MUCH NEWS

The Rowan County News is running at capacity speed so far as publishing newspapers is concerned. Besides getting out the News the plant is publishing the "Trail Blazer" student publication of Morehead College and "The Viking Voice," organ of the Morehead High School.

Between these three editions, the publisher of this section should be amply supplied with all the News from "extras" to features.

THE DOLLAR SIGN

Many Kentucky editors are taking dried beans, poultry, eggs, hay, hops, or what have you to get their subscribers to pay their circulation. Fortunately the News circulation is paid up in full and in advance. Not that we can't relish a good ham or chicken, but we pay cash to publish the paper, and our subscribers evidently feel that the paper is worth paying cash for.

The National Educational Association Service reports that the Franzen (Minn.) Press run the following advertisement in reference to their subscribers:

SPECIAL NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

Sorry to say that there is a little matter that some of our subscribers have seemingly forgotten. Some of them have made up many excuses but haven't kept them. To us it is a very important matter. It is necessary in our business. We are modest and hesitate to speak about such matters, but we wish some of you would take the hint and come across with a few dollars necessary in our business. OFFER MELON PRIZE

The farmer who has been fortunate enough to pack his biggest watermelon in sawdust or some such sustaining material may be fortunate. Although the watermelon season has passed, the Fair will offer a prize for the largest watermelon on exhibit. The flavor or ripeness of the melon will not be considered only its proportions and weight.

TWO THINGS LACKING

As we glance over the program of the fair we notice there are two features that might be included: One is a beauty contest. Can't you remember when the rural pulchritude paraded for the coveted prize of the county's most beautiful young woman? The other is a premium of a free marriage certificate to the couple that were publicly married on the fair court.

Oh, well, times are changing. The world won't have a bean stringing contest either.

A VEELY LITERARY PERSON

James Stevens, of Ireland, recognized as one of the greatest living poets of the present day will be at the Morehead State Teachers College convocation Monday morning at 9:20. There is no charge for hearing this genius, while if you were in another city you might willingly pay a handful of quarters to hear this great Irishman.

It would not only be a tribute to James Stevens but to the people of Morehead, as well, to be on hand at the College auditorium Monday morning.

TO GIVE BAND CONCERT IN COLLEGE AUDITORIUM

The Morehead College Band will give a concert in the auditorium Thursday evening for the small admission of ten cents. Proceeds derived will be used to defray the band's expenses to the Morehead Centre Game at Danville Saturday. A variety of musical presentations is planned by the organization for its initial public appearance.

The first football rally of the year will be in the college chapel Friday morning. A huge pep rally to boost the team on to Danville is planned for

FALL TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT BEGINS WORK

Grand Jury Returns Six True Bills; Only Minor Cases Being Tried

The Rowan County Grand Jury in session here returned murder indictments against Tom Williams and Omer Kissick. The court set the Williams trial for Friday and that of Kissick for Monday.

Only six true bills had been returned by the grand jury until yesterday.

Cases tried so far, and the verdict, include: Alvin Puckett breach of peace, $25 and costs; Roy Alfrey drunk, $25 and costs; George Parsons, disturbing religious worship, $40 and costs; Elsa Hardin, disturbing religious worship, $20 and costs; K. L. Hall, $500 bond forfeited for non-appearance; Joe Huson, drunk in a public place, $50 and costs; Augustine DeBord, breach of the peace, $15 and costs; Roy Adams, obstructing justice $20 and costs.

H. Brown, and Andy Turner, injuring public property filed away for lack of evidence; Carl Walters, charged with manslaughter, was fined $100 and costs after the charge had been changed to assault.

Judge J. F. Bailey of Paintsville was here Wednesday and will possibly remain today in his capacity.

College Theatre Features Artiss

Last season you saw George Artiss on the screen at the College, seeking to make millions of dollars as a member of a firm of a historically important family of international bankers and statesmen, "The House of Rothschild". In The Last Gentleman, which you may see at the College only on the evening of October 5th, Artiss portrays the part of a man seeking to give away millions.

Mr. Artiss is a rich old gentleman trying to pick an heir to his fortune. Edna Mae Oliver of comedy fame, plays a role for which she is famous on the screen, and you will laugh at her and with her every time she appears in the play. Charlotte Henry of "Alice in Wonderland" fame has the enviable role of favorite niece to the cranky, crabbed, cantankerous.

PLAY-OFF SERIES IN STATE LOOP TO BE FIVE GAMES

According to present plans the series in the Kentucky State Baseball League will be for five games and will start Saturday October 13 and end Sunday October 21. There may be a moving up of these dates to avoid cold weather hampering the playoff. The teams will probably play Saturday, Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday and Sunday if it goes the full five games.

The team that wins the three games will be declared champion.

Flemingsburg won the first half, and of Morehead scores a double victory over Paris Sunday they have a clear cut title for the second half.

NOTED IRISH POET WILL RETURN TO MOREHEAD

James Stevens, of Ireland, recognized by critics as one of the literary sensations of the fall season, will appear in the auditorium of the Morehead State Teachers College Monday morning at the regular convocation hour.

During his appearance Mr. Stevens will recite many of the poems that have spread his literary fame throughout the world. He is at present on a tour of the United States.

At present Mr. Stevens is writing a book on the poetry of Byron.

Dr. J. H. Payne says that he comes as one of the best known men ever to appear on the Morehead College stage.

Dr. J. H. Payne On Speaking Tour

Dr. J. H. Payne, president of the Morehead State Teachers College, will speak Thursday to the Cumberland Valley Education Association in session at Somerset. His subject will be "The Strength of the Spirit."

He will also preside at the E. K. E. A. meeting in Ashland November 8, 9, and 10.

FREE BOOKS GIVEN

Free text books for the first three grades of the school in the county have been distributed from the office of the county Superintendent.

Dr. Marsh Puts In New Equipment

Dr. N. C. Marsh, Morehead chiropractor, has recently installed new office equipment which places his office on a par with the best in the state. Chief among the new articles of equipment, is a new adjustment table of the most modern type available. With this new table, Dr. Marsh states that he can now give adjustments to his patients much more effectively and satisfactorily than he could formerly. He invites the public to visit his office and examine the new equipment which among other things includes a large "sun-ray" lamp for giving complete sunbaths.

The Atlantic And Pacific Tea Company Announces Seventy-Fifth Anniversary

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company today announced the plans for its 75th Anniversary celebration. This company started in 1859 as a single store on Vesey Street, New York. Today its anniversary sale will be celebrated by 90,000 employees in 15,000 stores serving six million customers daily.

J. T. Patten, the oldest living member of the organization, gave reporters an account of the company's growth.

"My first job with A & P was in May 1875," said Mr. Patten. "The company was then sixteen years old and had only twelve stores, but a large mail order business."

FISCAL COURT REFUSES TO ACCEPT ROAD OFFER

Anticipating revenue of almost twenty eight thousand dollars from their seventy cent levy, the Rowan county Fiscal Court, in special session Tuesday, approved a budget and took a vote on a resolution adopted by Nat B. Sewell, State Inspector and examiner.

On motion of J. B. Rose and a second by Sherman Mabry, the court took a vote on relinquishing to the State Highway Commission the truck tax due Rowan county to be applied in surfacing and draining the road from the Carter county line to Hayes Crossing. Rose and Mabry voted by the motion, but it was killed by the votes from Ben Hamm, Fred Burrows and County Judge C. E. Jennings.

Corn-Hog Plan Is To Be Voted On

Rowan county farmers who have signed a corn-hog contract will be given an opportunity to express their wishes concerning the continuation of the corn-hog production control program. This expression is being taken in all sections where a considerable amount of corn and hogs are produced.

A meeting will be held at the courthouse Saturday, October 6th, at 10:30 a. m. Many of the leading corn-hog producers whether they have signed contracts or not have been invited to attend this meeting. These farmers will vote for or against the two following questions:

"Do you favor an adjustment program dealing with corn and hogs in 1935? Do you favor a one contract per farm adjustment program dealing with grain and livestock to become effective in 1936?"

1934 contract signers will express their vote on one type of ballot and non-signers will express their vote on another type.

The corn-hog control committee composed of I. E. Pelfrey, president John Ellis and T. H. Caskey will attend a meeting at Lexington Wednesday, October 3 to receive instructions for holding the meeting Saturday. County Agent Chas. L. Goff will attend the Lexington meeting and also will assist in taking the vote Saturday.

Will Organize School Alumni

A movement is under way to organize an alumni association at the Morehead High School. All of the graduates are requested to make an attempt to make this movement concrete. A small fee will be charged for every year. This fee will include alumni dues and one year's subscription to "The Viking Voice."

After the association becomes a reality, one day and night will be given for the expressed purpose of a grand and glorious get-together. A football game will be held in the afternoon and a banquet at night.

Each graduate is urged to make a special effort to see either Mary Alice Calvert, Anna Jane Day or Luther Jayne for definite details. Let's make it a combined move to establish a permanent organization.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN CLINIC AT LEXINGTON

All parents of crippled children in Rowan County are invited to take advantage of the free clinic to be held at Lexington on October 12. Dr. T. A. E. Evans said today. An examination will be taken and means for correcting the child's condition will be given.

Free transportation will be provided in donated automobiles for the parent and child to and from Lexington. All desiring to take advantage should get in touch with Dr. Evans at the courthouse at 8:00 o'clock on the morning of October 12.

BINGO WILL BE FEATURE OF FAIR ON OCTOBER 5, 6

The Fair Committee granted the Morehead High School the right to run a bingo game the two days of the fair.

Valuable prizes will be given away, those in charge of the convocation announced today. The prizes will consist of baskets of groceries, aluminum ware, etc. The charge will be only five cents a card. Win a valuable prize, and help the High School, say a book.

County Fair Will Start With Big Parade Friday

RELIEF OFFICES ORDERED SHUT

State Director of KERA in Message Orders All Work Stopped

All relief work in Rowan county has been ordered stopped today, the local office reports.

The dispute between Governor Ruby Laffoon and the Federal Relief Administration appears to have come to a head with a telegram issued by the District Relief office at Grayson today. All relief work is stopped, except in cases of dire need or medical aid, have been stopped.

On Tuesday the State Relief office asked that the $250,000 appropriation made by the legislature be turned over without strings that the Governor had put to it. Governor Laffoon refused to do so, but when asked if he had removed all the strings replied, "Not by a long sight." Laffoon said it was turned over on condition that the Federal Government allot Kentucky a fund for October relief.

The telegram issued from the District Office and sent by Thornston Wilcox, State Administrator, KERA follows:

In view of the uncertainty of further Federal Relief Grant you are hereby directed to discontinue all Work Relief Projects in your area as of Thursday night, October 4th and to collect and store all tools and supplies which are the property of KERA. You are authorized, however to approve the temporary issuance of Direct relief orders as may be required to avert actual suffering including medical care, also to continue Canteen program and distribution of surplus commodities.

Signed: JOHN W. SMITH, Administrator, Grayson, Ar.

Teachers will register the names of these children who need money for lunches with Mrs. Payne, after which it will be distributed.

The agricultural part of the fair has been under the supervision of C. L. Goff, County Agent. There is every likelihood of this year's fair exhibits being better than at any previous fair. The display in the Woman's department will be unexcelled.

Everyone attending the fair is asked to obtain a copy of the fair catalog for a complete program, and full details of the events and.

Cozy Will Offer Great Features

Fast fun, variety and hilarious action characterize the spontaneous film comedy "Direct the Groom," which opens Friday at the Cozy Theatre.

Jack Haley, Mary Boland, Noel Hamilton, Patricia Ellis, Estelle Getty, Jewel Sydney and Larry Gray are the principal players. Edward Sedgwick directed the film for Charles R. Rogers, independent producer, at the Paramount studios.

Trying to prove to his girl that he can be a big success in his profession, burglary, Jack Haley gets himself into quite a mix-up while holding up a poker man. The cops stop him, give chase and Haley finds escape in the pullman compartment of a railroad train waiting at the station. But his troubles aren't ended here.

The comedian in which he hides belongs to a young bride, whose husband, a famous radio masked tenor, has deserted her.

FIVE MILLION JOBS

The importance of home building and repairing in the fight for recovery was well summarized recently by Bernard L. Johnson, editor of the American Builder, when he said: "The tremendous decline in expenditures for home building from an average of $3,000,000,000 a year to less than $200,000,000 in 1931 and 1932 was a major cause of depression and unemployment. Stimulation of home building and repairs will eventually give employment to 5,000,000 men directly or indirectly dependent on building for their livelihood. Home building is a local industry. It will put men to work in their own home towns at their own jobs, and will give business to local contractors, lumber dealers, hardware stores, electrical and supply shops and other local businesses." Every type of business and worker is benefited when a wave of building and modernizing sweeps through a community. Every dollar spent starts a great financial circle—the money goes to workmen who pay their bills and are able to buy more products; it goes to stores which in turn are enabled to meet their obligations and restock; it goes to farmers and to doctors and, in the form of taxes, to government. Eventually it comes back, with interest in the coin of better business, to the original spender.

A NEW NEWSPAPER

Volume 1, Number 1, of the "Viking Voice" newspaper of the Morehead High School, and aptly named in honor of their athletic teams appeared this week. The paper is printed in tabloid style and contains ten pages of interesting news about the local school and the advertisement of practically every Morehead business firm.

It is a tribute to the local merchant for his advertisement in this new newspaper, and all of the others that he advertises in every week. Truly, the business man in our city realizes the advantage of advertising, besides lending his support to every forward enterprise that is being attempted.

To get back to the paper proper—a lot of credit belongs to the Morehead High students and Principal D. D. Caudill for this newspaper. It portrays, in an interesting manner, the advancement that the boy and girl of this city are making. The paper is considerably better than most high school editions, and on a par with that of larger high schools.

The start has been a good one. We dare say that in years to come the Viking Voice will be unequalled for High School editions in the state.

LIVE FOLKS MAKE LIVE CITY

Whenever any public event or public improvement is carried forward to accomplishment, the burden of effort is usually carried by few earnest souls who see that there is a job to be done and then go ahead and do it.

A small town that has a good city park, a good ball team, well paved, has well kept lawns, puts on a good 4th of July celebration, has adequate lighting, or has or does anything at all better than the average place, usually owes it to the initiative of a few who have ability and who will work.

One man's hobby is beautifying his home grounds. By the judicious use of trees and shrubs and painstaking care of them he sets an example to his neighbors and other householders which may have a marked effect on the entire community, even though few may have the time or patience to even approach the excellence he attains. That man may consider a good home baseball team a thing of minor importance or even useless foolishness.

Another man may look with admiration on the first man's beautiful lawn and hedge but as far as putting that much effort into having one himself he has never even thought of it. But he may take hold of the seemingly thankless job of managing a good ball team. Baseball is his hobby. He helps the community by doing his part to have a good team.

Another man may think baseball is the bunk and that a wonderful blue spruce tree in a pleasing setting is something to enjoy with only a fleeting glance as he drives by. But he possibly believes that good paved streets with plenty of bright lighting is a necessity for his home town, and he goes ahead and pushes through the improvement against opposition of the "do nothings" and the "pay nothings" with which every place is cursed.

With another it's a fine school building, with another it's a better city hall or a better school system. Each man may have a different way of helping his community and help it in connection with some activity in which he takes a personal interest.

Give the boys a good hand, whatever activity they try to put across? They're trying to do something in a creditable manner even though their way of doing it may not be exactly your way of doing it. At least recognize the fact that they are putting honest efforts into the job. It takes a lot of different kinds of live people to make a live town.

NEWS FLASHES OF INTEREST

GIRL DESIGNS HUGE BRIDGE

A 21-year old University of Minnesota Co-ed, who will receive her degree in the engineering school next June, was accepted as the designer of the plan enclosed for the new $2,075,000 bridge to be constructed across the Missouri River at Omaha, Neb.

She is Edith Reed of Minneapolis is working her own way through the University, and she developed the plan while in bed recuperating from an automobile accident. Many leading architects expressed amazement when it was learned the successful design was the creation of a woman, but probably the most surprised person was Miss Reed herself.

I didn't even dare hope for such a thing, she said tonight. Miss Reed entered the university five years ago with her mind set on being an architect. During the past summer she had worked on various department stores and with architectural companies to earn tuition money.

BUSINESS, BETTER, BANKS REPORT

The National City Bank of New York says in its monthly report of business conditions that trade reports have been better during September, and those who have been hoping for a moderate pick-up in industrial activity during the fall have been greatly encouraged.

TREASURY CALL BONDS IN

As a partial answer to critics of New Deal monetary policies, Treasury experts calculated today that in three weeks they have clipped about $15,000,000 off the annual interest the government must pay on its public debt.

This was accomplished through a sale with persons who already held fourth Liberty Loan bonds bearing a 4 1/4 per cent interest. In exchange for these, the bondholders have agreed to take $293,000,000 in ten to twelve year obligations bearing in four year notes carrying 2 1/2 per cent and four bullets were fired into and one half per cent interest.

RELIEF CHAIRMAN RESIGNS

The Rev. Dr. Charles W. Welch announced Sunday his intention to resign as chairman of the Kentucky Relief Commission. The announcement was made from the pulpit at the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church. Dr. Welch began his morning sermon.

Interference by the relief work of his duties as pastor was given by Dr. Welch as the reason for his determination to resign.

WESTERN BANDIT DIES

A man identified by authorities as the self styled "Emperor" of the lawless East, Goodman of Wilkes, Mo. died in a hospital at St. Louis late Sunday from gunshot wounds, suffered in a spectacular roadside tavern holdup at midnight which resulted in three other deaths. The holdup occurred at the Jackson Tavern in St. Jacobs, Ill. while four customers were seated at tables quietly conversing over a late lunch. Elmer Jackson, proprietor of the place, was in the rear, in his adjoining living quarters.

Investigation of the fatal shooting of Riley Belcher, aged attorney, of Elkhorn City, in an exchange of bullets, in a courtroom at Mouth-castle, revealed that a .32 calibre bullet had caused Belcher's death.

Belcher was caught in a cross-fire of bullets as Lonza Ashbire, 33 and Bert Matney, 30, litigants in a civil action, started exchanging shots. Ashbire was shooting a .32 calibre weapon, officials said.

Hatchet men struck down and killed Joe Suen, 40, Chinese gambler, in California Sunday night and police today took precautions to prevent a possible Tong war.

The slain Chinese, a gambler known as "Little Joe" and a member of the powerful Hop Sing Tong was attacked by two men who leaped upon him as he was passing an alley, police said. His head, split and four notes were fired into and one half per cent interest.

Organizing P. T. A. At Glasgow—Mrs. Blanche Caudill and the parents of Glasgow School District have arranged a program at which a Parent Teachers Association is to be organized and plans for the remainder of the school year are to be made.

Baseball Popular On Christy Creek

Baseball games are being held almost every Saturday between the school teams of Bradley, Scott Branch, Old House Creek, and other schools. The boys are interested, and a great deal of enthusiasm and competition between the schools is being aroused in this way.

Nancy Caudill has again taken on her work at Little Ferry School. Miss Caudill has been out for several weeks on account of illness. S. W. Caudill acted as substitute during her absence.

SENIOR HAY RIDE

The members of the senior class, with some of their friends, enjoyed a hay ride Friday night, September 21, leaving Morehead at 7:30 and driving to Flemingsburg. They were accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Anna Jane Day, Miss

Mabel Hackney, teacher at Elliottsville, and Principal Dennis Caudill

A Home Made Lap Board Will Save Back and Nerves in Many Uses

WORKING with a heavy book, certain kinds of sewing, and many other home, office and studio tasks often become back-breaking and vexations from long leaning over a table. The simple lap board, which once enjoyed quite a vogue, is a practical answer.

This useful article is little seen now except in the costly handwood types, or in the paper board types which quickly rot and split. Good lap boards made of laminated wood to prevent warping, or of seasoned hard woods, are well worth their cost, but strangely enough there seems to be little demand for them, as a survey of department stores in a large city recently revealed.

The ease with which pressed wood may be worked by anyone halfway clever with a saw makes it possible to turn out, in almost as little time as it takes to tell about it, an economical one-piece lap board—one that will be durable, warp-proof and waterproof besides.

From your building supply dealer obtain a section of pressed wood 2 1/2 in. of inch thick from which a piece 36 x 19 inches can be sawed out. It comes in large strips, and most of us usually have "shorts" in stock. Then with a fine tooth saw cut out a design along the lines of the diagram shown above. Round off the edges with a file or sandpaper, and that's all there is to it. No painting, oiling or waxing is necessary.

For some the utility of a lap board can be increased by fastening about four inches from the top, a thin hickory yard stick. It may be glued or screwed to the board.

With the lap board resting on the arms of a chair, either straight or rocker, one may lean back and relax while reading, writing, sketching or sewing. They are useful to serve invalids. Children will find them useful in doing their home work. Stamp collectors will find them ideal to use while mulling over their collections.

Pressed wood, which is made by exploding chips of high grade wood under pressure, and then compressing the resulting fibres under tremendous pressure into a thin hard board, is grainless and equally strong. Its natural wood, though smooth, pleasing texture and its color is a rich brown. It may be worked like natural wood, but unlike natural wood it will not split, chip or crack under normal conditions.

One of its outstanding advantages in many household uses is that it comes in simple widths which make it possible to use a single piece where several pieces would be required. If natural wood were used.

Better Breakfasts

THERE'S no N. R. A. code which applies to breakfasts, but they can be made better just the same. So, while we are furnishing up our business and planning to have them run more smoothly than ever before, why not furnish up at the same time those most important preliminaries to all business—our breakfasts?

We need new ideas as often as possible in our breakfasts just as we need new ideas in our businesses. There are many combinations of well-known foods which have not occurred to us before, but turn out in practice to be simply swell. How often, for instance, have you combined eggs and toast in a breakfast dish? Here's the way to do it:

Scrambled Eggs and Toast. Turn one cup canned peas into skillet, and season with salt, pepper and a few grains of sugar. Cook gently until all the liquor is absorbed. Add one tablespoon butter, and when melted, pour in five slightly-beaten eggs and five tablespoons milk. Cook gently, stirring until creamy. Serves four.

This dish with grapes, cereal with cream, bacon, toast and coffee will make a tasty and different breakfast.

Have Coffee Fresh

Your coffee must be fresh, or the breakfast will be ruined. But that's not hard now that nearly all the good brands of coffee come and toast in a breakfast dish. Here's the way to do it:

Scrambled Eggs and Toast. Turn one cup canned peas into skillet,

Beautiful Berries

WHY not go berrying today? It needn't be a long, hard trip, since your objective need merely be the nearest grocery store. And it needn't require arduous sifting, as you will find there blackberries, blueberries, raspberries, loganberries, gooseberries, loganberries and clean and ready to be eaten—in cans.

But the point is how to serve them after you have come back here are some ways that we would suggest.

Blackberry Trifle: Spread three-fourths cup cornflakes in the bottom of a well-buttered baking dish and cover with one cup of drained canned blackberries. Sprinkle one-fourth cup sugar over, dot with one tablespoon butter, and cover with another three-fourths cup of cornflakes. Pour in the blackberry syrup, and bake in a moderate 375 degree—oven for thirty minutes. Serves four and has the advantage of costing not more than a quarter.

Tarts and Blanc Mange

Blueberry Tarts: Line tart shells with pastry. Mix two cups canned blueberries, four tablespoons flour, one tablespoon sugar, and one tablespoon lemon juice, and fill shells with this mixture. Bake in a hot oven—425 degrees for from fifteen to twenty minutes.

Jellied Blanc Mange: Soften one tablespoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water. Beat two egg yolks slightly, add six tablespoons sugar, a few grains of salt and two cups scalded filtered evaporated milk. Cook in double boiler until it coats the spoon. Add the gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool, add one-half teaspoon vanilla and pour into wet molds. Chill. Turn out and pour over one cup cold canned raspberries. Serves six.

And how about loganberry shortcake and the dozens of other dishes you can make with raspberries? Why not go berrying today?

Bratton Branch School

An enrollment of 56 pupils at the Bratton Branch School is working successfully under the direction of Verna Seagrs, teacher, to make that school one of the leading schools of the county. They are trying to raise money with which to purchase school equipment. On Saturday night, September 15th a pie supper was held and funds to the amount of $14.86 were obtained. The contest for the prettiest girl proved to be very interesting as well as rather unwise. Mrs. Mary Bell Gikelson nominated Allie Sorrell, at least a "250 pounder" and a farmer in the neighborhood, for election. Mr. Sorrell proved to be satisfactory to the extent that he received the most votes and he was awarded the cake.

Kennel Murder Case

"I trust I did right in advising Gamble to call you before breaking in the door. I realize now that if there had remained a spark of life" "Oh, he was quite dead hours ago. Vance interrupted, without turning from the painting. Your decision has worked out perfectly."

"Markham swung about.

"What do you mean by that, Vance?"

"Merely that, if the door had been broken in, and the room overrun with solicitous friends, and the body handled for signs of life, and all the locked in evidence probably destroyed, we would have had a difficult time arriving at a sensible solution of what really went on here last night."

Well its pretty plain to me what went on here last night. It was Heath who projected himself, a bit intelligently, into the talk. This guy locked himself in, and blew his brains out. An even you Mr. Vance can't make anything original out of that.

Vance turned slowly and turned his head at the desk at the desk.

Tut, tut, Sergeant, he said pleasantly. It's not I who am going to spoil your simple and beautiful theory.

No? Heath was still belligerent. Then who is.

The corpse, answered Vance mildly.

wear to something more relaxing for this great moment in his life. And note that haste was not a factor. His robe is neatly buttoned, and the girdle is tied in an admirable bow-knot. We can hardly assume that he suddenly decided on 'suicide' halfway through his changing from street clothes to negligee. And yet, Markham, something must have stopped him—something must have compelled him to sit down, stretch his legs out, and close his eyes before he had finished the operation of making himself sartorially comfortable.

Your reasoning is not altogether convincing, Markham countered. A man might conceivably wear heavy shoes with a dressing gown.

Perhaps, Vance nodded. I shan't be narrow minded in these matters. But, assuming Coe is a suicide, why should he have chosen this chair for the door? A man bent on doing a workmanlike job of shooting himself would instinctively sit up straight where he could perhaps brace his arms and steady his head. If he were going to sit by the desk at all he would, I think, have chosen the straight chair—where he could rest both elbows on the top and thus insure a steady, accurate aim.

His arm is on the end of the desk, put in Heath.

VISION'S TOBACCO BILL ENDORSED BY PATMAN

Termining the present federal tax on tobacco "outrageous," Representative Wm. C. Patman (D-Texas) addressing the national convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars, said tonight that when Representative Fred Vinson of Kentucky renews his fight in the next congress for tobacco reduction he would lend him his active support.

"The present tax on cigarettes represents more than the actual price of them," he said.
"Just because a tobacco tax is easily collected is no reason for making it excessive," he said.

Kentucky Farm News

FROM UNIVERSITY OF KY. EXPERIMENT STATION

French peas may be made permanent by lining the walls and bottom with concrete or rock. A drain should be provided in one corner at the lower end to remove water that may enter while the silo is being emptied.

If butter is soft, after churning, it should be washed with water a few degrees colder than the butter; otherwise use water of the same temperature. Washing it twice will prevent off flavors.

Removal of grass, weeds, manure and other debris from the base of trees in the fall helps to break up the hiding places of mice, which do a great amount of injury to Kentucky orchards. Placing a half bushel of coal cinders around each tree hinders mice from making burrows.

The hopper or self feeding of whole grain is finding favor with more poultry raisers every year. It is more sanitary, saves labor and lowers the cost of egg production. Hens can grind their own grain more efficiently than any mill.

The porch ceiling should not be painted conspicuously different color from those used elsewhere on the exterior of the house. It is a mistake to paint the ceiling light blue, because undue attraction if thereby attracted to it.

Frequent care must be given saurkraut. Remove the scum and forms and wash and scald the plate, weight and cloth as often as necessary to remove scum and mold. Fermentation, complete in 8 to 12 days in warm weather, requires more time at lower temperatures.

CHICKENPOX
While healthy birds kept in good houses will contract chickenpox, the disease likely will be in a lighter form and do less damage than in unthriftly flocks, says a statement by Dr. F. E. Hill, the Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Kentucky.

Poultry houses should be dry, properly ventilated and well lighted. Crowding of birds should be avoided, and there should be ample room for roosting. Dampness, drafts, insanitary surroundings and parasites favor the spread and severity of chickenpox but do not cause disease.

Healthy, vigorous birds kept in clean, well ventilated houses are likely to contract chickenpox as are birds in poor conditions or infested with parasites. Once the disease is introduced into an unthriftly flock, however the infection will spread more rapidly, the disease will spread in a more severe form and the mortality will be higher.

Show stocks should be quarantined for two weeks before being placed in the flock, shipping crates should be cleaned and disinfected and care generally given to prevent the introduction of chickenpox into the flock.

Cutaneous vaccination is used for preventing chickenpox. Pullets should not be housed for at least 30 days following vaccination, and heavy layers should not be vaccinated. Healthy birds in good condition free from ocellidiosis and worms, and less than 14 weeks old, are the best subjects for vaccination. Veterinarians have supplies of the vaccine.

FALL SALVAGE
A discussion was begun last week of the relatively easy methods of saving garden leftovers to be used through the winter. Simple methods are stressed, but makeshifts should be used only when it is impossible to do better.

SWEET POTATOES: Although this vegetable is a critical one to store, many of its requirements are more simple met in a professional storage houses meet them. Requirements for successful storage of sweetpotatoes are complete ventilation and maintenance of proper temperature. To assure the former, an exhaust for fresh dry air and an exhaust for moistened, warmed air to escape, are provided. In order that the temperature will not fall below what is safe, the building must be warmly constructed, and means for occasionally heating it installed. In short, a specialized structure is best, but that need not discourage persons with limited facilities from trying. The first step is curing, that is, only a small number of contracts driving off excess moisture. Sweet-potatoes are cured when they are no longer brittle when their ends are broken off. Curing may be accomplished by pre-storing the potatoes in an airy place, or even outside in the sun, keeping in mind that a temperature below 50 degrees is dangerous. Curing takes from two to four weeks, after which the potatoes may be permanently stored. This may be any location in which a temperature of 50 degrees is assured. If there is fluctuation, as in a house room where fires are kept only during the day, provision must be made to bridge over the night, and a simple way is that of wrapping the tubers each in a newspaper, is effective. A further precaution is to cover the pile of containers with sacking, tarpaulin, carpets or blankets. Closets adjacent to stone chimneys may be used, or the tubers may be stored in the wrapped potatoes may be grouped about a chimney passing through the attic. The masonry must be sound, however, so as not to cause a fire hazard.

Persons who have house cellar and heating systems are indeed fortunate, for all they need to do is hang the baskets of sweetpotatoes to the first floor joints, over or above the cellar furnace, after the tubers are cured. If the house cellar is floored in concrete and is consequently dry, curing may be dispensed with, and the baskets hung immediately after the potatoes are dug.

No matter which storing means is used, the potatoes should have been so handled that no bruising or scorching of the skins has taken place, for a mutilated potato cannot be expected to keep properly.

CUSHAWS. These too are warm crops, in that a sustained temperature much below 50 degrees does them harm. Dryness of atmosphere is essential too. In fact, all that has just been said of sweetpotatoes applies to cushaws and squashes, except that no preliminary curing is needed. High shelves in house closets should be used or shelves hung just below the first floor joints in the house cellar, about or above the furnace.

PEPPER AND EGGPLANTS. These are warm crops, and although their requirements in general are the same as for the others, they will rapidly except there is some moisture present. A compromise is to keep them in the same storage as the squashes, but halfway to the floor. They are especially good after season the attempt should be made to keep them.

POULTRY RAISERS
The improvement of the poultry industry in making chickens a greater farm asset in Kentucky will be discussed at the 11th annual poultry field day meeting at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington October 10.

Poultry now is the third most important farm product in Kentucky, and is running neck to neck with dairying. Rapid strides have been made in recent years in improving the quality and quantity of poultry products.

Among the speakers at the meeting will be Dr. V. D. Tammolien, in charge of the poultry work at Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and an authority on marketing poultry products. He will speak twice on the part of the AAA in improving the industry. D. D. Slade, Lexington, president of the International Baby Chick Association and chairman of the hatchery one of the hatcheryman's part in the AAA.

Other speakers include Dr. J. Holmes Martin, head of the poultry department at the Experiment Station, and Prof. D. G. Card, of the Experiment Station and College of Agriculture.

A part of the day will be devoted to inspecting the Experiment Station poultry flock and hearing reports of the various experimental arrangements being made to accommodate several hundred visitors.

the program will be discussed. These questions will be voted on: Do you favor an adjustment dealing with hogs and hogs in 1935? Do you favor a one contract farm adjustment program dealing with grains and livestock to become effective in 1936?

A total of 23,500 Kentucky farmers signed corn-hog or adjustment contracts. They produced an average of 775,000 hogs and 782,000 acres of corn in 1932 and 1933.

These 23,500 farmers will receive approximately 3,500,000 in benefit payments for their cooperation in the adjustment of the production of corn and hogs.

HEAT HELPS CURING
The use of heat is a distinct advantage not only in preventing houseburn in damp weather, but in raising the temperature of barns where tobacco is housed in cool weather, says the Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Kentucky.

Tobacco yellows slowly at temperatures below 60 degrees, and when the crop is cut late the temperature in the barn will frequently get low. If the tobacco yellows too slowly, it dries before the yellowing is completed and cures green. Another instance where heat can be used to advantage is to dry out the leaf when it remains wet for several days after curing is completed. This is a big help in preserving the finish and color of the leaf.

FARMERS SCHOOL NEWS
The first regular meeting of the Farm P. T. A. was held Friday, September 23, at night. Meetings held previously, the following officers were elected for the year: President — Mrs. Hyden; Vice-President — Mrs. Utterback; Secretary — Mrs. Jones; Treasurer — Christine Hall. At this meeting program and membership committees were appointed, and plans were started for the County Fair.

On Friday, September 21, the baseball team of the grades went to Bluestone to play their first game of the year. They made a good beginning, with a 13-9 victory over the Bluestone team.

School has started off this year with an increased enrollment and a fine spirit of cooperation among students, teachers, and patrons. We expect a good year.

Elliottville Prepares For Fair
Both High School and Grade Departments of Elliottville school are preparing entries for the fair. They expect to make quite a showing, as they have done in each of the fairs held in this county.

P. T. A. at Pine Grove
The Parent Teachers Association of Pine Grove district has been again organized, and plans for the year have been made. Kindergarten chairs and tables have been purchased and placed in the building. Mrs. Evans also expects to continue this year her program of hot lunches.

Whooping Cough Epidemic
The percentage of attendance is being greatly lowered at the New Home school, where an epidemic of whooping cough is raging. Will Burton is out of school with croup. Miss Turner hopes to get all the pupils in again as soon as possible.

Improvements at Seas Branch
Mr. Porter and Mr. Waddell are proud to report that a new room has been added to their building at Seas Branch. This will greatly relieve a crowded situation. Both teachers have been teaching in the same room for the past two years.

Clearfield School
The Parent Teachers Association at Clearfield is again at work, trying this year to make its accomplishments exceed those of previous years. The last two years have been spent in preparing and equipping a library. Many books, which are widely used, have been added from time to time. The following officers have been elected for the present year:

President — Mrs. James Rigby
V. President — Mrs. Taylor Hamilton
Secretary — Oleta Amburgey
Treasurer — Edith Caudill

The organization plans to purchase a piano for the school, in addition to placing other books in the library. A pie supper was held Saturday night, September 23rd, at which funds to the amount of $15.00 were raised. The Woman's Club of Clearfield, also members of the P. T. A. helped by selling pie cream before the pie supper. Oleta Amburgey was elected prettiest girl. Clearfield school is proud of its thirty chairs and three tables which the county board has furnished to the primary room.

New Building Completed at Slab Camp

One of the most modern school buildings of the county has just been completed at Slab Camp. The building in this district was destroyed last year by fire. Mrs. Clark, the children and the patrons of the district are proud of their building and all are cooperating to make this school year a successful one.

RAZOR SCHOOLS

The Razor School boasts an enrollment this year of fifty-two pupils. Mrs. Johnson is working hard to secure many prizes at the School and Agricultural Fair. She also hopes to maintain the reputation for perfect attendance that the school has. Two pupils in the school have not been absent or tardy for five years. Three others have such a record for two years.

MT. HOPE

On Friday night, September 21st, a pie supper was held at Mt. Hope School, under the direction of Ester Crookshank, teacher. A great deal of preparation is being made for the fair and part of the $18.00 received at the pie supper is to be used in paying the expenses of the project.
