63 FAMILIES ARE REHABILITATED BY RED CROSS AGENCY

Seed Program Is Planned For Needy Families

Rehabilitating of flood-distressed families in Rowan County got under way this week by the American National Red Cross.

Miss Helen J. Moses, area director, reported that 63 families have been rehabilitated so far. Approximately 350 Rowan County families have registered for aid from the Red Cross. Miss Moses said that all of them, however, will not be eligible for assistance because only those who are financially unable through cash or credit resources to take care of their own needs will be eligible.

Case Workers To Investigate

Every family registering for aid will be visited by one of the case workers, she said. They will determine in accordance with their findings what the families will require to prevent unnecessary suffering.

All families will be expected to use self-help, that is, they will be expected to salvage furniture which can be repaired and cleaned and building material which can be used in reconstituting homes, Miss Moses said.

Will Give Seed

The Red Cross is unable to assist all families of income property but will help the tenant who is unable to help himself to secure household furnishings.

Because of the great loss of gardens, a garden seed program will be started. Seed will be distributed on an individual family basis. Enough seed will be given to provide sufficient foodstuff for the balance of the summer and for families in areas in the fall in addi-
