

Christmas Programs At The Churches

Christmas at the Churches in Morehead will be celebrated in an unusually quiet manner, due largely to the fact that the flu epidemic has taken its toll in sickness and partly to the state of depression. However, while the Christmas celebration will be quiet, they will be none the less in keeping with the spirit of the day and the season, centering around the joy and pleasure that may be given to the children of the Sunday Schools of each church.

At the Saints Church the program and celebration of Christmas Day will take place Christmas evening at 6:30 in the place of the regular Young People's meeting. A program consisting of songs and recitations and possibly a short play will be given by the members of the Sunday School.

The usual Christmas treat will be given Christmas morning.

The members of the Baptist church will have a Christmas program on Christmas morning from 10:30 to 11:30 instead of the regular morning service. There will be no other service at the Baptist Church on Christmas Day, as Rev. and Mrs. Kasez are spending the holidays at the home of Mrs. Kasez's parents in Corbin.

Members of the Christian Church had planned to have a Christmas play and program but owing to the amount of illness were forced to abandon their plans. No services will be held Christmas Day. In the morning at the regular hour, the Sunday School will meet to receive the annual Christmas treat.

Last Sunday night the children's Division gave a pleasing and inspiring interpretation of "The Spirit of Peace," a Christmas pageant, at the Methodist Church. Quite a large audience was present to enjoy it and see now the beautiful story so carefully prepared and presented of the Christ-Child.

There are definite plans on foot for a Christmas treat for the Sunday School children on next Sunday, and a committee is at work also gathering together what is taken to fill several nice baskets which will be distributed to families who will need them. The committee will find cases of real need these days and happily perform this gracious service.

The pastor will deliver a Christmas sermon at the morning service and an evangelistic message at night.

Writes The Best Santa Claus Letter

The following letter is self explanatory.

One of the best letters written to Santa Claus this year in care of Montgomery Ward comes from Elvera Caudill, nine years old, of Morehead, Ky., who, among other things, asks old Santa not to forget the poor children.

Her letter is published below. Scores of letters have been received by the Montgomery Ward Company, so many in fact that Santa has had difficulty in deciding which one to publish. Elvera's is the best one to date, although if other ones, equally as good or better, are received before Christmas, they too will be published in the Herald.

Come on, kids, get busy, and write to Santa Claus today, care of Montgomery Ward.

Here is Elvera's letter:

"Dear Santa: I am now listening to you over the radio. I am nine years old and in the fifth grade at school. The last time I got my report card I got seven A's and one B. I have a sister and a brother. I want a doll, basketball, roller skates, set of paints, a story book and a desk. But please Santa don't forget the poor children. Don't laugh, I weigh 130 pounds.

"Much love, Elvera Caudill, Box No. 221, Morehead, Ky." (From Lexington Herald)

Vikings Get Owingsville Quint Scalps

Friday night the Vikings, after a disastrous crubbing at the hands of Salt Lick on Wednesday night came back in spectacular fashion to defeat Owingsville, said to have the best team they have developed in years, by a score of 48-12. The Kings got away slow, apparently feeling their opponents off. The first few minutes of the game appeared listless to the spectators, and then—

The Kings broke loose with Tatum leading the attack. At the end of the first half the score was 21 to 4 in favor of the local basketballers.

The cold weather kept the crowd from being what it would have been under ordinary conditions. However those who did brave the cold saw what the Kings can do if they take a notion. The one sided victory was all the more surprising when it is considered that Owingsville had already defeated Salt Lick by a good margin and that they hold a victory over Clark County High School of Winchester which is said to have an unusually good team.

Shanghia Elam came through in the Owingsville game in a spectacular manner scoring 27 points while Tatum was credited with sixteen to take high point position. Miles took eight points.

The feature of the game outside of the one sided score was the improved team work and passing displayed by the Vikings. Whereas the game Thursday night was a display of listless play and worse passing the Owingsville game was remarkable for the accurate passing and the fast breaking of the Vikings which had their opponents guessing throughout the contest.

The Kings are just getting under way, apparently they are still short on set plays and their offense is therefore not what it could be. However those who saw the first game of the season and the last were able to notice the improvement.

While not posing as a prospect in Kings would have a fairly successful anyway, it looks from here as if the season, barring things that may come up in the meantime. The material is there for a good team, not necessarily of championship caliber. Miles and Tatum the only two old heads on the squad should give it enough balance to settle if the other younger members down to put out their best. Elam is undoubtedly a bright prospect for the pivot position with either Miles or Tatum to go in if necessary. Tag Calvert is showing good as forward and as soon as Tatum gets thoroughly accustomed to the new job at forward he should go even better for he has miles of course would be disappointing if he did not show at guard. He is just naturally taken for granted.

The King's schedule is about complete except for extra games that may be scheduled in the course of the season. As the schedule reads, Coach Holbrook will have ten games in the Little Eight conference, enough to make him eligible for championship honors. He thus far has games scheduled with Fullerton, Olive Hill, Canonsburg, Grayson and Greenup. Other games are those with Corbin, Mt. Sterling, and Winchester.

Schools Enjoy Vacations

On Friday of last week vacation started for the students and faculty of the Morehead State Teachers College, and the Hill was so lonely and deserted on Friday evening as the proverbial "Deserted Village." Both students and faculty members had departed for their various homes to spend the two weeks vacation which will take them through and over the holiday season. School duties will be resumed on Monday, January 2, according to announcements.

Vacation in the public schools of the county will not begin until Friday of this week and will last but one week, resuming on Monday, January 2.

Cozy To Have Show on Friday

Due to the epidemic of flu that has Morehead in its grip, the management of the Cozy Theatre will cut down on the shows to the greatest extent possible this week and next. There will be a show on Friday and Saturday nights on Monday and Tuesday nights of next week. Otherwise all the shows will be cancelled for the time being.

The feature for this week Friday and Saturday will be "Blood Vines" starring Marlene Dietrich and Joseph Von Sternberg.

It is the story of a woman, who, to save her husband's life accepts the love of another man.

Next week, Friday and Saturday, "Madison Square Garden" may be seen at the Cozy, with such stars as Thomas Meighan, Oogie, ZaZu Pitts and others.

Local Police Put Curb On Robbers

Robbers and thieves and automobile traffickers may learn in the distant future to beware of sporting their arts and sciences in and around Morehead, while big Chief Adams is on the job. In the past few weeks Chief Adams has made the boys who indulge in appropriating that and those that do not belong to them live hard. Two of them are already enjoying Christmas holidays at Frankfort, sent there by Judge J. D. Johnson. Two more are now residing in the Georgetown, Ohio jail and two are enjoying the cure in the Rowan county hospital.

A few weeks ago the store of J. W. Perry was broken into and robbed. A quiet investigation led suspicion to fasten on Charles Waseley and a boy by the name of Prater. Waseley was caught and questioned by Chief Adams and finally confessed, implicating Prater, who when caught, also confessed. Judge Johnson sentenced them to Frankfort.

Last week Chief Adams and Jesse Caudill were the chief actors in the drama which resulted in the capture of the two daring automobile thieves who had evaded and defied the law in both Rich and Fleming county and who attempted to get away with the thing here. Adams and Caudill received word they were coming and taking one of Caskey's taxis, started to meet them. As they started the car rolled into town and headed down Mill street and up Railroad street.

Taxes May Go Over to March 1

According to Sheriff Dan Parker, the recent ruling with regard to the postponement of the state and county taxes until February 28, 1933. Mr. Parker expects about the usual amount of taxes to be paid by January 1, as many have already met payment.

The ruling made recently as published in last weeks papers, held that taxpayers could postpone payment until the night of February 28, 1933. After that date the penalty will be added to all delinquent taxes. The ruling is presumed to help the taxpayer, particularly the farmers many of whom are unable to dispose of their tobacco crops in time to meet their tax payments before January 1.

With regard to the purchase of automobile licenses, which ordinarily becomes due January 1, County Clerk John M. Butcher stated that he had not received notice of the extension.

Vikings To Play Game for Charity

The Vikings will meet the Mt. Sterling High School basketball team on the night of Friday, December 30, 1932 in the college gymnasium. Funds received will be donated to the milk fund of the Lions Club of this city, under whose auspices the game has been scheduled.

Mt. Sterling is said to have one of the best teams they have ever had this year. They have won the majority of their games so far this season by top-heavy score swamping their opponents. The Vikings, need no introduction to the people of Morehead, since of course the Morehead Vikings since they have had their complete and united support every year. They are, of course, the Morehead High School boys.

The game is an extra, schedule game and is being put on for the benefit of the needy children of Morehead. All funds raised outside actual expenses will go to the Lions Club Milk Fund to be used for the purchase of milk for the children of the public schools here.

It should be expressly understood that, because of this fact, Athletic Association tickets will not be accepted for this game. They are good only for regular schedule games of the Vikings.

The game will be played on the night of December 30. Every citizen of Morehead who can possibly do so, should make plans now to attend the game, whether they have been interested in basketball or not. This is particularly true of the patrons of the school here, since the money derived will be used expressly for the benefit of the school children.

Flu Epidemic Is Very Serious

Rowan county appears to be in the grip of a flu epidemic almost as wide spread if not as severe as the epidemic of 1918 which cost so many lives. Thus far, while almost as many cases have been reported, comparatively few deaths have resulted, due probably to the better knowledge of the care required to combat the disease.

Throughout the state many of the schools have closed down as the result of the epidemic and will not re-open until after the first of the year. In this section the schools at Ashland, Catlettsburg and Fullerton have been closed for the period. Reports state that the epidemic is particularly bad in these sections. At Fullerton, according to Clarence Allen who teaches there, full one half of the students and pupils were out of school on account of the flu.

Locally, while the schools have not closed, there are many cases among the children, so much so that the attendance has dropped considerably. At Elliottville, according to John H. Bailey, principal of the Junior High School at that place, fifty were absent Monday of this week on account of illness, out of a total enrollment of 144 students. At Soldier where Allie Holbrook is principal, over 60 students were absent because of flu, out of an enrollment of 125.

Some of the cases have been particularly severe, disease manifesting itself in various forms. The most serious cases reported have been those of inta-linal flu. So far no deaths have occurred in this particular locality. The Morehead High School was dismissed Wednesday morning.

College Alumni measure Varsity 43-40

Handicapped by the loss of several of freshman material through a decided handicap for a probationary ruling of the Southern Interscholastic Athletic Association, the Morehead State Teachers College lost their first basketball game of the season here Thursday night to the alumni by a score of 43-40. It was a hard contest and the varsity led until the last minute of play, when Riddle, the leading scorer for the graduates, put the alumni ahead. Oxley, of the varsity, was the leader in points with a total of 18 to his credit.

In the preliminary game the freshmen defeated the Haldeman high school quintet handily by a score of 29-13.

The lineup: Varsity 40 Pos. 43 Alumni Oxley 18 F. 15 Riddle Combs 6 F. 14 Holbrook P. Caudill 14 C. 3 McNabb Queen 2 G. 9 Fraley Johnson 2 G. 2 Laughlin

Substitutions: Varsity, C. Caudill for Johnson; Alumni, Williams for McNabb; Prichard for Laughlin.

The game was particularly interesting from the viewpoint, especially from the insight into what Coach Downing will be able to produce for this year's team. Naturally the fact that the college has accepted the proposition in the S. I. A. A. for the coming year and will abide by their rules.

Adams and Caudill drove straight up Main street and blocked Trumbo arena where the thieves with the stolen car were obliged to go. The car coming at a high speed struck the taxi on the fender, narrowly missing Adams, who was stepping out. It swerved to the curb and got past Adams about one of the tires down and the thieves were forced to pull in at the Sam Caudill garage and leave on foot. Both were captured by Adams and Caudill. The sheriff of Georgetown, Ohio came the next day and took the two back after paying a reward of $25.00.

And on Saturday, two local boys were caught stealing a number of pairs of trousers from the car of Led Oppenheimer. The boys, "Rody" Elam and Wilmer Vaughn, 15 and 18 years of age respectively, were caught in the act of stealing the trousers. Elam was taken to jail while Vaughn led the police a chase which finally ended in his capture near Paragon by Chief Adams. A search of Vaughn's clothes led to the discovery of a number of knives which had been recently stolen from the Consolidated Hardware Company's store, and a quantity of jewelry, bracelets, neckties, etc. that had been stolen from a teacher's residence here within the past few weeks. Vaughn readily admitted the thefts. Both Elam and Vaughn are being held in the local jail under $2,000 and for the robberies.

Proceeding the Varsity-Alumni game the freshmen took on Haldeman for a round. They won by a top-heavy score. Oxley easily starred for the varsity with Allie Holbrook and Austin Riddle doing the heavy scoring for the alumni.

Under Frozen Skies

This was Jim's sole report of the Odyssey of the three friends of the Sturgeon valley and many a new moon was to swing above the white desert of lake Expans before Andrew Christie heard the story. Until the pellets of the Pipestone and the Sturgeon country packed the fur-loft of Sunset House, the lips of the three men were closed.

When the ice grew strong enough for sledding on the great lake, and the snow deepened in the forest, Jim and Omar would start back with the dogs; until then they were held prisoner at the post. One windless day, the lead-hued sky blanketed the sun and the air slowly went white. The "long snows" had come.

By the early cusp six inches had house two tobogganers' sleds had fallen. Outside the trade-house two toboggan sleds, their loads covered with tarpaulin wrappers and lashed waited for the early start, before dawn, under the stars.

At Christie's house Jim, the clerk McComb and the inspector sat at their supper. Following her custom, Mary had served them and retired to the kitchen.

"Yeh have plenty of furs hon you, eh?" demanded Christie, "extra teeth, I'll make a hole in yer supply and I don't want my dogs underfed."

"We made a big haul of whitefish and lake trout this fall; there's plenty I'll have your dogs back here in good shape before Christmas."

"What's all that noise about over at the trade house?" brie in McComb. The three men stopped eating to listen. "I hear cog bells ringing," said Jim, rising. "Don't suppose they've sent a packet through from the railroad?"

"That's just what it is," agreed Christie, rising with a mouth full of food.

Leaving the house, the three men walked through the falling snow toward the yellow low of the trade-house windows. In front of the building the post dogs circled and snarled around a panting team, whose driver held off Christie's huskies with a heavy whip while he talked to two company Indians.

"Mail packet!" mused Jim. "She'll get my letter, then, next week." While the driver led his tired dogs off to be fed, the mail pouch was brought into the trade room and eagerly opened.

Hoping against the inevitable, Jim waited as the inspector, squinting leisurely at the addresses, went thru the pile of letters and papers dumped on to trade-counter. Pitying him, possibly regretting the raw brutality of the note she had sent to Sunset house, Aurora might have written—might even have softened toward the man she had so suddenly thrust from her life. He waited, his heart stiffening with its beating. Then he stifled as Christie picked up the last letter.

"Hum! Miss Joan McCoy, Jackfish—"

Jim turned away to hide his disappointed face from the light of the lamp. She had done with him. He was a fool to think that Aurora-LeBlond carried pity in that wild heart of hers—pity for a former plaything of a fur trader buried far in the forest. Opening the sheet-iron stove, he dropped the letter he had written into the flamer.

They returned to the inspectors' quarters where Christie and McComb greedily read papers weeks old, while Stuart smoked apart with his thoughts.

He had finished his pipe and was about to turn in—for the sleep he would need before the early start, when he suddenly looked up to surprise Mary Christie watching him from the doorway leading to the kitchen. The eyes of the girl which for days had worn the cold difference of a stranger, were now soft with pity—gentle with the sympathy of a friend.

She beckoned to him, and rising, she followed her to the kitchen, where she closed the door. Then he noticed that she held a Wiifni-pap paper.

Without a word Mary handed the sheet to the man who vainly strove to fathom her swift change of mood. "I'm sorry, Jim," she said, "that it has come to you as well as to me." He glanced at the sheet that he held in his hands, and there, laughing up at him, was the face of Aurora LeBlond.

Under it he read: "Miss Aurora LeBlond, daughter of Louis LeBlond of the Northwest Trading Company, who is to marry Bruce McLauren, well-known Winnipeg business man." Jim let the paper slide to the floor. So it was McLauren, all the time? McLauren the smooth business man, her fathers financial backer. While the three went north to search for Jingwak, McLauren had wasted no time with the girl who doubted his love because he left her.

His eyes soft with compassion, Mary Christie watched the stricken face of Stuart.

After a space he lifted his eyes to hers. "Thank you, Mary," he said thickly. "We're getting an early start. I think I'll turn in."

Inseparable to his surroundings, like one in dreams, he stood staring at the floor; then with a deep breath, said: "God-bye, Mary!"

Like a blind man he groped his way from the room.

Soapy Dishwater

May Kill Hogs

Several cases of hogs poisoned with dishwater containing soap or other irritating materials have been brot to the attention of the department of animal pathology at the experiment station of the University of Kentucky.

Garbage is a good feed, says Dr. W. W. D. Moeck, but it should be free from soap substances. Lye is a poison. Hogs receiving a well balanced ration containing pasture may be able to survive dishwater with a limited amount of soap in it, but it always is dangerous.

Hogs affected by lye or other irritating substances in slop develop inflammation of the intestinal tract. They may live a few days, or even a recovery is possible if feeding dishwater is discontinued, or they may linger for a week or more and then die.

MORE LESPEDEZA

IN LOGAN COUNTY

Korean Lespedeza is tending to replace much of the red and sweet clover and alfalfa in Logan county, according to County Agent C. L. Hill. Lespedeza continues to do well, while a fourth to a half of the red clover sowed fails each year, which fact accounts for increasing interest in Lespedeza.

Mr. Hill estimates that 12,000 Logan county farmers sowed 250,000 pounds of Korean Lespedeza seed this year. 25 percent of which was for seed, 35 percent for hay and 40 percent for pasture.

The county's production this year is put at 100,000 pounds of seed, 10,000 tons of hay, 10,000 acres of straight pasture and 10,000 acres of Korean in pasture mixtures. Mr. Hill believes Korean Lespedeza was worth $200,000 to the farms of Logan county this year.

"Korean Lespedeza has spread into every corner of the county," he said, "and is adding to the pasture and hay resources in a way which can hardly be appreciated."

MOREHEAD SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Ximelia Deley, principal of the Morehead High School was stopping in Lexington Saturday. The high school students are planning a Christmas program Friday morning. They are going to have a Christmas tree and the pupils in each home room are going to exchange presents. The students will present a program in keeping with the Christmas spirit.

Miss Mildred Maynard was suffering with an attack of influenza Saturday, but she reported back at school Monday morning. Miss Marie Holbrook is improving but is still not able to be up. She is not expected to be back at school until after the Christmas holidays. Miss Katherine Powers has been substituting for Miss Marie Holbrook, since Miss Holbrook has been ill.

We take this opportunity to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

OBITUARY OF FATHER OF Z. T. TUSSEY

The following article was handed to us by Rev. Z. T. Tussey. It was published in Maysville in 1877 and is the obituary of Rev. Tussey's father, Sad Death.—We regret to learn of the sudden death by accidental shooting of Elder C. B. Tussey which occurred on last Monday, at his residence, in Rowan County, on the Flemingsburg road about four miles this side of Morehead. The circumstances as we learn them are about as follows: Early Monday morning Elder Tussey was out squirrel hunting, and getting on top of a stump looking up a tree for a squirrel he accidentally let the gun fall, the hammer struck the eye of the stump and the gun went off, the ball entering the body of Elder Tussey just below the naval inflicting a wound from which he died about 10 o'clock the same evening. Elder Tussey's death is greatly deplored by every one who knew him for he was an estimable citizen and good man. He was born in Jinn Valley, Tazewell county, Tenn., March 14th, 1838; and when eight years of age his father removed to Floyd county, where he remained until 1869, when he moved to Rowan county. He joined the M. E. Church when seventeen years of age and discontinued a membership of that church till 1868 when he took membership in the Christian Church. He was married to Miss M. J. radley daughter of Esq. Elias Bradley, by whom he had ten children. His death leaves a sorrowing wife and children and a host of distressed friends.

COZY THEATRE

Thomas Meighan plays the role of Carley, millionaire president of "The Garden." The picture, like "Grand Hotel," "Union Depot," and others of the one location type, deals with a group of people of diversified backgrounds who glide briefly into the action and then out again, their lives changed by the event in which they have participated. The story of the evening at "The Garden" of a manager and two players, and the latter's love affairs with two telegraph operators, bind the action together.

TAXES

Extension of time which is usually made by the governor. Ordinarily the extension is not announced until after January 1, and while no intimation of such an extension has been received by Mr. Butcher, and he has no means of knowing that such an extension will be granted. Many automobile owners are planning on waiting until after that date before purchasing their plates. Actually it will make no difference in the cost of the tags, whether they are purchased now or later, since the full year's cost must be paid at the time of purchase, provided the car has been driven throughout the period.

CHEVROLET

PRESENTS A NEW SIX

Longer • Larger • Faster • Smoother • New in Styling • More Economical • And Featuring Fisher No-Draft Ventilation

THIS is Chevrolet Week throughout America. And the new car that millions have been watching and waiting for—the latest product of the world's leading builder of automobiles—is now on display: the New Chevrolet Six—at a new scale of low prices. Front, side, rear—inside, outside—everything about this new car is advanced, improved, exciting. Longer wheelbase makes it the biggest automobile in today's low-price field. The latest principle of car design, "Aer-Stream" styling, gives it a totally different, ultra-modern appearance. The new Fisher bodies are larger, wider—faultlessly streamlined—swung lower to the road—and offer the first basic improvement in travel comfort in over ten years: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation; Chevrolet performance in every gear is faster, flashier, more brilliant. The time-proved six-cylinder engine is more powerful as well as more economical. Improved Free Wheeling is combined with a "silent second" Syncro-Mesh gear-shift. Chevrolet engineers have developed a remarkable new invention that wins a complete victory over vibration: The Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting. And as far as prices are concerned, several models now sell at the lowest figures in Chevrolet history. Chevrolet is able to do all this because Chevrolet has the advantage of being the world's largest builder of cars for 4 out of the past 6 years. Chevrolet builds cars in greater volume—buys materials in greater quantities—does everything on a bigger, more economical scale. Hence, Chevrolet is in a position to provide a better car at a better price than could possibly issue from any other source. The leader can accomplish what others dare not try!

MOREHEAD CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

On Monday night the Morehead Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Grace Ford for the annual Christmas party.

At the request of the hostesses Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Hirtley Battson, Mrs. M. P. Davis and Mrs. Anna Trumbo, no program had been arranged for by the program committee. After a brief business session, games of all kinds were played, from bridge to dominoes. A beautiful Christmas tree with a gift for each guest, was the center of attraction and contributed to the general atmosphere of good cheer and Yuletide spirit.

After several rounds of bingo, with prizes very much in evidence, a most delicious lunch was served by these most gracious hostesses. All departed, saying as they always do after an evening in this hospitable home, that they had enjoyed a most delightful evening.

Guests of the Club were Mrs. W. L. Jayne, Mrs. E. V. Hollis, Mrs. Roy E. Holbrook and daughter, Helen, and Mrs. Arlie Caudill.
