Dry Weather Slows Sales In Tobacco Mart

Rowan Burley Is High Grade Leaf Running Above Average Price

WEED QUOTATIONS HIGH

Although Rowan County is not generally considered among the best of the burley producing sections of Kentucky, it can and does raise better than the average leaf.

This fact is substantiated by the average received by farmers from this county who sold last year on the market at Lexington, Lexington's warehouses handled 88,150 pounds of Rowan county tobacco, and got for its growth an average of $11.82, nearly $1 per hundred more than the average for the entire belt, which was $10.46.

Figures compiled from Lexington's 24 warehouses show the market for tobacco from 71 Kentucky counties last season, as well as from Arkansas, Alabama, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, Kansas, and even the Dominion of Canada.

The burley sales this season will get under way next week, the first sale being scheduled to open at Lexington Monday, December 3. All other markets will open the following day.

Receipts on all markets have been light this fall, due to the dry weather which retarded handling of the leaf. Because of this farmers who are anxious to get their tobacco money before Christmas are advised to take their tobacco to market at the first opportunity, since a heavy rain in the middle of the season may result in a lower price.

The volume of leaf on the Lexington tobacco market for the opening sales—Dec. 3 will be the same as last year.

About Town With The "NEWS"

DON'T FORGET THE SALES TAX

The following story is contributed by a rather reliable source. Last Sunday morning a Morehead man who stutters called the residence of the Police Judge. "The Judge is not in. Is there any message?" was the reply. "N-n-no, b-b-but tell t-t-the j-j-judge that I j-j-just h-h-heard t-t-that he had o-o-our r-r-representative in t-t-the j-j-jail. T-t-tell him t-t-to be a-s-s-ertive t-to t-t-tack on the s-s-sales tax when he t-t-f-fines him."

MONEYED BUSINESS

"We like to do business with Morehead People," an out-of-town merchant told us the other day. "In the first place they seem to know good quality merchandise, and know that we are not misrepresenting our stock to them," he continued. He finished by saying, "The again they have the money. The whole situation can be summed up in those last six words."

THE FREE NEWS

If the News published all the "stuff" that comes on the desk each week, it would be a forty page paper instead of eight and twelve. Everybody is seeking something free, and when it comes to publicity the newspaper is their first thought.

We appreciate notices of general local interest, but after all the news papers run on advertising. It is about one third as cheap to print twelve pages as it is forty, consequently the turn down on the free things. A newspaper is about the only thing in the world that is not seeking something for nothing.

ROWAN COUNTY SCHOOLS TO CLOSE FOR HOLIDAYS

The Morehead, Haldeman, Elliottville and Farmer Consolidated Schools will be dismissed Wednesday afternoon and will not re-convene until Monday for the Thanksgiving Holidays. All rural schools of the county will have only Thursday off.

The Morehead State Teachers College allows only Thursday, while Breckinridge Training School is dismissed both Thursday and Friday.

MASONS READY FOR INITIATION ON FRIDAY NITE

Three Will Be Taken Through Third Degree; Many To Attend

Morehead Lodge No. 654, F. and A. M. will be hosts to what is expected to be the largest gathering of Masons ever held in Eastern Kentucky, when members of the fraternity from lodges in all parts of this section will be present to witness the initiation of three candidates for the third degree, on Friday, November 30, at 7:00 o'clock.

According to the plans of the local lodge the meeting will be held in the gymnasium at the public school, in order to accommodate the large number of guests. A special room for the initiatory work will be in charge of the degree team from Winchester, in full regalia.

Invitations have been sent to the Grand Officers of the state lodges, and many have signified their intention of being present. Among these are the following: Herbert Henderson, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky; J. M.

Mrs. Stewart Is Honored

The December issue of the American magazine carried a full page portrait of Cora Wilson Stewart, of Morehead and Washington, and former Superintendent of Rowan County Schools. Cora Wilson Stewart was the founder of the famed "Moonlight" Schools which had their beginning in Rowan County.

Under the caption, "Mountaineer" appearing in the colored section of the magazine, the American has the following compliment to pay the nationally known Morehead woman.

"Twenty two years ago she was a voice in the wilderness of a few riven country county in the Kentucky mountains—this

"Lady By Choice" At The College

"Lady By Choice," co-featuring Carole Lombard and Mary Robson, with Roger Pryor and Walter Connolly in support, will present a program bill at the College Theatre Friday Nov. 30.

The new Columbia film presents Miss Lombard in the role of a gorgeous young fan dancer and Miss Robson as a drolletic gin-bound who spends most of her spare time before the bar—facing a judge. Briefly, "Lady By Choice" tells the story of the two women, far different in appearance and station but really sisters under the skin. The short subjects at the College Theatre are always well selected. This week's program has the beautiful girl-sailor combination of eye attraction and comedy called "Hello Sailor," intimate views of "Movie Stars" and their doings, is given in Hollywood Gad-about and "The Fox News" is new and up to date. Get wise to the show coming December 7-8. It is one of the big ones of the year. It is a drama of Russian life from Tolstoy's famous classic "Resurrection."

LET US GIVE THANKS

Thanksgiving: Once again we come to that season of the year wherein we pause to render thanks unto Almighty God for spiritual and temporal blessings received.

Thanksgiving Day in our country had its beginning more than three centuries ago, when at the gathering of the first harvest in the new world, the Pilgrims met to render unto God their thanks for the blessings of liberty and prosperity. This service was observed annually for some years, then it lapsed into disuse. During the American Revolution this day was revived. After a few years it again lapsed into disuse. Later President Lincoln issued a proclamation calling for its national observance. It has been observed annually ever since.

Turn back the hands on the clock of time twelve months. Ring down the curtain on the future! With our faces backward and our eyes piercing into the experience of the past year we cry aloud, "For what may we be thankful?" The answer comes in the language of the Psalmist "Jehovah hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

SHAWN SHOWS SCHOOL CLOSED "EAGLE DANCE" AT HALDEMAN

The Haldeman Consolidated School was closed ordered for a week on Monday to prevent possible spread of a scarlet fever epidemic.

Several cases of scarlet fever are being treated at Haldeman, the Health Department reported. Although the present stage of the epidemic was not considered dangerous, it was deemed advisable to close the school and take no chances.

Unless there is a further outbreak the school will resume next Monday. Only three days of schoolwork will be lost, as Thursday and Friday would have been Thanksgiving Holidays in the Consolidated School of the County.

RECOVERS STOLEN GOODS

Sheriff Mori May said this morning that part of the merchandise stolen from Shroy's Store in Sharp'sburg Sunday night, was found floating in the Licking River at Farmers. Officers believe that the robbers bridge the goods over the Farmers bridge which crosses Licking River.

Principal D. D. Caudill Talks On Subject Before Teachers

D. D. Caudill, principal of the Morehead High School, announced this week that he is working out a plan whereby the high school students at Morehead High and at the other high schools in the county will begin a campaign to wipe out illiteracy in Rowan County. Mr. Caudill announced his plans at the Consolidated Teachers Meeting last week. He said that this idea was in no sense original with him, as it had long ago been in 1912, been advanced by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart when she began her now world-famed Moonlight Schools.

There are many unfortunate in the County today, as there were in 1912, who have been deprived for various reasons of the privilege to even learn to write and read their names. Now, as many of them have passed the school age and will never attend a school again, they will have had this opportunity.

Y.M.C.A. Meets Here Dec. 7-9

The Morehead State Teachers College will be hosts to the State Y. M. C. A. Conference which will meet here December 7 to 9, inclusive. George Bailey, Morehead student, will preside at the meeting.

A fellowship dinner and organization meeting, with Sam Beckley, Eastern State Teachers College, Richmond, presiding will officially open the convention on Friday evening, December 7th. Dr. Ralph A. Herring, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Ashland, will deliver the principal address on the subject, "Changing Conditions and Churchless Christ," at this session. Dr. John Howard Payne, president of Morehead College will give the closing address.

Cozy Feature Is "Student Tour"

Let the public pick the stars! With this as its motivating thought, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios have struck a daring new idea in "Student Tour," merry musical burlesqueness which plays Wed. and Thurs. Nov. 28 and 29 at the Cow Theatre.

From every section of the United States, and even from England and Canada, the studios have unusual beauty and talent, and present them as college co-eds in this truthful story of modern hot-chai college life.

For most of the girls, this is a first experience before the cameras. Others have worked in minor parts. The story deals with a round the world cruise made by the college athletes and their lovely co-ed girlfriends. It is lavishly sprinkled with new music by Brown and Freed, including the sensational "Carle," new dance rhythm sweeping the ball-rooms of the world. Charles F. Riesner, who has piloted some of the greatest comedies that ever came out of Hollywood, is the director.

State Plans To Pour Concrete On Main Street

Cement Mixing To Start Next Week According To Engineers

EXCAVATION HAS BEGUN

It may be several weeks now, but when it happens the folks doing business along main street will be glad it happened. For, several weeks from now, they will be able to look out in front of their places of business, and seeing a really wide and serviceable avenue winding its way with traffic uncongested, and plenty of parking spaces for cars.

Progress is really being made on the construction of the new Main street through Morehead, although at present it may seem slow. The preliminary work is going forward, and according to Mr. Warwick, and this being the supervising engineer in charge of the superintending, actual pouring of the concrete should begin within a week's time. This should also occupy about a week and then follows a period of waiting for it to set and be ready for use. Altogether, it is estimated the block under construction should be ready for service in four or five weeks.

Warwick and the construction company rather lean toward conservative estimates. They believe that it is better to overestimate the length of time than to underestimate it, and thus bring disappointment.

When the block is finished it will serve as an idea of what the state highway commission and the federal government are doing for Morehead. The street itself will be forty six feet wide with a six inch curb on each side making the total width forty seven feet. The plans call for a complete sub-drainage system which will entirely eliminate the present surface drainage.

This drainage system will include a storm sewer of sufficient size to carry away all overflow and drainage. Three catch basins are being constructed into which drainage tile will empty all sub-surface drain water in the block.

This drainage system is expected to be completed by the close of this week, when the pouring of concrete will begin. According to the engineers, the center slab of twenty feet will be poured first, with thirteen foot slabs on each side to be poured after the center is finished. Six inch curbs on each side will then be built.

One of the worst features of the present pavement has been the poor drainage system that has been entirely inadequate to care for the water. As a consequence, the water seepage has gathered and stagnated making the entire block both unsightly and unsanitary. This

Help Fight Tuberculosis The Morehead Woman's Club will start a drive Thursday to urge you to combat tuberculosis in Kentucky with the sale of Christmas Seals. The money derived from the sale of these seals is the only finance that the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association has to fight this disease. Mrs. F. ON THANKSGIVING

The holiday season has its official opening Thursday with Thanksgiving. In compliance with formal custom Governor Ruby Laffon has set aside this day, by proclamation, as a holiday.

This year there will be few people who will not have meat on their tables on Thanksgiving Day. Fortunately they are better able to afford than in the past two or three years.

For a year now, the turkeys have been getting plump, cranberries have ripened, the potatoes have been dug. Much as the Pilgrims did so will Thanksgiving feasters enjoy the fruit of honest effort on this, another Thanksgiving Day.

THE NEW RURAL ROUTE

Announcement of a new rural mail route in Rowan County marks the beginning of a forward step in the county's progress. For years we have needed roads; they have been given us. Our schools are being consolidated. Now our local mail system is being grouped into a unit of better and quicker service.

Reliable information has been received that other routes will follow. No longer are the rural sections isolated.

DR. PAYNE RETURNS

Moreheadians and people all over the state received the announcement joyfully that Dr. J. H. Payne has returned to his desk as President of Morehead College.

Dr. Payne's illness, although of not long duration threw a cog into the working machinery at the college. He has his fingers on all the problems of the school and has ably kept the education machinery in smooth condition.

FIRES DECREASE

The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that the total estimated fire loss for the first nine months of this year was $251,405,000. For the same period last year the loss was $245,351,000, almost $32,000,000 more.

That decrease, of approximately 15 per cent, in fire waste is good news. But it doesn't give us cause to pat ourselves on the back and praise our care, caution and competence. The fact that over two hundred million dollars worth went up in smoke in nine months amounts to a national disgrace. Americans are still the most wasteful of all peoples when it comes to fire — and by a wide margin.

What caused the destruction of the two hundred million and, in addition, many hundreds of irreplaceable lives? The answer is easy. People took chances with old or damaged heating plants. They allowed rubbish to accumulate. They stored inflammable liquids in open containers, or near a source of flame. They allowed electric wiring to go unattended, or repaired it themselves. They tossed cigarettes and matches away blindly, letting them fall where they might. They allowed grass to grow jungle-like on property. And they did a thousand and one similar things that are close to the heart of the fire demon.

If the present trend continues, total fire loss for the year will be in the neighborhood of $285,000,000. Almost every dollar of that waste can be laid to someone's carelessness or ignorance, the unpreventable fire is a very rare indeed. Are you going to do your small part to make 1935 a better record.

RHEA MAY ANNOUNCE

The political writers of the daily papers of Sunday had articles to the effect that Hon. Thos. S. Rhea, of Russellville, at present a member of the State Highway Commission, would in the near future announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor. While a man with an unquestioned strong following, the impression prevails among many Democrats that the fact that the Southwestern section of the State already has both of the United States Senators will effect Mr. Rhea's chances, as there is a feeling in Democratic ranks that one end of the State should not ask for all of the most important elective offices. The names of other gentlemen who are mentioned as possible seekers of the Democratic nomination for Governor are J. C. W. Beckham, of Louisville; Fred M. Vinson, of Ashland; Frederic A. Wallis Bourbonn; Attorney General Bailey P. Wootton Hazard; A. J. May, Pikeville; former Senator George B. Martin, Catlettsburg; John Young Brown, Lexington; Henry S. Caywood, Bourbonn, and several others. After the first of January we expect announcements for the Democratic nomination for all State Officers to be rapidly made. Sentinel-Democratic.

How's Business?

HERE AND EVERYWHERE

Farmers, especially those who sell tobacco are being extended more credit this year than they have for some time past. The reason for this credit extension is not so much confidence in the farmer as it is in the tobacco markets. Tobacco should bring much better price this year. The tobacco market throughout Kentucky will be opening within a few days now. Because of the government tobacco contracts there will be less weed on the floor, but the farmers ought to be satisfied with the better price in addition to what they receive from the government for signing the contract.

Railroads throughout the nation have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow them to increase rates slightly on several commodities. Experts believe that the ICC will allow the increased rates. They point out that the railroad has higher production costs, over which they have no control, than they did a year ago.

Government ownership and control of railroads has been a controversial question for several years. The government apparently has taken a good stand in the matter. They control the railroads, but do not own them. It is nice to control anything, but yet not have to invest any capital in it.

A year ago men were starving to death. Today they are striking. It seems to be a great American tribute to always be dissatisfied. In some industries workers have de-paid five years ago. It is a forgone mandated wage almost equal to that conclusion, that there is neither the market or the price to be had that there was in 1929. No doubt there are times when the strikers are justified but these are others when they don't value the company that gives them employment enough to be loyal through a business experiment. The laboring man today is fortunate that he can provide his family with the necessities of life. The luxuries of the twenties are long time off.

The property owner in Morehead has a miniature gold mine.

Nowhere in the state are our knowledge, are the rents higher than they are in this town.

As you drive through other towns here are many houses decaying and oppressively empty. In Morehead there is not one house today that is not tenanted.

A four or five room cottage rents for $25 to $30. In many cities the same buildings could be rented for $10. The man that owns the $10 house pays more taxes and has a larger investment.

Real estate prices here are high and still mounting. It was the same all during the depression. It is simply a question of more people than there are houses.

Upon a simple but vital principle rests the future economic security of the nation, in the opinion of Paul Shoup, Vice Chairman of the Southern Pacific Railroad. In his words, "Industry must make money. Then will follow the creation of wealth, its conversion into capital, and its use in greater variety and volume of business activities than has existed heretofore."

It has become something of a popular sport these days to denounce the so-called "profit motive" on the grounds that its existence is inimical to humanitarian principles and the welfare of the people. But the lesson of history tells a very different story. Not until profit appears did civilization as we know it begin. Profit makes jobs. Profit stimulates science and invention. Profit puts money to work where it creates more money, and more jobs. Profit, in brief, makes progress.

The last few years have shown us what profitless business means to a nation.

MAYOR'S APPROVE PLAN OF P. W. A. WORK

A huge public works programme proposed for all the unemployed was laid on the Government doorstep Saturday by the U. S. Conference of Mayors.

The chiefs of ninety six big cities pledged co-operation with President Roosevelt and asked Congress to enlarge the scope of its housing and slum clearance undertakings and to advance loans to the municipalities at low interest to speed local improvements.

Resolutions containing their plan were adopted unanimously and Mayor Daniel W. Hoan of Milwaukee, Wis., newly elected president of the organization, announced the American Municipal Association with members in thirty three states had agreed to support the program.

MERCHANTS PLAN LARGEST SALE OF CHRISTMAS GOODS

Merchants from coast to coast are anticipating the largest Christmas trade since 1931, the National Retail Dry Goods Association reported tonight, asserting December sales are expected to show an increase of 11 per cent over 1933 and 21.5 per cent above 1932.

The association estimates were based on a survey of its 5,000 member department and specialty stores and thirty states are represented.

Should this upswing extend to all lines, the organization's statisticians figured, retail sales during December would be about four and one half billion dollars. The association previously estimated that 354,000 extra workers would be employed by retailers to handle the Christmas rush.

Realization of the anticipated totals, the survey showed, was predicted on prevalence of favorable weather. The December sales total was estimated as most equivalent to 1931 results. More than 2,300,000 individual items would be sold.

INSULT AND ASSOCIATES ARE ACQUITTED OF ONE CHARGE

In two hours and two minutes deliberation today, twelve federal court jurors shattered the government's charges of a $100,000,000 mail fraud against Samuel Insull and his 16 business associates with a verdict of acquittal at Chicago.

Between lunch time and the dinner hour, the voluminous case, against the ruler of a one time two billion dollar utility system was put into the hands of a jury and decided in his favor.

Jubilant at the speed of the verdict, Insull exclaimed:

"That is the start of my vindication. The jury's decision, read in a hushed courtroom by Foreman John D. Lent, came with a rapidity startling to defense attorneys and prosecutors alike."

ITALY JUMPS INTO STRIFE IN BALKAN COUNTRY

Italy jumped into the middle of the Balkan battle over international terrorism this week, lining up with Hungary in demanding immediate investigation of Yugoslav charge linking Hungary with the Marseilles murders.

A complaint Yugoslavia failed with the League of Nations this week alleged Hungarian complicity in the assassination of the Slav King, Alexander, last month, and charged Hungary harbored terrorists.

A nation cannot remain under accusations so grave as those advanced against Hungary by the Serb memorial, an official foreign office communique said.

ROBBERS GET $1000 IN IOWA ROBBERY SATURDAY

Two robbers about 25 years of age held up and robbed the Orange City National Bank at Orange City, Iowa of $1,000 in cash early Saturday. They escaped in an automobile driven by a man named B. H. Van Hosen, cashier, and John Roghstar, assistant cashier, and two customers to hold up their hands. They took all cash in sight.

THREE SMALL GIRLS ARE MURDERED IN PENNSYLVANIA

Two woodmen stumbled upon the bodies of three golden haired girls huddled in death on South Mountain near Carlisle, Penn.

A physician said his examination indicated one of the girls had been attacked.

Completely mystified, police began a nation wide check-up of missing children. A police sergeant expressed a suspicion they were slain, saying he found marks on their throats. The face of the oldest one had turned a bluish tint.

Coroner E. A. Haegre, advancing theories other than his belief that they were sisters and were placed there last night, estimated the age of the oldest at 15 to 16 years, the second as 10 to 11 and the youngest ten to eight.

GANGSTER IS JAILED AFTER BEING RELEASED ON BOND

Joseph Baitsa, alias Marmino, former convict who prosecutors claim was ringleader of a gang which swindled a Chicago bank and planned the looting of a downtown insurance company and purchase of an Indianapolis bank, was back in a police cell tonight at Chicago.

Released on bond of $10,000 on a theft charge, Baitsa was re-arrested Assistant State's Attorney Vernon Thompson said he would ask that Baitsa be held on $25,000 bond on a conspiracy charge.

Meanwhile a search for Guyave Lindquist, president of the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance Firm of Springfield, was extended into several states.

Jackie Gibbons Is Returned Home

Little Jackie Gibbons, four year old, of Lexington who was kidnapped last Thursday was returned to his parents in Lexington, Ky., Sunday by Federal Officers. Lou Gibbons, 20 year old-blond, is being held on a charge of kidnaping.

Officers said she appeared mentally deranged and was very fond of children. This fondness is believed to have led her to get Jackie to accompany her on a hitchhiking trip through Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia.

Jackie was returned by detectives from Chattanooga. "Hi daddy, did you come down to meet me?" shouted Jackie as he ran down the station platform toward his father, John Lawrence Gibbons, Northern States Contracting Company employe.

"Hello Jackie," Gibbons replied. "I'm home on that big train," Jackie shouted happily.

"My boy, my boy," His mother sobbed as she came up. Jackie had gotten off the length of the train away from his parents.

Mrs. Gibbons held her son tightly in her arms. He has been missing since last Thursday afternoon. He was found yesterday. The Gibbons girl admitted he accompanied her from Lexington to Tennessee. She claimed she intended "to take him back home after awhile."

Sergeant Embury and the boy had a berth from Chattanooga. Embury said Jackie was willing to go to bed last night. He wanted to stay up and look out of the window.

When he did go to sleep it was not for long. Before dawn he was up asking questions.

How long will it be before we get home? "I want to see my mother and daddy."

All during the short drive home Jackie chattered about his experiences. Back in his own setting room he was eager to continue.

"What was the name of the girl you were with?" his father asked. "Bernice Gibbons," Jackie answered. Was she nice to you? O yes. She was awful nice. Did she snuggle up to Mrs. Gibbons to look up the questioning. No, mam.

Did she tell you stories? Oh, yes, mam. Lots of stories. And did you get a lot of rides? Lots of rides.

Jackie liked every bit of his trip and thought it was a grand time.

The girl kidnapper tolled him off with promises of candy and ice cream; officers said.

TOBACCO MARKET

(Continued From Page One) smallest seen for the initial auction in recent years unless there is wet weather early this week. Although there was rain in most sections of central Kentucky Thursday, it did not provide an ideal tobacco-handling season. Coming after weeks of dry weather, the rain quickly was absorbed by the earth and did not create the damp condition needed to bring tobacco in good case. Also, it was followed by cool weather.

While the rain last week was a help and enabled growers to do some stripping and to deliver small quantities to market, the wet season was not of sufficient duration to bring about the desired results. Several growers who had stripped some leaf early in the season delivered small loads to local houses Friday and Saturday. They had been wanting to deliver it sooner, but the tobacco was too dry to handle.

ADULT EDUCATION

(Continued From Page One) In speaking to the teachers on this subject Mr. Caudill said, There is no more opportune place than in this county to start such a campaign. The county in which the idea of adult education was born and heralded as one of the greatest humanitarian moves ever attempted should be the county to continue such a move. No greater memorial could be built to Rowan county's benefactor than that composed of honest mountain people who have dedicated themselves to the idea of an intelligent citizenship. Many students at the high school have expressed their willingness to engage in this type of work. They have turned in the names of neighbors and friends who cannot read or write, and each one of them will be assigned to one of these individuals and work with him as long as is considered necessary. The students will be instructed in the teaching procedure by Mrs. Mabel Alfrey, Mrs. Virginia Christian, primary teachers at the school, and Mr. Caudill.

TED SHAWN

(Continued From Page One) gram next deals with another basic dance theme, labor. The 500-foot motif follows, while the fourth group is concerned with the dance as play. Last is the dance as an art form, a group which, although renditions through the medium of the dance of themes first expressed in music, are in themselves complete artistic creations and not merely interpretations.

This program is of special interest to music lovers, for fully half of the dances are of music especially composed by Jess Meeker, pianist for the group, working in collaboration with Shawn. Music dances are literally created together. The program itself resembles the movements of an orchestral symphony. The dances beginning with the incantations of savage tribes continuing up to man's use of modern machinery. Not only are these dances constructed like the movements of an orchestral symphony, but they also abound in solo passages like those of a concerto for a solo violin or piano with orchestral accompaniment.

The high light of the program is Mr. Shawn's solo rendition of the "Hound of Heaven". In this number, a dance form of Francis Thompson's mystic poem, he has accomplished one of the most difficult feats of dance composition, the translation into another medium of a universal theme, a translation which never sinks to the level of pantomime.

with the progress that has been made. Speaking of Main street, old timers will remember about nine years ago when the present street was laid. They will remember the pride with which they surveyed the street, and the thrill of pleasure when they were finally able to ride over it. At that time it was believed to be of ample width to serve for years to come. The fact that it became inadequate within such a short space of years, is one of the most outstanding proofs of the growth and progress of Morehead. The old main streets of most towns of the same size or even larger cities. In fact, Morehead, as a town, is probably the best paved town if it is size in this or any other state.

County Schools

A project is being worked out to carry on the improvement of several rural school buildings. The works of this project will consist of ceiling 3 or 4 school buildings, repairing roofs, remodeling seats, etc.

The school house at Open Fork was broken into Saturday night, and the window sashes were broken out. A court of inquiry is being held by the county judge in an attempt to find the guilty party. The court of inquiry was requested by the County Superintendent.

Instead of having a general teachers meeting this month it has been divided into two sections. The Consolidated school teachers will meet Saturday to discuss their common problems, and the Rural school teachers will meet in the near future.

The Clearfield School is planning for a Thanksgiving program. New permanent record cards have been purchased for the high schools and are being made out so that accurate records can be kept.

County Superintendent Roy E. Cornette requests that the rural teachers take notice of the article concerning library books on page 6 of The Trail Blazer. Teachers may write library needs to Mr. Ralph Hudson, Art Department, Morehead State Teachers College.

Teachers Convene At Morehead High

The teachers of the four consolidated schools, Morehead, Haldeman, Elliottsville, and Farmers, met at the Morehead High School Saturday morning, November 24, at 9:00. County Superintendent Roy E. Cornette presiding.

The meeting was in the form of a round table discussion of the mutual problems of the four schools. The leading questions discussed were the New Visitation Program, the Library Improvement, the Health Conditions, and the Attendance Problem.

Principals Dennie D. Caudill and Frank Laughlin discussed the value of the new visitation program, in which our teachers are urged to visit and observe one another, as well as teachers outside the county. Certain days will be allowed each teacher during the year for such visitation.

Mrs. J. E. Caudill, chairman of the Rowan County Red Cross Roll Call, appeared before the teachers and urged them to become members of the organization. She also cited the value of this organization to the schools and children of the county in providing clothing and medical attention for them.

County Superintendent Roy E. Cornette complimented the consolidated schools on their high percentage of attendance for last month.

Principal Dennie D. Caudill outlined a plan by which high school students could be urged to carry on a campaign to stamp out illiteracy throughout the county.

County Superintendent Cornette stated that he expected to have at least one other separate meeting for the consolidated teachers during the school year.

MRS. CLAYPOOL IN CHAPEL

Mrs. Naomi Claypool, head of the department of Art, Morehead State Teachers College, was the convocation speaker Monday and delivered a lecture on "Art in Every Day Life." Mrs. Claypool's address was declared to be one of the best of the year at the college.

WOMAN'S DAY SERVICES

Last Sunday was Woman's Day at First Christian Church honoring the Woman's Missionary Society.

The special speaker was Miss Elizabeth Moody of India. She spoke at both church services and at the vesper service at the ballroom in the Breckinridge Training school auditorium. The special music at the church services was furnished by the male quartet consisting of Luster and Arthur Blair, Prof. Nickells and Murvill Blair.

Miss Moody delighted three large audiences. At the vesper and Brahm services at the church she was attired in a native high caste Indian dress. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Moody, Missionaries in the Central Provinces of India, she having been born in India. She is at present attending Transylvania College at Lexington. These missionaries are personal friends of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Fern. The church was so delighted with Miss Moody that many of the members expressed themselves as desiring to be of all help possible to her while she is in college here in America.

Sunday afternoon Miss Minish, one of the teachers at the college and a graduate of Transylvania, gave a tea in Miss Moody's honor. She spent Sunday night with Miss Grace Holliday in Allie Young Hall. The large audiences at the church and the college vesper service expressed themselves as desirous of having her in Morehead again.

Rev. H. G. Fern returned Friday from a few days business trip to Gratis, Ohio.

winter millions are listening to her over the radio, Cora Wilson Stewart founder of the Moonlight Schools, leads us against illiteracy. As director of National Illiteracy Crusade she has taught thousands of men and women how to read and write. Many in the mountains still sign their names with an x. To the microphone, for demonstration of her method, she brings a few of these. Teaches them how to write their names in thirty minutes. Born and bred in Rowan County, Kentucky. As first woman school Superintendent there, noticed that pupils parents couldn't write. So by Moonlight, over the rough roads, hundreds of mothers and fathers came to her for their first ABC. Now, at 55, she zips 'bout the country, lectures here, investigates there. But when she goes to Rowan County, she rides horseback through her mountains, stops to talk to some of her first pupils.

Do You Have Tuberculosis?

Have you signs of T. B. "Some of the early signs of lung tuberculosis, which is the form commonly seen in grown persons are: Fatigue (being tired) without cause that can be easily explained. Loss of weight and loss of "pep". Loss of appetite or symptoms commonly called "indigestion." Blood spitting or sputum that is streaked with blood.

These symptoms do not mean that one has tuberculosis, but any one of them is a warning signal. To find out whether they are caused by tuberculosis or something else it is necessary that a careful examination be made by the doctor. He will probably advise that an X-ray picture of the chest be made, for the X-ray is the best and surest instrument known to find disease in the lungs. Another test the doctor makes is known as the tuberculin test. This harmless test, usually done on the skin of the arm, shows whether or not there are tubercle bacilli in the body. It is used especially with children.

THE HOUSEHOLD CORNER

BY GERTRUDE LANGLEY

This year make the Thanksgiving dinner something to be thankful for...

Easy Thanksgiving menus are suggested by Inez S. Wilson, home economist.

SUGGESTED MENUS

Salted Appetizer. Crown Roast of Lamb with Sausage Stuffing. Mashed Potatoes. Carrots. Green Beans. Cranberry Relish. Mince Pie. Coffee Mints.

Sausage Stuffing

1-1/2 pound of fresh sausage meat, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 small onion, 1-1/2 cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons parsley, finely minced. Salt and pepper if needed.

Put bread crumbs in a big bowl. Add celery, parsley and onion, minced very fine. If the celery leaves are fresh, chop them with the stalks. Add the fresh sausage and blend thoroughly with other ingredients. Because the sausage is so well seasoned, neither salt or pepper is generally needed for this stuffing. Mix up and from 7 necessary. Pie light into crown and roast.

Fruit Cocktail. Roast Loin of Pork. Clove scented Applesauce. Sweet Potatoes. Buttered Brussels Sprouts. Turkey Stuffed Olives. Pumpkin Tarts. Coffee.

Roast Loin of Pork. You can choose a loin of pork of the desired size, this is a decided advantage when the family group is small, for it eliminates left overs...

That is, have the meat removed from the ends of the rib bones. Season the loin with salt and pepper, place in an open roasting pan so that the rib bones form a rack. In this position, the rib ends are down and will be kept moist by the drippings. Place the uncovered roast in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. Allow about thirty minutes per pound for roasting. Decorate the rib ends with paper frills to serve. The looking for something free.

tion will write a tax-payment warrant covering the balance represented on the warehouse ticket. He will make a notation on the allotment card showing the pounds covered by the warrant and the value of the tobacco.

A duplicate of the tax-payment warrant will be mailed to the collector agent in the county where the allotment card was issued. Duplicate tax-payment warrants will be returned to the farmer as cancelled checks return to the bank against which they were issued.

The data on the cancelled warrants will be recorded on a plaster marketing card which, at the close of the marketing season, will be checked and certified to by the committees and forwarded to Washington. This marketing card will be the basis of the second adjustment payment.

THE FARM AND HOME

Farmers in all parts of the state are saving valuable land by constructing terraces. Little cash outlay is necessary where a farmer does the work himself. Interested persons should see a county agent or write to the college for information. Before a commercial feed can be sold or offered for sale lawfully in Kentucky it must be registered in the Feed Control Department of the Experiment Station, and each bag be labeled with an official tag giving the manufacturer's guaranty.

Bleeding and cooling are important parts of dressing a chicken. Hanging it by its feet improves bleeding. Plunge into water of 125 to 128 degrees, pick off the feathers and dry. Kill and pluck. A chicken should be kept in water but no feed for 12 hours before killing.

By waiting until after heavy frosts, before pruning grape vines in the autumn and in the evening, withered and can be easily identified and removed. Pruning can be done any time in winter, but the wood should not be frozen when cut.

Pork sausage should be three-fourths lean and one fourth fat. Season at the rate of 3 level tablespoons of sage to each 6 pounds of ground meat.

Good depression dentifrices are being used in many homes. Baking soda alone or salt alone may be used, or a solution, made of two parts of soda to one part each of borax and salt mixture together. These dentifrices are effective for daily use, but not to correct mouth disorders.

HOG SLAUGHTERING

AND AAA CONTRACT. Some farmers have misunderstood certain features of the corn-hog adjustment contract dealing with the butchering of hogs, purchased from the University of Kentucky.

The contract places no limitation upon the use or sale of hogs produced in the base period, and therefore, hogs which were reported on the contract as to be sold may be sold, kept on the farm or butchered for home use without in any way affecting the contract.

The limitation in the contract deals with the number of hogs in excess of the hog allotment which farmers may produce this year, and states that this excess number shall not exceed the average number of those slaughtered, or kept for home slaughter during the past two years. It does not limit the number that may be butchered this year, if the farmer wishes to butcher some of his allotted hogs, purchased from older hogs carried over from the base period.

SOME CHANGES IN NEXT YEAR

CORN AND HOG PROGRAM. The corn-hog adjustment program of the AAA for next year calls for a production on the part of the contract signers of not more than 99 percent of the average corn acreage and number of hogs produced in 1932 and 1933, according to the college of Agriculture.

Payments next year will be $15 per head for the number of hogs retained and 35 cents a bushel for the estimated yield on the state land removed from production. Payments this year were $5 a head on the 1934 allotment, signers being permitted to produce 75 percent of their base period production; and 30 cents a bushel on the estimated amount of corn that might have been produced on the land not used. While 60 percent production this year was required 20 to 30 percent of the base period, the limit will be 10 to 20 percent next year. Unrestricted use will be permitted of land removed from corn production next year. It will be eligible for the contemplation of the corn loan program next fall. Growers who did not sign contracts this year will be eligible to sign next year.

Free Show At College Theatre

The Public is invited to a free showing of educational pictures at the College Theatre at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. The program will consist of four reels of the Chicago World's Fair scenes as caught by the cameraman of the Ford Motor Company, two reels of outstanding and a display of the most outstanding photographic effects that have come to the screen. It is called Rhapsody of Steel.

This year the association of Motion Picture Producers is trying an experiment in character education in which the college is cooperating. They are clipping from such outstanding films as Tom Sawyer the prime character building elements and presenting them as a means of character building. At this show you will see a reel from the Broken Lullaby, which has as its objective the stimulation of thought about the responsibility for war.

There will be some excellent vacation pictures stressing the joy of fishing.

SPORTS FANS CASTING EYES IN EAGLE CAMP

Teachers Look For Better Five Than Last Year

Loss Of Wooten And Combs May Hurt Chances Of Morehead Team

ROY CAUDILL IMPROVED

The sporting eyes of Morehead College and Eagle fans are casting about each afternoon at the gym, and look those, for the most part, are angling the Blue and Gold basketballs with mixed sentiment.

When it is all summed up, however, and we delve into last year's record books, it must be said that the loss of Combs and Wooten robbed the Eagles of possibly their two best players.

For four years I have watched Oakley Wooten play basketball, football and baseball in a Blue and Gold uniform.

A STELLAR GUARD

Oakley Wooten was a big man, a guard that was hard to move on defense, and fast enough when the Eagles had the ball to make him a dangerous threat.

In Wooten, the Morehead mentor, produced a basketball player which far surpassed the real worth. Sid Combs did the man he was guarding register many points while Oakley with an accurate long shot and an alert pick-up often led the team scoring and always got his share of points.

A dependable performance was possibly Wooten's major asset. In 1929 a Morehead basketball team stepped on the "just completed" Morehead College gymnasium, and Wooten was on that Eagle team and he has been on every Morehead varsity five since. Wooten's absence on the basketball team will prove akin to the loss of Clayton on the grid squad.

Combs Lauded
Reams of paper have been used to express the prowess of Pat Combs. He hails from the same "neck of the woods" as Wooten and is a great forward. Will the Eagles have the same high geared scoring machine without him? That is a controversial question with much to be written on both sides. Our guess is had Morehead will score more baskets in 1934 than they did in 1933.

There is some doubt whether Orsley, the other half of the Combs-Oakley combination, can travel at the same high speed with Paul off the team. Anyone who knows the temperament of the Ashland boy would say he will be better.

Brekenridge Wins From Flemingsburg

The Breckenridge Training School opened their basketball season Saturday afternoon by beating Flemingsburg High 12 to 6. Coach Holbrook's team broke on top and stayed there all the way in the defensive battle.

The Starting Lineup:
Morehead 12 pos-6 Flemingsburg
Raney LF Hart
Daugherty RF Hall
Black C McCourtney
Hogge LG McDonold
Fitch RG

prospects is Roy "Percy" Caudill, a Morehead product. I look for Percy to have a banner year. Here is a clear thinking, clean living youngster who takes his basketball seriously. Percy has spent hours during the past years practicing shooting, pivot work and getting in first class condition. Coach Downing is to be complimented on a "find" like Percy Caudill. He will be a most necessary cog as the Eagles grind out their basketball victories.

In the role of squad members, Parsley should not be omitted. He can play any position, and will be an understudy of Percy Caudill at the pivot post. There are several others out of the team who may prove a pleasant surprise.

Perhaps the stiffest battle for a position in the starting lineup is between Tommy Ryan of Maysville and Fred Caudill. Experience gives Ryan the edge, but if he loses his bearing the loss to Eagle fans can look for Caudill to shoot two to straightaway at forward.

Many Good Guards
Glancing over the possibilities for guards warrants a furtherance of the prediction of the team's potential defensive ruggedness.

"Doc" Adams, an Olive Hill product, ought to be at his peak. "Doc" Adams is in good condition now. He is a good scorer, and stubborn guard. Shuey is an extra threat with his long shots, but is only a sophomore and may have to be the more experienced men. Shuey will be in there lots of times when the victory path is strewn with hazards.

Frances and Johnson, both lettermen, will be dark horses, and are very likely choices. They make good

Teachers To Visit County Schools

At the regular November faculty meeting, Mr. Caudill announced that each teacher would be privileged by her teaching duties one or three days during the year in order that she may visit and observe in the schools of this county and in adjoining counties.

Miss Carolyn Turner and Miss Madeline Alderman, seniors in the High School, substituted for Miss Allen and Miss Blair last week.

This Column is very fortunate to boast a new head in this issue. Robert A. Alfrey. He is of the Department of Art at the Morehead State Teachers College, is the artist in this case and he seems to have included practically every sport from football to ice hockey.

Basketball teams of high schools in this section had better not covet Licking High in their calculations of pennant winners. Allie Holbrook has turned out a team up at the Carter County School that is much better than last year's team which was something more than "pretty fair." Allie doesn't have one or two high scorers on that Soldier team. They are all dangerous under the basket. Last year the Soldier team was not so sensational but they were steady.

Soldier would have won the Licking Valley Conference title had it not been for that being victims in the biggest long upset of the year. The Morehead Training School, who had not won a game, beat the Soldier lads on the unfamiliar College court. Soldier then, lost to Fleming in the deciding game for the championship. It was a bitter pill for Holbrook team, but they are coming back stronger than they were before.

A basketball game is truly an event up at Soldier. The entire populace turns out in the comparatively new gym to cheer the home team lads along. The general consensus of the town College will have a better basketball team this year than last when they almost won the state championship in tournament play. Because of the absence of Wooten and Combs it is generally conceded that the Eagles will not be as spectacular.

Eight Clubs Will Form Licking Valley Basketball Conference Again

Eight high schools in this section will comprise the Licking Valley Conference this year. Six schools have already announced affiliation with the loop, while negotiations are going on with three others.

The schools are charter members of the group are Morehead, Training School, Sandy Hook, Ewing, Hitchens, Grain, Soldier and Haldeman. Hahn, without a gym will not have a team this year, while there is at least the Breckenridge school has not given a definite answer regarding their membership this year.

Bethel High school has already made formal applications for membership, while Camargo and Frenchburg are being considered.

HALDEMAN DROPS 6-2 GAME TO OWINGSVILLE

An inexperienced Haldeman High School basketball team failed to score a field basket in their first game of the season and dropped a 6-2 decision to Owingsville. The match was played on the Haldeman court.

The Leopards did not resemble the high geared team of former years that made all the big boys falter, but with more practice, Lawrence Friley should have his team playing a better game.

Haldeman High School failed to score a field basket in their opening game last night and held their opponent, Owingsville, to 2. The score resembles that in baseball ending with Owingsville 6, Haldeman 2. It was a non-conference engagement for the Haldeman team, who are members of the Licking Valley group.

Chads That Hang On

Don't let them get away from you quickly. Transmute your business into a powerful unit. This is the only way to succeed. Complete details will be announced later.

ar as they possibly were in 1933. However, they appear a smoother organization.

The Eagles will be playing their second basketball season in the S. I. A. A. conference. They ably won their spurs last season.

In speaking of the prospects at Breckenridge and Morehead High Schools the word "undecided" fits pretty well. Neither Coach Riddle of Holbrook know just what they will have to work with, but they both should win some basketball games. There is a good spirit at both schools, and although the material is not as plentiful as it might be there are several good prospects.

Morehead High won the Little Eight basketball championship last year, but most of that team was lost by graduation. The Vikings will remain a team to beat in conference play, however.

The story in last week's issue of the news concerning the catching of rabbits with a spotlight has been used a lot of attention on Roland Armstrong from the big game hunters. This tale just about takes the prize. It is not only feasible but true, we are told.

Members of the Kentucky State Baseball League are already getting in shape for next year's play. Interest is hot all around the circuit. In Morehead, where the pennant has rested for two years, there is some talk of next year's nine. Championship to the Pirates seem to be about as plentiful as sunshine, no matter what measures other teams take. The answer is plenty of home talent and less imported stuff. Morehead domesticates their base ball players.

SPECIAL P. T. A. MEET TUESDAY

The Morehead High School P. T. A. Association will hold a special meeting on Tuesday, November 27, at 7:30 in the high school gym.

The regular business meeting could not be held on last Thursday evening, since few members braved the rain to attend.

On Tuesday night a pantomime "The Lamp Went Out" will be presented by the High School Dramatic Club.

Two projects, feeding the school children and a school Christmas Tree, will be discussed at this meeting.

MOVING PICTURE TO BE PLACED IN HIGH SCHOOL

The Morehead High School will install a moving picture machine before Christmas, announced Principal Dennis D. Caudill today.

Regular educational and interesting shows will be offered at a very small cost to the students. It is believed that this machine can easily furnish help. Complete details will be announced later.

Soldier Breezes By Ewing High 33-14

Ewing High School got off to the first start in the Licking Valley play with two loop matches last week. In the first they disposed of Bethel easily, but Allie Holbrook's Soldier High team proved too much for the Fleming lads. The game betwe will be counted as a conference victory for Ewing only if Belfrey is admitted to the conference at its next meeting next week.

In the Soldier-Ewing game, the Carter Countians jumped into a 14 to 1 lead the first quarter and increased it to 21-3 at the half. Ewing played better basketball the last half, but Soldier had already run up a comfortable margin for victory. It was Soldier's first game on the basis of this decisive win. Soldier rules the pre-season favorite, Ewing copped the flag in the last week of last year's season, while Soldier was runners up.
