

FEDERAL COURT GIVES DECISION IN FAVOR OF COUNTY IN ANSWER TO PLEA IN $30,000.00 BOND ISSUE

What is undoubtedly the biggest news of the year for Rowan county, broke this week when a Federal court decision was handed down by Judge A. M. Cochran to the effect that the answer filed by Judge J. W. Riley, county attorney and the members of the Rowan County Fiscal Court was sustained, in the matter of the suit brought by H. C. Fink of Cincinnati to force payment of the bonds sold to Caldwell and Company of Nashville, Tennessee and Company there. The decision means, in effect that the sale of the $30,000 in bonds was not authorized because the then county judge, Dr. T. A. E. Evans had not signed the order making the sale of the bonds legal and authorized.

Bolled down, while the decision made by Judge Cochran was relative to a motion to dismiss the answer filed by the Fiscal Court and County Attorney, it has the effect of deciding the suit in favor of the county. In other words, the decision will undoubtedly mean that the county will not have to pay the bond and the tax payers will be saved $30,000.

Another effect it will undoubtedly have is the dismissal of the suit brought in Circuit Court against Judge Evans and the former members of the fiscal court and their bondsmen to recover the amount of the bonds. This suit has been on the docket for several terms but has been held off pending the decision of the Federal court.

It must be understood that the recent decision of Judge Cochran is with regard to the answer filed by the local fiscal court. The case must later come to trial. However, since the answer was held good, it will be necessary in the actual trial of the case only to produce the records to win the case. On the other hand the burden of proof rests on the plaintiff to prove that the records were signed before the sale was made.

The decision of Judge Cochran is not only a great victory for the entire county, but a personal victory for Judge Riley and every member of the fiscal court as well. They are all entitled to the gratitude and congratulations of every citizen of Rowan county for their efforts in their behalf.

Judge Cochran's ruling in the matter follows:

Judge Cochran first discusses the defense (Rowan county) answer as to the constitutionality of the issue which hinges on the assessed value of the property in the county at the date of the sale of the bonds. According to the sale of the bonds, the bonds are legal from that date pending an amendment answer from the county. The statement continues:

"The third paragraph (of the answer) relied on as a defense is that the Fiscal Court never authorized the issuance of the bonds. This is based on the allegation that the order relied on as authorizing the issuance thereof was not signed by the presiding judge. It is claimed that by virtue of section 1842 and 1843 his order was void for this reason and that the Court of Appeals of Kentucky has held in the case of Vinson vs. Watson, 230 Ky. 316.

This petition seems to me well taken. The recitals in the bonds will not save them. I come now to the first paragraph which consists of denials. The first one is a denial of the allegation of the bill that the Fiscal Court of Rowan County ordered that issuance of the bonds. This makes an issue as to this fact and is good. The motion to strike is overruled as to this and the third paragraph.

A. M. J. Cochran, Judge.

Suit was first brought in this case by Mr. Fink, as an innocent purchaser of $5,000 worth of the issue of $30,000 in the Cincinnati Court. It was later filed in the Federal Court at Cincinnati, where the county proved lack of jurisdiction in Cincinnati.

As stated before, the decision is regarded as ample cause for the celebration of Thanksgiving in real earnest in this county.

Independents To Play Tomorrow

The Morehead Independents, one of the strongest teams of its kind in the state and without doubt, the best of its kind in Eastern Kentucky will open their home basketball season at the high school gymnasium against the undefeated Westwood Liberty five Thanksgiving night at 7:30.

The local team is composed of Morehead College stars and former stellar performers on the Morehead drive found themselves unable to cope with the superior playing of Coach Dewey Downing's victory-hungry Eagles.

Transylvania received the opening kickoff on a very muddy field, and was unable to pierce the blocking line and force to punt, Shelton booting the ball for Transy. The Eagles took Shelton's punt and opened up a brilliant drive down the field, with a series of runs around Transylvania's ends. On the third play for the Eagles, Mocabee raced 28 yards to put the ball on Transy's 36 yard line. Two plays later Paul Combs passed 25 yards to J. Evans who caught the pass and raced over the line for Morehead's first touchdown. Sheridan carried the ball through the center of the line for the extra point.

Morehead's second touchdown came a few plays later after Transylvania had received the kickoff and following an exchange of punting, Morehead gained possession of the ball on the 50 yard line. Line plays by O. Evans and Sheridan netted the Eagles first down on Transy's 36 yard stripe. Combs dropped back and his pass fell into the waiting arms of J. Evans for a 20 yard gain.

Evans shook off a swarm of Transy tacklers and ran the rest of the distance for Morehead's second touch-

PAYNE TO GIVE ADDRESS AT MURRAY

President J. Howard Payne, will give an address on "Professional Consciousness" at Murray State Teachers College at the meeting of the First District Educational Association, which convenes at Murray, Friday, and Saturday, November 25 and 26.

President Payne will go from Murray to New Orleans, where he will represent Morehead at the convention of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, of which it is a member.

Professor R. D. Judd and President J. Howard Payne will leave this week to attend a meeting of the Normal Executive Council, which is being held at Louisville.

Hollis Appointed To Committee

Professor E. V. Hollis has been notified by State Superintendent of Public Instruction, James H. Richardson, that he has been appointed a member of the Committee of School Housing, of the Kentucky Educational Commission.

The last session of the state legislature authorized the appointment of the Kentucky Education Commission to make a study and survey of the education in Kentucky. The Honorable Ben Williamson, Ashland, Kentucky, is the member of this committee for this section of Kentucky.

From his school administration work at Columbia University, and from his participation in both city and state school surveys, Professor Hollis has an admirable background for a real contribution to the planning and reconstruction of school buildings in Kentucky, whether at the elementary, the high school, or the college level.

President John Howard Payne, earlier in the year, was appointed a member of the Committee on Aims and Objectives for Kentucky Education. He worked especially on aims for higher education and has made an admirable report of his findings.

Eagles Take Transylvania; Score 19-7

Led by the passing combination of Paul Combs and J. Evans, and by the all around good performance of the entire team, the Morehead Eagles surprised all Kentucky by their thrilling 19-7 win over Transylvania College at Lexington last Saturday.

Entering the game with their opponents very much the favorites, the Eagles opened the game with a baffling offense and an air-tight defense which gave them a 13-0 lead before the first period had passed. After that, with the brilliant punting of Mocabee to aid them, the Eagles had little difficulty in coasting the rest of the way to victory.

Transylvania played a good clean game of football before some 1500 homecoming visitors, but with the exception of their one touchdown drive found themselves unable to cope with the superior playing of Coach Dewey Downing's victory-hungry Eagles.

Transylvania received the opening kickoff on a very muddy field, and was unable to pierce the blocking line and force to punt, Shelton booting the ball for Transy. The Eagles took Shelton's punt and opened up a brilliant drive down the field, with a series of runs around Transylvania's ends. On the third play for the Eagles, Mocabee raced 28 yards to put the ball on Transy's 36 yard line. Two plays later Paul Combs passed 25 yards to J. Evans who caught the pass and raced over the line for Morehead's first touchdown. Sheridan carried the ball through the center of the line for the extra point.

Morehead's second touchdown came a few plays later after Transylvania had received the kickoff and following an exchange of punting, Morehead gained possession of the ball on the 50 yard line. Line plays by O. Evans and Sheridan netted the Eagles first down on Transy's 36 yard stripe. Combs dropped back and his pass fell into the waiting arms of J. Evans for a 20 yard gain. Evans shook off a swarm of Transy tacklers and ran the rest of the distance for Morehead's second touch-

Vikings Win Last Game And Lose It 18-13

The Vikings of Morehead High rang down the curtain on the 1932 football season last Friday afternoon. And the final curtain could not be any stretch of the imagination be said to be satisfactory either to the few fans who braved the elements to see the last game of the year nor to the Vikings themselves, for after having the game in the old sack already to bring home, with the score 13 to 0 in their favor, and only seven minutes left in the fourth quarter, the Kings made a knotty gesture and right royally presented the Ashland B team with three touchdowns, the game and their commitments. The final score was Ashland B, 18, Vikings 13.

It was the Kings were playing without the services of Robinson or Turner, which naturally weakened their lineup considerably. Hall had been shifted to the back field and Croswaithe was playing the other back position. However, that is not an alibi. The Kings have none. In the first three quarters of the game they demonstrated that they were a better team than Ashland B. They showed it in all departments of the game, through the line, around end, and in the air. They piled up first down after first down and tossed pass after pass. In the third quarter they staged a rally and Miles went for a touchdown on a blocked kick.

With the score 13-0 the Vikings fans eased back and decided to take the rest of the game sitting out. So did the Kings. They took it easy too easy. For Ashland, who were apparently so sure of the Tom Cat fight refused to quit. They "it" all over the back fence and down under the shadow of the Kings goal posts. They refused to admit that they were whipped. And they weren't. Tatum dropped back to kick with the game seven minutes to go. A bad pass and he fumbled the ball but recovered. He attempted to pass it but was tackled and as it was a fourth down, Ashland took the ball on the fifteen yard line. Before the Kings recovered from their surprise, Ashland had bucked it over for a touchdown and down of the game. The try for extra point, a pass from Combs to Hackney was "backfired".

In the second quarter, Transy opened a drive from her own 40 yard line, and on a series of line plays made five first downs in succession. The final one was made by inches and placed the ball on Morehead's 4 yard line. Transy tried three line plays before they gained the touch-down. Shelton's place kick for the extra point was successful. The half ended, with the Eagles leading 13-7. Morehead's final touchdown came late in the third quarter. Starting their drive from their own 35 yard line, brilliant runs by Clayton and Mocabee of 18 and 25 yards respectively, placed the ball in easy scoring distance. Three plays later Sheridan plowed through Transy's line for the score. The pass for extra point was incomplete.

The fourth quarter found Transy passing desperately in a vain attempt to score. This ended however when Clayton intercepted one of Sheridan's passes. The game ended with Morehead in possession of the ball near the center of the field.

The Eagle victory was clean cut and decisive and Lexington was luan in its praise of the Eagles. The entire team played as a unit and each man played the greatest game of his career. Mocabee was an outstanding thorn in Transy's side. That boy really played football. He punted, ran and passed as an offensive back and then stopped everything that Transy had to offer from his defensive eridition.

Sheridan, Combs, Mocabee and Brashear led Morehead on the defense. Combs and Brashear were on every play and played brilliant ball. Brashear was kicked in the mouth early in the game and had three teeth broken off, but this only served to make the big center fight harder.

From a statistical viewpoint, Morehead led Transy in most departments. Mocabee punted 13 times for the remarkable average of 41.7.

Football Story To Be Cozy Feature

Philips Holmes, Dorothy Jordan, Charlie Ruggles and Johnny Mack Brown head the cast of "70,000 Witnesses," a murder mystery set on the football gridiron, which comes to the County Theatre, Saturday, November 26.

This is an excellent cast for this type of picture. Johnny Mack Brown is a former University of Alabama star halfback, playing with the 1925 eleven from that school. Phillips Holmes is another college man, who hails from Princeton. In fact, it was while a student at Princeton that he received his first chance in pictures, being cast by Director Frank Tuttle in "Varsity." In his latest, "70,000 Witnesses," he is suspected of the football-field murder of his teammate, Brown, and is the sweetheart of the murdered man's sister, played by Dorothy Jordan.

The story has to do with the attempt of a gambling ring to "fix" a big football game by eliminating the star player of the favorite team. The fix is so well that the star, breaking loose and on route to a touchdown in a clear field, is suddenly seen to stagger, stumble, and fall. Physicians find him dead, with not a mark on his body to explain how he was killed—though they, know it was murder.

The boy's teammate and buddy, and a clever detective finally solve the case, however.

Holmes plays the role of the teammate, with David Landau as the detective. Brown is the victim; Ruggles, a wise-cracking reporter, is at the game to "cover" it via radio.

MOREHEAD CLUB MEETS AT H. C. WILLET HOME

The Morehead Women's Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. C. Willett with Mrs. Willett, Mrs. A. L. Miller, Mrs. Dee Simms, Mrs. Myrtle Hall, and Mrs. Mary Johnson Clark as hostesses. The Morehead College quartet, composed of H. L. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin George and Miss Waters sang three numbers. Mrs. S. M. Bradley gave a delightful paper on "The House of a Thousand Candles," during the reading of which Miss Martha Hall, dressed in colonial costume, sat in the firelight, beside an old spinning wheel. The colonial idea, in honor of the season, was carried out also in the lunch which was served later. The dining room was beautiful in the soft candle light, when the 40 or more guests were served a delightful buffet luncheon.

Hi Boys Organize No-Smoking Club

The basketball boys of the Morehead High school have completed the organization of a social club. The first meeting was held on Tuesday night in the City Hotel and officers were elected. Gene Miles was unanimously chosen as president of the club by the thirteen members.

While the chief purpose of the club is social in nature, by-laws and rules have been drawn up that are rather binding, not to say severe. Every member of the club binds himself not to break training during the basketball season and to remain eligible for all games. A penalty of a fine of 10 cents for each offense is to be collected. A certain number of offenses causes the offender to automatically be suspended from the club and to be entirely and completely ignored by the other members.

Peck Robinson, while not eligible for basketball this year, due to the fact that he has played four years of basketball, was elected an honorary member of the club.

In order to encourage the success of the club, members of the American Legion are making arrangements for the boys to hold their meetings at the Legion Club room over the Midland Trail Garage.

Speaking of a beeline of industry, the local chapter of the American Red Cross is and has been nothing else but for the past several months, particularly since the grand rush to clothe the needy has been on, according to Mrs. N. L. Wells, who has taken charge of the work of distribution. Up to date over 2,000 garments have been made and distributed among the needy of the county through the local chapter. Over 5,600 yards of cloth have been cut and sewed by volunteer workers at the headquarters in the court house.

These garments have been distributed in 54 rural school districts of the county and in Haldeman and to a less extent in Morehead. Every district in the county has been finished with the exception of the head and it is hoped to finish distribution here next week. The distribution has been made thru the advice of the teachers in the various districts and a local chairman.

Regarding food supplies, Mrs. Wells stated that a car load of flour had been shipped from Kansas to be distributed in Morehead within the next few days when it will immediately be distributed. Another car is to be shipped December 1.

Mrs. Wells said that a rumor had been circulated that National Red Cross was sending cash into Morehead. This is not true she stated. All National Red Cross is sending in is food and clothing. The local chapter however does receive and keep on hand the funds raised from the local membership drive. This fund is used throughout the year for local relief needs not provided for by the National program. Such needs include medical attention, medicines, hospitalization and the like. No money is provided for cash help to purchase food.

Mrs. Wells also stated that, in spite of the fact that the workers have not found time to solicit memberships, due to the sewing and food distribution, the drive is making headway. Over $700 have been taken in for memberships. The goal has not yet been reached, however and the drive will continue until December 1. It is hoped that many more memberships will come in before membership "go over the top" as she has in every drive to date. Memberships may be paid either at the county court room in the court house, or at the office of the Rowan County News until that date.

Lyceum Number Tuesday Night

The Welsh Imperial Singers, internationally known musical organization, was presented the second number of this year's Lyceum series in the Morehead State Teachers College auditorium, Tuesday November 22, at 7:30 P. M.

This presentation, according to reports will be one of the greatest musical numbers ever given on a Lyceum program at this school. The organization is composed of twelve members, an accompanist, and the director, each a concert soloist in his own right.

The conductor, R. Festyn Davies, is a celebrity the world over and is one of the main reasons why his group of vocalists so different from the ordinary vocal chorus. He is a master conductor, who seems to have all the attributes of a Sousa, a Stock and a Whitman, and one who makes his singers literally thrill an audience.

The Welsh Imperial Singers have just completed a coast-to-coast tour of the United States and their return booking is proof of the fact that they were acclaimed everywhere by musical lovers as a great male ensemble. They have met the great test with record breaking success, of a foreign organization before an American audience. Artistically fine, positively satisfactory and great heart appeal, it is no wonder that the excitement is still high.

HOLLEY CRUMM DIES

Tuesday, November 14, Holly Crum and Leslie Cox, aged 15 and 16 came to the school grounds to enter the games with the children at noon.

The two boys and children were deeply interested in the games when Holly fell to the ground. The Cox boys tossed his head from the ground and Mrs. Birchfield, the teacher, gave first aid.

This was the third heart attack he had had on the school grounds. Holly was an exceptionally good boy and will be missed by his many friends.

The teacher, school, and the entire community wish to express their deepest sympathy and regret.

Professor C. O. Peratt addressed the students of the Morehead Public High School on Thursday morning, November 17. Professor Peratt, who spoke on the topic, "The Undiscovered Territory in Every Man's Life," treated his subject in a very novel way, using for his examples incidents from the lives of famous characters of history.

The faculty of the high school reports that Professor Peratt's address was one of the first historical talks which has been universally liked by the entire student body. The students gave every attention to Professor Peratt and showed a real appreciation of his efforts.

A number of new books have been ordered for the library from the funds left from the pie supper held several weeks ago.

Friday of this week will witness the first basketball game ever played in this community by the school. The game will be between this school and Minor.

SPELLING BEE

The Courier-Journal has announced that effort will be made to reach 100 per cent representation in its ninth annual State Spelling Bee, which will be held Wednesday, April 19, at the opening day of the Kentucky Education meeting in Louisville.

Early response to invitations resulted in enrollment of 107 counties. The school systems which have not enrolled but to which invitations are still open are Lawrence, Martin, Menifee, Harlan, Clay, Rockcastle, Clinton, Adair, Oldham, Butler, Livingston, Carlisle, and Fulton counties.

The Courier-Journal certifies of merit in spelling are given to the best speller in each school, presentation being made by the county superintendent at county spell-downs. News-papers, civic clubs, luncheon clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, banks, business organizations, and teachers associations in various counties make it possible to distribute desirable awards in local competitions.

The Courier-Journal certifies of merit in spelling are given to the best speller in each school, presentation being made by the county superintendent at county spell-downs.

From The Training School

Have many of you been seasick? On November 8, the Training School learned how sick one may become riding the waves when Miss Amy Moore described her voyage across the Atlantic. She related many exciting and comical experiences and gave her listeners a thrilling half-hour. The Training School is eagerly awaiting the time when she will resume her talk and relate her experiences in Europe. Miss Moore is the mathematics critic teacher in the high school.

Morehead was well represented at E. K. E. A. held in Ashland, November 10 and 11. Among the demonstrations was a French class directed by Miss Juanita Minish of the training school faculty. The class was held in one of the Sunday school rooms of the Presbyterian Church. There was a large number, including many people from Morehead, present for the lesson. Miss Minish received many congratulations on her success.

Mr. George Young presented a very entertaining program in the Training School chapel on Tuesday, November 15. He played many favorite popular and college songs, among which were "A Shanty in Old Shanty Town," "Dream Girl," and "Was That the Human Thing To Do."

On November 17, from 3 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, a program was held for the parents of the children in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades, in observance of the Children's Book Week, dating from November 14 to 19. There was a display of children's books; and Mrs. Morris, librarian, told of some of the newest children's books. The collage quartet sang. The program proved very interesting for the assembled guests.

Elijah Hogge was elected by the unanimous vote of the senior class to succeed Jane Arrasmith, who left school, as president of the class.

The pupils of the ninth and tenth grades have begun practicing on two one-act plays to be given some time next month. The two productions are "Just a Little Mistake" and "No Zoom in the Inn."

Three boys in the ninth grade have really shown school spirit. Jimmy George Littleton, James Johnson, and Elwood Dillon made four window boxes for their home room and filled them with growing plants. This is a challenge to the other home rooms in the high school. Make yours as pretty as that of the ninth grade.

President L. R. Ackers of the Wilmore, Kentucky, institution completed arrangements with Crede Harris, managing director of WHAS, whereby a regular period of devotional music and brief meditations conducted by a faculty member is broadcast directly from the chapel on the Asbury campus at 7 o'clock.

Professor J. D. Moon, in charge of music at Asbury, draws on the plentiful talent of the second most costly State for his songs and instrumental selections. Old hymns of the church are featured by mixed chorus of men and women, a glee club and quartettes.

The reports on the programme show it is reaching as far west as Kansas at this early hour. It has been widely welcomed as a fine beginning for a radio day, bringing an atmosphere of quiet into the listener's home at the start of the morning. Music predominates, scripture reading and prayer being limited to about four minutes.

Mr. John Bertram accompanied George Queen home from Lexington as a weekend visitor on the Morehead campus.

Under Frozen Skies

At the same time Jim and Omar cut back to the shore to head off Paradiis but he had foreseen defeat and his canoe had lost itself in the shadows. Furious at having the man who had hunted them slip thru their fingers, Jim and Omar returned to the first shore.

Then Jnan showed for silence, while the triumphant Esau gathered the fruits of his victory. The last doubter was convinced. He had won. Eagerly the mercurial red men waited while the great shaman, Otchig, removed his costume. Then Esau addressed them. Going back to God's lake, he told them of the respect for fair dealing in which the Indians had held the elder Stuart and his son. The devil story of Jingwak the liar, which had kept hunters from the post, was the invention of Paradiis, to hold the fur trade. Jingwak and the Frenchman they never see again. Esau told them if the people wished it, he would come each summer and make medicine at the great stone. And soon in the little moon of the spirit, when the trails were broken for sledding he would bring flour and good goods for those who found the journey.

In turn Jim and Omar spoke to too long to the House of the Sunset, the hunters, warning them that Paradiis was now an outlaw, and inviting them to Sunset House. Then shaking the hand of the Indians, some of them whom Stuart had reason to believe had fought him and Omar on the portage trail, Jim and his men headed back to camp.

As his paddle tore the water, he laughed in his jolly and joy: "We've won! We've won! Aureel! You hear down there in the city! I'm coming back to you girl; I've won!" "You foxy old devil! You deserve the Victory cross!"

For the twentieth time Jim hugged the lean frame of the grinning Esau, as they stood at their camp fire. "You knew before we left the post that Jingwak was this Makwa, without ears, you had run out of Wolf river years ago; But how in thunder did you find it out; you never saw him?" "When I hear dat Jingwak and Paradiis scare de hunters from Sunset House wid' devil story, I remember dat ees de same talk dis Makwa nak' at de Wolf riviere. Den some Indian tell me dat Jingwak wear heels hair ever' long. Makwa would do dat, to hide de ear he looses, ah-hah! Wen de people, here, tell me w'at he took lok—en I know he is Makwa."

"And you played him like a master! Wait till the story reaches Pipe-stone. I guess Andrew Christie's eyes will open when he sees the fur you will get for us by this night's work."

And the grateful Jim again hugged the old man, whose smoke-tanned face, like old leather, beamed with content. "Otchig, the strange shaman from the west!" chuckled Jim. "You clever rascal! When Jingwak saw that the man who took his ears at Wolf River had called his bluff, he hung to that lodge of his like a fox to his hole! Do you suppose he had guessed before this you who were?"

"Mebbe so, Jinaw gaj dat Paradiis look hard for me before it grow dark, side an' cross de island tru de bush." "I know he do dis, so I lan of oder." "I certainly thought we'd have to fight, Esau. Why didn't you tell me about this Jingwak? Did you cut off his ears?"

"No, wan g'ed friend a fine, so de 'W'if riviere—he do dat," replied the 'W'if grin with the guileless look of a child.

"And you ran those rapids?" Esau told of his meeting with Paradiis and his men which had forced him into the rapids of the Windigo.

"How you got thru the lord only know! and you did it for me!" The eyes of the old man were bright with emotion. "For you and your fader. I tell heem ween he goin to die, not to worry. I tak care Jeem."

"And you have—you and Omar! Bless your old bones!" "But I let de Paradiis get away!" In the morning the Peterboro from Sunset House started on the long trail South. Up the great lake on the way to the inlet traveled by the canoe. An interval of mellow days—the early Indian summer of the far north—would companion it up the Struggen to the Pipestone lakes.

At the foot of the big rapids of the Sturgeon, Jim looked for and found the footprints of Smoke. The absence of rain, and the dropping of the river had left the last traces of the friend he had lost as clear cut as on the day after the light on the portage.

"Good-bye Smoke!" said Jim, gazing through eyes blurred by many a poignant memory of the footprints of the dog he had fed from puppy-hood. "Jim never had a better friend than you. At you had you give him, and now he's going home without his dog. Good-bye Smoke."

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and rundown and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Baranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial results, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

THREE FIRE ALARMS WITHIN THREE DAYS

Three fire alarms in the past three days have kept the Morehead fire department on the move. On Monday morning early an alarm called them to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Young where an overheated stove was found. Later the same morning, an alarm went forth from the residence of Mrs. Tippett the cause being the same. In both these fires little damage was done.

On Wednesday morning the company received a call to West Morehead where the home of Ellis Adams was on fire. We have been unable to learn as we go to press just how much damage was done.

ESTREM HAS PERFECT ATTENDANCE RECORD

Dr. Andrew Estrem, A. B., A. M., Ph. D. Associate Professor of English, at Morehead State Teachers College has made quite an enviable record while teaching here. During the six years that Dr. Estrem has been connected with this school he had not missed a single class until last Friday week, when he attended the E. K. E. A. at Ashland; this absence, as Dean Vaughan points out, should not really be counted against Dr. Estrem, as all the faculty members and students were permitted to attend the meeting of this organization.

SOPHOMORE DANCE

One of the most important social functions of the month was the sophomore dance, which was held at the gymnasium, Saturday night, November 19. The dance was given in the form of a "gingham dance," the girls were dressed in gingham evening dresses, and the boys wore overalls.

The "Seven Aces" from Ironton, Ohio, furnished the music. The gymnasium was decorated in the class colors, red and white.

DEBATE TEAMS PICKED

Two Seniors, one Junior, two Sophomores and a Freshman have been chosen as the members of the men's debating team to represent Morehead Teachers College in inter-collegiate debating this year. Charles Clark and Paul Sparks, Seniors, Vahan Magarian, Junior, Everett Cocanougher and George Bailey Sophomores, and Troy Swago, Freshman were elected by a series of try-outs held at intervals of one or two weeks.

By the same method of selection the members of the women's team was chosen. This team is composed of three members of which two, Kathryn Pope and Willa Kibby are freshmen. The other member is a Sophomore, Beatrice Goodwin.

Of the entire squad three men and one woman are veteran debaters from last year's squad. Vahan Magarian, Everett Cocanougher, George Bailey and Miss Goodwin all saw active service on the 1931-32 team.

Sixteen people were selected out of the number in the first try-out. The second limited the contestants to twelve and the present squad of nine was chosen from the finals. The trials were judged by members of the faculty, the men's finals being judged by Dean Vaughan, Dr. Terrell and Mr. Lloyd. Miss Milton, Miss Betty Robinson, Miss Conroy and Mr. Lloyd acted as judges in the women's finals.

The members of the squad will begin an intensive research study of the subject for debate this year, concentrating on the fundamentals of argumentation, reasoning and a thorough study of presentation before they will begin the season's schedule. The itinerary of this year includes several of the leading colleges in the South. A tour of one or two of the southern states is also being planned for the men's team. The Lloyd Debating Club, composed of students interested in debating, held its regular meeting in the recreation room of Fields Hall last Tuesday evening. The following program was given:

Call to order - Vahan Magarian Reading of minutes and Constitution - Beatrice Goodwin Talk - "My Ideal Girl" Paul Sparks Piano Solo - Mildred Whitt Talk - "My Ideal Man" Beatrice Goodwin

SECOND LYCEUM

Imperial Singers with great designs

Imperial Singers with great designs... In this country they met with greatest success in England, Scotland, Wales and Canada. They scored a big triumph in London at the Aeolian Hall. They gave H. H. H. The Duke of York a "Wonderful party" at their royal appearance in London. Sir Dan Godfrey, England's finest combination of male voices, Lloyd George lauded them with enthusiasm. The Daily Mail of London says, "The Welsh Imperial Singers is a choir of capital voices trained to a high pitch of discipline."

In Canada, where they appeared at Toronto, Vancouver and Montreal, they sang before packed houses. The Montreal Star said of them, "Their choral singing is quite remarkable in its tone, balance and its spirit."

After their Canadian tour they sang at the Civic Theatre in Chicago, and the Chicago papers were loud in their tribute of appreciation. Maurice Rosenfeld, leading musical critic on the staff of the Chicago Daily News, writes, "This male chorus, numbering a dozen singers, appeared in quaint costumes, and entered into their selections with an enthusiastic fervor and refreshing brightness that astonished and delighted the audience."

The twelve voices are admirably balanced, their sharp attacks and accuracy in rhythm and pitch are remarkable, and under the able direction of Mr. Daviga, the tone shading and nuances in phrasing and color keep up the interest of the listener.

This great choir has a marvelous repertoire - more than a hundred songs. A two hour concert seems like thirty minutes.

The Welsh Imperial Singers are truly different - they are really great.

Mother of 7 - Still Young THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old. Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the lively and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels. When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh, laxative herbs, active salts, and pure pepsin. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a little every day or so, until every organ in your body feels the big improvement. The next time you have a bilious headache, or feel all bound-up, take this delicious syrup instead of the usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary! Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent headaches, backaches, and colds? Get a big bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down, or a coated tongue or bad breath, warn you the bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't common.
