Offer Reward For Capture Of Person Firing In Ambush

$450 To Be Given Captors Of Parties That Shot Davis Christian

FUND IS DEPOSITED IN MOREHEAD BANK

Friends of Christian Put Up Money in Hopes Of Speeding Capture

A $450 reward for the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who shot Dave Christian from ambush near Haldeman last November, was offered today by County Judge Charles E. Jennings.

The reward money was raised by Haldeman employees and friends of Christian. They had previously offered a $500 reward, but only $450 was raised.

The money was deposited in the Peoples Bank of Morehead to be paid out if the ambushers are apprehended. Christian was near death for a time but his life was saved through the amputation of one leg.

The order officially placing the reward was entered by Magistrate W. F. Kegley. Feeling was high at Haldeman over the ambushing of Christian, but so far little progress has been made in solving the crime. The order asked that the state of Kentucky place an additional $450 reward by a large family, and at no time harmed any person.

DESERVING OF PRAISE

A month's enterprise on the part of 30 or 40 community leaders will be realized in Morehead September 23-26, the dates for the annual Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair. This year's fair is expected to have more exhibits and better prize rings than in the past, despite the drought. More interest is evident, and the management of previous fairs has been of such a nature as to perpetuate the event. Praise should be given those who have worked so hard and industriously for this year's fair. As a group the teachers of the county should be awarded first place in helping the fair towards success. The Rev. H. L. Moore is president of this year's fair. He was selected on a record of successful community spirit and upbuilding and he has handled the various matters concerning the 1936 fair with foresight. Mrs. Maude Hogge, who presided him helped to lay a substantial ground work for this year's fair. The other officers, William Layne, vice president, Rev. B. H. Kaezer, secretary, Dr. H. L. Wilson, treasurer, play an almost equally important part. The Reverend Kaezer has been serving for some time, and his resignation this year was refused by the association. No one person has labored harder or more successfully than he. Doctor Wilson is also a hold-over. The fact that the fair has always paid out in simple evidence of the work he has done as treasurer. Supt. Roy Cornette and County Agent C. L. Goff have charge of the School and Agriculture Departments, respectively. These are two most important phases of the fair, hence the name the event goes under. Their work is based upon some years experience with the school and agricultural fair. Mrs. E. D. Patton again serves in an important role—that of head of the Home Department; Roy Holbrook has charge of athletics and is handling this phase capably while Robert S. Bishop, finance director, again has turned in an excellent piece of work. The advertisements in the 44-page catalogue were sold by either Mr. Bishop or one of his assistants. Serving also in leading roles are B. F. McBrayer, S. W. Caudill, Mrs. E. Hogge, Gertrude Snyder, Mrs. D. B. Caudill, Mrs. James Clay, Mrs. Joe Caudill, Austin Riddle, Herbert Thomas Allen, Mrs. Marie Howard, W. E. Crutcher, Frank Laughlin, D. D. Caudill, Harold Petteff, Mabel Hackney, Ted Crosthwaite, Mrs. Lindsay Caudill, Lorene Johnson, Lola Mullins, Thelma Kissick, Noia Cooper, Letha Porter, Katherine Jackson, Lottie McBrayer, Dorothy Jones, Margaret Stewart, Nell Cassidy, Doris Van Hook, Virginia Dawson, Mabel Razor, Pearl Stinson, Ruby Alfrey, Buell Hogge, Ernest Brown, Ray Hogge, Iva Skaggs, Norma Powers, Mrs. Lester Blair, Hildreth Maggard, Oscar Patrick, Mrs. H. L. Moore, W. H. Bradley, Jas. V. Baumstark, Mrs. Lydia Messer Caudill and Earl May.

A glance at the foregoing names is sufficient to show that much work has been done and time put in by many individuals towards the success of the fair. The fair is not a commercial event, but rather an educational one. It is not akin to most Kentucky fairs with street carnivals and such. It is a fair, with that phase left out. It is a commendable event, representing effort, work, and achievement on the part of Rowan county people. It is deserving of our support.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND

What is the system of government in Russia? How does it compare with the American system? What are the advantages of the American educational system as compared with that in other nations? The answers are carried in another of a series of pamphlets issued by the Lee Clay Products Company of Clearfield, which reads: "It is exciting to read the news from Soviet Russia. "After experimenting with a Dictatorship, they have now adopted a written constitution. After experimenting with the communal care and education of children, they return to the family system. After "communitizing" education, they return to individual instruction. "After twenty years of fighting every form of private ownership of property, the new constitution in Article 7 of Chapter 1 recognizes private property rights. They call it "individual" property, but it's private property just the same. The same recognition of private property appears in Articles 8-9-10. "But the Communists cannot avoid labor slavery because regimentation is their creed. They put in their constitution the slogan, 'He who does not work shall not eat.' "Then in Article 12, the Soviet Constitution adopts a straight capitalistic point of view with regard to wages. Their constitution says, 'From each according to his ability, to each according to his work.' "The American wage scale is on the basis of 'to each according to his work.' The Socialists adopt Communists in the United States still criticize this basis and say 'to each according to his needs.' Now the Constitution of Soviet Russia repudiates the American Communists and adopts the century-old American standard.

"But the American industry goes Soviet Russia one better. It pays a wage rate not only to meet the requirements of paying the worker for work done, but to meet the further requirement of high and rising American standard of living. "Communists always ridicule Democracy. They believe in the Dictatorship of the Proletariat. Men and women have been imprisoned and even killed in Soviet Russia for demanding human rights. "Now along comes the Soviet Constitution and takes the Bill of Rights straight out of the American Constitution. Chapter X is their Bill of Rights. "This chapter X does not even promise anything that does not already exist in the United States. They make a fuss about the right to an education. Here, for more than a century, every child has had a right to an education and more than 25,000,000 children are in public schools every year and more than 1,000,000 young people are in our universities. "In Russia, education is a concession; in the United States it is a reality. "Are there any other important point. With all their changes, Soviet Russia still does not have free ballot. Only members of the Communist party are allowed to vote. "The American citizen who has heard of the glories of Communism should make up his mind about the question by a complete understanding of the facts. The Soviet Constitution, which line-admits the failure of both Communism and Dictatorship. It points the way to Private Property and Democracy. "Do we need to try an experiment here after such a conclusion as to Soviet Russia? Do we need to go around and around a vicious circle which brings us back to where we started? Do we need to go through all Russia has experienced to end only in admitting that it was all wrong? "Make up your mind! The American economic system and American Democracy have been fully justified by the results reached in the Soviet Russian experiment."

EDUCATING MOUNTAIN BOYS AND GIRLS The Morehead State Teachers College anticipates another increase in enrollment at the opening of the 13th term next Monday morning. Much has been done by officials and administrative officers of the institution to make the total registration larger than that of any previous year. Morehead has made many changes in the staff this year, under the leadership of a new president. These have gone through with the purpose of making Morehead a greater institution for the education of the boys and girls, young men and young women of the mountains. The idea that President Babb, Dean Vaughan and others in charge at Morehead college have is to bring new of advancement, more education, new and better ideas. To that end the energies of dynamic leadership have been turned. Results have been gratifying in the past, but an even greater advancement is anticipated within the next four years.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS WORST MENACE The last few weeks has brought an orgy of automobile accidents in Morehead last vicinity. During the spring and early summer months the accident toll was small as compared with the preceding year. However, motorists are apparently making up for lost time. Nine-tenths of the automobile accidents are caused by going too fast. Officials say that the speed is often times the result of too much John Barleycorn under the driver's belt. Not drunk is he who from the floor Can rise and drink once more. But drunk is he who prostrate lies And can neither drink nor rise. This is Dr. Morehead's definition of a drunk man. If we should hold to it no automobile accidents would be caused by drunken drivers. The definition may be more appropriate if amended to: Drunk is he from the floor For very soon he will prostrate be Rises and feebly drink some more And can neither drink nor see. The drunken driver has not the full faculties of his senses. Liquor has the potent quality of acting as a powerful drug partially paralyzing every organ of the Republic. That is to say, every organ of a man is always susceptible to an accident. Insurance companies are very particular in issuing policies to drunken drivers. They know that eventually the grim reaper will claim him.

THIS WEEK IN MOREHEAD INVESTIGATION The fact that a silent but non-secret investigation into the relief records and WPA payroll of Rowan county is being made dropped out this week. In brief, the investigation may well be attributed to the requests of Senators M. Logan and Alben W. Barkley and 8th District Congressman Fred M. Vinson. Although no charges have been filed it is expected that within the week demands will be made for a shake-up of the Rowan county offices on the grounds that it is being used to build a county political machine. It became known yesterday that they allege the investigation is already shown that for every Democrat that holds one of the salaried positions in the courthouse, as a road foreman or sewing circle head there are seven Republicans. The allegations have been talked freely among local Democrats. Local democratic headquarters are making a list of all registered voters in the county and they plan to compare this with the people that are drawing Federal money to determine how many are Republicans and how many are Democrats. A prominent attorney of the Democratic party affiliation is taking affidavits daily. Just whether there is any foundation in the contemplated allegations is not known, and will not be substantiated, set out until the present investigation is completed and the facts laid out in an unbiased and fair manner. Even the NYA office is coming in the probe. Democrats allege that the three persons in charge of this investigation are Republicans and that a Democrat has little or no chance to gain one of the salaried positions in this department. The dems feel that they have been left out in the cold and are becoming heated over the matter since the state has Democratic administration, eight Democratic Congressmen, two Senators of this county and a Democratic president.

JELOUSY Governor Chandler and his organization silently rose up in arms during the week-end over the appointment of Democratic campaign managers in the various counties. They declared that the Chandler organization was being ignored and the Democratic Campaign Manager J. J. Greenleaf was acting solely on the advice of the Congressmen and Senators. As a matter of record, Greenleaf was put in office through the endorsement of Senator Logan and the official Washington political family of Governor Chandler. Greenleaf has said nothing regarding his appointments, but it is pretty safe to say that he has not needed the Governor's wish. Greenleaf is an anti-administration man. The appointment of Eldon Evans as campaign manager for the Democrats in this county came as a surprise to many, but has set well with both factions. Before Evans was selected leaders were called in from both sides and he was picked and recommended as a harmony

ONE YEAR AGO THIS WEEK Lee Clay Products Company resumed work in the face of opposition from a part of Union employees. National guards patrolled the plant. Buddy Caudill, cashier of the Peoples Bank, was named Republican campaign manager. Buddy Alfrey was named in an indictment charging him with the murder of Everett Sweeney. The Alfrey and Sweeney had had trouble many times before, officers said. Plans were made for the holding of the Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair October 4-5. A civic chorus was planned by the Morehead music department. William Coffee was arrested on a charge of forging checks.

THE BEST OF FRIENDS MUST PART

THIS WEEK IN MOREHEAD

ROBBERIES: Lawfully speaking, Morehead appears to be in better shape today than it has been for many years. About the only arrests that are now being made in the city are for drunkenness and misdemeanors, Chief of Police John Adams reports. Robberies are so slack and few and far between that merchants sleep well and do not expect their places of business to be periodically entered.

MACHINE POWER: The greatest engineering feat every attempted in Rowan county is nearing completion. That is the Chesapeake and Ohio railway job at Haldeman, where an entire hill is being dug away so that a tunnel can be eliminated. Machines, modern and capable of doing the work of 50 men, have enabled the contractors to make almost unbelievable speed on this job. It is well worth anyone's time to go to Haldeman to see what has already been done and witness the surprising rapidity in which dirt and rock is being moved out.

FAIR: In answer to some criticism from Morehead merchants that the annual Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair is not a money-maker for them, those in charge of the event state that the fair is what the name implies. It is strictly educational, non-profit-making and designed to prove an entertainment within itself for rural folk. Street carnivals and such are taboo with the fair association, for they have adopted a policy of keeping money at home.

"Over 40 Years Service To Morehead"

THE GARDEN
 Vegetables for the Winter in "COOL" CROPS—CELLAR STORAGE

By John S. Hartman, Kentucky College of Agriculture
 The cool crops are white potatoes, cabbage and the root crops. They are so named because they should be stored at temperature just above freezing. Their only other requirement is that the storage place atmosphere should be moist, though not distinctly damp. The best and most convenient way to keep the cool crops is in a proper house cellar. Next best is in an "outside cellar" or "cave". Today's description deals with the first-named.

A house cellar in which there is no furnace needs no further preparation than perhaps to construct bins somewhat raised off the floor for safety's sake. If there is a furnace a store-room may be partitioned off in a corner, preferably with an outside window. The partition should be built after the manner of sweet potato house walls. A tightly-fitting door of the same construction should lead into the main part of the cellar.

The partition should consist of 2 by 4 studs covered within and without with sheeting, then paper and last with tongue-and-groove ceiling. If there is doubt about the permeability of the outside walls of the room they should be lined with ceiling lumber preferably with an air-space of an inch or so.

Although the ventilation requirements of the cool crops are not critical, it is of advantage to be able from time to time to change the air, which may have become musty and stale because of the vapors the stored vegetables give off. The ventilating system may also prove valuable in regulating the temperature of the store, as well as presently unfaid.

It is common knowledge that warm air automatically rises, and that, given opportunity to escape, cool air flows in to replace it. These facts in mind, a simple but efficient ventilating system may be constructed as follows:

Remove two panes from the ceiling, window and replace them with sheets of tin. In the center of each cut a hole snugly to receive a 6-inch stove-pipe, which one pointing down and into the room, the other up and outside. In each cut a damper to close the openings at will.

In the outside elbow fit a length of two of stove-pipe, to serve as a stack through which air from the store-room ceiling may be drawn. To the other elbow, hang stove-pipe or a tube of wood or of cloth long enough just to clear the floor. This is the cool air intake.

When both vents closed the air in the store is static and the temperature will stay quite constant. If it should fall dangerously low, it is possible to raise it by opening both vents at midday then closing them again. If it is desired to cool the room as during the late fall or early in the spring, the vents should be opened toward the close of the day, but closed early next morning.

A word, now, as to supply proper humidity, without which an excessive wilting may occur. If the cellar floor is earthen, the probability is that the correct moisture degree is provided. If the floor is made of concrete however, it may be necessary to sprinkle it with water from time to time.

The condition of the vegetables to be stored deserves a word or two. They should be fairly mature, too much under-ripe, they may become flaccid. They should be carefully handled throughout so they are not marred. Generally, only the best specimens deserve to be stored; this year, one may be less critical, and keep all the vegetables that offer fair possibility of being stored.

Dog, False Teeth Result in Murder

Estill County Man Held in Slaying of 40-Year-Old Woman

Thaddeus J. Gilbert, 50, of Estill county, was arrested in Beattyville on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Margaret Ashcraft, 40, at her home at Pryse, near here, Friday afternoon. Estill Deputy Sheriff J. W. Henderson went to Beattyville today and returned Gilbert to the Estill county jail at Irvine. Officers, continuing their probe of the shooting, learned that set of false teeth which Gilbert had left on a table in the Ashcraft home and which a dog belonging to the Ashcrafts had playfully snatched from the table was the indirect cause of the slaying. Gilbert, officers reported, came to the Ashcraft home Friday afternoon and demanded that Mrs. Ashcraft give him $25 to replace the teeth taken by the dog. Mrs. Ashcraft told Gilbert that she was unable to give him the money and an argument ensued, police declared.

REWARD NOTICE

Pursuant to resolution and order entered of record in the Rowan Fiscal Court on November 15, 1935 the Judge of the Rowan County Court for and on behalf of the Rowan County Fiscal Court now accepts from T. C. Fugate Treasurer Reward Fund the sum of $450.00 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons shooting Davis Christian as set out and provided in said resolution and that inasmuch as the resolution calls for the sum of $500.00 as reward in said case and due to the fact that only $450.00 has been contributed for said reward said sum is now accepted and it is now ordered by this Court that a Reward Notice in said case be run in the Morehead Independent, a weekly newspaper of general circulation in Rowan County and that said notice be run in said paper for four consecutive issues beginning with the issue dated September 17th, 1936 unless further ordered by this Court. Cash for the payment of said reward is now on deposit in the Peoples Bank of Morehead to the credit of "Rowan County Reward Fund, Davis Christian."

CANNING AND USE OF TOMATO JUICE By Pearl J. Haak, Kentucky College of Agriculture. When tomatoes are plentiful enough, juice should be canned to serve at least three or four times a week. Tomato juice may be served as an appetizer or it may be used in making sauces to be served with vegetables and meats, and in making soups. If combined with gelatin it adds food value and color and flavor to congealed salads. How to can tomato juice—Cook small and broken tomatoes until they are soft. Press through a sieve to remove skins, seeds and cores. Add 1 level teaspoonful of salt to each quart of pulp, then cook quickly until it begins to thicken (about 5 minutes). Pack immediately into clean, hot jars, seal and process for 30 minutes in hot water bath or 15 minutes in a steam pressure cooker at 10 pounds.

Tomato Creole Sauce—Tomato Creole is one of the favorite sauces for decorating plain boiled rice, besides adding a distinctive flavor, and for dressing ordinary soups. Mix together 1 quart of sliced white onions and 12 finely-chopped green peppers. Simmer until tender, add about twice this bulk in tomatoes and cook together over a low fire until tender. Season to taste. Pack into clean, hot jars and seal immediately.

Poultry Sales Over Year Market receipts of poultry have been running 50 per cent above a similar period last year. This fact may indicate reduction in size of flocks, and result in good prices during the fall and winter. The College of Agriculture at Lexington, therefore, suggests that farmers may find it profitable to cull flocks down to good layers and then give as good care as possible to their hens. Feed prices are up, as a result of the drought, but profits may still be had. A laying mash is recommended for pullets, and both grain and mash should be kept before them. Keeping the birds free from lice and worms helps. Good water always should be available.

Johnson Sees Few Wins For Eagles

Ellis Johnson was slightly more pessimistic this week over the chances of the Morehead college Eagles in football this fall, following 4 or 5 scrimmages in which the squad failed to show quite as much drive as they possibly could have.

"The boys are mighty, mighty green, and it will be sometime before they will round into a team that will successfully meet the opposition on the schedule," Johnson declared.

Johnson does not expect a victory in either of the first two games — against Tennessee Wesleyan and Murray. The best that he hopes for is to keep the score down and bring the squad through without serious injury.

Last year Tennessee Wesleyan lost to Sewanee, a member of the Southeastern conference, by only two points. If they are anything as near as good this year, they should brush the Eagles aside. The power that Murray annually carries is known to all Kentuckians.

Following these two games, the Eagles will run into slightly less formidable opposition but plenty tough at that. Everybody expects Johnson to win some games, but they are far more optimistic than he is.

Practices were cut almost in half this week, the team showed Virgil H. Wolford GENERAL INSURANCE Phone 249 Morehead

SPORTS

The resignation of Bennie Martin, coach at Olive Hill school came as a blow to Cent fans, for Martin had made himself very popular in the brick town.

In the past Olive Hill coaches always came in for a lot of Cent county criticism. Next to Coach Benny—he was well liked by the boys he worked with and the fans and townpeople as well. He had many friends in Morehead, and throughout Eastern Kentucky.

Opponents of Morehead High are not particularly well pleased with Roy Holbrook again taking over the Vikings reigns. The reason for this is apparent—Holbrook has defeated them too many times in the past and they are fearful that Morehead High will cease to be the pushover it has been for the last two years.

Indications are that hereafter, "varsity" team will not be admitted to their conference standing at Morehead's expense unless they put up a battle.

Paul Combs, former Morehead college basketball star, was in Morehead last week. Combs is looking pert and fit as he was when he averaged 18 1/2 points a game in the Eagle court contests.

The Morehead college football stickers which are beginning to appear profusely scattered on windshields etc. are being given free by the alumni association. See Frank Laughlin or Ova Haney.

The stickers are not original, but nevertheless a nifty advertisement for Morehead. A Morehead firm plans to give out small but strongly built, megaphones at the opening home game against Murray here October 3.

Bill Gillespie, formerly of Morehead and now of Ashland is glowing with pride and a swelled chest. The reason—the Giants are almost in.

Gillespie has been as staunch a supporter as the Giants have had for many years. He believes that John McGraw was the greatest baseball manager that ever lived and Bill Terry is next best.

Although the Giants slipped a trifling during their yearling season, Gillespie's moral support has never been lacking. "Terry men appear to be almost 100 per cent for the National League pennant we'll string along with Bill and pick them to defeat the Yankees who are odds-on favorite among the wise boys."

Perhaps you didn't know—Ova Haney, a former baseball luminary at Morehead is Superintendent of Morgan county schools and is receiving the plaudits of school men all over Kentucky for his commendable efforts there. He is president of the Morehead alumni association. Frank Laughlin will probably be coach at Haldeman High. Laughlin scored successfully last year as a mentor. Harry Lowman is one of the smallest and hardest working at Morehead. If he keeps up the spirit he is now showing and the drive that he is daily displaying he is bound to give plenty of service, although handicapped by weight. Claude Clayton has been offered a temporary federal position.

New packing plant at Lexington erected at cost of approximately $150,000, one of the largest establishments of its kind in south, has just opened for business.

Freshmen Practice Starts Here Friday

Many Good Prospects Expected To Report At Morehead College

Freshmen football practice will open Friday at Morehead college. The most likely looking bunch of prospects that have ever come to Morehead are expected to report.

Ellis Johnson and Len Miller have been scouring the country for good material and their efforts have not been fruitless. A few of the freshmen have already come to Morehead. They carry plenty of weight and have a high school or prep school record that is enviable.

The freshmen and varsity will practice together. The reason for this is that Johnson hopes to have them adapted to his style of play by the time they are sophomores. There is no doubt but that the new coaches figure on a bunch of sophomores carrying much of the burden in 1937.

Morehead has had excellent results during the last two years. Teams coached by Bill Scroggins lost only two games—both of them to the University of Kentucky. The idea this year will not be to seek freshman victories but rather to build the boys into varsity material.

Plan Recreational Project In County

New Work To Come Under State WPA; Funds Are Set Out At Louisville

A Recreational Project has been approved for the Works Progress Administration in Kentucky. Douglas Barney, district supervisor of this department announced today. This program will be operated as a state-wide project, sponsored by the Kentucky State Department of Education, under Superintendent of Public Instruction, W. H. Patten.

One or more of these projects is expected to be set up in Rowan county. Mr. Barney declared. This leisure time program is designed to provide useful employment for unemployed persons capable of functioning in a community recreation program and to assist communities in laying the foundation for a permanent program of recreation through the use of their local resources supplemented temporarily by leadership and resources available through the Works Progress Administration.

Many of you have already been contacted regarding recreational projects and the interest you have shown has been most encouraging. With your cooperation we believe that a program of leisure time activities can be developed that will be of lasting benefit, educationally, culturally, socially and physically.

In planning for the program, the following points should be borne in mind:

1. This is not merely a summer time program.
2. It is not merely a physical recreation program.

3. This is a balanced leisure program including music, drama, arts and crafts, social recreation, special women's and girl's activities, and the customary physical playground activities.

praise are the fight scenes in which the Columbia player battles some of the best professional leathers in the nation. Their scenes are stirring and thoroughly realistic. Miss Clayworth does splendidly in the role of Ginger. Dunn's wife and fight manager.

College Theatre To Open Friday

Many Good Pictures Booked For Coming Entertainment Season

The College Theatre, which has been bringing to Morehead audiences some of the finest in motion picture entertainment will open the season Friday, Sept. 18. Among this year's outstanding features will be "Swing Time," "Mary of Scotland," "The Last of the Mohicans," and other great pictures.

For Friday the feature is a dynamic, pulsating action picture with a moving love story entitled, "Two Pisted Gentlemen." Jimmy Dunn and attractive June Clayworth, a newcomer to the screen, enact the leads in this fast-moving comedy-romance which tells the story of a palooka fighter who rises to the top of his profession under the guidance of his wife only to fall again when she leaves her.

Dunn plays the role of Mickey Blake, a rugged middleweight leather-pusher who has everything necessary to be a champion except the brains. Under the clever instructions of his wife, played by Miss Clayworth, Dunn rises in the fight game until he is a contender for the championship.

Then he meets June Preptice, a wealthy debutante who turns his head. Convinced he's too handsome to have his features mauled in the ring, Dunn quarrels with his wife when she wants him to fight the champion and they separate.

Dunn fights frequently, but without his wife's instructions, loses. He soon becomes a fourth rate fighter. Broken in spirit, penniless and beaten, Dunn is given a new chance by his wife who has become manager of a stable of fighters and is doing well. The acting of Jimmy Dunn is outstanding. Worthy particular

Besides being lovely to look at, she has real histrionic talent. For Monday, Sept. 21 a gay romance of Manhattan entitled "They Met in a Taxi."

FOLKS: Here is an outstanding bargain that we are offering for a limited time to promote better home lighting during Fall and Winter when your family will spend most evenings indoors. Built to exacting specifications of Illuminating Engineering Society, this handsome, sturdy lamp gives a flood of white light without glare or shadows—excellent for study, reading, sewing, card-playing, or other close work.

To insure wide light distribution this lamp is 28 inches high and has a 19-inch heavy purchase shade with 8-inch optical glass reflector. Weighted metal base keeps it from tipping. Foiled base prevents scratching. The 7-foot cord (with unbreakable rubber plug) allows plenty of room to move lamp around. Choice of two durable finishes—Antique Ivory or English.
