The Progressive offers this as its March $5.00 cash prize puzzle. Each of these jumbled words will spell the name of one of the United States. The problem is to arrange each of the six groups of letters to spell each the name of a State. For a starter, the first one is KENTUCKY, and each of the other five spell the name of a State. No groups will spell the name more than one State. Write your solution opposite the jumbled letters and mail to address below. All answers must be accompanied by 10c. for subscription this paper for 4 weeks. Much interest was taken in our February prize puzzle which closed noon Feb. 28, and checks were mailed the winners the next day. More than one make the correct solution then the $5 will be equally divided as was the case in the February prize. This is instructive to children and parents can well afford to give the child the 10c. and help them to solve the problem. Answers must be in 12 o'clock the last day of March. An extra prize will be given the first answer received whether correct or not.

I enclose 10c. and my solution; send paper to: Name _____ State _____

NIGHT SESSIONS THE NEW ORDER

LESS THAN FORTNIGHT REMAINS TO THE KENTUCKY ASSEMBLY.

FEW BILLS CLEAR HURDLES

Some of the Most Important Legislation to Demand Consideration Still in Hand—Majority Holds Caucus to Revise Program for Carrying Out Administration Policies.

(By Ernest W. Holm.)
Frankfort, Ky.—Night sessions have been inaugurated and the general assembly has taken a fresh grip. The rules committee will take charge Saturday and the session will end on St. Patrick's day. Although over 900 bills have been introduced less than half a dozen have been sent to the governor for his signature. Many of the most important measures offered are still dragging. In view of the dramatic members of the legislature the democratic members held a caucus to decide on bills to be pushed that would most effectively carry out the administration's program, and the majority is now open to cases for the first time this session.

Chas. Counts Killed
The old story of stepping out of the way of one train only to step into the deadly path of another train bearing down upon them in an opposite direction, resulted in the instantaneous death of Charles Counts, aged 48, a resident of South Portsmouth, and his little grandson, Leighton, aged 4, who was carrying in his arms. The child's mother and her son were walking directly behind Mr. Counts but succeeded in getting out of the way. Of course, one leg was broken, his skull crushed and one arm broken in two places. He was employed at George Schaffer's Restaurant, on Market opposite the Washington Hotel Barbershop. Besides a wife he leaves three daughters; Mrs. Roy Hutton, Cena, and Julia, and some, Clifford, John and Esther. He was buried Sunday morning at the Valley.

At Circuit Court
Judgment was taken against the C. & O. Railroad for $2,000 in damages for killing Rev. H. M. Robinson here in 1912. We understand the case will be appealed by the company.
Judgment of $500 rendered against C. & O. favoring daughter of John Q. Adams, of Soldier, for personal injuries.

In the Clark-Robinson Superintendency case, on record, Robinson was given a majority of 21. A meeting, precinct No. 15—Brickyard—was thrown out, and we understand, all the election officers in that precinct were indicted. We understand the case will be appealed.

In the case of J. E. Wallace vs. N. D. Tabor for forfeiture of contract and damages, judgment was entered for Wallace for $250.

Indictments Against Miners Dismissed
In Bath Circuit Court at Owingsville last week the Owingsville Outlook says: The indictments against the Rose Run Iron Mine strikers were dismissed. The strikers, who worked nearly two years ago when they were refused an increase of pay.

After the strike a party of men remained in the employ of the mine Co., and the company undertook to continue mining. In the afternoon of the short time there commenced a series of serious depredations on the real mine property. He kept nearly half the country in an uproar and the people of the neighborhood of the mines in constant state of excitement and fear for months. Bridges were blown up by dynamite, some were coal-oiled and burned, houses were burned, and one or two persons were shot and slightly wounded from ambush, while shooting at the sawmill and the grist mill stationed there was almost nightly occurrence. Both sides were armed as if for war. The outrages were charged to the strikers by those in the employ of the company. The strikers in turn said they were committed by men in the employ of the company who hoped thereby to get big pay as guards, etc. Both sides told pitiable stories. When the miners were indicted they surrendered their guns to the authorities here, but when the indictments were filed away of course their guns were returned to them, and they marched away carrying them on their shoulders.

Lykins Capitol Custodian.
Samuel Lykins, deputy warden at the state reformatory, was elected custodian of the state capitol by board of sinking fund commissioners to succeed Thomas Ward, Republican. The change will take place April 1, and Mr. Lykins is elected for four years. Mr. Lykins is from Morgan county and has been deputy warden for six years. He will receive $1,200 and will be given the governor's old mansion as a residence.

Federal Inquiry Asked.
The house adopted a joint resolution, offered by Representative John C. Duff, of Christian county, calling upon congress and the Department of Justice of the United States to investigate alleged conspiracies and combinations of fire insurance companies operating in Kentucky, to deal with a view to maintaining rates, and to take such action as may be necessary to bring about relief to the people of the state.

Republicans Agree With Progressives
The West Virginia Republican State Executive Committee of five days ago issued a statement to the people of the State, reaffirming the Huntington platform of 1912, practically the same as that adopted by the Progressives that year. The committee also took the ground that constitutional amendments for the initiative, referendum and recall should be submitted to the vote of the people. This action followed a meeting which was designed to bring both parties together.

Oklahoma Mothers Denounce Fusion
Resolutions bearing upon any form of amalgamation with any party were adopted at a recent conference of the Progressive party in Oklahoma. In view of this declaration plans are being made for the submission of a complete State ticket as well as a resolution. Primary election to be held in August.

Galshan's Slayer Gets Life Term

The Court of Appeals has decided to affirm the life sentence of the late Circuit Court of Carter County for the murder of Ed. Galshan in Bowling Green, Ky., in 1909. The higher tribunal of justice had affirmed the lower Court's sentence of 99 years imprisonment and Gal to Heaven knows that I was convicted on a technicality. My only hope was beyond the reach of which I have a great deal of trouble than those who have sympathy for me. It is a pretty hard sentence for a man who has not done anything wrong.

Pensions For S. A. Vet. Widows

A bill is before Congress providing a pension of $12 a month for widows and $2 a month for children of deceased Spanish War veterans. Widows with an income of $250 a year or more are ineligible.

Strike Kicks Up Row

A dispatch from Whitesburg, says a gas vein was struck in a well at a depth of only 200 feet last week, which rivals the gas gushers struck in Martin county some months ago, and it is believed that the entire territory is rich in natural gas.

Dog Tax Falls Short

During the fiscal year just expired claims amounting to $1,354 were allowed in Warren county for sheep killed by dogs, and only $450 in dog taxes collected. The claims will be prorated.

When a young man sits in the parlor talking nonsense, that capital. But when he has to stay in of evenings and rock the cradle, that's labor.

The little boy that's on his knees in his little night dress saying his prayers, and his little sister couldn't resist the temptation to tickle the little feet protruding from beneath the little night dress. The mother, as long as he could stand then, and she could stand, could excuse county officers to be elected at the primary election to be held in August.

OBITUARY LITERARY

Mrs. Sarah Thomas

Death came as a relief to Mrs. Sarah Thomas February 11, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, when her spirit winged its flight to a better world. She had been in feeble health for quite a while and after all that medical science and loving hands could do had become, she quietly resigned all into the hands of the one who does all things well, and the kind and gentle spirit received its summons to claim a higher happiness from a life of suffering to a home of joy and freedom from pain.

The Olive Hill Literary Society met

in regular session at the school house Thursday night, Feb. 10th. An interesting feature of this meeting was a mock trial in which one J. Russell Sparlock was sued by one Miss Jane Waggoner for breach of promise. Quite a number of witnesses testified to seeing Mr. Sparlock on bondless knees proposing to Miss Waggoner on January 23, 1898, and that date, was engaged in picking a game of baseball at Parkville, thirty and eleven-tenths miles from the scene of the alleged proposal. The result was a verdict for the defendant. The officers of the Court were: J. A. Sewell, Judge; Cecil Erwin, Clerk; Percy Scott, Sheriff. Messrs. G. M. Haldane and Roy H. Pennington represented the plaintiff, and Messrs. Harry Bradley and Leonard Cunningham represented the defendant.—Contributed.

A Curf-Reply

A proof-reader on a certain western daily was a woman of great precision and extreme propriety. One day a reporter succeeded in getting into type an item about Willie Brown, the boy who was burned in the West End by live wire. The next day the reporter found on his desk a frightful note asking: "Which is the west end of a boy's neck?" He took only an instant to reply, "The end and the set on, of course."

A FRIEND

She leaves a son and daughter, just blooming into manhood and womanhood. Her husband, James, passed away only a short time ago. Sincere and tender sympathy which waked from heart to heart, of a Christian community extended to the dear child in the bereavement of their mother and to the brothers and sisters, and commending them to Him who alone can comfort their hearts in this time of sorrow.

Accused of Holdup

J. E. Rice, said to be a C. & O. detective, W. Browning, of this city, and Claude Hall, whose home is said to be at Olive Hill, were arrested about 1 o'clock this morning by officers Gaylor, Manning and Caine on a charge of holding up and robbing at the point of a revolver George Crawford and Oscar Gallier. The alleged hold-up occurred near the C. & O. freight depot shortly before twelve o'clock. The booty is said to have amounted to $7.00. When searched, a unique device for holding out cards in a card game was found attached to Rice's wrist. The device consists of a clamp, attached to an extension arm, which shoots the clamp out into the palm of the player's hand upon pressing a spring, which is also concealed under the wearer's coat sleeve. A revolver, pair of knucklers and a flash light were found on Hall-Ash land Independent, Friday.

Representative Poter, of Lane county, offered a joint resolution in the house, which lies over, placing the general assembly on record as favoring the curbing over of Lincoln farms, the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln, to the government. At present the farm is being maintained by the Lincoln Farm association.

The house went into committee of the whole to hear Dr. N. A. Palmer, Dr. W. E. Arnold, and Mrs. Frank Beauchamp, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. They submitted a fifty-foot banner, upon which were attached petitions asking for the submission of the question to the people.

Senator Tunis, who introduced a bill appropriating $50,000 for the construction of new buildings at the State Hospital for the insane in Lexington, accompanied it with a joint resolution, which was adopted, providing for a full investigation of the use of the institution by a joint legislative committee.

Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, asked that an appropriation of $10,000 quarterly for the Conference be continued for four years.

DEATH INVADERS SENATE.

Gilpin was cast over the legislature when a telegram was received announcing the death of Senator John W. Berkshire, of Petersburg. Paralysis was the cause. The senate adjourned out of respect.

Hand of Lobby Suspected.

Because of sensational charges made by him on the floor of the house last week that the making of various house committees bore the "marks" of lobbyists, Representative Frank C. Greene, of Carroll county, was before the house "sobby" probe" committee. The inquiry developed the fact that the name of Mr. Greene was among a list of 25 that had been prepared by Robert C. Fleming, chief of the legal department of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co., for submission to Speaker Terrell, with the suggestion that a house railroad committee made up of men whose names appeared on the list would be acceptable to the company. Mr. Fleming, when questioned by the "probers," said he did not know whether this list ever reached Speaker Terrell. The speaker said he had received and welcomed various suggestions when making up committees. He said he would produce all lists to the committee.

Jurisdiction is Enlarged.

In the senate not a dissenting vote was cast against the Moody bill seeking to increase the jurisdiction of inferior judges in misdemeanor cases. Under the provision of the measure county and probate judges and magistrates have jurisdiction, exclusive of circuit courts, in all penal cases where the punishment does not exceed a fine of $20, and jurisdiction concurrent with circuit courts in all cases where the punishment does not exceed a fine of $100 or imprisonment not in excess of 90 days, or both. It also provides that county judges shall have concurrent jurisdiction with circuit courts in all misdemeanor cases where the punishment is not over a fine of $100, imprisonment of 90 days, or both. The law is designated for the trial, by county judges, of prisoners in jail waiting trial or indictment in circuit courts.

Educational Bills Killed.

The bill of Representative Hill, which sought to give to the state superintendent of public instruction authority to recover misappropriated school funds, and which carried with it a penalty for the misuse of such funds, was killed in the house, Monday. An effort to Representative Judd, of Montgomery county, to have his bill making white women eligible to the office of school trustee, and providing that negroes may not vote in white school elections, met with failure. When the bill of Representative Webb, of Graves county, giving to county boards of education the right to fix the time for holding elections for voting special taxes for consolidated school districts, was called for the order of the day it met with such opposition that it finally was recommitted.

Many Passes for Solons.

That hundreds of passes have been given to members of the legislature during the session of the legislature was testified to before the house committee, Robert Fleming, of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and Garrett Wall, of the C. & O. railway, testified that they had so many passes to the members that they could not estimate the number. They were ordered to produce the stubs of the pass books. Representative Guthrie Coke, chairman of the committee, stated that steps will be taken to make public the number of passes given.

CAPITAL CHAT

The bill of Senator Durham to prohibit having in educational institutions and the measure to add the elements of agriculture and domestic science to the common school curriculum received favorable reports.

Favorable report was made on bills to require each county to have a depository for public funds; relating to the pension and material men on real estate; and the bill requiring semi-monthly payments of wages.

Representative Poter, of Lane county, offered a joint resolution in the house, which lies over, placing the general assembly on record as favoring the curbing over of Lincoln farms, the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln, to the government. At present the farm is being maintained by the Lincoln Farm association.

The house went into committee of the whole to hear Dr. N. A. Palmer, Dr. W. E. Arnold, and Mrs. Frank Beauchamp, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. They submitted a fifty-foot banner, upon which were attached petitions asking for the submission of the question to the people.

LUKE M'LUKE SAYS

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who used to give the children a treat by taking them out to the country to see grandma's grave?

I haven't learned much, caring my stay here on earth, but I do know that people seldom visit to temptation until they go out looking for it.

Love may be blind. But if there be two suitors and one is poor and the other wealthy, the girl never proposes far way toward the poor man - till after the ceremony; then it is a case of total loss of sight.

After a sixteen-year-old princess has had one experience at puppy love she imagines that the story of her life would struggle the world.

Nothing else ever looks so dirty as a dirty white collar.

The reason that a girl is so proud of a diamond because she doesn't realize that some day it will be parading but a trinket.

And we would all enjoy a funny story much more if the man who is telling it did not spit all over us when he laughs.

As soon as a man gets it into his head that the firm can't get along without him, he tries it and finds out that it can.

Every married woman knows that if she sent her husband for eggs that he would bring home every unborn chicken in the grocery store.

Beauty may be only skin deep. But it is the skirt that covers it.

When a girl tells you she need not spend your money on theatre tickets and candy for her, you might as well give up. She is telling you that the furniture man will fit you up a flat for.

When a man is caught stealing fruit, the other man stands around and won't let the thief get away with anything but while he was taking the chance. Cht. King.
