

GRAND JURY OF OCTOBER TERM MAKES REPORT

Hon. H. R. Prewitt, Circuit Judge.

Your Grand-jury for final report for the present October 1932 term of the court says:

We have been in session for seven days and have reported to the open court 72 indictments for the violation of the law that have happened within the county.

We have caused to be brought before us witnesses from every section of the county and have endeavored to report true bills when the evidence justified.

The moral status of the county is good saving a few instances in which crimes have been committed, but that these reports have been taken in hand and trial given.

We have examined the public buildings and public offices and find them in good condition, saving certain improvements about the court house.

Certain parts of the roofing of the court house are in need of repair. Some of the windows are in need of glass, and the toilet rooms are not in good condition, that, they are not adequately equipped. This should be done.

We have considered the school condition of the county in so far as we have been able, in connection with which we have a brief memorandum from the County Superintendent as to her work. It is reported to us that the Superintendent has made all reports to the State Board of Education, and that these reports have been approved. That at the beginning of the Fiscal Year there was on hand with the Treasurer the sum of $2,114.15, which is a good beginning. The attendance has exceeded that of past years, and much has been done by way of school affairs and the like to encourage both parents and children in understanding the importance of sending their children to school. An appropriation was made by the fiscal court in the sum of $200 for books for children whose parents could not provide them, and this money has been used to this end. The Red Cross is contributing its help and clothing that the children might be comfortably clothed for school. We are unable to make any particular recommendation to what will aid the county in the coming school year, except that when the time comes to elect a county superintendent the salary be fixed at a sum not to exceed $1200.00 per year.

We have not had time and have been unable to get into the general fiscal management of the county. We find claims for gas for the fiscal year use have been paid by the fiscal court. We do not feel this is the correct thing to do. In fact there seems a general laxity upon the part of the Fiscal Court in handling the finances of the county. Claims have been paid between the meetings of the Fiscal Court and vouchers ordered by the County Judge. It is difficult to understand why an emergency of this exists when the ordinary affairs of the county, and the meetings of the Fiscal Court are frequent enough to consider the correctness of these bills and order payment. We are not at all satisfied with the manner of

Aren't We All To Be At Cozy

When a young bride eavesdrops on her husband and catches him in a night club, am that much gaily, kissing a strange girl—then it's just too bad!

Especially if she is a clever wife who knows how to retaliate in kind, as Gertrude Lawrence does in "Aren't We All?" the feature picture coming to the Cozy Theatre on Friday and Saturday next.

But it proved to be a lot of fun for everyone else. The one marrying item in the wife's program of getting back her hubby—was that she too had transgressed—mildly. Her father-in-law knows about it and he keeps her in a continuous "stew" over it. But the old gentleman is discovered to be a pretty gay person himself, and as the title of this picture suggests, "Aren't We All?"

Miss Lawrence is one of the favorites of the British and American stages. She made her first appearance on Broadway in "Cherry Blush." She is supported by a cast of stage and movie celebrities, including Hugh Wakefield, Owen Nares, Emily Fitzroy and Harold Hunt.

Rowan Circuit Court Closes Light Term

The October term of the Rowan Circuit Court, was brought to a close Tuesday afternoon after one of the shortest sessions in point of days it has ever held. While this is true so far as time is concerned, it can hardly be said to hold true on convictions. Nine were given sentences in the state penitentiary and have already been taken to Frankfort to begin their terms.

The outstanding cases tried this term were those of the Commonwealth against Melvin McKinney for robbery and against Arthur Moore for the killing of his father, Lora Moore.

McKinney who was tried on Friday of last week pleaded guilty on three counts, under an agreement whereby he was given five years on each of the three counts, a total of fifteen years. Four other charges against him were filed away.

Friday night the jail was closely guarded and Saturday morning McKinney was hurried to Frankfort. The following is a list of the cases tried at this term together with the verdicts returned:

Bill Carpenter. Breaking into a storehouse. Two years.

James Taylor. Breaking into a storehouse. Two years.

Arthur Moore. Voluntary manslaughter. Two years.

Walter Little. Seduction under promise of marriage. One year.

Norman Brown. Horse stealing. Two years.

Otis Reynolds. Detaining female. One year.

Charles Rose. False swearing. One year.

Charles Fraley. Grand Larceny. One year.

James Crisp. Grand Larceny. To perform school until 21 year of age. Sentence suspended on promise to leave the state.

Mag Collins. Maintaining a Common nuisance. $25.00 and $500.00 peace bond.

W. E. Proctor. Common nuisance $10.00 and costs. Ordered to abate the nuisance.

Charles Caudill. Liquor. $100.00 and 30 days. Appeal bond made to appeal to Court of Appeals on grounds of faulty search warrant.

Jas. Carpenter charged with receiving stolen property from Melvin McKinney found not guilty on peremptory instructions from Judge Prewitt. Insufficient evidence.

Woodrow Elam. charged with drunkenness transferred to Juvenile court.

Morehead Baptists To Hold Revival

Sunday night, October 23, Evangelist J. W. Hickerson and Mrs. Hickerson of Texas will begin a two weeks meeting at the Morehead Baptist Church.

A letter from Mr. Hickerson was received by the pastor of the local Baptist church, Buell H. Kasez in which the date was confirmed by the Evangelist. Mr. Hickerson is now in Oklahoma. He hopes to be here on Sunday night Oct. 23, but stated that if the interest in his present meeting demanded he would stay on through Sunday night, coming here Tuesday night. In case he should do this, Mr. Kasez will preach Sunday and Monday nights and the evangelist will take up the services Tuesday night. The plan is to continue through Sunday, November 6.

More than two years ago an attempt was made by the Baptist Church here to secure the services of Mr. and Mrs. Hickerson, but the time was taken for so long in advance that it was impossible to make the arrangement at that time. The church feels, according to Mr. Kasez fortunate in having them at this time. Mrs. Hickerson has been working with her husband for years in the evangelistic field, and is a great personal worker. Several years ago the pastor, Mr. Kasez led the singing in one of the Hickerson meetings back in the Big Sandy Valley. At that time the evangelist was working on the staff of the Southern Baptist Home Board. His services in his field of labor has been outstanding for many years.

In his letter he says: "We are happy at the thought of coming to you, marching for the schools in the parade, many of them shivering with cold and without a cent with which to buy even a sandwich at noon. It was a condition that judging from the expressions heard repeatedly, had not been thought of, and one that will not occur again in this county as plans are already under way to take care of at least the eating part of the program and to insure every school child of a bowl hot soup and bread.

The entire public is cordially invited to this meeting.

Judge Henry R. Prewitt, while not ready as yet to make his official announcement, stated to a News representative and a number of his close friends that he is a candidate for reelection to the office of Circuit Judge and will be on the ballot next summer. The statement was made in answer to a direct question.

Friends of Judge Prewitt will like to learn that he has again determined, to become a candidate to succeed himself as Circuit Judge.

Two months and his death was not unexpected.

Dr. Brown has been a practicing physician since 1896 when he graduated from the Eclectic School of Medicine in Cincinnati. In 1898 he took a graduate course in St. Louis public school in Louisville in 1900. He also graduated from the Homeopathic School in Louisville in 1900.

Burial was made in the family cemetery at Ordinary following the funeral service at the home, conducted by Rev. Chas. Vansant. Burial services were in charge of the Masonic Lodge of Sandy Hook, of which Dr. Brown had been a member for over 44 years.

In addition to his immediate family, he is survived by two brothers, W. W. Brown of Dewport Ky., and T. B. Brown of Elliottville. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Jess Pennhryn of River-side, Cal. An uncle, C. P. Carter of Columbus, O. attended the funeral.

Active pallbearers were: L. H. Fraley, Ed Rice; John Dehart; P. L. Foster; John Kegley; John L. Orisp; John Gray; Walter Vansant.

ENTERTAIN FACULTY OF COLLEGE AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Payne entertained members of the faculty of the Morehead State Teachers College on Thursday night of last week at their home from 5:30 to 6:30 p. m. Places were laid for seventy-seven. Mrs. Payne and Miss Anna Carter. The home was beautifully decorated with out flowers and pink candles which the tables were laid with lace cloths and silver.

Second Annual Fair Is Success

In spite of the cold weather which prevailed during the entire two days last week the Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair was a complete success both from the viewpoint of the attendance and from the number and variety of the exhibits. Wednesday afternoon the exhibits began to appear and the whole of Thursday morning was occupied in marking and placing and judging the fine displays.

Probably the most impressive part of the fair was the long and exceptionally good parade of the school children of the various schools of county. Many of the schools even from distances and over bad and muddy roads were represented 100 persons in the parade, notably the Cranston School and the Hoptown Consolidated School.

One feature of the parade brought close to home the present financial depression, and caused a determination that such a condition will never again be found in Rowan county. It was probably the only unsatisfactory feature of the entire two days and was certainly no fault of the fair management. That was the number of finely clad, barefooted boys and girls, marching for their schools in the parade, many of them shivering with cold and without a cent with which to buy even a sandwich at noon. It was a condition that judging from the expressions heard repeatedly, had not been thought of, and one that will not occur again in this county as plans are already under way to take care of at least the eating part of the program and to insure every school child of a bowl hot soup and bread.

Eagles Grab First Season Go 12 To 0

The Morehead Eagles came thru their first test of the 1932 football season last Saturday afternoon without losing a feather, when they defeated Armstrong College of Alderson, W. Va. by a 12 to 0 score. The game gave Coach Downing of the Eagles, as well as the fans their first impression of the probable strength of the Eagles when the team gets under full steam ahead.

Downing tried several combinations in the first half which ended with neither team showing a touchdown punch and the score 0 to 0. The second half ended with the team same as the half ended. The closest missed a field goal by a matter of inches.

In the third period Morehead blocked a punt on the 20 yard line. Clayton carried the ball to the one yard line and Sheridan took it over for the first marker of the game.

The second touchdown came in the same period when Ryans ran fifty yard to score. However he was called back on the ruling that he had stepped out of bounds. Ryan however was not to be cheated out of any time. Clayton carried the ball to the one yard line and Sheridan took it over for the first marker of the game.

The Eagles showed definitely that there are some mighty good men out for football honors at Morehead and that they may be heard from before the close of the season. Among those who have been spoken of particularly among the fans are Claude Clayton, Ryans, Marshall, Henry and June Evans.

VIKINGS FIRST WIN OF SEASON TAKES GRAYSON

They broke the ice, those Vikings, and like the good seaman of old, when they once started to navigate, they navigated—and how!

The Vikings promptly decided to make the decision unanimous for Morehead by coming up from the rear end of a 7 to 0 score against the Grayson Yellowjackets after the Yellowjackets had cashed in on a fumble behind the Viking goal to take the lead in the 10th minute of the game. The Vikings held to get started until the second half when they did run the ball to within two yards of the goal line, only to fumble it on another fumble.

The first half saw Roger McKinney get his baptism of fire at center and it saw him settle down to the old fight and play the game to a finish before it was over. The regular center Herb Shungahy Elam was out but after McKinney found out what it was all about he went good.

The natural nervousness of the center contributed largely to Grayson's lone marker. After that they were on the defensive throughout the entire contest. On the other hand outside of that fatal first few minutes the Vikings were never in serious danger.

Probably the outstanding feature of the game was the consistent team work displayed by the Kings. It is safe to say that there were no stars but a team that was in there fighting to win. Which is what made it a good game and an interesting one.

Every man on the team deserves credit for the first Little Eight Conference win of the season. Every lineman had as big a part in the reason we are not mentioning individuals. Which is also the reason we believe the Vikings will develop into a real threat before the season is over.

The Vikings clearly outplayed the Yellowjackets after the first five minutes of the game but in the first half lacked apparently the scoring punch that puts the touchdown over that wins games. In one instance just at the close of the first quarter as has been said, they took the ball to the two yard line only to lose it on a fumble and ten yards as well.

The Kings began to find themselves in the second half and were never in danger.

One of the criticisms under which they have been laboring all season has been the fact that a different line up has started in each game, due to injuries and ineligibility and so on. The result has been that green men have weakened the team. In fact outside of the Paintsville game the Kings have never been able to put their full strength on the field at any time. An advantage to learn later, as it has given Coach Holbrook a chance to develop green men who might otherwise never have received an opportunity to gain experience and to develop reserve strength. So that it is possible that these early season trials and tribulations may in the end prove to be best thing for the Kings.

Be that as it may, the Kings came back in the second half with blood in their eye and began to do things. Grayson received and attempted a forward pass which was intercepted

Jailers Record Is Exonerated

Sandford Bowling jailer of Rowan county, who has been under fire for several months, and whose record was ordered investigated by the Grand Jury, in connection with an accusation of assisting in the jail delivery last June, was completely exonerated by Judge Prewitt who instructed the Grand Jury to drop their investigation and to clear Mr. Bowling of all blame in the matter.

Judge Prewitt stated that he had learned definitely that the criticisms he had heard on Mr. Bowling's action had undoubtedly come from sources intended to prejudice and that his present information was such as to leave no doubt in his mind as to Mr. Bowling's innocence of the accusations.

The ROWAN COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

The climax of the Rowan County School activities for the year 1932-1933 was reached when 6900 children and parents assembled on the public school ground last Thursday morning.

Twenty-five hundred children fell in line along the side of the gymnasium with floats, banners, songs and yells waiting for the band from the Training School to lead the parade. Circuit Court adjourned the session and a big crowd stood in front of the courthouse as each school passed by the judges and gave its school songs and yell. Each individual school made its own display. In the afternoon the big exhibition was open for the viewing of exhibits while the children entered the scholarship events. The winners of these events were:

Under Frozen Skies

As the night deepened and the moon dipped toward the black tresses of the spruce ridge flanking the western shore, its beams touched two blurred shapes stretched in an open space beside a stony beach. Far out on the lake drifted from the shadows. Then for a long space, forest and lake slumbered, until at last on the heavy silence of the timbered shore broke the deep toned "who-hoo-hoo, who-hoo-hoo" of the horned owl. But the shapes 'a the blankets lay like dead men.

Again the hush of the camp returned to the forest, while the moon rode from sight behind a drift of cloud, and muffled figures on the shore. For a time the patrols of the forest night gave no voice, then the hunting call of the fathered assassin of the shadows again marred the deep peace. But the shaggy sentinel no longer kept guard beside his sleeping master. The sinister sound was unheard. The blanketed heaps did not stir.

Time passed and the moon broke from its curtain of cloud to light the lake shore and touch the wrapped shapes near the hidden canoe. Then close by like the stealthy movement of was repeated. Again silence, white feet, rounded a faint rustle. For a long space, silence; and the sound the night grew louder; until with the noiselessness of a snake, something left the packed groups of the scrub and writhed into the moonlight.

Near the two still shapes now lay a third. Again a movement in the black murk of the brush, the swift progress of a dark body, and where two had lain now lay four. Heavy with silence the forest Then a moonbeam touched bright slumbered on.

metal in the lifted hands of two kneeling men as they struck at the huddled figures on the ground—struck again. But their knife hands did not lift for the third blow at the sleeping men, for, like rush of stalking wolves, the impact of two heavy bodies ground their faces into the soil, as the skinning knives of Omar Boivert and Jim Stuart drove deep into their backs.

Leaving the tricked henchmen of Paradise stiffening beside the blanket on heaps which the men from Sunset House had cunningly arranged to simulate the shapes of sleeping men, Jim and Omar listened in the murk of the shore willows for the sound of muffled paddles or men moving in the forest in the rear of the camp. "I tote you de trick would work," Omar breathed into the ear of his chief "Jinaw, he fool me, but I have fear ju' de same. He totem dem we go lit piece down de lak' to sleep."

"Old J'now! To think he would betray us!" murmured Jim bitter with the thought of the treachery of the Indian he had befriended. "Dey see us de lak' de lak' w'ile we talk to de Rattlesnake at de fire. Hees fangs wup sp' no more poison. Omaw sweek hees throat."

"And his squaw—poor old soul!" "Ah-hah! She sees the mother of wan of dese who come to keel us in our sleep, mebbe. You sorry for her?" "Yes, I am sorry for her. She was so game when I hurt her. I believe I could have saved her. Now she'll die if you put Jinaw out of the way."

The steel bar fingers of Omar closed on Jim's arm as the straining caw of the two waited for the repetition of a sound back in the forest. "Rabb!!" growled Omar as the familiar thumping of the hind feet of a buck snowshoe was repeated.

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pain in my side," writes Mrs. Nicky Barranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous, I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad that for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." MORE LIGHT for more hours of Darkness

Most of our customers use more electricity for lighting homes, stores, shops and offices in the fall and winter months than they use in the spring and summer months.

This is because there are many more dark hours in fall and winter days than in summer days. Thus, if a customer uses a 60-watt lamp from dusk until 10 p. m. every evening throughout the year, the lamp will be lighted a total of 38 hours in June and 204 hours in December.

At an operating cost of three-fifths of one cent an hour, the lamp would consume 22 4/5 cents worth of electricity in June and $1.23 worth in December.

Also, in many homes, school children study five evenings a week during winter months, which increases the use of electricity in those homes.

And in December—because it contains the shortest days in the year and the holiday season—there is a greater use of electricity than in other months.

We trust you will consider these facts when you compare your summer and winter light bills. But if you feel that any bill is too high, please take it up with our local manager. An investigation may show how and where the electricity charged for is being used, and how waste can be avoided.

GRAND JURY REPORTS

handling the county's money, and the County Attorney should be permitted to examine into all bills that are presented whether in session or if the voucher should be issued by the county judge, which act upon the part of the county judge we can not approve. In other words, the tax collected from the people should be handled with the best of care, and there should be no misplacement of reckless handling of this money.

We have observed something of the Red Cross work and its value to those in dire need; these workers and those interested deserve our commendation and praise for the generous way in which they are trying to help those who are in need.

We have had a great deal of observation of the work of the sheriff's office; their active and zealous efforts to do their full duty should be gratifying to every citizen of the county. They are of high-class men, courageous in doing their duty in a lawful and satisfactory way. The County Clerk's office is splendidly kept; Mr. John Butcher, the clerk, is measuring up to the full obligation of his duties.

We have observed much work of the Circuit Court Clerk, Mr. Chas. E. Jennings, who is an efficient and capable official.

Our general investigation on has enabled us to appreciate something of the manner in which Judge H. R. Prewitt and W. C. Hamilton are administering the laws in cases that come before them. This work is gratifying to us, and we recommend the court and these officers for the manner in which court matters are being handled. We commend the court for the straightforwardness, frankness, and fairness with which he presides in civil and criminal cases. A safe guard of this character has much to do in personal safety and property security.

The Chief Police of the city of Morehead has been cooperating with the sheriff's force in the county and deserves the approval of the citizenry of the city and the county.

We are daily reminded and see every time we go upon the public thoroughfares of the county the fruit of the effort, and interest of Judge Allie W. Young, without which these improved roads would not have been possible. The citizenship of Rowan County and this section of the state owe to Judge Young a debt of gratitude for this extraordinary service.

It may also be said that it was through his agency and effort that the Morehead State Teachers College was brought to Morehead, which aside from its material benefits to the city of Morehead will be a source of mental and physical development, spiritual and moral help to eastern Kentucky.

Our attention has been called to the fact that the City of Morehead has not up to his date published its financial statement, as the law requires; unless this is done, we recommend that those in default be dealt with in the manner the law requires at the next regular term of this court, which carries with it a very severe penalty.

All of which is respectfully submitted, October 11, 1932.

C. O. Leach Foreman.

VIKINGS WIN

by Tatum who went over for a touchdown only to be called back when a 15 yard penalty was handed to Grayson. Since the referee had blown his whistle for the penalty, the ball was declared dead and Grayson lost 15 yards—the Kings losing a touchdown.

The decision proved to be the necessary spark to put the fire into the Kings and within three minutes they had smashed and run the ball over for the first counter and made the extra point to tie the score. And that was the beginning of the end.

The second came in much the same way, line plunges end runs and forward passes add at last a forward lateral Honaker to Turner and the game was won 13-7.

As the final whistle blew the Kings were on the three yard line ready to go over for the third marker of the game.

Out of the males Russell Barber sustained a dislocated elbow which will keep him out of the Greenup encounter to be played here Friday afternoon. Greenup went down before the onslaught of Edgar McNabb's Raceland Ramblers last Friday.

And once more Russell tops the Little Eight Conference with two wins and no defeats followed by Morehead and Raceland tied for second with one win and a tie each. Russell topped the week's bill with a 46 to 0 win over Olive Hill and had previously defeated Cannonsburg.

It begins to look again as if the championship of the Little Eight might lie between Russell and Morehead.
