DECREASING JAIL COSTS

The City of Morehead is apparently making a wise and economical move in building cells in the city hall instead of continuing to use the county jail.

Much of the money expended by the city—possibly as high as 30 percent has heretofore been spent for its drunks to stay in the county bastille. One dollar per day, per person is the charge.

A good example of just what it has been costing the city is the expense of Saturday night. Twenty six dollars was the total output Saturday night is always a good time for law breakers—especially imbibers of potent fluids—and this was an unusually good Saturday or bad, depending on which way you look at it. Nevertheless these new cells should mean a saving for the city for prisoners can certainly be fed at a cheaper rate than a dollar a day. They don't deserve much food, but judging from the number of times that some of our habitual drunks and sots get arrested they have been enjoying the bill-of-fare in the county cambouse.

Bread, water and beans is a good prisoners diet. It certainly contains more food value than liquor which some of them have been living on for years.

DO SPIDERS SEEK YOUR DOOR?

Whenever a merchant or a businessman queries the wisdom of newspaper advertising, I am reminded of the quaint story which is credited to Mark Twain. A subscriber of the paper of which Mark Twain was editor wrote to inquire the significance of a spider, which he had discovered in the fold of his paper. "It means neither good luck nor bad," remarked the humorist, in reply to the subscriber's letter. "The spider web merely in the paper to see which merchant in the town does not advertise, so that he might spin his web unhindered across his doorway."

While Mark Twain's remarks are probably merely a delightful fabrication, there are nevertheless at least eight sound business reasons why a progressive businessman cannot afford to disregard newspaper advertising:

1. Newspaper advertising cuts selling costs because it entitles no waste in locality of circulation. This cuts costs to the what is new and good to everyone simultaneously.

2. Newspaper reading is a universal habit. Newspaper advertising, therefore, reaches each day virtually all who buy, giving them the merchants news.

3. Newspaper advertising is the life blood of local trade because it touches all consumer sources in every community. It gives the national advertiser the same opportunity for complete consumer appeal in any locality, carrying news of consumer.

4. Newspaper advertising insures quick, thorough, and economical dealer distribution and dealer goodwill, because retailers are willing to sell products advertised direct to their own consumers. This insures freshness, newness and the best form to the consumer.

5. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to tell where their products may be bought. This eliminates time, trouble and waste of energy to the consumer.

6. Newspaper advertising can be started or stopped overnight, can be prepared between days to meet certain developments and to obtain immediate results. This gives consumers the latest news of late developments that may help them save money and are better served.

7. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to check advertising results and costs in every market they enter. This is an important element in keeping costs down and distribution at peak for manufacturers.

8. Newspaper advertising costs less money than any other kind, and brings results. Naturally, lower prices and distribution results.

The merchant or other business man who is not taking advantage of the opportunities offered by newspaper advertising to boost his business now, will still be facing readjustment problems when his competitors are back on a normal business plane. And the consumers cannot be well served by the non-advertiser for the reasons set above.

Appreciation From The Postmistress

After almost a year's service as Post Master I find that the receipts are increasing each month and that news and more mail is handled daily.

The amount of parcels and registered mail exceeds that of last year, while for 1934 a larger number of Season's Greetings were mailed than for any previous year. The receipts for 1933 were $10,235.41, while for 1934 they were $11,089.12, an increase of $855.71.

For a few days after the holidays our work was not so rushed, but since the College has opened we see a wonderful increase in business and are looking forward to an even more prosperous year in 1935.

I wish to express my appreciation to the citizens of Rowan County for their kind cooperation with the post office in our work.

Mattie M. Burns,
Post Master.

Direct Relief To Be Aboished, President Roosevelt Says In Address To Congress

People who have been on direct relief roles had better be getting ready to go to work and earn a living, the text of President Roosevelt's message to congress implies:

It was the way Roosevelt addressed himself to the relief question that caught main Capitol attention. States and communities in the future must take care of some 1,500,000 unemployables now on federal rolls, he said, before turning to the principles which will govern the "new" system to supplant FERA.

SHERIFF ATTENDS CRIME PARLEY; FOUR BREAK JAIL

Danville, Ill. — While Sheriff Harry George was in Springfield attending a crime conference, four men held in the county jail beat jailer Al Thornton into unconsciousness and made a successful dash to freedom. Officers began a search for Frank Montana, Joe Griskell, William Yoho and Hugh Collins.

Lindberghs Tell Of Kidnapping

Charles and Agne Lindbergh, parents of the kidnapped boy, whom Bruno Hauptmann is charged with kidnaping and killing, bravely told a tense and hushed courtroom the tragic story of their boy's empty crib.

First, for 45 minutes, the slight brown haired mother realized what the news of the day and night of March 1, 1932, when Baby Charles Augustus Lindbergh was stolen from Neo Saurdian Mountains home of his famous parents.

Once her eyes gleamed as though with tears, but she did not lose her composure, so, in low, clear tones, she said simply:

I looked hastily at the bed, and found it to be empty.

Then Hauptmann, the stolid, stolid carpenter, raised fixedly at the witness stand, Colonel Lindbergh added to the grim narrative. The boyish airman told of the quite evening and then of the frantic rush to the baby's nursery; of the empty bed and the sinister kidnap note on the window sill.

I saw the appearance of the room, the bed, and realized that something had gone wrong, he said.

SON OF PRESIDENT FINED

Orange Conn. — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of President Roosevelt, pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding and was fined $10 by Judge J. Woodruff.

Young Roosevelt, a sophomore at Harvard, said he was going to put his car away for the winter, and promised it would be a "long time" before he got into trouble with it again.

SLAYER OF TWO GIRLS GIVEN DEATH SENTENCE

Finestale, Va. — A mountain jury in this ancient Virginia county today Philip Jones, a negro, that he must die in the electric chair for the murder of two little girls near Clifton Forge and an attempt to ravish one of them.

It took the jury 55 minutes to decide the case after James counsel had completed his arguments for mercy on the grounds of insanity. Judge Benjamin T. Haden fixed March 11 as the execution date.

LAFFOON SAYS HE WILL AID IN PRESIDENT'S PLAN

Voicing 100 per cent with the policies of President Roosevelt as outlined in his session to the new congress, Gov. Ruby Laffoon unfolded a work relief program for Kentucky which he said, would assure work for every able-bodied man in the state and at the same time give us something permanent to show for the expenditure.

The president's message to the Seventy-fourth congress was lauded by the governor as a demonstration of great courage and great vision. Its recommendations would, he said, if carried out, be the greatest step towards recovery taken since the depression began.

I have always been in favor of getting away from the dole and putting men to work, the governor said. I think it is a crime to spend larger than the relief dole, but not so large as to encourage men to reject or quit previous jobs.

3. Projects should be undertaken on cleaning courts, percentage of direct labor can be used.

4. Preferences should be given projects which offer a reasonable expectation that the government will get its money back.

5. The projects should compete as little as possible with private enterprises.

Basketball Team Has Best Season; College Nine Second 1934 Athletic Record

As the old year rolls up his faded parchment scrolls, and with his hoary locks trailing in the dust paces into the wing and the new year with his cherubic face aglow, trips lightly onto the stage for a brief stay, let us take one last look at the records, inscribed on the scrolls by 1934.

The young Eagle that for the first time premed its wings and matched its progress, as a member of the S. I. A. A., against K. I. A. C., competition a year ago is a much sadder and wiser eagle today. Many were the troubles that threatened to overwhelm her and many were the obstacles strewn in her path, yet she surmounted them all and today is a stronger and wiser eagle.

BASKETBALL

Facing the hardest schedule ever attempted by the Eagle team, the young Eagle basketballers fought their way through fourteen games in the regular season, winning 10 and losing eight. During the season they defeated Centre twice and Union, Louisville, Transylvania and Georgetown once. They lost to Eastern twice, and to Union, Berea, University of Louisville, Transylvania and Murray once. Their outstanding feat was their showing in the K. I. A. C. tournament, at Louisville. They defeated Transylvania 39 to 24 in the first round of the tournament and lost to Western, later state champions, 32 to 30 in an overtime game.

BASEBALL

Although their record is somewhat less impressive than in former years, the 1934 edition of the eagle nine, after a slow start developed rapidly and by the latter part of the season was defeating all comers. They lost their first game 5 to 2 to Wesleyan but came back later and downed a strong University of Kentucky nine 10 to 9. In their first game with Eastern they struggled through twelve innings to a 6 to 6 tie when the game was called off on account of darkness, but lost a return engagement with the Maroons 11 to 6. In their final game Mac McCormick, the Eagle ace hurler, pitched a no-hit game as the Eagles swamped Wesleyan 9 to 1.

FOOTBALL

Hampered throughout the season by numerous injuries, the Eagle football team failed to win a game against K. I. A. C. competition. They redeemed this miserable showing in part, however, by a brilliant 13 to 12 victory over a strong East Tennessee Teachers team in the last game of the season.

They opened their schedule at Danville, Kentucky where a strong aggregation of Centre College overbilled them 47 to 0. In their first game at home they outscored a weak Rio Grande (Ohio) eleven 13 to 8. They lost to Union 15 to 8, to Transylvania 12 to 2 and to Eastern 7 to 0 on successive Saturdays. In their final game they defeated East Tennessee Teachers 13 to 12 in the best exhibition of football they turned in all year.

But, Stop! We have seen enough. Let us turn our faces with hope and courage of the new year, the future, and forget the fumbling of the past.

By Prof. H. C. Haggan, Head of Agricultural Department, M. S. T. C.

SECURING BETTER FERTILITY IN POULTRY FLOCKS

Egg production in the domestic fowl is a form of reproduction but there can be no reproduction unless the egg is fertilized. An egg is said to be fertile when there has been a union between the sperm and an ovum. An egg is infertile when for any reason this union has failed. Fertility in this article refers to the percent of eggs incubated which are fertile. It is calculated both for the male and female. In the case of a female, her fertility performance for a given season is found by dividing the total number of fertile eggs from the pen the heads (times 100) by the total number of eggs from that pen.

The poultryman, as well as the hatcheryman, is interested in fertility. The percent fertility obtained determines largely the value of the individual as a breeder or as a multiplier of the flock. Hatching season will soon be here. Eggs in large numbers will be used to restore the flocks for the coming year. Shall we continue to use male and female breeders that give low fertility season after season? Shall we continue to lose these eggs from the channels of trade and lessen the profits because of her fertility performance? Rowan County could easily handle more flocks of chickens than it now has. To build up these flocks some should start at the bottom and build up. The purpose of these articles is to bring to the attention of the poultry raiser some of the problems at hand and offer some suggestions how some of these may be remedied. It is true that opinions of various investigators differ on some particular problem but there is sufficient agreement to answer many of the perplexing problems confronting the poultryman relating to fertility.

Cause Of Poor Fertility

Poor fertility may be brought about by several factors acting singly or in combination. Some of the more common causes are as follows: Sterility or partial sterility on the part of the male, barrenness or partial barrenness on the part of the female, aversion or favoritism, on the part of the male, or a lack of the mating instinct in either sex. Any hen may lay infertile eggs occasionally. The majority of infertile eggs in the flock may be due to a small number of hens.

This may be the fault of either the male or the female. If it is due to favoritism or preferential matings, it will be necessary to mate the hen with another male.

Climate affects the mating of poultry to a marked degree. Matings are much less frequent during cold weather. Therefore, low fertility may be had early in the season while high fertility is secured later on when it warms up. Cold houses or damp cold quarters lowers fertility. A lack of sunshine reduces the percent of fertility. If this is the case, a good warm house properly located and permitting sunshine to enter in abundance, will largely take care of this. In other words, well selected stock carefully housed and fed, should result in good fertility. Rowan County needs more modern poultry houses and none should be constructed without first consulting the County Agricultural Agent or some other well known agency.

Often poor fertility is due to too long spurs on the male and these should be cut off to lessen the danger of tearing the female. The freezing of combs and wattles of the male has a tendency to lessen the number of matings and often cuts down matings for a period of eleven days. Some poultrymen cut off the combs of the male birds and especially those of the large comb type. This is usually done in the fall of the year. It is often done with old males that are declining in fertility.

Filthy houses and damp litter on the floor lessens fertility. The house should be kept free of lice and mites.

Time After Mating For The Appearance Of Fertile Eggs

Many investigators have made observations on the time after mating for the appearance of fertile eggs. Nicholas (1934) made a study of this and reports that it varied from 19-12 to 238 hours with an average of 66.24 hours. He also states that a fair percentage of fertile eggs is laid the day following mating. It seems to be a matter of the individual hen or that of the male, or both, as to the length of time required. While (1911) found that 50 percent fertility could be had by the third day after mating the male to the female. On the fourth day the percent rose to 70. After the 8th day 100 percent fertility was secured. In practice, it is well to wait three days to one week before saving the eggs for hatching after mating takes place. This depends upon the size of the pen or mating, the maturity of the male, and the time of the season.

The Number Of Fertile Eggs To Expect From A Single Mating

Nicholas (1934) found that the number of eggs to expect from a single mating varied from 1 to 14. The average number however from 58 successful matings was 6.46 eggs. Some of the birds stopped laying soon after mating and this had a tendency to lower the number. On the other hand Crew (1926) mentions that he secured fertile eggs 32 days from the hen after mating with the male bird. From the work of other investigators takes place. The question of cessation of fertility after mating is important and especially so, when another male is desired to be used with the same hen. In this event, three weeks should elapse between the mating of the first male and the mating of the second male to the same hen. This seems to be ample time to remove genetically all influence of the first male from the eggs.

It was also noticed that the bird laying the greatest number of eggs had a higher percent fertility. In other words, high egg production is accompanied by higher fertility. The number of females that can be mated with one male varies considerably. Breed, age, and the like, are influencing factors. The number will vary too with method of housing. White gives the following (Continued on Page Six)

The regular Friday show will be at the same time as heretofore. It is an entirely new program. The feature As Husbands Go presents Warner Baxter in one of his best shows. In it you have a triangle story that is really different. Instead of being "straight" triangle emotional situations most of the are real laugh provoking comedy. Popeye, The Sailor will appear on the Friday program. A group of sailors will sing songs of the sea in The Bounding Main. A nature study reel and the Fox News complete Friday's program.

JAIL BREAKS

As a measure of economy, the Morehead City Council this week ordered the immediate installation of two cells in the City Hall to take care of its prisoners. Heretofore, city prisoners have been placed in the county jail at an expense of one dollar a day, and the council figured that, by using their own jail, a saving of fifty percent of money could be effected.

Chief of Police J. H. Adams went to Covington the earlier part of the week and returned with the cells. They will be ready for occupation this week.

The installation of the cells mark a movement for them which started when the new council took office. Besides meaning a saving in dollars and cents, they will be more convenient for city officers.

DEWEY MIDDLETON ON COMMENTS SUICIDE

A coroner's jury gave a verdict of suicide in the death of Dewey Middleton, who died from a gunshot wound at the home of Walter Whit, 2 miles east of Morehead.

The jury concluded that Middleton killed himself by putting a .12 gauge shotgun over his head and pulling the trigger with the toe of his shoe. The gun had no trigger guard.

Neighbors said the Middleton appeared morbid at times and often threatened suicide. Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Clarence Smith of Ashland and an uncle.

Middleton was a paroled convict, being released from the penitentiary on March 18, 1934 after serving one year for the robbery of O & H Supply Company on Christy Creek.

It was the second suicide of a prisoner granted clemency in this county within a year, Clinton Poope took his life after being released from the penitentiary after serving less than two years of a twenty six year sentence.

MOREHEAD PLAYS MANY BASKETBALL GAMES

The Morehead High School appeared sluggish and unversed here Tuesday night as they were defeated by a good Soldier High basketball team 27 to 6. Soldier grabbed the lead at the outset, and Morehead allowed them to build it up as the game progressed.

Two other games were played in Morehead Tuesday. The Breckinridge Junior High School dropped an overtime decision to Paris Junior High School, who were state champions in their section last year. The score was 15-13, and the teams evenly matched. The large Morehead playing floor proved somewhat of a handicap for both teams. Breckinridge High had things their way and snowed Bethel under 24.5. Bethel failed to score until the last quarter when Morehead put in their substitutes.

Ramsey Hogge and Fitch were possibly best for Morehead. Each made six points.

STRIKE NOT SETTLED

Likelihood of a near settlement in the Haldeman brick strike appear remote today. L. P. Haldeman, has left for his home at Columbus, general manager of the company, and in their substitutes.

When two or three males are used in one mating, it is best to allow only one out at a time, keeping the others up on alternate days. This prevents fighting, insures better fertility, and gives the male a chance to hold up in weight by consuming sufficient grain running with the hens and this loss too much weight which lessens their vigor and vitality.

Inheritance Of Fertility

Fertility is not inherited, in order to secure maximum fertility the male and female breeders should be selected on the basis of physical vigor and the management of the breeding stock must be most efficient.

The fertility of a hen behaves as an individual characteristic with a far degree of constancy from year to year. There is a slight decline after the third year.

Male Birds Are Not Needed For Egg Production

There is no need of having male birds in the pens of breeders only when hatching eggs are desired. This will allow room for extra hens that will increase profit at no extra expense. The market desire infertile eggs for consumption and often pays a premium for same.

planned for the training school with prizes for the winners. A special training school column will appear in the paper.

A contest open to the student body with valuable prizes offered will be held in connection with the advertisements in the paper.

The circulation manager has announced that only a limited number of papers will be printed, compared to the size of the student body, so hat only those who have their nickels ready early on the day published will be sure of getting a copy. The staff is expecting many double ads from campus luminaries who find their names in the paper.

The publishing of a newspaper by the journalism class will be a feature of the course in journalism each semester.

Debate Club Plans Dr. N. C. Marsh To Tour Arkansas

Dr. A. Y. Loyd, sponsor and founder of the Loyd Debate Club, announced last week that the college team would participate in the Mid-South Debate Tournament at Conway, Arkansas, February 16 and 17. Two teams, consisting of four debaters, will make the trip according to Dr. Loyd, but as yet the teams have not been selected.

Resolved: That the Nation Should agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions, is the subject that will be used in the two day tournament. The series of matches will be sponsored jointly by the Hendricks College and Arkansas State Teachers College, both located at Conway. Dr. Loyd said, "I expect one of our teams to reach the finals of the tournament. The Morehead team is expected to participate in approximately ten matches during the two days and there is a possibility that the number may run to fifteen in the event that the locals are successful in the preliminary rounds.

Press Class To Publish Paper

Patrick Named Managing Editor; To Be Published January 14th.

The members of the college journalism class taught by Ralph M. Hudson will publish a four page newspaper on Monday, January 14. The staff will be: Mrs. Mary Patrick, managing editor; Martha Gene Smith, associate editor; Walter Franklin, news editor; Mrs. Mary Riley, feature editor; Eloise Redwine, society editor; Oscar Patrick, business manager; and Madge Ward, circulation manager.

The paper will feature a review of student activities of the first semester. What Morehead was like in the "gay nineties" which will be the subject of an illustrated feature article which is based on an old calendar (1894) recently unearthed. These and other features will be the paper a worthwhile souvenir for the students, recording the who, what, and when of school life during the first half of this school year. The latest gossip and a Who's Who of the campus will be found in another feature item. Up-to-the-minute campus news will of course have a prominent place in the paper. Half of the head will represent one person and the other half will represent another well known campus personality.

Vikings Vs. Boyd County High at Cannonsburg — 6:30
Breckinridge Vs. Soldier at Soldier — 7:30
- Saturday January 19th.
Ewing Vs. Breckinridge at College Gymnasium — 7:30

Of this number of good games the double offering of Morehead, Eastern and Eagle-Baby Maroon week is perhaps the most attractive card. It marks the renewal of a rivalry that dates back to Morehead's first college teams.

Morehead's rivalry has never won a basketball game from the Richmond school. This year, as in the past the Maroons will be the favorite.

There are many who are anxious to see just what Bill Scroggins can do in his first game with the C. C. C. team was hardly a breath-er. The Morehead and Eastern first year teams should bring out a real engagement.

Saturday's game with Transylvania and Monday's against Kentucky Wesleyan would not be overlooked for they should be hard fought matches.

The High School games do not carry the same color as the college big should attract interesting crowds. Both Breck and Morehead High are getting the feel of the courts and should stand greatly improved.

Kentucky Looks To New York U.

New York University Cave Men silenced "Baby Leroy" Edwards' Kentucky big scoring gun, in Madison Square Garden tonight to defeat the heretofore unbeaten Wildcats 23 to 22.

Apparently realizing that the big Kentucky center was the man to stop, the Violent Violets, and they lived up to their name Sat, did everything but saddle the brilliant Wildcat pivot man. Every minute Edwards was in the game, he was harassed by cowboy guarding that at times had him bewildered. Often when he broke for the basket, his opponents would ride him completely off the court.

New York University's success in halting the towering Kentuckian, however, would not have been enough had Lady Luck smiled just once at the Wildcats, for had the game been a minute shorter the Blue Grass fashsters would have won.

Kentucky led through nearly all of the second half and on into the last minute of the conflict. Then a Violet player registered an easy field goal when he recovered a ball which had bounced crazily away from one of the Wildcats, and tied

Eagles Drop Close Game By 38 to 34

The Union College Bulldogs have some kind of jinx on athletic teams of Morehead College. It ever a team was downright lucky it is Coach Bacon's Barboursville lads. Last year Morehead had admittedly the superior basketball team, and had Union 19-7 when Mouse Combs was clipped on the head and injured so badly that he was forced to leave the game. The Bulldogs took advantage of this break to win the game by one point.

Union College Monday night won a hard-fought basketball game from Morehead Teachers College after three overtime periods, 38 to 34. The lead changed 21 times during the game, and until the final goal there was never more than two points difference in the scores. Morehead was leading 17 to 16 at the half. The regular game time ended 28 to 28. Two additional periods ended at 32 to 32 before Union came through with the winning baskets.

In football the Eagles was a hundred percent superior but still Union managed a couple of very fortunate breaks and romped off with a 15-8 victory, to keep their record clean. Monday night the old Bacon lads stayed with Union, and they beat Morehead 38-34 in three overtime periods in a basketball game.

The game was Morehead's first in the state S. I. A. A. and Union's second victory in loop play. The Eagles previously had beaten Alfred Holbrook and the Alumni while the Bulldogs annexed four consecutive victories

High School basketball in Kentucky does not carry the finesse and power that it has in the past. The average present day high school team consists, for the most part, of boys around seventeen years old. In the past the ages ran around twenty years. That accounts for the inferior quality of present day High School and prep school teams. Fans are quick to take note of the situation and the large crowds that formerly turned out to see the high school play are now going out to witness college games.

X - Vikings Win Three, Lose One

Three victories and one defeat were registered by the Ex Vikings a group of former Morehead High stars, during the holidays. The Ex-Vikings had an easy time disposing of Breckinridge High of the Morehead High School team but met sterner opposition from Soldier.

The Carter Countians won the first game but the Morehead team came back to take the return game. Scores of all Ex-Viking games to date will be found in the schedules appearing on this page.

The Crimson Tide from the University of Alabama won the Rose Bowl game on New Year's day in much the same style that we predicted. A great passing game put the "Bama hopes over after Stanford came through with a running attack that more than matched Alabama on the ground.

SOLDIER WINS 44 - 19

It was Alabama's third victory in four Rose Bowl games. In 1923 they did the next best thing to winning, by routing Stanford 7-7. The Tide has been without equal in Rose Bowl play.

Soldier High School registered their most impressive victory of the season by beating Hitches High 44-19. Soldier led through and although Coach Holbrook substituted freely the Panthers refused to let up in point making. Especially was Soldier adept at working the ball in for set-up shots.

Grayson, Soldier, Russell and Olive Hill Look Good In 14th. Region Play

High School and scholastic basketball will get under heavy steam with the coming of the new year which marks the time that coaches begin to cast their appraising and for the most part, pessimistic eyes toward the District, Regional and State Tournament.

especially impressive, Breck has some boys who will be eligible the second semester who may put the "Baby Eaglets" right up to the top in this section of Kentucky.

On paper the schools in this section that stand the best opportunity of getting through the season with something better than a "fair to middling" record are Grayson, Olive Hill, Soldier, Ewing, Russell and Mt. Sterling. 4 of these are in the Fourteenth Region except Ewing.

Raceland had a slow start, but their three overtimes with Olive Hill places them a notch higher in the predictions.

Ben Hord, former Eastern Teachers star football and basketball player may have some titled success in his first year at Boyd County High. Soldier, Ewing, Russell and Mt. Sterling, 4 of these are in the Fourteenth Region except Ewing.

There are several lukewarm aspirants and it may be from one of this group that the ultimate champion will be found. In this group are Breckinridge, Raceland, Camargo and Boyd County High.

Grayson started with a fast winning combination, but apparently the Demosie machinery is not working as well as much results of late. They lost 35-25 to Paintsville, of the Big Sandy Conference in their last game, Coach Demosie says he has some replacements coming up the second semester.

Russell has been beaten, but still stand in the path of contenders. Just what the Red Devils will do the rest of the season is difficult to predict, but they should have a strong five all around.

QUAIL SEASON ENDED JAN. 9

Quail hunters enjoyed their best season in many years, with the passing yesterday of the open law on the birds. The supply of quail was more plentiful this year than it has been for some time. Although there was considerable bad weather the climatic conditions during the season just passed were very favorable.

A lot of hunters bagged the limit on the last day of the season which is unusual. Many sportsmen told in January of finding full coveys of birds that had probably never been shot in. The end of the season finds the supply very plentiful, and barring some kind of epidemic among the birds, or some other unforeseen difficulty, the 1925-26 season will be more favorable than this year.
