JEFFERSON COUNTY (Ky): 386 sq. mi. "Ky's. most populous co., this was one of the 3 into which the Va. Leg. divided its Ky. Co. in 1780, and was named for Thos. Jefferson, then Va's. gov. From its orig. territory all or part of 28 other co's. were created." (Book-P. 152); Jeff. Co. assumed its present boundaries in 1821; By the fall of 1993, there were 94 cities in J. Co. and 93 suburban places with over 136,000 residents. This was the result, primarily, of a 1938 law prohibiting the annexation by a city of any adjacent incorporated area. Shively was the first, outside of Lou, to incorporate, shortly after the law's enactment. (AP release in Lex. Her-Lead. 11/7/1993). Check on whether the 1938 law was modified later to permit annexation of 6th cl. cities with their approval; The co. is bordered on the n and w by the Ohio R. Beargrass Cr. joins the Ohio in Lou. Pond Creek (of the Ohio) and Floyds Creek (of Salt R.) are other prin. streams in county. (Collins, II, P. 355); Twelve cities, incl. Louisv;
JEFFERSON COUNTY, KY: 386 sq. mi. Est. by the Va. GA in May 1780 in its div. of Ky. Co. into 3 co's. for convenience of residents. Lou. was "designated" its seat. Orig. terri. took in over 7800 sq. mi. betw. Green R. (w & s bound.), Ky. R. & Benson Creek (e), Ohio R. (n) and named for then Gov. of Va. Thos. Jefferson. Twenty eight other co's. were formed from its "orig. terri." Nelson (1784) was the 1st. Jeff. assumed its present bounds. in 1823. Proliferation of small incor. cities in the rural sections of the co. after 1850 to prevent the annexation by Lou. Suburb. growth & dev. to 93 separate inc. places. CRESCEENT HILL (Jefferson Co., Ky): The 42 acre Fair Grounds was located along the rr tracks & FRankfort Rd in 1853. In 1875 the area around it was laid off in small resi. lots and developed as Fair View Subdiv. The Kennedys lived across the tracks and road from the Fairgrounds. Their home was called Fair View. They had moved there ca. 1855. Thomas discounts Mrs. Kennedy's naming acct. that traces the name to the Reservoir for he notes that the latter was not created till 1876-9. An article in the 11/3/1876 LCJ referred to the Crescent Hill Reservoir. This name was in use in the early 1870s. He refers to a "Crescent Hill" postmark 12/25/1869. (Sam'l. W. Thomas, CRESCENT HILL F 35y
Thus it was named for a crescent shaped ridge. (Ibid.). The town of Crescent Hill was inc. in 1884. Approved 4/21/1884, acc. to Chap. 903 of 1884 Laws of Ky. (Ibid., P. 10); The annexation of C.H. was finalized in 1897. P. 11); The Fair Grounds po was in a store just s of the tracks the only one on Frankfort Av. betw. Lou. and St. M. It was on the corner of Crescent Av. and the tracks. (P.41

By 1/31/1898 the status of this com. was still in litigation and it was not yet in Lou. city limits.
Crescent Hill (Jefferson Co., Ky): Earlier called Fairgrounds. In 1876 the water co. started construction of local reservoir. Mrs. Thos. S. Kennedy is said to have observed that the Ohio R. "formed a crescent that enclosed the section" and thus suggested this name. ("Our Town's a Group of Tiny Towns" LCJ, date & pages=?) C.H. began as an area of affluent homes along the rr line betw. Lou. & Lex. what Yater has described as "Louisville's equivalent of Phila's. Main Line." (Yater, 200 yrs., P. 107); C.H.'s bounds are Lex. Rd. (s), Cannons Lane & Fenley Av. (e), Ewing Av. (w), Brownsboro Rd. (n). So named for its site on a "broad crescent shaped hill." Also here: Masonic Widows & Orphans' Home (3701 Frankfort Av.) Crescent Hill Reserv. of the Louisv. CRESCENT HILL (Jefferson Co., Ky): Approx. bounds: Lexington Rd (s), Brownsboro Rd. (n), Ewing Av. (w), Cannons Lane and the Masonic Widows and Orphans Home (e). Inc. 1884. Annexed by Lou. in 1894. No one knows for sure how it got its name. Several theories: (1) Mrs. Thos. Kennedy, in 1876, when the reservoir was being built, thought it was crescent shaped. (2) this is doubted by local historian Sam Thomas who found references to this name before Mrs. Kennedy. e.g., a crescent hill postmark on a 1868 letter. He thinks it was derived from a crescent-shaped ridge that was mentioned in a still earlier news item. The area became one of truck farms producing for Lou. markets & shipped by L&N (by mid cent.) This was "Lou's. 1st rr suburb." (John Finley "Congenial Crescent Hill"
Crescent Hill (Jefferson Co., Ky): in the ne corner of Lou. (within the present city limits by the late 1930s). Site of the city's reservoir on Frankfort Ave. So named "because the Ohio R. (forms) a crescent about the high land in this district." (WPA) Crescent Hill was not first named by Mrs. Thos. S. Kennedy. Acc. to Sam Thomas, ex dir. of the Arch. & Records, Jeff. Co. and author of a hist. of this place, "records show that when plans were announced for a new reservoir, the location given was Crescent Hill so it was named before the reservoir was built." So it wasnt named for the shape of the reservoir but probably for the topo. (Yvonne Eaton, "Historians Point The Way on Local Place Names" LCJ 7/1/1984, P. H1:1-6, 5);

JEFFERSONTOWN (Jefferson Co.): The Jeff. Co. Ct. on 5/5/1797, "provided for the establishment of a town" to be called Jefferson on 40 acres on the banks of Chenoweth's Run, a part of the 122 acres acquired 5/1794 by Abraham Bruner...Bruner moved to Indiana Ter. in 1807 (P.30). Inc. 1797. Acc. to court records, it was first called "The Town of Jefferson"; the "Jefferson Town" and then Jeffersontown. "Although never officially designated 'Brunerstown' or 'Brunnerston', it was so called by its inhabitants and appears in public records for many years," even as late as 1825...The appeal of Brun(n)erstown to its German-Am. residents (and) but apparent preference of Va. Leg. to Jefferson name..."
"No evidence has ever been unearthed indicating that Jeffersontown was ever known by another name, except (Brunerstown). Collins, in his HIST. OF KY., made an error which has been perpetuated by some historians who have leaned solely upon that source. He stated that Newtown was incorporated in 1794 and was afterward called Jefferson or Jeffersontown...." Actually Newtown was laid off on 150 acres nr. Manns Lick and, acc. to an 185 map of Jeff. Co., Manns Lick was at what's now Fairdale and South Park. Acc. to an act passed by the Ky. G.A. in 1794, Newtown was thus est. and given that name.... (P. 32)
DK when laid out but sometime betw. 5/5/97 and 12/29/1797 ...(P.32) (Lt. Col. Robt. C. Jobson, Ret., A HIST. OF EARLY JEFFERSON-TOWN AND SOUTHEASTERN JEFFERSON COUNTY, KY. Balti, Gateway Press, Inc., 1977); Tho' residents continued to call the comm. Brunersstown until well into the 19th cent. it was charted as Jeffersontown in 1797, a name apparently preferred by the Jefferson Co. Ct. Tho' part of Louisville's suburban sprawl, it retains its identity as Town.
JEFFERSONTOWN (Jefferson Co.): Has always centered at jct. of Watterson Trail and Taylorville Rd. Perhaps the 1st house in Jeff. Co. was built in the vic. in 1771, was the home of Capt. Robt. Tyler. City "spreads along Taylorville Rd." 12 mi. e. of Lou. CBD. Boundaries: Hurstbourne Lane(W), I64(N), Chenoweth Run(E) and nearly to Fairground Rd. (S) Growth in the 1960s by annexation and the est. of Bluegrass Park, industrial park n. of J'town. The town was laid out in 1796. Inc. 5/3/1797. The site was owned earlier by Col. Frederick Geiger. In 1794, he deeded a sect. of his holdings to Abraham Bruner who laid out the town...1st called Jefferson, then Jefferstown but locally known as Brunerstown, a nickname. Early settlers were attracted by fertile soil "removed from the swampland of Lou." ...An important commercial center before 1830, with grist mills, pottery....("Once Sleepy Jefferstown is Growing Up" by Sinclair & Browning, LOU. TIMES, 11/5/65, P. A10:1-6); JEFFERSONTOWN (Jefferson Co.): 1st chartered as Newton in 1794. Later called Jefferson and then Jeffersontown. "A favorite stopping place for drovers on their way to Lou. It was the center of the best truck gardening section in Ky." (Collins HIST., Lou. Her. 9/17/1922); Named for Thos. Jefferson. "In support of the claim that Jeffersontown was one of the first settlements in Jefferson Co., there is a record of an ordinance passed Sept. 12, 1815. The name of Abraham Bruner on recorded minutes under date of Jan. 19, 1799. Under date of March 27, 1802, Bruner is mentioned as former proprietor of part of the land. The name Brunertown formerly attached to Jeffersontown was evident" (Lou. Herald 9/17/22).

(P.3) Petition had been submitted 1797 by Abrahm Bruner to est. town to be called Jefferson. Approved by Jeff. Co. Fiscal Ct. 5/1797. Bruner was pioneer settler of area. For years it continued to be called Bruner's Town before inc. in 1797 and even for a while afterwards. This name appeared on a 1819 map... (P.2) The home of Lou, C.J. editor, Henry Watterson, 1894 till his death in 1921. His estate was called Mansfield and 1 mi. w. of town square (P.1) (JEFFERSONTOWN'S PAST 175 YEARS, 1797-1975, locally published in 1972)
JEFFERSONTOWN (Jefferson Co., Ky): Centered at the jct. of Ky 1065 & Ky 155, on Chenoweth Run. Settled before 1790 by Hites, Tylers, and Oldhams, land grant holders. The town was founded in 1797 on 40 acres of Abraham Bruner's land named Jefferson for Thos. Jefferson tho' residents continued to call it (tho' unofficially" Brunerstown till the 1820s. Early (19 cent.) businesses included tannery, wheelwright, taverns. Suburbanization came in earnest with the building of roads linking it to downtown Lou. & especially the location in that vic. of the Bluegrass Res. & Ind'l. Park in 1965. Main growth came in the 1970s. (KY.ENCY P. 468); The po was est. with Peter Funk, pm, on 12/9, 1816 (POR) or 2/9/1816 (which?) On 1/21/1822 Simeon N Kalfus became pm. (POR);
JEFFERSONTOWN (Jefferson Co.): A rural trade center with pop. of 1246 as late as 1950. New apt. complexes, subdivisions, the Bluegrass Industrial Park were located there in the 1960s. Pop. reached 9701 in 1970. In 1975, est. 15,000-16,000. 15% of pop. = Black. But blacks have lived there since slavery times. No race problem, acc. to mayor Herbert S. KOSMOSDALE (Jefferson Co., Ky): When this place had its post office it was actually a small community with a store, acc. to Ken Blakely. (Bob Hill, "Who Was Who and What's What" LCJM, 3/27/1988, Pp. 6-12, 10); Began as a company town ca. 1900 with company store, sch., MD, workers' homes. Named for the plant. "Kosmos is a type of stone used in the cement-making process." No more than 40 families lived in the vic. at any one time. The company store closed in the early 1920s. Ceased as a company town by the mid 1960s and workers now commute from other area communes. Co. houses were torn down and the site became a park. Sam'l. J. Horner was the owner of the cement plant. He got ICRR to operate pass. & freight depot there. Depot bldg. extant but unoccupied. 3 miles

LACONA (Jefferson Co., Ky): a var. of Laconia which may have been the orig. name for New Hampshire (1829) and that of an old 18th cent. town in an area of lakes. (Stewart, AM. P.N., 1970, Pp. 246-7); LAKE DREAMLAND (Jeff. Co.): Community to the west of Shively and south of Rubbertown, an area of chemical plants. L.D. is a little community whose grimy fact belies its fetching name. It is built around a tiny lake near the banks of the Ohio, outside the floodwall at the foot of Lake Dreamland Rd. Edward Hartlage had other designs when he est. the commu. in the 1930s. He owned a 65 acre farm there and had leased most of his riverfront land for homesites. So, in 1931, he had Bramer's Run dammed up and developed a small lake around which he intended to lease more building sites. An opponent of Hartlage's scheme said it would never take root because it was just a dream. Hartlage decided that was a good name and he called it Lake Dreamland....(Since then) yards around the muddy little lake are cluttered with the carcasses of old autos: and some of the fram cottages appear to be fed up with life."

(Ward Sinclair & Harold Browning, "Shively Was Shaped by the Example (mf)2 Vigorous Priests Set" LOU. TIMES, 10/9/1965);
LAKE DREAMLAND (Jeff. Co.): The lake itself is about ½ mi. long and c. 200 yards wide. A natural lake. ½ mi. from the Ohio R. Many people owned summer cottages on that lake to which they would go on weekends. The boats did not stop there and there wasn't any rec. area. The only public place there was a tavern owned by Ben Schnapp. And this was only operated in the summer. It was only a summer resort area. Almost all the cottages were washed down the river and destroyed by the 1937 flood. South of Rubbertown. (Pron. "Lak Dreem/land"). Very few of the old homes are left; many of the structures have since been converted to industrial use. Rubbertown was the name informally given to the area nw of Shively where during WWII synthetic rubber manufacturing plant were built. Now a chem. complex: DuPont plant, large Goodyear plant. Called Rubbertown because a very substantial amt. of synthetic rubber was produced there....(Blaine Guthrie, Interview, 4/4/1978);

LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co., Ky): Founded in 1778 by a small group of settlers and 175 militia men under the command of Gen. Geo. Rogers Clark who, on 5/27, encamped at Corn I. in the Ohio R., just above the F- "Falls". The island was named for the crop soon planted there. Later that yr. they moved to the Ky. shore and built the 1st of 2 forts that were the basis of what became Lou. It rec'd. its name in '79 for the Fr. king Louis XVI who had sent assistance to the Americans in their war of independence. The Va. leg. chartered the settlement as a town in 1780. Its econ dev. depended on its function as a break in transp. for river traffic. The rapids impeding movement in either direction required the transfer of cargo and passengers by land around the falls. This and the coming of the steamboat (1811) contributed to the city's growth and dev. in the early 19 cent. Early manufacturing, modest in comparison to commercial activities, incl. shipbuilding, steam engines, iron foundaries, tob. & meat processing, agri. implements, furniture, and cement. The rr brought about ind. dev and the predominancy of manu. over commerce. Suburb growth was largely influenced by the electric street car and later highways and auto's. Lou's. growth during the late 19 and early 20 cent. came with annexations. At least half of the po's described below are within the present bounds of the city.
But nearly all served ind. towns during their operation. Current industries incl. home appliances, trucks, plastics and other chem. products. Pop. declined from 390,000 (1961) to 269,000 (1990). Lost to suburbs and elsewhere in the metro. area thru improved hiways and auto's. Manu. declined and Lou' econ. base is more diversified now as headquarters for many of the nation's leading service ind's.

(Geo. H. Yater, KY. ENCY. Pp. 574-8);
LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co., Ky): In July 1780 the Va. leg. officially est.'d Lou. as a town. Acc. to the orig. town plat, it extended betw. 1st and 12th Stree and betw. the river and Jefferson St. (Hammon, FILSON CLUB HIST. Q. Vol. 52 (4/1978, Pp. 158-9); Downtown Lou. is in the O. River bottom, actually an ancient flood plain. Its e end is the Highlands, the site of the city's 1st resi. suburbs of any consequence. It was 3 mi wide. The city extends along the s bank of the river for ca. 9 mi. Principal streams of the co. are Beargrass Cr. and its 2 forks, Floyds Fk. and Long Run in the e and se.... The city's first growth (till ca. 1875) was to/ the s. Then began to expand e and w, gradually incorporating its many resi. and some commercial suburbs. The settlement and estab't.
of the city owes much to the falls and river transp. ind. & comm. dev't. The falls were a natural stopping place for travel up and down the r. where cargo was transferred betw. them. Later canal and locks & dams enabled transp. without a break. City was located on pre-hist'c. (pre-glacial) riverbed. Lou. 1st laid out along the r., w from 1st St. The Lou. & Port. Canal was completed in 1830-1, ending the need for transshipping freight around the falls. The canal was betw. 9th and 29th Streets. Allowed river craft to bypass the falls. The falls extended 26 ft. over 2 mi. (ms. on Lou. for the WPA, 7/27/1937 by Hugh J. Hughes, Louisv. historian for the Writers Proj.).
LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co., Ky): "Ky's. only 1st cl. city lies at the falls of the Ohio R. In 1773 Capt. Thos. Bullitt was commissioned by Va's. colonial gov. Lord Dunsmore to locate land warrants granted to Va's veterans of the Fr. & Ind. War. He surveyed 2000 acres on the site of early Lou. In May 1780 the Va. leg. authorized the est'mt. of the town to be named for the French king Louis XVI who had aided the Am. Rev. cause. Later that yr. it became the seat of Jeff. Co., one of the 3 created in the div. of Va's. Ky. Co. The po was est. on 1/1/1795 with Michael Lacassagne, pm., and the city was inc. by the Ky. leg in 1828. For some yrs. after the first settlement, and even after the name Louisville had been officially applied, the site was identified merely as the Falls of the Ohio. Acc. to Geo. Rogers Clark's Rev. War memoirs, the name was pron. lu/ih/s/vihl as early as 1789. This alternated with lu/ee/vihl as the accepted local pron. for much of the 19th cent. It was only with the 20th cent. that the current local pron. [lu/æv/æl] came to be accepted." (Book-Pp. 179-80); pop. of 269,063 (1990 Census); LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co.): Inc. as a town in 1780 and as a city in 1828. (Helen F. Randolph; WPA); In the summer of 1778, Geo. R. This was a small island above the falls, "a series of rapids over which the stream dropped a distance of 30 ft. in less than a quarter of a mile." In very early '79, Clark had his soldiers est. a more defensible fort on the mainland (and this) was built nr. a point where the present 12th St. meets the river." In 5/1780, the Va. Leg. authorized the
est. of a town of Louisville at the Falls of the Ohio after Louis XVI who had aided the Americans in the Rev. Town became "a commercial trans-shipment pt., and the portaging of cargoes around the rapids was the main activity..." A canal around the falls was completed 12/1830. Lou. inc. 1828.... (A HIST. OF LOUISVILLE presented by the Lou. Gas & Elect. Co. in the LCJ, Sun. Supp. 2/17/1963, 32 pp. P. 4); LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co.): Capt. Thos. Bullitt was commissioned by Va.'s colonial gov., Lord Dunmore, to "locate land warrants granted the soldiers of Va. in the Fr. & Ind. War." He camped at the mouth of Beargrass Cr. When Jeff. Co. was est. as one of the 3 counties in the div. of the Ky. Dist. of Va. in the winter of 1780-1, Lou. was made its seat. Primarily a trading, commercial, transp. ctr. in early 19th cent. esp. "the business of portaging goods about the Falls..." (Hugh J. Hughes, 7/27/1937. WPA ms. for Lou. Writers
LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co., KY). Orig. Lou. extended along the Ohio R. from 2nd to 10th Streets and s to B'way, and e-w betw. 19th & Shelby Sts. It was trapezoidal shaped. Today (1979) Lou. covers 60 sq. mi. All of its spacial growth came with annexations of adjacent resi. areas, the last in 1967. 19 sq. mi. were annexed in the 1950s alone. By 1979 the law was that inc. places cannot be annexed unless resi­dents okay it. Thus many small commu's. inc. in the 1950s. If residents of already inc. places okayed it, the two cities would combine by merger. Sheldon Shafer, "Annexation: The Tool That Helped Build a 60-Square Mile Lou." LCJ 4/8/1979, Pp. LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co., Ky): po est. 10/1/1795. This is the date on which the pm submitted his 1st acc to the POD; Lou. is the center of a 7 co. metro. area (incl. 2 co's. in Indiana); The Falls of the Ohio is really a series of "rocky rapids" allowing the river t "fall ca. 26 ft. over a 2 mi distance" except at high tides; cargo & passengers "had to be transported by land past this stretch" of the river. Since 1830/1, with the construction of the Portland Canal, river traffic in both directions have been using this means to navigate the river. (Geo. H. Yater in KY. ENCY. P. 305); A break in navigation;
LOUISVILLE (Jefferson Co., Ky.)
"From this enthusiasm for the French (during the Rev. War) arose also the name of a great city. During the war some settlers came to a spot which was called from the place, the Fall of the Ohio, although that word was already changing its meaning, and some said, 'There are no falls there, only rapids.' In 1780 the new settlement petitioned the legislature of Virginia for regular establishment under a name which recognized the aid given to the new states by the French King. On May 14th the petition was granted, and the settlement became Louisville." (Geo. R. Stewart; NOTL, 1967 P. 167.)

in 1811 by Joshua G. Barclay and Alex'r. Ralston on part of 3000 acre tract  Wm. Lytle had purchased for Henry Clay & Fortunatus Cosby. Wharf and ferry. Town laid out in 5 acre lots. The later div. of these lots into smaller parcels led to the dev. of the tow for middleclass homes. Orig. site expanded to an area betw. 13th St. (e) and 40 St. (w) within which bound: the present ngbd. lies. Lytle's plan of a canal to bypass the falls was eventually realized (1830) tho' not by him. Many of the town's earliest residents, like those of Shippingport, were French emigres. C Chartered as a town by the Ky. leg. in 1834. Annexed by Lou. on 2/23/1837 in order to secure the Ohio terminus of the newly built Lex. & Ohio RR. When this didn't occur as planned, Portlanders in 1842 again became independent but were permanently linked to Lou. in 1852. (Nathalie Taft Andrews, KY. ENCY. Pp 730-1); The Lou. and Portland Canal was 2 mi long. (ca. 1932);
PORTLAND (Jefferson Co., Ky): Acc. to Henry Fichter / man, 5/12/1868, the po was 500 yds. s of Ohio R. and mi nw of Lou. po. (SLR); It was founded by French immis. in 1806, surveyed & laid out in 1814, and inc. by Lou. in 1837. River port & early boatbuilding town (Highway marker, #1312); In 1830 Portland was pop. 0 398. It was founded in 1814 by Wm. Lytle. Had wharf & warehouses. Chartered as a town in 1834. Anticipated being the term. of rr being planned from Lex. but plans fell thru and Port. never recovered. Annexed by Lou. in agreement to extend rr thru its terri. ca. 1838. Annexation was annulled in 1843 but re-annexed in 1852. (Geo. H. Yater, TWO HUNDRED YEARS AT THE FALLS OF THE OHIO: A HIST. OF LOU. AND JEFF. CO, Lou, 1979, Pp. 55-7); P0vtland po. disc 8/23/1876
PORTLAND (Jeff. Co.): (Pron. "P(aw)rt/land")
At one time a city indep. of Lou. Named for its status as a big portage around the Falls of the Ohio R. Had the principal shipping wharf. When goods carried around the falls, they were taken to the wharf at Portland, where 33rd St. runs into the river. Shipping-port ("Sh(ih)p/(ih)y/p(aw)rt") was another indep. town, now on an island that was created by the Louisville-Portland Canal. Nothing there now except the hydroelectric plant facility. A few homes there before WWII but have since been washed away by the floods. (Blaine Guthrie, interview, 4/4/1978);
PORTLAND (Jeff. Co.): Est. 2/24/1834 (ACTS, 1834, P. 787); re-est. 3/3/1842 (ACTS, 1841/ P. 291); Town est. at the falls of the Ohio (actually a series of rapids, but sufficiently preclusive of movement along the river in low tide of craft going in either direction.) Required that goods and passengers be transferred to other boats as they continued their journey. At this place "goods were warehoused and travelers were fed and housed." (F.W. Woolsey "Brining History to Life" LCJM, 11/6/1983, Pp 4-7, 5); Portland was on the Ohio R. below the mouth of the canal. Laid off in 1814 for its owner Wm. Lytl and inc. in 1834. Now part of Lou. (Collins II, P. 356);
PORTLAND (Jefferson Co.): Est. pop. (c 1977) = 25,000. Est. as a river port at the Falls of the Ohio. "Along with Shippingport, it was the stopping point for boats coming upriver. But its wharf area began to lose its economic importance after the completion of the Portland Canal in 1830. For a long time (it) was a neglected little nook in the Ohio... an intact historic neighborhood... area in transition; old homes; has its own local newsp. and sense of commu. pride... Mrs. Sharon Wilbert, spokesperson... ("Portland" by Lana Ellis, CJ&T MAG., 10/2/1977, Pp. 12ff);
PORTLAND (Jefferson Co., Ky): ca. 1830, Ship. & Port. together had ca. 1000 pop. (Yater); In 1814 this site was owned by Gen. Wm. Lytle. Was surveyed and laid out by Alex'r. Ralston for Gen. Lytle. An add'n. was laid out in 1817. Pop. of 400 in 1830 and had pop. of 1700 in 1860. Inc. in 1834 and became a part of Lou. in 1837. (OHIO FALLS CITIES, Vol. 1, Pp. 358-9);

Not a vil. (SLR); Preston Street was named for Maj. Wm. Preston, large landowner. (Yvonne Eaton "Historians Point The Way on Local Place Names" LCJ, 7/1/1984, P. H1:1-6, 5); Preston Highway followed fairly closely a "well-worn buffalo trail." (Neal Hammon "Early Lou. and the Beaggrass Stations" FILSON CLUB HIST. Q. Vol. 52 (2), 4/1978, Pp. 147-65, 152);
Wm. Preston represented Lou. in the Ky. House of Reps. 1850 and in the state Sen. 1851-3. (Collins II, P. 357

PROSPECT (Jeff. Co.): The Prospect Store, is a modern country store on US 42 nr. its jct. with Rose Is. Rd. This is the community's center. Part of the community extends into Oldham Co. It is 12 mi. from downtown Lou. The store is run by Joe Snowden & his mother, Martha. The post office is next door to the store. A no. of Jeff. Co's wealthiest business & professors live here. The community extends from a point c. 1 mi. s of Snowden's store where River Rd. "deadends at US 42. The bend in the 4-lane highway there is called Cropper's Curve after the Cropper Family that had land there. A small commercial complex has grown up at the curve." Between Cropper's Curve and the store are farms, small homes, and the Hunting Creek Country Club and a residential dev. next to it. Just n of Hunting Creek, Boy Scout Rd. (or Covered Bridge Rd.) joins US 42 from the e. In the 19 cent this rd. was the River Pike that extended to Brownsboro. Now it extends to the Scout Reservation in Oldham Co. Across the O. Co. line, c. ½ mi. n of the store, is a bank, 2 motels, rest., and other businesses, in a cluster. Before 1900, the community was called Sand Hill. The store is at the foot of the hill. The top of the hill is Greenwood, the estate of Mrs. W.E. Smith. Acc. to Geo. Keller, 64, a long term resident of Prospect, and caretaker of the estate, it was named for the "abundance" of sand there. The Lou. Harrods Creek & Westport RR Co. extended to Sand Hill in the 1870s and then stopped, never proceeding to Westport. "The story persists that rail workers found the end of the line a pleasant place to rest and thus changed the Sand Hill name to Prospect."
In the early 20 cent., the rr "shared its narrow gauge tracks with the Electric Interurban that ran betw. Lou. & Prospect." This line (extended) ended in 1935. In those days, the area was farming and the rr hauled freight...The old depot was across from the store..."The long high ridge overlooking the river, now populated by owners of a number of spacious homes, has helped contribute to Prospect's desirability as a place to settle." Pioneer settlers of the area= Philip Barbour, Wm. Trigg, John Locke, Andrew Steele, Thos. & Wm. Duerson....(Ward Sinclair & Harold Browning "Prospect is Where Millionaires Meet with Commoners"
PROSPECT (Jefferson Co., Ky): "Tho' this 5th class city extends along a 2½ mi stretch of US 42 from the Oldham Co. line, it is centered at its po at the jct. of US 42 and Rose I. Rd., 11 (air) mi ne of downtown Lou. This pt. was once the terminus of the now defunct Lou. Harrod Creek and Westport (later L&N) RR. The sta. is said to have been named in the late 1870s when the rr was almost completed to what was, till then, aptly known as Sand Hill. Either someone admired the view from the hilltop, or the prospect of completing the line was then in question. (It never did reach Westport). The local po of Wilhoyte, est. on 2/15/1886, with A.C. Wilhoyte, pm, was renamed Prospect the following month." (Book-P. 244);
PROSPECT (Jeff. Co.): c. mid 1890s, a narrow gauge rr, the Lou. Harrods Creek & Westport stopped at what was then called Sand Hill, aptly named, c. 2 mi. inland from Gaulva's Landing, nr. Twelve Mi. Is. The river could be viewed from the top of S.H. and apparently someone admired its prospect. Acc. to some, tho, the name originated with the est. of the po.... ("Prospect" No. 11 of series "Salubrious Suburbia" by Hewitt Taylor, LOU. HERAL POST, 10/21/1936); po. est. as Wilkoyte, 2/15/1886; A.C. Wilkoyte; nch. to Prospect, 3/23/86, Allen M. Wilkoyte ... (NA)
PROSPECT (Jeff. Co.): c. mid 1890s it consisted of po and Garnett Dick's store. Trolley line pass. sta. there later. Had a bank too at the p.o. site. By 1959, at Cropper's Curve (where Upper River Rd. meets US42), 3/4 mi. from store & po, was an auto rep. shop & fil. sta., drugstore, and whiskey store. Cropper's Curve is considered a part of Prospect as is a section along US 42 in Oldham Co., c. 2 mi. from C.C. where there are 2 restaurants, bank, motel, and fil. sta..... (Tom Wallace, "Planned Growth is Changing the Face of Prospect" LOU. TIMES, 8/14/1959);
PROSPECT (Jefferson Co.): On the Oldham Co. line. A settlement there as early as 1888. Named when the rr was almost completed thru there. A worker is said to have commented on the "prospect" of completing the line. (Harry P. Hoskins, WPA ms); apo (1993); Prospect is now a 4th cl. city with a 1990 pop. of 2788; The Wilhoytes were originally from Alsace and were among Va's. Germanna colony settlers. Descendants settled in Jeff. Co. They came from Culpeper Co., Va. in 1808. Later to Oldham Co. Jacob Evans Wilhoyte ca. early CW built his home at 8610 Westover Dr., Prospect. (Leslee F. Keys, ed. HIST'C. JEFF. CO. Jeff. Co. Hist'c. Preservation & Archives, 1992, P. 82);
PROSPECT (Jeff. Co.): Earlier called Sand Hill, the terminus of the Lou. & Interurban RR and (earlier) the Lou., Harrods Creek & Westport Ry. (Elmer G. Sulzer, GHOST RAILROAD OF KY. Indianapolis, 1967, P. 93); Settled 1783 by Virginians. "It is said to have rec'd. its name about 60 years ago, when the narrow guage rr, which was being built along the river, seemed a long time in reaching the community." (KY. A GUIDE TO THE BLUEGRASS STATE, Fed. Writers Proj. of WPA, Ky. c1939, U.Ky. reprinted NY: Hastings Hse., 1954, P. 340);
PROSPECT (Jefferson Co., Ky): Acc. to A.C. Wilhoyte, no date, but ca. 3/1886, this po was 2½ mi ne of Harrods Creek po, 1 mi s of Ohio R., 2½ mi sw of Harrods Creek (stream), 40 yrd. from the depot on the Lou. Harrods Creek & Westport RR. || Acc. to F.M. Hoagland, 4/1914, the po was 3/4 mi from the co. lin || Acc. to Garnett S. Dick, 7/25/1939, the po was ½ mi from co. line, 30 ft n of US 42, 10 mi ne of Lou. po. || Acc. to T. Harold Skaggs, 3/17/1943, the po wa 6/10 mi from the co. line, 20 ft. e of US 42. (SLR);
PROSPECT (Jefferson Co., Ky): In c. in 1974. The town is centered at the Prospect store, which was built in 1911 on the NE corner of US 42 and Covered Bridge Rd. It closed ca. 1987 and the site is now occupied by a gas sta. and food mart. This town center is east of the inc. part of town. The interurban ended here too. (Kay Stewart in LCJ and repro. in A PLACE IN TIME, 1989, Pp. 98-9):
RABBITS BURROW (Jefferson Co.): "Somewhere in the vic. of Fern Creek. The name was the result of some whimsical wag, traveling thru this section. The wag said he had passed through a section where children darted into their homes like rabbits into their holes at the first signs of the approach of a stranger. No one will admit he lives there, yet no one will deny the existence of the locality. Fern Creek is a stream a little more than a mile north of the village site, named for the beautiful ferns growing on its banks." (M. Lac WPA, 2/5/1941);
RIVER VIEW (Jefferson Co., Ky): Vic. was so called at least by the late 1830s when the projected L&N Tpk. reached this point. A short distance below Kosmosdale, very close to the river. (S.G. Boyd, "The Lou. and Nas Tpke" REG. Vol. 24, 5/1926, Pp. 163-74, 165); Acc. to 1896 Gaz. this place had a pop. of 75. W.C. Applegate had a gro. W.H. Steele had gen. store, and Robt. Stowers was a wagonmaker; River View was probably named for "the wide open view (travelers) had of the river (there).":

ST. MATTHEWS (Jefferson Co.): Formerly called Gilman's Point, the junct. of 5 roads, 1 mi. e of Lou. on the Shelbyville Pike. Settled 1840 b. Dan'l. Gilman who came from Lou. He est. a tavern and store at what he considered a good site to tap thru traffic and local trade. He "dispensed liquors on the side and (held) cock fights" for 30-40 yrs. Sometime after he arr., a church (Epi) was est. and called St. Matthews after the saint. Some people thought this sounded like a better name for a po than Gilman's Pt. Before WWII, this place was famed as center of rich farm area and a shipping pt. for Irish potatoes. (M. Ladd, WPA, 12/19/1940);
ST. MATTHEWS (Jefferson Co., Ky.)

Orig. called Gilman's Point for Daniel Gilman who owned a store and lived at the five roads intersection. N-ch. for an Episcop. church located there. (RR South, "Our Sta. Names" L&N MAG., 1/1950, P. 16).

ST. MATTHEWS (Jeff. Co.): ("Saint Matthew's")

Didn't know it as Gilman's Pt., only as Gilman, which was the name of the precinct (cf to 1879 Atlas). ("Gilman's Pt."). Named for St. Matthew's Epi. Chu. (cf the Bishop of the Epi. Diocese of Lou, on 2nd St. who has info. on all churches in the County.) St. M. Chu. was discontinued then re-est. since WWII. Never heard of Lynnford. The Gilman name is no longer in use; no one today would know what we meant if we mentioned this name. (Blaine Guthrie, interview, 4/4/1978);
St. Matthews (Jefferson Co., Ky): The Point, at the jct. of Chenoweth Lane-Breckenridge Lane, Westport Rd. and Frankfort Ave-Shelbyville Rd., was St. Matthews' orig. busi. dist. and was in that section annexed by Lou. in 1958. It's thus not now a part of the inc. St. Matthews. Gilman's Tavern was in the Y made by Westport & Shelbyv. Rds. (Gayle Cutler Pressman in LCJ, repro. in A PLACE IN TIME, 1989, Pp. 104-07):

SAXONY (Jefferson Co., Ky): (late Doup's Point) And this was still its local name. The po was ½ mi n of Beargrass Creek, 3½ mi nw of Buechel po, 4½ mi se of Lou. po, 2 mi ne of Minoma po, on the n side of the ET Va. & Ga. RR, 4 mi from Newburg po, and 3 mi from Hikes Pt. po. On the Taylorsville Pike. (Acc. to Frank E. Schmuck, 9/28/1991) (SLR); Doup's Point was named for Geo. Doup, the 1st owner of the area around the jct. of Taylorsv. & Bardst. Rds. ("Our Town's a Group of Tiny Towns" LCJ, date & pag.-?); Geo. Doup acquired land in the Jeffersont. area ca. 1799. (Jobson, 1977, P. 112); He was a Jeffersont. trustee in 1808. (Ibid., P. 238); In Lou. city limits now. Its the sect. s of Cherokee Point. Named for Geo. Doup, early owner. (WPA);
SEATONVILLE (Jefferson Co., Ky): Named for Geo. Seaton near the com. on 4/3/1781 and died 7/6/1835. An early mag. Radham Seaton was family's Ky. prog. To Jeff. Co. from Va. He may have been George's bro. (?) (OHIO FALLS CITIES, Vol. 2, Pp. 9-10); Acc. to 1883-4 Gaz., Malott had a Chr. chy. and a steam-power flour mill. Pop. 35. M.A. Malott was pm and storekeeper. Wm. A. Mathis was a wagonmaker. H. Mill & Sons ran the flour & saw mill; Acc. to 1896 Gaz., Adolph Mueller ran gen. store; Hiram Malott lived in Jeff. Co. ca. 1807. He was of Huguenot descent and was ne 5/29/1775 and died 6/7/1838. Michael A. Malott was his grandson. Michael was ne 11/17/1848 and was the son of Benj. F. Malott (ne 5/13/1811) who was son of Hiram. In 1840 Hiram's widow, Mary had 350 acres on Fern Cr. and 3 lots in Jeffersontown. Hiram settled in Jeff. Co. 10-16 mi se of Lou. in 1797; Acc. to early Jeff. Co. records, Theodore & Elias Malott were bros. Elias died in 1837. Elias' wife was Christiana. Their sons were Elijah, Hiram, & Wm.
SEATONVILLE (Jefferson Co., Ky): Once a "prosperous booming vil." ca. 1900 when it had a pop of 75, 2 stores, several saw & grist mills, sch., a farm trad. ctr. By the mid 1970s all the old bldgs. were gone. The town died by the 1930s. Farms closed--only a $\frac{1}{2}$ doz remain. Some brick homes for commuters have replaced them. Expect more suburbanization, even "rapid dev't." with the completion of the Jeff. Freeway. (Mike Wines, "A Farmer Feels at Home in Seatonville" LCJ, 9/6/1970-?) ;
SENeca GARDENS (Jeff. Co.): (pron. "S(eh)n/ə/kə Gh(ab)/r/dənз") Nr. Seneca Park. Very substantial neighborhood more or less surrounded by Lou. (Blaine Guthrie, interview, 4/4/1978);
SEVENOAKS (Jeff. Co, Ky): "A development located facing the Jeff. Freeway entrance from LaGrange Rd. in the eastern suburbs of Lou. The public knows it simply as Sevenoaks, one word. There is no particular reason why we chose to call it Sevenoaks. Perhaps there was a cluster of 7 oak trees prominently on the property. I simply do not remember. We began development in 1973-74 and there were various uses of what was originally a rather large farm, including rental apts., single family homesites and about 50 condominium units." (Paul Semonin, Jr., the developer, in letter to me, 2/27/1987).
SHIPPINGPORT (Jefferson Co.): Inc. as Campbelltown in 1785. Before 1806 n.ch. to Shippin­ port and inc. in that name in 1829. (Helen F. Randolph, WPA); Portland was laid off in 1814 by prop. Wm. Lytle. Inc. 1834. (Ibid.); Before 1830 S'port "was the bustling, commercial nerve center of L'ville. Before 1830, when the 1st canal was dug, the land was a part of what is now the city of L'ville. It was at this pt.

death blow for the town of S'port. The metr env. changed to more of a suburban lifestyle. The town shrank in size and eventually died.... In 1874 the Corps of Eng. took control of the locks. The hydroelectric dam and more locks were added in 1930...." At one time a 200 ft. canal separated the is. from the mainland; later expanded to 500 ft. Now S'port Is. is 116 acre "spit of land off the shoreline of w. L'ville, est. by and for barge navigation and electric power....(..."Shippingport: AN Island Facing Change" by David Ross Stevens, CJ&T, 8/24/1975, P. D6:1-6); SHIPPINGPORT (Jefferson Co., Ky): Two early 19 cent. towns that were at first indep. of Lou. but were late inc. into their larger neighbor. This was on the 200C acre Campbell land and was thus first called Campbellton when it was est. in 1785. It was located between the rapids (falls) and the Portland Canal. Assumed its name on or before 1806 "from its situation favoring the transshipment of freight from that pt. around the falls on the Ky. shore" prior to the construction of the canal. With the latter the name "lost its significance." The 1882 flood destroyed many of its bldgs. Several homes had been built at Campbellton in 1785. Surveyed and platted in 1804 by Woodrough. Lots were sold (streets named.....) That yr. the rest of th tract was bought by M. Berthond (sic) for whom the survey and plat were done. In 1806 much of the land was acquired by the Tarascons. Peak of pop. in 1830 (606) just before the completion of the canal. With the latter came the decline of Ship. Inc. 1829 and annexed by Lou. (HIST. OF OHIO FALLS CO'S. Vol. 1, Pp. 356-8); Acc. to McMurtrie (1819), Ship. was a mi below (w of) Lou., at the foot of the rapids. It headed at the old Mouth of Beargrass. Town's orig. area was 45 acres. Enlarged. Natural harbor made it a major port for that area. "At head of navigation of the lower Ohio." Lou. was at the "foot of the upper one." (Ibid.); SHIPPINGPORT (Jeff. Co.): Est. by Va. 1785, as Anonymous, later called Campbellstown for its orig. owner, Col. John Campbell. (Littel Vol. 3, P. 554 and Collins' HIST. Vol. 2, P. 364); Acc. to Casseday's 1852 map Shippingport was at the lower end of the island separated from Portland by the canal. It was then nw of Lou. and e of Portland; Campbellstown was inc. ca. 1785. Sometime before 1806 it became Shippingport and was inc. as such in 1829. It was betw. the falls and the canal. Now a part of Lou. (Collins II, P. 356); Named for Col. John Campbell. In 1803 he sold 45 acres of it to James Berthou, who, in turn, deeded most of it in 1806 to the Tarascon Bros., Frenchmen. Pop. of 606 in 1830. At the head of navigation of the lower Ohio R. for most of the yr. (Collins II, P. 364); Col. Campbell was the name source of Campbell Co., Ky. too. (Ibid., P. 369); This was below the falls. [Check: did Berthoud sell it to the Tarscons or did Campbell sell part to Berthoud in 1803 and the rest to Louis A. Tarascon & his bro.]; In ca. 1830 Ship. & Portland together had ca. 1000 pop. Ship. was "doomed by the canal around the Falls and by rival Portland". It became a "depressed" neighborhood before the CW and home to cement mills using local limestone rock. (Geo. H. Yater TWO HUNDRED YRS. AT THE FALLS OF THE OHIO: A HIST. OF LOU. & JEFF. CO. Lou, 1979, Pp. 55-7); SHIPPINGPORT (Jefferson Co., Ky): Now a "grassy plain" around a basin used by the US Corps of Eng.' repair fleet. In 1803 the Tarascon Bros. (Louis and Jean Antoine with Jas. Berthoud) were attracted by the deep harbor in 45 acres for shipbuilding business. The site was discovered and purchased for the bros. who built wharf, shipyard, rope works. Settlement began in 1806. By 1820 had 500 pop. Became the river port for the Salt R. area. Mill built there by the bros. in 1815 and operated 1819+. With the completion of the canal in 1830, and the 1832 flood, S's. commercial (raison d'etre) declined and residents moved to Lou. & Portland. Since 1927 a large dam & hydro-electric plant built by the Lou. Gas & Elect. Co. Canal was widened in 1959. Island now unine. (Nathalie Taft Andrews in KY. ENCY. P. 819); SHIPPINGPORT (Jefferson Co.): Only a few cabins, inc. in 1785 with no name by an act of Va. Leg. Was given the name Campbelltown for the owner of the land, Col. John Campbell who sold the site, 45 acres, in 1803, to Jas. Berthoud who, in turn, in 1806, "conveyed" most of it to the Tarascon bros. from France, Louis and John? Located at the head of navigation on the lower Ohio R. Below Lou. The Lou. & Portland Canal completed 1830-1. Renamed for its site at the head of navigation. (Collins, Vol. 2, cited by M. Ladd, WPA, 1941 po est. as Shippingport, 12/27/1831, Salas C. Conklin... to Portland, 10/9/39, Geo. F. Pope... Disc. 8/23/1870 (NA);
SHIPPINGPORT (Jefferson Co.): "As early as 1784 the demand for this transfer service had given rise to the town of Shippingport....Goods were debarked and carted overland past the rapids to Towhead Is. above the Falls, and there placed aboard boats for the upper river journey. The same transfer of cargo took place, except for periods of high water, with goods moving downstream." (Hugh J. Hughes, WPA ms. for Lou. Writers Guide; Hughes was Historian, Writers' Proj., Louisv., Ky. 7/27/1937);
SHIPPINGPORT (Jefferson Co., Ky): ca. 1975: at the lower end = McAlpine Dam & Locks & Lou. Gas & Elect. Co's. power plant. The island stretches from 9th to 30th Streets, separated by 500 ft. wide canal from the w end of downtown Lou. Most of the island is undeveloped. Efforts to developing it for yrs. have been discouraged by env. groups. For much of the last 150 yrs. it was subject to at least partial flooding. (David Ross Stevens, "Shippingport: An Island Facing Change" LCJ&T, 8/24/1975, P. D6:1-6); Shippingport was est. in 1819 (P&G); SHIPPINGPORT (Jefferson Co., Ky): The site was sold by Col. John Campbell in 1803 to Jas. Berthoud who, in 1806, sold most of it to fellow Frenchmen, the bros. John A. and Louis Tarascon. The town that was founded there soon became an import river port. The lower port of debarkation for cargoes to be transferred to land carriers which took them "to the mouth of Beargrass for reshipment." (Perrin, 1887, P. 294); The Tarascons built a flour mill there (1815-9); SHIVELY (Jeff. Co.): (pron. "Sh(eye) (ah)v lee") Named for local landowning family. 4th class city and indep. of Lou. cf 1879 Atlas. At that time, it was served by the Pleasure Ridge PO. Econ. base=Old Fitzgerald Distil. & other local distilleries. (Blaine Guthrie, interview, 4/4/1978); In 1964 it was considered Ky's fastest growing city. Reasons for its growth: accessible to all sections of the co. Dixie Hiway=main thoroughfare. S. is only 3 m: from Lou's CBD. SHIVELY (Jeff. Co.): Named for Christian Shively who settled there c.1810. For years known as both St. Helens and Shively. St. Helen's Cath. Chu. est. 1897 was focus of commu. and gave it its name. PO est. (that yr) and named for its 1st settler. In 1938, inc. as Shively tho' residents preferred St. Helens but Lee Co. community of that name. Mill Creek named for Shively's mill still "meanders thru the town". This mill and John Jones' tanyard were the commu's economic bases in 19th cent. Truck gardening=major economic base in late 19th cent. The est. of the chu. and the Interurban began to give a non-agri. identity to the area. Thru the early 1930s the area continued to provide the Lou. area with (farm-produce) fresh vegetables. With the end of prohibition came the beginning of another source of economic support for the community--the founding of distilleries. Homes built on truck farms. Distil. attracted to the vic. by abundance of (well-water)springs. Centers on Dixie Hi-way and Seventh St. Rd. "Mushrooming subdivisions"....(David W. Hacker, "Settler Threw Down Park Sack in 1810, and Later Shively Arose" LOU. TIMES, 6/18/1957);
SHIVELY (Jefferson Co., Ky): "This 4th cl. city with epo is centered at the jct. of US 31W/60, 7th St. Rd and Crums Lane, 5 (air) mi ssw of downtown Lou. Here Jacob and Christian Wm. SHIVELY (Jeff. Co.): Used to be called St. Helen's ("Sant H(eh)l(ə)n") Named for the St. Helen Cath. Chu. Local people still know the St. Helen name because of the Bank of St. Helen (active until recently). (Blaine Guthrie, interview, 4/4/1978); In 5/1938, the city of Shively was est. in the area lst calle St. Helens just sw of Lou. Shively was inc. at the request of local distillers "to prevent annexation by Lou. (This was) a device to maintain independence rather than to provide services." In 3/1938 a bill was enacted by th Ky. G.A. to prevent a lst cl. city from annexing smaller cities. This was the impetus to incorporation by a no. of smaller commu's. in Jeff. Co.
SHIVELY (Jefferson Co., Ky): St. Helens (Cath.) Chu. at Shively was completed in 1898. On 18th & Dixie Highway, at jct. with Crums Lane. ca.1900 the commu. centered at the jct. of 18th St. Rd. and 7th St. Rd. and Crums Lane. "In my copy of G.A.R. Sporting Guide to Louisville (1896), there is a pencilled word on the pages describing Green Street houses, 'Happy Town.' The late Otto A. Rothert once told me that this was the Hancock area on old Louisville and that he knew of no special name for the Green Street area." (Lawrence S. Thompson, review of OLD KENTUCKY COUNTRY by Clark McMeekin in KFR, Vol. 4, 1958, Pp. 29-30, ft. #1, P. 30)
Taylor-Dorsey-Owings House on Brownsboro Rd. on part of 1000 acre mil. survey. Patented to Jas. Taylor, Sr. He gave 800 acres to Jas. Jr. in 1797. They had come to Jeff. Co. from Orange Co., Va. ca. 1798. Jr. was still living there by 1807. The house may have been built by him. Began selling the land in 1814. Or it may have been built by Johnsa Dorsey or Isaac Owings who owned the site before 1827. (SURVEY OF HIST'C. SITES, 1981, P. 128);
The Louisville Harrods Creek and Westport Railway tracks reached Goose Creek in 1874, 7 3/4 mi from the First St. Term. in downtown Lou. It reached Sand Hill in the summer of 1877. The Ry. became RR in 1878. It was purchased by the LCL Ry. on 6/23/1880 and that, in turn, was acquired by the L&N on 6/1/1881. Prospect is 11.2 mi. from the Lou. station (1903). (Pp. 93-5). The Goose Creek Sta. was on the n. side of that creek while the Florida Heights (aka Lime Kiln) sta. was on the s. side of the creek and sw of Goose Creek sta. Fla. Hts. was 0.3 rail mi. ne of Glenview sta. (Pp. 99) (Sulzer GHOST RR);
Due to the Louisy. Harrods Creek and Westport Ry, commuter communities developed along the line on land that had previously been summer homes for wealthy Lou. families. (Leslee F. Keys, edit. HIST'C JEFF. CO., Jeff. Co. Hist'c. Preservation and Archives, 1992, P. xvi);
Another decision made was to omit etymology.... Though folk etymologies, if provided by informants, is included. (Cameron, thesis pp. 3-5).
