ABOUT TOWN with The News

Petty Thieves

We can recall that hardly a year ago, there was never a week passed, but that some merchant's place of business was broken into and several hundred dollars worth of merchandise was carried away. It has been many a day since we had a robbery in Morehead.

The petty thieves are either dead out they are inactive or are afraid to risk robbery attempts as they formerly did. The merchants are certainly not displeased with the present state. The thunder may strike at any time, however. Fires have also been fewer and farther between.

Picture at the Eagles Nest

The Eagles Nest Cafe has a large hand painted picture of the campus and buildings of the Morehead State Teachers College. This sketch clearly shows everything on the campus already and enumerates the growth of the institution since it was founded in 1923, by an act of the state legislature.

Perhaps the most interesting feature is the notation of the enrollment in 1923 which was barely above one hundred and the present number of students that is in excess of 1100. Truly it is a picture of the growth of one of the state's great educational institutions.

Taking It's Place

The football team of Morehead College, and the sports program in general, appear to be in for a new day. The time is coming when Morehead will be one of the stepping stones to victory for every institution in the state. The college is on the eve of enjoying teams that may blast a brilliant path of winner's laurels.

Woman's Club Meet

The District Woman's Club, of which the local organization is a part will meet at Owsingville Tuesday.

Applications Are Made For Tobacco

Farmers who were unable to get an equitable base under the tobacco contracts offered by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration last spring may escape paying the 25 per cent tax imposed by the Keer-Smith tobacco tax bill pending the sale of this season. An account of tobacco not greater than 8850 pounds may be sold by Rowan County farmers who signed tobacco contracts. Approximately forty farmers have filed application for tax exemption grants on their tobacco. These farmers are raising about 30,000 pounds and only about 30 per cent of that amount can, under the law be granted tax exemption.

Applications are being received at the County Agent's office and that office will continue to receive applications until closing time, October 11th. The Rowan County Tobacco Control Committee will consider these applications October 12 and as far as possible all cases where the farmer has justifiable claim tax exemption will be recommended. Final approval of these applications is to be made by the Tobacco section at Washington.

Beloved Citizen Passes Away

Guy Snyder, one of Morehead's best known and best loved citizens died at his home here following a short illness. Mr. Snyder was able to be down town Monday where he greeted his many friends. Tuesday he was slightly indisposed and was unable to be out. News of his death was a distinct shock to the citizens of Morehead, who united in hoping for his complete recovery.

Mr. Snyder passed away suddenly Wednesday afternoon. No arrangements have been announced as yet as to funeral services. The entire city joins in sympathy for Mrs. Snyder.

War In Europe Is Rumored Today Many Cases Tried In Stewart Court

Europe was sitting on a keg of powder today, and there were fears of another world war, following the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou at Marseilles, France Tuesday afternoon.

From all the capitals of Europe came concern that the spectacular slaying would unsettle the balance of peace on the Continent, but diplomats tonight saw no immediate cause for war such as brought 27 nations into the world conflict 20 years ago.

However, fear is expressed that the consequences of the double assassination may create a new reason for hatred to flame into war, and Barthou's dream of assuring Europe peace by reconciling the king with Premier Mussolini may have perished with France's 72 year old martyred foreign minister.

To the Balkan throne in Alexander's stead will come the 11 year old Crown Prince Peter, but upon a regency will rest the shaping of policies that may alter the make up of Europe.

The bullets of the 35 year old Croatin assassin, political enemy of the king's dictatorship, killed a French policeman, gravely wounding a British general riding in the official automobile with the king and the foreign minister, and wounded twelve others before the slayer himself was killed. Five women were among the wounded.

The assassin, a native of Zagreb named Petrus Kalemán, was armed with a repeating pistol of sub-machine gun type, of German make, and a small bomb which he had no chance to use.

CARDINALS WIN WORLD SERIES FROM DETROIT 4-3

The St. Louis Cardinals, the National League's Representative won the World Series Tuesday, 4 games to Detroit's 4. St. Louis behind the effective pitching of Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, won the final game 11 to 0. Detroit fans forced Medicus, "Cardinal" leftfielder to leave the game, by hurling a barrage of fruit, pop bottles and sandwiches at him after he had been in a close play at third base.

Exhibits At Fair Are Highest Class; 300 Prizes Are Awarded At Meet

Opening with a parade in which an estimated twenty five hundred school children and Parent Association participated on Friday morning, the fourth annual Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair continued through Saturday for a successful two day meeting.

The parade, one of the features of the meeting was led by the Morehead State Teachers College band and continued floats, banners and a line of marchers that was a mile long. The parade started on Upper Main and continued down on main and back to the High School Gymnasium.

An added attraction in the parade was the merchant floats. Next year, practically every business house in the city anticipate will have a float entered.

So successfully was the fourth fair carried out, that its continuation and preservation in years to come is assured.

Another busy week was held in the court of Commissioner Lee Stewart here, with many trials for liquor violations. Following are the cases tried.

Elvia Binlon, manufacturing whiskey, gave $500 bond for appearance at December term of Catlettsburg court.

Jim Rowe, Ed Hampton and Ronald Niles, of Newfound, manufacturing whiskey, waived examining trial and filled bond $500 for appearance at Catlettsburg court, December term.

William Brown and Andrew Brown Wyatt, Ky., charged with possession $500 bond, held for December term on charge of manufacturing with $500 bond.

Edd Crisp, of Minor, held for December term on charge of manufacturing with $500 bond.

Preliminary hearing of Eli H. Wilson and Levy H. Wilson, charged with manufacturing, released on $500 bond.

On Thursday of last week, government officers captured a tank shell on Caney Fork of Licking River in Salt Lick vicinity. The shell was a copper outfit of 55 gallon capacity, while the officers also took 6 gallons of unassuming, fifteen fifty five gallon fermenters and 400 casks of distilled beer. They arrested Jack Cassidy, Matt Jones, Wallace Jones, and two women, Juanita Norman, Berth Curbin. All were released under $500 bond for appearance at the December term.

Officers also confiscated a 200 gallon copper still complete, twelve sixty gallon fermenters, 500 gallons of beer and 33 gallons of whiskey on a raid near Midland. The still had been in operation the preceding day. No arrests were made.

MARGARET CALVERT IS JUDGE AT SANDY HOOK

Miss Marguerite Calvert spent Thursday in Sandy Hook where she was judge of the Domestic Science and school entries at the Sandy Hook fair. Miss Calvert reported that the fair was well attended and had many interesting exhibits.

Miss Calvert was accompanied by Sandy Hook by Mr. Wilson of Lexington who was judge of the farm products.

NIGHT WATCHMAN ON AT PUBLIC SCHOOL NOW

Due to the fact that the school trucks throughout Eastern Kentucky have been entered recently by prowlers and much valuable equipment taken, officials at the high school announced today that night watchman has been employed for the remainder of the school year.

A vacant office room in the building was equipped as living quarters for the watchman.

This move was made necessary due to the fact that much equipment has been placed in the school recently in the Business Department.

'LASSES FOR ASKIN'

Mr. E. E. Elam of Brady, has made his annual invitation to the editor of the Rowan County News and the members of the churches in Morehead. Mr. Elam again extends to them a request to bring their buckets and come to his sorghum mill. Mr. Elam says when you see the smoke 'lasses will be ready.

Gorst-Is Scheduled To Appear Here

Charles Crawford Gorst, the famed lecturer and bird initiator is scheduled to make his initial appearance in Morehead Wednesday, Oct. 17 at 8 p. m. on the first lecture scheduled for the current school year.

Erst study has become an art for Mr. Gorst. It is his life, and the sylvan denizens reveal an intrinsic peace to the "Bird Man" who has persevered in an honest attempt to learn their secrets. From the time of his earliest recollection, birds have fascinated him and seduced his imagination to a conception of wild life rarely attained by man.

He says, "I have stood in the dusk of a giant redwood forest and called up to migrating birds and called the varied thrush down a pillar of light from the rood's high roof. On a solitary Canadian lake, my initiative harrier cleaved a pair of swimming grebes to me through the reeds. From a high cliff on a black autumn night, I have called up to migrating birds and heard circling voices come down and murmur, 'Are you there? Come with us.' And I have longed to go."

Kiss And Make Up At Cozy Theatre

Wearing a large engagement diamond and admitting that she is very much in love, Helen Mack, dark-haired film actress, who has leading role in Paramount's "Kiss and Make-Up," coming to the Cozy Oct. 12 and 13 recently declared herself an ardent exponent of "Kiss and Make-Up" engagements and swore she had firmly established herself as a leading screen actress.

"Surely, I'll marry some day. Right now, I'm terribly in love!" Miss Mack confessed to Cary Grant with whom she is featured in this romantic story of a young beauty, doctor.

"But since I was six years old I have struggled to make a name for myself in the theatre. Those years of hard work are too dear to me to give up, now I'm starting my screen career."

Local Relief Officers Said Today They Expected A Resumption Of Federal Relief Funds Within The Next Few Days. Reports From The State Office Indicate That The Rise Between Governor Laffoon, The Relief Administration and Other Controversies Arising In The State, Are Apparently Being Ironed Out Successfully.

No orders for relief have gone out in the state. Relief is being given only in case of dire necessity.

Work on one of the county's P. E. R. A. projects will be resumed. This is on the courthouse project which will start immediately after the October term of Circuit Court adjourns.

Noted Poet Here

James Stephens, Irish Poet and lecturer, appeared in the Morehead College auditorium Monday morning at the regular convocation hour. The appearance of Mr. Stephens marks the first several noted men on the college program.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Dign, of Hollwood, Califormia, accompanied Mr. Stephens. Mr. Dign is an actor and has just completed a picture "What Every Woman Knows," which will be released shortly.

COME WONDERFUL ADVERTISING SCHEMES

A family dressed, smooth talking gentleman has dropped in to discuss a few matters with John Doe, the grocer. It turns out that the gentleman is also interested in having Grocer Doe buy a very unique and highly effective advertising campaign. "This advertising is something different," he tells the grocer. "You can't get it anywhere else. Your newspaper is unable to provide it. This will be something exclusive with you. Just sign here."

But before signing here, there or anywhere else, it might be smart to stop and ask yourself how anything that good has escaped the man who spends millions of dollars yearly for advertising. Men who spend millions for advertising also spend thousands to test their advertising and be sure they are getting their money's worth. No promising proposition or scheme is blindly turned down. They waste proportionately less of their advertising money than most small advertisers because they seek results—not something different.

General Motors, Henry Ford, the big oil refiners, department stores and food men don't spend their money for advertising in home papers because they like the color, the quality, or because they haven't been offered hundreds of schemes and novelties. They advertise in newspapers for results—to make money. Gadget advertising has not place in the retail budget, unless he can afford to be more wasteful than the big boys of business.

SCHOOL AND AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Success is the word written all over the '34 Rowan County School and Agricultural Fair held last Friday and Saturday. Of the four fairs that have been held, this year's was the high point, the mark that eclipses all others. To begin with there appears to have been more interest, attendance due to the fact that there is rapidly becoming an established fact and an event that is being looked forward to over the county. The parade with which the fair opened demonstrated this as there were more floats and more children in the line than formerly. And outstanding in this was the fact that the ones who took part in the parade were better dressed, a sure sign of returning prosperity.

The display of exhibits in the Morehead High School gym were better than in any previous year, with a large number of entrants. Every ring offered drew entries, which attests to the popularity of the event with the rural people.

We daresay that in the state there was not a better conducted fair than the one held in Morehead.

The success of the fair can be attributed to hard work on the part of the fair officials and the cooperation of the school, the farmers, the communities, the townspeople. It was truly a community fair and that fact made it a real success.

That the School and Agricultural Fair will be permanent is assured.

NEWS FLASHES OF INTEREST

Treaty Is Renounced

Virtual termination of the Washington naval treaty and restrictions on all capital ships on December 31 of this year was re-announced in close contact with international naval negotiations. Japan is expected to serve written notice to the United States, that it is renouncing the treaty as from that date. The United States, on receiving such notice, under the terms of the pact would be required to notify the other treaty signatories, Great Britain, France and Italy.

ASK DEATH PENALTY

New Jersey prosecuting authorities hope to send Bruno Richard Hauptmann to the electric chair. From an authority source it was drive the Hunterdon county grand jury will be asked Monday to indict the German carpenter for murder—not kidnapping—in the abduction and death of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

It was pointed out that if indictments for both murder and kidnapping were returned, Hauptmann could escape the extreme penalty by pleading guilty to the kidnapping charge and preventing trial on the murder charge.

Should the state first move the kidnapping charge, a high state official said and should Hauptmann plead guilty, he could not be tried on any other charge growing out of the same event.

C. C. C. CAMPS TO CONTINUE INDEFINITELY SAYS PRESIDENT

President Roosevelt intends to continue indefinitely the Civilian Conservation Corps phase of his recovery program.

He made this known in a letter to Robert Fechner, corps director, acknowledging the latter's enthusiastic report on a recent visit to the camps in ten Western States. "I have been greatly interested in the fine report from your visits to CCC camps in many parts of the country," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"This kind of work must go on. I believe that the nation feels that the work of these young men is so thoroughly justified and, in addition, the benefits to the men are so clear that the actual annual cost will be without much opposition or much complaint."

Fechner reported to the president that the cost of the CCC last year, its 28 months of operation had amounted to $443,000,000.00. Eight hundred and fifty thousand young men, war veterans and Indians received $246,000,000 in wages of which the greater part went to their families.

The present authorized enrollment is 369,838 and enlistment of one hundred thousand is now under way to fill vacancies resulting from discharges.

Al Smith Speaks

Former Governor Alfre E. Smith

of New York, Democratic nominee for President, on Sept. 26, told the National Conference of Catholic Charities that "lack of understanding is the basis of most objections to progressive social legislation."

His address brings him ovation after ovation from a crowd was devoted largely to his experiences with social legislation as governor of New York, and to discussion of the program of the National conference of Catholic Charities. Opposition he pointed out, was faced by workmen's compensation laws, which he called "the greatest step in legislation." Similar opposition is meeting the industrial child welfare and factory statutes, he said.

ROB BEREIA STORE

Robbers broke into the E. R. Coker and son, Men's Furnishings Store some time Sunday night and stole $600 to $800 worth of merchandise. The robbers escaped and had not been apprehended late Sunday night.

The last consisted largely of men's overcoats, suits, raincoats, shirts, and shoes. The overcoat and suit section of the store was completely stripped.

Condemed Youth Prays

Robert Allen Edwards, convicted of the murder of his sweetheart, Freda McKenie, prayed in his jail cell at Wilkes Barre, Pa. as his attorney's worked swiftly to prepare an appeal from the jury verdict condemning the electric chair.

The 32 year old mine surveyor alternately knelt in prayer and read the Bible.

The latter had been sent to him after his arrest by the "other girl," Margaret L. Crain, East Aurora, N. Y., music teacher, to whom Edwards sent fervent letters which created a sensation when read in court at his trial. A jury found him guilty and recommended the death penalty after the state charged the youth with bludgeoning to death Miss McKenie, an expectant mother, during a midnight swimming party July 30, 1928 to be free to marry Miss Crain.

Relief Inadequate

Leaders of the National Conference of Catholic Charities were told Monday night that the present relief program is still wholly inadequate.

The criticism came from C. M. Bookman, of Cincinnati, until recently assisted to Harry L. Hopkins federal emergency relief administrator.

Charging that relief is spotty, and muddled by senseless competition in taxation between nation, state, and city, Bookman contended that we must prepare for a long pull and not merely an emergency, and advocated complete and sole federal responsibility for work relief for able bodied unemployed.

Spain Crushes Rebellion

Catalonian revolution for independence collapsed under heavy shell fire early Sunday and the Spanish Government apparently was smashing down a three-day Red revolt that cost upward of 500 lives and 2,500 casualties throughout Spain.

Leaders of the Catalonian secession, including President Luis Companys, were captured in a short-lived civil war as marched through silent crowds to a prison ship in Barcelona harbor where they are to be court martialed and probably sentenced to death. They surrendered at 6:30 a. m. with Spanish destroyers and foreign legationnaires from Morocco converging on the Catalonian citadel.

Judgeship Proposed

Creation of a new federal judicial district in Kentucky, making three in all, was proposed Monday by congressman Robert Spense.

Population and court business justify such a move, he declared. In addition, he commented such a plan would make a judgeship likely for Charlton B. Thompson, Covington attorney, and assure the maintaining of federal offices here.

Thompson had been mentioned for the post of the late A. M. J. Cochran, of Maysville, to which appointed by Stanley B. Reed, of Maysville, has been reappointed. Rumors of plans to move headquarters of the eastern district and other federal offices, from Covington to Lexington, have brought vigorous protests from city officials and civic organizations.

SENIOR CLASS IS UNANIMOUS IN DEDICATION OF 1935 RACONTEUR TO DR. JOHN HOWARD PAYNE

President Of College Honored By Fourth Year Men; Will Be "Layest And Best Annual History Of School" Says Editor Eddie Kufahl

Voting with an unanimity that dispelled any doubt as to the popularity of their choice, the Senior Class of Morehead State Teachers College dedicated the 1935 edition of the Racconteur last week to that premier Kentucky educator, President of the Kentucky Education Association, and of the Morehead State Teachers College—Dr. J. Howard Payne.

Dr. Payne's epoch-making work in Kentucky during the last decade in behalf of education makes him the logical choice to grace the front-piece of the largest and most ambitious annual that has ever been conceived at Morehead. Under his indomitable leadership last spring the Kentucky Education Association completely emancipated the teachers and school children of the state from the bondage of low salaries and inferior teaching facilities, through its herculean efforts to compel the General Assembly to enact a measure providing $12 per capita for the school system of Kentucky.

Edward Kufahl, editor of the Racconteur, announced last week that the annual drive netted more than 400 sales, which will enable the sponsors to operate on a scale heretofore impossible to any year book committee. With June Evans leading the sale and Claude Clayton close behind, the drive pushed beyond its goal of 400 and prospects are for the most successful Racconteur in the history of the school.

Contracts have been let to the John Oiler Company, Chicago engraving firm, and to The George G. Fetter Company, Louisville printing house. Again this year, the McLaughlin Studio, Richmond, Kentucky, will make the photographs for the book.

Kills With Fiat

Thomas H. Wylie, 53 years old, filling station operator, was killed instantly at Radcliff, Ky., Monday when allegedly struck between the eyes by Brownie James, a railroader, as the aftermath to trouble that arose between them when James dog chased a pet rabbit owned by Wylie's children.

Witnesses said James hit Wylie with his bare fist. Wylie fell dead in the presence of his wife and children in front of his own home.

James was taken to the county jail at Greensburg, while Colman H. H. Holbrook arranged for an inquest.

CHOOSE NURSERY STOCK WITH CARE

When buying nursery stock the quality of the plants, the place in which they were grown, and the method of handling in preparation for selling, are the important considerations. It is not easy just to look at a plant and tell if it harbors injurious insects or plant disease. The only way to select plants is on the basis of reputation of the nurserymen growing them or on the credentials of the representatives selling them. Know that the plants have come from nurseries which have been inspected regularly. The Nursery Inspection Act provides that every package of nursery stock sold in the state shall be accompanied by a certificate of inspection. This certificate is obtained by fulfilling the requirements of the Act, one of which is an inspection of the stock by an official inspector, and if the plants are apparently free from injurious insects and plant diseases a fee of $5, provided by the law, is collected and a certificate issue. Also the Act provides that any agent or dealer in nursery stock shall carry with him a copy of his permit, issued at the Kentucky Experiment Station, University of Kentucky to be shown prospective buyers or officials. This permit is obtained by filing credentials with the State Entomologist at the Experiment Station, which if acceptable, will indicate that such plants handled by him will come from inspected nurseries.

No person should buy nursery stock from any individual or agency without being sure of his reputation or seeing the permit issued by the State Entomologist. It is always a good business to insist on receiving an itemized receipt, showing the name of the nursery and the size and quantity of plant delivered.

FALL SALVAGE

Various emergency vegetable storage methods have been discussed as well as all winter ways of keeping some of the warm crops through the winter. We come now to the matter of saving the cool crops for winter use. These are white potatoes, cabbage heads, carrots and turnips. Also properly included are parsnips and salsify, but their storage may be dismissed by the mere mention that if the rows are properly located in the garden, they may remain there with no protection except possibly a light mulch of tree leaves or straw to keep the ground from freezing to hard for harvesting to be done handily.

Another group of cool vegetables includes Chinese cabbage, winter radishes and celery. Celery requires special storage in trenches outside or if the floor is earth, in the loose cellar. The other two may be kept acceptably, although not for so long a time, in the same manner about to be suggested for the vegetables in the list that was given first.

To keep successfully the cool vegetables, a prime requisite is a temperature that stays between 45 and 45 degrees; 40 degrees, without change is ideal. It is important to have a humid atmosphere to prevent excessive wilting, and some means whereby fresh air may be introduced and stale air passed off. In fact, if ventilating is efficiently done, temperature may be controlled and the humidity as well.

Proper ventilation is not difficult to install keeping in mind that such air behaves just like water. Stale moist air given off by stored vegetables is light and will seek outlet at the highest point in the storage. Again, escapes, cool fresh air flows in to replace it. Accordingly a ventilating system for a vegetable storage structure consists of a vent in the ceiling and another at the floor line both of them fitted with means for opening them in the degree desired. In winter weather both may be opened during the sunny hours to fill the structure with relatively warm air to carry over the night. On the other hand, in the fall or spring when the days are occasional warm the vents may be kept open during the night to store cool air for bridging over the day.

Storage structures may range from merely simple pits or mounds through temporary caves built in makeshift fashion to outside cellars, built of stone, hollow tile or concrete. No matter what its nature, however, the insulating material in earth. For example, in constructing a pit, the vegetables are covered with straw and then with earth. In the temporary pole and plank cellar, it is the earth with which the storage is covered and mounded that determines the efficiency of the storage. The same is true of more permanent cellars. If there are windows, as in the instances of the ground cellars, they are to be double. So should the doors, the inner door having an opening located at its bottom edge fitted with a shutter so that it may be opened to whatever extent one wishes.

FARM AND HOME

It pays to keep pullets free from lice. Examine them closely now, and treat them with nicotine sulphate or sodium fluoride, if lice are found. Give nicotine tablets or put tobacco powder in the mash if the birds are afflicted with round worm.

To be well dressed does not mean that one must be expensively dressed, says Iris Davenport of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. Good taste and extravagance are not synonymous. Gaudy clothes are never beautiful, smart nor economical.

Now is the time to plan water systems and other improvements on the farm home that can be installed during periods of slack work in winter. Write to the College of Agriculture at Lexington for plans and suggestions.

Keep cream in cold water in winter as well as summer. Cream should be cooled promptly as soon as it is separated. The most practical way is to put the cans in cold water. Stirring frequently helps to cool the cream.

Plowing in the fall for spring plowing should not be done if it will result in washing during the winter and spring. Some soils will compact so that there is no advantage in fall plowing. Also there may be much loss of fertility from leaching.

It sometimes pays better to can chickens than it does to sell them. Properly handled, poultry can be preserved by canning and used as needed for a year or more. Write to the College of Agriculture, Lexington, for suggestions about canning meats.

WILD FLOWER GARDEN TO BE MADE ON CAMPUS

Plans for beautifying the Morehead campus are more extensive than ever this year, according to Dr. W. W. Weller, instructor in biology, who announced last week that a wild flower garden is being constructed in the ravine directly behind Alpe Young Hall.

The purpose of the garden, stated Dr. Weller, is to collect as many wild flowers, native to this section, as possible. The department hopes to collect many rare varieties, which are fast becoming extinct in this section, so that they may be preserved in their natural state for posterity.

Two Federal Emergency Relief Administration men will construct the garden, building walks, labelling flowers and shrubs with neatly painted signs, and caring for the plants. At present, Fred Rose is employed in tending the garden.

All persons having knowledge of wild varieties of flowers which are fairly rare are urged by Dr. Weller to either notify the department of their existence, or dig them up and bring them in to the garden. Persons intending this latter means of adding to the garden are advised to take pains in handling the flowers and shrubs.

Everyone is invited to visit this place of interest on the campus.

Eastern Loses In Opener To Miami

The Eastern State Teachers College traditional foe of Morehead and the team the Eagles always want to win from the most surprising strength in their opening game against Miami. The final score was 19-0 in favor of Miami but the game was played on a rainsoaked field and the Eastern team had only been practicing for two weeks.

Eastern showed great defensive strength during the game by halting the heavier Miami team several times in the shadow of their goal posts. Three times Miami was stopped inside Eastern's five yard line.

The offensive ability of Eastern did not have a fair trial. Rain fell during the four quarters of the game and made firm footing impossible. Eastern was handicapped by the fact that they had only practiced for two weeks but with such backs as Hodges, Long, Tarter and Captain Hill they are expected to develop a dangerous offensive combination.

Morehead will journey to Richmond October 26 to battle the Maroons in a game which will be Eastern's Home-Coming. This game is being looked forward to with interest as the Eagles are very hopeful of coming out of the fray on the long end of the score. Beat Eastern this year!

GOLDE'S CHALLENGE SALE OF BLANKETS

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE BUT HERE IT IS !!

SMASHING Battle To Keep Prices Down Within The Reach of All. YOU WILL AGREE that this sale is the "Master Stroke" of a store noted for fine values. When we told salesmen and manufacturers the kind of values we wanted to offer they said it was impossible. They said the days of those prices are gone forever. But we persisted, we made the rounds of dozens of factories—we made special purchases, bought up factory surpluses, and now we are proud to announce the most amazing array of bargains given in our entire career. We defy all duplication of these values.

MOREHEAD HIGH SCHOOL

The Rev. G. H. Fern of the Christian Church delivered an interesting address to the high school students at their chapel exercises. Wednesday morning, October tenth. The Morehead High students ran a bingo stand during the two days on the fair, the proceeds of which will be used for the library fund. Several prizes in the various fair-rings were won by Morehead students. The Faculty of the Morehead High School held a teachers meeting Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 9. Plans for organizing a P. T. A. and for the staging a Halloween Carnival were discussed. Buell Hogge was elected school treasurer.

The Viking Voice subscription campaign class Monday, Oct. 25. The Dramatic Club will meet Thursday afternoon at 3.06 in the gymnasium.

The Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors seem to have had an urge for football. All three of the classes have gone hiking, this past week. Period examinations are being held on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

YOU Need A Bank

A Bank's first duty is to its depositors, and should aid them in every way possible, however no depositor should expect the bank to carry their account at a loss. The bank balance should be large enough to cover the actual cost of checks, ledger sheets, bookkeeping and etc, and also afford a small margin of profit, if the bank is to make money. While this bank carries some accounts at a loss, it with the hope that they will soon have a profitable balance.

ERNEST HOGGE IS ON UNIVERSITY FACULTY

Ernest Hogge, graduate of the Morehead High School and of the Morehead State Teachers College left last week for Lexington, Kentucky where he has accepted a position as instructor in the chemistry department of the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Hogge is one of the most promising young men of this city and his friends are delighted to learn of his new work, which is a step toward his goal. Mr. Hogge taught two years in the Morehead High school after finishing his degree at the local college, and in the meantime worked off his master's degree at state.

an innate quality, intensified by their uniform coloring and varied calls, that intrigues the imagination and stimulates desire in the observer for a better acquaintance with bird life; but for many reasons though principally a lack of appreciation of the importance of birds in the nature scale, one neglects to discover the significance of birds in their relationship to life.

Band Raises Funds For Centre Game

The college band gave a concert Thursday evening, October 4 at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium. The purpose of this concert was to raise funds to defray the expense of transporting the band to Danville for the Morehead-Centre football game, Saturday October 6.

The concert consisted of a variety of numbers by the college band and a special number by the director, Mr. George, and five members of the band; Messrs. Young, Marshall, Guthrie, Woodmansee and Wilson. The concert was well received by the audience and the special numbers were especially enjoyed. The Morehead band shows vast improvement over last year and is now capable of holding its own with any college band. Mr. George states the attendance was greater than he anticipated and in behalf of the band, he thanks the student body for their loyal support and co-operation in making this concert a success.

From The Training School

Fourth and fifth grade Breckinridge Training School students are preparing to study the music appreciation course in connection with the National Broadcasting Company program, which began October 5 featuring Walter Duesch and other outstanding music educators of the country, including Dr. C. H. Farnsworth, professor emeritus from Columbia University.

The work includes preparatory listening to the announced program with parallel discussion work. The note-books which are published by the N. B. C. contain themes of the program material and "cut-outs" of composers and instructors. The program will be held bi-weekly at 10 a. m. on Friday mornings, until April 5, 1935.

Very Much Improved After Taking Cardui

"I have suffered a great deal from cramping" writes Mrs. W. A. Small, Sr. of Waco, Texas. "I would chill and have to go to bed for about three days at a time. I would have a dull, sharp pain in my back and legs. After taking Cardui, thinking it would help me and in fact it did. I feel much improved and do not spend the time in bed. I certainly can recommend Cardui to other sufferers."

the balance of the Highway Commission to obtain an appropriation of state highway funds to cover the entire cost of construction. So, apparently it is once more Judge Young who steps into the breach and accomplishes the objective of a highway for Haldeman and that section of Rowan county.

A great deal of credit is also due to Mr. Plummer for his hearty cooperation with Judge Young in his efforts to bring Haldeman out of the mud." Officials of the Kentucky Fire Brick Company have wholeheartedly worked for the completion of this highway which will offer to the people of that section of the county a route to Highway 60 which has long been needed.

One of the important features of the new highway will be the flood control plan which will be incorporated in the construction. A concrete flood control flume, twelve feet in width will be built along the Kentucky Fire Brick yard, ample in height to take care of any flood condition likely to occur. Specifications calls for the use of vitrified clay products from the Lee Clay Products Company plant in the construction of culverts and small bridges, thus guaranteeing the use of Rowan county products wherever possible and furnishing additional local employment.

The cost of construction of the present contract will total approximately $44,275.00. This, as stated before, will not include the cost of additional contracts which are to be let later, covering the underpasses and approaches, as well as surfacing for the entire project in Rowan county.

Jobs Found For 6 By College Bureau

Rogers Becomes Principal Of Lewisburg Consolidated School

Morehead State Teachers College's Placement Bureau has succeeded in finding teaching positions for six graduates since the close of the regular school year in June, according to an announcement made last week by Professor Charles Van Antwerp, director of the bureau.

Emory Rogers, graduate of Morehead in the class of 1931 and professor in the college last spring, has secured the principalship of the Lewisburg Consolidated school system through the efforts of the bureau.

Everett Coanougher, graduate in the class of June, 1934, has been placed in the Burgin City Schools, where he is serving as both instructor and football coach.

Bruce Dorsey, graduate in the class of 1932, has secured a position in the Olive Hill High School as instructor in social science.

Florence Owens, graduate in the class of 1934, has been placed in the Winchester High School. Miss Owens will teach home economics.

Kathryn Pope was elected to a position in the Covington City School system last June through the recommendation of the placement bureau.

Herbert Howard, graduate in the class of June, 1934, was placed in the Fairview High School, Westwood, Ashland, by the bureau last summer, but since that time he has relinquished that position and come to Martin, Kentucky, where he is teaching and coaching the first football team in the history of the school.

Professor Van Antwerp stated that the Training School football team hoped to play the Martin team.

CANNED AND FRESH

THE end of the fresh vegetable season is approaching, but here is a stunt which many wise housewives are using to prolong it as long as possible. They take such canned vegetables as asparagus, beans, carrots, corn, stringless beans and tomatoes, etc., combine them with the remaining fresh beans, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, eggplants, lima beans, mushrooms, onions, potatoes, spinach, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes and turnips which they are able to obtain, and make tasty dishes.

Fresh Mushroom and Asparagus: Peel six very large mushrooms, remove stems and place cavity side up, in a shallow pan. Put a piece of butter in each, and dust with salt and pepper. Lay two asparagus tips from a 10 1/2-ounce can across each mushroom, and sprinkle thickly with grated cheese. Dust with paprika and place in a hot oven for about or fifteen minutes. Serve with or on rounds of toast as an entree. Serves six.

Corn Concoctions

Scalloped Corn, Fresh Celery and Onions: Boil one cup of dried celery five minutes, and drain. Put alternate layers of whole kernel corn from a 10 1/2-ounce can and one-fourth cup chopped ripe onions in a baking dish, sprinkling with one-fourth teaspoon salt and a few grains of black pepper. Dot top with two tablespoons butter, pour over two-thirds cup milk, and cover with one-half cup buttered crumbs. Bake for about forty-five minutes in a 375 degree oven, or until the celery is tender. Serves six.

Asparagus Combinations

Fresh Tomatoes Stuffed with Asparagus: Cut the stem ends from four firm uniform tomatoes, and scoop out the centers. Dust inside with salt and pepper. Stand two asparagus tips from a 10 1/2-ounce can upright in each tomato, cutting off the ends so that they protrude only about half an inch. Mix the cut pieces of asparagus with tomato pulp, and add enough buttered crumbs to make the mixture of the right consistency to stuff. Stuff the tomatoes, and bake in a slow 225 degree oven for from twenty to thirty minutes. Serves four.

Furnish Plais: Peel three medium parsnips, cut in one-half inch slices lengthwise, and boil until tender in salted water. Drain. Cut one medium bunch of spinach in two inch pieces, and boil and drain. Lay parsnip flat in a shallow buttered baking dish or glass pie plate. Lay spinach on top, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and dot with butter. Heat the contents of a No. 2 can of tomatoes, season with salt, pepper and a tiny bit of sugar, and pour over. Bake in a 350 degree oven for about thirty minutes or until brown. Serves six.

Squash: Pare one summer squash (yellow crooked neck), thinly and cut in small pieces. Put the contents of a No. 2 can of tomatoes on the squash in a stew pan, and season with salt and pepper. Cover and boil gently until squash is tender. Mash with a fork. Add butter to season, and serve. Serves six.

Make Your Own Combinations

Then go on from there, and make your own combinations—canned kidney beans with fresh tomatoes, for instance, canned corn or carrots with sweet potato, canned peas with cucumbers and radishes or canned stringless beans with carrots and green pepper. The combinations offer a wide range of choice, and you'll find it fun to make your family and guests guess which are the fresh vegetables in them and which are canned. You'll also find that they will frequently guess wrong.

Kennel Murder Case

"Oh, quite—and in a rather awkward position—eh, what? Considering how low the easy chair is, Coe could not possibly have had his elbow on the desk when he pulled the trigger. If so, the shot would have gone over his head. His arm was necessarily lower than the desk when the gun was fired—if he fired it. Therefore we must assume that after the bullet struck his arm, he lifted his arm up to the desk and arranged it neatly in its present position.

Maybe yes and maybe no, muttered Heath, after a pause during which he studied the body and raised his own hand to his forehead. Then he added aggressively: "But you can't get away from that bolted door Vance signed.

No one apparently, answered Vance with a dispirited sigh. And that's what makes the affair so dash of appeal! The situation reads thus: A man is murdered; then he that the pen container is empty, and rises and bolts the door after the slayer has departed; and later he arranges himself in an easy chair so as to make it appear like suicide.

That's a swell theory! granted Heath disgustedly. Anyway, we'll know more about it when Doc Doremus gets here. And my bet is he's going to do nothing of the sort. I have an irrefragible feeling that Doc Doremus will inform us that it is not suicide.

Heath screwed his face into a questioning frown and studied Vance. Then he snorted.

Well we'll see he mumbled. Vance said scant attention. His eyes were moving over the desk. At one side of the blotter lay a copy of volume of Lo Tai Ming Tu's 'Tou P'u' by Hsiang Yuan-pien.

You see Markham, he said, Coe was apparently dreaming of his latest contemplated suicide does not indulge his acquisitiveness and investigating the history of his ceramic wares just before sending a bullet into his brain.

Markham waited without answering significant. Vance pointed to a small pile of blank note paper in the middle of the blotter. This paper is lying a little on the bias, in the position that a right handed man would place it if he contemplated writing on it. And, also note that at the head of the first page is yesterday's date—Wednesday October 29—

Ain't that natural? put in Heath. All these birds who commit suicide write letters first.

But sargent, smiled Vance, the letter isn't written. Coe got no farther than the date. Can't a guy change his mind? Heath persisted.

that there is no pen visible on the desk. Maybe it's in his pocket. Maybe Vance stepped back and bending over, ran his gaze over the floor round the desk. Then he knelt down and looked under the desk. Presently he reached out his arm and from beneath the right hand tier of drawers, drew forth a fountain pen, Rising, he held the pen out.

Coe dropped the pen and it rolled under the desk. He placed it by the note paper. Men don't ordinarily drop fountain pens in the middle of writing something and then fail to pick them up.

Heath gazed in silence, and Markham asked:

You think Coe was interrupted in the midst of writing something? (Continued Next Week)
