Max B. Nahm Receives One of Awards for Outstanding Service to State

Max B. Nahm, of Bowling Green, president of the Mammoth Cave National Park Association, was presented the Sullivan medallion, symbolic of having contributed more than any other citizen of the state to Kentucky's progress during the past year, at the University of Kentucky yesterday.

The medallion was presented to Mr. Nahm in recognition of his successful efforts to have the Mammoth Cave region converted into a national park. The movement, begun by Mr. Nahm and a group of his associates more than four years ago, resulted in victory at the last session of the state legislature when a bill appropriating $1,500,000 for the purchase of the cave lands was enacted.

Students presented Sullivan medallions were Miss Elizabeth Cramer, of Louisville, and John Benson, of Lexington, both seniors at the university. The medallions were presented on the basis of the service of the students to the university during their four years at the institution.
