feels that citizens of Morehead will buy in this city providing prices are attractive and they are offered the same quality of furniture that can be bought elsewhere for the same or less price.

Mr. Flood has been connected with the Fields Furniture Company for the past 15 years.

Dr. Riddell Goes To Lexington Call

Dr. R. L. Riddell, pastor of the Morehead Christian Church for the past two and a half years, has accepted an unanimous call to the Maxwell Christian Church of Lexington, and will begin his duties there, the middle of August. The Maxwell church has a membership of about five hundred, and is located just two blocks from the State University, and Dr. Riddell feels that it offers a great opportunity for a real constructive religious service. During Dr. Riddell's ministry here the church and Bible-school have made progressive progress and the building debt has been reduced considerably. The major thing that has been emphasized in his ministry is that of peace and GOOD WILL toward all.

Before coming to Morehead, Dr. Riddell had served the First Christian church of Paris, Tenn. for four years, and the First Christian church of Jonesboro, Arkansas for nearly four years. He was serving the First Church at Midway, Kentucky when called to Jonesboro.

Dr. and Mrs. Riddell are native Kentuckians.

Dr. R. L. Riddell will close his work at Lexington next Sunday. His subject Sunday morning will be "Completing Our Father's Task," and the evening theme will be "Laugh and the World Laughs With You."

Kenova To Play Locals Sunday

Here's the big game of the season. The strong Kenova White Sox will meet the Morehead Independents here Sunday at what is being rated as one of the hardest games the Independents will have on their schedule this season. Kenova is rated as having one of the strongest teams in West Virginia. The record of the Independents has been one of the outstanding features of baseball in this section. The nine victories under their belts; the nine games they have lost, were in the early part of the season when they were just getting organized. Since they have been playing their present lineup they have been sailing along like nobody's business. Fraley, Clayton, the Nolan brothers, Jimmie Maggard, and stars of that caliber insure some real baseball when the Morehead Independents appear. The game Sunday will be one of the best of the season and fans are invited to attend and give the home boys their support.

The team has been run all season without soliciting any donation or support from the business men or fans of Morehead. The team is certainly deserving of all the support they can get from the fans who attend. They should at least have the support that can be given in the way of gate receipts, as this is the only method they have of meeting their expenses.

Mrs. Carol Daugherty, Mrs. G. D. Downing, Mrs. Clark Layne and Mrs. W. H. Rice were shopping in Lexington Monday.

The ROWAN COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

DISTRICT MEETS

The district meetings of the county looking up to the school and agricultural fair have been planned. The first one, which is to be held in the Pine Grove division will be held on August 12th; the second one in Farmers division on Friday August 19th; the third in the Clearfield division on Friday August 26th; the fourth in the Haldeman division on Friday, September 9th; the fifth in the Elliot division on Friday September 16th. On September 23rd a teacher's meeting will be held at Morehead, to make the final plans for the fair. The catalogue for the fair is planned. Program committees of teachers will be appointed for the district field day and exercises at the conference Friday, by the county superintendent. Last year the School and Agricultural Fair was outstanding. We are beginning earlier and expect to have even a better one this year by making more definite preparation and avoiding program conflicts. "We learn by experience." The courthouse is being arranged for the teacher's conference. Plans for decorations and for the social hour are being made by the superintendent and committee.

BLUESTONE

The Bluestone school opened Monday almost with a bang. At the top of the bell, not only 74 pupils fell in line but two of the trustees were there to welcome the teachers. The water problem was solved by taking the pump off of the well (for the water was tested and found lacking in purity). The principle, Herbert Tackett agreed to carry the water if one of the neighbors would furnish it. The school had a good start with increasing interest. The patrons are showing a fine spirit and cooperation. In spite of the fact that the weather has been extremely hot, the pupils have adjusted themselves to the situation and have enjoyed several slashes in nearby streams. Many of the pupils already had books only a few needed more. More room and more seats are needed, the district is working to better the condition.

PICTURE STUDY

Bertrice Lewis, teacher of the Old House Creek School has begun a picture study in each grade to be continued throughout the year. In the primary grades a picture is put on the wall, not named and the children are asked to suggest names for the picture. Also they are allowed to tell stories that the picture suggests to them. The teacher then tells the story of the author and the occasion of his painting the picture. "Can't you talk," was the picture used last week. For these grades the period 11:15 to 1:27 suggested for language is used one day a week. In the upper grades the name of the picture is presented with the picture. A more detailed study of the picture is made than in the primary grades. "The Last Supper" was used last week. For these grades the period from 11:45 to 12: suggested for writing, drawing, and music is used one day a week.

POPLAR GROVE

Children are enrolling for a good year's work at Poplar Grove. Twenty nine entered the first day, nine of whom entered for the first time. Mrs. Caudill, the teacher, is planning a program of music for the year. Many of the children have copies of song school songs will be used. All the children except one or two have bought books, and are ready for work. The parents came in to help now and clean the school grounds. Mr. Bill Thornberry stacked the wood, cleaned the toilets, rearranged the foundation stones under the house, and worked the road in front of the school house before school opened.

ROSDALE

Rosdale school enrolled fifteen pupils last week. The trustee, Arthur Templeman mowed and raked the school yard so the organized play might be begun. Every child in school has a sufficient supply of books to do good work.

BIRD STUDY

Ted Crosthwaite and the pupils of Big Brushy School are interested in birds. They began their bird study by having a debate. Resolved: That birds are a help and a benefit to life. He plans to study the habits and description of our most common birds.

ENROLLMENT AT GLENWOOD

Ira Skrees, teacher at Glenwood enrolled thirty eight pupils last week. He has pupils in all of the eight grades. The grounds have been cleaned and everything arranged for a good year's work.

SAND GAP

Charles Waddell, teacher at Sand Gap, together with the children have cleaned the school grounds and made arrangements to start real work. Twenty five pupils were enrolled the first week.

BIG ENROLLMENT

Forty two pupils were enrolled at Big Brushy last week. The school house was in good condition and everyone was anxious to get down to work. The parents are ready to help make the school the best possible. Weeds have been cut and the grounds cleaned.

Curtis Norman Dies Of Wounds

Curtis Norman of Midland, Bath county, who was shot in the lower part of the back and hips Friday afternoon near Salt Lick, allegedly by Gene Call died Monday in a Mt. Sterling hospital.

The shooting was said by officers to have been the culmination of a dispute over the operation of a moonshine still by Call and Norman in a wood near Razor's Lake. The two men are brothers-in-law. Chester Goidy, 28, shot in the arm by an accidental discharge from Call's shotgun is reported not seriously hurt.

Call, who recently moved to Midland from Fleming county is a brother of Brooks Call, who while being tried for violation of the prohibition law leaped from a second story window in the courthouse and made his escape.

Morehead Makes It Nine Straight

Although they did not have their first string lineup Sunday, the Morehead Independent baseball team little trouble in subduing the Ashland Merchants 9 to 3 for their ninth straight victory.

Barber, hurling for the victors did not allow the locals a hit until the fourth frame and Morehead scored five runs in that frame to sew the game up. Ashland scored twice in the third and again in the sixth. Morehead tallied again in the fifth and pushed three across in the sixth.

Nickell pitched for the independents giving seven hits and receiving good support, Barber and Davies Rhurled for Ashland allowing eleven hits, four of which were for extra bases. Nickell was credited with the win marking his fourth in a row. He struck out six.

Honaker, Clayton and Fraley batting in that order at the top of Morehead's lineup collected two hits each and were the only players to connect safely with more than one safely. Fraley and E. Nolan tripled and Honaker was credited with a brace of doubles.

With one down in the fourth Clayton singled and scored on Fraley's triple to deep left. E. Nolan followed with another three-base blow, Fraley scoring. Dobbe singled scoring Nolan, went to second on a pass ball and went home on L. Nolan's single. L. Nolan completed the rally by scoring on an infield out.

The locals missed a good chance in the seventh to run their lead up, but failed to score on four straight singles. Three men were left on base during the cantle, while Dobbe was nabbed at third.

should find it necessary to purchase these products indicates that, many of them are no providing for their own needs in accordance with recommended practices. It also indicates that there is a home market for many farm products to supply town people and those farmers and laborers who fail to grow their own supplies.
 "If farmers will interview their local merchant many of them will find an opportunity to supply him with some products which he now ships in from other states. Other farm products may take the place of canned goods, and alternative products are numerous. Under present conditions it will often be found profitable to produce some products which in other years were not considered profitable and thus take advantage of a local market opportunity.
 "New and practical methods of growing and storing vegetables of the proper variety may be learned and used by farmers so they may have a salable product during the winter season. Beans are but one of the opportunities in this group. The proper care of poultry so that eggs can be sold when people are anxious to buy them is an opportunity of another kind. Lard and several kinds of meat can be sold to good advantage at certain times of the year. Produce of good quality and well prepared generally meets the local market requirements best. It is not what a farmer likes to sell but what the buyer wants that counts most in any market.

ETHICS OF BANKING
 By MELVIN A. TRAYLOR
 President
 First National Bank Chicago

We must not take unfair advantage of our competitors. It is entirely proper for us by legitimate means to obtain all the business that we can, but in doing so we ought to do nothing that will injure our competitors and that will destroy the confidence which the banks must repose in each other and which the community at large must repose in the banks as a whole if we are going to thrive, and remember always we cannot thrive separately. We shall either all thrive together or all suffer disaster.

Sentiment in Banking
 No sentiment in banking? Will you recall just one day's activity at your desk—what were the problems you considered? Did they apply solely to the cold-blooded conduct of the affairs of your bank, weighing, measuring, analyzing, valuing securities, extending credit, driving the best bargains possible, having in mind only the material return from your day's labor? Certainly such is not the case. I recall many days—happy days, too—in my experience in a very small country bank, in which I was put on the staff of my time was given to the real consideration of the financial returns to my institution.

Open Markets
 I believe in an open market for the actual purchase and sale both of commodities and securities. But so long as the actual rate for credit in this country swings up and down according to the demand for funds for speculative purposes, little influenced by central or other banking policy, then something is wrong somewhere. Moreover, if business is influenced—as is almost universally charged—by the state of public mind; and if the state of public mind is influenced, as in recent years it most certainly has been, to run the scale from extreme optimism to extreme pessimism according to the characters on a ticker tape, then something is wrong with the public mind, or the conduct of the forces back of the tape. Those responsible must provide the answer.
