KINGS, DROP LITTLE EIGHT TITLE AND GAME TO RUSSELL DEVILS IN HECTIC ENCOUNTER SATURDAY

Twenty-seven to zero. And the Red Devils of Russell are still doing their Devil Dance at the head of the Little Eight procession. A horde of Red and Vikings under the command of their captain, the past three years the hopes and aspirations of the Vikings; to usurp the throne. Judging by the substitutions Coach Blicke was able to make Saturday without apparently weakening his lineup, it might almost be called a "man-a-minute" team. On the other hand, the Red Devils, who played the game practically as they started, with each weary warrior giving everything he had to stop the Devils and start the drive.

And in spite of the one-sided score the game was anything but one-sided. As a matter of fact Russell, even with a three touchdown lead was on the anxious seat the greater part of the game. Four times the Kings drove, and passed the ball almost the entire length of the field gaining in all over 200 yards, and making 12 first downs without crossing the goal line. Three times the Kings were away for touchdowns only to step into the safety man and away from their own interference. On one occasion Earl Caskey, carried a long pass with a clear field stumbled and fell on the ten yard line, and away went that touchdown.

These are facts not alibis. They are facts. They are not made for the purpose of belittling Russell who Saturday had the best team on the field and who won a clean cut victory deservedly. They have undoubtedly the best team in the Conference, largely because they fortunately have a world of reserves that enable them to maintain a full team on the field at all times. The result is that schools like Morehead, Grayson, Olive Hill, and Eastland, as well as Greenup and Cannonsburg are simply playing out of their class when they attempt to cope with this reserve. Any one of the schools might manage a first string of eleven men with a few fair substitutes, but year after year it will be the same story, because none of these other schools can ever hope to draw as many boys as a railroad center like Russell.

Russell crew all the breaks from the start of the game getting the choice of goal with the strong wind lending them every advantage. Turner returned their kickoff from behind the goal to the 22 yard line and the Kings threw a scare into Russell by making two straight first downs through their line. Five more yards were made and Turner punted but the strong wind made it not so good. Russell took it on the fifty yard line and carried it back 25 yards and Russell took it over for their first marker. The Kings were on the defensive for the first quarter and allowed Russell a second touchdown.

In the second quarter with the advantage of the wind they threatened twice only to have the breaks go against them when a break would

HIGH SCHOOL CARNIVAL ON MONDAY NIGHT

The Halloween party and carnival given by the Morehead High School was held in the gymnasium Monday night. The party was a delightful affair. The gymnasium was appropriately decorated in Halloween style with corn shocks, witches, and orange and black paper. As the guests were admitted they were conducted through the House of Horror. When all the guests were assembled, the Grand Parade and the awarding of prizes was held. Pauline Butcher and John Maxey won the prizes for the best looking costumes and Arph Cassidy and Jessie Markwell for the tackiest costumes.

Following the grand parade, a large banquet was given. The Mr. Charles Clark ... Greetings from guests then enjoyed themselves playing bingo, winning the fortune teller, the freak show, and trying their luck at the fish pond. From 9:30 to 10:30 dancing was enjoyed with music furnished by the town orchestra.

Cozy Features Good Pictures

"Crazy people, Crazy people, Crazy people like me go crazy over people like you."

That's just exactly what will happen over the cozy features of the four craziest people on earth, the Marx Brothers, in their rollicking hilarious, mirth-making comedy to be released at the Cozy Theatre, Friday and Saturday, November 5 and 6.

The picture, "Horsefeathers" is another one of those side-splitting insane farces that will entertain you as no other picture ever did, that will entertain you as only the four Marx Brothers can entertain. Students, if you want to know how to live your college life to the fullest extent, get the pointers of this picture. Imagine, if you can, Groucho Marx, the wittiest man in America, as a college president. Imagine, if you can, Chico and Harpo as football players, making touchdowns as the old Roman did—in an improvised chariot. If you can't imagine this, and you can't, then see this major attraction at the Cozy, Friday and Saturday.

On Monday and Tuesday, November 7 and 8 you may see "Left Over Ladies" written by that modern author, Ursula Parrot, who gained fame with her "Ex-Wife" and "Strange May Kits." This picture is superbly acted by Claudia Dell, Walter Byron and Marjorie Ransome.

Other attractions coming to the Cozy soon are "Love Me Tonight" starring Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald, "Grand Hotel" and that unique mystery of a football player who is murdered while playing a game in "Seventy Thousand Witnesses."

NOLA JAYNE HAS HALLOWEEN PARTY

A delightful Halloween party was held at the home of Miss Nola Jayne Friday night with Misses Gady Evans, Novel Haney and Nola Jayne as hostesses. The guests were taken thru the back of the house, stumbling over springs and other obstacles in the dark and skidding down a long slide before they finally arrived at the party.

Halloween games were played and singing was a part of the amusement. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes. Guest fortunes were read by means of a candle. Refreshments were served.

E. K. E. A. Banquet On November 11

The annual E. K. E. A. Morehead banquet will be held Friday night, November 11, at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room of the Henry Clay Hotel, Ashland, Kentucky.

This banquet is an annual get-together of Moreheadians, former Moreheadians, and friends. The arrangements are under the supervision of Miss Exer Robinson, who promises a very fine dinner and program.

Tickets for the banquet may be procured for 75c at either the Methodist Church, where the general meetings are held, or the Henry Clay Hotel.

The program committee headed by Professor Neville Fincel has prepared the following program to be given at the banquet:

President John Howard Payne "General School Situation at Morehead"

Mrs. Marshall Hurst ... Greetings from Alumni

Mr. Charles Clark ... Greetings from Morehead Students

Miss Quirt ... Metrus Horton, Fair, George, Lapping.

Piano Solo ... Miss Dorothy Briggs

One Act Play, "Food" by C. M. deMille ... Miss Milton, Mr. Lloyd and Mr. Fingel.

Baptist Revival Attracts Big Crowds

The revival services being conducted at the Morehead Baptist Church are making great progress. Large crowds are attending every service at night and the day services are steadily increasing. The meeting is now in its second week and the prospects for great spiritual results are everywhere in evidence. Rev. Hickerson, the evangelist, and Mrs. Hickerson, leader of Booster Bands, are preaching and leading with intensive effort toward breaking the spiritual depression which many people in Morehead have felt for many months. Brother Hickerson is careful in citing the Word of God to underline his every statement and his clear presentation of truth is apparently very convincing. Judging from the interest manifest by every service.

Already there have been eight occasions to the church, four coming by letter from other churches outside of Morehead, and four by baptism. Among those by letter of Katharine Harris, Verona, Kentucky, Chas. L. Goff with membership at Danville, Mrs. Mrs. Guy Woods, whose membership has been in West Virginia. Those so far who have come for baptism are, Chas. L. Goff, Chas. H. Tackett, Paul and Emerson Wheeler. Others who have confessed faith in Christ and will likely unite with the Church soon. The entire church has felt the wave of revival and is working with earnestness in behalf of the unsaved in this community.

Services will continue night and day thru Sunday night, with the exception of Saturday on which day there will be only night service and no day service. Members of other churches in town have attended liberally and it is hoped they will continue to do so and thereby make the entire public joyously converted.

Eagles Defeat Louisville University 20-0

Fifteen hundred spectators, composed mainly of University of Louisville students and old grads, saw a spirited stubborn Falls City eleven fight off the attack of a determined bunch of youngsters from Morehead State Teachers College, for almost three quarters before they finally succumbed to the superior eleven by a 20-0 score.

For nearly three fourths of the game the Louisville lads successfully met every thrust of the opposing team with another thrust, before the Morehead Flying Eagles took to the air in reality and with the aid of the accurate passing of Combs garnished three touchdowns to win the game.

Late in the third quarter, Coach Dewey Downing sent Paul Combs in and started his passing attack. In a few minutes, June Evans, stellar end of the Eagles, matched a twenty-five yard pass out of the air and scampered ten yards across the goal line for the first touchdown. Evans placed-kicked the extra point making the score 7-0 in favor of the Teachers.

Early in the fourth quarter Combs tossed a pass to Hackney for first down on the Louisville eleven five yard line and on next play Clayton carried the ball over for the second marker and then plumped the line for the extra point. Morehead, 14, Louisville, 0. The Falls City boys kicked off and the State school, eleven staged a rally that carried the ball to Louisville's one yard line but was held for downs and lost the ball. Louisville punted to mid-field and on Morehead's first play, Combs flipped another long pass to Hackney who carried the ball over the line for the final touchdown. Try for extra point failed.

The game was Morehead's first high school victory against a team they previously defeated. Armstrong College of Alderson, W. Va., and Rio Grande College of Rio Grande, Ohio. The teachers have lost one game this season, losing to the Concord eleven of Athens, W. Va.

This was in sixth game and the sixth defeat of the season for the Louisville players. They had previously

Saturday, November 5, Morehead State Teachers College will open wide her arms to receive those who have at one time or another been an integral part of her life, to receive those who have gained part or all of their higher education at this institution and have departed to take their places in the routine affairs of life. It makes no difference how successful they have become, how high they have risen or how low they have dropped, Morehead extends her welcome to one and all to revive their memories of the memorable four years that they spent here searching for knowledge, to live in the experiences and traditions which they have cherished from the time they received their diplomas.

After considerable searching, praying, questioning and racing to and fro in a fever of excitement, this reporter was able to discover that the college had planned one of the biggest solemn occasions that has ever been given here for its amusement and entertainment of our former graduates. In fact, the day is so full of events that the old-timers will have a hard time finding an hour, in which they can revive that greatest of all pastimes that college men seem to be so fond of, those quiet little sessions where women are taboo and the men engage in that quaint old Spanish custom. The morning will be devoted to renewing old friendships and making new ones, visiting the "pros" and their classes, touring the campus and inspecting the buildings which have been built during their absence and renewing acquaintances and reliving experiences with the old. At two o'clock in the afternoon, the high spot of the day will begin the event that is the climax of every homecoming, the football game. This year the 1932 Eagles will be hosts to the boys from Union College, and as the Union Bulldogs have proved that they have one of their consistently fighting teams, and have won the majority of their previous games this season, the old grads will have the opportunity of seeing Coach Downing's present eleven in one of the best games this season. Flags will be flying at the stadium, the band will be present, classes will be sitting in a body and every little Freshman will be wearing his pretty blue and gold cap, ready to yell his head off, to cheer the Eagles to victory.

At five o'clock, the visiting alumni will troop back from the stadium to register in the lobby of Allie Young Hall, and an hour later they will gather in the beautiful faculty dining room of the cafeteria for the annual home coming banquet, prepared by the experienced hand of Chef Gammas. Professor L. H. Horjan will lead a songfest. President John Howard Payne will make an address of welcome, to which Mrs. Marshall Hurst, president of the Alumni Association will respond with a short talk. A former student will answer for the undergraduates. Music will be furnished by the college orchestra.

At eight o'clock the college gymnasium the institution will entertain with the Home Coming Dance.

FINALS OF GREAT POLITICAL RACE OF 1932 WILL BE HUSLED TUESDAY; CONGRESSIONAL RACE AT LARGE

Union College Is Eagles' Next Foe

Five hundred tenors, baritones, basses, sopranos, altos and contraltos and what have you will be pouring out from five hundred throats next Saturday afternoon at the Jayne Memorial Stadium in a concerted effort to aid eleven blue and gold warriors to emerge victorious over an equally husky eleven from Union College of Barbourville, Kentucky. Did I say five hundred? Pardon me, I should have said almost twice that number for added to the student votes will be successful efforts of a great number of old grads, those who have laid off from the business of earning a living and have come back to the institution to be college boys and girls again, and to help yell their old alma mater to victory.

For the Bull Dogs from Union are coming up with a purpose of grabbing the meat from the Eagles and carrying it back to Barbourville with them. But to do this, they must successfully withstand the attack of not only eleven football players but that of every little Freshman with his Blue and Gold cap or arm band, every sophisticated Sophomore, every pseudo-dignified Junior and every dignified Senior that attends the Teachers College. For Morehead intends to be represented at this great battle one hundred per cent and those who are going to do the representing are looking forward to the occasion to the greatest extent.

Not only is Union intending to clip the Eagles' wing feathers for the purpose of winning a game; but with the intention of upholding their already enviable record. They have trampled over University of Louisville 32-6, fought a 0-0 battle with Eastern, lost to a superior West Tennessee Teachers eleven by only

WOMANS CLUBS HOLD DISTRICT MEET HERE

The Womens Clubs of the Ninth District met in Morehead on Friday last week, as guests of the Morehead and Rowan County Womens Clubs. Approximately 150 were in attendance at the meeting. All sessions were held at the Methodist church. At noon a delightful luncheon was served by the ladies of the Methodist Church. The meeting was pronounced one of the most successful ever held.

State Educators Meet At Murray

The Normal Executive Council met at the Murray State Teachers College on October 18. Those present were:

H. L. Donovan, Richmond; W. S. Taylor, Dean of the College of Education, Lexington; H. H. Cherry, Bowling Green; Dean F. G. Grise, Bowling Green; J. H. Payne, Morehead; Rainey T. Wells, Murray; J. W. Carr, Murray.

The group appeared at the chapel exercises in the auditorium, and all spoke briefly, representing the various schools from which they came. Delightful hospitality was extended by President and Mrs. Rainey T. Wells to the entire group.

Matters of the course of study and financial policies were discussed. One of the most interesting items of discussion was the summer school for 1933. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that if a summer school is held, it should be for one term of nine weeks. There was a unanimity of opinion on this point.

The next week idea being founded on the half-semester significance of the unit of time. Such action, of course, must be ratified by the Board of Regents before it becomes effective.

Well, the 1932 presidential election is just around the corner. Tuesday of next week, November 8, will see either the hopes of Frank D. Roosevelt shattered or realized and correspondingly those of President Hoover.

For the most part in this particular locality, the election has been taken rather calmly, with few political speeches on the part of either of the great parties. Republican speaking has been confined to an address by Hon. Maurice Thatcher, republican candidate for United States Senator, opposing Senator Barkley, and Mac Ripstein, republican general of Washington. D. C. No other republican speeches have been scheduled so far as we have heard. Democrats have thus far limited their speaking to an address by Senator M. M. Logan last Saturday night. Senator Logan has been making an intensive campaign for both the national and the state tickets.

Ballots were finished and delivered to the county clerk on Tuesday with regard to the new redistricting act, holds that the election of congressmen will be state wide this year at least. Every citizen of Kentucky will thus be given an opportunity to vote for every congressman or nine in all. This will undoubtedly guarantee the election of either nine republicans or nine democratic congressmen, depending on which national ticket carries the state.

This by the way, is the first national election to be held in Kentucky since the new election law was adopted. Kentuckians must wait until Wednesday noon to begin to hear from their own state returns. The probability here judging by former elections, that the results actually will be known long before that time. In the past the final result of the election has been known to depend on Kentucky's vote. If this should happen in this election, candidates are certain to be on the anxious seat even longer than usual. Dissatisfaction with the law is still heard, especially by those whose greatest thrill came in getting the returns Thursday night after the election is over. This year neither party expects a close vote, and therefore the big thrill will come over the radio and if the election should prove to be a landslide for either candidate, the actual results will be known before midnight.

The Democrats are making extravagant claims of carrying all forty eight states, a feat that has never been accomplished and one that likely never will. Republicans claim that the tie that admitted Hoover at the outset, has been turned and that he will be returned with a substantial majority. The Literary Digest poll gives Roosevelt 41 state and 474 electoral votes against 7 for Hoover and 57 electoral votes. No one can forecast accurately just what that may mean, as eleven hours changes may affect the results. In the past, however, the Digest polls have proved to be unacceptably accurate for the underdog in the poll. It was true in 1928 when Hoover piled almost as

PRESIDENT PAYNE SPEAKS AT HAZARD

President John Howard Payne reports that he had a very interesting visit in Hazard, while attending the annual meeting of the Upper Licking Valley Educational Association, which was held there a few days ago.

President Payne was one of the main speakers of the entire program. He gave a novel and inspiring address of the subject "Professional Conscience." President Payne gave his speech in such a way that the memory of him and of his address will long live in the hearts of his audience.

Hazard seemed elated with the visit of President Payne and honored him in many ways. While in Hazard President Payne also addressed the congregation of a large church before it becomes effective.

Under Frozen Skies

Into the chaos of foaming boulders dropped the canoe, "snubbed by the bending pole. The bottom grounded on a rock, was lifted off by the pole; the boat was caught and swung into another baffling cross-current; but still the old man fought—unconquered in the face of certain disaster. At last the unleashed river caught the shattered canoe like a straw, and dropped it on a huge boulder, over which the water mounded. Pivoting on the rock the canoe rolled and started a roll. It was the end!

With a desperate leap Esau was in the water, his feet braced on the submerged rock. A heave and he freed the rapidly filling boat, swung her with the current an fell gasping on his knees n-side, clutching the pole. Shortly he was clear of the shallows. Then on own, thru the riot of the plunging river, the bent figure in the stern seered his boat, the glitter of victory in his black eyes. He had hung, for a space, on the lip of death but he had won.

Then his heart sank as he saw a canoe below him. Desperate, he took his rifle from where it lay at his feet in the water, and boldly drifted down on the waiting canoe.

As he neared the craft, the faces of the occupants watched him with awe.

"Are you a Maniou, a spirit," gasped an Ojibwa, "that you pass through the Rapids of the Windigo?"

Esau put down his gun. "I am a great shaman in the land where the sun goes to sleep. I fear no rapids." Here was an opportunity to impress the Indians of the Sturgeon country, an keen witted old man swiftly made the most of it.

"The spirit's are your friends for the Windigo allows no man to pass his rapids."

Esau gravely nodded. "Enh-eh, yes, the spirits are my friends."

The Indian exchanged frightened looks with the awed squaw who covered in his canoe.

"Jingwak, the shaman fears to pass these rapids in his canoe. Your medicine is stronger than his."

A look of contempt crystallized on the face of the old man. "Jingwak is a wabeno, who deceives the Ojibwas to get their fur for the trader Paradis. The spirits do not know him."

"You go to the lake of Sturgeon?"

"Yes, Tell the people there that you saw the shaman from the land of the setting sun, who comes to talk to them, pass unhurt from the rapids of the Windigo. I have traveled many sleeps to find Jingwak, the false shaman who speaks with a double tongue and the Ojibwas, and drive him from the country." With a sweep of his paddle Esau left the spellbound hunter and his squaw, and continued down the river. Going ashore behind the first bend, he rested, then carried the canoe into the thick bush, built a fire to dry his outfit, and with pitch and spruce roots started the necessary repairs.

As he worked over the rock-scarred craft, the wrinkled face of the old man lit with smiles of satisfaction. He had beaten Paradis and lived thru white-water that no canoe had passed, to start on its way the story of his charmed life and miraculous powers, which would travel swiftly from tip to tip up and down the lake. For a while he would hide while his mysterious appearance swayed the talk around the supper fires. For he knew his people. Then he would strike.

Debate Try-Outs Held By Lloyd

The debating season has started with a great deal of enthusiasm and interest on the part of those persons desiring to try out for the teams.

The first of the series of tryouts was held last week. Each contestant spoke five minutes on a chosen subject. The speakers on this occasion were judged to a great extent on their speaking ability, poise, and personality.

It is the hope of Mr. Lloyd that the second tryouts will be completed by the end of this week. These tryouts will be in the form of debates, the debaters being given a definite subject on which to talk. The contestants in this tryout will be judged; on their debating ability in respect of organization, of speeches, delivery and presentation.

The subject for debate and the speakers in the second series are as follows:

- Resolved that admission to college should be gained only by passing an intelligence test.
Affirmative: Grace Cook, Kathryn Pope
Negative: Willa Kibby, Beatrice Goodwin
- Resolved that students who work their way derive more benefit from their school career.
Affirmative:

Sanborn Williams, Charles Clark
Negative
Paul Sparks, Vahan Margarian
S. Resolved that every student in this school should be required to swim as a pre-requisite to graduation.
Affirmative
Lewis Hopper, Arthur Barber
Negative
Clyde Smith, Everett Cocanougher
S. Resolved that the policy of co-education in American colleges is undesirable.
Affirmative
Carleton Allain, Troy Smith
Negative
William Lewis, George Bailey
By having the tryouts in this manner it is the belief of Mr. Lloyd that the contestants can be better judged in speaking, reasoning ability, and poise, the result being a better debating team.

It is the aim of Mr. Lloyd this year to give more people an opportunity to debate. Any college profits by having only a few good speakers, but by giving many people an opportunity of taking part in debates it is the goal of all to develop a better and stronger team than ever before.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT STARTED LAST WEEK

The girls' tennis tournament started last week with a good number participating. Miss Troemel hopes this year to create more interest in tennis by having a fast and interesting tournament. It is her aim to give constructive information to all persons desiring to take part in this sport.

In order to win over one's opponent it is necessary for the winner to make two sets out of three.

Many of the first matches have been played and the results of these are: Jeffers, Clara Lane, Ruth Hoover-Lane.

Reva Sexton vs. Jess Allen—Allen. Cutralen Evans vs. Reba Robertson—Evans.

Ludema Drake and Beatrice Goodwin were forced to postpone their match because of weather conditions. The winners of these matches will meet each other in combat until all but one contestant has been eliminated.

TRAINING SCHOOL HAS HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Junior Class in the high school entertained the Senior class with a Halloween Masquerade in the gymnasium of the Training School, Thursday, October 27. A radio and victrola furnished the music, and the guests enjoyed dancing, playing cards, and many kinds of games, one of the most enjoyed being "Bingo." At the party many were surprised on learning from a typical Halloween witch, what their futures held. Everyone came masked and many were the surprises awaiting everyone behind the false faces and dominoes. The gymnasium was beautifully and appropriately decorated with autumn leaves, pumpkins, corn shecks, and hay arranged on the floor and walls. Of course a Halloween party could not be given without the apple tub, and everyone received a ducking.

Miss Vera Skaggs had charge of the games and Mr. G. T. Young and Miss Juanita Minish, sponsors of the Junior and Senior classes, were the chaperones. All the faculty of the training school was invited and many outsiders from the college and town groups came by invitation. Everyone had a splendid time and left with the hope that it would not be long before another party.

UNION COLLEGE

one touch-down, to large. Rose Polytechnic Institute by one point, and to a driving, hard fighting Transylvania eleven by a close score.

Although the squad from Barbourville has a six point dope on Morehead, the Eagles are expecting to win but are not overconfident and can face the visiting eleven with a pat regard as good as their own, as they have won four out of five starts this season, losing only to the strong Concord eleven by one touch-down.

The probable line-up for the Teachers will be Sparks and Hackney or Maggard at the end positions, Martindale and Henry at the tackle jobs, Pearl Combs and Holliday at guards and Brashear at center. In the back-field Sheridan will probably be full-back, O. Evans calling signals, and Juna Evans and Moccabe, running halves.

The line-up for the Union team is Pierson and Burch, ends weighing 165lbs. and 160 lbs., Simpson, tackle, 168; Barker, tackle, 172; Cather guard, 160; Combs, guard, 168; Bailey, center, 161; York, back, 153; Richlin, back, 164; Patterson, back, 130; Landreth, back, 135.

Dr. H. L. Morgan will be in the office of the late Dr. Wales S. Brown of Ordinary, Ky, on Thursdays of each week.

MANY NEW BOOKS ARE RECEIVED AT LIBRARY

A large number of new books has been added to the library during the past term. Some of these books that will perhaps interest the student body just as reading, not study, have been listed and discussed in the following paragraphs:

"Adventures in Dist. Gardening" by Beard, is a western interpretation of the old Japanese art of dist. gardening. "Books as the Windows" by Becker, is one in which the author shows how one may gain the most from one's reading and through it secure a greater love and appreciation of books as friends.

Bren's "Machine Made Man" is a dramatic history of mankind told in terms of science and inventions. Any student wanting to answer such questions as "What shall I be?" and "How Can I get a job?" will be interested in Coburn's "Find Yourself."

"A Successful Living in This Machine Age," by Flene, is a clear analysis of the machine civilization in which we find ourselves and a practical plan for adjustment to it. In Gunn's "The Story of Literature", literature is presented as one of the chief contributions to the happiness, pleasure, and education of mankind.

Warden Lawes of Sing Sing penitentiary tells something of prison life in his book "20,000 Years in Sing Sing." Allen presents brisk biographical sketches of America's most famous intellectual rebels in "Adventurous America."

Mrs. Morris, the head librarian, says she believes the student are studying more this year than in previous years, judging by their use of the library. She stated that an average of 150 students made use of the library daily. This shows that there has been a general "intellectual wake up" among the student body. There is an average of 62 books going out of the library daily, which is somewhat less than in previous years. One-third of the books circulating are novels. The remaining two-thirds are books of educational value rather than for entertainment.

The library has subscribed to one hundred forty five magazines. "The library is for individual use and at the same time is for the use of the entire student body," said Mrs. Morris; "so please be more considerate of the other students' by not talking too loudly and not keeping reserved books after you have finished with them."

Mrs. Morris requests that the students who take books off the shelf will either leave them on the table or put them back in their proper places on the shelves. She also asked that the students not cut from library magazines. If they want pictures for notebooks, ask the clerk at the desk for old magazines which may be cut from.

Four new students have been added to the library staff. They are Jo Jeffers, Clara Lane, Ruth Hovvermale, and Juliet Clark. The students returned to their positions from last year are: Luser Oxley, Mr. J. Fann, and Maurine Vinson.

Morehead Alumni Are Successful

Morehead Alumni are successful. This statement is true in any sense in which you might take it. Year after year Morehead graduates a class of seniors out into the educational world, and year after year these same seniors find positions awaiting them and proceed to do credit to themselves and their Alma Mater. Morehead graduates are not fitted for teaching only. Each senior class sends out teachers, coaches, principals, and superintendents.

Go where you may throughout Eastern Kentucky, and you will find Morehead graduates. These teachers have so impressed their ability upon the minds of their employers that these same employers await each graduating class for more of the same type. Whether in a modern scientific structure or in a crude log one-room hut, the Morehead graduate seeks to do his duty.

Athletes at Morehead College must be pretty well trained in the arts of the game. Today some of the best known athletic teams in the state are coached by Morehead men; men who learned true sportsmanship, while proteges of Coach George Dewey Downing. Whether or not they won their games is of little consequence now; the fact remains that they learned to play the game. At least five former Morehead graduates are now coaching their second year in the same school and at the same time enjoying substantial increases in salary.

Within our section of the state seven counties have entrusted their educational affairs into the hands of Morehead Alumni. These seven counties have county superintendents who were prepared at Morehead Teachers College.

The quality of the Alumni is the best advertisement any college can possibly have. In this department Morehead is well advertised. Morehead graduates have shown themselves to be true citizens of Kentucky and true educational torchbearers.

Hatcher Writes To Trail Blazer

Harlan Hatcher, Morehead Normal School graduate, in the class of 1919, is rapidly attaining international recognition in the literary world.

Mr. Hatcher, who is at present assistant professor of English at Ohio State University, has become well known as a writer because of his book, "Tunnel Hill". This book is a very realistic work treating with life in the brick-making settlements near Ashland, Kentucky, the author's former home.

Mr. Hatcher entered school here in 1913, soon after his discharge from the army, at the close of the World War. His wide experience gained by his army life probably accounts for its very realistic work. Studied English under the direction of Miss Inez Faith Humphrey.

Besides his book, "Tunnel Hill" Mr. Hatcher has had several essays and short stories published. In a recent letter to the Trail Blazer, Mr. Hatcher writes as follows:

My dear Mr. Scott:

I can claim the distinction of being an alumnus of Morehead Teachers College only by inheritance and not by birth. For the three small frame buildings and Burgess Hall here but little resemblance in my day to the beautiful group of structures into which they have since been transformed.

The hills and the paths and the pine trees are the same, and one of the faculty has gone through the transition from the quiet and retired Normal School to the great Morehead Teachers College. Inez Faith Humphrey taught in the English and "Tunnel Hill" owes a great deal to her instruction to the class of 1919.

All students from Morehead remember the place with warm affection, and it is a pleasure to reflect on their oncoming day, and to honor the vision of those men and women who have made the new school possible.

Sincerely Yours,
Harlan Hatcher

Professor R. L. Hoke delivered one of the principal addresses on the program of the White House Conference, which was held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week at Lexington, Kentucky.

Using as his subject "Family and Parental Education", Dr. Hoke gave a very inspiring address.

The White House Conference is an organization whose primary interest in the subject of child welfare. The membership of the conference shows the names of many noted educators in Kentucky. Such men as Ruby Laffoon, Governor of Kentucky; Dr. Frank McVey, President of the University of Kentucky; our own President, John Howard Payne, and others are active members engaged in child welfare work.

have meant a touchdown. The score at the end of the half was 13-0.

The last half was like unto the first. The Kings kicked off and stopped a Russell drive in the shadow of the goal posts. A misunderstood signal snapped the ball to Turner for a punt and the ball was blocked to give Russell a safety and 2 points.

Russell failed again in the third and the Kings drove and ran and passed the ball to the Russell danger zone only to lose it. Again in the fourth they threatened and then they let down. Thirteen tired and battered warriors had taken about all the bruises that thirteen could stand and a fresh batch of Red Devils tore away for two more touchdowns to make their total 27.

Morehead has every reason to be proud of her Vikings, who like the Vikings of old never quit, but went down fighting to the last Russell fans were unanimous in their praise of the team against whom they had piled up one of their biggest scores. There wasn't a quitter on the team. And that means more than the championship.

Friday, Boyd County High. At present Boyd County occupies second place.

formidable a majority as Roosevelt has this time. At any rate Tuesday will tell the story as to who is to be president of the United States for the next four years.

On Saturday night of this week Fred M. Vinson, congressman from this district and who once more offers himself for re-election, will be in Morehead for the campaign wind-up. Mr. Vinson always closes his campaigns here on Saturday night and in Sandy Hook on the night before in election.

Fred feels like a boy coming back to the old home-town in both Morehead and Sandy Hook and judging by the vote he always gets in both counties he is not far wrong.

STUDENTS ATTEND Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE

Mildred Whitt, Jo Jeffers, Maurine Vinson and Marianna Thomas represented Morehead State Teachers College at the state convention of the Y. W. C. A., held at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, October 21-23. Inspiring lectures and discussions of practical problems filled the three day session.

Friday evening there was a short "get-together" meeting held at Patterson Hall. This meeting was followed by a lecture by the Reverend Seebode of Louisville. He introduced the theme of the convention in his lecture, "To Be Alive I Such An Age." He discussed the vital problems that are confronting the world today, showing the relationship of the individual to these problems. Following his lecture there was a meeting of the presidents of the Student Y. W. C. A.'s. Ten colleges were represented.

Saturday morning, the Reverend Seebode again reminded us of the problems that he had introduced on Friday night. He emphasized the Wow! what a game! And what a football team those Vikings turned out to be! 27 to 6, and that doesn't begin to tell the story. It was football with Capitals from the opening whistle to the last minute of play. And the fourth quarter was literally packed with thrills. Cannonburg American burlesque-show comedians came to Morehead occupying second place in the Little Eight Conference and top-heavy favorites to retain that place by defeating Morehead, but the Vikings had other ideas and proceeded to demonstrate that the chief purpose of dope buckets is to have them upset. And did they upset it? And how?

VIKINGS SHOW FINE FORM TO WIN GAME 27-6

The Kings were not the same team that met Russell the week before. In fact, as Deb Allie is reported to have said "If the Vikings had played that kind of ball against Russell, they would now be champions of the Little Eight." But that story was told last week without alibi.

It was by the way, the first game in which the Kings have been able to put their full strength on the field, and even then they could not be said to be full strength as Russell Barber is still suffering from his arm injury sustained in the Russell game. Injuries have been and continue to be the Viking jinx. Roy Barber is certain to keep him out for the balance of the season.

If the Friday game proved anything at all, it proved the value of an eleven man team. The Kings had eleven men, led by Captain Peck Robinson, who played like a machine in perfect condition. Every play clicked and in spite of a number of bad breaks, the Kings gave more than they took, and banged through and around and over the Boyd Countians in championship style. And don't imagine that Boyd County High has a weak team. They haven't. Deb Allie has the best team he has ever put out and they were at their best Saturday. They were well coached and dangerous at all times. The Vikings however turned on in the final stanza and tore their defense to shreds: And outside of one third period rally, they stopped their offense before it got places.

A number of the Vikings deserve special mention for their work and this applies both to the linemen and the back field. However, we are reserving comment until the last of the season.

The Kings kicked off and Boyd took the ball on their thirty yard line. Two plays netted them three yards and they punted on the third down. The Kings registered a touchdown after driving down the field from their own forty yard line, the ball going over on an end run by Roy Turner. The try for point failed. Score, Vikings 6; Boyd 0.

Boyd received and with two beautiful end runs that caught the Kings napping, carried the ball to the Kings' eight yard line, where the stone wall held and the ball went over. A punt took it out of danger. One sane. Boyd made one more drive as the quarter ended and lost the ball on the ten yard line.

The second quarter saw the Kings maintain their margin of 6 points and also saw one of the prettiest plays of the game when the Kings completed a pass Honaker to Tatum the Boyd line, twisted, squirmed and for a forty-five yard gain only to lose it by these successive penalties. They punted out of danger.

A fumble by Turner gave Boyd their opportunity on the thirty yard and Miller, Boyd's back field ace, used a spinner took the pigskin to the one yard line and over for a

Love Me Tonight At Cozy Theatre

Chevalier's plea, "Love Me Tonight!" was made a little over ten years ago. The French actor was "comique" at Paris music hall, and had a large following. But he was not the tuxedoed, straw hatted figuralist that movie audiences now know. He appeared on the stage in what appeared like the makeup used by American burlesque-show comedians—a huge red putty nose, a battered hat, and baggy, checkered trousers. One night, in his dressing room, he was making up. Suddenly he stopped. He was sick of his costume, sick of his makeup—and he was through with them, for good, he hoped. He wiped off the makeup, put on his tuxedo, picked up his straw hat and strode out into the wings.

At his cue, he pranced out onto the stage, addressing a silent prayer to the audience to "Love Me Tonight!" And the audience after a few puzzled moments during which they tried to figure out who this unusual looking person was, answered the prayer with a storm of applause. The moment they recognized their Maurice, they loved him in his new makeup. And he has retained it ever since.

"Love Me Tonight" will appear at the Cozy Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week.

Eagles And Union Play To Scoreless Tie

A homecoming crowd of 2,500 watched the Eagles battle a strong Union eleven through four scoreless quarters to a 0 to 0 deadlock here last Saturday.

The game was a contest between the brilliant defensive work of the Morehead line and the spectacular punting of Simpson for Union. Three times the Eagles, backed under the shadows of their goal posts, held off Union drives, while the long, accurate kicks of Simpson kept the Eagles out of scoring distance during most of the game.

It was the breaks of the game that cost Morehead a victory. On the first play after the opening kickoff a fumble gave Union the ball deep in the Eagles' territory, and they carried the ball to the one-yard line where a stubborn defender refused them a score.

Late in the first quarter the Eagles swept down the field toward the visitors goal. The line drives played halting on the ten yard line, the Eagles attempted a forward pass over the goal line for a touchdown. The pass, Mocabee to Hackney, was completed for what appeared to be a touchdown, only to be ruled incomplete by the referee because Hackney had stepped beyond the end zone just as he received the pass.

AVALANCHE OF VOTES SMASHES ALL RECORDS AND CATAPULTS DEMOCRATS INTO WHITE HOUSE

Kentucky, Late With Count Leaps To Prominence By Size Of Majorities Piling Up; Nation Gives Roosevelt 42 State And 472 Electoral Votes To 6 States And 59 Electoral Votes For Hoover; Majority Greatest

Franklin D. Roosevelt was literally catapulted into the White House as the result of the election Tuesday with a record vote of over forty millions. While complete returns are not yet available, it is apparent that his total popular majority will probably exceed ten million, setting a record for majorities up to the present. With President-elect Roosevelt carried on the avalanche of votes, were Vice President John Garner and control of both branches of the congress. According to

Morehead Student Is Fatally Injured

Elmer Bolling, a sophomore student of the Morehead State Teachers College and a native of Eolia, Kentucky, was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Morehead Saturday, November 5, and died while being rushed to a hospital in Lexington.

Mays McKee, of South Point, Ohio, was also fatally injured. Randall Bertram, Tony Hackney and Clifton Maynard, other occupants of the car, escaped without serious injury. The accident occurred when the automobile in which the men were turning to make a turn from Farmers road, to attend a football game, rounded a curve, crashed into a bus and careened into a ditch.

Bolling was riding on the outside of the front seat, McKee was driving and Maynard was in the middle. Bertram and Hackney were in the rumble seat of the car.

Bolling was a son of Owen Bolling of near Jenkins. He was doing his second year's work here and was very well known on the campus. He entered college here September, 1931. His parents were notified by President John Howard Payne. The body, which was taken to Jenkins, Kentucky, was accompanied home. The students held a special memorial service for Elmer Bolling at 10:00 a. m. Wednesday, November 9. Each class selected a representative to speak in Bolling's memory. Those chosen were: for the Senior Class, Charles Clark; Junior Class, T. U. Fann; Sophomore, George Kitson; and Freshman Class, William Winters.

Teachers To Get Full Salary Now

The following letter from the office of the State Superintendent explains to the teachers just how they are to receive their salary for the time being. They are by this means able to collect the face value for their salary vouchers without discounting them.

TO SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS:
I am happy to advise you that arrangements have been made with the Citizens Union National Bank, of Louisville, through its Vice-President, Mr. Arch B. Davis, whereby warrants issued to treasurers of school districts against the Common School Fund may be disposed of at par with no commission or discount whatsoever.

Within the next few days the treasurers of school districts which have thus far qualified to receive the monthly installments of the Common School Fund will receive same. Under no condition should these warrants be disposed of at less than par, nor should any discount or commission of any kind be paid on same. In other words, each school district treasurer should dispose of warrants issued to him for the second installment of the Common School Fund for one hundred per cent on the dollar.

BLUESTONE SCHOOL MAKING GOOD RECORD

With the school year half done, the Bluestone School is justly proud of the record they have made since the beginning of the year. They are thus far, according to Herbert Tack, particularly proud of the attendance record. Their daily attendance record has reached an average of 84, and during the third month, fifty pupils have made perfect attendance records.

Citizens of Bluestone are particularly appreciative of the additional school room and teacher, and are showing it by cooperating in every way. Water is scarce but the patrons are furnishing it.

The first, second, third and fourth grades enjoyed a picnic in the vicinity of the Prestone quarry last Friday afternoon, leaving school at noon and returning about 3:30. The upper grades had their regular classes, but took time out for a game of ball. They played to Bluestone team and were beaten but not disheartened.

The first, second, third and fourth grades have finished their readers and now are reading supplementary books. Prizes will be awarded to the ones reading the most books to help to develop an appreciation for good reading.

Bluestone pupils are rather proud of the record they made in the fair held in Morehead in October. They carried off a number of prizes. They were as follows:

Joyce Flannery $1.00 for best salt msp.
Rufus Flannery, book for best bird book.
Ottis Black, first prize for best book.
Bluestone school for best song.
Grace Dewitt for 2nd best geography booklet.

The following pupils have perfect attendance record:

First grade: W. H. Basford; Ruben Bragg; Elwood Warren; Fred Gilkerson; Lloyd Flannery; Wilford Flannery; Forest Tackett; Junior Elam; Naomi Sorrell; Traxie Black; Lilian Black; Katherine Swim; Hazel McClurg; Edith Heilman; Flora Ingle.

Intermediate grades: Mattion Jones; Ottis Black; Noah Warren; Denesey Swim; Tommy Dehart; Lanford Stages; Rufus Flannery; Malcolm James; Glen Flannery; Gilbert Swim; Mary Flannery; Doris Netherly; Irene Stages; Madeline Strrel; Genna Dehart; Eula Gilkerson; Gladys Swim; Beulah Flannery;

Joyce Flannery; Cloma Black; Naomi Barnoldar.

Upper Grades: Thelma Flannery; Roxie May Gilkerson; Ruth Barnoldar; Betty Lou Bradburg; Zora Johnson; Ernest Netherly; Rollie McClurg; Lanford Kissick; Clayton Dehart; Chester Warren; Fred Stages; Elmo Dehart.

MOREHEAD HIGH SCHOOL

A straw vote was taken in the high school covering the presidential election. It looks like, if they were left to the students, the democrats would have the majority. In the Freshman class the vote was Hoover 22, Roosevelt 26, Sophomore Class, Hoover 14, Roosevelt 27, Junior Class Hoover 14, Roosevelt 12, Senior Class, Hoover 16, Roosevelt 10. The totals were 60 votes for Hoover and 75 vote for Roosevelt.

Wilma Lee Goodan, a former student of the high school, visited in Morehead over the week-end.

Billy Ramey, a former student, had his credits transferred to Soldier, where he is now in school.

The faculty of the high school is to hold a meeting Thursday night to discuss the installation of a catalogue in the school library.

Mrs. Bess Allen Hurst, a teacher in the Morehead High School and president of the Alumni Association, of the college is to represent Morehead at the E. K. E. A. in Ashland. The Association is sponsoring a banquet at the Henry Clay Hotel and Mrs. Hurst and other members are to speak on the program.

Chapel will be held next Wednesday morning with the program in charge of Mrs. Grace Croshawite. Miss Croshawite has secured Prof. Ferrat as speaker for the occasion. The school was honored Tuesday with a visit from Mr. A. J. Jones, State High School Inspector.

PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION DOING GOOD WORK

The Carlisle Parent Teachers Association has equipped a room to serve lunch to the children. A penny sandwich is served and a lunch is served for eleven cents. The women have put on a drive for clothing for dependent children. The Lion's club last year paid for one hundred twenty three meals for undernourished children. This year they are buying milk. Carlisle has no organized women's club but Mrs. B. F. Reynolds says, "We do not study Shakespeare and Browning, but our interest is dependent on the children."

Association has also furnished a lunch room. When they started out last year they had no room and no equipment. When the parents began to think of the needs of their school and work, drives were put on in various ways. One of the things they did, the dramatic club gave a play, they gave a picture show to raise funds, and a room was found and equipped. A food and old clothes drive was sponsored and they began to take care of the undernourished children. At Meyer's Ky. the P. T. A. held a clinic and had the children treated for their ailments.

One of the Associations at Ashland and had an old clothes drive in addition to furnishing food. The mothers made up forty dresses and forty bloomers from the discarded garments. Some of the Ashland associations have asked for, and received bolt material to be made for dependent children.

Some of the Rowan County Schools have organized, and are organizing parent teacher associations.

Pine Grove has recently organized and the parents are donating vegetables and milk. Mrs. George Evans teacher, serves the children hot soup at noon along with their lunch.

Clearfield P. T. A. was organized and has placed a library in the school.

CONTEST AT MINOR

The children at Minor have been divided, the blues and reds, and a contest is being sponsored. Items considered in the contest are brushing teeth, combing hair, keeping desk in order, playing fair on the playground etc. When one of the items is disobeyed or neglected the person so doing receives a mark against his side. At the end of the month, the side showing the fewest points will be given a supper by the teacher.

Mrs. N. L. Wells and Mrs. Joe Caudill, aided by Miss Kagle, the nurse at Haldeman and Mrs. Leachetter, visited the Haldeman school and distributed clothing to the children. Mrs. Caudill, the County Superintendent, was present and addressed the parents and children stressing the importance of regular attendance.

Mrs. Caudill is requiring all teachers of the county to report the absent children of the county and why they are absent so that the needs can be met, if they are sick, need clothing or why they are absent.

PARENT TEACHERS MEET

A parent teachers association was organized at Pine Grove Friday afternoon at the school. Mr. Allard Hall was elected president, Mrs. John White, Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Milton Evans, chairman of the program committee. The first meeting was held on Saturday night, November 5.

ATTEND STATE RURAL SCHOOL TOURNAMENT

Rowan county was represented in the Kentucky State Rural School meet again this year. The children were a little more fortunate this year than last, having carried away one blue ribbon, one red ribbon and two white ribbons. Opal Conn won first place in the standing broad jump, jumping 8 feet and five in. This year he jumped 5 inches further than any other boy present and he broke the record for the standing broad jump in the state for any other year by jumping further than any one had jumped in the Tournament. He will be awarded a gold pin. Opal also jumped second to the furthermost number of feet in the running broad jump but after his age and weight were considered in counting the number of points, he was not given a place. won second place in the baseball throw, throwing the ball seventy-nine feet and a few inches. Flora Egan won third place in the 75 yard dash for girls, 13 yrs. and under. Opal Conn also tied for third place in the 100 yard dash for boys, 14 years and over. The children entering the various events are as follows:

Pauline Tomlinson, Alpha Alderman, Pauline Messer, Clayton Turner, Louise Lewis, Wilburn Williams, Levela Flannery, Ruby Kagle, Martha Stanley, Celeste Adams, Ruby Hogge, Elmer White, Clifford Ward, Opal Conn, Paul Terry, Ted Moore, Robert Elam, Shirley Wilson, Bernice Flannery, Hazel McClurg, Flora Egan, Mildred Pultz, Ova Hogge, Opal Bradley, and Ethel Hamer.

Those attending the events were Christine McKinney, Beulah Williams, Mabel Haddock, Betty Huggins, Hale, Ara Jane Caudill, Mrs. Bert Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Goff, Glenmore Hogge, Mrs. James Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Howard, and Mrs. Lydia Messer-Caudill.

ELECTION

In another column of this issue will be found the complete tabulated vote of Rowan county by precincts. It may be noted in passing that our local congressman, Fred M. Vinson, ran just a little ahead of the ticket in the county.

No. 1, with a Roosevelt majority of 251 votes. Morehead No. 10, which has always been considered a Republican stronghold leaped into the Democratic column with a majority of 141. Even Little Peary, No. 3, almost as rock-ribbed as Farmers No. 2, or as Vermont or Pennsylvania, will be found the complete tabulated by a good majority.

touchdown. The try for point failed and left the score tied. Then things began to happen. Roy Turner was hurt and taken from the game, Crestwhite going in. The Vikings punted and Tatum recovered a fumble as it bounced from Miller's hands. The Kings made a beautiful drive down the field with Honaker and Robinson alternating at carrying the ball to the one yard line. Robinson took it over for the touchdown.

A few seconds later Robinson on an off tackle play drove through side-stepped clear and raced 52 yards for the third play, undoubtedly the thrill of the game, full of thrill, was marked by some of the prettiest blocking of the game. In fact the outstanding feature of the Vikings work was the superior interference and blocking displayed throughout the game.

The Kings meet Olive-Hill at that place Friday afternoon. They will be without the services of Turner. And while Olive Hill is apparently weaker this year than they were last, they are never too weak to give the Vikings a good tussle. So fans are expecting a good game.

Electricity is cheap

Home Electric Service Costs 33% LESS Today Than It Did In 1913

The average cost of residential electric service is today 33 per cent lower than it was in 1913, the year before the world war began. But the average cost of living (prices of food, clothing, shelter, fuel, medical service, etc.), according to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, is 40 per cent higher now than it was in 1913.

And the average cost of government (federal, state and local), which was $135 a year per family in 1913, has gone up to $150 per family in 1932—an increase of 233 per cent.

Thus, while the average living cost has advanced 40 per cent and the cost of government has jumped 233 per cent, in the last nineteen years, the cost of residential electric service has come down 33 per cent.

Loaded with the same tax burden everyone else has, the electric power companies have so improved operating efficiency as to be able to reduce home electric rates an average of 5 1/2 cents a kilowatt-hour.
