THE ELECTION IS OVER

The election is over. Where there is a winner there must be one or more losers.

The vote of the American people has spoken. The majority rule will still apply. The main thing now is for Republicans and Democrats alike to work for the next four years toward a safe and sane government and the achievement of still greater prosperity.

As in all general elections the Independent has taken no sides. The columns of this paper have attempted to state both sides of the question, without bias or prejudice, and let the voters make up their minds from that evidence.

It is our sincere hope that the man and the party that is best fitted to handle this government for the next four years has been placed in power. We can afford to forget party affiliations in the interest of a greater government and advancement for its people.

DRIVE FOR LIBRARY BOOKS

A drive at the Morehead High school to stock its library under the qualifications set forth for a Grade "A" school has struck a responsive chord with friends and patrons.

This is a worthy cause. The drive is not yet ended, and there remains an opportunity of Morehead residents to help. The books that you give may be read hundreds of times by minds eager to acquire knowledge, and will remain for many years as a testimonial of the interest of the donor in the advancement of education and standards at the local school.

TOO MANY JAIL BREAKS

It appears that prisoners in the Rowan county jail have a bad habit of unlocking the doors and walking to freedom. A man, whom officers describe as a dangerous character, has made two escapes in less than a month.

These jail breaks are getting to be too much of happening in Rowan county, and it is about time that courts or juries do something about them. If the local jail is too insecure to hold prisoners, steps should be taken for a remedy. If it is so easy to make keys for the jail door locks, it appears that it would be a simple matter to put new locks on.

THE RELIEF SITUATION

About the time this is read we will know who the next president of the United States will be. But, whether the electorate decides that Mr. Roosevelt's record has entitled him to another four years or that it is time for a change, many of the great issues of the last few years will be the great issues of the immediate future as well.

One of the greatest, most difficult and most perplexing of these issues is relief. It is great because it affects millions of Americans. It is difficult because there are a thousand and one ideas as to how it should be handled. And it is exceedingly perplexing because the relief rolls have increased at a time when industry was rapidly improving and gainful employment was also increasing materially.

Four years ago, Federal relief was something new in American government, and the wisdom or folly of it were much debated. Today both major parties subscribe to Federal relief, and the difference between their stands is one of method rather than of principle.

Why have the relief rolls increased while business was improving? First, here are the actual figures, taken from a recent issue of the United States News:

In July, 1933, when business was slowly starting up from the bottom reached in 1932, there were 3,908,000 persons on relief. In July, 1934, when business felt a real surge of recovery, there were 4,400,000 persons on relief. In July, 1935, when a number of important industries began to approach "normal" levels, there were 4,475,000 people on relief. In September, 1936, when the general business level was somewhat ahead of the 1932-23 "normal," and when some industrial had exceeded even their 1928-29 boom-period experience, there were 4,547,000 persons on relief.

(These relief totals include employes of the PWA, those supported by other Federal agencies, and those "unemployables" who are now supported by states and cities. Totals do not include CCC members.) of the WPA is chief, see nothing hard to explain in this apparent anomaly of better business and more indigents. They say that the majority of the unemployed stayed off relief, for some time, receiving support from friends and relatives, but that as these sources of income dried up, they were forced to go on relief. They also say that many unemployed people managed to pull through on their own savings, and that when these people got back to work the relief total is not inflated. They point out that drought boosted the relief rolls. And they also point out that industry tends to take back into employment first those who were discharged last—the most skilled and necessary workers. As most of these workers were unemployed for a relatively short time, they did not get on relief to any great extent.

There is another explanation, often made by union labor leaders, to the effect that technological advances in industry—which simply means the replacement of men with machines—have destroyed hundreds of thousands of jobs in the last few years. But a conservative economist, Joseph Stagg Lawrence, writing in Scribner's, says that census figures show that in the 60 years from 1870 to 1930, which was a period of extraordinary technological progress, "the population increased 218 per cent. In the same period the total gainfully employed 278 per cent. The manufacturing and mechanical industries, in which the most impressive technological changes have taken place, show an increase of 414 per cent in jobs." It is the general contention of such economists that technological progress may force men to change jobs, but that it always increases the total of jobs. Prime example of this is the automobile. It killed a big industry—the manufacture of horse-drawn vehicles—but it created a half-a-dozen still bigger industries, such as tires, gasoline, repairs, etc.

Still another point of view is that our soaring relief rolls are the inevitable result of an over-governed government. Holders of this idea say that many men would rather take $10 a week on relief than work for $15 a week. Mr. Lawrence believes this, and says "With business recovery eliminating the cyclical factor, continuing unemployment must be held squarely at the door of governmental indolence."

There are the main different points of view—all opposed, all conflicting, and all convincingly expressed by their various spokesmen. They serve to indicate how great a relief problem—a problem that goes beyond partisanship in politics, and that will hold the headlines whether the donkey or the elephant is in power in Washington.

One Year Ago This Week

Troy Jennings, Morehead, defeated J. J. Thomas by 81 votes for representative from the Bath-Rowan district on the face of complete official returns.

With the count almost completed A. B. Chandler was ahead of King Swope by 80,000 in the governor's race.

Mrs. A. F. Ellington lost to Waller A. Crockett in the State Senatorial race in this district by slightly over 300, unofficial returns indicated.

Herbert Bradley and Sam C. Caudill were elected to the Rowan County Board of Education.

A broadcast over radio station WLW, Cincinnati, was arranged for the Morehead Civic Chorus.

WHAT OTHER KENTUCKY EDITORS ARE SAYING

Fear and Faith

Mankind's greatest enemy is fear. Fear is at the root of a high proportion to the ills of the human body, reports the famous experimental surgeon, Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland, after years of intensive study into the causes of heart disease with its accompanying histories of high blood pressure and sudden death and all the other ailments which take such a heavy toll of lives in America every year. It is customary to attribute these and other diseases of civilization to the nervous tension in which a large part of the inhabitants of the modern world continue to live and move. But the cause of nervous tension, Dr. Crile believes, is primarily fear.

It has long been known to physiologists that physical fear stimulates the action of the heart and causes tension of the blood vessels. It is Dr. Crile's belief that the same or similar results follow the various forms of fear which we speak of as worry, apprehension, jealousy and by other names all of which simmer down to the fact that we are afraid of something. This conclusion may point the way toward the reduction or elimination of many of the causes of premature old age, and of the infirmities due to nervous disturbances.

Just how fear can be eliminated from the human subconsciousness Dr. Crile does not undertake to point out. There probably is no rule or remedy of universal application, and it is also probable that the habit of fearlessness is one which must be acquired in youth or childhood. The interesting conclusion can be drawn, however, from Dr. Crile's report, that there is sound foundation for the teachings of the other ailments which take spiritual leaders that the physical and spiritual life are inseparable and that in the long run it is the spiritual nature which controls the physical body.

That this is true is the accepted belief today of the most advanced thinkers in the medical profession as well as of the foremost religious leaders. This conclusion still leaves us facing an insoluble mystery, but brings home the vital importance of faith as an element in human life.

If all the publicity that people are seeking without charge in newspapers were laid end to end it would go around the world in two months.

The veteran seems to be up against it in this election. Republican Hoover and Democrat Roosevelt both vetoed the bonus bill.

SAFE ON HER COURSE

THIS WEEK IN MOREHEAD

FACTIONAL BATTLES: The aim of the Democrats in Rowan county who had the party at heart, this fall was to form a coalition between the two factions that always oppose each other in the primaries and have been none too friendly in the general elections. For this reason Edson Evans was appointed campaign manager. It seems, no matter whether the Democrats carry Rowan, that the selection of Evans has been a wise one, for there has been a minimum of factionalism during this race.

True, a few differences have cropped out, but Evans seems to have satisfactorily ironed them out, and members of the two factions worked side by side in the interests of the party.

The Republicans on the other hand, who are generally very affable made a wise selection in choosing Edson Evans, who has conducted the GOP campaign on a high plane. It is no secret but that the Republicans always work better together in Rowan county than do the Democrats.

This is probably the principal reason why the GOP's have been victorious the last two times, although Rowan is ordinarily a Democratic county.

HALLOWEEN: The spirit of Halloween that prevailed in Morehead several years ago seems to be passing out. There was only a small number of people on the streets in costume Saturday evening, as compared with hundreds years ago. The spirit of the hobbits seems to be definitely on the decline. So far as can be learned no gates were stolen Saturday, the air was not let out of automobile tires and such pranks were not played.

Our Family Coat-of-Arms

Austin

Presented here are the coat of arms attributed to Robert Austin who was born in England about 1634, and later settled in King's Town, Rhode Island. The family name Austin is derived from the name Augustus and means imperial, noble, and grand. The Austin name in English history appears as early as 1050 A. D. The first members of this family in America settled in what are now the states of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island. In Rhode Island, particularly, where the family fled for religious and political freedom, the name has always been one of noble. The above, Robert's Austin had four sons. His descendants are now to be found in many states of the Union. Description of Arms: A chevron of gold and three gold crosses on a red shield. Great A cross between two outspread wings. Radio City's Prettiest Chorine Advises on Makeup

Blonde Or Brunette, Hazel Or Gray-Eyed—All Should Match Makeup To Eyes. Says Prettiest of "Rockettes"

"THE first thing I learned in making up for the footlights was that the most important element involved in making the most of good looks is the choice of makeup itself." Charlotte Joslin, widely photographed New York beauty and member of the world's greatest precision troupe, the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes, made this frank statement recently when an interviewer questioned her about her successful career as a dancing star.

"Girls and women are always asking me for my beauty secret. It is a very simple one: namely, use the color of your eyes as a guide in choosing the most becoming shade of powder, rouge and lipstick. This rule has certainly never failed me, and those of my friends who are professional actresses and make-up artists—their eyes are a sure color guide. I was quite thrilled when I discovered a whole line of matching cosmetics—powder, rouge, lipstick, even mascara and eye-shadow—all keyed to one of the four major eye shades."

Miss Joslin's own eyes are blue and just as she states she has always looked her best in a blue dress, so this makeup should be especially to flatter the blue-eyed type (it is all a complicated matter of pigmentation and was worked out by a famous color expert) is immensely becoming to her complexion, she says. There is a completely matched kit for brown, hazel or gray eyes—all blended with quite marvelous skill. But remember, in any case—Charlotte Joslin emphasizes this point—do consider your eyes! It's the idea that counts and the products we use are a matter of individual taste.

How To Use Your Makeup—Once you have found the most flattering makeup, your problem is how to apply it to the greatest advantage, according to Miss Joslin.

Use a cleansing cream—always followed with a skin freshener to remove all traces of cream and leave your skin in perfect condition for your foundation cream. A thin film of this preparation is sufficient for a flattering makeup base, and everyone knows the difference a foundation makes. Apply your face powder...generously...evenly...and remove surplus with a face powder brush.

If you use dry rouge blend it in over your powder (if cream rouge is preferred it should be applied while your foundation cream is moist, followed by your face powder). Rouge should be considered the frame for your eyes...to give them life and sparkle, Miss Joslin says. Most people look their best with rouge worn high on their cheeks, blended to the eyes.

A clever trick, if your lips are too thin or too full, is to reshape their outline with the aid of an orange stick. To insure the indelibility of lip rouge and to give a more natural lip coloring place a cleansing tissue between your lips and press them together. This takes off the surplus and sets your lipstick.

Apply eye shadow at the center of the eyelid and blend it outward a little beyond the length of the eye. After applying mascara be sure to brush the lashes well with a clean brush to prevent their clinging together. Finish your makeup by penciling the eyebrows...adding length where they are too short and filling in where they grow too far apart.

those affected were aided by this organization.

"Also in March came the terrific spring floods which effected not only Kentucky but most of central and eastern United States. In our state alone, Red Cross records show that 2,962 cases, or 138,290 persons, were given rehabilitation assistance following the disastrous flood. As you may recall, this assistance included building repairs and actual reconstruction of homes in some cases, and providing clothing, household equipment and medical care of the victims.

Later this year, in June, over a score of persons were given similar help when a disastrous fire swept through Carzaville.

Mrs. Wells said that during the spring floods and tornadoes, Kentucky chapters in the American Red Cross worked day and night collecting thousands and thousands of garments and tons of food and many medical supplies for victims of the catastrophes. At the same time, she said, through the whole-hearted cooperation and support of the public, Kentucky more than reached its disaster funds quota.

"This money," she continued, "was used to rehabilitate families that had suffered loss in the disaster. It would be impossible for me to set forth here the hundreds and hundreds of human interest stories which developed in the course of this rehabilitation work in Kentucky alone, but in subsequent Roll Call newspaper releases and radio talks we will place before the public many of these cases in which the assistance we were able to give brought real cheer and undying loyalty to the grateful recipients, many of whom had lost all of their earthly possessions.

"Throughout the country during this same time, the Red Cross was called upon to assist some 445,000 persons, victims of 168 disasters in 39 states. In the spring floods and tornadoes alone, the Red Cross gave rehabilitation assistance to 370,000 persons.

"Although less spectacular than disaster relief, other Red Cross accomplishments in Kentucky last year were more pleasant and gratifying to contemplate. These include a very substantial increase in Junior Red Cross membership and an equally gratifying increase in First Aid, Life-Saving and Home Hygiene instructions.

"Kentucky's Junior membership made perhaps the largest gain the state has ever known in a single year. The total enrollment of school boys and girls in this organization whose aim is to instill the habit of doing good for others and the fostering of interest (Continued on Page Six)

Plan One of Best Cattle Shows in History of State

Plans are being made in the 4-H club department of the College of Agriculture for one of the best cattle shows in the history of Kentucky, to be held at the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville, November 11-13.

More than 1,000 head of calves are being finished by 4-H club members, and Future Farmers and adult feeders probably will contribute as many more cattle.

Despite adverse feeding conditions in parts of the state, M. S. Guisard, in charge of the 4-H club baby beef project, says more and better 4-H calves were raised than at any previous show.

Fred Vinson Heard In Elliott County

King Swope, In Address, Says People Are Sorry They Elected Chandler

Logan and thanked Elliott county Democrats for the majority that he received in the primary election.

Although most of the listeners were forced to stand because the courthouse has not been finished, there was a fair-sized audience to hear the hand for Congressman Vinson's address.

In an address at Morehead Saturday afternoon Judge King Swope of Lexington who was defeated for governor in the general election last year attacked the state and national administrations in an hour and one-half address to a large audience.

Good Time Now To Set Trees, Shrubs

In landscape suggestions to club members, Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture notes that fall is one of the best times to make plantings in Kentucky.

Dig the holes 10 to 12 inches larger than required to accommodate the roots, and place the plants 6 to 8 inches deeper than where they were removed.

"If there is a county in the state of Kentucky that should return a heavy majority for President Roosevelt, it is Elliott county," Congressman Vinson declared in an address Monday at the Sandy Hook courthouse.

"I expect Elliott to return the greatest per cent majority for the President than any county in Kentucky," Mr. Vinson continued. He predicted that Roosevelt would win by a landslide.

Minor injuries. The team scrimmaged this afternoon and appeared to have lots of spirit.

Regardless of whether Morehead wins either of their last two games, although Morehead fans are inclined to believe they will take them both, Coach Johnson and Miller have made themselves their first year at Morehead. It used to be that the Morehead club was described in five letters, "set-up."

SHOE STYLES INTRODUCE CORONATION FASHIONS.

Edward VIII Inspires New Style Trend; Experts Stress Care of Materials

THE advance showing of fall shoes and accessories, introduced in Hollywood this year for the first time prior to the New York style showings, points the way toward so-called "coronation" fashions that will have all the charm of the gay days of Edward VII combined with the chic that characterizes the taste of Edward VIII.

While still Prince of Wales, the latter was noted for his preference for the modern and sophisticated. Hence the new footwear, which stylists see as definitely indicative of a fashion trend, is not only drastically different in design, but stresses the importance of fabric elegance, always synonymous with sophisticated fashion.

Foremost among fall shoe styles are "trotter" boots—a sort of modified high shoe. Screen stars acclaimed them as the cleverest innovation in footwear since the amazing popularity achieved by the sandal. Coming just to the ankle, they revive memories of the high laced boot of the era of the earlier Edward. However, the styling is much simpler and gives the foot an appearance of elegance and sophistication that will be a useful supplement to suavely molded fall costumes. Elegance of material is not limited to the boots, since sandals, pumps, brogues and monk adaptations are also shown in fine suedes and soft finished leathers.

Suede and suede-like fabrics in both shoes and accessories require careful grooming if they are to maintain their velvety freshness, according to Ruth Kerr, leading shoe designer.

Mrs. Naomi Claypool, head of the Morehead art department, will direct the program of the department of art teachers in the Ventura hotel ballroom Friday afternoon. "The Courtship of Miles Standish," will be portrayed in a puppet show on this program, produced and presented by pupils of the Breckinridge Training school. Thomas D. Young, Morehead college art instructor, will give a demonstration on the use of puppets, while Morehead students will present an art exhibit. This program is classed as one of the best of the departmental meetings, and is expected to draw many Ashland and Eastern Kentucky people.

Ted Crosswhite, supervisor of adult education in Boone county, will represent this section at the department's meeting in the club room on the mezzanine floor of the Ventura hotel Friday afternoon. James R. Salyers of Morehead, district supervisor of WPA adult education will preside.

The countries that are included in the Eastern Kentucky Education Association are Bath, Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Floyd, Greenup, Johnson, Lawrence, Lewis, Magoffin, Martin, Mason, Menifee, Morgan, Pike and Rowan.

The highlight of the entire convention will be reached at 8:30 a. m. Friday evening with an address, "Current Economic Problems," by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

things done by children in her schools. Miss Youcum has seven or eight art teachers under her supervision and it is a rare occasion when Sandusky students do not win most of the art prizes offered by scholastic magazines. Besides all her honors, Miss Youcum is a charming person and a delightful speaker.

On the program with Miss Youcum there will be two puppet shows, supervised by Mr. Thomas D. Young, instructor in the Art department of Morehead State of art in the Training school. The first puppet show will be given by children of the eighth grade of the teachers college. They have written their own play, "The Courtship of Miles Standish," made their own puppets and accompanied by the speaking and manipulating of them, they will also have a puppet amateur show.

Mr. Young who is well known as a puppeteer and artist will demonstrate some of his own puppets, which are quite clever and amusing.

There will be an exhibit of art work of eastern Kentucky teachers in the window of Field's Furniture store on Winchester avenue, and an exhibit of art work of children of eastern Kentucky at the 18th street Methodist church.

Teachers are especially invited to attend this meeting and we extend a most cordial invitation to anyone who is interested in art.

drunken scoundrel!" he said. His mouth fell agape as Peggy stepped from behind her shelter.

"I wanted to see you as soon as I could," she replied with a smile.

He turned, with a despairing gesture, and faced the fireplace. Peggy followed him, conscious of how like a naive schoolboy, in some ways, was the brilliantly lifted man.

"John," she said, and she could not keep a certain tenderness out of her voice.

"Heads I am, tails you are," she said. Randolph glanced idly at the coin.

"A stranger gave it to me, on the street," rejoined Peggy, who was accustomed to see that she had been carrying about an anti-Jackson call to arms. "What can it mean?" "It means," said Randolph grimly, "there are some who would do by force what Calhoun and I wish to do only by reason and right."

"Give it back to me," said Peggy. Randolph held it behind his back.

"You're enough of an influence on Jackson already," he said. Peggy reached for the coin, and after a moment's pretended struggle he relinquished it.

"No," answered Peggy, "John Randolph." She came over to sit on the edge of Jackson's desk.

"Well, then, I guess it couldn't help happen," said Jackson, an enigmatic expression on his face.

"There's one thing I ain't away without leavin' Washington," replied Jackson.

"I'm tryin' to tell you your duty," Peggy returned Jackson, with uncharacteristic calm.

EAGLES DEFEAT EASTERN BY 19-7

Wynt Races 100 In Final Quarter

Striking like lightning three times that carried them over for as many sensational touchdowns, the Morehead Eagles toppled the Eastern Maroons from the proud ranks of the state and nation's undefeated football teams by the amazing score of 19 to 7 at Hanger stadium in Richmond Friday afternoon.

Each of Morehead's thrusts were as unexpected as they were gratifying to some 400 to 500 Morehead followers who attended the game and disheartened to 3,000 or more loyal Eastern supporters who were on hand to see Rame Rankin's charges deliver their customary beating to the Eagles.

This year the tables reversed themselves and it was a band of determined, well-coached and aggressive Blue and Gold ridd performers who brought the house of Eastern down, scattering their impressive record like a stack of cards caught in a wind storm.

After the teams had played on fairly even terms during the first quarter, both of them threatening once by advancing into the 20-yard stripe, the first bolt struck Eastern. It was the Maroons' ball on their own 40. Jenkins faded back for a pass, was rushed and threw it direct into the hands of Bush-hog Brashear, the Eagles' all-state tackle who backs up the line of scrimmage on defense. Brashear eluded one tackler and was forced within six inches of the sideline. The Morehead interference formed in front of him at the 40 and so perfect was the blocking that he raced right down the sidelines, never more than a half-yard in from the fatal white stripe for a 45-yard gallop and the first touchdown. The kick for extra point was muffed.

This touchdown was a preliminary of what was to come later on in the second quarter. With but 20 seconds to play in the first half the Eagles had the ball on their own 45. On an innocent setup Reynolds broke through the line of scrimmage, dodged two tacklers and eluded the safety man to go another 55 yards and another score. This time Vinson booted a perfect placement for the extra point.

Eastern, realizing there was little or no opportunity to pierce the Morehead line opened up with a passing attack on the first play of the last half. During this period the Morehead backs were dropping some long heaves that were in their hands.

Midway the last quarter Lund started "chucking" them on every play, and with disastrous results for Morehead. Aided by three penalties they passed their way down to the six-yard line. With a first down at this point they were still unwilling to hit that Morehead line, and Lund threw one in the end zone that Yeager caught for a touchdown. Cummings kicked the extra point to narrow the Morehead margin to six points.

On the next kick-off "Tiny Tim" Wynt gathered Cummings' boot and threw it direct into the hands of near-perfect interference made 100 yards for another Morehead touchdown. Wynt's run was the longest of the year in Kentucky, and will possibly stand as a national record this year. The kick for the extra point failed this time, but the delicious Morehead crowd and players did not care

Coles High Wins Over Vikings 6-0

A blocked punt and a completed pass in the end zone proved the difference between the Colles High team of Ashland and the Morehead Vikings in a football meeting at Jayne stadium. The Ashlanders won 6 to 0.

In the first quarter the Coles team blocked a Morehead punt near the goal line, and in the next series of plays tossed a pass that netted the victory.

The teams were fairly evenly matched. Coles had the heaviest club, but did not carry any more weight than did the Morehead team. It was an upset victory, Morehead having been conceded a slight edge by virtue of their fine play- ing against Wurland the week before.

PERUVIANS PLAN TO FINANCE ATHLETICS

Peru's participation in this year's Olympic games has resulted in notably stimulating interest throughout that country in athletic games and sports of all kinds. In order to raise funds for the promotion of national sports, the government has authorized the Peruvian Athletic Federation to issue 250,000 medals of different kind to students. The profit resulting after paying the mint and other expenses is to be retained for the promotion of national sports.

much for there was only a half-minute of the game left, which Eastern used up by tossing two long passes which were incomplete.

Between halves of the game Fred Caudill, president of the Morehead Campus club presented a 150-foot log-rifle, symbolic of the rivalry between these two clubs, jointly to President Donovan of Eastern and President Bobb of Morehead. At the end of the game President Donovan presented the rifle to the Morehead president with the words "the best team won."

Morehead's victory broke a four-year winning streak that the Maroons held over the Eagles. Prior to Friday's game Eastern had won five straight games and was the only undefeated team in Kentucky. They were odds-on favorites to defeat the Morehead club.

So far this year the Morehead club has defeated Eastern and Transylvania, lost by a touchdown to Murray and tied Union and Georgetown.

There were no really outstanding players for the Eagles Friday. The three touchdown runs were, of course, stand-outs, but the entire Morehead line turned in an equally impressive performance. What delighted Morehead fans more than anything else was Brashear's run. It was the first time that this great Morehead line-man has made a touchdown in college.

Lund was easily Eastern's best. He passed the Maroons to their lone touchdown, and with better receivers might have scored another time.

35 men have been employed on construction of water works plant at New Haven, Ky., is completed.

SPORTS

Between the halves of the Morehead-Eastern football game, it was Sports Spots privilege to talk a couple of East rosters who had accompanied the Blue and Gold team to Eastern. You will remember that the score at the time was 13 to 0 in Morehead's favor.

Perhaps the happiest man in the stadium that day was Ed Downing, the former head coach of the Morehead club. Wreathed in smiles, Coach Downing was proclaiming the prowess of the Morehead club. If that isn't school spirit, we'd like to know what is. Coach Downing has given his support in every way possible to help his successors, and there is no one that enjoys the Eagles winning more than Downing does.

Incidentally, you haven't heard much of what Coach Downing is accomplishing these days with his intra-mural sports program at the Morehead institution.

It was our privilege to go over some of the things that Downing is now doing. More than three-fourths of the men students at Morehead are engaged with some form of intra-mural sport. Coach Downing is developing basketball, handball, soft ball, diamond ball and swimming teams in numbers. He plans to open with wrestling and boxing this winter.

This is something that Morehead has long needed. When all things are said and done about sports of this intramural nature that actually accomplishes the most good. Working on wholesale scale gives boys a chance for sport and recreation that are not good enough to be on the varsity squads, but, at the same time, are just as vital to play as are the better players who gain names for themselves as representatives of the school.

The Dixie Grill, popular Morehead restaurant, gained so much favorable comment with their play by broadcast of the Morehead-Eastern football game that Jack West, the manager says, he will broadcast all of Morehead's away-from-home games next year.

By play account, given by W. E. Crutcher, independent sports writer and W. J. Sample, editor of the Independent, brought returns of the game exactly as it happened to a crowd that overflowed the Dixie Grill. It was a graphic description, and an invaluable souvenir for Morehead sports followers.

This play by play was brought at a considerate expense to the Dixie Grill and should be appreciated by Morehead fans.

The Morehead Vikings were somewhat surprised by the size and ability of Coles Junior High school's squad. Coach Boy Holbrook, of the Vikings, says that the Coles team will be the making of some more great football teams at the Ashland school, which has the best sports record of any high school in Kentucky. Coles defeated the undefeated Morehead club Friday 6 to 0.

Teachers' To Pit Strong Line, Good Backfield Against Invaders

Morehead college's two-game winning streak on the gridiron is expected to be turned into three straight here Saturday afternoon when the Teachers meet Tennessee Polytechnic Institute at Jayne stadium. The tilt will get underway at 3:30 p. m.

With the spirit and interest high among Morehead students, alumni and followers of the club because of victories over traditional foes—Transy and Eastern—during the last two weeks, a large crowd is expected to see the game here Saturday.

Not much is known of the Tennessee club except that they fell before Western Kentucky by four touchdowns early in the season. Western is not reputed to have a four touchdown better club than the Eagles, although the Hilltoppers did play an outstanding game against St. Xavier, losing on the breaks of the game.

This year's Morehead team is being classed as the best in the West by Western Kentucky. Under direction of Coaches Johnson and Miller they have come along in fine style, and may hit their peak against Poly.

College Theatre To Give Sunday Shows

Holiday Performances Will Start At 2 P. M. Manager Announces

The management of the College Theatre announces the first of its annual winter series of outstanding motion picture productions for Sunday, November 15. At this time two outstanding factors in the persons of Walter Huston and Ruth Chatterton will appear in the great story by Sinclair Lewis entitled, "Dodsworth."

For Friday, November 6, the College brings to the screen the Pulitzer Prize winning play, "Craig's Wife."

Russell, and John Boles, as Mr. and Mrs. Walter Craig, will be seen in the picture-ization of George Kelly's famous Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Craig's Wife," next Friday at the College Theatre.

The stars are supported in lesser roles by an imposing cast including Billie Burke, Jane Darwell, Dorothy Wilson, Alma Kruger, Thomas Mitchell, Robert Allen and Raymond Walburn. Dorothy Arzner, foremost woman director in Hollywood, guided the film transcription through its production, based on the screen play by Mary McCall.

Miss Russell essays her first important emotional role in films in "Craig's Wife" having thus far gained her greatest fame as a charming, subtle comedienne.

well pleased with the officiating at Richmond Friday. The Eagles were penalized 90 yards as compared to one lone penalty of five yards inflicted against the Maroons. They thought also that the last quarter was exceptionally long. Actually the final quarter in 50 minutes long, but there was a large number of time-outs during this period.

Prior to the opening of the football season Kentucky fans were confident that the University of Kentucky had the team to beat in the Southeastern conference. Following a 38-0 victory over V.M.J. Kentucky rosters were yelling "Rose Bowl!"

As has happened for so long as we can remember those hopes have been dashed and Kentucky sports is at a nose-to-high a level. The Cats lost by five touchdowns to Georgia Tech and last Saturday were down under the Crimson Tide of Alabama by 14-0. With the exception of one scoring chance, the Kentucky team displayed very little power against Alabama.

Grayson To Play Vikings Friday

Football teams coached by two brothers, both of whom claim Morehead as their home will do battle at Jayne stadium Friday afternoon when Roy Holbrook's Morehead Vikings collide with the brother Allan's Yellow Jackets of Prichard High school, Grayson.

Neither club boasts a winning team. Grayson has failed to break into the victory column, while Morehead has won once, defeating Greenup County High of Wurland. If there are any odds on Friday's game the nod would go to Roy's club since they seem to have shown more advancement than has the Grayson eleven since the season started, and have a wonderful spirit.

Both Morehead and Grayson are in the first stages of rebuilding. Football was abandoned temporarily at both schools, and this year attempts are being made to revive the sport. The game will get underway at 2:30 p. m.

Plans enlarged for new tobacco warehouse at Shelbyville, Ky., and cost will be $20,000 instead of $10,000 as first contemplated.

Here's One Way To Make Good Coffee

The home economics department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture notes that when reasonable care is exercised, good coffee is the rule rather than the exception even when an ordinary coffee pot is used. The following recipe is suggested as one of several good ones:

To make boiled coffee, use a level tablespoonful of coffee to the cup, add half of a teaspoonful of egg white. Put over a slow fire and take 15 minutes to bring to the boiling point; do not allow to boil. As it is taken off the fire put in half of a cup of cold water. The coffee can be poured almost immediately.

The coffee pot should then be emptied, and thoroughly cleaned and aired to be ready for use next time.

EQUATOR SONG

Between the Tropic of Cancer And the Tropic of Capricorn I have watched the moonlit heavens...

I have known the calm of dawn- Cast a spell upon my soul While worshipping this beauty...

Equator nights are calling With their symphonies of sound Through those myriads of insects...

That so stealthily slip by In we hours of the morning Beneath a rustle sky.

So I'm made to know it matters Very much that I'm alive. I am part of all this struggle...

Yet today my soul's wild soaring Seeks a place among the stars Lying constant and so distant...
