Local Ministers Hold Services At CCC Camp In Clearfield

At the last quarterly meeting of the General Committee on Army and Navy Chaplains adopted the following resolution: "We record our unfeigned gratitude and appreciation to those clergymen who, living near the camps, have given voluntary services, and thru the oversight of the Chaplain have rendered a most valuable service. Without the thought of reward, these ministers of religion have offered themselves in measure of costly service to render that pastoral ministry to the young men of the camps. A survey has indicated that some chaplains have as many as twenty two ministers of religion offering voluntary service, and that the average for each camp is 14 clergymen. We record with pride the measure of that unselfish service, and express our gratitude for it. We urge ministers of parishes near camps to share that pastoral ministry under the guidance and direction of the Chaplain.

At C. C. Camp F 4 at Clearfield the Morehead clergy have rendered, excellent service. The Rev. Messrs Kasez, Moore and Fern have taken care of the religious in December 1933. The major portion in this camp since it opened of the service has been rendered by Rev. Messrs Kasez and Moore for the members of Protestant church members and the Rev. Fr. O'neila of Mt. Sterling for the Catholic church members. Under the present plan the Rev. Mr. Kasez Mr. Moore will take alternate week in the camp service.

Mekeles Weekly Features "Famous Musicians On Stamps"

An article by Lewis Henry Horton, head of the music department, with the title of "Famous Musicians on Stamps" was featured in the December 17 issue of Mekeles Weekly Stamp News. Postage stamps which honor famous musicians are described and illustrated in the article. Austria, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Hungary, and Poland are the countries which have issued one or more such stamps. Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Bruckner, Strauss, and Wolf appear on Austrian Stamps. "Only Beethoven of these seven was not born in Austria, while all seven died in Vienna." Smetana is honored by Czechoslovakia, and Bach and Beethoven, "the two greatest composers the world has yet known" are shown on German stamps. Liszt is seen on the Hungarian 20 filler stamp. Two famed pianists and composers, Chopin and Paderewski, appear on Polish stamps.

Mr. Horton suggests that an American series might be issued honoring such men as C. Foster, Edward Mac Dowell, "greatest of all American composers now living," and John Philip Sousa, the "March King". Interest in philately has become quite prominent in Morehead recently. Among the stamp collectors in addition to Mr. Horton, are Dean W. H. Vaughan, Miss Catherine Brant, Dr. Andrew Estrem, Miss Dorothy Henson, Charles L. Goff, county agent, W. L. Jayne of the Midland Trail Garage, Dr. H. Van Antwerp, and Ralph M. Hudson.

NIWATORI TO SPONSOR SHOW AT COZY THEATRE

Plans to sponsor a show at the Cozy Theatre, January 16 and 17, were completed at a meeting of the Niwatori Club in their club room in Allie Young Hall Friday evening January 4. They choose the production, "A Girl of the Limberlost" an adaptation of Gene Stratton Porter's best selling novel, by the same name, as the show they will sponsor. The proceeds from this show will be used by the Niwatori girls to decorate and beautify the parlor of Allie Young Hall.

Nat B. Sewell Sees Shortage Of Funds

"Income From Sales Tax Falling Short Of Legislature Estimate."

Headlines of the metropolitan press boomed a threat to Kentucky colleges last week when they stated that reports from Frankfort indicated a decided shortage of funds for the fiscal year. The gross receipts tax, from which the education appropriation was designed to be obtained by the last General Assembly, according to Nat. B. Sewell, State Inspector and Examiner, is falling far short of estimates. Eastern State Teachers College, Richmond, was severely rapped by Mr. Sewell, who charged that "salaries at Eastern for the present year have been increased on an average practically to the peak of 1931-1932, and corresponding increase in administrative and operative expenses have been made." The State Examiner suggested that the funds derived from the

Equalized Salary Bill Tested In Bell

School Teachers Would Receive More Than $18,000 Here.

Indications are that the Equalization of Salaries Bill, tested in Kentucky courts over a period of four years, will be decided finally. Bell county school teachers have filed suit in the Bell county Circuit court and it appears likely that the decision rendered in that court will be upheld by the court of Appeals when it is taken before the Frankfort jurists in the near future.

The last conflict over the bill, passed by the recent session of the General Assembly, came when the Honorable James E. Richmond, superintendent of public instruction, was refused the funds provided by legislative action on the grounds that the treasury department would be liable for the money. The act was held invalid by the courts in the past on the grounds that the state constitution states, funds for education must be appropriated on a per capita basis, and not according to needs as was attempted by the Equalization Bill.

The action of the Kentucky school teachers to establish a $12 per capita was thwarted in part by the legislature when it included the equalization payment in the appropriation for education. In the event that the courts decide that the act is unconstitutional, Kentucky will be operating on a $11.60 per capita.

In the event of the act being sustained, the money which amounts to approximately $500,000 (part of the original $700,000 having been paid) will be distributed without interest, which runs close to a hundred thousand dollars.

The debt was made in the school year of 1930-1931, when the Kentucky teachers failed to receive the state portion of their salaries for several months.

Mrs. Steve Hook spent the Christmas holidays in Augusta, Ky., guests of Mr. Hooks parents.

Miss Elsie Guiley of Portsmouth Ohio was a week-end guest in Fields Hall.

Miss Grace Corke visited in Morehead Wednesday of last week.

Mr. John McClothlin is principal of the Boyd County High School of Ashland, Ky.

Mr. John Nickell is attendance officer of Johnson county.

Miss Doris Penix is teaching school at Rosedale Ky.

Mr. Clyde Lewis is principal of the High School at Wrigley, Ky.

CONTROL yourself. Don't eat all your canned peaches, possibly with a dash of cream, as fast as you can get them out of the can. There are lots of other ways to eat them, many of which are even more delicious than the peaches all by themselves. In cocktails, for instance, in short cakes, in pies and puddings and a dozen other desserts.

To treat peaches right give them a chance to show how good they taste in some of these combinations. And, just in case you haven't your own list of peach recipes up your sleeve, or in your pet recipe book, here are some we have culled together.

Peach and Melon Cocktail: Cut sliced peach halves in even cubes and slice melon in balls. Arrange equal quantities of each in cocktail glasses. Over each serving sprinkle one tablespoon confectioner's sugar, one tablespoon peach syrup (from the can) and one teaspoon lemon juice. Just before serving, fill up glasses with ginger ale.

Peaches in Puddings: Delicious Peach Pudding: Drain the sliced peaches from a 14-oz. can, and spread half of them in the bottom of a well-greased baking dish. Sprinkle half a cup of brown sugar over them and then spread on the remaining peaches. Cream together one-half cup butter, three-fourths cup flour and one cup brown sugar, and spread over the top. Bake forty-five minutes in a moderate-375 degree-oven. Serve warm with whipped cream sweetened with four tablespoons confectioner's sugar. Serves six.

Cottage Cheese with Peach Sauce: Cream one-half cup butter and one cup sugar, and add one well-beaten egg. Add one cup milk alternately with two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, and one-fourth teaspoon salt; sifted together. Add one-half teaspoon lemon flavor and bake in a flat tin in a moderate-375 degree-oven for twenty-five minutes. Serve with canned sliced peaches, the juice of which has been slightly thickened with one teaspoon cornstarch. Serves twelve.

Peaches in Pies

We're going to tell you how to make a lot of the next recipe because it is so good. Here goes.

Stuffed Peach Pie: Sift six cups flour, one and one-half cups sugar and one-half teaspoon salt together. Rub out in two cups shortening. Add four beaten eggs and then four tablespoons cold milk. If the eggs are large and make the mixture too soft, omit some or all of the milk. Chill the pastry. Roll out like ordinary pie crust and fill pie tins. This ought to make four pastry shells.

Bake in a hot oven—500 degrees—ten minutes. Fill, when ready to use with the well-drained sliced peaches from four No. 2 1/2 cans. Sprinkle grated nutmeg over the top and cover with a quart of sweetened heavy whipped cream. The top pies should serve twenty-four persons.

If you are so foolish as to want only one pie, the ingredients should be one and a half cups flour, one-third cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half cup shortening, one egg, one tablespoon cold milk, one No. 2 1/2 can sliced peaches, grated nutmeg and one cup heavy cream.

You'll Long for This Shortcake

Peach Shortcake with Whipped Cream: Sift together one cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one tablespoon sugar and one-half teaspoon salt. Cut in two and a half tablespoons shortening. Add three-eighths cup diluted evaporated milk, put or roll out and cut in eight rounds. Put two rounds together with melted butter between. Bake about twelve minutes in a hot oven—450 degrees. Split open each put between and on top the contents of one pound can sliced peaches which have been gently stewed with two tablespoons sugar and one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon for a few minutes, and then cooled to lukewarm. Top with one-third cup whipped cream. Serves four.

Butter keeps best, tastes best and sells best when made from clean, fresh and sweet cream. This means the use of clean utensils, the milking of clean, healthy cows, and care to protect the cream from dirt and other combination following is product.

Improve the flock by using the vigorous cockerels from bred-to-day strains. The male birds should come from unrelated flocks as inbreeding tends to decrease hatchability. It is alright to exchange cockerels with neighbors or buy male birds from them, provided they will improve the flock.

To aid in removing the scurf, in scalding hogs, a heaping tablespoon full of lye should be added to each barrel of hot water. If lye cannot be had, a small quantity of wood ashes or a pound of quicklime may be substituted.

Oilcloth is sometimes used on the walls of kitchens. When applied tightly to smooth walls it is easily cleaned, sanitary and durable. Occasional varnishing prolongs its light, natural color in plain or life. It is usually wise to select a nearly plain effect.

In preparing pork for the table, effort should be made to cook it to the center of the piece without making the outside hard and dry. Moderate temperature is best, after the surface has been seared. It is not necessary nor desirable to add water.

The single-chamber septic tank is generally used for country home sewage systems, unless the amount of space for the disposal line is limited. The single-chamber tank is simple in construction and operation and costs less than the double-chamber system.

A breeding pen of 12 to 18 hens mated to a male bird of high production blood affords a good way to improve the poultry flock. The pen should be selected with care and separated from the rest of the flock at least three weeks before hatching eggs are to be saved.

The richness of cream is an important factor in churning. For best results it should be from 30 to 35 percent fat. If the cream is too thin it will not churn readily, while if it is too rich it will tend to stick to the sides of the churn and produce churning.

$15 Billion in Life Insurance Seen for 1935

PHILADELPHIA—Fifteen and a half billion dollars of life insurance will be sold in the United States in 1935, William A. Lavy, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company and a former president of the American Bankers Association, estimated today.

Mr. Lavy said, "The increased sales of last year are a reflection of the confidence of the public in the institution of life insurance inspired by the record of the life companies during the depression."

The companies in 1935, he said, paid $2,700,000,000 in life insurance benefits, or 100 percent of the amount of the policyholders' and beneficiaries' claims.

Mr. Lavy based his estimate on $15,500,000,000, a sum equal to approximately half the public debt of the United States, on an analysis compiled by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. They show that the public purchased $14,000,000,000 in new life insurance in 1934, representing an increase of 10 percent over the preceding year.

The increased sales of last year, Mr. Lavy said, reflect improvement in business and the still greater confidence of the public in the institution of life insurance inspired by the record of the life companies during the depression.

The companies in 1935, he said, paid $2,700,000,000 in life insurance benefits, or 100 percent of the amount of the policyholders' and beneficiaries' claims.

What Vocation Shall My Boy Choose?

By Morris Lawrence, Director, School of Chemistry, International Correspondence Schools.

We live in a changing world. Opportunities for success in the future will differ from those in the past. A young man's wise choice of his life work may do much to determine success or failure. How shall he choose?

A Career in Chemistry

PRIOR to the World War, European chemists were world leaders in the profession. In the manufacture of a vast number of synthetic products and in the production of various metals and alloys, the world acknowledged the supremacy of the European chemist.

With the outbreak of the War, American chemists were faced with the necessity of producing a great number of products that had hitherto been imported. The manner in which they met the situation has relieved us of the necessity of ever again depending upon Europe for most of these products. American chemists proved themselves equal to those of any other nation. Their success opened wide the door for ambitious young Americans with a bent toward the test tube and the laboratory.

Today three-fourths of all our manufacturing operations are dependent upon the skill and research of the chemist. The chemist has created a modern world of wonders far beyond the wildest imaginings of the ancient alchemist, but the future holds possibilities of equally amazing triumphs. Production of new power fuels, the manufacture of new synthetic products, the development of new by-products from the waste piles of industry, all await the successful conclusion of the chemist's research.

Far into the future chemistry should continue to offer a career of great promise to young men in this country. Technical training must, of course, be acquired; either by study in a university or technical school, or by study in spare time while working on the job. For those who choose the latter course, the obvious procedure is to seek a beginner's position in a plant manufacturing chemicals, paints and varnishes, or any of the other products in which chemistry plays an important part. Both courses have produced outstanding leaders in the profession.

Vance kept his eyes on the man, and stood up. He walked very deliberately to where Gamble sat...

Vance shrugged and turned away. Still he was here last night.

What's back of that remark? Markham demanded. How do you know Brisbane Coe was here last night?

Very simple: his ivory headed There was a momentary tense silence.

Vance like a man who had seen a malignant specter.

You, are you sure you saw the stick, sir? he stammered, with a hideous contortion of the face...

Who but Mr. Brisbane himself would bring that stick back to the house and hang it over a chair in the hall?

But, Mr. Vance, sir, the man persisted in an awed tone, he once reprimanded me for hanging it over a chair...

Less noisy, perhaps, than chucking it into a brass umbrella holder. Markham was leaning over the desk scowling at Vance.

What do you mean by that? he demanded. Vance lifted his eyes slowly...

By the stick in the lower hall, Sergeant. Couldn't a guy forget his stick?

Not Brisbane Coe, and certainly not in the circumstances.

What circumstances? cut in Markham. That's what I don't know exactly.

I began to see a method in all this seeming madness, and that stick downstairs stands out like some terrible and accusing error.

He stopped abruptly, and suddenly swinging about, went toward the door. I'll be back in a minute.

There's a possibility. He passed swiftly into the hall.

Heath looked disgustedly at Markham. If you ask me, he submitted surlily...

We've only got the guy's word, he jerked his thumb toward Gamble, that he took it with him in the first place.

Markham made no comment. Presently Vance returned to the room, smoking abstractedly.

Faculty And Students To Be Heard In Education Broadcast From Nashville

Morehead State Teachers College has been scheduled to broadcast over WSM, Nashville, Tennessee, Friday, March 1, at 9:30 p. m. CST, according to Miss Aimee Irene Moore, chairman of the broadcasting committee.

The broadcast is one of a series of programs being presented by teachers colleges under the auspices of the George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville. Beginning on October 18 with an address on the work of the teachers colleges by Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky and the association of teachers colleges, programs have been presented each succeeding Friday night since that date.

The committee, composed of the teachers, Dr. W. W. Wetter and Professor Marvin E. George in addition to Miss Moore, has not completed arrangements for the Morehead broadcast, according to the chairman.

The programs consist in general of music and speeches with a strong bearing on the educational field from the standpoint of the teachers colleges. Both students and faculty are eligible for participation in the broadcast and it is likely that both will go to Nashville for the initial appearance.

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1935

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

But most important of all it is especially designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a low-price car.

- 1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.
2. New location of seats by which the rear seat is moved forward, toward the center of the car—away from the rear axle and away from the bumps.
3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the springbase to 123 inches.

The result is Center-Poise—which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its
