

'Klondike' Underwood's Ups and Downs in Life

Being a Continuation of Experiences Related by Him in Former Issues of the Times, Covering Incidents from Oct. '87 to His Return.

While many a time my cheek's been wet,
And with many a sad and sore regret
Many a thousand I have bet
On blackjack and roulette.
In many a gambler's hell I've been,
But never will again.

I write this, telling the bad and the good,
And it is a true story of Jim Underwood.
If you'll follow these lines until I get through
I will endeavor to interest you.

I have crossed the ocean's mighty deep,
And shot the White Horse Rapid,
Climbed the mountains high and steep
In a spirit almost waid.

It was in Arctic City I went broke
And almost persuaded to cut my throat,
But I got consolation from an Eskimo,
And proceeded to Dawson the balance to blow.

Now I will go back two years hence
And try to repair the journalist's fence.
At Pratt Center, Kansas, I left off
And traded my show for a farm and a foss.

It is now near nineteen years since I
Kissed my wife and daughter good-bye,
And with 60 cents in my pocket started
On my journey on that sad, eventful
Evening, wondering my way I knew not
Where, crossing many a rippling stream,
Some were clear and calm, while others
Came roaring down the mountain side,
Rushing on to the mighty deep.

At Pratt Center, Kas. I received a Letter from my folks, containing money and I immediately boarded a train for home.

This was in the spring of 1888, the year Grover Cleveland, by his last official act, signed the document which opened Oklahoma to settlement.

Well do I remember the boys rallying together with haggard faces and stranded hopes on the Southern Kansas line, devious ways by which we could get away from there.

"We organized a colony of 40 persons at the mouth of the Cimarron river, where we all had endured so many hardships and vicissitudes. Our only hopes should we have stayed was dog town, hot winds and prostrated soup."

In this company was B. W. Burchitt,
Jas. Kennedy, Alex. Frye, John W. Life,
Flagler, and other Carter County boys.

We got a surveyor's wagon, tents, etc., and taking a due east course crossed the Cimarron river at Deephole,

NEWS IN BRIEF

EPITOME OF A WEEK IN THE WORLD

Wm. J. Bryan escaped injury in a wreck at Belvidere, Ill., Monday. This is the fourth wreck from which Mr. Bryan has escaped unscathed.

Today is Winchester day at the Jamestown Exposition.

$250,000 in registered mail was stolen from a Burlington train between Denver, Col., and Oxford, Neb., last Sunday.

Seven day fever has appeared in New York for the first time in 25 years.

Yellow fever is spreading in Cuba.

The situation in the telegrapher's strike is still unchanged, both sides claiming the advantage.

The Chinese in Los Angeles are having trouble among themselves. Several murders have already resulted from the trouble is yet young.

The Bubonic plague has broken out in San Francisco. One death already and others to follow. Radical measures are being taken to check it.

Five men dropped to their death in a mine shaft near Pittsburg Saturday. Defective cable.

A pedestrian was held up in the business section of Cincinnati, at noon Saturday, and robbed of $450.

Crushed by a Horse.

Henry Ringo, of Mt. Sterling, while riding home from his business, was a victim of a serious accident Saturday. He was riding horseback and the horse becoming frightened, reared, fell backward and caught Mr. Ringo's leg under him. Both bones were broken below the knee and forced through the fish. Amputation will be necessary.

where between border bandits, Indians and quicksand many a man has lost his life. Entering No-Man's-Land at this point and crossing this dangerous territory we entered the 'Cheyenne and Arapahoe' reservations at Camp Supply. Our course then was 'down the North Canadian river.

Here I saw my first Indian village, tepees and wigwams, which reminded me of the Custer massacre.

Our spokesman was Bill McCarthy, an Irishman, who afterward became speaker of the first House of Representatives of Oklahoma. He was of the usual Irish type and quite witty.

An Indian's name is either John or Jane. Bill being quite inquisitive says: "Jane, where's John?" Jane says: "He gone huntin'."

I would respectfully submit that the worth of the Indian has been considerably overestimated. Of all the man-

God's green football is a noisy, smug, leering, lousy, contemptible, snaky-beating, dog-eating Indian. The government has endeavored to educate and enlighten them. This has its effect for the time, but they will return to their old habits and customs.

MRS. N. D. TABOR IS AGREEABLY SURPRISED

In honor of Mrs. N. D. Tabor's 30th birthday a jolly crowd gathered at the Tabor residence Saturday night and enjoyed themselves to the limit.

Mrs. Tabor was induced to go out walking, and taking advantage of her absence a large company gathered and decorated the house befittingly before her return. On returning home she was so bewildered that she knew not which way to look or turn.

Those in the parlor were being entertained by piano selections rendered by Miss Herno Morse. Those in the sitting room were engaged in interesting games and repartee, while those on the veranda listened to the melodious productions of two graphophones.

Refreshments in the way of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served in abundance, and notwithstanding the gloomy aspect of the weather the occasion proved the most enjoyable affair of the season.

Mrs. Tabor was the recipient of several valuable presents, chief among which was an elegant bracelet presented by her husband.

The departing visitors wished Mrs. Tabor many happy returns of the occasion.

Those present were: Mesdames Geo. Willhoit, R. Henderson, J. M. Erwin, B. Cassidy, C. James, I. Stegar, Tyree, J. Stamper, Damon, Misses Costeria Fultz, Goldie Erwin, Herna Morse, Arlie Burchitt, Violet Dennis, Marie Kees, Olive Bowden, Anna Jackson, Hazel Heck, Nora Fultz, Minnie Cales, Lizzie Hobbs, Georgia Field, Edna Jones, Cora Jackson, Norma Willhoit, Ora Garvin, Katheline Newell, Cora Dickerson, Rev. Wagner, and Messrs. O. R. Cales, Robert Ross, Walter Burchitt, Orme Cox, John Tackett, Ross Day, Ben Newell, Ollie Stegar, Milford Lewis, Lloyd Cales, Harry Sammons, Eugene Morgan, Clyde Sanders, John Garvin, John Henderson, Charles Henderson, James Cales and Ray Newell.

WILCOX-PETTIS.

It was my pleasure to solemnize the rights of matrimony between Mr. S. H. Wilcox and Miss Mamie Pettis, at the home of the bride, on the evening of Saturday, August 17.

Mr. Wilcox is employed at the Harrison-Walker brick plant and is a fine young man.

Miss Mamie Pettis, is one of Olive Hill's most beautiful and refined young ladies, and was at the time of her marriage employed at Big Sandy telephone exchange.

We can but predict a bright future for this young couple, and their many friends wish them well.

We are glad to learn they will make their home in this city.

E. L. HOWERTON.

Gas in Fleming.

Natural gas having been found in several places in Fleming county, a number of citizens are of the opinion that sufficient gas can be found there to furnish light and fuel for Flemingsburg and possibly other towns. An effort will be made at an early date to have a meeting of the citizens to organize a company to develop the field and test the matter.

W. V. Crawford.

W. V. Crawford, one of our most worthy farmer citizens, has been appointed delegate from Kentucky to the National Irrigation Congress, by Gov. Beckham. The Congress meets in Sacramento, Cal., September 2-7 next, and will no doubt be a great and important event.—Grayson Bugle.

Wants Fortune.

Mrs. Brennan of Paris, Ky., has brought suit to depose her brother, George Hamilton, as administrator of her mother's estate, in the Bath courts. She claims that $85,000 is due her as her part of the estate.

Reunion at Grayson.

The 13th Annual G. A. R. Reunion will be held at Oakland Park, Grayson, August 28-31.

MURKIN IN FLOYD MAY START FEUD.

News from through dispatches from Floyd county telling of a fight to the death between James and Keen Burchitt. It seems that Keen Burchitt, selling timber, allowed a log to roll down the hillside, and that it struck the little saw mill of James, who owned $10 damages.

It is said the men quarrelled and Keen threw stones at his cousin, who whipped him with a knife and made several lunges at Keen, who drew a revolver and shot James through the heart, killing him instantly.

Injunction Secured.

Attorneys for the Burley Tobacco Society yesterday filed a petition against James W. Gayle, the Owenton Warehouse and Ready Company and the L. & N. Railroad Company, asking for a temporary restraining order and injunction to prevent the defendants from removing any of the peeled tobacco of the growers' association from the county. A temporary order was granted by Judge Stegar immediately following the filing of the petition, and will come up for final hearing before Circuit Judge Canelec in vacation.

Ends in Row.

The camp meeting at Hedrick's, five miles east of Owsingsville, ended in a general row Saturday night, in which several shots were fired and several heads broken. One man had an ear cut.

WAR AGAINST CONSUMPTION.

Advertisements are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the 'white plague' that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and does not put you in danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some inferior preparation when you know that Foley's is safe and certain. The genuine is in a yellow box. Sold by C. B. Waring.

For the Farmer

FROM FARM AND HOME.

Hogs will be found one of the most useful crops that can be grown, not only for the table, but also for the stock, especially for hogs that are in pens. They can be produced at small cost and are among the most wholesome of stock foods.

Give the hogs plenty of shade and air. A tight, dark den is a poor place for hogs in hot weather. While a hog will drink dirty water, clean water will make better pork. Hogs must live on the ground to thrive, particularly in summer time.

One of the main advantages in keeping sheep is that they leave the land in better condition than before it was occupied by them. Every farmer who will properly manage his flock can improve the fertility of his soil from the resources of his farm by means of his sheep.

If cows are mowed while the pods are very small a new growth occurs, and sheep will prefer the second growth to any other.

If your grapevines are being damaged by the climbing cut worm, feed them a little arsenic mixed with bran and water and a little sugar mixed with it to give it a pleasant taste. Put a little of it around the base of each vine, and the cut-worm will soon disappear.

NEW PLANING MILL FOR OLIVE HILL.

The Olive Hill Milling Company is clearing the mill yard for the erection of an up-to-date saw and planing mill.

Work on the building is now under way.

A mill of large capacity and complete mechanical equipment will be put in operation, and the financial stability and business acumen of the men behind the venture insure its success from the start.

A detailed report will be given next week.

FORMER MAYOR ENDS HIS LIFE. CARTER COUNTY WOMAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING!

Paul C. Barth, former Mayor of Louisville, shot and killed himself Wednesday in the office of the Utica Lime Company, of which he was an officer.

He shot himself in the toilet room of the offices at 11:45 and died at 12:10 o'clock, having never regained consciousness.

It is supposed that falling health and recent developments in connection with the city affairs led to the act.

The Phantom Mine.

Swift's silver mine has been found some more. T. M. Beckett, an oil operator, claims to have found in Well county a vein of lead and silver of extreme richness and sixteen inches thick. He has sent a specimen to the State Geologist for analysis and believes he has found Swift's mine for which people have been looking for a hundred years.—Ex.

Women Save Shiner

Owingsville, Ky., Aug. 20.—United States Marshal Jackson and Dave Settles located John Kidd, accused of moonshining, in a house in Morgan county, and had him surrounded. In the house were several women with Kidd. One woman talked with Jackson at the front door, and two other women rushed out and held Settles, while Kidd rushed out into darkness. All the women were arrested.

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known remedy for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as an immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. For sale by C. B. Waring, Olive Hill, Ky.

UNDER THE TENTS.

Sun Brothers Promise An Afternoon and Night of Regal Splendor and Something New.

Thousands of artistic posters and other attractive advertising literature throughout this section of the country, make the long anticipated and happy announcement, that the ever-popular and mighty Sun Brothers' Famous Shows will exhibit in Olive Hill on the afternoon and evening of August 27th. This year every department of this already big amusement carnival has been enormously augmented. The number of performers employed doubles that of last season and the programme is now one of an ultra-meritorious character.

There is not an act presented in the entire performance that would create the faintest semblance of a blash to the cheek of the most fastidious. The Sun Brothers' Shows have always been the acme of chasteness. In the mammoth Zoological department are exhibited typical specimens of every species of animal life extant. A tour of this peerless department is of vastly more educational value than a trip through many of America's best known zoological gardens. "Music is the sunshine of the soul"; this poetic quotation has been born in mind by management, and the musical portion of the programme has not been neglected. A fine concert band of twenty men with four special soloists will give concerts, one hour previous to the beginning of the regular "big show" entertainment and this same organization will also render the harmony for the regular performances. As an introduction to the good things to be offered at the afternoon and evening performances in Olive Hill. A series of magnificent free exhibitions will be given on the show grounds at 11:30 a. m. These free out door fetes will be worth witnessing and will include "thrillers," daylight fire works, etc. The Messrs. Sun cordially invite the public to come and see these brilliant spectacles, even if they cannot attend the performance.

Difficult Breathing

Short breath, fluttering, palpitation, sinking spells are symptoms of a weak heart, struggling to do its work. It must keep the blood in circulation to carry nourishment to make flesh, bone and muscle, and remove the worn-out particles. When it cannot do this, it must have help. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure gives strength to the heart nerves and muscles, and increases the heart action.

"I am glad to say that I am so much improved in health. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me when several doctors failed. I think no other medicine could do for me what Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has done. My case was like that as it fast times that I thought it impossible to live without relief; the pain was very severe in my left side and my nerves was all unstrung. I had almost given up all hope of being cured and I said, 'surely I would not take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.' I took three bottles in recommending for with best results. SULLIVAN, Mo. MISS MARY C. SULLIVAN, Mo."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money. Write to Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Attorney W. D. King, of Olive Hill, a candidate for the Democratic nominee for Representative of the 100th Legislative District.

AUGUSTUS E. WILSON.

At Maysville last Monday Augustus E. Wilson opened his campaign for Governor of Kentucky in a speech which may prove to be a bomb in the ranks of the unorganized democrats and a new era in the government and prosperity of our great commonwealth.

Mr. Wilson's position on all questions of public interest was clearly defined without fear or evasion. The questions were discussed and dealt with in a manner which shows that Mr. Wilson thoroughly understands what is expected of him, and that he is entirely competent to deal with the state of affairs now existing in this state, and bring order, peace and prosperity out of chaos and confusion. His clearly defined position on the liquor question can but be commended by all law-abiding, home-loving citizens, both democrat and republican. His ideas are all for the good, and radicals on both sides of this momentous question are brought to a more clear understanding of reform and its accompanying benefits and evils.

The Grayson papers are relentlessly scouring the taxpayers regarding the low standard of the Grayson public school. The Bugle hands them this: "The Grayson 'Backwoods, Cross Roads' school begins Monday, Sept. 24. All those who have advanced pupils will please send them elsewhere."

From one of the best schools in Eastern Kentucky, our school has gone, at one bound, back into the anti-deluvian days—all but the puehchen benches."

The Grayson public school is limited to the common school branches. Can't teach anything higher than Ray's arithmetic, part 2. From forty to fifty bright boys and girls will be sent elsewhere to school or do without schooling. Why? No wonder county people are indignant. That school movement puts Grayson in the rear rank."

This may look a little tough, but a set of no account taxpayers who sit on goods boxes and argue politics all day and follow a pack of coon dogs all night neglecting the welfare of their children, deserve all this and more.

Senator Latimer, traveling on the Continent as a member of the Emigration Commission, in speaking of the class of emigrants from Italy and other foreign countries to the United States, says he was particularly struck by the efforts being made to prevent the shipment of undesirable persons and the sanitary precautions taken to prevent disease. If the Senator will read the recent New York dispatches he will note that a large number of New York residents, both male and female, have been struck by the class he deems so desirable, also that reports from Ellis Island do not quite agree with him on the sanitary condition.

The Moonshiners Trust is the latest. In Rowen county there is reported to be a thoroughly organized gang of moonshiners who sell their product through the medium of a man disguised, accompanied by armed guards. We do not know whether the bootleggers in this section belong to this gang or not, but from the occasional hilarious condition of some of our populace we would conclude that the oil of gladness is being peddled in our community.

The methods of corporations in causing dispatches to be circulated to create public censure in the case of labor troubles is cowardly in the extreme. The latest is that of a reported attack on an Arizona office of the Postal Telegraph Co. Any sensible person putting two and two together, would know this was a stab in the dark to create public sentiment against the striking telegraphers.

A camp meeting near Owingsville broke up in a big row Saturday night, in which one man lost his car and several others their religion. The dispatches did not state which of the belligerents got the collection plate. Anyway this sort of religion is to strenuous for your Uncle Charlie.

Beckham has at last realized the folly of insincerity. His reported call for the resignation of "White Wings" Bingham shows that he is convinced that his last plea for popularity, through the four-flushing reform method in Louisville has gone wrong.

Englishmen say that Jno. D. Rockefeller talks through his wig. No matter, circumstances lead us to believe that he has succeeded in talking the government out of that twenty-nine million fine.

The worm has turned. The barbers in convention in New York have decreed that the man who shaves himself must also cut his own hair. Exit safety razor.

Dr. Geo. Buck and his young bride are spending part of their honeymoon at his home, near Grayson. While a student in Louisville, he met his bride and while winning a diploma as a M. D., he won her heart and hand as his wife. He will locate in Idaho to practice medicine.—Grayson Bugle.

Unnecessary Expense. Acute attacks of Cholera and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it. THE CHAPERON SPEAKS

Isabel accepted a cup of tea as though under protest, took a slice of lemon gloomily and hunted for the sugar tongs with the air of one having a suppressed murder on her mind.

She wore a most becoming new frock and as her hair looked particularly well, being arranged in the latest mode, I could think of no explanation of her gloom, inasmuch as she is generally vivacious and cheerful. She laid down the cup, walked over to the dresser and admitted herself long and critically.

"It's so annoying to have to decide things," she snapped. "It upsets one so."

"Who is the man?" I asked to help her along.

"How did you know it was a man?" she queried fretfully. "It might have been dress goods or summer hotels. You know how long I've known Peter Hendricks—three years—and I don't know this minute whether I want to marry him or not. And I've got to decide—the insists on an answer."

"How inconsiderate of him!" I said as she waited.

"There's every reason on earth why I should marry him," went on Isabel fiercely. "He has position and education and charming ways and a good disposition and loads of money, and I don't see why I don't know my own mind."

"You've got your problem mist," I told her after an instant, during which she drank tea as though her life depended upon it. "You're not worrying in the least over whether you're going to marry Peter. You know very well you are, and you are trying to decide is whether or not you have the courage to marry Dick Bassett. Why waste time in this matter?"

"I give it up," I told her. "I'm sure I don't know—and you don't seem to. Of course it was foolish in you in the first place to ask Dick Bassett to fall in love with you. You should have said to yourself, 'He's big and honest and good looking and a gentleman and decidedly lovable, and the one man on earth Admired herself in the mirror. For me, but without bringing up expensive tastes his $1,500 a year settles him. It would be a pity to go alone. You should have been practical, Isabel."

"You don't believe a word you say," she flared out, her eyes very wide open. "It sounds horrid!"

"Don't!" I asked her to look offended. "You don't fancy that I am foolish enough to preach love in a fair room flat to you, do you?" It sounds beautiful in theory when the lovely young heiress deserts every habit of life she has been used to her poor, and her Paris gowns to the poor and her jewels to feed the chickens and blithely does a print dress in which to broil the beefsteak, and lives happily ever after. But it doesn't work—truly it doesn't. You couldn't keep your hands properly manicured."

"But if—a girl really cares—that would help," Isabel said, rather protestingly, studying the ring. "I didn't dream you were so worldly in your views."

GASNOW

A NEW SCHOOL FOR OUR THRIVING CITY

For some past work has been going on in an effort to secure the location of new Baptist College at this place.

The committee of our citizens who have had the work in hand and have toiled unceasingly to secure this institution, was rewarded Wednesday by receiving word from the building committee, at Louisville, that the propositions from our people have been accepted and that Olive Hill has been selected as the location of the new institution.

The College will be built by the Southern Baptist Association and about $100,000 have been appropriated for the construction of the buildings, the site having been donated by our citizens.

The Board stated that work would begin early next year, but our committee is making an effort to have the work commence earlier, with a good chance of success.

The advantages to be derived from the location of an institution of this character are inestimable, but we realize that Olive Hill, with this and other industries now locating here, will be at the head of the procession.

RAPID GROWTH OF DIVORCE.

More Husbands Than Wives Apply for Complete Dissolution.

The growth of divorce in England, as the United States has grown so rapidly, says the London Mail, that it is causing uneasiness to those who are concerned in the moral health of the nation. It is now 47 years since the divorce court was constituted. Before Jan. 1, 1858, complete dissolution of marriage could only be effected by act of parliament, and consequently it was a privilege enjoyed by the very rich alone.

In the first year of the court's existence it had to deal with 228 petitions. Fewer applications for release from the marriage tie were made during the second and third years. In the fourth year, 1861, low water mark was reached, the petitions numbering 236.

From that date up to the present time there has been a continuous rise. In the progress of trade or emigration, or any other affair measured by statistics, by frequent remissions.

The judicial statistics published this year, only go to 1903, and they show that in 1902 the highest point was touched. In that year there were a total of 1459 petitions for dissolution of marriage, judicial separation, nullity, restitution of conjugal rights, etc.

The South African war acted as a disturbing factor. Many members of the class among whom divorce is most common were away, and, therefore, unable to take action. Thus the petitions fell by nearly 100 in each of the first two years of the war, and rose when the war came to an end.

The acts of 1878, 1886 and 1895 endowed the poor with some of the privileges of the well-to-do, and here there is real occasion for alarm on the score of morality. Any wife proving desertion, refusal to maintain her, or aggravated assault, on the part of her husband, can obtain a separation order which carries a wage payment and maintenance at the discretion of the magistrate.

While husband and wife are parted forever, the divorce is not complete. Marriage with another would be bigamy. There is only one moral safeguard—the maintenance order is safeguarded against misconduct. The situation created is certainly hazardous.

Many curious facts are revealed by the judicial statistics. For instance, judicial separation is going out of fashion. Some people who cannot live happily together are disinclined to resort to measures for complete dissolution of the marriage and remain content with judicial separation, the old mensa et thoro. But the number has fallen 12 per cent since 1888. It is the case who keep it up. In 1903 the applicants for judicial separation comprised 56 wives and only four husbands.

More husbands than wives apply for complete dissolution. This is a curious fact, for it is true of other countries also where equal facilities are offered to the two sexes. The change in the status of women is shown; however, by a tendency in this difference to disappear.

A remarkable fact is that the increase of divorces corresponds with an older marrying age. People marry later in life now than formerly, and apparently with less judgment as to compatibility.

But more remarkable is the length of the husband and wives take to find each other out. On the average of five years (1898-1903), nearly half the petitions were filed by people who had been married from ten to twenty years.

SHOWING WALL PAPERS.

Conveniences for Exhibiting Under Artificial Light.

Silks have long been shown in stores, as distinguished, by artificial light, so that the customer may see how they will light up, how they will look at night. Nowadays wall papers are shown in like manner.

There are wall papers that look well by day but not so well by night, and then there are wall papers handsome by day that are much handsomer under artificial light—papers that light up well. And it is a common thing now for purchasers in selecting wall papers to look at them by daylight and also by artificial light.

Purchasers have, indeed, long done this in a way. The salesman would hold up for their inspection a roll of paper under a gaslight. But now in some wall paper establishments there are found electric lighted rooms in which wall papers can be shown as they would appear at night under artificial light on the wall.

The rooms for which papers are thus selected are likely to be no sleeping rooms, but rooms that are occupied by night as well as by day for living purposes—rooms in which it is important that the papers should light up well, and be gratifying to the eye—the parlor, the dining room and the library.

Natural History.

"The moth," remarked the man who assumes superior knowledge, "has never been credited with the sagacity it really possesses. The moth is an epicure."

"It'll eat anything in sight," replied his auditor.

"That's where you are wrong. It is a creature of taste and discernment. You have observed that it eats holes in your evening clothes, and only attacks your business suit when there is nothing else."

"Which is sheer cussedness."

"Not at all. When you attend a banquet you wear your evening clothes. And the moth's procedure conclusively demonstrates that it knows the difference between terrapin and champagne and plain restaurant soup."—Washington Star.

Universal Peace Not Yet In Sight.

By M. NEILDOFF, President of the International Peace Conference.

IT is by preventing TRIVIAL FRICTION in the relations between countries that the ground is prepared for an understanding when greater interests are at stake.

The solemn RECOGNITION OF THE PRINCIPLE OF ARBITRATION has already created among the various states a disposition to resort to arbitration for a settlement of disputes, the limits of which always have a tendency to widen. Thus since 1899 thirty-three arbitration conventions have been concluded between different states, but there is still more. For GRAVE complicated questions, capable of creating friction between the powers, have been submitted to The Hague tribunal, and the commission on inquiry established by the act of 1899 had to consider, as every one remembers, ONE CASE OF INFINITE GRAVITY, which might, without its happy intervention, have had MOST DANGEROUS CONSEQUENCES.

HOWEVER, LET US NOT BE TOO AMBITIOUS NOR FORGET THAT OUR MEANS OF ACTION ARE LIMITED, THAT NATIONS ARE LIVING BEINGS JUST LIKE THE INDIVIDUALS COMPOSING THEM, THAT THEY HAVE THE SAME PASSIONS, ASPIRATIONS, WEAKNESSES AND IMPULSES, AND THAT IF IN OUR DAILY LIFE IN THE COURTS OF JUSTICE, DESPITE THE SEVERITY OF THE PENALTIES WITH WHICH THEY ARE ARMED, WE FAIL TO PREVENT QUARRELS, BRAWLS AND FIGHTS BETWEEN INDIVIDUALS IT WILL BE THE SAME BETWEEN NATIONS, ALTHOUGH PROGRESS AND CONCILIATION AND THE PROGRESSIVE SOFTENING OF MANNERS CERTAINLY OUGHT TO DIMINISH THE NUMBER OF SUCH CASES.

Let us above all not forget that there is a whole class of questions in which the HONOR, DIGNITY AND ESSENTIAL INTERESTS of individuals as well as nations are engaged, and in which neither party, whatever the consequence, will recognize any authority than that of its judgment and personal sentiments.

But that should not discourage us from dreaming of the IDEAL OF UNIVERSAL PEACE AND THE FRATERNITY OF PEOPLES, which are, after all, but the natural higher aspirations of the human soul. Is not the pursuit of the ideal toward which we must always strive without ever reaching it the essential condition of all progress? Once a tangible object is attained enthusiasm ceases, whereas for the progress of any enterprise IT IS NECESSARY TO HAVE A CONSTANT STIMULUS AIMING AT SOMETHING HIGHER.

THEORY OF CHILD CULTURE

Luther Burbank Says Train Them as Fruits or Flowers

ENVIRONMENT A FACTOR

To Perfect the Human Race Begin with the Child—American of the Future to be Morally Beautiful and Intellectually Fit—A Work of Himination.

America's greatest naturalist expresses his views regarding child-culture, when he says:

The two forces to be considered in reproduction are heredity and environment. In child rearing environment is equally essential with heredity. Mind you, I do not say that heredity is of no consequence. It is a great factor and often makes environment almost useless. When the hereditary instincts are indelibly ingrained, environment will have a hard battle to effect a change in the child, but that a change can be wrought by the surroundings we all know. The particular subject may be stubborn against the influence of environment, but repeated application to the same modifying forces in succeeding generations will accomplish the desired objects.

All animal life is sensitive to environment. You can change the order by gradually changing its environment, and you know the ox is a very low type of life. Take an ox, a horse, a dog, a man, and that which counts most in the development of each is environment. Of all animate things, the child is the most sensitive. Surroundings act upon it as the outer work act upon the plate in the camera. Every possible influence acting exteriorly will leave its impress on the child, and the traits which are inherited may overcome to a certain extent, in many cases almost being even more apparent than heredity.

There is no doubt that if a child with a vicious temper be placed in an environment of peace and quiet, the temper will cease, and out of the temping will grow a quiet child, and he will grow up like an Indian. Let the child born of criminal parents have a setting of morality and decency, and the chances are that he will not grow into a criminal, but an upright man.

I do not say that heredity will not sometimes assert itself to some extent, of course. When the criminal instinct crops out in an individual it might appear as if environment were powerless to affect it. In a higher environment it will become fixed.

We live America a nation with the blood of half the peoples of the world within our veins. We are crossed than any other nation in the history of the world. All the necessary crossing has been done, and now comes the work of elimination, the work of refining, until we get an ultimate race that will be the finest human race known. In no doubt this country which will produce that specimen. Many years will be consumed before the finished work is attained, but it is sure to come.

The characteristics of the many peoples that make up this nation will show in the composite with many of the best characteristics remaining. The finished product will be the race of the future.

Sometimes I am appalled when I read of the increase of insanity, suicide, murder, the ill of the flesh. Statistics show many things to make us pause, but after all the proper point of view is that of the optimist. The time will come when insanity will be reduced, suicides and murders will be fewer and man will become a being of few ill habits and few sins. Wherever you have a nation in which there is no variation there is comparatively little insanity or crime or exalted morality or gentleness. Here in America, where the variation is greatest, the statistics show a greater percentage of insanity and all other variations. As time goes on in its endless and ceaseless course environment will crystallize the American nation. Its varying elements will become unified, and the resulting out process will probably leave the finest human product ever known. The color, the perfume, the size, the shape that were manifested in plants will have their analogies in the composite, the American of the future.

In my work with plants and flowers I introduce order and regularity there, size or perfume, according to the products desired. In such processes the teachings of nature are followed. Its great forces only are employed. All that has been done for plants and flowers nature has already accomplished for the American people. By the crossing of bloods strength has in one instance been secured, in another intellectuality, in still another moral force. Nature alone could do this. The work of man's head and hand could not be summoned to prescribe for the development of a race.

Willing to Compromise.
The poor but honest young man had bearded the millionaire in his den. "Well," he said, "I want to marry your daughter."

"Impossible, sir, impossible!" exclaimed the old man. "Why, I would give up every dollar I have left with my only daughter."

"Very well," calmly rejoined the diplomatic youth, "if that's the way you feel about it I won't be too heavy on you. Just write me out a check for half a million and we'll let it go at that."

Rings Round Eyes

The ill's peculiar to women, take different forms. Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express. Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of your troubles, the weakened womanly organs.

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. M. C. Austin, of Memphis, Tenn., writes: "For five (5) years I suffered with every symptom of female disease, but after using the well-known Cardui Home Treatment, I was entirely well."
