

The Prospect of Peace.

Again and again has the public mind been lullied, by rumors of approaching peace...

The next thing we hear of, is that a priest at the head of a guerilla party, is capturing baggage trains, murdering stragglers from the army...

We hear of considerable sales of baggage and rope, prices ranging from 13 to 18 1/2 for the former...

We are told that Commissioners have been appointed whose names are given—the statement is contradicted, and instead of peace, we are informed that Gens. Canizlo and Santa Ana, are quarreling as to where their ships shall battle to our army.

The market has worn a speculative aspect for this article for some time past, a steady advance. At the date of our last 805 per cent was freely offered, while holders of round parcels in store were demanding $100, and soon after advanced their pretensions still higher.

The Boston Atlas, of the 7th of August, says, that prices in that city have still an upward tendency, and that sales had been made to the extent of 100 tons dew rot, at $150, 6 mos.

We were invited a few days ago, with several others to witness for the first time an operation in dental surgery, while the patient was in a Mesmeric sleep.

The patient who was the respectable young lady of this city, came into the office of Dr. H. Marshall, (Dentist) evidently very much alarmed at the idea of submitting to so painful an operation as the extraction of a large jaw tooth.

Notwithstanding her excitement however after taking her seat, she very soon under the treatment of our friend Milton Colburn, sank into an apparently sound sleep, which although it seemed to calm her nerves somewhat, left her far from free of agitation.

As regards the Legislature, the Whig says: "We have gained a Whig vote in Bedford, one in Lawrence and one in Roane, and lost one in Weakley. This is enough to counterbalance the majority of four, which the Locofocals carry in the Legislature."

From the Louisville Courier, of yesterday morning, speaks of a letter received in that city, bearing date August 1st, which represents the worm as very destructive in the neighborhood of Lake Providence, La.—The Courier, also quotes from a letter dated Little Rock, Arkansas; July 28th, to the same purport.

On the other hand, the Courier published from the Nashville Whig, a statement from an overseer on a cotton plantation, in Jefferson county, Ark., which says the accounts of the destructive effects of the army worm, are grossly exaggerated—that they were rapidly disappearing, and had done little or no injury to the cotton crop in that quarter.

Upon this subject, and its influence upon the prices of hemp, and hemp manufacturers, the Journal of same date says:

We hear of considerable sales of baggage and rope, prices ranging from 13 to 18 1/2 for the former, and from $50 to $100 for the latter. We mention a sale of 500 pieces and 500 coils at 13 1/2 and 6 1/2 on time.

We learn from the Paris Citizen, that public meetings are called at different points in Bourbon county, to take into consideration the proposition to turnpike all the principal roads of that county.

The exhibition of these children of the desert will doubtless attract general attention. It is the first and may be the last opportunity that many will enjoy of seeing "specimens" of a people of whom we have read much that is truly interesting and curious.

The Whigs have gained one and perhaps two members of Congress in this State. In the last Congress the Whigs had two—the democrats eight members.
