Meyerillo, Ac waged against Mexico as unconstitutional, unneces sary and improper—did they not readily vote men and money at the demand of Mr. Polk, to conduct the war with energy, and conquer a speedy peace! What, though in the language of the Union, they did say "that they wanted no more Mexican territory!" Have they not provided every thing saked for by the President, to capture and blockade her ports—to bombard and garrison her inland Cities! Has not the whole country, without party distinction, garrison her inland Citiest Has not the whole country, without party distinction, poured out its best blood upon the plains of Mexico, to satisfy the promptings of a questionable patrioism! And does Mexico still claim the Whigs as "allies"—"friendel" Well might she exclaim in the language of the proverb, when remembering the gallant but unfortunate Clay, McKee, Hardin and Lancoln: "ease me from my friends; and but unfortunate to the country friends; and gladly would she exchange her friends, Scott and Taylor for such enemies as Pierce, Cushing and Pillow, and think one such enemy was worth to her more than a dozen enemy was worn to ner more than a obzen such friends.

But admit for one moment, that Whig politicians and Whig papers, have, by their opposition to the policy and constitutionality of the existing war with Mexico, procrastinated the wished for hour of peace. Does the Union suppose that the Whig party in Congress, should consent to place the pures and the sword of the Nation in the hands of the President, for the prosecution of a war which they esteemed wrong in its insection; and unproductive (however fortunate our arms.) of any good result, without entering up their rolemn protest against that set of his, which seemed to bind them in the chains of so painful a necessity?
