When this school was founded in 1922 it was a Normal School. In 1923 the State of Kentucky took over the school and it became the Morehead State Normal and Teachers College. In 1924 the Infirmary was started and was located in Withers Hall, no longer in existence. The first nurse was Estelle Hamilton. The Infirmary was then moved to Fields Hall on the third floor, west wing where Maude Hackney was nurse. She was the second nurse to work in the Infirmary. The Infirmary, after several years at this location, was moved to the first floor in the west wing of Fields Hall.

1956 - Phyllis French, R.N. The only way, I know of, available for finding the other nurses would be to search the year books.

1958 - Juanita Howard, R.N.

That was the location when I started my employment with what was then Morehead State College, September 1, 1959.

There was one room to serve as office, treatment room and examining room. There were three patient rooms. Each had two beds, two closets, one dresser, one desk and two bedside cabinets. The other room served as a bathroom, utility room and linen room.

On July 1, 1962, the Infirmary was moved into the remodeled basement of Fields Hall. There was now a waiting room, office, one room for examining room and treatment room with seven bed patient rooms (two beds per room) and one four-bed ward - a total of eighteen beds. There was also a linen room, store room, supply room, utility room and two bathrooms.
The University made a contract with the Morehead Clinic, January 1973, to supply the Infirmary with a physician's assistant six hours a day with an M.D. coming to the Infirmary once a day during the week and once a day on weekends when there were bed patients.

Some changes were made in the physical layout of the Infirmary at that time. One of the patient rooms was made into a laboratory, another of the rooms was made into an office. This left a total of fourteen beds in the Infirmary.

June 1, 1977, the Infirmary was moved to the first floor of Allie Young Hall and the name was changed by act of the Board of Regents to the Wilma H. Caudill Health Clinic.

The Caudill Health Clinic now has a large waiting room with rest rooms for the waiting patients. There is a large reception area with a chartriever - this is a modern convenient storage cabinet with rotating shelves where the patient charts are stored. There is a room for the medical transcriptionist - secretary, diet kitchen, isolation room with a private bathroom. There are two patient bathrooms, linen room, utility room, five rooms for inpatients (2 beds per room), and one four-bed room. Each patient bed has its own clothes closet, bedside cabinet, overbed table, chair with cushioned vinyl covered seat and back, call system unit to call the nurse which contains an intercom to the nurses station and a speaker for the TV in the room. A remote control unit in each room enables the patients to turn the TV on and off and control the volume and change channels on the TV. There is a linen room, utility room, supply room for medical supplies, nurses station, director's office, two examining rooms and a treatment room. There are two custodian closets and one storage closet. There is a covered ambulance entrance on the north side of the Clinic. There is an entrance for daily use on the south side of the building with an exit on the east end and the west end of the Clinic.
There are two patient bathrooms and two bathrooms for the staff.

July 1, 1977 - the P.A.'s are now working eight hours per day with a second one working four hours per day for six (?) months out of the year. A doctor still comes to the Clinic once a day during the week and when there is a bed patient on the weekends.
