New Budget Is Given Approval Of Fiscal Court

Passage Of Measure Will Keep County From Showing 1935 Deficit

Bowan County's Fiscal Court, in special session Saturday passed a proposed budget drawn up by County Judge C. E. Jennings calling for a supplemental tax to be collected in July.

The levy of 75 cents on poll tax, 25 cents per hundred on real estate; 10 cents per $100 on bank shares; and 25 cents per $100 on tangible property will be collected in July according to the budget adopted. These amounts represent one half of the 1934 yearly assessment and cover the six months from January 1, 1935 to and including June 30, 1935. The court set out that it was proper and logical for the collection of this tax, basing their action on a decision of the court of Appeals, after the passage of the bill changing the fiscal year by the last legislature.

No levy was made on state taxes, road sinking fund or county school tax. The budget set out that revenue from the sales tax will take care of the road sinking fund.

The estimated revenue of the county for this six months period was fixed at $9,235.00 as compared with $18,500.00 for the entire year of 1934.

New tax books have been prepared for the collection of the July taxes.

Without the new assessment the county would show a deficit of several thousand dollars for the first six months of 1935, according to the budget.

In other business transacted during the week by the Fiscal Court, Consolidated Hardware Company was allowed $402.85 for their account.

Jake D. Plank, E. V. Withrow and C. B. Daugherty have been named as members of the Board of County Supervision of Tax for 1935. They will hold their first meeting February 11.

John B. Lewis, Rowan tax commissioner reported this week he had cleared the assessment this year by the preceding year by the following amounts: State tax, $118,462 County and School, $112,792; 351 more poll tax papers; and 214 more dog tax licenses.

Haggan, Head of the Department of Agriculture at Morehead College, and his daughter, Mary Caldwell, followed by the arrest of Francis Harper, wanted in five states on charges ranging from robbery to jail break and daylight bank holdups is given first place as the best news article that broke in Morehead and Rowan County during 1934.

Harper is now being held in a Lexington jail for safekeeping, and County Judge C. E. Jennings says he will be tried here, instead of allowing him to be taken to other states to answer charges there.

There were so many sports events in Morehead and Rowan county that the compilation of a list of the principal ones was difficult.

The winning of the baseball flag early was more outstanding than the story given second rating. That was the play of the Morehead Eagles in the state K. I. A. C. Eagles lost by 2 points in an over-

The victory raised Grayson's stock considerably in this region, since Morehead lost by only 16 to 0 at Olive Hill last week. In that game the Vikings held the Coeds without a field goal in the first half.

ROWAN OFFICER SHOT TUESDAY

"Buddy" Alfrey Is Seriously Wounded By Charge From Shotgun

"Buddy" Alfrey, 29, Rowan deputy constable, was shot perhaps fatally, allegedly by Everett Sweeney Tuesday evening in the Upper Licking river section of the county, in what officers said was the result of a feud and trouble that has lasted for several years.

Sweeney has not been arrested, and officers were seeking him today.

Alfrey was brought here after the shooting and attended by Dr. A. W. Atkins. He was sent to St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, Wednesday morning, after an order for his removal had been entered at the court house.

Alfrey was hit by slug from a 12 gauge shotgun, presumably fired from a distance of about 75 feet. The charge entered his left shoulder and ranged into the body causing considerable loss of blood.

Officials said that Alfrey told them that Sweeney shot him as he was passing Sweeney's home.

MENS CLUB HOLD REGULAR MEET

Prof. Lewis Henry Horton Discusses Stamp Collection In Article

At the weekly meeting of the Morehead Men's Club, Monday night, L. H. Horton addressed the group on "Stamp Collection". Mr. Horton discussed the hobby from recreational and the investment standpoints. He called attention to the fact that both Franklin D. Roosevelt and King George are active collectors. He discussed the field of specialized collecting which permits the collector to confine his interests to a particular field without a tremendous outlay of money. The fact was mentioned that in order to have a complete collection of all United States postage stamps issued to date an outlay of over a half million dollars would be necessary.

In conclusion Mr. Horton presented each of the members with two stamps the designs of which bore some relation to the members vocation, business, hobby or personality.

Several local stamp collectors who are not members were present for this talk and a group of local physicians were in attendance as guests of Dr. A. W. Atkins.

57 CCC BOYS ARRIVE

With the opening of the new Midland Baking Company plant in this city on Monday citizens now have one of the most modern baking plants in eastern Kentucky located here, thanks to the progressiveness of the owners. The plant is under the management of Mr. W. E. Stephens, and was formerly located in Olive Hill. It was moved to this city because the management believed that Morehead was a more logical location from which to serve their trade.

Citizens here feel that the location of the new Midland Baking Company in this city is a decided asset to the community in more ways than one, and the business men are sufficiently interested in the new business institution to express their welcome in their advertising this week.

Officers of the Midland Baking Company are Mr. T. J. Powell, president; Mr. G. W. Kiser, vice president; Mr. W. E. Stephens, Olive Hill, secretary-treasurer and manager.

The plant is located in a new building in the east part of Morehead next door to the S. M. Caudill Garage, built expressly according to plans submitted by the management of the company. It is equipped with entirely new and modern machinery, and is built to the smallest detail, and altogether is one of the most complete arranged and equipped bakeries to be found anywhere in this city.

Those who are unfamiliar with baking plants will be interested in knowing "just what the bakery means to Morehead." Mr. Stephens gave a News reporter some interesting figures that will answer that question.

The Midland Baking Company will at present employ fourteen men, all of whom will move to Morehead and become a part of the community. They will have a pay roll of over one thousand dollars per month. They are at present running four bread trucks out of this city and have purchased two more trucks which will be started as soon as they arrive. Truck routes will be run from Morehead to Salt Lick, Owensville and Mt. Sterling; to Flomiesburg and Maysville; to Olive Hill and Grayson; to West Liberty, Salyersville and Frenchburg; and later to Ashland and other places as the territory is opened up.

Morehead was selected as the logical site for the bakery, due to its central location from which the territory might be served more efficiently.

The plant is capable of turning out over 10,000 loaves of bread a day. But they bake not only bread. A trip through the plant while it was in operation revealed that they were baking everything that the bakery produces and doing it in a manner that increased the reporter's appetite, to say the least.

Mr. Stephens stated to the News reporter that they were delighted with the reception that had been given them by the citizens of Morehead. "We hope," he said to make ourselves a part of the community

A NEW BUSINESS FOR MOREHEAD

The Midland Baking Company, one of Eastern Kentucky's thriving firms that has always enjoyed favor and good business from the people of this section is now a Morehead institution. The bakery moved their plant here this week and the first bread came from their Morehead ovens Sunday morning.

This new business means much to Morehead. The city has never had a first class bakery, and the services that this modern concern will give to the city are many. Industrially it means a thousand dollar payroll, more families coming to Morehead, more business in shipping and a steady flow of money into Morehead from surrounding cities that almost universally use the products of the Midland Baking Company.

Mr. Stephens, the manager of the Midland Baking Company, no doubt saw the forward steps of prosperity that this city has made and is making. At a great expense he moved the bakery, after spending several thousand dollars in the construction of a new building on Main Street.

It is now up to the people here to show the Midland Baking Company, and any other new businesses that they make no mistake in putting their plants at Morehead.

When you go to the grocer don't just say, "Give me a loaf of bread." Say, "Give me a loaf of Midland bread."

Support home industry and you are reaching a helping hand towards your city and towards your neighbors.

The retailers of the new bakery's products will, no doubt, push their sales, but they will not need to do this if the Moreheadian cooperates with a Morehead business. The city welcomes Mr. Stephens, the Midland Baking Company and all its employees. We believe they have wisely located their business here.

WANTED: FIFTY HOMES

"Are many of the students who would ordinarily attend Morehead State Teachers College, going to other schools, because they cannot find suitable living quarters here?"

"Yes," answers a man who is prominently connected with the Morehead school.

He says that many men and women, right in the midst of the radius served by Morehead will not be enrolled for the second term because they can find no place in which to live. The sad part about it is that he believes the number will grow greater with the coming of years and the growth of the Morehead institution.

Dormitories are always taken the second semester and the first summer term long before registration begins by advance reservations. The school does not contemplate the building of additional rooms, because they depend on many students securing rooms and dwellings in this town. Morehead College has more elder students than most schools, and the majority of these are married and desire to rent homes out in town.

Today, we are told there is not a vacant house in Morehead. The supply does not come near meeting the demand. There is not a day passes that you do not see students seeking places to rent.

If the same situation existed in Ashland, or any larger cities the real estate operators would waste no time taking advantage of the demand and provide the houses.

But, not in Morehead.

The majority of the people who own lots and can afford to build are not putting up suitable homes—not the kind they would live in. Rather they are building cheap dwellings at a cost of four or five hundred dollars. No baths, a perfect freeze-out in cold weather, often no running water, cheap construction and pick-up furniture, aptly describes what is being built. Now that the amounts are small these men get big rent out of nothing, and the student, who earns his money out in a rural school at around seventy dollars a month foots the bill.

Can you blame them if they are going to other schools? These shacks that are being built won't always draw the rent they are now. No matter how good the Morehead State Teachers College is, and how many educational advantages it can offer, the students are gradually going to sift to other colleges if they cannot find conditions here any better.

Fifty or more good houses are needed today. They could be rented tomorrow at a profitable figure.

NEWS FLASHES OF INTEREST

CONVENTION TO SELECT MEN ON DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Democratic nominees for state office almost certainly will be selected at a state convention, it appeared this week after thousands of members of the Democratic State Central Executive committee had indicated their preference for a convention to make it virtually assured that this method of naming candidates will be followed.

Attorney General Bailey P. Wootton, of Hazard, who is chairman of the Democratic State Central Executive committee, said short time ago that the committee probably would meet in January. While the idea of January are here they are "not gone—Ceasar"; and most likely the committee will meet before the month is out.

When the committee meeting is called it almost certainly will be held in Frankfort where the headquarters are maintained permanently under the direction of Secretary Keen Johnson.

Meanwhile a clamor for a primary, coupled with a Beckham boom, the rumblings of both being so much alike that they must be considered one and the same, developed during the week.

Former Highway Commissioner Chairman, Ben Johnson and State Senator Allie W. Young are going with Beckham, at least as far as calling a primary.

Two Arrested in Breath

Slaying: Others Indicated Edison Bach and Josiah Watkins, both of Stevenson, Breath county are being held in jail for questioning in the death of Kento Clemmons, 25, whose body was found Friday under a fodder shock in an open field 10 miles southwest of here.

Bach, father of five children, was Watkins was arrested by county officers late Saturday.

Warrants have been issued for the detention of Granville Combs, of Quicksand, and Finley Combs, of Stevenson, both sons-in-law of Watkins, and theirs and other arrests are expected soon.

How's Business

THE RELIEF

If President Roosevelt carries out his plan of cutting off the relief and putting those on the present direct roles to work, it will mean that around four hundred persons of Rowan County will have to take up their pick and shovels instead of drawing their bread and butter simply by going to the courthouse and securing a voucher for the number on the present relief roles there are many who will welcome this news from the President. They are willing to go to work to earn a living for their family. On the other hand many do not want to work, would not work if they had a job, and have never done any labor to amount to much. And, this is the aim of Roosevelt. To eradicate them.

There is little doubt but that the direct relief will be abolished, and very soon at that. President Roosevelt has carried out everything he has said he would do, even his critics have to praise him for the plan in which he told of stopping of the relief was delivered before Congress only after many days study by him and his advisors. He meant every word he said.

A job for everybody apparently is something more than a dream. It would perhaps be better, said by "a job for everyone that wants to work."

Morehead's Waterworks.

An interesting and accurate foundation for the contention that municipal waterworks can be operated at a profit to the city and to its consumers is found in Morehead.

It has been estimated that the Morehead Municipal waterworks has made the City of Morehead between thirty and forty thousand dollars during its ten years of existence.

The waterworks has been commendably managed, and the council has repeatedly shown their appreciation for the services of the waterworks manager by reelecting him every time, although others have offered to take the job at a smaller salary.

State Apparently Has Built Good Case Against Hauptmann

Confident it has already produced enough evidence against Bruno Richard Hauptmann to convict him of the Lindbergh kidnap-murder, the state will pound away through most of this week with additional testimony that the German carpenter wrote the fourteen ransom notes.

Albert S. Osborn, Sr., the hand-writing expert who has sworn Hauptmann wrote all the letters, will return to the witness stand tomorrow.

Six others experts, including his son, Albert D. Osborn, will follow to corroborate his opinion.

Thus, the state hopes, it will anticipate and lay the ground work for demolishing the defense contention that Hauptmann was not the author of the ransom letters, had nothing to do with the kidnaping, and merely was in possession of the money which he had received from the late leader. Fitch, his friend and former business partner.

Return To German Rule

The "Common Front" in the Saar, anti-Nazi organization opposing reunion with Germany, yesterday admitted defeat for their cause at the end of voting in the plebiscite to determine the territory's future status.

Max Braun, leader of this opposition, said he would protest to the League council that the plebiscite was neither free, uninfluenced nor secret.

The ballots were cast to determine whether the Saar would be returned to Germany, became a part of France, or remain under the jurisdiction of the League of Nations.

Red Cross Rolls Increased To 60,000
 Membership in the Red Cross was increased by more than 60,000 members during the annual roll call which closed in November, according to incomplete returns received at National Red Cross headquarters here.

The estimated total for the 18th annual roll call is 3,884,068, which is a gain of 81,814 members over last year's membership of 3,802,254. Since last year's total showed an increase of 100,518 members over that of the preceding year, Red Cross officials here are gratified at the indicated improvement in economical conditions and the endorsement given to the Red Cross by the American people. They point out that the increase this year is shown in all areas of the and Pacific. The Red Cross membership did not suffer a serious decline at any time during the period of the depression, losing only 7.8 per cent in membership over its entire period. This slight loss is now being wiped out, and the membership promises to return to previous high levels, according to Red Cross workers here.

Many piles of tobacco stalks are to be seen lying outside tobacco barns exposed to rains. A large part of the nitrogen and potash in tobacco stalks, as well as other parts of the tobacco plant, is soluble in winter.

A ton of stalks from Burley tobacco contains about 60 pounds of nitrogen and 65 pounds of potash, and a ton of stalks from dark tobacco contains about 70 pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds of potash.

At 15 cents per pound for nitrogen and 5 cents a pound for potash a ton of Burley stalks is worth $12.25 and a ton of dark stalks $14.50.

Inquiries are being received as to the value of low-grade tobacco for fertilizer. One hundred pounds of Burley leaf of low grade contains about 3 pounds of nitrogen and 2.5 pounds of potash. One hundred pounds of low-grade dark leaf contains about 3.5 pounds of nitrogen and 4 pounds of potash. At the foregoing prices, these grades of leaf are worth 81 and 72 cents per 100 pounds respectively for fertilizer.

Farm And Agriculture News

Head Of Agriculture Department, Morehead College

Hatchability in Hen Eggs

It matters not whether a farmer is producing eggs for the hatchery or to be hatched on the farm, the percent hatchability is of paramount importance. After the poultryman has done everything possible to secure good fertility in the eggs produced during the breeding season, the next step is to procure the best possible hatching results. In this discussion, hatchability means the ratio of the maximum number of eggs that hatch to a given number of fertile eggs when ideal incubation practices are had. It is the actual number of chickens that break out of the shell. Hatchability is expressed in terms of percentage; for instance, if 54 chickens hatch from 75 fertile eggs, the hatchability percent is 72. If during the breeding season a hen lays 15 fertile eggs and only 12 eggs hatch, the percent hatchability is 75. There are hens that give 100 percent hatchability during the breeding season but these are not widely scattered. One should set his goal a minimum of 85 percent hatchability and by careful breeding and keeping of records this may be obtained.

It is possible for temperature, humidity, and ventilation improperly controlled to lessen hatching results. It is assumed that eggs are incubated under ideal conditions. Hatchability in Relation to Inbreeding

A. Inbreeding in Relation to Hatchability

Cole and Halpin (1916) inbred full brothers and sisters for four years and noticed a marked decline in vigor to such an extent that the fourth year hatchability was so low that the experiment was discontinued. In 1922 the above men began another similar experiment and obtained about the same results. Dunn (1928) crossed two groups of White Leghorns in which the basis of selection each year was the number of full sisters available for mating on February first of the pullet year. At that time the group was chosen which had the largest number of full sisters and at least two full-brothers, one for mating and one for reserve. Hatchability decreased as inbreeding was continued. However, in the controlled pen, hatchability did not decrease. Jull in (1929) carried on a series of experiments involving close inbreeding of different varieties of Plymouth Rocks and two groups of White Leghorns and found that close inbreeding decreased hatchability. Byerly, Knox, and Jull (1933) found that inbreeding is likely to increase mortality in the last three days of incubation which in turn lessens the percent of hatchability. Warren (1934) mentions that the hatching quality of eggs is one of the first characteristics to reflect the influences of intensive inbreeding.

From the above work of well known investigators, it is a well known fact that close inbreeding lowers the percent hatchability of hen's eggs and should not be practiced. Brother and sister matings should not be done only under rare instances.

B. Cross Breeding in Relation to Hatchability

This form of breeding is often resorted to in the production of broilers or fryers and roasters. The purpose of crossbreeding is to provide for the combination of desirable qualities from two distinct lines of stock. Pearl and Surface (1910) and Warren (1927) secured higher hatchability in crossing breeds over either parents. However, if the parents averaged around 80 percent hatchability, there was little increase.

C. Outcrossing in Relation to Hatchability

Outcrossing is a term sometimes used in opposition to inbreeding. In the former there are no common ancestors while in the latter there are two or more common ancestors, depending upon the amount of inbreeding. Outbreeding is the mating of unrelated individuals. Dunn (1928) crossed two groups of birds that had been previously inbred and secured a higher percent hatchability than that of either breed. The hatchability records of the two breeds was 47 and 42 percent and the progeny obtained had a hatchability record of 73 percent. Warren (1930) crossed two different strains of White Leghorns and secured a higher percent of hatchability in their offspring. Martin and Insko (1934) after several years of outcrossing four strains of Rhode Island Reds secured a higher percent of hatchability than the original stock they started with.

D. Linebreeding in Relation to Hatchability

Linebreeding is where one bird is mated to its progeny for two or three years in succession. This produces progeny that is not close inbred. This method has been used in breeding of high quality game as well as standard bred birds of high quality. Linebreeding gives a higher percent hatchability than does inbreeding.

Lethal Genes in Relation to Hatchability

In this discussion we will define a gene as one of the small units making up a chromosome. The gene is the carrier of heredity which gives the bird black plumage, color, barring, single comb, yellow shanks, egg weight, hatchability and many other characters. There are genes which when in a homozygous (or alike condition) kill the embryo. When this condition occurs, the percent hatchability is lowered. NEXT WEEK, Part II. Hatchability in Hen Eggs and to take an active interest in building the community. We picked Morehead, not only because we felt that it was well located for our business, but because we believe that it has a bright future before it. We felt that Morehead will continue to grow and we hope and expect that the Midland Baking Company will grow with it."

Mr. Stephens said that they are planning a formal opening in the near future, to which the public will be invited. In the meantime, however, he asked the News to extend a wholehearted invitation to every reader to visit the plant and to get acquainted with the employees. The management wants you to feel that Morehead will continue to be a Morehead institution, and that they will be glad to show you around and have you inspect their plant.

One thing that impressed Mr. Stephens about Morehead was the scarcity of houses in the city. Four of the employees are married and expect to move their families here from Olive Hill as soon as houses are available.

The Rowan County News together with the business firms of Morehead, extends a most hearty welcome to the Midland Baking Company and to its employees. Make this your home.

HAGGAN STORY BEST

The flood of August that caused untold thousands of dollars in damage, in Rowan, Carter and the neighboring counties is rated second. On the basis of pure news that effects more people, the flood story was first, but the Haggan story was placed above it because of its sensational nature.

The best story of 1933 again crops up in 1934 and is rated as third. It concerns the mysterious death of Bill Foster, Spanish-American War veteran. Foster was found dead in a ditch with his money missing. In 1934 Frank Eden was arrested at Middletown, for the second time. Eden was not convicted.

Rounding up a mob on Christy Creek by county officers furnished the fifth most important story. The gang was taken to Carter county and were placed in the Grayson jail only after a gunfight between officers and "molls" of the arrested men. All drew heavy prison sentences at a special session of the Carter County Circuit Court.

The building of new streets for the city of Morehead did not draw headlines, but it ranks sixth, because of the general interest in the construction and the benefits that will be derived from them.

A further increase in the enrollment of the Morehead State Teachers College, while other state colleges saw a decline in their number of students furnished the next item of importance. The Morehead school reported a jump to 1200 students the second semester.

In the ninth place several stories have been grouped together. Their all concern permanent improvement in Rowan county. They are the West Liberty road which brings that city 50 miles closer, the Haldeman-Gates highway contract and the Wagner-Roburn road completion.

The landslide given Fred M. Vinson for Congress both in Rowan and in the Eighth Congressional District stands last in the first ten. The story would probably be rated higher, except that Vinson's opposition was considered none too strong.

There are many good stories that did not even get a ranking, but that deserve mention. Included in this is the new telephone system and the franchise letting; the planing of pipe lines to carry natural gas to the city; a decrease in electric rates made the first of last year; the dismissal and rehiring of the Rowan county agent; the murder of Ben Dawson and the conviction of Jim Carpenter; the building of trails and fighting of forest fires by the CCC boys were all outstanding stories.

The best feature story of the year was the one concerning a dog that froze to death while standing up. To make the account complete the "wise guys" told about the dog thawing out and going on about its business. This story made nearly daily paper in the United States.

time period to Western who won the state championship and then grabbed the southern crown.

The Morehead High School won their second Little Eight basketball championship, and the feat drew third place in importance. The success of the Morehead freshmen football team, and the embarkation of the Morehead Teachers College on a program of better athletics got fourth.

Changes in the coaching staffs of Morehead High and Haldeman and the hiring of a freshman coach, a coach for Brock High and an assistant varsity coach by the college was next in line. Lawrence Praley replaced Austin Riddle at Haldeman. Riddle took a place at Morehead High. Bill Scroggins was hired as Morehead freshmen coach.

while Paul "Mouse" Combs was selected as assistant varsity mascot.

The spurge of the Morehead Eagles in the last 5 minutes when they scored thirteen points to beat East Tennessee 12-12 was 6th in the rating. Next was Mac McCormick's feat of pitching a no-hit game against Kentucky Wesleyan. It would have also been no runs, except for errors on the part of his teammates.

The taking over of the Morehead Baseball Club by the business men was rated 8th. This move was responsible for the No. 1 rating given the team in winning the pennant.

Last is the play of the Morehead Eagles in losing their homecoming game to the Union Bulldogs. Morehead outplayed the unbeaten Bulldog machine, but fumbled too often. Union won 15-6.

WE INVITE YOU

But first we want to tell the citizens of this community that we are particularly glad to be here and to become a part of this city and county. We have been planning and working for several months to complete the arrangements for locating here, and to finish our building on Main Street. And at last those plans are fulfilled. At last we are actually settled in Morehead and are a part of the Morehead community.

NEW MACHINERY

Our new plant on Main Street, next door to the S. M. Caudill Garage, is one of the most modern and complete in the State of Kentucky, and we are justly proud of it. In making our plans to move our plant to Morehead, we determined at the outset to instal entirely new and up-to-date equipment that would be a credit to the city and to ourselves as well. With this in mind we planned ahead, and have invested a huge sum in the very highest type of bakery equipment including a $4,500.00 oven.

COME IN AND SEE US

While we plan on holding a formal opening at a somewhat later date, we want you to feel that you are welcome to drop in and go thru the plant at any time it is open. As we said, we are proud of our plant, and will be glad to have you visit us at any time.

MOREHEAD IS CAREFUL

Playing cool, calculating and careful basketball which a field goal in the first half and without a single point until after 16 minutes of play, the Morehead College Eagles announced their first S. I. A. A. victory Saturday night over the Lexington team, at the local gymnasium. The score was Morehead 34, Transy 18. Those six points represents the closest that the Pioneers came' after the first five minutes of play.

Morehead looked very different from the Eagle team of Wednesday that depended on the fastest break in the state to carry them to victory. The Eagles passed the ball and never shot until they were under the basket. Only one of Morehead's nine field goals was from the field, the balance being snow birds. The Teachers were ahead 15-2 at the half.

Transylvania, unable to penetrate the local defense resorted to a long barrage attack, which was ineffective until the last five minutes of play when they struck in three to pull up and keep the score from being a washout for them.

Transy Smothered

There are many who pronounced Morehead's play Saturday night as the best performance the Downingsmen have ever given, either at home or away.

Transylvania was smothered by roading that would have been a check mate to any conference team in Kentucky. Morehead did not look like the team that lost to Georgetown 26-13 earlier in the week.

Coach Downing wisely elected to start an almost complete new lineup. Roy Caudill and Parsley were the only ones who started in the Georgetown match, that broke in yesterday. Morehead made no substitutions until the last half minute of play when Shuey was fouled out and replaced by Francis.

Johnson Played Well

Morehead's scoring was evenly divided. R. Caudill made 7, Orley, whose game was a hundred percent improvement tallied 6, Parsley 5, Shuey 4 and Johnson 2. Although Johnson was the top scorer, his one field goal, he was nevertheless a potent factor in Morehead's victory with his defensive play and passing.

Fitzpatrick was easily Transy's outstanding player. As a substitute he scored 7 points and was the only player that could break through

VIKINGS HOLD OLIVE HILL TO 12 - 10 SCORE

The Olive Hill high-shooting Comets took a big score from the Vikings. The game was a defensive one, as the score indicates. The Vikings broke the ice with a foul loss during the first minute. Then "Chicken" Caudill came through with a field goal to make the score 3-0. The Vikings were ahead 3-1 the first quarter and 6-3 at the half. They held the Comets without a field goal the first half.

Every member of the Viking team who took part in the game played nice ball. The outstanding feature was their passing. The score should have been smaller but for some long ones, and lost the ball, which on two different occasions resulted in baskets for the Comets. With two minutes to go the score stood 10-9 in favor of the Comets. With a minute left it stood 12-10 for the Comets. Real fight was shown by the Vikings throughout the game.

The line-up:

A. Adams (6)	F.	Candill
Ely (8)	C.	Whitt
Kelly (3)	C.	Davis
Sublett (6)	G.	Alfrey
Cundiff (2)	G.	Carter

The Eagles man-for-man defense.

Carter Makes 20

To make a convincing complete Coach Scroggins' Eagles tallied in their third straight victory, beating the Transy freshmen 37-31. The margin would have been greater if the visitors had not took advantage of a letdown in the Eagles' play in the last ten minutes of the game.

Lawrence Carter, Harlin High flash and high scorer for two years in the Cumberland Valley Conference, again led the freshmen in point making a twenty twenty. McKinsey made eight of secondary e nny mnd eight for Morehead, while Napier and Elam gathered 12 and 10 respectively for Transy's frosh. Morehead led 2-8 at the half.

The lineups:

Morehead	Frosh	Transy	Frosh
Morehead (24)	(18)	Transy (24)	(18)
Oxley (6)	F.	Dawson	F.
Parsley (5)	F.	Blumer	F.
R. Caudill (7)	C.	Moore	C.
Shuey (4)	G.	(1) Willson	G.

Bishops Rally For 35 to 30 Victory Here

Teachers Start Strong And Lead By 11 Points At One Time

CARTER IS FROSH STAR

Morehead College's varsity held an eleven point lead here Monday night and dropped their third S. I. A. A. encounter to the Kentucky Wesleyan by a 35-30 score.

Morehead's victory here Monday night and dropped their third S. I. A. A. encounter to the Kentucky Wesleyan by a 35-30 score.

Wesleyan was behind until the last six minutes of play, but they pushed ahead to win. The five points at the end of the match represents the largest margin that the Bishops had at any time.

The Methodists were the game primarily on free throws by sinking all nine of their attempts. Morehead made 12 goals from field and Wesleyan 12.

The Eagles started strong and working the oval in carefully but an 18-7 advantage with the game 15 minutes old. In the last five minutes of the first half Wesleyan came strong and were behind by only 10-14 at intermission. Morehead matched basket for basket in the first ten minutes of the second period, but they could not stave off the Panthers spurt in the home stretch.

For the most part, Morehead played good ball. Wesleyan played one of their best games of the year with Taylor and Shelton pacing the way with 12 and 9 points respectively, probably deserved it.

Especially was the play of Taylor impressive as he played almost the entire last half with three personal fouls on him.

Lyle Oxley and "Carr-Creek" Johnson were the big guns for the Teachers. Oxley scored ten points and played the best floor game of the year. Johnson got seven marks and did his usual good defensive work. Parsley scored only two times when Wesleyan was pulling away and were beautiful one hand.

Lawrence Carter again led the Morehead freshmen to a defensive and rather easy victory over the Carter scored 18 points as the Wesleyan frosh in the preliminary. Eagles romped to a 32-19 victory.

The Wesleyan freshmen did not score a field basket in the first half, would not have made as many points as they did. Coach Scroggins had not substituted freely at the end of the game.

The line-ups:

Morehead	Frosh	Wesleyan	Frosh
McKinney (2)	F.	(2) David	F.
Pierre (4)	F.	(5) Wilson	F.
Carter (18)	C.	Reynolds	C.
Burton (0)	G.	(6) Combs	G.
Clark (3)	G.	(3) Hays	G.

Substitutes: Morehead, Owens, Wesleyan, Robbins, Linsey, Mullins, Osborne, I. Cecil, Officials: Kufahl and Senff.

The blue and gold flag of Morehead College is not waving so high this year as the school song would indicate. Rather it is almost at half mast.

Morehead has undergone their first year in S. I. A. A. football and are now embarking on their second in basketball. The Eagles failed to register a football victory in the conference, but did win in their two non-conference games. Last year's basketball team had a much better record with eight defeats and six wins.

What Morehead will do in basketball this year, is truly a matter of conjecture. If they play the same brand of game they did against Georgetown Wednesday they won't win a conference game unless their opponents fall dead. If ever a basketball team was bewildered, nervous and entirely off form it was Morehead in that game.

The idea of being held to a mere thirteen points is enough to cause a flimsy defense. The first half, fans were rapidly reviving their interest and support of the team.

If ever a group of followers felt critical of Morehead it was after that Georgetown match. If the visitors had better boys and superior material it would not have been so hard. The fans can easily forgive a team for being beaten by superior opposition. Morehead has man for man a better team than did Georgetown. At a time, however, Morehead did not have a player who put up as good a game as did Georgetown's worst.

Coaches who are starting their first year at various high schools in this section are very fortunate in this year.

Coach Begin at home, Austin Hildebrand is completing the second half of his initial season at the Morehead High School. His material in football was pitifully such so that it is doubtful if the Vikings would have eleven boys who could take the field. However, the Vikings, poor as the material appeared at the start of the basketball season, are showing effects of the "law of averages" as they go with Olive Hill indicated. Before the season is over they may be heard from yet.

Roy Holbrook transferred to Breckinridge High beginning with the 1935 school year. The football team for Breck was too small and didn't win a game. There is a much better outlook in basketball and football for next year.

At about the same mighty Breckinridge teams in past years, but as Lawrence Fraley embarks his coaching career, he begins in a tough spot, for at present Haldeman is the running star. The football team had the poorest sports year in history. Jack Atkins had little or no success at Louisa his first year, and now the townspeople are calling on them to bring Ralph Mills back. Charles Jurgensmeyer left Hitchens and his successor hasn't done much. Jurgensmeyer replaced Roberts at McKell and his first year there the Pullerton school was suspended from the Kentucky High School Athletic Conference. Ralph Mills went from Kentucky to Wayne West Virginia and the Wayne school had a disastrous football season.

Demoise is having fair success at Pritchard High, but he would probably be down with the rest of them if Grayson had had another football team.

Morehead Renews Eastern Feud Here Tomorrow At 7:45

All Local Basketball Teams Will See Action In Card Of 8 Games; Morehead Line-up May Be Changed To Meet Play Of Favored Maroon

BEREA MOUNTAINERS TO PLAY HERE ON MONDAY

Starting with the first games on the card, many can see clashes with Eastern as the weeks feature. For local fans these games are possibly the best and should attract the largest crowd. The Eastern varsity, with a good season so far, are so heavily favored over the Eagles, that it might prove a deeper sting if a Richmond team again demonstrates their superiority over Morehead.

The doubleheader basketball attraction which finds the undefeated Morehead Freshmen opposing the strong first year team of Berea College and the disappointing, Eagles against the Berea varsity at the college gymnasium is the headline on the next ten day court programme in Morehead and vicinity.

Eleven games are on the ten day card, and although the skeeds do not offer as much possible for the fans as the week just passed, there are some top-notch fives opposing Morehead teams.

Here is the schedule:

- Monday January 21
 - Eagles Vs. Berea Freshmen at College Gymnasium - 7:30
 - Eagles Vs. Berea College at College Gym - 7:45
- Friday January 25
 - Morehead High Vs. Pritchard at Grayson - 7:30
 - Haldeman Vs. Hitchens at Hitchens - 7:30
- Saturday Jan 26
 - Breckinridge Vs. Pritchard High at College Gym - 7:30
 - *Tentative. All games are Central Standary Time.
- Friday January 18
 - Eagles Vs. Eastern Freshmen at College Gym. - 6:30
 - Eagles Vs. Eastern at College Gym - 7:30
 - Breckinridge Vs. Soldier at Soldier - 7:30
 - Morehead High Vs. Boyd County at Cannonsburg - 6:30
- Saturday January 19
 - E. Vikings Vs. Ironton Corn Huskers at High School Gym
 - Breckinridge Vs. Ewing at College Gym. - 7:30.

Stringing along with Coach Downing in his predictions of a good year yet to come, the Eagles may throw their talons and beaks with such abandon against the invaders that Morehead's varsity may take their first decision from Eastern.

When Bill Scroggins sends his yearlings against the Eastern freshmen it should prove a different story. The Eagles are favorites and should win. Georgetown's freshmen who were beaten by one point in the last minute by the Morehead freshmen, expect to defeat the Baby Maroons which gives the men of Scroggins an advantage on dope. However, the Georgetown varsity

BRECK LOSES 26-17

Breckinridge Training School weakened in the last quarter and dropped a hard fought 26-17 decision to Boyd County High at the home of the game Saturday night.

The score was tied at 10-10 at the half, but Boyd took a three point lead in the third and increased it in the final quarter. Fitch was Breckinridge's outstanding player, scoring 10 points. W. Rice made 10 for Boyd and Sarszell and Jackson 8 each.

BASKETBALL PREVUES

HALDEMAN/HIGH SCHOOL

There is material, comparatively speaking, at the Haldeman High School. Fans who have been seeing good Haldeman teams this year, will have to take a dose of defeat in 1935. Coach Lawrence Fraley is beginning his first year at the Leopold school with a dismal outlook for a winner. Haldeman is building, and in seasons to come should reach their former plane.

The schedule with games already played:

Owingsville 6; Haldeman 2.

Sandy Hook 25; Haldeman 23.
