Election Officers' Claims Limited By Local Fiscal Court

Unpaid Taxes Will Be Deducted From Claims, Magistrates Rules

CHARGE THAT POLL TAX PAYMENTS DELINQUENT

Vouchers Are Awarded County Officials For Services; Session Brief

On motion of F. R. Burrows, seconded by J. B. Rose, the Rowan County Fiscal Court Tuesday voted unanimously to order election officers, tabulators, commissioners and counters for this year, but placed proviso in the measure that they will keep many from receiving this pay.

The court ordered County Clerk C. V. Alfrey to make a list of all those serving in elections, and to whom money was due, and turn the list over to Sheriff Mort May. The Sheriff was instructed to file the same motion, deducting claim from all persons who have not paid their taxes for the year 1935, which are low due and on which penalty will be inflicted in March.

In other words if an individual has a three dollar election claim his name is sent to the sheriff. Should he owe $2.50 poll tax he will receive the receipt for taxes paid and a check for fifty cents. If the claim is less than the taxes due, he will receive credit on his taxes for the amount the county owes him. The Sheriff then certifies the complete list to County Treasurer Dave C. Caudill.

The motion is unprecedented in Rowan County, but as discussed in Fiscal Court meeting was meant for persons who have, in the past, been delinquent on their taxes. Collection from poll tax delinquents is the prime objective of the courts. The magistrates discussed the fact that many people who do not own real estate were drawing money from the county for serving in elections, yet they did not meet their poll tax assessments.

The Fiscal Court Tuesday allowed the following claims: S. S. Stanger, serving as assessor, $189.57; J. A. Lewis, assessor, $257.30; Mort May, serving as sheriff, $57.00; Rowan County News, advertising, $27.25.

The treasurer was instructed to prepare a settlement and present it to the County Clerk.

Morehead Net Five Assumes First Place

Ellis Johnson, Morehead College's athletic mentor, found himself again on top of the heap in Kentucky college football when the Eagles led in first place in the general standings and in a tie with Eastern for the highest spot in the KMAC standings.

With the exception of the Murray-Morehead football game which the Eagles lost on a succession of bad breaks, Johnson has yet to see one of his teams taste defeat.

Federal Supervisor Explains How People In Debt May Secure Assistance of Government

Clarence W. Cobb, county supervisor in charge of the Rural Rehabilitation program of the settlement Administration in Carter, Elliott and Rowan counties, feels that there may be farmers in this section in danger of losing their property from foreclosure, or otherwise in distress on account of their farm expenses, have been organized in every county to help with this Farm Debt Adjustment Service. These committees meet with the debtor and creditor, try to have the debt reduced in accordance with the debtor's ability to pay, or get the creditor more time in which to pay off the debt, or to find a new creditor. To work with the Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor and the county committees, and especially to handle the knottier problems, one or more Farm Debt Specialists have been assigned to each state. These Specialists are men in the problems of debt and intricate cases. They are prepared to make a careful study of the more difficult cases. Particularly where there is an emergency situation threatening a immediate foreclosure, Mr. Cobb said, is the debt specialist or Farm Debt Adjustment Supervisor, as he is technically called, covering this and several counties.

"While it is not always possible to save a farm foreclosure, many cases we do, and there is always a good chance that we can save some assistance. The Farm Debt Adjustment Service is available to all farmers in serious difficulty on account of debts and it costs nothing to apply," he declared.

All one has to do is to address a postal card, or apply in person, to his nearest county Rural Rehabilitation supervisor who will

State NYA Leaders Hold Convocation

Robert K. Salyers, deputy State director of the National Youth Administration, French A. Magard, district supervisor of the N. Y. A. and the Rev. Warren Frankfort, appeared on a special convocation hour at the Morehead State Teachers College Friday morning.

They discussed the activities and achievement of the N. Y. A. in Kentucky, and emphasis was placed on the work in colleges, such as the Morehead institution.

Following the chapel program a meeting of all Morehead College students who are being aided through school by the N. Y. A. was held in the auditorium. Mr. Salyers said that 111 mountain boys and girls had been helped at Morehead College during the last year.

Vikings May Be Regional Threat

Morehead-Sandy Hook Match Postponed Until Monday Evening

The Morehead High-Sandy Hook basketball game scheduled Saturday, has been postponed and will be played on the local floor Monday.

Coach Roy Holbrook served notice today that the Green and White will have to be reckoned with starting next year, for that time two star players, Milton Davis and Charles Taylor, will become eligible. Both of these men are tall, good scorers and fast. If they come through as expected, Morehead will not only be a strong contender in the district tournament, but are apt to prove one of the favorites in the national meet.

Against Sandy Hook, Coach Holbrook is expected to start Peter Hays at center; Davis and Taylor, forwards; and Barker and Butcher at the guards. This club will carry height and speed combined with more experience than the Vikings had during the first semester.

Morehead High fared badly during the last week, dropping two conference engagements. The Morehead club was unable to score a field goal in the last quarter and lost 15-13 to Louisa after the period totals were looked at, 6, 10 and 13.

MOREHEAD INSTRUCTOR ILL WITH PNEUMONIA

Miss Kathryn Brann, instructor in the Morehead State Teachers College, was reported as slightly improved and resting comfortably today from a serious case of pneumonia.

Miss Brann became critically ill last Friday. Since that time a nurse has been in attendance at all times.

Sheriff Announces Drive Against All Liquor Violations

Roadhouses and All-Night Places Will Be Under Strict Observation

MANY ARE ARRESTED DURING THE WEEK-END

Peace Officer Declares Many Complaints Registered Against Operators

Sheriff Mort May and deputies started last week-end a campaign to prevent lawlessness, reputedly existing in roadhouses and places selling liquor and beer in Rowan County. A number of people, allegedly under the influence of liquor, were arrested at several of these places.

The Sheriff's action came after considerable criticism had been directed at the places, while one person had met death under mysterious circumstances and another was reputedly robbed and injured after leaving beer and liquor resorts.

Sheriff May said this morning that it was his intention to keep all roadhouses, liquor and beer dispensaries and any other place on which he had received complaints under close surveillance in the future, and that arrests would follow "violations" where there was sufficient evidence warrant it.

The Rowan Sheriff pointed out that Saturday and Sunday apparently were the worst days for lawlessness in the roadhouses, and that his campaign would be stressed over the week-end.

County Judge Charles E. Jennings declared this morning that this action on the part of the Sheriff and his force was commendable and worthy of the support of every citizen.

131 Farmers To Receive Payment

County Agent Receives Check To Meet Soil Conservation Payment

County Agent Chas. L. Goff received $2,000 in checks made payable to 131 Rowan County farmers. These checks are the first to be received by local farmers for their participation in the 1936 Soil Conservation Program. Approximately 500 farmers participated in the program in Rowan County and these farmers will receive approximately $20,000. The other payments will probably be made in February. Practically all applications have been made and the checks have been sent to the Washington office.

The 1937 program will be started in February. This will be about three months earlier than it was started last year. Rowan County farmers will have a much better understanding of the program and will take a bigger part in it. It will be possible for local farmers to earn about twice the amount that they will receive for the 1936 program.

SECOND SEMESTER OPENS IN CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS

An increased enrollment in Rowan County Consolidated Schools is anticipated when the second semester opens next Monday morning. All seven schools will finish their seven months terms next week.

UNITED SUPPLY HEADS VISIT FURNITURE MART

Mr. J. V. Brothers and Mr. H. L. Lewellen, supervising managers for the Union Supply Company, left their headquarters in Thiontown Sunday evening, January 10, for a visit in the furniture market in Chicago where lines will be purchased for February sale and for regular stock. They will leave Chicago and visit the markets in St. Louis, where regular supply lines will be purchased for stores in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Eagles Rally To Defeat Kentucky Wesleyan 35-30; Teachers Lead Colleges In The State

Rallying in the last 30 minutes of play, Ellis Johnson's Morehead College Eagles kept their record clean by scoring their sixth straight victory here Monday night at the expense of Kentucky Wesleyan, 35-30.

Wesleyan presented the most stubborn opposition that the Eagles have encountered this season, and for 32 minutes of the ball game played the winners on even terms. The game was rough, 15 persons on Wesleyan and 9 on the Eagles being called.

Weight times during the first half of the lead changed hands. When the half gun sounded the Eagles were clinging on to a 17-16 lead. The first 12 minutes of the second half was a replica of the first half with the advantage changing 5 times before the Teachers finally went ahead to stay.

Wesleyan grabbed a 24-21 lead with 8 minutes to go. The Eagles unleashed their rally at this point. Carter sank a foul.

Evidence Lacking In Youth's Death

Investigation of the Bernard Whitt Case At Standstill, Officers Report

No new evidence in the mysterious death of Bernard Whitt, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitt of near Morehead, has been unearthed and no arrests have been made, officers reported today.

After examining a dozen witnesses a court of inquiry was adjourned, with a verdict of "death by causes unknown." However, Coroner James Brown said that the verdict would not be written into his records for some weeks in the hope that more evidence may be forthcoming.

Young Whitt was found Sunday morning, January 5, lying in the middle of E. S. Highway by three miles east of Morehead. An examination showed that his neck had been broken. A theory that he had been hit by an automobile was discredited because of the absence of any bruises except on the chin and a scarred right hand.

Witnesses examined failed to shed any light on the case other than to fix the time when the boy was seen alive and who his companions were several hours prior to his death.

McKenzie Girl Is Spelling Winner

Marjorie Ellington Cops Rowan Title; Clearfield Girl Places Second

Correctly spelling the word "divisor," Marjorie Ellington, 12, seventh grade pupil in the annual Rowan County spelling bee here Friday afternoon.

Lela Kissinger, of the Clearfield school, was runner-up, but could not master "divisor." Both the winner and the runner-up were awarded prizes. Mrs. A. F. Ellington acted as pronouncer for the match.

In connection with the spelling match, rural school and consolidated school teachers held their last scheduled teachers meeting of the year. The meeting consisted principally of a business discussion.

Press Breakdown Results In Smaller Paper Today

Due to an unexpected and unavoidable breakdown in the Independent's press, the size of this week's paper is smaller than usual. The publishers regret this inconvenience to the readers.

In the next issue the Independent will return to its normal number of pages.

Lawrence Bushaw Secures Acquittal on Assault Charge

Judge Holds Evidence Insufficient To Hold Man In Archer Case

FILLS $500 BOND AS MATERIAL WITNESS

Examining Trial For Dave Swimm Set Friday In County Court

A four hours examining trial here Tuesday resulted in the dismissal of assault and robbery charges against Lawrence Bushaw, who was arrested after Fred Archer, 40, World War Veteran had allegedly been robbed and apparently attacked at Farmers Sunday night January 4.

The court held that the evidence presented by the Commonwealth, most of which was circumstantial, was insufficient to hold Bushaw on the felony charges. However, County Judge Charles E. Jennings did place Bushaw under $500 bond as a material witness. He was released by his brother-in-law, Horton Alkay, Farmers resident, acted as surety on the bond.

David Swimm, of Farmers, held on the same case, did not receive an examining trial at the same time as Bushaw. Swimm told his examining trial Monday, which would give him ample time to secure a lawyer. His request was granted by Judge Jennings.

Arrested James Clay defended Bushaw.

Meanwhile, Archer, who was found at the bottom of a steep embankment on U. S. Highway 40, a few feet on the Rowan County side of the Licking River Bridge, is in a serious condition, suffering from fractured spine and possible other serious injuries. He was transferred from the Veterans Hospital at Lexington to a Chicago hospital.

Physicians reported that although he is in little danger of not surviving an operation contemplated at the Chicago Sanitarium.

Swimm was arrested after he allegedly turned a watch and flashlight, belonging to Archer after the county officers, 24 hours after the county officers were found in a critical condition by Dick Maze, tourist camp operator, who was attracted to the body by the barking of his dog.

Blair Bros. Closing Out Sale Underway

Blair Bros. Department Store yesterday opened their "Closing Out Sale," which will continue, according to the management, until the entire stock is depleted. A. W. Kernwell of the A. D. Store, of Chicago, is handling the sale.

A self-service plan, carrying the following 7 points, has been adopted by the store for this sale:

- (1) Help yourself;
- (2) Choose your merchandise as you desire;
- (3) All merchandise must be wrapped before leaving store;
- (4) Carry all merchandise to the wrapping counter;
- (5) Give your duplicate cash slip to man at door as you pass out;
- (6) Shoes will be on section, and you may choose your own;
- (7) Each section or group will be one price.

GAME DISPUTED

In a freakish game at Raccoon Friday the Vikings lost a 2 1/2 in overtime game. Coach Holbrook announced over a shot that Raccoon made at the regular playing time ended. Morehead contended that the goal was made 21 seconds over the regular playing time. The official time was in a quandary, declaring that he had stopped his watch by mistake. That basket sent Raccoon ahead 1 point, bit Coach McComb's coach Holbrook reached a mutual agreement to call it a tie. In the overtime Raccoon scored a field basket to Morehead's lone foul point.

OFFICERS SHOULD BE COMMENDED

It has come to our attention that the sheriff and deputies are keeping roadhouses, restaurants and dispensaries in Rowan county under close surveillance following an almost universal demand for stricter law enforcement.

Saturday night the sheriff's force was out practically all night seeing that the law was enforced. This work is commendable and is deserving of praise from law abiding citizens.

The police department in the city of Morehead will render their assistance in this campaign of law enforcement at these all-night spots, where lawlessness has existed for some months.

Twice, editorially the Independent has asked for stricter enforcement of the liquor and beer laws. This enforcement appears to be forthcoming.

According to the sheriff the sale of beer on Sunday is prohibited until 1 o'clock. This is another prohibition statute that has been grossly violated in this county, and in due respect to the churches and Christianity, it is the duty of the officers to enforce this along with the other regulatory measures.

It is neither the sheriff's, the city officials, nor our intention to deprive a legitimate business of trade, but at the same time it is their aim and our hope that these liquor laws, which have been violated in the past, be strictly enforced to make Rowan county a better place for all of us to live.

A TRIBUTE TO THE LATE SENATOR YOUNG

Two years ago next month Morehead and Rowan county lost its most illustrious citizen and its greatest benefactor with the death of Senator Allie W. Young.

Morehead and Rowan county have missed Senator Young. They have lost the work and the great benefits that he brought to this small mountain city. No one has stepped forward to take Senator Young's place, for it is only in a decade or more that a place this small can hope to produce a man like him.

Although at odds politically, the enemies of Judge Young realized and appreciated the great work that he did for his people. Today, they wish that he might be back on the firing line.

He fought our battles in the legislature and used his influence to bring to Morehead a greater prosperity and a thriving city. The Morehead State Teachers College stands today as a landmark to his work. The roads that make Morehead a hub of this section of the state can be attributed to him. We have lost Senator Young for two years, but his work and memory remains—it will be with Morehead a hundred years hence.

THE VALUE OF COURTESY IN BUSINESS RELATIONS

Have you ever stopped to realize the true values of courtesy?

It is the cheapest thing in the world, yet it will make you more friends and bring more business than anything you might possess.

A business that has courteous clerk and a manager that treats the people in this manner will always rise above an organization that adheres to strict business measures without a mixture of understanding and human kindness.

The customer is always right—is a slogan adopted in leading stores the world over. It is wise, for after all it is the customer who knows what he wants and it is he that meets the bill.

Be courteous in business, in civic matters and in private life. The dividends of kind words and an understanding heart are many fold. They make for joy peace and contentment.

COLLECTION OF POLICE COURT FINES

The collection of fines in Morehead city court is double of any preceding year, reports Police Judge R. Lee Stewart.

This is attributed not to more arrests, but to greater effort on the part of the police judge and the police force to collect fines, and the disallowance of unqualified persons to sign receipts bonds.

Sadly, in the past, hundreds of bonds have been signed by people who owned no property and from whom the city could have no hopes of collecting. There was also a general laxity in the collections, while prisoners were generally released after serving a day or two of their sentence.

During the last month the city has been easier on law violators, but with the holiday season past, a return to more strict procedure is anticipated.

HOW DOES LATIN AMERICA FEEL TOWARDS UNITED STATES?

Only those who have followed the sad record of the relations between the United States and the governments of the countries to the south of us can really appreciate the epochal change that President Roosevelt has brought to the inter-American scene.

So wrote David Lawrence—one of the President's severest critics so far as domestic policy is concerned—in the United States News of November 30.

About all the average citizen knows about U. S. foreign policy as related to the other countries in this hemisphere is that it is governed by something celebrated and vague called the Monroe Doctrine. Probably not one citizen in fifty could accurately tell you what the Monroe Doctrine provides. And probably not one citizen in a hundred realizes that the Doctrine has been virtually a dead letter for several years and, as well, as has caused a vast amount of unfriendly feeling toward this country in the Republics to the south.

Briefly and slightly described, the Monroe Doctrine meant that the United States would not permit any European government to take over territory in Latin America—that the U. S. would act as a "big brother" in protecting Latin American territorial rights as well as its own. This seemed fair enough. The Doctrine had not been in effect for long before a disaster of a century ago. Russia first requested that the Doctrine, in David Lawrence's words, "be made international, that it become a sort of offensive and defensive alliance in which all Latin countries should join with the United States in keeping European armies and navies out of this part of the world."

That request was refused, as were similar requests made periodically in later years. Consequently, the Latin Republics came to feel, rightly or wrongly, that the U. S. was taking advantage of the Doctrine to rule their countries. This feeling was strengthened by sending U. S. marines to Cuba—trouble appeared in a Latin American nation.

There are no marines in Latin America now—and it seems doubtful if any will be sent there again. It is a curious fact that both Hoover and Roosevelt took the initiative in withdrawing the last of these agents of what Latin America considered "U. S. imperialism." No longer does Washington take the position that it will back up any foreign ventures of American citizens with armed force if necessary. Our citizens now travel in Latin America at their own risk, and are subject to the laws of the countries where they go. Diplomacy will be used to help them in difficulties—but not force. In other words, their status is exactly the same as if traveling in England, France and other European countries.

What is the result of all this? In the eyes of many American observers, the result will be a genuine feeling of friendliness for us on the part of the Republics to the south—and there are signs that such a feeling is now developing, though much suspicion remains. There is also the hope that dormant trade will be revived, and that by example the Western hemisphere will show the world how nations can live without war, settling differences by amicable conferences. Furthermore, it is hoped that treaties will be effected whereby European powers wishing war materials will find the raw material markets of North and South America—the greatest in the world—firmly closed to them.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech at the recent Pan-American conference is generally considered the best he has ever made—he handled a delicate task well. Credit for the ground-work is given to Secretary Hull, who has spent his public life working quietly for peace, and for commercial and diplomatic relations between powers.

WHAT OTHER KENTUCKY EDITORS ARE SAYING

A Policy We Approve

The unprecedented demonstration accorded to President Roosevelt on his visit to South America should bring a new era of pleasure and satisfaction to every American citizen, regardless of political faith.

For all the cheering, all the honors extended with due formality, all the fine speeches and extravagant expressions of homage and good will were not for man alone but for the nation which he represents. The people of South America were thus expressing their good will toward citizens of the United States. This attitude is significant in a time when the nations of Europe are tottering on the brink of a general war, where new armaments are being assembled behind each border, where dangerous threats are being issued from official sources.

In adopting the policy of friendship, good will between North and South America, and all the nations of this continent, President Roosevelt has chosen a course which meets with general approval. We have all come to see that there is little we can accomplish by meddling in the muddled affairs of Europe. But we have also begun to realize that the nations of North and South America should stand together, determined to resist collectively any aggression from Europe or Asia and equally determined to maintain a spirit of good-will and mutual understanding.

By promoting this policy we will be doing our part to bring to realization that dream of all humanitarians and idealists—a world at peace without the fear of future war.—Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

Breck Has Lost 5, Won 3

CAMARGO WINS OVER BRECK 5

So far this season Bobby Laughlin's Breckinridge basketball team has won three games and lost five. With the exception of the loss to Ewing, all of Breck's battles have been close, and with more power the second semester the Eagles should hold better than an even chance to top any of the clubs that won over them.

Breckinridge's record: Breckinridge, 14; Camargo, 19; Breckinridge, 20; Frenchburg, 21; Breckinridge, 18; Soldier, 20; Breckinridge, 13; Ewing, 31; Breckinridge, 21; Painsville 20; Breckinridge, 20; Olive Hill, 17; Breckinridge, 12; Mt. Sterling 17; Breckinridge, 19; Camargo, 23 * overtime game.

Prichard leads the Breck scoring with 32 points in the eight games. Bob Fraley and Clinton Tutum are tied for second honors with 29 apiece. Although Breckinridge has made 148 points to 149 for the opposition.

Here's how Breck has scored this year:

Prichard	32
B. Fraley	26
Tatum	26
Allen	23
Carr	21
Crosthwait	10
Caudill	6
C. Fraley	6

Three-game road trip at Paintsville last night, will play only one game within the next 10 days. That will be at Frenchburg Monday. Breck is the logical choice to win this one.

Morehead High Coach Roy Holbrook admits that his team must show improved form over the Louisville and Raceland games if they hope to beat Russell next Wednesday and Catlettsburg.

HOLBROOK LOSES TO EAGLE TEAM

Morehead college ran up a 12-2 lead early in the game and when coasted through for an easy victory over Alfred Holbrook College at Manchester, Ohio, last Thursday evening. The Kentuckians appeared to be baffled for a time with the smaller Holbrook floor, and although the Eagles were open practically all the time, they managed to cash in on only a small percentage of their shots.

Holbrook could not match the fast game that Morehead played, and after the first five minutes there was no question but that Morehead was headed for victory. The final score was 39-24, but could have been much larger except that Coach Ellis Johnson ran in his substitutes during most of the last half.

At the half Morehead was ahead 19-8.

The win was Morehead's second of the year over Holbrook, the Eagles winning 56-28 in the game at Morehead.

MOREHEAD WINS FROM BENGALS

Although sluggish at times, Morehead capitalized on enough scoring spurts to defeat the Georgetown college Tigers on the Scott county floor 34-25 Friday evening.

The proteges of Ellis Johnson missed numerous shots, many of them close under the basket, in achieving their first K.L.A.C. victory, but still carried enough power to win without being in serious danger during the first half.

With five minutes left remaining in the first half the teams were deadlocked at seven all. Morehead, at this point, changed to a fast break and Carter, Arzen and Ishmael dropped in baskets for a 13-7 intermission edge.

Georgetown led once during the game. Their margin after five minutes of play was 4 to 3.

In accomplishing their first conference victory, the Eagles do not display a very smooth working team. As in previous games, the Morehead club missed many scoring opportunities, and threw the ball away several times on bad passes. However, Georgetown was a better passing aggregation. James McLaughlin, Georgetown center, who turned in a fine performance, leading the Bengals in point-making with nine, was ejected from the game in the second half by referee Harry Cover for unnecessary roughness. McLaughlin crashed into Lawrence Carter in a play close to Georgetown's basket, running the Morehead center almost into the bleachers.

One gratifying note in last Thursday's game was the return to form of James Ishmael, Morehead guard, who has been off all season. Ishmael finally started turning on in the second half, and was in practically every play.

In a preliminary, the Georgetown freshmen defeated the Morehead yearlings 23-18.
