SCHOOL AND AGRICULTURAL FAIR STARTING OUT WELL IN SPITE OF WEATHER, DRAWS GOOD CROWD

And today is the Big Day, the opening day of the second annual Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair which is being held in the gymnasium of the public school in this city. Exhibits to the number of several hundred are already on display and more are being put up as rapidly as they enter. Indications at present are that they will be both greater in number and better in quality than last year when the first fair was held. At that time people marvelled that such products could be grown in this reputedly poor county where it has become the universal belief that nothing could be raised. Farmers in this county are certainly demonstrating the absolute falsehood of this belief.

The entire gymnasium is taken up with the hundreds of exhibits. The crowds are forced to wait their turn to enter the building. Not only is the agricultural department well represented with a display of products, but the school department has outdone itself with the number and variety of the displays. Practically every school in the county is represented with one or more exhibits, displays of classwork and penmanship vie with construction work and maps for attention. The school exhibits also are much larger and more complete than last year. They are also much better.

Considerable rivalry has developed among the schools of the county due to the offering of a loving cup to the school receiving the most points. The cup last year went to the Elizabethtown School. This year Elizabeth City is expected to be the champion, in order to repeat their win and other schools are equally determined that "They Shall Not Pass."

And the parade. Elaborate floats are being planned and, weather permitting the parade will be one of the outstanding features of the fair.

The educational contests are being held this afternoon and are attracting considerable attention.

Friday morning the athletic contests will be held at Jayne Field of the college. They are scheduled to begin at 9:00 o'clock.

A great deal of credit is due to Mrs. Lynn Messer Caudill and Mr. Chas. L. Goff, county superintendent and county agent for their work in planning and working out the details of the fair as well as in raising the money necessary to such an undertaking. Actually the credit and satisfaction will come from the success of the fair and it looks as if they would be satisfied.

ROWAN COUNTY COUPLE MARRIED ON OCTOBER 2

Miss Effie Hatt was united in marriage to Mr. Caleb Ratliff on Sunday evening October 2 at 8:30. Rev. Z. J. Tussey performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hatt while Mr. Ratliff is a son of Sant Ratliff. Both are residents of Rowan county.

MOREHEAD CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The Morehead Womens Club met on Monday night at the home of Mrs. John Howard Payne, with Mrs. D. D. Gammage, Mrs. R. Judd Mrs. J. W. Hogge and Mrs. Arthur Hogge as hostesses. Following the business session in which the work of the year was outlined, a musical program was enjoyed by the members. Several new members were voted in, including Miss who have moved to other cities. At the close of the program luncheon was served.

Dr. N. N. Marsh will be in Louisville, Ky. Friday and Saturday of this week attending the convention of the Kentucky Chiropractic Association.

Cozy Features Marion Davies

No less than four thousand of the Hollywood mob benefited directly through the filming of "Blondie of the Follies". This picture brings Marion Davies and Robert Montgomery to the Cozy Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

In this picture are scenes of the New York tenements, of Ziegfeld Follies, of lavish parties on Park Avenue and abroad a millionaire's yacht. There are glimpses of night life in the world's largest city. And to suggest all the places realistically it takes crowds.

"Blondie of the Follies" is the story of two New York working girls who gain popularity and luxury in the Broadway show world. It is the story of their friendship, their rivalry, their adventures and their heartaches. Frances Marlon, one of the screen's best writers the author of such hits as "Emma" and "The Big House," wrote the story and Anita Loos did the dialogue. Edmund Goulding, who won such praise with his handling of "Grand Hotel," directed the production.

Marion Davies and Billie Dove portray the two show girls. Robert Montgomery is a young man-about-town who learns about women from them.

Others in the cast are Jimmy Durante, James Gleason, ZaSu Pitts Sydney Toler, Douglas Dumbrille, Sarah Padden, Lonnie Carter, Clyde Cook and the Rocky Evans male dancing stars from the Paris Stage.

Circuit Court Has A Light Session

The October session of the Rowan Circuit Court opened Monday morning with Judge Henry R. Prewitt saying his instructions to the Grand Jury by giving an exhaustive discussion of the new laws passed by the 1932 session of the General Assembly. Judge Prewitt prefaced his remarks by explaining that his purpose in discussing the new laws was to give not only the Grand Jury but citizens as well an idea of the laws. Many people he said break the law knowingly adding that while ignorance is no excuse he wished to do his part to prevent that ignorance. He then launched into a discussion and explanation of the new statutes chapter by chapter.

Members of the Grand Jury for this term are:

- Petit Jury Number One: W. J. Fisher, Russell Waltz, James R. Porter, Fred Pullz, Sylvan McKinney, Gus Utterback, J. A. Amburgey, H. B. Conn, Heck McKenzie, Nick Brown, Isaac Reeves, Levi Eldridge.
- Petit Jury Number Two: Mr. McBrayer, Cliff Porter, Henry Cline, Elbert Johnson, W. T. McClain, Wheeler Brown, George Bocoock, H. G. Cooper, Frank Calvert, C. W. Foreman, A. N. Blair, Nath Workman, W. T. Richardson, W. B. Finley, Warren May, Tom Sparkman, Lewis Riddle, Arthur Templeman, Chas. Crawford, C. O. Leach.

Armstrong College First Foe Saturday

Twenty men from last year's squad are back, although it is very likely that not more than six of these will be in the starting lineup. The battle for berths on the team has been hard, and some of the upper-classmen will find themselves replaced by ambitious and better freshmen. Morehead is a member of the West Virginia Conference and under their rules, freshmen are eligible for varsity ball.

Fans of the Morehead eleven are looking forward to the greatest eleven the college has ever had. They may be, better that the squad of 1928, which dropped but two games, one to Marshall College, and the other to St. Xavier, when the Cincinnati school had its best team. The predictions for a good grid season are based on the showing of the new men, and the increased power and better spirit shown by the experienced men. More men are out for the squad than ever before. The three teams that Downing has been working every afternoon at Jayne field have run their signals with few hitches and plenty of pep.

The first real scrimmage for the Eagles was held last Saturday and the first eleven swarmed through the "B" team with a showing of precision, doing especially well on the square formation. They showed adeptness in tackling the line and the end, and fairly well with Maggard, veteran of the team, out of the lineup. Evans, the other end, and former flash of the Morehead High as halfback, displayed plenty of punch, and seems destined for a berth on the starting eleven.

The aerial game of the team, something they have not been so stary at in other seasons. Looked good in both dummy practice and scrimmage. Evans and Sparks have been hurling the apple and are doing an fair job of it. They will also do the kicking and have been getting distance from the boots.

Hofsteter and Sparks, who made letters here in 1931, but did not return to school last year, are back in the fold and have been a letter better than they did in their debut two years ago. Hofsteter, who hails from Chastroy, W. Va., is almost certain to do most of the line and power plays, and judging from his driving in practice, the opponents of the Eagles are sure to find plenty of trouble in handling the "Flying Dutchman."

Downing can congratulate himself that no serious injuries have occurred in the first two weeks of practice, except for a few bolts on Hofsteter's arm. He will likely get over those in time for the starting while Saturday. From all indications "Dewey" will place a team on the field that is in excellent shape to take Armstrong. The Eagles clashed with Alderson in 1928 and found them plenty tough, although the Downing machine triumphed. Reports from their camp this season indicate a strong team with which Morehead will have to contend Saturday.

Returning to the team this year are such veterans as: Evans, quarterback; Henry tackle; Mastindale, tackle; Pearl Comb, tackle; Paul Combs, halfback; Clayton, fullback; Coconaggar, guard; Redwine, guard; Maggard, end; Gayle, tackle; Bennett, end; Hackey, halfback; and Nikell, halfback. All have been fighting for a berth Saturday, but it is certain that some of them will not get into the game, unless the starting team rolls up an unexpected score over Armstrong.

Power Company Rejects Council Offer

The light situation in Morehead which remains as it has for the past six years with the rates unchanged, according to the latest reports. This statement was issued by Mr. Curtis manager of the Morehead Power and Light Company.

Mr. Curtis stated that the Kentucky Power and Light Company had instructed him to notify the City Council of Morehead that they had received and considered the proposed rate schedule submitted by the council at their last meeting, that they could not accept the proposal. He was also instructed to notify them that the company at the same time withdrew their own proposed new schedule offered in August to the council. The old rate, established when the franchise was sold will continue in effect, he said although at present the company's working out a plan-whereby there will be a general revision of the rates throughout the district. If this is done Morehead will be offered a new rate in proportion to that given other cities of similar size.

Vikings To Meet Grayson at Their Home

A lineup weakened by the absence of Peck Robinson, in the backfield and beset by a fighting underdog in the fighting Ramlers, Ramblers, were the main features of the first so-called upset of the Little Eight Conference last Friday, when the scrappy Ramlers who had been variously coped to drop the contest at any one from one to three touchdowns, turned up with a 0-0 tie as the net result of the two hours spent on the gridiron at Raceland. The final score mounted to a victory from the Raceland viewpoint.

Without alibing in the least and without detracting from the determination and credit with which the Raceland boys battled, the loss of Robinson who was out of the lineup with a broken bone in his hand sustained in the Paintsville game, together with the poor condition of Roy Turner who received considerable punishment in the same Paintsville game and who was kept out of the game until the half, undoubtedly weakened the team. It was incidentally the first game in the history of football at Morehead High in which Robinson took no part and which he did not start.

With the back field completely "organized" in the first half, Morehead went exactly opposite and Raceland did the same thing. Bidding threats to score were nipped in the bud and the punt route was resorted to to save the day. McNeil's team was over closer than 15 yards to their opponent's goal line throughout the session. The entire game was played in the center of the field and Raceland fans were enthusiastic over the results.

The big gun of the Raceland team was unquestionably Adkins, playing at fullback. Adkins accounted for the greater part of Raceland's gains by far.

During the last half of the game, Roy Turner went in and succeeded in tearing off several long runs. The necessary blocking and interference however failed to show up and he was stopped before getting into dangerous territory by the Ramlers.

Morehead's offense was the weakest ever displayed by the Vikings, a fact due undoubtedly to the necessity of playing three green backfield men throughout the game, men who were taken from the line for the day, or who although they had practiced a few times in that position had never taken part in a game.

Well that's over. All the Vikings have to do this week is meet Grayson at Grayson. The contest will take place on Friday afternoon and will be a mighty hot one. The Vikings are not to be underrated because of the Raceland tie. They will be a more fighting and they will be much stronger than last week. The game will be won and lost Friday, not today. Morehead fans are planning on being there to back the Vikings. They can win.

WOMEN OF COUNTY DEVOTE TIME TO MAKING CLOTHES FOR NEEDY UNDER DIRECTION OF RED CROSS

Judge Prewitt Speaks in Chapel

Judge Henry R. Prewitt, Circuit Judge of Rowan county delivered an address on Citizenship before the citizens of the Morehead State Teachers College at their chapel program on Wednesday morning. Judge Prewitt began by defining Citizenship as he understood it. He said that citizenship is the priceless gift given by the laws of our country. Listed among the gifts of citizenship he mentioned our free press and freedom of speech; our teachers and schools. He said citizenship starts with the child in the home; in the Sunday school; in the school. Training for citizenship is a training for hard work which must become a habit before great success is attained. Our great trouble is that we want success but are unwilling to work for it. Men who have no special experience or qualification think that things just happen but they never do. Think that success is a thing of chance but it is not.

The Rowan County Court room is a scene of industry at present, and the industry is not connected with the administration of justice. The court has moved and has been replaced by the force of charity and mercy in the persons of the ladies of the various communities of the county who are donating their services for the work of making clothes for the needy of the county. The work is being done under the supervision of the Red Cross. Ten thousand yards of cloth purchased and put into dresses, shirts and underwear for the needy of the county. The work of making up this vast yardage of cloth has been taken over by the women of the county, each community taking a turn at the work. The labor of the Red Cross garments began last Wednesday and already over four hundred garments have been cut. The cutting force works at the court house and the garments are sent to various homes where they are made up and returned. On Wednesday afternoon of this week, one hundred seven garments had been completed and returned. It is expected that several thousand will be finished before the work is completed.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Lucille Caudill entertained a number of friends at a social bridge Sunday night. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hurst, Mr. Waters, Mrs. Avenelle Badley, Miss Jess Allen Mr. Clarence Allen, Mr. A. Y. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Warwick, and Mr. Paul Little and Hubert Buckle of Lexington.

Garments being made up consist of dresses shirts slips and underwear suitable for the season. An effort is being made at present to make up garments needed for school children many of whom are unable to attend school because of lack of clothes. As these are taken care of the ladies will make clothing for other older children. It is planned to make clothing for children ranging from six to sixteen years of age.

Women from Haldeman and Morehead, from Farmers and Bluestone and from Hogtown and other sections of the county are helping to carry on the work of preparation for the winter. In fact the women are making extra efforts to do just a little more than their part in the work. Mrs. Joe Caudill and Miss Kegley are in charge of the supervision of the work.

Make Survey Of Rowan County

Mr. Henry E. Bullock, chairman of the State-Wide Welfare Committee, appointed President John Howard Payne as chairman of the Rowan County Welfare Committee to make a survey of the needs of the county from the standpoint of the unemployed and those who will be in distress during the coming winter. President Payne appointed Mr. A. H. Points of the Citizens Bank, and Mr. C. L. Goff, County Agent, to work with him on the committee.

Incidentally it might be well to state that the annual Red Cross Roll Call is now under way. The Red Cross authorities are demanding memberships before anyone is permitted to apply for aid. This is from the truth, as anyone who is actually in need may apply for Red Cross aid. All who can do so are being asked to take out memberships, but if they are unable to pay for membership it does not prevent help obtaining aid if they are deserving.

It was decided to make a survey of the county. A questionnaire was worked out and placed in the hands of a very reliable and substantial citizens in each of the fourteen precincts of the county. These citizens were asked to fill out the questionnaire by indicating the number of families in the precinct that would need part time support and the number of months during which they would need such support; also, the number of families that would need whole time support. These questionnaires were collected and it was found that there were more than a thousand families needing part time support. This number was multiplied by the average number of months during which they would need such support, and it was found that there were 145 "family months" on the part-time basis. It was also found that there were 1,480 "family months" on a whole-time basis. The total number of "family months" for all families needing help in the county was found to be 5628. When this number was multiplied by $10.00, which is an estimate of the help for each month, it was found that Rowan County has a need of $56,280.00 during the coming year.

ROWAN COUNTY CLUB HAS FLOWER SHOW

The Rowan County Womens Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. D. B. Caudill with Mrs. N. E. Kennard, Mrs. Jack Helwig, Mrs. E. Hogge Mrs. D. B. Caudill, Mrs. H. B. Under Frozen Skies

As he had guessed, it was a bad case of infection, but there was a chance of checking it as it had not progressed to the shoulder. Returning to his canoe, he took his medicine case from a bag, and had the man heat a kettle of water. Then he said: "This will give her pain. The wound is full of pus—poison. It must be cleaned out and washed with medicine. Does she understand it will hurt her?"

The old man smiled grimly. "Has she no been in pain for two weeks?" She says the little knife can be no worse."

So in the flickering light of the hearth, Stjuart opened the inflammation of hand, cleaned out the wound sterilized it with bicloride of mercury, and bound it up while the dawn, gray face of the old squaw wet with the sweat of agony, held to his stoic immobility.

They went outside to the fire, and the stiff features of the Ojibwa softened as he said: "The white man's medicine is strong. She will be well again."

"I do not know," replied Jim, considering the situation. He might pull the old woman out of her infection if he stayed and dressed the arm. But that meant the risk of showing them themselves to camps in the vicinity. And time was precious if they were to help Esau. Omar would never agree to it. But then, there was the brave old soul in the tin who had not so much as whimpered as he opened the wound, helpless without him. How could he leave her?"

Out of the murk Omar suddenly appeared at the fire.
"This is Omar, my friend," said Jim, as the two men exchanged handshakes and the customary "ho-jo's."
"You have not told me your name."
"The old man's face expanded in a chuckle. "My name 's Jinaw."

It was Ojibwa for rattlesnake and Omar's black eyes snapped as he said,

"You met them—ten of them—when they did not stop you!"

"My medicine was too strong for them. We left them lying on the trail, but they were not hurt."

For a long space Jinaw's screwed eyes scrutinized the frank countenance of the white man. Then he said quietly: "You have the face of one you should have killed them. They will never let you leave this lake alive."

Ignoring the cheerful prophecy, Omar broke into the conversation, which had been carried on entirely in Ojibwa. "Do all the people here believe in this wabeno, Jingwak?"

"No, but many of the young men do."

"Will the old men listen to us if we talk to them?"

"They will listen but Paradis will find you; with his young men and kill you."

Omar grimaced in Jinaw's grave face. "The medicine of this white man laughs at knif' and bullet. Ask Paradis what he did with his nine men." Then Omar's swart face hardened into a menacing mask. "The fangs of Jinaw seek the trader Paradis and th's Wabeno. They are also our enemies. Jinaw is old his son has left him, and he needs friends. We will be his friends."

The three filled their pipes and sat down by the fire, while Omar, now convinced that the old Indian was sincere, lost no time in planning to make use of him in their search for Esau. As an earnestness of their friendship, Omar brought from the canoe, flour sugar and tea and tobacco, none of which the old man had, and gave the sick squaw a dipper of stimulating tea, which she gratefully swallowed. Then, heartened by the good fortune which had led them to the tip of Jinaw, the Rattlesnake, they paddled a mile down the shore and hid the canoe and outfit as the young moon broke through the clouds above a lake crifted with shadows.

While the sky cleared and here and there, the mirror of the lake picked up the stars, one question harassed the thoughts of the two men who had been told by Jinaw that they had never need turn south up the racing Sturgeon: Where was Esau?

METHOD CLASSES ARE TO BE REORGANIZED

The Sunday School council of the Methodist Church met at the home of the pastor last Thursday night and decided on some interesting changes in the school organization. It was decided after much discussion of the Sunday school; An adult division which will assemble and do its class work up stairs and a children's division which will assemble and do its class work down stairs. The general superintendent of Sunday school, Mr. C. P. Duley, will have full charge of the whole Sunday school but will act as superintendent, also of the adult division. Miss Rebecca Thompson will be the new superintendent of the new children's division.

The adult division, taking in all over fourteen years of age will organize with several good classes already in operation. When complete, the plan is to have at least three new classes: a men's class; a young man's class and a class made up of high school. The adult Bible class, the senior high school group and the college sophomores, Juniors, and seniors have well organized classes. Good instructors are available for every class as soon as they can be organized in this division.

The children's division those fourteen years and under will assemble for organization in the basement of the church next Sunday. Miss Thompson and those who have classes in progress under fourteen will assist her in the organization. There are good teachers in charge of these classes.

Next Sunday night the group of intermediates who met last year in the basement of the church will please meet Miss Lucille Cooksey and some assistants to organize for their League work.

The Official Board meets this week on Thursday night at 7 P. M. at the church.

THOMPSON HALL IS USING THIRD FLOOR

For the first time in the history of the school, third floor rooms in Thompson Hall are being used during the fall semester in living quarters. One hundred seven men besides the Dean, Dr. Welter and Dr. Burton are living in the hall at the present time.

The guest room has been reconstructed and provided with new curtains, while the rest of the hall was cleaned thoroughly during the summer vacation.

The new dean, Dr. Gard, has proved himself already to be a very capable man for the position. The men in the hall are very much pleased with him and they are looking forward to a pleasant term.

Thursday night, September 22, the first house meeting of the year was held and the same responded almost unanimously. Rules and regulations were designed so as to give the greatest benefit to the greatest number of students. The rules were presented in written form and a copy given to each one present. Dean Gard requested that each man keep his copy so that he may refer to it when in doubt.

Some of the changes from last year are that there will be no room inspection by a nurse, that no sweet shops will be permitted to operate, that no adios will be allowed in private rooms, and that the closing hour for the outside doors has been changed from 10:30 to 11:00 o'clock. Dean Gard announced that there would be no student council this fall.

The Dean says that he is very much pleased with the attitude of the men and with their willingness to cooperate, since this makes his stay a pleasant one.

NEW DRAPES TO BE HUNG IN AUDITORIUM

In a few days the college auditorium windows will be dressed in fine velvet draperies. These draperies are the result of a two day shopping tour of Cincinnati by Dr. Black and Hollis. The draperies will be of deep blue with gold trimming, made to match the stage curtain now in use. They will put an end to a long felt need here. In the course of a semester many convocation programs are given which require artificial light. In former years, in order to obtain this effect it was necessary to spend several hours in tacking heavy paper over the windows. After the hanging of these draperies, the auditorium can be darkened in a few seconds.

While in Cincinnati, the two shoppers inquired as to the cost and operating expense of talking picture equipment. The auditorium could easily be adapted for talking pictures and they would constitute a great improvement for this college. While no definite plans were formulated it is highly probable that the proper equipment will be purchased during the fall months.

Better Breakfast

The size of a meal is no more the measure of its importance than is the size of a man. It's what the man and the meal accomplish that count. Take breakfast, for instance. It's probably the smallest meal of the day, but in some ways it's the most important. It has to keep the family going until noon and the morning is the big part of the day, whether one spends it at school, in an office or shop, or attending to household tasks.

PEP RALLY FRIDAY — BEAT ARMSTRONG

The opening pep rally, attending to the progress of the Morehead College Eagles, will be held at the regular convocation hour Friday. Yell leaders were elected by the student body yesterday and they will be on hand Friday to stand the students on their heads with school spirit before the opening of the football season against Armstrong College.

Both new and old yells and songs will be given the student body Friday. The real opportunity to try them out, however, will be at Jayce Memorial Stadium Saturday.

MAY ASK REGIONAL TOURNEY HERE AGAIN

The question has been raised whether the Morehead State Teachers College will make a bid for the Regional Basketball Tournament this year. We are told that it is entirely probable that the college will be an applicant for the meet next spring.

Morehead had the tournament in 1930 and 1931, and it was held with marked success. Last spring the college did not ask for the tournament and it went back to Ashland.

It is generally conceded that if Morehead puts in a claim for the Regional that it will come here, judging from the overwhelming vote the college received the two times they bid for the tourney.

LIGHT QUESTION

rather than the established minimum of $1.20. According to reports this appears to have been one of the chief obstacles in the way of acceptance. The representatives of the company stated that they could not afford to set a precedent by lowering the minimum rate established.

At any rate, the light power and heat situation is back where it was last spring and where it has been for the past six years. Citizens of Morehead will continue to pay rates that are admittedly too high.

The next move is up to the city council. A number of plans have been discussed although no conclusion has been reached as yet. Chief among them, of course are the proposal to vote the erection of a municipal plant. Another is the purchase of current at wholesale on a plan similar to that used in Olive Hill by which the city retails the current to the consumer without the expense of maintaining and operating a plant plan which has worked out satisfactorily for that city.

The council takes the attitude that the Kentucky Light and Power Company has already broken the franchise by failure to operate the local plant at all times. They say that this failure on the part of the company to operate the local plant automatically cancels the franchise and that at present the Kentucky Power and Light Company is operating without a local franchise. On the other hand, the company maintains that they have not broken their contract, but were willing in order to avoid conflict to grant a "reasonable" reduction because they felt the local users were entitled to it and to avoid court proceedings which are always expensive. They pointed out that at times, owing to the low water supply it would have been impossible to operate the local plant. The council maintained that they had never guaranteed the water supply to be sufficient and that that was one of the problems of the power company. They point out that a similar case with regard to water supply arose two years ago between a Kentucky city and a water company, and the company was ordered to supply the needed water.

The council seems to have met on Tuesday night of this week with representatives of the Kentucky Power and Light Company, but since they had already received notice of the action of the company the meeting was not held.
