Work Is Started On Terminal For Point Express

Construction was begun here this week on a 6,000-foot brick bulk terminal for Point Express, a truck line serving all of Eastern Kentucky.

Located on a two-acre site near the intersection of U.S. 60 and Ky. 22 east of Morehead, it is expected to be completed by Aug. 1, Robert Null, who will be in charge of the new installation said Tuesday.

Seven families will move to Morehead as a result of the location of the terminal here. Most will come in July, Null said.

There is a possibility, he declared, that as many as 20-25 additional families will be moved to Morehead by the company by the end of this year.

The facility—termed a break-bulk terminal because full-trailer shipments will be broken down here for trans-shipment to other Eastern Kentucky cities will serve all of Eastern Kentucky, including Pikeville, Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Salisbury, West Union, Sandy Hook, Maysville, Grayson, Olive Hill, Flemingsburg and other communities.

Freight shipped to the Morehead terminal will come from larger facilities at Lexington, Huntington and Columbus, Null said. Equipment which the firm will utilize in its hauling operations will include 10 diesel tractors, 25 trailers and two 20-foot straight trucks, which will be pressed into service for city delivery in Morehead.

The terminal will be 100 feet by 60 feet and the two-acre plot will be surrounded by a chain link fence.

Null said freight service into Morehead and into the area which the installation will serve, should be speeded up considerably. The first freight destined for cities which the local facility will serve has been directed from terminals at Lexington, Huntington, Charleston and Cincinnati.

Wildlife May Find Easier Living On National Forest

Supervisor Robert F. Collins, of the Cumberland National Forest, has recently announced that thanks to an extensive habitat improvement program, wildlife here this spring on Kentucky's Cumberland National Forest may find life considerably easier than did their fore-bearers.

Financed in part by the Accelerated Public Works Program, habitat improvement projects of watershed construction and clearing development are designed to make marginal areas of big game habitat productive of increased populations of deer, wild turkeys, and other woodland wildlife. The success of these projects is expected to be reflected in the increased use and enjoyment of the wildlife resources by sportsmen, nature lovers and the casual forest visitor, Collins said.

Seasonal scarcity of drinking water in the uplands and an unfavorable distribution of forest openings were reported by U.S. Foresters and game biologists of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, as limiting factors which had hindered the expansion of resident turkey hawks and deer herds. The program of habitat development was designed to alleviate this problem through a systematic approach concentrating first on the areas of greatest need. Eventually permanent waterholes and small 1-acre clearings will be dispersed forest-

July 1 Visit Set By Bloodmobile

The mobile unit of the American Red Cross Blood program will be in Doran Student House on the Morehead State College campus, July 1.

Blood Program Chairman John Collins said exact hours will be announced. Individuals in our community and county citizens to benefit immeasurably from this program," Collins pointed out. "It will be in providing ample coverage for all by becoming a donor."

Bob Fraley Promoted By P.O.

Appointment of Robert G. Fraley, a 24-year veteran of service with the Morehead Post Office, as assistant postmaster here was announced this week. P. Nolan, director of the Post Office Department's Cincinnati region, disclosed Fraley's appointment to succeed Herman (Flem) Cooper who retired recently.

Fraley, who has been a substitute clerk since he entered postal service here on Dec. 16, 1940, assumed his duties Saturday. He had been acting in this capacity since Mrs. Cooper became ill several months ago. A Morehead native, Fraley is a 1939 graduate of Breckinridge Training School. He is married to the former Mildred Brown and they have two children, Robert Douglas, an accountant in Houston, Tex., and Ruth Ann, a student at Morehead State College.

Camping Period Set For 4-H Members

Teen-age members of Rowan County 4-H Clubs will have an opportunity to attend Camp Feltner in Johnson County June 15-19.

Assistant County Agent Ronald Hilslope said 4-H members from eight other area counties will also be at the same time. Cost is $8.50 per person.

WATER FOR WILDLIFE—A program of providing easier access to water for wildlife in the Cumberland National Forest is underway and this helps and the adjoining clearing provides seasonal requirements of deer and wild turkey access to water. One such project has been completed in the Morehead area.

Dairy Shows Bring 'Dividend' of Tourists

AYRSHIRE DAIRYMEN and their families tour Darby Dan Farm, in Fayette County, earlier this year during their Kentucky visit for the purebred national show and sale. They're typical of the dairy folk from around the nation who are amazed at not only the beauty of the thoroughbred farms and facilities but also the big business of the industry itself. The dairymen are promoters back home of Kentucky tourism. They also plan other tours of Kentucky while in the state for the shows. At right is a statue of Swaps, 1955 Kentucky Derby winner purchased by John Galbreath, Darby Dan owner, for $2 million.

Jaycees Set Safety Survey, Plan Drive For Library Tax

Morehead's Junior Chamber of Commerce this week announced a series of activities for the coming months, including: a safety inspection survey; plans for submitting a petition for placing a library tax on the November ballot; an awards banquet honoring Jaycees and other individuals; and plans for a library tax on the November ballot.

Organization Of Caudill Cemetery Set

Incorporators of the Caudill Cemetery Association this week announced that an organizational meeting of all persons interested in the cemetery will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 7:30 p.m. in the Peoples Bank.

Dr. Everett Blair, president of the corporation, said a board of directors will be elected, and the group will discuss fund raising for repaving the road and beautifying the plot.

The possibility of developing new burial plots will also be discussed. The corporation is made up of persons who have relatives or friends buried in the Cemetery, and Blair pointed out that an effort is underway to improve it.

The Jaycee awards banquet, held last week, was a success. The corporation is made up of persons who have relatives or friends buried in the Cemetery, and Blair pointed out that an effort is underway to improve it.

Cave Run Hearing Set For July 24 In RCHS Gymnasium

Three Hurt In Two-Car Collision Here Friday

A two-car accident in which three persons were injured highlighted the State Police report on Rowan County automobile accidents this week.

The mishap took place Friday at 6:30 p.m. about one-half mile east of Morehead on Ky. 22 and involved cars driven by Virginia K. Porter, 21, of Rt. 3, and Sidney Lowell Barnett, 36, also of Rt. 3.

Injured were the Porter woman, a passenger in her car, Fern Pennington, 40, of Rt. 3, and Barnett.

Mrs. Pennington is a patient in St. Claire Medical Center, suffering from severe lacerations to the face. Her condition is reported satisfactory.

Barnette, after emergency treatment for head injuries, was transferred to St. Claire Hospital in Lexington for further care, while the Porter woman was admitted to St. Claire, but was released earlier this week.

A passenger in the Barnett car, Willard Jones, 47, of Rt. 3, was not hurt. Trooper Marion Campbell said Barnett was driving Ky. 32, apparently lost control of his car when he spooled his brakes and they pulled the vehicle sharply to the left, causing it to strike the Porter car.

The investigation showed that Barnett's car skidded 110 feet. A car driven by Dexter C. Stinson, 38, of Morehead, made a left turn into the path of an oncoming car and collided with it last Wednesday on Ky. 32, near the Morehead city limits.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in the Cranston Church of God, Rev. R. A. Reynolds officiated.

Burial was in Brown Cemetery under the direction of Lane Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Tommie White, Paul Eugene White, Jimmie White, Joe Brandenburg and Elwood Butler.

Councilmen Absent, Meeting Postponed

City Council failed to muster a quorum Monday night for its regularly monthly meeting, and the session was postponed until next Monday.

Mayor Eldon T. Evans and Councilmen N. C. Marsh, Austin regular monthly meeting, showed up for the meeting, but it takes four members of council to constitute a quorum.

E. Blevins, 60, Claimed By Death

A former General Refractories Company employee, Estill Blevins, died June 11 in St. Claire Medical Center following a two-day illness. He was 60.

Blevins, a resident of Rt. 3, was a native of Carter County. He was born Apr. 7, 1904, a son of J. W. Blevins and the late Nancy Wilson Blevins.

Surviving in addition to the father are the wife, Ella Blevins, who he married in 1924, and two daughters, Mrs. Gene Barber, Shelby, O., and Mrs. Gene Barber, Shelby, O.

Five brothers and sisters also survive. They are: Opal Tompkins, Morehead, Rt. 3; Ada Sutton, Graham; Orville Blevins, Alliance, O.; Arnold Blevins, Greenup; and Arthur Blevins, Graham.

Funeral services were held at the home on Hayes Branch last Thursday. Rev. Earl Stevens and Rev. Elmer C. Gifford officiated.

Engineers To Describe Job For Public

A public hearing on the $25-000,000 Cave Run Reservoir project has been scheduled for next month in Morehead.

Alpha Hutchinson, executive secretary of the Cave Run Reservoir Association, said Wednesday that the session would be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Rowan County High School gym.

Col. Willard Roper, district engineer of the Louisville district, Army Corps of Engineers, along with other personnel from his office will be on hand for the affair and will give a general description of the project, show slides in connection with it, generally describe the land acquisition program and discuss construction plans.

Cave Run, which will impound the Licking River from a point three miles south of Farmers to West Liberty, is expected to go under construction later this year. The President's budget contains $1,300,000 for a start.

Completion is expected by 1969, but may be stepped up to 1968 under an accelerated schedule.

Other officers of the association are: Dr. Alec Spencer, West Liberty, president, and W. E. Crutcher, Morehead, vice president.

Roper pointed out this week that the July 24 meeting is under the sponsorship of the Cave Run Association, not the Corps of Engineers.

He said the Corps' official hearing on the reservoir will be called shortly after money is officially appropriated for work on the job.

Cave Run was first proposed in 1897 as part of a comprehensive flood control plan on the Licking River and is tied to the Ohio River basin flood control program.

Cave Run Hearing Is Slated July 24

THE BASIN—This is the Army Corps of Engineers map of the Cave Run Reservoir, on which a hearing will be held in the Rowan County High School gym on July 24. Sponsored by the Cave Run Reservoir Association, the hearing will be attended by Corps of Engineers personnel, including Col. Willard Roper, district engineer of the Louisville district. The session will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Voluntary Prayer Resolution Is Sensible Move

Supreme Court decisions on prayer and Bible reading in public schools and House Judiciary Committee hearings on the subject have prompted a deluge of mail on Capitol Hill.

As one lawmaker put it: "This is the most mail I have received since coming to Congress, and that includes the day MacArthur was fired."

Another pressure facing Celler is a discharge petition filed by Representative Frank Becker, New York Republican, the most spirited proponent of amending the Constitution.

Cells's tactic is to prolong the hearings with the hope of marshaling his forces and persuading committee members to vote against reporting a measure to the floor.

The committee could recommend adoption of a resolution - expressing the sense of Congress that voluntary prayers and Bible reading in schools is permissible.

Senate Loses On Baker

The Senate of the United States has, to say the very least, done little to embellish its image by its revelations in the Bobby Baker investigation.

At the outset there was a pronouncement that the probe would be pursued vigorously and thoroughly in whatever direction the evidence led, regardless of where the chips fell.

Yet it began to appear a chip or two might fall in a same sarcasnet lap within the exclusive Senate circle - over campaign finance, among other things. Partisan opportunities then appeared.

It was at this point that Rules Committee Chairman Everett Jordan (D., N.C.) proclaimed: "We aren't investigating Senators."

The Committee Counsel, Major L. P. McLendon, supported that with the legal opinion that language of the resolution authorizing the probe was too narrow to permit exploring any links between Baker's operations and those of individual Senators.

When Senator John Williams (R., Del.) suggested amending the resolution to provide that authority, which he argued had been clearly intended in the first place, it was voted down. The rejection climaxed one of the wildest, most vitriolic and unbridled floor exchanges in the memory of veteran Capitol Hill observers.

The Senate image was not improved, as a result.

The Sun May Soon Set

After considering the matter for 97 years, Canadians are about to give themselves a new flag. After such thorough deliberation (longer than the time required by the U.S. Senate to decide an issue), one would think there was something like general agreement.

But there isn't. One of the ideas is to get rid of the Union Jack. But a lot of service men have fought (and died) under that flag in two World Wars and there is a sentiment about the Union Jack.

Nevertheless, Canadians are going to get a new flag, perhaps with three maple leaves, or one maple leaf, as the national symbol - if Canadian Liberal Prime Minister B. Pearson has his way.

He has told the media he came into office on the promise to give Canada a new flag and he intends to fulfill that promise. Certainly French-speaking areas will react warmly to this effort.

French sections of Canada, spurred by French President Charles DeGaulle's notions of grandeur, have become increasingly independent minded in recent years, and the Liberal Party is catering to that sentiment to an extent.

But others, too, feel Canada should have its own district flag. And so the British Union Jack may be hailed down from most of the remaining flagpoles, on which it flies, in the New World, which shows the trend of things, and reflects the independence of Canada.

THE OPPORTUNIST

Presidential Abolition Of Poredom Is Promised

The President of the United States of America made a visit to Poredom and he received a warm welcome and he was so impressed by the warmth of our hearts that he made several wise promises. One of these promises was that he would abolish Poredom.

The most of us pore of Poredom are really happy at our hearts. We know now our position is so much better and only a short time will be RICH and royal. Of course it is going to be our advantage to see that our present president is elected again so that he can really carry out our best plans.

There are those who are in the ups of society who will sign the Oath of Poredom in peace because the government gives us a hunk of cheese or a little draw check of some kind, but they are not really criticizing the programs that relieve or someone for a bit, are they? They are not really helping in Washington for to give them dams, housing units, other things, etc. Hands out ain't no different to it. A hunk of cheese or an inside job ain't no different to it.

Now all of us believe that poverty can be erased from Poredom but when this happens there will be another Poredom crop up in another section of our country which is not so poetic and full of life and money. They want us working and striving and laboring and sweating. Now we will have to be eradicated from Poredom and the burden will be on us now. We will have to be elevated to richness, they will have gone down to take our place as the planned poor on the earth. So some are saying it is foolish thinking to believe that the poorest can vanish from the face of the earth. It will vanish only whenever the pore vanish first.

Many of us pore have stopped work on our Pore Shelter and we have begun to plan for our Poverty Shelter. Anyone with a lick of commonsense thinking knows that poverty can't be wiped out without taking us with it. Therefore we are planning on the Poverty Shelter to protect us from the governmental poverty invasion of Poredom.

You can't get rid of poverty unless you shut right bet the eyes, or hang us in the nearest tree. Shooting the eye will put out our new needles the next year. But defoliation will stand by until the pore man stopped beating it. The hangman left before this happened, somehow the pore man got his neck out of the noose. Or another pore man would happen by and let his head down. It is impossible to starve us to death. Poverty can't be wiped out by starvation. We'll manage to suppress it by use of insecticides. Another method is by use of the virus of this sawfly which has been used successfully before.

So far the damage done by the sawfly defoliation does not justify a suppression project to control them and their period of operation is about over. A survey of next spring damage will help to indicate heavy damage. It may be taken to start a suppression project. The most common method of suppression is by use of insecticides. Another method is by use of the virus of this sawfly which has been used successfully before.

State Degrees Set For 4 FHA Girls At RCHS - Future Homemakers - This is the first time since the 19th annual state meeting of the Kentucky Association of Future Homemakers of America which will be held in Lexington (Thursday) at the University of Kentucky.

Claig Sprout... and His Friend, TIMOTHY TUGMUTTON

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: There was a number of items in the papers last week that I aim to put on the agenda at the country store come Saturday night.

First off, Congressman Neal Smith of Iowa keeps plugging on his bill to make it unlawful for Government officials, including members of Congress, to hire their kinfolk. This is a bad bill and I'm shore the fellows will vote again if it comes up on Saturday night.

Another fellow who is out of his mind is that Senator Keating is somewhat vulnerable in the same area where he may well be presumed to be the strongest. He might be well advised to pickize on that and let President Johnson pick another running mate, if politics is to be his future.

Pine Sawfly Is Damaging Area Stands

By Joe J. Gauck We have been getting inquiries about a large number of pine trees in which the needles have either disappeared or turned brown. I would say off hand that most of these are trees that have been defoliated by the Virginia Pine sawfly.

The later part of last month Alan Dunsenback, timber management staff officer from the Forest Supervisor's office in Winchester, observed several Virginia pines in the "Tater Knob Tower area" on which the sawfly had just about completely defoliated those scattered among hardwood stands.

Damage has been noted in pure pine stands. Apparently when the sawfly encountered a large number of trees close together they are cut through the trees and the damage is not so concentrated. In the section they were working mostly on Virginia pine; however recently they were seen working on the leaf pine. According to the entomologist (the bug expert) defoliation alone will not kill the tree.

However, the damage has been weakened by the effects of the sawfly, a severe drought and freeze. In the past few years there has been a severe drought and freeze. In the past few years there has been a severe drought and freeze.

According to information, we may have defoliation over a period of five to seven years and then the sawfly will disappear except for a few scattered pockets. In most cases a tree completely defoliated one year will put out new needles the next year. But defoliation will stand by until the pore man stopped beating it.

The hangman left before this happened, somehow the pore man got his neck out of the noose. Or another pore man would happen by and let his head down. It is impossible to starve us to death. New York Bid Suits RFK

Washington is buzzing with speculation that Attorney-General Robert Kennedy may be shifting his political sights away from the target at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue and zeroing in on the New York State seat of Republican Kenneth Keating.

Another version is that Bobby, taking cognizance of the realities of the situation, may decide to leave the Justice Department in order to take on a usually business operations, confining his political role to furthering the aspirations of brother Teddy - already off to an auspicious start as a Senate freshman.

There's reason to think either course would be preferable - at least from the standpoint of Democratic Party unity - by his making an all-out bid for the No. 2 spot on the ticket at the Democratic convention.

The Attorney General knows as well as anyone else that he is a controversial figure in some party segments - most of all in the South where President Johnson will need at least a party name to be named at election in November. He's also had notice in recent Massachusetts elections that he has less appeal at the ballot box than his Senator brother.

He must be aware, however, that Senator Keating is somewhat vulnerable in the same area where he may well be presumed to be the strongest. He might be well advised to pickize on that and let President Johnson pick another running mate, if politics is to be his future.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky One hundred years ago this week, Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan's raid led into Kentucky, which had been launched with an audacity and confidence reminiscent of his early exploits, was broken up by a disastrous defeat at Cynthiana.

It was with much difficulty that the Confederate cavalry echelon collected the remnants of his shattered command and began a weary and dangerous march back to his base in Virginia.

The Rebels on June 8 had captured Mt. Sterling, taking 800 prisoners. Morgan left some of his men there to outfit themselves with captured horses and Federal military stores and rode on with his best brigade to Lexington, where he found June 10. There he found enough horses to complete the mounting of his men.

He walked all the way from large Union force which Morgan had eluded in Eastern Kentucky had headed for the Bluegrass Region - two regiments and part of a third - the pursuit. It made an astonishing march, and covered 150 miles of it in 30 consecutive days, and fell upon Mt. Sterling at 3 a.m. on June 10. The Morgan men rallied, stood off the first attack, and but 14 Confederate officers and 40 men were killed, 50 were wounded too badly to be moved, 100 were captured, and more than 100 cut off and dispersed. It was a heavy blow to a force which had numbered only 2,000 at the beginning of the march.

THE PEACE CORPS: Ambassadors in Shirt Sleeves

The Peace Corps means many things to many people. To a starving boy in Peru, it is the American who is helping his father grow more corn. To the girl in the Ivory Coast, it is the teacher who has come from across the ocean to teach her the proper use of English. And to an adolescent youth in the Philippines, the Peace Corps means simply the agriculturist who spends his spare time coaching the baseball team.

Peru, Ivory Coast, the Philippines—there is one similarity: the Peace Corps is always thought of in personal terms. That's because the Peace Corps is a person-to-person program. It is also a volunteer organization. These are two of the distinguishing features of the Peace Corps.

Being a Peace Corps Volunteer is not an easy job. Selection standards are very high, the work is hard, the "pay" is low and living conditions are often difficult.

Today, though, over 7,000 Americans—men and women, young and old—are living in 45 countries, teaching, aiding in community development, helping to build schools, bridges and roads and participating in hundreds of other self-help programs.

Much more important than the construction of physical projects is the "can-do" attitude they are projecting to the people with whom they work. They are succeeding, changing generations-old attitudes. But the new ways come slowly, sometimes imperceptibly.

Peace Corps Volunteers are doing vital work in the developing nations of the world. As they do their jobs, they present a new concept of America to their co-workers and their neighbors. And, they are helping others while participating in a continuing educational experience that will be meaningful for the rest of their lives.

The Volunteers are sometimes accused of being idealists. So they are. But they are idealists with abilities and a will to put their ideas to work. They are idealists who are willing and eager to work—and live—on equal terms with peoples of all races, creeds and cultures.

That's what the Peace Corps is.

NURSING: Peace Corps nurses are helping in understaffed hospitals and clinics, promoting health education and giving instructions in hygiene, sanitation, nutrition, home nursing, care during pregnancy and post-natal care. Here, Theresa Ricka, 25, of Hollis, N. Y., tends a patient at a hospital in Rio de Janeiro.

ENGINEERING: More than 100 engineers are working in the Peace Corps building dams, roads and bridges and planning irrigation projects. Arthur Young of Schuensville, Pa., talks to a Tanganyikan Caterpillar driver on a road project.

HOME ECONOMICS: Volunteer June Reed, 69, of Portland, Oregon, teaches home economics at a secondary girls' school in Belize, British Honduras. Home economists are working to improve nutrition, personal hygiene and child care. They also teach sewing and food preparation.

RURAL COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT: Over 1,000 Peace Corps Volunteers are encouraging people in isolated rural areas to help themselves.

TRADES: One of the primary objectives of Peace Corps Volunteers is training people in useful occupations in countries where lack of skilled manpower hinders development. In Togo, Volunteer fisherman taught nationals modern fishing techniques that more than doubled daily catch, later helped establish successful fishing cooperatives.

TEACHING: Almost 4,000 Volunteers are aiding developing nations by serving as teachers. Subjects range from English to math.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glover returned home Thursday after a two-week vacation and visit with their son, Henry Glover Jr., in Buffalo, N. Y.

J. A. Williams was the Saturday night guest of his mother, Mrs. Della Mae Henry, in Acovya, W. Va.

Mrs. Betty Jean Wells, Miss Hiltrath Maggard and Dr. Gabriel C. Banks attended commencement exercises Saturday at Transylvania College, Lexington.

Miss Mary Frances Marsh, Miss Ginny Kay Slucky, Miss Kay Patrick and Miss James Wilson were Saturday visitors in Lexington.

Miss Alice Cox will leave today (Thursday) for Greeley, Colo. where she will attend the summer term at Colorado State College. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Grace Appel, who will visit for three weeks in Los Alamos, N. M., with her son, Charles Appel, Mrs. Appel and family.

WHY WOMEN
"It is reported that a lie detector can be relied upon in only 79 per cent of cases." This may be true of a mechanical one, but far more efficient is the type often ironically referred to as the "lie detector."

ENGAGED - Dr. and Mrs. N. C. Marsh of Morehead announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Frances, to Mr. George Howard Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Cunningham, Philadelphia, Mo. The open church wedding will be Sunday afternoon, Aug. 22, at 2 o'clock in the Morehead Christian Church. Miss Marsh, a graduate of Breckinridge Training School, is now making her home in Covington and Sullivan Business College. Mr. Cunningham recently graduated with a B.S. degree from Missouri University.

'Luck' Is Negligible Factor In Boating

The luck of a sailor is proverbial. But luck isn't very dependable when it comes to handling gasoline and other flammable liquids around boats, says the Kentucky Department of Public Safety.

The Division of Boating reminds "old hands" as well as "new" of these pointers to keep their boats and passengers safe from fire this summer:

- When refueling, observe a strict "no smoking" rule and extinguish all open flames. Right up any spilled fuel immediately.
- Portable fuel tanks used with outboards should be removed from the boat before filling.
- Use only approved outboard fuel tanks labeled for marine use. Never use gasoline-fuel stoves aboard ship.
- Never take portable fuel tanks any type on land.
- Use your nose before you start.

overall) approved fire extinguisher designed for use on flammable liquid fires. Extinguisher or extinguishers should be located near the equipment being protected, or readily accessible, outside the compartment they are intended to serve. Keep extinguishers in good working order at all times.

Pest Control Measures Cited By Entomologist

Homeowners and farmers are urged to be planned now by a variety of insects, says E. L. Miller, U. K. Ag. Extension Service entomologist.

The pests and control measures are:

FLEA BEETLES: These beetles are hitting tomato and potato plants. Spray at dusk with a 50 percent DDT wettable powder (four tablespoons per gallon) or 10 percent DDT dust. Spray 20 percent wettable powder (two tablespoons per gallon) or 10 percent DDT dust, once a week. Repeat application as needed.

SHADE TREE ORNAMENTAL BORDERERS: Flat head and roundhead types showing up on the wood part on trees and shrubs to produce small, unscald areas. Spray trunks with 50 percent DDT wettable powder (two tablespoons per gallon) or 10 percent DDT dust (four tablespoons per gallon). Apply immediately after Sevin is applied.

MAPLE BLEEDER GALL: These are small wart-like galls on upper surface of maple leaf and caused by a mite. Galls are green then turn brown, red, then black. Silver maple is favorite host for these galls. Galls have formed, no control is possible. But the mites do little if any harm to

Early Leaf Buyers Were Formidable

For all his power, he was courted and besieged, entertained and begged. Social attention and influence were his.

Yes, at a barn door, eyeing the stacks of burley tobacco, he could be insistent and smug. With a sprinkling of these adjectives, history has recorded the days of the tobacco buyer for the trust of the Personal Finance to 1910—a large and powerful consolidation of manufacturing interests which held a virtual monopoly of the tobacco business.

The trust buyer was one of a corps organized to buy tobacco directly from the farmer, gradually eliminating the old independent buyer and speculator.

Trust buyers were stationed throughout the burley district, usually at county seats.

They traveled through the counties, meeting the farmer at his barn door, examining the crop and setting the price at which he would buy.

The price was not always satisfactory—but the grower had to take it. It was a tight, and ruthless, procedure which ultimately forced the grower to take an average of five or six cents a pound for his crop. Only the choicest of crops brought as much as a penny a pound.

Trooper Campbell's report said that the Lewis car apparently came around a curve on the wrong side of the highway and struck the Ball vehicle.

Debris from the wreck indicated, according to Campbell's report, that the Lewis car was three-four feet over the center line.

Covington In Leading Role In 'Hunter'

W. P. Covington III, for 10 years chairman of the Department of Dramatic Arts at Morehead State College and a veteran outdoor drama figure, has returned to Kentucky to portray a leading role in Robert Emmett McDowell's "Honor Is the Hunter," scheduled to open for his second summer season at Harroburg June 27.

Covington, well known as a stage director now is chairman of theater arts at Frederick College, Portsmouth, Va.

This will bring together again Covington and director Samuel Sabin, who directed him years ago in "The Lost Colony."

Amphitheatre, Play Season Opens Sunday In Kentucky

Kentucky's 1964 outdoor amphitheatre season opens Sunday with the 34th annual American Folk Festival on stage at Jenny Wiley State Park's new amphitheatre near Prestonsburg.

The festival, seen at Ashland for the past 33 years, will be the amphitheatre's first production. Curtain time is 2 p.m.

The annual gathering of Miss Jean Thomas, Kentucky's traditional woman, brings together a score of Eastern Kentucky folk artists with conchango fiddles, mandolin, dulcimers to recreate the mountain music scene discovered by Miss Thomas on Brushy Fork of the some Creek some 50 years ago.

FIT TO BE TIED

Having difficulty finding something that you want to buy? Try the quick and easy way to find anything. Check the YELLOW PAGES... where YOUR FINGERS DO THE WALKING.

An exhibit of sculpture and paintings by Ashland artist Mrs. Kathleen C. Bolner will be shown at the park lodge through June 14. The show includes 23 pieces of "sculpture plus 16 works in oil, pastel, ceramic tile and seed mosaic."

Four dramas also open their seasons at State parks this month. "Stars in My Crown," the Western Kentucky story on stage at Kentucky Lake State Park near Murray, opens its second summer run on Friday, June 19.

Lively music and dance add up to sparkling entertainment on the water's edge at Kentucky Lake. Performances start at 8:15 p.m. daily except Monday, through Aug. 30. Kentucky's well-seasoned musical drama, "The Stephen Foster Story," will be seen again at My Old Kentucky Home State Park, Bardonia, beginning Saturday, June 20. New York baritone Jim Lyman, who has appeared with the New York City Opera and on television with Perry Como, is cast in the title role this year. Performances will be given nightly except Monday—8:30 p.m. at the amphitheatre, and at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the Bardonia High School auditorium. The drama's sixth season closes Sept. 6.

Also entering its sixth season is "The Book of Job," powerful Biblical drama staged at the Laurel Cove amphitheatre at Piney Mountain State Park, Pineville. "Job" opens Thursday, June 25, for performances each evening except Sunday, through Aug. 23. The Old Testament story, arranged by Orin Corey, former drama professor at Georgetown College, has played before enthusiastic audiences on four continents. After the summer season at Pineville, the cast leaves for a run at the New York World's Fair, followed by a European tour.

"Home Is The Hunter," exciting story of Kentucky's early settlers and the founding of Fort Harrod, begins its second season on Saturday, June 27, at Pioneer Memorial State Park, Harrodsburg. Indian encounters involving Daniel Boone and James Harrod, a frontier wedding, and preparations at Fort Harrod for the Northwest expedition of George Rogers Clark figure in this saga of pioneer days. George Spence, a North Carolina College professor and a veteran of nine seasons in outdoor drama, will be seen as James Harrod.

"Home Is The Hunter," revised for the 1964 season by playwright Robert Emmett McDowell, will be seen nightly at 8:30 through Sept. 6. Danville's Pioneer Playhouse on Wednesday, June 24, opens another season of 10 new plays to be presented during the season ending September 7. Each one on a Thursday-through Monday schedule. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Union College, Barbourville, opens its first summer music festival on June 27 with the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "Oklahoma!" The festival will run seven nights a week through Sept. 7, with alternate performances of "Oklahoma!" Puccini's "Tosca," the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "The Mikado," and "The Bartered Bride," a light opera by Smetana.

Telephone Directory Now Being Compiled

The 1964 Morehead telephone directory is now being compiled, according to M. E. Keller, district manager for General Telephone company. Local customers are being urged to notify the telephone company of any changes, corrections or additions in directory listings. This may be done by calling the business office at Morehead, telephone 784-4136.

July 24th is the last date a change can be accepted. The new directory will be distributed to Morehead customers on September 24th, Keller said.

The festival company is the Hunter Hills Theatre of Gettysburg, Tenn. The Union College players will appear in two musical comedies and two operas at the Gettysburg amphitheatre this summer.

Pool Building Started At Three Kentucky Parks

Construction has started on swimming pools at Pennyrite, Carter Caves and Rough River State parks.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt said the State has accepted the bids of the Pressure Co., Florence, Ala. to build the pools at $22,775 each.

Five bids were opened in April on the Pennyrite pool and three each on the Carter Caves and Rough River pools. Finance Department officials have been studying all bids. The Alabama firm's bids were the lowest and best.

Pick a Chevrolet and fill in the spaces

Now's the time to see the great outdoors in a great Chevrolet! Here you are on the brink of vacation time. There's your Chevrolet dealer in the midst of Trade 'N' Travel Time. You two should get together! Object—celebrating the joys of summer in a new Chevrolet. Why a Chevrolet? Well, with 15 models in four series, what possible reason is there to look further? Take the Impala Super Sport (and a lot of people do just that). Comes as a Sport Coupe or Convertible. Has trimmings like front bucket seats, center console, special trim—all as standard equipment. And offers a typically Chevrolet array of extra-cost options. Plain Impalas are anything but. They come in all popular body styles, including wagons. They're dressed up to a far-the-well: fully carpeted interiors, upholstery as durable as it is attractive. Bel Airs and Biscaynes, the lower priced Chevrolets, make a practice of hiding it. All the conveniences, no sacrificing comfort or style. Did we mention that Trade 'N' Travel Time won't last forever? It won't. So see your Chevrolet dealer. Then go fill in the spaces.

Land Left When Interstate Built Goes Up In Value

Thousands of dollars may be realized in purchasing land for future highways, Kentucky Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward said this week. He based his statement on recent findings by expert land appraisers and buyers who have done follow-up studies on value of land left for construction of Interstate 64 in Central Kentucky and I-65 in Simpson and Boone counties.

NOTICE

We are trying to win a trip to the New York World's Fair by obtaining subscriptions to the Lexington Herald and Lexington Leader. If you are interested please call James "Bud" Johnson at 784-5244 or Kenny Fouch at 784-4227.

The studies show that adjoining land values around highways improvements increase greatly and that near proposed interchanges value increases by several hundred percent. "We now have information that will serve as a reliable yardstick when obtaining land," Ward said. "By using this system, the property owner receives a fair, reasonable price and the state pays a fair price." Owners who retain segments of land divided by interchanges usually sell or lease these remaining portions near the right-of-way to oil companies, restaurant or motel owners, the studies showed.

Study after study pointed out that farmers who lost land for highway construction were paid the difference between the land's appraised value before and after the land was taken and the amount received to put up a business in most instances, the amount received from the company was two or three times the appraised value of the entire farm before the road was started.

"Due to the newness and nature of limited access highways, which are fenced, the Highway Department had no guideline to follow in purchasing land," Carl H. Bradley, director of the Right-of-Way Division said. "In some cases, the department paid too much for damaged, but this no longer is true," Bradley added.

Studies have been made in Clark, Franklin, Montgomery, Simpson and Warren counties and other studies are under way. The department is continuing its research so that all data may be used as substantial testimony in court cases. Recently, this information was admitted by a Boone County court during a trial concerning land acquisition for Interstate 64.

Audubon's New Nature and Visitors Center

NEW AND ATTRACTIVE to visitors at Audubon State Park on the outskirts of Henderson this year is the Nature and Visitors Center established in what originally was known as The Tea House (above). Principal place of interest at the wooded habitat of birds, of course, will continue to be the famed John James Audubon Memorial Museum, named in honor of the celebrated ornithologist. The new Nature and Visitors Center, however, with a multitude of natural history exhibits gradually being put on display, already is attracting hundreds of natural history buffs.

Second Payment On Estimated Tax Due Soon

Taxpayers who filed estimated tax returns in April, according to Acting District Director V. B. Weitzel of the Internal Revenue Service in Louisville, Kentucky, are required to pay the second installment of tax due on their 1964 estimated income by June 15, 1964. Taxpayers who first met the requirements for filing a declaration of estimated tax in this quarter are required to file for 1964 on Form 1040-ES and pay at least one-third of the tax estimated to be due.

If the income expected to be earned during 1964 has changed, taxpayers may be required to file an amended declaration of estimated tax. A blank form for use as an amended return is printed on the back of the bill which taxpayers receive for an installment of Estimated Tax. Weitzel pointed out. Additional Form 1040-ES (Amended) as required may be obtained from any Internal Revenue office.

Airport Bids Sought In Five State Locations

Bids are being opened this month on five new airport projects in Kentucky that will cost more than $500,000, Aeronaucics Commissioner Philip Swift announced today. He said the State is contributing $142,584 to the projects, representing all locations made during the past 12 months.

The projects include construction of new airports at West Liberty, Mt. Sterling, and Whitesburg. A new pavement will be constructed at the Morehead airport and the Mayfield airstrip will be repaired. The three new airports will raise the total constructed with State help in the last four years to 23.

The State has now tentatively allocated $40,000 for airport construction at Russellville, which is now purchasing land, and $25,000 to Dawson Springs, depending upon efforts of local people to raise matching funds, Swift said.

Book Gift From the White House

LOOK WHO'S HERE... Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson inspected the Breathitt County Bookmobile during her recent visit to Jackson, the County seat. The First Lady left an autographed copy of "The White House," a history and guidebook of the official residence, with the Breathitt County librarian, Mrs. Carrie Hunt. Mrs. Johnson said that she hoped her contribution to the Bookmobile would circulate as widely as the vehicle's other 1,000 volumes, provided by the State Department of Libraries. Some 100 Kentucky counties now are served by Bookmobiles with service to the Women's Prison at Pewee Valley as the newest innovation. The Shelby County Bookmobile will begin regular trips to the prison in July.

Breathitt Proposes Study On Jackson Purchase Road

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has called for a study of the feasibility of constructing a turnpike through the heart of the Jackson Purchase from near the present terminus of the Western Kentucky Parkway to the Tennessee line.

The proposed toll highway would extend from the Calvert City-Gilbertsville area near Kentucky Dam to the Fulton area, a distance of about 45 miles. It would serve the cities of Benton, Mayfield, Murray, Clinton, and Fulton, and would provide a direct route through the Purchase for traffic from Memphis and other Tennessee cities.

Breathitt has directed the Kentucky Turnpike Commission and the Department of Highways to conduct the study to determine if traffic justifies such a highway and if it is economically feasible to sell and retire bonds necessary for the road. Breathitt predicted that development around Kentucky Lake and the new Barkley Lake would make a high-speed, four-lane highway through the Purchase necessary within a short time and that he wants the State to be prepared to move when the time comes.

"This link in our highway system appears to me to be logical and desirable for several reasons," Breathitt said. "It would extend the Western Kentucky Parkway to the southwest corner of Kentucky and thus give us turnpike driving from this end of the state to extreme Eastern Kentucky, using the rest of our parkway system."

"The super-highway would help provide a direct route across Kentucky for traffic from Cincinnati to Memphis and thus help the Western Parkway and the Central Kentucky

Parkway pay for themselves. It would facilitate travel from Louisville to Memphis and to all parts of the Purchase.

"With the construction of a new bridge across the Mississippi now being planned just south of the Kentucky line as part of the Interstate highway system, traffic between the Southwest and Northeast would logically flow across Kentucky from one end of the state to the other."

The Governor said that the proposed turnpike would be connected to the present Western Kentucky Parkway either by an extension of the Parkway or by Interstates 24

The Parkway presently ends at Princeton but Breathitt said plans are to continue it to Paducah either as a toll facility or as a part of the Interstate system, depending on the location of I-24.

ASHLAND OIL & REFINING COMPANY

Have you ever seen 7,000 grown men cry? You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustangs came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history even before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model-year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)... our luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 68%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about? Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)

Nitrogen Overuse Can Hike Acidity Of Burley Soils

Use moderate amounts of nitrogen fertilizers on tobacco crops, says George D. Corder, University of Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service soils specialist.

"Large yields of high quality tobacco can be produced on most tobacco land in Kentucky with an application of 125 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre," he says.

But an application of 500 pounds actual nitrogen, he says, can change the pH level (soil acidity) drastically. "Recent research at the U. K. Agricultural Station showed that an application of 500 pounds of actual nitrogen changed the soil acidity from a pH of 6.5 (moderately acid) in April to 4.7 (strongly acid) in August."

Phosphorus becomes less available to growing plants as soil acidity levels increase, while manganese may become available in quantities large enough to be toxic to tobacco in such soils.

It has been demonstrated that heavy applications of nitrogen fertilizers will increase soil acidity substantially during growing season, Corder said.

Parks' Attendance May 30 Was Nearly Double 1963's

Kentucky's State Parks set a new Memorial Day weekend attendance record this year with nearly 205,000 visitors at the 34 State parks and shrines, State Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell said that the total of 264,927 visitors—nearly double the 1963 record of 148,135—enjoyed the nation's Number One parks system, despite the cool and damp weather. Receipts totaled $71,896, a gain of 15 percent over the 1963 Memorial Day weekend.

Of the total visitors, 209,550 were at the State's 13 parks with lodging facilities and 55,377 at the other parks and shrines. Accommodations were almost completely occupied in the 493 lodge rooms and 235 cottages. Of the 6,528 overnight requests, 3,245 were from out-of-state. Bell said.

Significant to Kentucky's tourist and travel business was not only the nearly 50-50 ratio of overnight guests, but the campground statistics as well. All camping areas were full—over 1,500 campers from 33 different states were registered Memorial Day at Kentucky Dam Wildlife State Park near Gilbertsville.

Biggest attendance at the State park sites with lodging facilities was at Rough River, Falls of Rough, where 59,020 were reported in this State park which is just beginning second season of operation.

Second highest at the vacation-type parks was Jenny Wiley, near Prestonsburg, with 50,865. Third was Kentucky Dam Village, with 27,400. And Kentucky Dam Village, with many kinds of facilities available reported receipts of $17,844—highest among all State parks for the weekend.

The other vacation-type park attendances, in order, were General Butler, near Carrollton, 11,871; Cumberland Falls, near Corbin, 11,800; Pine Mountain, near Pineville, 10,007; Kentucky Lake, near Hardin, 10,002; Audobon, near Henderson, 9,723; Pennyville, near Dawson Springs, 7,698; Lake Cumberland, near Jamestown, 7,482; Natural Bridge, near Slade, 6,093; Carter Caves, near Olive Hill, 5,947; and Cherokee, near Hardin, 2,325.

Levi Jackson, near London, attracted 14,272 persons, the largest attendance among the 21 State parks and shrines with overnight accommodations. Camping facilities plus such day-use as swimming accounted for this total.

Greenbo near Ashland had the second-largest attendance, 12,700, and Burnside, in Lake Cumberland, the third-highest, 8,585.

The other day-use State parks and shrines, in order of their total, were Old Kenton, near Home, Bardonia, 6,732; Pioneer Memorial, Harrodsburg, 6,506; Lake Barkhorn, near Hazard, 3,685; Big Bone Lick, in Boone County, 2,756; Columbus-Helmont, Columbus, 2,376; and Lake Maline, near Greensburg, 1,920.

Blue Licks Battlefield, Perry, 1,200; Olivet, 1,302; Lincoln, 1,209; Hamelsfield, 1,209; Perryville Battlefield, Perryville, 1,202; Jefferson Davis Memorial, Falmouth, 1,141; Falmouth, 1,123; Dr. Thomas Walker Memorial, Bourbonville, 943; Old Mulkey Meeting House, Tompkinsville, 895; Constitution Square, Danville, 532; Kingdom Come, 450; and William Whitley House, Stanford, 368.

With this record attendance on Memorial Day weekend, Bell said his earlier prediction of 33 million visitors to State parks and shrines this year seems well on the way to fulfillment, surpassing the 11,077,477 of 1963.

Chemical Control Is Recommended For Poison Ivy

Summer days are happy days—unless you get a touch of the infamous weed poison ivy.

Here's how to control this discomfort until you cure the rash, or get it again!

For poison ivy growing near crops as tobacco, cotton, grapes, vegetables, ornamental shrubs and flowers: Use ammate or amrol.

For poison ivy in areas other than tobacco, grapes, etc., brush-killers containing 2,4-D, 2,4, 3-D or silvex may also be used.

Use all materials as sprays. Put them on when poison ivy plants are in full leaf and actively growing. Follow label directions for safety and rate recommendations. Avoid drift of any of these herbicides onto desirable plants.

Herron pointed out that (1) all parts of the plant produce the poisonous material, (2) it can be carried to humans by the hands of soot, pets, tools or clothing, and (3) immunity from poison ivy is not necessarily permanent.

For positive identification, consult a weed book, Herron says, or some one familiar with the plant to inspect and identify the pest.

Clearfield, Jaycee Teams Van Local Softball League

Clearfield's Pipers and the Morehead Jaycees stand atop the standings in the Morehead Jaycee Softball League with unblemished records.

Clearfield moved into a tie for first Monday by drowing Breckinridge, 5-5, while the Morehead Mets evened their season's mark at 1-1 by clipping the Rowan County Hill-toppers, 7-4.

Clearfield and Morehead Jaycees have 5-0 records.

The standings:

Team	W	L
Clearfield Pipers	5	0
Morehead Jaycees	5	0
Breckinridge	1	1
Morehead Mets	1	1
Rowan County Toppers	0	2
Christy Creek	0	2

Games scheduled this evening at the park behind the Morehead Tobacco Warehouse will pit Morehead Jaycees against the Rowan County Hill-toppers at 5:30 and Breckinridge against Christy Creek at 6:30.

There is no admission charge for the contests.

Tobacco Plant Supply Is More Than Adequate

By Adrian Razor
 Gossip Agent

As this is written most people have finished setting tobacco and those who haven't are winding up. I think for the most part, everyone had real good plants to set in the field. There probably has been enough plants grown in the county to set the county's acreage three or four times.

Since we have finished with the plant beds, we might think now of what we are going to do with them. If we are going to use the same bed each year, we might try the "year" or disk the beds, destroying all plants, and seed them to a crop such as soybeans, or cowpeas. We should then plow them under before they get this fall. Then wait another two weeks and either burn, or use whatever treatment we desire to sterilize the plant beds, ditch them well, and all we will have to do in the spring will be to rake them lightly and sow seed.

If everyone who has indicated that they plan to prepare beds in the fall do, we should have a lot of fall prepared beds this year.

Wasp Nests
 Are you having trouble with wasp nests around your house? We have wasps and bumblebees trouble at our house. Since there is danger, especially since children are involved getting painful stings, it is a good idea to destroy these nests as they are built, and spray with either 2 per cent chlordane or 5 per cent chlordane dust. It is best to do this work at night since they will not fly so readily.

Poison Ivy
 Now is a good time to control poison ivy since it is in active state of growth and fully leaved. If it is growing near crops such as tobacco, grapes, vegetables, and ornamental shrubs, use ammate or amrol. However, if it is not close to these desirable plants, you can use the brush killers such as 2, 4-D, 2, 4, 5-D, or Silvex. Follow directions on the can. Treat this plant with respect. A little caution may save a lot of unpleasantness.
