

From the Washington Union. Appeal to the Country. The following eloquent and animated address of the Central National Republic...

Address of the Central National Republic to the Democracy of the United States.

BROTHERS: We deem it our duty to address you briefly upon the present aspect of the presidential campaign.

At the outset we assure you that nothing has yet occurred which has shaken our confidence in the success of the democratic party...

We would address the old democracy—the supporters of Jefferson, Madison, and Jackson...

To our naturalized fellow-citizens—to Frenchmen; Germans, Irish, English, now citizens of the United States...

We repeat, we see nothing in the present aspect of the campaign to lead us to doubt, for a moment, the final success of the democratic party in November.

The Contrast. Gen. Cass has been acknowledged one of the ablest statesmen our country has ever produced.

Zachary Taylor himself confesses his want of knowledge upon the great questions of the day.

Zachary Taylor was selected on account of his BRILLIANT TALENTS and able statesmanship.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, will fasten this great engine of corruption.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, would retain an iniquitous high tariff bill.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, would impose such a bill thereby entailing an unjust and oppressive law upon the laboring poor.

democratic brethren of the Union, be of good cheer. Your final success is certain. If you do your duty manfully and faithfully...

We speak plainly to you, because we would not disguise from you the necessity of manly and manly efforts.

The unexpected gains of our opponents have aroused them from the gloomiest despair to wild and unreasonable hope.

We would address the old democracy—the supporters of Jefferson, Madison, and Jackson...

To our naturalized fellow-citizens—to Frenchmen; Germans, Irish, English, now citizens of the United States...

We repeat, we see nothing in the present aspect of the campaign to lead us to doubt, for a moment, the final success of the democratic party in November.

The Contrast. Gen. Cass has been acknowledged one of the ablest statesmen our country has ever produced.

Zachary Taylor himself confesses his want of knowledge upon the great questions of the day.

Zachary Taylor was selected on account of his BRILLIANT TALENTS and able statesmanship.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, will fasten this great engine of corruption.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, would retain an iniquitous high tariff bill.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, would impose such a bill thereby entailing an unjust and oppressive law upon the laboring poor.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, would fasten this great engine of corruption.

Zachary Taylor, if elected, would retain an iniquitous high tariff bill.

The Two Faces of Whiggery.

There is a profound mystery prevailing over the opinions of Gen. Taylor...

Of the fact that he is variously presented, and for the most insidious and fraudulent purposes, there cannot be the smallest doubt.

The South was assured by Mr. Prentiss the other day, in Kentucky, that Gen. Taylor would veto the provision...

In the first place, he (Mr. Corwin) alluded to a statement made by Mr. Giddings at the meeting...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

There is not a prominent whig leader in the north who has not received a copy of the copy of the Whig party...

Arrival of the BRITANNIA.

From the Cincinnati Commercial. The Steamship Britannia has arrived, bringing a week's later intelligence from Europe...

There had been an engagement between Cabrera and a numerous band, and the Queen's troops, near Loja, in Catalonia...

The Danish Government issued an official circular contradicting reports of its disposition to accept a modification of the Armistice.

Louis Napoleon had taken his seat in the Assembly. He made a speech giving his adhesion to the Republic...

The excitement caused by the Paris elections was subsiding, but great caution was still used. Posts were doubled, and the garrisons were always ready...

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

Later from Europe.

Important from the Continent.—France Quiet.—No further Irish Disturbances.—The Markets, &c.

There had been an engagement between Cabrera and a numerous band, and the Queen's troops, near Loja, in Catalonia...

The Danish Government issued an official circular contradicting reports of its disposition to accept a modification of the Armistice.

Louis Napoleon had taken his seat in the Assembly. He made a speech giving his adhesion to the Republic...

The excitement caused by the Paris elections was subsiding, but great caution was still used. Posts were doubled, and the garrisons were always ready...

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

There was an insurrection in Cologne, in consequence of the arrest of persons charged with Revolutionary movements.

Change. CORN, 35 to 36 1/2—MEAL 17 1/2 to 18—FLOUR, duty paid, 32 to 33 1/2.

The result of the Ohio election for Governor is in a great doubt as yet—A Telegraphic dispatch from Philadelphia, late last evening, (19th) states that the race is so close in Pennsylvania...

The Washington Union contains the following despatches from Harrisburg and Philadelphia, under date of Oct. 18th: Received from Harrisburg, Oct. 18th: Last phase of the House of Representatives...

Received from Philadelphia at 10 p. m. Our footings this evening at 7 p. m., are: For Johnson, 24,397; for Cass, 24,397. Elk and Forrest, 24,397. Elk and Forrest, 24,397. Elk and Forrest, 24,397.

Received from Philadelphia at 10 p. m. Corrected footings: Longstreth 24,397; Johnson, 24,397. Elk and Forrest, 24,397. Elk and Forrest, 24,397. Elk and Forrest, 24,397.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 20, 8 p. m. The official vote from Philadelphia reduces Weller's majority 200 votes—This will be sufficient to elect Ford.

Latest Stroke. Cincinnati, Oct. 24, 10 o'clock, P. M. Governor, Ohio will not be decided until the Legislature meets. Pennsylvania's official Longstreth's majority, one. Baltimore, 24,397; Johnson's majority, ninety-eight.

THE CAUSE which has conspired to elect Johnson, the Whig candidate, are as follows:—The Free Soilers, of whom there are many, committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

The Quakers, of whom also there are many, also committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

The Quakers, of whom also there are many, also committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

The Quakers, of whom also there are many, also committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

The Quakers, of whom also there are many, also committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

The Quakers, of whom also there are many, also committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

The Quakers, of whom also there are many, also committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

The Quakers, of whom also there are many, also committed no error at their State Convention; but recommended that their votes be cast for the Whig nominee.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP NIAGARA.

From our Extra of Friday, Oct. 23d. FLAG OFFICE, MAYSVILLE, Oct. 20, 2 o'clock, P. M. Yesterday's Philadelphia News ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP NIAGARA.

We have just received the following despatch which we hasten to lay before our readers in advance of the city columns.

The result of the election, we will just say that we have information from other sources, which warrants us in saying that the report puts it down doubtful.

We extract the following from a private letter, received from an intelligent gentleman in Curtin's county.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

What of Pennsylvania?—The Taylorites are making great calculations on the vote of Pennsylvania.

THE AGONY IS OVER.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The election is over. The result whatever it may be, is a fixed fact. We are glad it is over. We breathe more freely. The incubus which has tortured the free soil party is removed.

The Campaign Flag.

The star-spangled Banner—long may it wave, O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

Wednesday, October 25, 1848.

REMEMBER THIS!

Let it not be forgotten that the Presidential Election will continue but ONE DAY, the present year, and that it will be held, in all the STATES, on TUESDAY the 7th day of NOVEMBER NEXT.

Democratic Meeting in Sardinia!

We are requested to state that the Democracy of Old Mason, and the neighboring counties, will meet at SARDINIA, on the FIRST SATURDAY IN NOVEMBER, (the Saturday before the election), for the purpose of hearing good speaking, and consulting together for the public good.

Will not our Agents and friends in all parts of Kentucky, and other States, use some exertions, in order to increase the circulation of the KENTUCKY FLAG? Suppose each present subscriber would take upon himself to procure and forward one more name; it would be of great advantage to us, and no disadvantage to them.

One number after this closes the first year of the publication of the FLAG in this city. How many new subscribers shall we have the pleasure of adding to our list for the year which is now closing?

Chowing too soon—Our Whig neighbors of the Herald were crowing over the defeat of the Hon. Wm. Allen, of Ohio, in his paper last week, as though he would no longer be Senator for the 4th of March next.

The Whigs will be better satisfied if they lose their Governor in Ohio, than they are with the election of Dr. Olds and the certainty of the re-election of Senator Allen.

There was a fearful war of elements; dark and frightful were the clouds which overcast the horizon; the lightning's vivid glare and the thunder's terrified roar sent horror and dismay to the bosom of every member of the household; gloom sat every one's brow, and consternation deepened their eyes.

There was a fearful war of elements; dark and frightful were the clouds which overcast the horizon; the lightning's vivid glare and the thunder's terrified roar sent horror and dismay to the bosom of every member of the household; gloom sat every one's brow, and consternation deepened their eyes.

Not exactly; but a "combination of influences" threw them out of the original Ford; and as they were candidates for their own for the Presidency, Gen. Cass distance the field.

Indeed, they did not consider that they had candidates of their own, and a combination of influences threw them into the arms of Weller.

Not exactly; but a "combination of influences" threw them out of the original Ford; and as they were candidates for their own for the Presidency, Gen. Cass distance the field.

The Meeting at Dover.—The speeches, &c.

The meeting at Dover on Saturday was equally large as we anticipated, for that place, and everything passed off to the entire satisfaction of those present.

Dr. A. K. MASON was first introduced to the meeting, who proceeded to address the multitude in one of the most eloquent and dignified speeches to which we have listened since the opening of the campaign.

Let it not be forgotten that the Presidential Election will continue but ONE DAY, the present year, and that it will be held, in all the STATES, on TUESDAY the 7th day of NOVEMBER NEXT.

Democratic Meeting in Sardinia! We are requested to state that the Democracy of Old Mason, and the neighboring counties, will meet at SARDINIA, on the FIRST SATURDAY IN NOVEMBER, (the Saturday before the election), for the purpose of hearing good speaking, and consulting together for the public good.

Will not our Agents and friends in all parts of Kentucky, and other States, use some exertions, in order to increase the circulation of the KENTUCKY FLAG? Suppose each present subscriber would take upon himself to procure and forward one more name; it would be of great advantage to us, and no disadvantage to them.

One number after this closes the first year of the publication of the FLAG in this city. How many new subscribers shall we have the pleasure of adding to our list for the year which is now closing?

Chowing too soon—Our Whig neighbors of the Herald were crowing over the defeat of the Hon. Wm. Allen, of Ohio, in his paper last week, as though he would no longer be Senator for the 4th of March next.

The Whigs will be better satisfied if they lose their Governor in Ohio, than they are with the election of Dr. Olds and the certainty of the re-election of Senator Allen.

There was a fearful war of elements; dark and frightful were the clouds which overcast the horizon; the lightning's vivid glare and the thunder's terrified roar sent horror and dismay to the bosom of every member of the household; gloom sat every one's brow, and consternation deepened their eyes.

There was a fearful war of elements; dark and frightful were the clouds which overcast the horizon; the lightning's vivid glare and the thunder's terrified roar sent horror and dismay to the bosom of every member of the household; gloom sat every one's brow, and consternation deepened their eyes.

Not exactly; but a "combination of influences" threw them out of the original Ford; and as they were candidates for their own for the Presidency, Gen. Cass distance the field.

Indeed, they did not consider that they had candidates of their own, and a combination of influences threw them into the arms of Weller.

Not exactly; but a "combination of influences" threw them out of the original Ford; and as they were candidates for their own for the Presidency, Gen. Cass distance the field.

Indeed, they did not consider that they had candidates of their own, and a combination of influences threw them into the arms of Weller.

Laughable.

We find the following startling announcement in the last Danville (Ky.) Tribune, coon and all. The editor has certainly just awakened from a Rip Van Winkle sleep of a week or more:

Electors News.—Pennysylvania, Georgia, Ohio, Florida and Delaware—call for the Whigs, and probably South Carolina.

Friend Zimmerman certainly does not "think the papers," or "is so much troubled" that the Democrats have triumphed everywhere, except in Pennsylvania, and that even there, the contest is doubtful.

Oh! the walls of despair, the lamentations of our Democratic friends, on account of the defeat of the Whigs, in the election of Governor, heard in the States of Pennsylvania, Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina, are truly heart-rending.

"Disaffection," eh! If the union of all the factions in Pennsylvania against the Democratic candidate for Governor, has caused his defeat, it is no more than might have been expected; but we have that loss fully made up in Ohio, where you confidently expected a majority of 20,000 for Old Sully. But that sort of "lamentation" which is heard in the Democratic camp, over Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina, is just such a "noise" as we like to hear.

Col. Thomas H. Holt. The Louisville Democrat of the 16th, contains the following notice of this eloquent and patriotic speaker, which we transfer to our columns for the gratification of his numerous friends in this region:

"On Saturday night, a large meeting assembled at the Court House, to hear Col. Holt, and they were not disappointed. Mr. Holt has spoken with a freedom and courage which we were not unacquainted with his abilities as a public speaker.

"This fight—Give them guns." The Mr. Vernon Banner is down upon Letcher, Metcalf, and all the stampers from this State now in Ohio, like a thunder-bolt.

"Whigs who had doubts have become already convinced, and calculate with certainty upon their success in the coming election."

General Taylor has adopted the same plan, and after he is "beaten" in November, he shall hear his opinions of whiggery fully expressed.

Tom Corwin's Ripley Speech on the Whilom Frowner. The Eagle and Herald have both been blabbering over Tom Corwin's speech at Ripley so much, that people who were not there to hear it, may possibly conclude that it amounted to something like common sense.

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"No prescription for opium's sake."

This was the Whig cry in 1840, when they were humberging the Democracy into the support of "Tip and Ty," and it has been revived since the nomination of the slaughter house candidate.

Let the friends of Henry Clay read his words and ponder, before casting their votes for General Taylor!

THE QUESTION OF HENRY CLAY OR ELEVATING MILITARY OFFICERS TO THE PRESIDENCY.—"No prescription for opium's sake," yet, it is said that a gentleman in Mason county is already boasting of having received assurances from the Old General that he shall be made Post master for this city, in case General Availability succeeds in getting to the White House.

Col. Thomas H. Holt. The Louisville Democrat of the 16th, contains the following notice of this eloquent and patriotic speaker, which we transfer to our columns for the gratification of his numerous friends in this region:

"On Saturday night, a large meeting assembled at the Court House, to hear Col. Holt, and they were not disappointed. Mr. Holt has spoken with a freedom and courage which we were not unacquainted with his abilities as a public speaker.

"This fight—Give them guns." The Mr. Vernon Banner is down upon Letcher, Metcalf, and all the stampers from this State now in Ohio, like a thunder-bolt.

"Whigs who had doubts have become already convinced, and calculate with certainty upon their success in the coming election."

General Taylor has adopted the same plan, and after he is "beaten" in November, he shall hear his opinions of whiggery fully expressed.

Tom Corwin's Ripley Speech on the Whilom Frowner. The Eagle and Herald have both been blabbering over Tom Corwin's speech at Ripley so much, that people who were not there to hear it, may possibly conclude that it amounted to something like common sense.

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

Tom's superior, in point of intelligenc.

If this is to be taken as a criterion by which to judge them. We should really like to know what such a speech has to do with the Wilmot Proviso? But we will not detain the reader with any further preliminary remarks, except to say that the speech was reported by a gentleman (Whig, of course), representing the columns of the Eagle, and the editor of that paper thinks it one of the most admirable efforts ever made by mortal man.

Let the friends of Henry Clay read his words and ponder, before casting their votes for General Taylor!

THE QUESTION OF HENRY CLAY OR ELEVATING MILITARY OFFICERS TO THE PRESIDENCY.—"No prescription for opium's sake," yet, it is said that a gentleman in Mason county is already boasting of having received assurances from the Old General that he shall be made Post master for this city, in case General Availability succeeds in getting to the White House.

Col. Thomas H. Holt. The Louisville Democrat of the 16th, contains the following notice of this eloquent and patriotic speaker, which we transfer to our columns for the gratification of his numerous friends in this region:

"On Saturday night, a large meeting assembled at the Court House, to hear Col. Holt, and they were not disappointed. Mr. Holt has spoken with a freedom and courage which we were not unacquainted with his abilities as a public speaker.

"This fight—Give them guns." The Mr. Vernon Banner is down upon Letcher, Metcalf, and all the stampers from this State now in Ohio, like a thunder-bolt.

"Whigs who had doubts have become already convinced, and calculate with certainty upon their success in the coming election."

General Taylor has adopted the same plan, and after he is "beaten" in November, he shall hear his opinions of whiggery fully expressed.

Tom Corwin's Ripley Speech on the Whilom Frowner. The Eagle and Herald have both been blabbering over Tom Corwin's speech at Ripley so much, that people who were not there to hear it, may possibly conclude that it amounted to something like common sense.

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

THE AGE OF INVENTION!

Colver's Patent Case-Beater Churn. Patented September 9th, 1848.

THE merits of this Churn have surpassed the merits of all who have witnessed its operation. Its structure is simple, its action easy, motion superior strength, sure and lasting advantage of its construction, and triumph over anything of the kind ever invented.

Let the friends of Henry Clay read his words and ponder, before casting their votes for General Taylor!

THE QUESTION OF HENRY CLAY OR ELEVATING MILITARY OFFICERS TO THE PRESIDENCY.—"No prescription for opium's sake," yet, it is said that a gentleman in Mason county is already boasting of having received assurances from the Old General that he shall be made Post master for this city, in case General Availability succeeds in getting to the White House.

Col. Thomas H. Holt. The Louisville Democrat of the 16th, contains the following notice of this eloquent and patriotic speaker, which we transfer to our columns for the gratification of his numerous friends in this region:

"On Saturday night, a large meeting assembled at the Court House, to hear Col. Holt, and they were not disappointed. Mr. Holt has spoken with a freedom and courage which we were not unacquainted with his abilities as a public speaker.

"This fight—Give them guns." The Mr. Vernon Banner is down upon Letcher, Metcalf, and all the stampers from this State now in Ohio, like a thunder-bolt.

"Whigs who had doubts have become already convinced, and calculate with certainty upon their success in the coming election."

General Taylor has adopted the same plan, and after he is "beaten" in November, he shall hear his opinions of whiggery fully expressed.

Tom Corwin's Ripley Speech on the Whilom Frowner. The Eagle and Herald have both been blabbering over Tom Corwin's speech at Ripley so much, that people who were not there to hear it, may possibly conclude that it amounted to something like common sense.

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

"We are told, in an authentic manner, that the failures are not caused at Mayville, although the F. master there is known to be often absent from his office, making political and electing speeches, when he ought to be attending to the duties of his office."

FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.