EDUCATIONAL STANDARDS ON THE UPWARD TREND

According to the Kentucky School Journal, the schools have received good treatment from the Legislature.

"The Governor of Kentucky has kept his pledge to the people of this State. Based upon the current census schools will receive twelve dollars per capita for the next two years. This means the schools will receive three-quarters of a million more each year of the biennium than they have ever received before.

"The provision of $500,000 for free textbooks enables us to carry on the free textbook program and creates the hope that eventually we may extend it through the eight grades.

"It is ours to give the State the best schools it ever had," says the K. E. A. magazine, declaring that the Legislature and the Governor or have placed responsibility on the Kentucky Educational Association and the State Department of Education.

"It is ours to see that the taxpayers get the largest return for their money; that the children get the best possible instruction and the free textbooks the best possible care."

"After all the schools and textbooks are not free. They cost money, money earned by toiling men and women, money which, in the form of taxes, meant deprivation, sacrifice, and sometimes suffering."

Quite so. And the responsibility is, truly, with K. E. A. and the State Department of Education, to give the State the best possible returns upon the outlay.—The Louisville Times

THREE PATHS OF REMEDIES OR FAILURES

Here are a few bits of information gleaned last week through reading of a report telling of a meeting of public health authorities in the city of New York:

(1) Dr. Russell L. Cecil said that 25,000 lives might be saved annually if inexpensive or free pneumonia serum were generally available.

(2) Thomas I. Parkinson, president of a life insurance company, scouted the fears of those "who think preventive medicine keeps too many people in the world."

(3) Prof. C. E. A. Winslow, of Yale Medical School, saw the public health movement challenged by "vested interests" depending on profit and the "stubborn resistance" of innate conservatism.

The reader can do a lot of thinking if he or she will take up the topics listed and write down the answers.

HAVE WE BEEN CAREFUL ENOUGH?

The automobile death toll for January and February is given as 4,580 by the National Safety Council, which inaugurated a campaign this year to cut the number of motor accidents. In 1935, says the Council, the number was 4,710, which means an improvement of three per cent for this year.

The fact that more than seventy-five persons are killed every day in the United States in motor vehicle accidents is enough to emphasize the necessity of concerted action by officials everywhere to stop this slaughter.

Here is an opportunity for an individual community to do something for itself without waiting on the State government or the Federal government. Records prove rather conclusively that where traffic regulations are enforced and motorists promptly punished for infractions, the death rate goes down.

AMERICA FOR SUPPLY AND DEMAND

Popcorn in lots of five and ten tons and peanuts in carload lots are included among the foreign trade opportunities included in the current issue of "Commerce Reports," the official foreign trade magazine published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, and just received by its Louisville District Office. An inquiry from Germany for the purchase of 10,000 bales of strict middling and good middling cotton and an opportunity for the sale of 1,500 theater chairs in Colombia are also included in the list. Axle nuts for automobiles and trucks, dyes and chemicals, varnish, washing and ironing machines, canned fruits, cutlery, saws, fancy leather goods, women's shoes, Diesel engines, engines, gear cutters, knitting machines locomotives, waxed paper straws, clocks, roller skates, and rayon yarn are among the many commodities of American origin inquired for from foreign countries.

Loan Group Has Increase In Per Capita

Growing interest in the local unit of the Federal Savings and Loan Association has attracted many investors since its launching in Morehead last December, according to J. M. Clayton, secretary.

For the month of January an average $15 increase in the per capita savings of the 489,473 shareholders in 44 states has been announced. An increase of 2.1 per cent in loans outstanding was recorded in February. The reporting associations received $2,770,800 in Federal subscription to their shares for the purpose of expanding the supply of loanable funds, while new subscriptions by the investors last December amounted to $12,119,575. To date, 1,066 federal associations, with assets of $522,000,000, are in operation in 44 states. Applications for conversion are pending from 187 additional state-chartered associations with combined resources of $220,000,000. Every shareholder is insured against loss up to $5,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Purebred Chicks Are Hatched At College

More than 1,500 eggs from purebred layers have been hatched already this year in the college incubators for distribution in Eastern Kentucky, according to H. C. Hagan, head of the department of agriculture. Last year 6,800 chickens were secured from 10,000 eggs placed in the incubator.

An "egg-turning" device has been attached to the incubators by Mr. Hagan and Dr. J. G. Black, the inventor. It is designed to turn the eggs every three hours. The facilities of the laboratory will permit hatching of 2,400 eggs at a time.

Eggs are secured from flocks averaging 200 or more layings each, yearly.

Winter Freezes Cause Shortage Of Small Grain

Crops Sown Last Fall Will Furnish Little Pasture

Small-grain crops sown last fall have been of little value for grazing due to the freezes and heavy snows of the winter, according to E. S. Good, University of Kentucky agricultural expert.

The growth of these crops sown in the fall has been so retarded by the hard winter that they will furnish little pasture this spring, and a shorter grazing period may be expected. As a substitute for the ruined crop, a sowing with oats has been recommended. It matures rapidly enough to be grazed within six weeks after planting.

Even in a normal season it pays to sow rape in the spring of the year for the production of a grazing crop for sheep, pigs and lambs. Rape is nearly as rich in protein and mineral matter as alfalfa and clover. The Kentucky Experiment Station has grown rape, or rape and oats, for an early grazing crop for the past 25 years with profit. Commercial lambs produced at the University farm are pastured on rape and oats, as soon as the crop is high enough to graze, and the lambs are sent to the market.

In experiments conducted at the Lexington plant it has been found that young weanling pigs, when run on rape and oats and fed 3 per cent of their live weight in shelled corn per day, made an average daily gain of $1 of a pound per pig, and required only 2 1/8 pounds of grain per 100 pounds gain.

While the rapidity and economy of gain were not quite as good as that of hogs running on alfalfa pasture under the same conditions, the comparison was quite favorable. The average results of tests conducted at other experiment stations in the grazing of hogs on rape show that an acre of rape saves about 2,217 pounds of corn. Based on the present price of corn, the value of an acre of rape would be about $22.81. This value varies with the price of hogs, as other investigators have estimated that an acre of rape is worth as much as $37 an acre when hogs are $10 a hundred.

FRESHMEN DESIRE TO HAVE NAME PLATES

Engineering freshmen at the University of Kentucky will soon have swanky looking aluminum name plates gracing their individual study desks, but this won't be due to their efforts to "put on the dog." Instead, these students who are taking non-ferrous foundry work, are making these name plates as part of their required work, and so they complete the course not only with knowledge gained, but also with a valuable souvenir.

In recent years much interest has been created in the University of Kentucky non-ferrous foundry work, and many students from other colleges of the university such as law had commerce are requesting to take the work. The increased demand throughout the civilized world for bronze plaques, name-plates, aluminum markers of various kinds, microphone identification plates, ornamental ash trays, surveyors bench marks, book ends, and door knockers, has made a knowledge of metal working and casting a valuable piece of mental equipment for the student about to go out into the world.

The work at the University of Kentucky is in charge of Clifford D. Kennard, a craftsman of a score of years of experience. Kennard served as an apprenticeship at the trade in England, spent three years with the Royal Flying Corps in Canada, then moved to the United States, where, before joining the University of Kentucky, he did commercial work in pattern-making and moulding, specializing in the making of bronze tablets, name plates, etc.

Students at the University of Kentucky learn the tablet work from the ground up. In Kennard's department they develop skill in making the required wood patterns. These patterns are then taken to the foundry where their impressions are transferred to the surface of a receptacle of fine moulding sand. The sand used by the university is identical, come from McCracken county near Paducah, and according to Prof. Kennard is unsurpassed for the purpose.

Next the casting metal is heated. Here the university practices economy, for the aluminum to be used comprises remnants of old crankcase crank cases. These old crank cases are broken up and put into graphite crucibles, which in turn are heated by a gas furnace until the metal is at the proper molten consistency. The sand moulds are then filled with this metal and allowed to cool.

Local CCC Camp At Clearfield, Camp Lochege, Enjoy Benefits of Higher Educational Activities

Camp Lochege is one of the very few CCC camps in Kentucky that is located near an institution of higher learning. Camp 578 established at Clearfield, is within two miles of the campus of the Morehead State Teachers College at Morehead, which nestles in the foothills of Eastern Kentucky that is the educational center for the region of the State. The educational activity within the camp is the direct return for the splendid efforts of the educational adviser, Mr. Earl May. Coming from the University of Kentucky in the heart of the bluegrass, he soon adapted himself to conditions in camp and has now a unit of education in action that has many phases of merit of highest distinction. Realizing at first the need of the enrollees he set about gathering material from near and afar, and then with his social contacts interested many of the outstanding citizens of Eastern Kentucky in the progress of the enrollees and to take an active part in helping them to take advantage of the opportunities in their camp program.

The citizens of Morehead and instructors at the college have donated many books and magazines to the library and special notes should be given to Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart for her gifts of the series of "Moonlight School Texts" for the enrollees. This series is now in use in many of the camps throughout the nation and Camp Lochege was the first to use them in their regular educational program. During the past year Mr. May has had all the heads of the various departments of Morehead State Teachers College as guest speakers to the enrollees and all have been greatly appreciated.

The camp has six outside instructors, the County Agent and four FERA teachers supplied by the County Superintendent. Their classes range from the beginners to college calibre. Many of the enrollees heretofore not directly connected with any academic work in camp have found the classes an open sesame to higher education of their own choosing. The classes have been so scheduled that all who want to attend may do so without inconvenience. The entire program has that atmosphere of school, yet there is a freedom of thought and progress seldom found in the average school.

Mr. C. L. Goff, class of 1927, University of Kentucky, and present county agent of Rowan county, is conducting a night class in general agriculture that has an enrollment of forty enrollees. His actual experience in the field since graduation made it possible for the enrollees to get first hand information of farming. Also the trips taken by enrollees to the various farms in Central Kentucky have stimulated their interest in fine horses, cattle, sheep, chickens and general farming. The class has city boys getting their first taste of agriculture and learning the way and wherefore of purebred stock, also the county lands are well represented and are learning the modern methods of agriculture with the intention of putting them into practice upon return to the farm of their forefathers. Perhaps the outstanding feature of the class is the unity of purpose and the general work toward that goal.

MRS. PERATT'S DIVISION LEADS CHURCH GROUP

Last Sunday, in spite of the rain, was another good day in the special campaign at the Christian church. The total cash amount for the six Sundays was just a little short of the five hundred mark. Division No. 2, Mrs. Peratt, leader, turned in the largest amount last Sunday, Division No. 3, Mrs. Lapla, leader, is in the lead with a total of $125. Division No. 2, Mrs. Peratt, leader, is a close second with a total of $102. Division No. 5, Mr. Patton, leader, came third with a total of $90.95. The campaign has five Sundays to go as yet, closing Mother's Day, May 10th. The two divisions turning in the largest sums of money will be entertained at the close of the campaign by the three losing divisions.

WIN A PRIZE

If you must kill time why not try working it to Death

CONSIDER THESE FACTS!

Perhaps you will say that you haven't time to participate in the Independent's "Weekly Payroll" Campaign. But you know one of the most common expressions used today is, "I haven't time." Generally speaking, the person using it has time to spare—but won't admit it.

The successful person of today is the one who budgets his time, spends it wisely, saves it judiciously, invests it carefully. The pitiful specimens of humanity are not the ones who tried hard and failed, but the ones who made no effort at all—who hadn't time. The men and women who really try will receive some reward.

And so it is with the Independent's contest. If you enter early, work hard and take advantage of the largest vote offerings, you cannot help but win a substantial reward! The prize list in this campaign has been so arranged that everyone who enters the race will win a prize in accordance with the effort expended, or be paid 20 PER CENT CASH COMMISSION.

"Haven't the time" is no alibi, for this work is to be done in your spare moments and among people with whom you are well acquainted. The prizes are big and the work is easy, pleasant and profitable. Why not START NOW—TODAY?

It is the sincere aim of this newspaper to conduct this campaign from start to finish in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the interest of the participants, and absolute honesty in all dealings is guaranteed. However, not all wisdom lies with any one man or institution. For that reason a committee or judges will be selected at the approval of the workers, whose duty shall be to assist the campaign manager in making the final count and awarding the prizes.

HINTS FOR SUCCESS!

Begin your campaign for votes immediately and do not get discouraged or let anyone try to discourage you.

This is not a "something for nothing" proposition in which you will win without some effort. Call personally upon your friends and explain that the votes allowed on their subscriptions will be greatly appreciated and will assist you in winning a new car.

If it happens to be a bit difficult to secure subscriptions, the other fellow will have the same conditions to contend with.

The candidate residing in a small town or community has as much opportunity to win a major award as those living in the more densely populated districts. This contest is not a charitable or popularity affair and candidates need not feel backward in requesting a subscription from their friends, relatives and acquaintances. They in return will receive full value for every dollar spent. The Independent is without a doubt the leading newspaper and advertising medium in this section.

Do not lose heart if you fail to receive a subscription from the first person you ask. Remember, persistence spells success.

Winners are ordinary persons with extraordinary determination. Success consists of 90 per cent perspiration and 10 per cent inspiration.

Many other books and magazines have been promised and will be brought in as soon as arrangements have been made by the organization to have them delivered.

Hall, as large as the yolk of an egg, fell Sunday morning for about five minutes. It covered the ground for several hours.

Miss Nancy Fannin, a school teacher at P. M. L. Frankfort, visited her parents Sunday. Miss Reba Howard, her sister, and Miss Opal Howard, students at the Morehead College, were visiting with her.

Funeral services were conducted for Merida Waddell (sometimes known as W. E.) at Sidway Ky., Tuesday, March 21st, was conducted by the Rev. H. Catron. Deceased was 56 years of age. He leaves behind his wife, fourteen children, John A. Kock, attorney, who attended the State Bar meeting in Louisville, returned home Saturday. The Elliott County Relief Office was closed March 21st. Miss Dorothy Burke, relief worker, has returned to her home in Louisville. The commodity clerk, Robert M. Clayton, still holds his office open and commodities will be distributed every two weeks when available.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Howard, of Morehead, were the Friday evening guests of Mrs. Howard's sister, Mrs. W. C. Greene, and Dr. Greene.

Misses Thelma Click and Ernestine Ward and M. L. Archer were shopping in Mt. Sterling Saturday. Mrs. Hannah Hunter, of Morehead, was the week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. Emma Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Vansant were business visitors in Morehead Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam King accompanied Miss Dorothy Burke as far as Morehead Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Sam King entertained with a three-course dinner Thursday evening at her home in honor of Miss Dorothy Burke. Besides the guest, Mrs. King also entertained the following: Miss Mary Vansant, Dr. W. E. Wehr, Bessie Redwine and Lucy N. Peltrey.

Mrs. Harve Mobley, as hostess, entertained the following guests with a bridge party at her home Thursday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vansant, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodrow Conley and Miss Ruth Mobley. After three rounds of bridge, a salad course with sandwiches and hot drinks were served to the guests. Miss Mary Vansant came in for the refreshments. Mrs. W. R. Vansant and Mrs. Woodrow Conley carried away honors.

The revival meeting being conducted at the Baptist church by the Rev. L. H. Martin and the pastor, Mr. G. G. Lanier, has already seen results. The following have given their lives to be workers in the church: Misses Luella Bays, Isabel Pritchard, Marie Bays, Ruth Ison, Pauline Bays and Inez Weddington.

John A. Kock, attorney, who attended the State Bar meeting in Joe Mobley, of Louisville, visited friends in Sandy Hook Sunday.

Andy Porter, of Stark, Ky., was a business visitor in town Thursday.

Mr. H. G. Davis, of Lexington, bridge contractor, was the Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bays.

Hadden Elected Press President

Next Meeting To Convene At U. of K. For Fall Meeting

Howard C. Hadden, business manager of the Trail Blazer, was elected president of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association at the semi-annual convention of that group at Eastern State Teachers College, Richmond, last Friday and Saturday. He succeeds Paul W. Holman, retiring Trail Blazer, editor.

The award for the best college paper, judged by the staff of the Cincinnati Enquirer, went to the Eastern Progress. Departmental awards were announced: Editorial, Eastern Progress and Centre Cent; news stories, Kentucky Kernel; and Murray Thoroughbred; feature stories, Georgetown Georetownian and Kentucky Kernel; sports stories, Kentucky Kernel and Louisville Cardinal.

Other officers elected were James Hanratty, Centre, president; John C. Lovett, Western, secretary, and John Freeman Murray, treasurer. Members of the association voted to meet the University of Kentucky's bid for the convention site next fall. The date will be set by the host school later.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN APPEARS

ON SCREEN AT COLLEGE

For Friday and Friday, April 5th and 10th, the College featured Charlie Chaplin in one of the outstanding comedies of all time MODERN TIMES.

This show features the droll and humorous Charlie and the charming Paulette Goddard in a bewilderment of experiences coupled with the mo'yr'n machine age. When you see him caught in the whirlpool of modern life... dwarfed by giant machines... clinging to a beautiful but homeless waif... you'll realize that only Chaplin could produce so magnificently a comedy, so poignant a story. No one else in the world can make you laugh so heartily nor touch your heart as deeply.

Those who are still laughing at some droll or ridiculous funny moment in "The Gold Rush" or "City Lights" can look forward with even those unforgettable triumphs, even those unforgettable triumphs.

For Sunday, April 12th, the show is "THE FARMER IN THE DELL." "Homespun entertainment with a golden thread of comedy which gives it zest prevails in "The Farmer in the Dell," which brings Fred Stone into a screen headliner with Jean Parker.

Against a background of the picture studios, the story is essentially a comedy, with an underlying human drama which touches a responsive chord in the hearts of young and old alike.

The story tells the adventures of Pa Boyer, a lovable old farmer, who is transplanted to Hollywood by his ambitious but rather stupid wife whose greatest ambition is that her young daughter, Adie, shall have a film career. However, it is Pa who is practically shanghaied into a film contract, because he is a homely, natural type. From here on, things happen fast. Ma Boyer "goes Hollywood" in a big way, moves into a palatial home and becomes the target for all the flatters and hangers-on that infest the screen capital. Pa returns in time to save Adie from marriage with a bogus Russian count.

The role of Pa Boyer is made-order for Fred Stone. He brings simplicity and honesty to the part and highlights it with naive, irresistible comedy. Audiences laugh with him in his dilemmas, cry with him in his heartaches and champion him in his stand against pretense and shame.

Crowning of the King and Queen at the Winter Carnival

Gilbert Bose and Thelma Carmichael were crowned king and queen, respectively, of the 1936 edition of the annual winter carnival of the Morehead State Teachers College, March 21. The royalty won their positions as a result of a "vote-by-mail" contest, in which each vote was accompanied by a penny. No limitation was placed on the number of votes allowed each student. Funds derived from the carnival, estimated at approximately $300, will go to the "Baconneur" student year-book.

Features of the event were a "horse race," devised by students, side show, featuring Mink Doyle, Lexington fortune-teller, and a dance, at which the King's Jesters orchestra played.

The carnival was sponsored by the Campus and Nivator Clubs.

HIS NAME HAS GIVEN HIM

LO OF HEADACHES

What's in a name? "A lot of headaches," Joseph Callela will tell you.

On the "Exclusive Story" set at M-G-M, in which picture he appears with Madge Evans and Franchot Tone, when it opens April 15th at the Cozy Theatre, the screen's new arch-villain told of his personal adventures in this respect:

"I was born Joseph Spurin-Callela," he began. "Spurin is English, my mother's maiden name. Callela is Spanish, the name of my father who, like my mother, was born on the island of Malta."

"When I decided to become an actor—that was at a tender age—my father raised such objection that I dropped Callela and made my debut as Joseph Spurin."

"After my first success—that was in London—I received a letter from my father. He wanted to talk to me. I travelled down to Malta, and, half-embarrassed, he asked if I couldn't arrange to use his part of the name."

He was afraid strangers wouldn't know Joseph Spurin was his son! "Went to New York and became Joseph Spurin-Callela," he continued, "keeping the Spurin because the one successful play had established it."

"Then I came to Hollywood. The first thing that happened to me was a conference in which it was decided that my name was too long. It would have to be changed. So here I am, Joseph Callela."

Comedy Is Well Accepted By Crowd

'Growing Pains' Makes Final Appearance In Breckinridge Auditorium

"Growing Pains," a comedy in three acts by Auranla Rouvernel, was presented Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the college auditorium by the senior class of Breckinridge Training School with a cast of eighteen. Juanita Minish, critic teacher, and Lucille Caudill, college English instructor, directed the production.

The play depended upon a theme of adolescent youths in disagreement with their parents. Orville Redwine handled the role of one of the adolescent youths. George McIntire, in a skillful manner. Other excellent characterizations were made by James Babby as Prof. McIntire, Pauline Butcher as Terry McIntire, Marjorie Hawkins as Prudence and Truman Caudill as the traffic officer.

An effective cyclorama was created by J. C. Black and Clinton Tatum with the assistance of Calvin Crothwaite. The setting was designed to represent the interior of a courtyard. Other members of the cast who displayed excellent talent were Dorothy Nash, Opal Blanton, Elizabeth Ricketts, Ione Bays, Ralph Holbrook, Bruce Rawlings, J. G. Black, Billy Ramey, Harold Allen, Margaret Penix, Nancy Harbour, Virginia Vencill and Josephine Alfrey.

Strawberry production has been discussed in two county-wide meetings in Ballard and Carlisle counties.

MISS CALDWELL IS BETTER

FOLLOWING OPERATION

Dorothy Caldwell, daughter of Dudley Caldwell and pupil in the Breckinridge Training School, underwent an appendectomy at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, two weeks ago, but is now much improved. She is expected to return home within the next few days.

Baseball League To Hold First Meeting In Flemingsburg Tomorrow

League Membership May Be Limited To Only Four Teams

Morehead will send a representative to a meeting of the Kentucky State Baseball League at Flemingsburg tomorrow, according to an announcement made here. The meeting will be held in the office of Dr. J. F. Hall at 7:30 p. m.

A drastic change in the league organization, which is expected to limit membership to four teams, is necessary if operation is to be continued this summer, sponsors advise.

During the life of the league—two years—heavy bidding for players, excessive traveling expenses and lack of interest in some member towns have resulted in a financial burden, which officials propose to discard by slashing legitimate charters to four. The strongest contenders for membership are Morehead, Flemingsburg, Mt. Sterling and Owingsville.

It is believed that with fewer clubs, the demand for high-salaried players will not be excessive, and some of the funds formerly expended for pitchers and heavy hitters will divert to the club treasury. In addition, the clubs will be situated within an hour's drive of each other, lowering traveling expenses to a minimum. It is expected that with local talent composing the roster of the four aggregations, development of stiff competition could be obtained. Among those who have been mentioned for the presidency are Warren C. Lappin, training school director, and Dr. J. F. Hall, Flemingsburg.

Doughnut Sale Is Announced For Friday

Sale of 70 dozen doughnuts Friday by Mrs. W. C. Lappin's division of the Morehead Christian church was announced this week. Funds derived from the sale of pastries will be added to collections already received in the church's deficit campaign.

Engraved hotel silver, sufficient to serve 100, will be available at the church as the result of a recent drive by the Women's Council to secure subscriptions to Holland's, a Dallas, Texas, magazine. The publishers announced an award of the silver set for $100 in subscriptions. The council exceeded the specified sum by $2.50.

DEBATEES ENGAGE TEAM FROM EASTERN TODAY

Morehead State Teachers College's second-beaten debate team, represented by Earl Dean, Elijah M. Hodge, Alton Parze and Howard Eckles, will engage the debaters of Eastern State Teachers College this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and tonight at 7:30. The question of judicial vs. legislative authority will be upheld by Payne and Eckles and attacked by Hodge and Dean.

Council Endorses Baseball Team

'Morehead Will Have Team If Schedule Can Be Arranged,' Babbs

Called in session last week as a result of a student petition demanding a baseball season, the Athletic Committee of Morehead State Teachers College endorsed a spring program including football, baseball, track and tennis. President H. A. Babbs said, "Morehead will have a team (baseball) if a schedule can be arranged."

Telegrams have been sent to neighboring schools in an effort to obtain sufficient games for a baseball team. Promise of early conditioning of the tennis courts has been announced, and soft-ball facilities are being placed in order as a result of recent requests for the sports.

The Athletic Committee is composed of Chairman R. D. Judd, W. B. Jackson, A. Y. Lloyd, G. D. Downing, W. H. Rick and J. G. Black.

Hauptmann Meets Death in Chair

Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted of the kidnap and murder of the Lindbergh baby, met death in the electric chair Friday night at the same to an end one of the most discussed cases in the annals of American history. Hauptmann, pale and weak, was led to the chair where he made no struggle. He protested his innocence to the last, professed faith in God, and after making a ten-minute prayer, said he was ready to die. Opinion differed widely as to whether Hauptmann should be put to death, but in carrying out the American system of court procedure, we cannot see but the action was justified.

Fish and Game Men Hold High Honors Contest

Earl May Leads Association For Bait Casting; Lappin Makes Report

NEXT MEETING ON MAY 5

Earl May, CCC educational director, won high honors in the bait casting contest held Tuesday night in the college gymnasium by the Licking Valley Fish and Game Protective Association.

At an earlier business meeting reports were heard by President W. C. Lappin for the executive committee, which had made recommendations for game wardens and supervisors for this county and district to Gov. A. B. Chandler.

H. C. Hagzian and W. D. Scroggins appeared before the Fleming County Sportsman Club, Flemingsburg, Wednesday night, speaking briefly on possibilities of wild-life development in this section.

Mr. Hagzian was elected publicity director of the local organization at the Tuesday night meeting. Committees were appointed as follows by the board of directors: Educational, H. C. Hagzian, chairman; B. H. Kaeze, Duane C. Caudell, Dave Sandbatter and J. C. Coffey, membership; Joe McFadden, chairman; L. C. Fusate, Eldon Evans and W. T. McClain; program, W. D. Scroggins, chairman; William Kestley, Earl May, C. F. Fraley and Dr. R. W. Adkins; restock, J. M. Clayton, chairman; Dr. A. Y. Lloyd, Dr. W. A. Weller, Wilfred Walz and Ernest Fisher.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held Tuesday night, May 5th.

Widener's Brevity Becomes Favorite Since Florida Win

Derby Day Will Find Usual Contenders For May 2 Classic

BRADLEY HAS S ENTERED

Joseph E. Widener's crack three-year-old Brevity, which became the favorite for the Kentucky Derby as a result of a record-breaking performance in the Florida Derby last month, will have to match strides with two of the fastest colts foaled in Kentucky in recent years, Coldstream and Holyrood. When the colts and fillies troop to the barrier at Churchill Downs Saturday, May 2, in the thoroughbred classic of America, the racing public may expect to witness the fastest finish if conditions are favorable, since Mrs. Payne Whitney's almost-invincible Twenty Grand broke the track record in 1931. C. V. Whitney's Red Rain is the only outstanding two-year-old of last year not scheduled to run at Louisville. He is being saved for later dates. Among other horses expected to furnish competition for the favorites are Ned Reigh, The Fighter, Tintagel, E. R. Bradley's Bien Joil, Bridg Plumage and Grand Stam.

Despite the widespread turn to Brevity after his sterling victory in the Florida classic, many Central Kentucky "hardboots" still believe that C. B. Shaffer's brilliant Coldstream may flash down in front of the field on Derby Day. He demonstrated amazing speed in winning the Bashford Manor Stakes, Saratoga Special (dead heat with Red Rain) and the Hyde Park Stakes. The fact that his sire is Bull Dog almost precludes the possibility that he will be unable "to go" the Derby distance of one mile and a quarter, a distance which all but the best classed in general races. However, in every event in which he raced, the Shaffer colt made up ground in the last quarter, proving that he had the essential ability of stretch-running. He is the one to watch at Churchill Downs May 2.

JEFFERSON DAY DANCE

Morehead's Young Democratic Club will sponsor a Jefferson Day dance next Monday evening in the college gymnasium from 8 to 12 o'clock. Music will be supplied by the King's Jesters.

'36 Varsity Football Team In Contact Work

Cocher C. D. Downing said prospects for the 1936 Eagle varsity football team were subjected to heavy contact work last week after a preliminary season of calisthenics, passing, and wind-sprints. More strenuous conditioning has been announced for this week.

Expectations for an improved team next fall have been expressed by the mentors due to the wealth of material left from last year's varsity and the freshman team.

Men who have reported for practice are Vinson, Varney, Taylor, Alley, Watson, Carter, Adams, Triplett, Henderson Varn, Reynolds, Hammond, Hall, Hoffstetter, Fair, Adams, Marzetti, Kelly, Vogler, Henderson, Huston, Lowman and others. The men will be divided into teams for scrimmaging purposes.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS TO PRESENT "MIDDLE MAIDS" OPERETTA

Amateur Hour To Be Given For Training School Students

The "Middle Maids" operetta is to be given April 14, 1936, by the Junior High girls' chorus of Breckinridge Training School at 7:30 p. m. in the college auditorium under the direction of Keith Davis. The college orchestra will furnish the music. Elaborate scenery and costumes have been purchased for the occasion. The cast is as follows:

Captain—Hebe D. Crooley. Admiral—Patty Caudill. Authoress—Mary Adkins. English Instructors—Marie Falls, Stage Managers—Wilma White, Molly Malloy—Josephine Frances. Mrs. Pom Pom—Thelma Hall. Engineer—Mildred Randall. Careless Carter—Edna Baker. Columbus Clara—Elvira Caudill. Sympathetic Susan—Mary Sue Pervis.

Cook—Lorenna Gorey. A chorus of 20 girls provides singing and dancing. The entire operetta is centered around a group of girls who belong to the Middle Academy. This is a very hilarious extravaganza which you should not miss. An amateur hour for Training School students is to be given in connection with the operetta and prizes will be given to the winners. Admission, 15 cents and 25 cents.

COUNTY COURT PLACES FINES

Harlan Skagas, Emory Fouch, Lester McClain and Audrey Turner were committed to the county jail Tuesday for failure to pay a fine after the Board of County Court had found them guilty on charges of drunkenness and fined them $5 and costs, which amounted to $19.50.

EASTER SERVICES BEGIN WITH SUNRISE WORSHIP

Easter services will mark the worship at the First Christian church next Sunday. A sunrise prayer service will be held beginning at 6:30 o'clock. The Bible school will open promptly at 9:45. Reports of the financial campaign will be made beginning about 10:30. This will be followed by the communion service and the sermon by Dr. Fern on the subject, "The Resurrection of Jesus." The night services will come at 6:30 and will be evangelistic. The Christian Endeavors will be present and count will be made in their contest. Special Gospel invitations will be given at the preaching services. A number are expected to respond to the invitations.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Mrs. Lydia J. Caudill wish to express our gratitude for the many kindnesses shown us by friends during our recent bereavement. To Rev. H. L. Moore, who graciously offered his church; to the ministers of Morehead, and to our many friends who sent flowers and expressed their sympathy in time of need, we extend our thanks. MRS. S. P. WHEELER AND THE CAUDILL FAMILY.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of sending our thanks and appreciation to our friends for their kindness and sympathy at the death of our daughter and sister.

We especially thank the choir from the Christian church, Brother Fern, C. B. Lane, the pall-bearers and all who sent flowers. Your kindness will always be remembered.

4 Services Listed For Easter Morn

Sunrise Program Will Be of Un-usual Interest At the Methodist Church

Sunrise service 6 a. m. The Easter services at the Methodist church will begin with the dawning of day. The program planned promises to be one of unusual interest. There will be special music, Scripture reading, prayer followed by the serving of the Sacraments.

Church school, 9:45. At the church school hour all the departments will meet in the main auditorium for the worship program. The children of the children's division, will offer several numbers in song. The Sunday school periods will be shortened fifteen minutes in order to give more time to the morning service. Morning worship, 10:30.

The choir will introduce Easter thoughts at this service by several selections in song. After the regular order of service has been disposed of a group of babies will be christened. The theme for Easter meditation will be "An Easter Visit to the Tomb of Jesus." At the conclusion of the service a number will be baptized, after which they and others will be received into the church by vows or certificates.

A class has been conducted by the pastor the past week, fitting the children for reception into the church. We believe that this step the boys and girls are making is very significant. We are thankful for their whole-hearted commitment to the way of Jesus as Savior and Lord.

Young Peoples service, 6:45-7:15. At 6:15 on Sunday evening the young people will hold their fellowship service in the basement of the church. At 6:45 a special program has been arranged by the young people. This will conclude our Easter services. No service at 7 p. m.
