DOCTOR R. F. TERRELL
PRESENTS PICTURE

Students who have classes in room 29 of the Administration building have noted with pleasure a fine copy of the well-known picture, "The Colossus," placed there by Dr. R. F. Terrell, head of the Department of Economics and Sociology. Dr. Terrell, in making such donations to the college, is to be commended for his public-spiritedness.

The Colossus, one of the magnificent Roman theatres, now in ruins, has been standing over 1800 years and has had within its walls many great and momentous men and women. It is not necessary to say that some other business was presented to the club, on which no action will be taken until the next meeting.

The purpose of this club, is to increase the interest of debating among college students, to being achieved it seems, as several new students entered the club at the opening of the semester; also some old members were reinstated. And at the present time the club is one of the outstanding organizations on the campus.

The program given for the view of the business period follows:

Duet - Dixie Williams
Reading - Viola Klers

Debate - Resolved: That the present divorce law should be amended.

For a few days last week.

Mrs. George Young, teacher in the Brookhaven Training School, spent the weekend of March 25-26 with relatives in Owingsville.

Nevada Tarber, Mrs. Amanda Yarker, and Mrs. Edna Hight, visited the weekend of March 25-26 in Olympia.

Mrs. Robert Barnes and Mrs. Howard Turner, Mt. Sterling, visited the weekend of March 25-26 in Morehead.

Mrs. Wesley Hottel and Mr. Tommy Horeman, Lexington, were the guests of Maurine Vinson on Sunday, March 18.

Misses Elizabeth and Madeline Robertson accompanied their sister, Reba, to Morehead, Sunday March 26.

Cecil Womack and Bruce Robinson, students at Transylvania College were the guests of Miss E. E. Robinson one evening last week.

Mr. Chiles Van Antwerp, former member of the Morehead faculty, visited on the campus last Thursday.

Miss Curran C. Smith visited in Richmond over the weekend of March 17-18. During her absence Miss Amy Moore acted as dean of women.

We all would like to see this marvelous piece of architecture, and since it is to be made of few of us, we thank Dr. Terrell for bringing the Colossus to us.

LYOY DEBATING CLUB

Cat 'n Nine Tails Pleases Audience

From the opening scene, displaying a stage illuminated only by a ghastly blue light, to the final curtain, "Cat 'n Nine Tails," the annual spring production of the University Dramatic Club, presented the audience with a most interesting and dramatic production.

The production of "Cat 'n Nine Tails" was given at the Morehead College Auditorium on Wednesday evening, March 22.

The drama, a tale of intrigue and suspense, was presented in a most dramatic and interesting manner.

MOREHEAD FACULTY MEMBERS AT ASHLAND

Three of Morehead's faculty members, Dr. R. F. Terrell, Dr. W. A. Weller, and Mr. Lina Fair, served as judges for the district debating tournament, which was held at Ashland, March 24.

Although several of the teams which were invited were unable to attend, the debates were, according to Dr. Terrell, very interesting.

Dr. Terrell, Dr. Weller, and Mr. Fair judged the debating tournament, which was held at Ashland, March 24.

REFORESTATION IS NOT FORGOTTEN

The plan to rehabilitate the hill section of the Morehead College campus of the 2000 trees needed, as well as a few minor hindrances, is all that is holding up the work. According to Professor H. C. Hagan, who will supervise the tree planting, the trees should arrive here within the next week.

The planting will be done by the agriculture classes of Morehead College and other students who are willing to work as volunteers. It is estimated that two or three days will be required to plant the trees.
Professor Hagan will be assisted in his work by G. Y. Bell, Assistant State Forester.

The organization of a Forestry Club at Morehead Teachers College is being planned and promoted by Professor Hagan and several members of the student body. The purpose of the club is the reforestation of the barren hills of our campus and the improvement and protection of the hills now covered with trees.

Though it will require hours and hours of hard work and years and years of waiting for the members of the club to see the result of their efforts, such a successful enterprise carried out would serve as a real lesson to students throughout eastern Kentucky, according to Professor Hagan.

ing to a PAIR VIRGIN with PEARL COMES to her hair. I stopped to see what they were talking about,
and all it could get out of either of them was "JIVE GRUBBIES."
From the boy, "Leave 'EM ALONE," muttered a man with a DRAUGHN mustache.

I started on out but must have lost my way, for I walked into a schoolroom. There I noticed somebody around a desk with DOTSON in it. I went up to them and to my surprise, I saw it was the YOUNG DEAN, some students, and some professors discussing the mind of a FAIRCHILD.

I felt a LITTLE sick and HIGH-LY nauseated. I fainted and a NOBLE gentleman brought me to FANBY. After that I must have looked WHITE and I swayed like a REED in the WATERS. I heard a student with a KEEN voice say,
"Why didn't you WARNER?"

The next thing I remember, I was still trying to get out of that CAS-TLE.

I passed another group of people
discussing the mind of a HOLLY DAY. From the conversation I judged they could get neither NICK ELL nor FENCE, and they were certainly not JUSTICE.

Finally I ran into a PLUMBER, who was trying to open a can of CAMPBELL'S beans with a POYN-TER. He asked me if I liked that kind of GRUBBIE said, "Gee, no."
He looked rather SAVAGE, so I got away as soon as possible.

As I turned a corner I saw a CARPENTER. I had a picture of a GIBSON girl; so I asked him to TACKETT on the wall. He was very nice and directed me out of the CASTLE.

On the steps outside I stopped to talk with a POTTER who was in a BOOTH mulling with CLAY. He told me his name was Omar; so I decided he was quite a CARVER.
A peculiar thing I noticed was a NEW-BERRY BUSH growing out of the CASTLE.

It was a beautiful DAY, though it was WINTER and the FIELDS were GREEN; so I decided I would be home in the FALL toward the BAYS. In the distance I saw some OAKS, but when I got to them they were all CHARVETTES. I didn't care; I was so tired that I sat down.

An old lady came and sat down beside me. She had on a BLACK and GRAY dress. She was carrying two CANS. She walked very well, so I wondered if she thought the two CANS were "CHAMPIONS."

"What's the matter?" she demanded, and there was POWER in her voice.

"I want to go home and me ha-penny." She put her ARMED around me and said, "Come on, there's a CRAFT that's going to make a CRUISE out of me home this week. I'll see you as far as the WOODS."

I remembered my fond PAR-RENT had often told me to beware of the WEBB'S of strangers, but true to form I went with her anyway.

On the way we met a WAGGON-ER, who gave us a lift. We passed the BARBERS just as we were in the side I noticed six WELLS in a row.
The wagon went over in the GUL-LEY with which I was righted again, the old lady was on her face; so I told the driver to TURN-ER. When we got out of the way,
"TUTT, TUTT, didn't matter; a
"WHITT" I got her foot out of a piece of RAYE that was in the wagon. After going over several BROOKS and BOGGS we arrived at the house of the old lady in the LANE.

She was so shaken up I had to bring out a little wagon and WHEELER in.

The table was already set with LAMB, HOGGIE and PIG. I said,
"You see you like meat."
"Yes, and for your 's sake there's a nice one in the cupboard with HOGG
in it."

We had two other visitors who came on the CRUISE. One was the POPE. There was a hole in the POPE's petticoat; so we called it a TAYLOR to mend it and with a pair of SEARS and some SKENS of yarn he very soon made him presentable again.

EVERSOLE ate and talked, while I sat by my chair was LAFPIN with. The KISER was a slight POY.
The POPE gave me a disgusted look when I said, "Don't you think COINWELL was a great general?"
I guess he thought I didn't know my history. The old lady told the POPE he could "Tax gear and go to MULLEN."

The KISER asked for some DIL-LOW because I had become a I thought he was putting on AYBES.
WRIGHT about this time I heard on several occasions that I wondered what it was the DIXON was the matter;
so I went out to SEE. There was a black SMITH hammering with one hand on an anvil, from which SPARKS were flying, and PATTON a dog with the other. On going closer I heard him singing, "Where the RIVER SHANNON FLOWS." He also had on a little LACY collar, and I saw him he could do so many things at one time.

"HOWES that?" he said.
I realized it was useless; so I turned around and bumped into a sign-board that had on it. EICHIE and ROBERTSON. But it wasn't a sign-board at all; it was the floor and I had fallen out of bed.

So really, it's a MIRACLE that I'm able to write at all. But I am sorry these weren't any pink elephants to talk about.
