TP We call the attention of our readers to the advertisements of Mr. James Pierce to the advertisements of Mr. James Pierce, whose very handsome assortment of Queensware, Glassware, Lamps &c. has received recent large additions, making it still more attractive. There is no article in which the skill of the manufacturer—aided by the discoveries of science—nas been more deviated to the still of the manufacturer of the discoveries of science—nas been more deviated to propagate for some years and cidedly progressive for some years past than in Queensware, as a very cursory ex-amination ofthe improved products of their industry will abundantly demonstrate.— The greater toughness and weight given to the table-ware of the present day, by reason of the increased pressure applied to the material, have added greatly to its value, while it would seem impossible to make it more

The very general use of lamps, has brought into requisition the ingenuity neces-sary to make even common lard, the source of purer light than the once world renowned sperm oil. Mr. Pierce, has a variety of lamps whose "solar" brilliancy when lighted, does indeed make day of night so far as light is required. We advise all who wan any of the articles in Mr. P's line, to give him a call, it is all he asks to ensure a sale

Heroic Works.—A late London paper says:—In last October two ressels were vecked off Fishguard; three men were seen clinique to the rigging, but the sea was so rough that the hardy scamen of the port refused to renture out with their boats—Two young women named Llewellyn, were more daring. Having had ropes attached to them, they entered the surf, and succeeded in conveying a rope to the wreeks, by means of which the sailors were got ashore. Both the committee of Lloyd's and the Humane Society have contributed to a collection for the heroic women, who are in very humble circumstances.

According to the report of the se According to the report of the second au-ditor, the number of white males in Ken-tucky over the age of 21 years, for the year 1846, was 137,004. Of this number there-were probably 5,000 not entitled to vote, leaving 132,004 as the actual number of vo-ters in the State for last year. We think the number of persons entitled to vote this year may be set down at 135,000, upwards of 67,000 of whom must vote for a conven-tion to carry the question.—Frank. Yeo.

At Boston, on the late national anniversa-ry, Anny Fossoy preached a fourth of July oration of two days' length from her cham-her window—commencing on Sunday and getting through on Monday night. The Mail says'she preached enough during the two days from her window to wear out the lungs of a lion and make an elephant hoarse. Her physical powers are tremendous, and her love of freedom of speech stronger than death."
