

Flemingsburg

BY W. T. CHAPMAN.

FLEMINGSBURG, KY., FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 5, 1838.

New Series, Vol. 1, No. 50

POETRY.

From the Zonielle Epitaph.
TO THE KING OF HEAVENS.
Dread came not to the infant,
Its course is just begun;
It has not hid its share of joys
Beneath the rolling sun.
Leave it to happy childhood's sports,
The bliss of life's first morn;
Oh! do not rob its mother arms
Of the sweet charge they've borne.
And come not to the busy man,
He has no time to spare;
He must toil for gold, for power, and fame,
Then pass, oh! pass him by.
But come unto the noble youth,
Whose fiery heart is bright;
With pride upon his lofty brow,
And genius in his eye.
Leave not his eagle spirit here
To be enslaved by earth;
But let it soar away—away
To its high place of birth.
And come unto the maiden
While all her dreams are bright,
And let not earth over-night
And ever-fading light.
Oh! leave her not to see these dreams
Fleeting o'er by one from sight;
Till she shall see in welcome arms
Striped of its joyous light.
She's quaffed the nectar from the cup
Love proffered her to drink;
Oh! leave her not to taste the gall
With those who deeper sip.
Death art though such a grim old man,
As they have pictured thee;
Oh! no, thou art a smiling youth
Bearing a golden key.
That key unlocks our prison doors
And sets our spirit free,
Aid lets us soar to brighter worlds
Than Fancy's eye can see. AMELIA.

"It is true" and strove to hide myself. I would have crawled into any cave; and I would have danced and sung, and the music played out continual time, and cry, crying moving and bowing around, and beautiful female forms, with radiant smiles and careless words, came and went through and masses, with a constant change and a shocking contrast. Then I abruptly stop a precipitous start, and awoke.
I groined aloud. The chamber was lighted by the faint beams of a night lamp, casted grotesque and giant shadows upon the walls and ceiling. There was something unearthly about them. I had not thought that chairs and tables—those homely and familiar objects—could look strange and impressive. There was a bar lying high and black across the room; a massive semi-circle, broken by an angle of the cornice, appeared like a segment of Saturn's belt; and a rugged profile, that frowned like the spectre of some giant, held forth threatening arms; and impressed me with a better sense of the monstrous and the preternatural.
And soon, amid those huge shadows and that deathly silence, (broken only by a sound from some warping panel, or, perhaps, a soft settling more heavily into its foundation, secret tokens of time, unheard by the sleeping millions around,) the fatal cast which had marked my past evening, appeared before me like a ghost, with a flaming power. All the darkest aspects of a smiling youth, as he turned on his pillow and strove to sleep. All that I had ever done wrong, or unkind, or unskillful, sat around my bed like a company of devils, each event converted into a fiend, and each deed of this agreeable deer the deed of yesterday's crime, heartless demon, and then came the dancing and that old time again.
At length this awful ordeal was varied by a gleam of comfort. Something which reassured itself at last, and something more gentle spirit, seemed to steal in comforted among this set of chattering devils, and whispered in my ear:
"Patience, mortal, and receive this hour as a lesson. You shall not sink beneath your burden; but you must bear it yet a little longer. Then the cock crows your persecutors will depart. Take care not to do not put yourself in their power again. The earth is inhabited by two races; man, a traveller on his way to heaven, but sore beset by the other race, the devils. There is but one method of escaping these gentlemen, who now crowd your chamber so hilariously. It is by following the ways of right and wisdom. You have, comparatively, no power over those charmed party; but it is the condition of your existence that, when you err, you are exposed to their mischievous malice. Indeed each error creates its own tormentor. Each man, according to his deeds, is honored with a train of these disagreeable companions, who acquire more power the more they offend. They retire from around you during the day to watch the effect of new temptations; as an angler keeps himself concealed to catch the fish; even, which hooked, gives him the line in order to plunge the barb yet deeper into his victim. In crowds, in moments of passion, and times of pleasure they leave the more they offend; but in solitude, illness, and during the night; they assume their dominion; and to whom he becomes entirely their slave. As for you, you have committed an action for which you must bear the penalty. Yield with patience unto the woe to-morrow."
The woe to-morrow? The woe to-morrow was less than she spoke; and she kissed my forehead. Then came the dancing and the old time, and the crowds and the demons; and in the pressure I was nearly suffocated. Struggling, attempting in vain to call it off I was at the point of dissolution, when, in frightful convulsions I once more awoke. At that instant the cock in the neighboring barn-yard gave a sudden, loud, and exultant crow; and I distinctly heard the slapping of the following wings. It was followed by the cheerful cry of a milkman: "A faint silver light fell upon the wall through the openings in the shutters and curtains. The night lamp burned dimly and yet more dimly. Saturn's belt was severely visible opposite the pitcher-handle. The figure bar had lost its sharp outline; but retained enough to identify it with the poker, and the glowing sign had dissolved into the outlines of an old robe of lambs, carelessly flung over the chair. The dancing and the human shapes all after the unearthly images of him. I turned over with a sense of safety, of being among my fellow creatures; and on the earth again; of having expiated my crime, and of having now life before me to try anew the path of virtue and wisdom, and so I fell into a sweet sleep.
"But what was the crime?" demanded my wife when I read her this essay.
"The reader will know it," said I.
"Not at all," said she, "I assure you I have not the slightest idea of it."
"Let them guess then," said I.
"Play well, you have granted your wish; you will pay the price of an account, and some day, when you have no money, you are brought and sold by your own hands." And I answered,

"I drank three cups of strong tea!" said I, with a blush.
"And it serves you perfectly right!" said my wife, with a look of indignation.
JANE HOWARD.—Miss Jane Howard was the daughter of a rich merchant residing in the city of Baltimore. Her personal appearance was truly prepossessing; but the graces of her mind, polished as it was by the graces of a superior education, and the benevolence of her naturally warm and virtuous heart, rendered her an object of universal esteem and admiration among all with whom she was acquainted. At a very early age she embraced the Christian religion, and much of her time was spent in promoting religious and benevolent objects.
In the fall of 1828, Jane, with her elder brother, embarked on board a Packet for Charleston, South Carolina; for the purpose of visiting their friends. The captain of the Packet was a man about twenty-five years of age. His person was comely and his manners agreeable; with the exception of one false common sea sailor, he was perfect. The modesty of Jane's appearance attracted his attention; he gained an introduction to her by means of her brother, and was still more charmed by the sweetness of her conversation than he had been by the graces of her person.
He was not long, however, before an oath escaped his lips, which shocked the delicate sensibility of Jane. She politely requested that he would desist from such language while she remained on board the vessel; to which he consented with deep chagrin. During the remainder of the voyage the Captain's attention to Jane was increased than diminished. He spent much of his time in her company, chatted and delighted with the modesty of her deportment, and the fascinating spell of her instructive conversation; but not another oath was heard to utter until they arrived in Charleston. They were now about to part, Jane, feeling no small interest in the welfare of one, whose unremitted attentions more than indicated his solicitude for her own, ventured to ask if he would grant her one request. The captain, with all the enthusiasm of an infatuated lover, replied, that whatever request she was pleased to make, if possibly within his power, it certainly should be granted.
Then, said she, "accept this bible, and my request is, that you read a portion of it every day."
He felt surprised, but considering that he had given his promise, he felt himself bound to fulfill it. In the fall of 1833, Jane went to spend the winter with her uncle, who resided in New Orleans. The first Sabbath after she arrived there she accompanied her uncle and his family to church, and heard a sermon of uncommon interest, delivered with eloquence and religious pathos.
The minister was evidently a man of superior talents, his voice deep-toned and melodious. His figures were forcible, though high-wrought and beautiful.
He possessed, in fine, the rare faculty of chaining an audience in almost breathless silence from the commencement to the close of his discourse. But Jane, whose tender heart was exquisitely susceptible on the subject of religion, entered so deeply into the spirit of his sermon, that she entirely forgot, for a time, the distance which separated her from her friends, and all the circumstances by which she was surrounded, with the exception of the rolling sentences as they flowed from the lips of the speaker.
The meeting closed; and while Jane and her friends were waiting in their pew for the aisle to be cleared, the preacher came to the pulpit; advanced towards and addressing "Miss Howard":
A confused succession of ideas flitted for an instant across the mind of Jane—not recollecting herself, she politely responded: "That is my name, sir, but I do not recollect to have had the pleasure of seeing you before."
"Perhaps you recollect having sailed from Baltimore to Charleston about five years ago, in the packet Thomas Jefferson, and of having given a bible to the captain?"
"I do," she replied, "I recollect it well, and if I mistake not, I recognize the captain in the person before me! Can it be possible?"
"It is possible," he replied, "it is so! I am the man! and I shall ever feel the deepest gratitude to you, Miss Howard, for the interest you manifested in my welfare."
The bold reading of it has made me what I am now, and I will not attempt to describe the feelings produced by this unexpected meeting— suffice it to say, that the minister was invited home with them, and during the winter his visits were neither few nor far between. In the spring he married Miss King, and they are now on a missionary tour among the dark and benighted souls of India, where the blessing of Heaven is attending their labors in a wonderful manner, and many souls are brought to a saving knowledge through their instrumentalities.—Albany Family Newspaper.

THE MORMONS.—There is no doubt, that those belligerent fanatics, who have established a town in Missouri, which they call the "Par West," are resolved on giving serious trouble to the people of the surrounding country. The state of affairs is becoming more and more alarming. A highly respectable gentleman, at Lexington, Mo., writes to a citizen of St. Louis as follows:
"Great excitement prevails the other side of the river against the Mormons—they are all up in arms and have, we understand this morning, had some fighting, which resulted in the killing of a few of both parties. The citizens of Ray county sent a wagon load of arms and ammunition to the citizens of Daviess county for the purpose of defending themselves. On their way out they were captured by a company of Mormons, and taken to Far West. A committee has this morning arrived from Missouri, for the purpose of assisting them in the protection of their lives."
The St. Louis Republican states on the authority of the Clerk of the steamboat Howard, that a report was prevalent along the Missouri river that the Mormons had fortified their town, "Far West," and were determined to hold out against all invaders. He remarks that he has about 1000 strong, all well supplied with arms and ammunition. We copy the following from the Boonville Emigrant of the 13th inst.
"We have just conversed with General Wilson, of Howard county, who states that on last Saturday he saw a letter dated on the 7th instant, from a committee of gentlemen in Daviess county, to the people of Howard county, calling on them to raise a force and come to their assistance, and aid them in expelling the Mormons from the county: That the citizens of Daviess were making preparations for warlike operation; that the Mormons were in a state of open rebellion against the laws, and war between them and the citizens was inevitable, that the people of Daviess had come to the fixed determination of commencing the attack on Saturday last.
"From the best information we can obtain the Mormons are in 1500 to 2000 fighting men, and are determined to resist with a large equipment of arms. The Mormons are now on their way from Canada to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which will increase their force, so as to make them very formidable; if this war should break out it must become a war of extermination, as the Mormons are desperate and rebellious. The citizens of Missouri are determined to join their friends in Missouri, which

THE BIRMINGHAM

Friday, October 5, 1838.

The Great Western arrived in New York on the 24th in 139 days from Bristol. She brings no news of importance. Great uncertainty still prevails in regard to the present harvest in England. Although the prospects for an average crop are more favorable, the prices of all kinds of grain are still advancing in England, and the news by the Great Western has had no decided effect either way on the prices of flour and grain in New York, and the other eastern cities. Exports are still going on and flour demands former rates.

The movements of the President's son John in England, are recorded with great precision by the journals of that country. From the last accounts it appears that he has left London, accompanied by Mr. Richard Vaux, Secretary of Legation, on a tour through Ireland and Scotland. Another of his movements requires at our hands a passing notice. It possesses more interest, to the American reader at least, than any that have as yet been recorded. It was no less than an attempt to imprison an American citizen, (Col. Webb, of New York) under false pretences in a foreign land, and in a city of strangers. Col. Webb had left London, where his friends are numerous, for Bristol with the intention of taking passage in the Great Western, which was to sail in a few days for New York. He was seized upon a note obtained by fraud, and ordered to be held to bail in the sum of one thousand pounds sterling. The suit was threatened by Mr. John Van Buren, son of the President of the United States, and upon his affidavit the arrest was made. Col. Webb with the sheriff proceeded to London to procure bail, (in default of which certain imprisonment awaited him,) but upon arriving there it was ascertained that no bail but a freeholder of the city of Bristol would be satisfactory, and he returned to Bristol, when a generous citizen offered the required bail. The whole proceedings were characterized by the most bitter political rancor, and a spirit of revenge for well directed opposition to the aspirations of the father, which could spring from no other than the most depraved heart and most malignant spirit.

The recent attempts to free Washington town, were made by a negro boy, instigated according to the boys confession, by an old free negro of good standing named "Billy." As he is free, the evidence of a slave cannot be received against him, and while the boy is fully committed, the free negro is detained for further examination.

A Mr. Freyberg, while promiscuous the streets of New York with his wife, was attacked by a mob who pretended to be a negro walking with a white woman. He is a leader of "the party," and has shown his liberality by offering a reward of ten dollars for the apprehension of all concerned.

The bodies of two school children, supposed to have been murdered by negroes, were found in the vicinity of Auburn, Lincoln Co. on the morning of the 1st inst. A woman belonging to Mr. Prewit, at the last date was under examination.

On the night of the 17th inst, a party of Indians approached within a short distance of St. Augustine, and captured between 50 and 75 horses. They were captured on the following day, but without taking a single Indian.

It appears from a statement made by Hon. Gen. Cass, in Congress from Maine, that Mr. Duane's speech in the House of Representatives, was never delivered in the reply of the Respondent.

A military expedition is now preparing at Richmond, Mo. to march against the Mormons in that state, who have raised in open rebellion against the laws.

ROYAL BIRTH—A GLANCE AT THE FAMILIAR OF ROYALTY.—All France, at the late accounts was rejoicing over the birth of a son to the Duke of Orleans, the Kings eldest son. The following is a partial account of this important event: "The Duchess of Orleans was delivered of a son on Friday the 14th of August, who was baptized with the usual ceremonies and named Louis PHILIP ALBERT, Count of Paris. The Paris papers give the most particular account of this event, which was marked by all the ceremonies and etiquette of the ancient regime. The Grand Chamberlain of the Grand Chancery of the Chamber of peers, the Duke Alexander of Württemberg, the keeper of the Archives, and Marshals Lohau and Garret were designated by the king to be the witnesses of the birth, and were with several other functionaries introduced into the apartment of her Highness. Salutes and telegraphic dispatches conveyed the Royal news to all parts of France. A report was current that Louis Philippe was actually crowned and was a manly credit as a soldier to his father. A Bulletin of the 23rd states as follows: "The Princess Royal is today in a satisfactory state, and can be hospitably expected. The young Prince is doing remarkably well.

The information from Mexico is of such a nature as to justify the belief that the independence of Texas will soon be recognized by that country.

Moss LIVING.—A man named Hill, suspected of piracy, was tried to a trial and whipped to death at Fustooles, Ala. a few days since.

The Banks of New Orleans have resolved to resume specie payments on the 1st of January next. They have solicited and obtained the assistance of the Bank of the United States.

Walter S. Franklin, Esq. Clerk of the House of Representatives, died at Lancaster Pa. on Thursday the 20th inst.

The Van Buren majority in the last Legislature of Missouri was 82. In the present it is reduced to 23.

A duel was fought a little below Covington Ky. on the 24th inst. between a Mr. Porter and a Mr. Powers of Cincinnati. Shots were exchanged, but neither took effect.

Buildings and other property estimated to be worth 200,000 dollars were destroyed by fire at Taunton, Mass. on the 21st inst.

Twenty-one horses were burned to death in Greenfield, Indiana.

The steam ship Royal William, made her last passage to England in 14 days, 19 hours.

The Boston Atlas has come out in favor of Gen. Harrison for the Presidency.

Gen. LAMAR and D. G. BERNETT, have been elected President and Vice President of Texas.

The St. Louis Republican says that bilious fevers, very malignant in their character, prevail generally throughout Missouri and Illinois.

The Louisville Jockey Club races are postponed from the 9th to the 10th October.

The Great White herbarium in Illinois for the late victory at Shiloh to take place at Springfield on Saturday. The arrangements have been made upon a grand scale.

Sully has arrived with the long talked of portraits of the Queen.

TILTED AMERICANS.—The Marchioness of Carmarthen, of R. Calton, Esq. of Baltimore and grand-daughter of Charles Carroll, has become Duchess of Leeds.

A man has been sentenced to seven years at Sing Sing for biting off his wife's tongue.

She should have kept it out of his mouth.

THE LATE GALE.—From every sea port town we continue to receive news of disasters by the late gale. It is said to have been more severe than any storm that has occurred since eighteen hundred and twenty-two.—Bull. Chron.

The French Vice Consul at New York rendered himself on Friday to the proper authorities after a ball in the sum of $30,000 for his appearance to answer the charge of abducting the captain and mate of the ship Alexander.—B.

John Peterson, a brute confined in the Buffalo jail, for abuse of his wife, hung himself three days after by means of his cravat and muscador.

The Raleigh Star, democratic whig journal, says of the Van Buren "Tory party, that it is an array of wealth and official patronage and aristocracy now in conflict with the mass of the people.

with shot guns loaded with buckshot.—Jones received several wounds which were believed to be mortal. Chambers was tried before an examining court and discharged.

About 3500 barrels of flour are going on board the packet ship Sheridan for Liverpool, chiefly, we understand, on English account.—N. Y. Express.

THE STATES AND THE TREATY.—The Baltimore Patriot of Saturday says: "Mr. John Q. Adams has addressed a long and highly interesting letter to his constituents of the Twelfth Congressional District of Massachusetts. He mentions an extraordinary fact, namely, the payment of the Fourth instalment of the surplus was postponed till the 1st January 1839, so that unless Congress, in the first month of its session, take other order upon it more than eight millions more to be distributed by the General Government to the various States, on the first January next—WILL THERE BE NOT A SHILLING IN THE TREASURY?"

FROM FORT GIBSON.—The St. Louis Bulletin of last Thursday says: "Intelligence was received here yesterday that an express had been sent from Fort Towson to Fort Gibson, stating that a large body of Indians had assembled near the borders of Texas, within a short distance of Nacodoches. The papers of a Mexican officer, signed by Bustamante, offering reward and plunder to the Indians should they make an inroad into Texas, had been obtained that an invasion of Texas was the object of the Cherokee Council, and not an attack upon our frontier."

Wretched Superstition.—The schoolmaster is far from being abroad, and the laborer of the country far from being secured by education, when such as are reported in the Albion (Virginia) Statesman of the 5th, can take place among our population. An unoffending free mulatto named Yates, near that town, while riding home on horseback was brutally shot down and killed by an old white man named Marsh, (since executed) on the plea that Marsh, who was suffering from King's Evil, imputed it to a spell or charm, put upon him by Yates.

NEWARK N. J. Sept. 18. INTERESTING OCCURRENCE.—On Tuesday last a lady 105 years of age, residing in the city of New York who has never used spectacles and still remains in a remarkable degree all her mental and bodily faculties, took it into her head to visit a female friend in Newark. She got into the stage, alone without attending to the driver. A gentleman learning that such a personage was in town, he called on her and requested her to accompany him to the house of a friend who she accordingly did. Here she was introduced to her grandsons 70 years of age and these two venerable survivors of the last century there held a most interesting conversation bygone days. Having always lived in the city she had a perfect recollection of the time when St. John's Church was where St. John's Church now stands. In the evening the lady, whose name we have not in a Gazette; returned to the city.—Essex-Express.

Lakeman Barbarity.—A fellow named James Quilty, while passing through Roosevelt street yesterday, in a half drunk condition, seized a boy about 9 years old, named Hiram Holby, by the legs, and raised him off the ground, with his head downward, and dashed his head against the flag way of the street, and then endeavored to render it extremely doubtful whether the boy was really sober. The poor boy was sitting quietly on the ground when the ruffian seized hold of him and used him as barbarously. Some persons who saw the occurrence, immediately brought the fellow to the police office and he was committed.—Jour. Com.

DURHAM CATTLE.—There has been two extensive sales of Short-horned Durham Cattle in this neighborhood, within a week past. The first the stock of Maslin Smith, Esq. and the last, the stock of Samuel Smith, Esq. The prices for which the animals struck off, were such as to show that the demand for this kind of stock is greatly on the increase. We regret that we have not been able to give you a catalogue of these sales, as to give them in detail, requires in full, with the price for which each animal sold. This we hope to do hereafter. As examples however, of the estimation in which the Durham cattle of this county are held, we will mention, that at the sale of S. S. Smith's cows and calves, sold for thirty-one hundred dollars; others at $1200, $100, &c. The whole stock of Samuel Smith sold for between $300,000 and $400,000.—Essex-Express.

STOCK FAIR.—The annual Fair of the Union Agricultural Society, for the improvement of stock, was held near this city, on the 10th and 11th inst. The stock exhibited on the occasion, surpassed in form, blood, and size, any hitherto exhibited. This clearly evinces that the spirit of improvement among our stock raisers is rapidly progressing. A great number of respectable farmers and other men in attendance. All seemed highly pleased with the general arrangements. Great attention and accommodation were afforded by the officers of the society. We have not been enabled to obtain a list of names, but we believe will give them in our next.—Dunstable Ohio Express.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN.—The Great Western arrived at quarantine ground on Monday night last. She made her passage out in 124 days.

Last night, at half past ten o'clock, the Great Western arrived at Quarantine, having left Bristol at five o'clock and thirty miles on the evening of the 18th inst. The passage had occupied very little time, continued squalls and gales prevailing.

We perceive that the Transatlantic Steam Company advertise that they have rechartered the steam ship Royal William, and purchased the new steamship Liverpool for the navigation to this port. That the former will sail on the 20th of the month, and the latter on the 20th of October. We may therefore count on steam communication with Europe through our double,—indeed, which there was before some doubt,—indeed, the navigation of the Atlantic by steam may now be considered permanently established.

The Grain trade has continued to occupy a considerable share of public attention, as might be expected. Although the weather has been generally speaking, the prices of Wheat have not gone down any thing like what might have been expected, which circumstance strengthens the belief previously entertained, that the harvest will be deficient. Those who are of the opposite opinion believe that prices will come down, and that shortly.—This, of course, is all matter of opinion at present. The duty on foreign Wheat is now 20 shillings and eight pence per quarter.—Whether it will come down to our shilling per quarter is at present a matter entirely of speculation. The speculations for low duties have been very extensive.

Among the passengers are several names of note, in all professions. The American Stage has in addition to Miss Sheriff, the celebrated dancer, and Mr. Wilson, the admirable theatrical singer.

The unfavorable state of the weather, remarks the British Journal of the 6th, which within the last two or three days has interrupted the progress of the corn harvest, being to create much anxiety amongst those farmers that have not secured their crops, who ere they can bring their produce to market will have to contend with an influx of foreign corn, which is now admitted at an import duty of only four pence per bushel.—The Corn Average as published by the 7th, 11d. for the six weeks ending August 31, which reduces the duty to 2s. 8d.—The weekly average on July 27, was 59s. 1d.—In the next week this last average was to be excluded from the last six weeks, and the average for the week ending September 7th to be added, and unless this average shall be under 63s. 1d. (the average to be added to be excluded)—the next six weeks will be down to its minimum price of 1s.

The French Minister of Foreign Affairs has addressed the Duke of Montebello his plenipotentiary to demand his passports, and to depart from France in the event of the viceroy refusing to grant Louis Napoleon from the Swiss Territory.—Express.

COMPARISON OF THE VARIOUS FOREIGN GRAIN MARKETS.—Under the head of "Comparison of Foreign Grain, with the English Market," there is given in a late London paper an article, which may be deemed to contain important information to readers on this subject. It appears that the highest average price of white and red wheat at Hamburg, was 47s. 2d. the quarter.

The highest average price of white and red wheat at Amsterdam was 50s. the quarter.

The highest price of prime white wheat at Berlin, was 46s. 10d. the quarter.

The highest price of prime red wheat at Antwerp, was 48s. 10d. the quarter.

It appears that the highest average price of white and red wheat at Stettin, was 44s. 3d. the quarter.

Now the highest average price of prime white and red wheat at London, being stated by the London market, it follows that the average price of wheat at Antwerp is 6d. per bushel higher in the London than in Hamburg—52 per cent higher in London than in Amsterdam; 70 per cent higher in London than in Berlin; 314 per cent higher in London than in Antwerp; 87 per cent higher in London than in Stettin. And that the price of wheat in the London market, is 60.78 per cent higher than the mean average of the foregoing five grain markets in the Continent.

MARRIED.—On Thursday last Mr. RICHARD HART to Miss SARAH McCLENN, all of this city.

On Thursday last by the Rev. Hugh Mayne, M. A. James CARROLL to Miss FRANCES J. BUTLER.

On the same day Mr. STEPHEN BIDDLE to Miss ELIZABETH SHOCKLEY.

On Monday last Mr. JAMES SHOCKLEY to Miss MARTHA NEWMAN.

On Tuesday by the Rev. WILLIAM WILSON, M. A. Charles C. CARROLL to Miss MARY ANN KELLEY all of this county.

COLLECTED ACCORDING TO DATES. Louisville, 0 00 & 00 New Orleans, 22 7 25 & 00 Cincinnati, 28 6 00 & 25 New York, 25 9 00 & 25 Baltimore, 25 8 00 & 22 Philadelphia, 22 00 & 00 Maryland, Oct. 3, 5 50 & 00

GRAIN MARKET. DATES AS ABOVE. WHEAT. CORN. Louisville, 50 56 & 1 00 New Orleans, 50 56 & 1 00 Cincinnati, 1 00 62 & 4 00 New York, 1 00 1 80 1 00 Baltimore, 1 75 & 1 90 95 & 97 Philadelphia, 1 62 & 1 80 91 & 1 00 Maryland, 87 & 90 40 & 50

LIST OF LEI

REMAINING in the Post Office on the 5th inst. and if not taken out before 1 January next, will be sent to Post Office as dead letters.

- Asbury Henry Liene Dilla
Armstrong Robt A. Liene Dilla
Armstrong James L. Lecky Lewis
Butler Robert Overy Henry
Botte William Porter Henry
Barnes A B Ponce 3 B 2
Browning Hasil Penland F B
Browning Wm Flack Abr
Campbell Jno C Pope Han
Chapman B C Porter &
Curly Elizabeth Southwa
Cunningham James Stockwell
Cunningham Saml J. Stockton L
Colas Lathor H Shannon V
Campbell A or David Steel Solom
Cavan John Spencer W
Campbell Henry J Snelling B
Crawford H B Snoddy J
Dudley John D Talbot
Evans Jeff Thump
Evans Magnus T Tuiley
Fleming Chas M 2 Tuiley
Gardner Wm Ward
Gorman W Walker
Hite Henry Warde
Howe John Wilson
Huckes, Berj White I
Jones J J White R
Jones Abigail Ward A
Jones Jas Young Jno
Jones W M Young Jno
Lee J & M R. R. LEF

Oct. 5, 1838—33.

PEARL STREET W

CORNER OF PEARL AND WALNUT CINCINNATI. THIS large and splendid establishment has been lately fitted up in a style of neatness and PERMANENCE, the subscriber, from Kentucky, who is determined to spare neither expense, or labor to render it equal, if not superior, to any Hotel in the West. ALEX. S. MORROW

Sept. 28, 1838.

LOOK HERE.

THE subscriber has for trade a fine bull calf 1 year old last spring; by the old imported Matchum, surpassed by none in the county. Cuts 1 and 2 year olds last spring 1 yearling male, all good stock—40 or 50 fine shoats—sheep, ploughs, gears, and a good Jack, which I will trade for horses or mules that will do any kind of heavy next.—Any one having a horse he wishes to sell will do well to come and see me for I will trade on far terms. ROBT. A. SUMMERS. Sept. 28, 1838.

HARTFORD Marine and Fire Insurance Company AGENCY.

HAVING been appointed agent of the above Company, I am now prepared to insure all descriptions of buildings and their various contents against loss or damage by FIRE.

Also the cargoes of Flat, Keel and Steam Boats against fire and all the numerous perils of the water. Terms of Insurance as low as are customary in other offices.

There is no Insurance Company in the United States that has obtained a higher character for promptitude in meeting losses than that of the Hartford Insurance Company. It has paid upon policies issued by them in this State in the last few years, upwards of $70,000.

Persons owning property would do well to avail themselves of this opportunity to be safe from the usual perils of fire and all elements, at a trifling expense.

W. F. BOYD, Agent. Flemingsburg, Sept. 14, 1838.

ON THE FIRST MONDAY OF NOVEMBER FLEMINGSBURG INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS.

WILL be held on the first Monday of November next, at the residence of Mr. HUGH MAYNE. Terms—per Session five months. First Course, Spelling, Reading, Writing, Eng. Grammar, and Arithmetic, $5 00 Second Course, Original Composition, Geography, Globes, and construction of Maps, $10 00 Third Course, Mathematics, Latin, Greek and French, $12 50

N. B. The list cannot well be extended. Let this History of the World from its creation to the return of the Jews from Babylon, as recorded in the Bible, without note or comment.

2d. The History of Greece.

3d. The History of Rome.

4th. The History of England.

5th. The History of America, and especially of the U. States, of N. America, Topography on the maps throughout the whole course.

6th. Constitution of the United States, of N. America, and of the State of Kentucky, without note or comment.

Fridays, to be used as repetition days, on which days employers and others are respectfully invited to attend and judge for themselves.

Fuel, paper, books, &c. to be procured or paid for by the employers according to the directions of the teacher.

Sept. 14, 1838. 47 ft.

Townsend's Mathematicks. A few boxes of the Penna. medicine, a substitute for calomel, just received and for sale at the Drug Store of J. H. & W. CARPENTER. July 27th, 1838.

Bill for winter

Board can be the village for $1 00. Believing that little is to be gained by the habits and manners of the students, the teachers are pledged to endeavor to cultivate such principles of good behavior as shall qualify their pupils to become ornaments of refined society.

To those having daughters to educate, this Seminary offers peculiar advantages—the instructions of both a male and female teacher, which experience has demonstrated to be a most desirable method of educating young ladies. Those studying the higher branches will occupy a room with Mrs. Malby and recite to Mr. Malby in classes with young gentlemen. Whenever the number of students requires it, an additional department will be opened.

First Session to commence on the 1st Monday in November and to continue 22 weeks. No student will be admitted for less than one term.

For further particulars address the Trustees or H. MALBY, Principal.

DORSEY L. STOCKTON, THO. PORTER, WILSON F. BOYD, L. W. ANDREWS, THOS. W. FLEMING, JOHN DANALDSON, THOS. THROOP, Trustees. Sept. 14, 1838.

EAGLE TAVERN

CORNER OF FRONT AND MARKET STREETS, MAYVILLE, KY.

Mrs. Judith Goddard, (Late of the Washington Hotel.)

HAVING been compelled to give up the house she has so long occupied, takes pleasure in informing her friends and the traveling public, that she has succeeded in obtaining that old established house, known as the EAGLE TAVERN, (formerly in the occupancy of John T. Langborne and more recently kept by John Dudley,) where she will at all times be pleased to see her old friends and others who may be disposed to favor her with their custom. In taking leave of the stand she has so long occupied, she would be doing injustice to her own feelings were she not to return gratefully to her friends to those who have so kindly supported her for the last few years, and in taking a continuance of her life she has been invariably extended for her able pledges that no exertions shall be spared to render their play as new, comfortable and agreeable. Her table will be furnished with every delicacy the market affords, and WARR will be supplied with the choicest Wines and Liquors.

Mayville, Oct. 16, 1837.

NOTICE

Bring it your 20 cents!!! By order of the Board of Trustees it is made my duty to request all holders of tickets of any denomination payable to the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees to bring them to the office of the Treasurer on or before the 1st of November, 1838. DATES from this time for redemption of the stock of Fleming and Handley, the present board being anxious and determined to settle and pay off the claims which compelled the Board to issue the same. It is requested that the call will be promptly answered.

P. R. BEAN, Secretary. Sept. 14, 1838.

