Registration Jump Is Anticipated At Morehead College

Enrollment Will Be Held In Gymnasium Monday, February 1

CLASS RECITATION SCHEDULE CHANGED

Prediction of Increase Based On Advance Reservations, Inquiries

An enrollment increase over a corresponding time last year at the Morehead State Teachers College for the second semester which opens Monday, February 1, was predicted today by officials of the school. They based their registration contention on the increased number of advance room reservations and inquiries which have been received.

Registration will be held in the gymnasium Monday, while classes will begin Tuesday. Dean William H. Vaughan points out that a fee at the rate of one dollar a day will be charged for late registrations.

The addition of a new Science building and a dormitory, which will be opened during the semester, provides the Morehead institution with more space to care for the larger second semester registration. Since these buildings are removed somewhat from other parts of the campus a new class recitation schedule has been adopted. Beginning with the second semester all classes will be of 50 minute duration, with 10-minute intermission periods.

There will be no 7 o'clock classes the second semester. First morning classes will start at 8 o'clock, and the last period recitations will be held from 4 to 4:45 in the afternoon.

Monday, February 8 is the last day to register for a full 16 hours. However, students may enter for a partial load and secure credit for registration. The date as Tuesday, February 9. Late registrations will be taken after that date.

Classes of the spring term, generally called mid-semester, starts Monday, April 5. Approximately 120 additional students are expected to enroll at that time.

The institution's total number of college students to well over the thousand mark.

The curriculum offerings at Morehead are varied. Students may pursue courses leading to the (1) Provisional elementary certificate; (2) the Standard Elementary certificate and the degree; (3) the Provisional High School certificate and the degree; (4) the Provisional certificate in Administration and Supervision and the degree; and (5) the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science.

Special Court Term Scheduled Jan. 27

A special term of Rowan Circuit court, which will be held but one case, is scheduled here for January 27, Circuit Court Clerk Joe McKinney said today.

The special term will be presided over by Judge John Noland, of Richmond, who heard further arguments in the civil action of the Graves Warehouse company, Inc. of Mayville vs. P. S. Howard et al.

The warehouse seeks to collect damages from Howard, resulting from a transaction in the buying of tobacco futures. A judgment has been awarded Graves Warehouse and has been sustained in the Court of Appeals. The present action is an attempt to set aside a deed made by Howard of his property.

Senate Passes Jr. College Measure

Governor Signs Bill Into Law; Plans Made For School At Ashland

A bill authorizing second class cities to establish and maintain, through taxation, junior colleges was passed in the Kentucky Senate last week, and signed into law by the signature of Gov. A. B. Chandler.

Meanwhile at Ashland, where the bill gained its impetus, business men are laying plans for the establishment of a two-year college in Ashland for the next year. The bill was introduced and sponsored in the Senate by Ira W. See, Louisville, Republican Senator from Ashland district.

Expected opposition, coming principally from state-supported schools of higher learning and church schools, did not develop.

The junior college bill was an administration measure.

Officials at the Morehead State Teachers College have predicted that the establishment of a two-year college at Ashland will curb the enrollment from Boyd, Greenup, Lawrence and a portion of Carter counties that are now conducting their own schools.

The local institution serves about 25 per cent of its students from this territory. It has been estimated.

So far as it is known, there are no plans for the establishment of a junior college, operating on city tax money, at any place in the state except Ashland. Practically all in this classification, but the nearness of Murray State Teachers College at Ashland, predicts that a junior college will not be located there.

Funeral Rites Held For Mrs. Berkley, 68

Last rites for Mrs. Hettie Berkley, 68, were held yesterday with burial at Stanford, Ky.

Mrs. Berkley dropped dead Monday morning of coronary obstruction (heart trouble) at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jane Anderson, here. She has apparently been in good health and her death was unexpected.

Mrs. Berkley had lived in Morehead for the last three years. She followed an occupation of dressmaker, following the death of her husband, W. E. Berkley. She was born in Madison county.

There are no other survivors in the immediate family than her daughter.

Governor Chandler Approves Measure Abolishing Merger

Jailer And Sheriff Will Be 2 Separate Offices As In Past

EXECUTIVE GIVES VIEW FOR SIGNING NEW BILL Omnibus Tax Repeal To Become Effective In Kentucky On June 16

All acts of the 1936 General Assembly's most recent special session—including the Jailer-Sheriff bill—received Gov. A. B. Chandler's approval Monday as he cleared his desk before leaving on vacation trip that will keep him from his office almost two months.

Among bills approved were the Jailer-Sheriff bill, the rural electric bill and the tobacco production control bill. Earlier the Governor had signed the unemployment compensation act and the act repealing the 1924 act levying the taxes on soft drinks, ice cream, candy, chewing gum, nuts and cosmetics.

In a prepared statement the Governor set out his reasons for signing the Jailer-Sheriff bill, which repeals the 1924 act providing abolition of the office of Jailer and its consolidation with the office of Sheriff at the end of this year.

Should the 1936 General Assembly again order consolidation of the two offices its action would not affect the 120 Jailers to be elected next November for four-year terms.

In a prepared statement, the Governor listed five reasons for having "deliberately approved" the bill, and asked for the "continued co-operation and approval" of "all of you who disagree" of the action taken.

"I have given most careful attention to the statements made both for and against the repeal of the measure," the statement read. "I have seen and read every word of it and my deliberate judgment that the consolidation act should be sustained and approved by the Governor."

The saving estimated to result from the proposed consolidation, the Governor stated, was "greatly exaggerated, and it is my belief that no real saving to the people under the bill would result."

"I do not believe it best," the Governor said, "that the Sheriff, who is the chief law officer in all of Kentucky's counties, should have both the power and the responsibility of the Jailer."

Precedent Broken As Garner Inaugurated

Precedent was broken at Washington, D. C. yesterday morning when Vice-President John Nance Garner of Texas, was sworn into office on the same platform as President Roosevelt took the oath. Heretofore the vice president has taken the oath at a private ceremony. Mr. Garner did not make a speech, although in the past, vice-presidents delivered a short address, at the inaugural ceremony. More than a quarter-million visitors were in Washington to witness the inauguration of the president and vice-president.

Two New Buildings To Be Opened Next Month At M.S.T.C.

Science Structure Will Reassemble 'Museum of Science' Plans Show

DORMITORY LOCATED AT EAST END OF CAMPUS

First Floor Given To Recreational Activities; Married Couples Accommodated

The new Science building at Morehead college, which will be opened the second semester, is the most spacious structure on the campus. It will house seven fields of science and was built at a cost of $175,000. The structure was made possible through a Federal loan-grant.

The building is 175 feet long and 74 feet wide, contains four complete floors. In it will be housed the departments of Agriculture, Biology, Chemistry, Geography, and Geology, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Mathematics and Physics.

The building is modern in every respect, having alternating direct current electricity, hot and cold water, gas and compressed air. One somewhat unique feature of the building is that any or all of the above services may be supplied for or removed from any room at a minimum expense. The front lobby will have a large bulletin board, a directory and a museum of science with each corridor is generously supplied with glass display cabinets.

The building was erected out of wall in which cabinets each department will display its own work. This will give the effect of a museum of science where the visitor has examined all floors. On the second floor is a massive pendulum which is built into the wall and which can be seen through glass windows. It is called a Foucault Pendulum after its famous French designer and it will show the rotation of the earth.

The new dormitory now being erected on the campus located a short distance east of the Training school and north of the tennis courts will consist of a building ready for occupancy the second semester. It is a four-story structure and will provide living space for a hundred number of cabin couples and for approximately 1500 men students. The building is a modern structure and equipment. Most of the student rooms will be on the second, third and fourth floors. The entire first floor will be devoted to recreational activities.

Good Manners Class Closes Next Week

"Fundamentals in Good Manners," will be the theme of the weekly meeting of the Good Manners class of Morehead to be held next Tuesday evening. Miss Egan Robinson will have charge of the discussion.

Mrs. Naomi Claypool led a discussion on "Weddings" at this week's meeting of the class.

The Good Manners course was added to the curriculum at the college at the beginning of the first semester. Its enrollment includes college students, faculty members and townspeople. Its prime aims are to teach manners and methods of social conduct and hygiene.

"The class has proved very successful, and the results obtained are worth the time and effort that has been expended," Dean William H. Vaughan, originator of the class, stated.

POLICE CHIEF WARNS TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

Acting Chief of Police Hiram Lee Roberts said today that all cars parked wrong will be tagged in the future. The policeman explains that during the last few weeks the officers had been lenient with traffic violators, but declared that henceforth the regulations which students, faculty members and townspeople. Its prime aims are to teach manners and methods of social conduct and hygiene.

Mr. Roberts pointed out the most usual violation in Morehead is a substantial increase, principally on the left side of the street.

MAN DECIDES ONE JAIL BREAK IS SUFFICIENT

Weaver Dyer decided Saturday night that one jail break was enough. The way was open for Dyer to walk out of the county jail Saturday night, when a group of masked men saved him, but he refused to leave.

Dyer was being held on charges of shooting and wounding with intent to kill and breaking jail at a previous time.

Jailer Offers $10 Reward For Capture Of Each Man Still At Large

FOUR REFUSE TO LEAVE AFTER LOCKS SMASHED

Jay Harmon, Morehead, Alleged Leader Of Outlaw Group

Two daring jail breaks were effected by prisoners in the Rowan county jail Friday and Saturday with five prisoners making their escape.

Those still at large are: Jay Harmon, Morehead, wanted on charges of robbing the I.G.A. Grocery and the Cut-Rate Grocery, and allegedly the leader of the break. Rhoda Elam, storehouse breaking. Dave Swimm, robbery and assault.

Martin Simpson, negro, charged with a $150 robbery of the Morehead Dispensary, also escaped, but was captured by officers at Ashland Monday and returned to Morehead by Sheriff of Rowan at Chief of Police H. L. Roberts.

According to the Sheriff and Jailer Sam Stamper, Harmon and Fugate effected their escape Friday night. They hid in a room part of the jail while Stamper was locking the prisoners in their cells Friday evening. After darkness they broke out by tearing bars out of a back window.

Harmon was wearing hand-cuffs at the time. He was confined in jail on a charge of drunkenness, but was in the "bull pen" instead of a cell Saturday night when he was wearing handcuffs. He was taken to the kitchen to enter the front door of the jail with a key.

After several unsuccessful attempts to open the door with the key, the men saw a bar out of a window and broke another lock on the door.

Commanding Watson not to make an out-try the men then managed to unlock the cell-block which broke another lock on the door.

"All of you that want out, come on," said the leader of the gang, before he led them to the door. According to Watson, Elam, Simpson, and Swimm left with him.

Prisoner James Harmon, who refused to leave the jail with him, was taken to the kitchen by Roscoe Stamper, held for check-up.

Weaver Dyer, shooting and wounding, breaking jail. Everett Bradley, assault and peace bond default.

A dragnet was immediately thrown out for the escaped prisoners, but efforts to locate any of them, except Simpson, failed. Officers were confident that all of them would be re-arrested within 48 hours.

Jailer Sam Stamper offered a $10 reward today for the return of each of the prisoners.

A FIGHT BEING WAGED AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

The wiping out of tuberculosis is absolutely not a humanitarian, a sentimental, a pious project. It is not to dry tears that it is demanded we do it. No, it is to balance the budget. It is not to soothe mass heartache. It is to pacify the taxpayers. It's no philanthropy to rub out every TB microbe. It's sound business. It's true economy. And we can prove it." So says Paul DeKruif in February County Gentlemen's address.

He says in substance: "If you think tuberculosis can't be gotten rid of...you are not fully informed. All you have to do is to utilize the present knowledge of medical science. Writing on what Detroit has done toward eradicating tuberculosis, he gives four points to be followed:

- (1) Organize your community; (2) Use the magic of the X-ray to find the infected people at the early, minimal stages of their sickness; (3) Get these death sprayers out of circulation...prevent them from sprinkling the "White Plague" upon others; and (4) Cure them with the help of the wonderful new "lung rest" treatment...give their "lung cavities a chance to heal permanently.

Detroit is leading the way towards stamping out this menace. They are spending an additional $200,000 annually to do it. Tuberculosis is not an act of God. It is a communicable disease. You will never catch "consumption" unless from somebody who already has it, now that milk and food are protected by public health measures. You can not get it in any other way.

T-B is spread by tuberculosis microbes discharged from open cavities in sick people's lungs. Caught in time, it is possible to close such cavities by one form or another of the marvelous new lung-rest treatment. Every patient cured, even deadly death-cloped, means one less spreader of the "white death." So before we can prevent tuberculosis we must cure those who have it.

This means that there are two jobs—To find everybody who has tuberculosis in an active form and to cure those who have tuberculosis.

It is interesting to note that Detroit has started the way toward eradicating tuberculosis. A drive has been started to find everyone in Detroit who has tuberculosis. Detroit figures that within 10 years they can change the tuberculosis population now hospitalized from 80 per cent advanced and 20 per cent early, to the reverse. Since on the average it takes half as long to cure an early case as it does an advanced one, within 10 years Detroit will be saving the taxpayers more than $1,000,000 a year in hospitalization costs alone.

Mr. Kruf and the County Gentlemen urge that all cities, communities, townships and counties take steps to combat tuberculosis. They predict that a nation wide battle against the "white plague" is not far distant. Time was when tuberculosis was considered incurable. Today, the advancement of science in combating this disease is portrayed in Detroit's humanitarian drive.

JUNIOR COLLEGE BILL PASSES WITHOUT DISSENSION

Without a dissenting voice a measure permitting second class cities to vote for the establishment and maintenance of a junior college passed the Kentucky legislature last week and was signed into law by Gov. A. B. Chandler.

In the news reports concerning the activities of the legislature this measure was crowded into the final sentence. But, that law will undoubtedly cost Morehead college hundreds of thousands of dollars which would ordinarily be spent here.

The bill was drafted by business men in Ashland. The measure is designed so that a college of this type may be established in Ashland. This college will be almost in the center of the radius from which the Morehead State Teachers College gets its heavy enrollment. It will cost Morehead college many students from the eastern edge of Carter county, from Greenup, Boyd, Lawrence, Johnson, Magoffin, and possibly other eastern Kentucky cities.

As editorially stated by the Independent some time ago, Kentucky is overcrowded with colleges, limiting the advancement that many of them might achieve with larger student bodies. Those who know and have made a study of the situation tell us that the establishment of the Ashland Junior College will, without question, cost Morehead students.

Our own senator voted for this measure. Others, who were apparently very friendly toward Morehead college, cast their vote for it. Morehead made no battle to keep this act from becoming law. It will be with regrets that in the future, we know that this bill passed without even a fight from those who should have been on the firing line for Morehead.

Morehead's enrollment must become greater from other sections of the state to offset the deficit that is bound to result from the Ashland region. That is a problem which must be faced and met by the administration of the Morehead school.

DOG TAXES SHOULD BE PAID BY OWNERS

The late Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, secured thousands of votes in his gubernatorial race with the platform, "Free Rover." This plank meant simply to cease the collection of dog taxes.

Old Rover has never been freed from these taxes and should never be. The money derived from dog taxes is used to partially repay sheep owners for the sheep that are killed by dogs.

It has been brought to our attention that only a small per cent of dog owners in Rowan county are meeting these taxes. The total will not reach five per cent. The sheriff has the authority to kill these dogs at any time. The price of a dog tag is comparatively small—one dollar for each canine—which is collected in their entirety would not pay for the total amount of damage that dogs do.

WORKABLE AUTOMOBILE COMPENSATION LAWS

Proposals for compulsory automobile liability insurance appear perennially when state legislatures meet. Fortunately for the public only one state, Massachusetts, has so far passed such a law—but there is always the danger that other states may take the step.

Compulsory insurance in Massachusetts—where it has been given a long and exhaustive test—has been almost a complete failure. In theory the law may be good, but in practice it has produced grave and apparently insoluble problems.

For example, since the passage of the act there has been a substantial increase in Massachusetts liability insurance rates. In large part due to the increased litigation of the act has caused. It is true that there have been increases in most other states as well—the inevitable result of a soaring accident toll—the Massachusetts' rise has been well above the national average.

Worst of all, perhaps, the act has caused a tremendous court congestion. At times the Massachusetts courts have been months behind in handling cases, it being physically impossible to keep up with suits filed. Beyond question, the act has provided the accident racketeer with a fertile field—as all Massachusetts-licensed cars are insured, he can file actions promising a verdict that in a percentage of cases he will collect. All motorists pay, through the cost of insurance, for this kind of racketeering.

It would seem that the solution to the liability question lies in financial responsibility laws—tried successfully in a number of states—under which a motorist guilty of an accident must pay any judgments against him, and provide for future judgments through insurance or a bond, before he is allowed to drive again. This law attains almost all the ends desired for compulsory insurance, and avoids the weaknesses and inequalities that have appeared in the working-out of the Massachusetts act.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE NECESSARY TO SAFEGUARD SAVINGS

With 45 legislatures and Congress holding sessions this year; with an ever-increasing demand for more taxes in every state to meet the high level of regular and extraordinary expenditures, and with social security and other sociological-economic legislative proposals to be considered, the need is more pressing in 1937 than ever before for wise counsel, says a release of the American Life Convention.

To watch the interests of life insurance policy holders, the convention has elected an outstanding insurance executive in each of 41 states to act as its state vice-president for the coming year. Their duties will be to warn against proposals that strike at the security of life insurance.

WHAT OTHER KENTUCKY EDITORS ARE SAYING

Old Age Assistance Not a Pension

Aged and needy persons in Fayette county have received $9,047.50 in checks since August 22, according to records of the State Department of Public Welfare. In the same period, such periods throughout the state received $227,115.95.

Inasmuch as this money is being paid out to enable the aged to buy food, clothing and fuel, pay rent and obtain other necessities of life, all communities benefit and burdens upon local cities are lightened. It is not to be assumed that old age assistance is providing all persons with an adequate living. The McCarthy-Ramey Old-Age Assistance act, passed in conformity with the Federal Social Security program, did not set up a system of pensions as many persons are misled. While the common conception of the law is that any person of 65 years of age or over is entitled to a pension of $15 per month regardless of need, this is an error. On the contrary, the law was passed to assist the aged and needy to supplement their other income, raising their standard of living generally. There are at present 347 such persons in Fayette county.

The state department is obliged to check carefully the needs of each applicant and to base assistance as closely as possible upon the condition of the applicant in relation to other applicants and the amount of money available. States which took the popular view of providing living assistance for the aged persons regardless of their maximum assistance for all could be found—were being forced, under terms of the Federal act, to de-liberalize their set-up and make need the basis of assistance. Such changes are unpopular, particularly so among those persons who desire a program of pensions based entirely upon age—a retirement plan. Such, however, is not the law.—The Lexington Herald.

THIS WEEK IN MOREHEAD

SHERIFF'S RACE: Although Sheriff Mort May says his office has paid him less during the last three years than he could make in private enterprise, the office is apt to prove one of the most sought-after in the county elections this year. The number of candidates will depend greatly on whether the legislature and the governor approve the measure consolidating the offices of sheriff and jailer.

Among the most talked of candidates for the office to date are: Democrats—Jess Caudill, who has served as deputy sheriff for seven years and was defeated by Mort May in the Democratic primary in 1933; Dan Parker, who held the office from 1929 to 1933; and Bill Carter, who now heads the highway work in Rowan. Republicans: Millard Moore, operator of the Morehead Distributing Company and John Adams, chief of police in Morehead.

All or none of these may run, but it is a better guess to say that most of them will be candidates. Caudill and Moore have already said they would make the race.

However, this is only a fractional part of the contestants, indicating that the dear old highways and by-ways of Rowan will be crowded with politicians seeking your vote, not only for the sheriff's place, but the other offices, which will be at stake.

AROUND TOWN: V. D. "Mike" Flood will attend the inauguration of a lion of President Roosevelt if he gets a lead for his car...Clearfield residents noted for Roosevelt and nine for London.

Kentucky Tobacco Marts Near Windup

Almost 15 Million Pounds Remain On All Floors In State

Burley tobacco markets in Kentucky face a quick windup of the selling season, with an estimated 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 pounds of burley remaining in the state. The twenty markets in the state have sold a total of 131,230,890 pounds for $52,181,697.73, an average of $39.76 a 100 pounds.

The price chart of the selling season has reflected an active and at times a rapidly changing market. All the last few days before Christmas, the market enjoyed a boom that carried nearly $50, and many exceeded this level.

Almost continuously since the reopening, January 4, prices have gone lower, until most market averages at the end of last week stood below $30, and some were below $20.

Sales will be held at the major markets until the supply is exhausted. Closing dates of most markets are indefinite. The Bloomfield market closed Friday. One warehouse has closed at Mt. Sterling, and the other will quit after Monday's sales. Greensburg is to close Wednesday.

Lexington has approximately 8,000,000 pounds on hand, enough for another week or ten days' selling. Cynthiana has about 750,000 pounds, and expects to close in about ten days.

Helps Farmers Get Conservation Money. When Pike county farmers were unable to cooperate in the agricultural conservation program, due to lack of funds, K. J. Day, Pikeville business man, purchased 798 pounds of grass seed for them.

As a result, each farmer will receive an average of $18.60 from the government, and from this sum will repay Mr. Day an average of $4.50 for seed. All of which means, says County Agent E. E. Lambert, that $762.00 came into the county, and farmers increased their pasture acreages and improved their soil.

Busy Year On Farm Says County Agent. Commenting that 1936 has been a busy year on the farm, County Agent W. E. Wiedeberg of Christian county says that intense farm activity continued well into the fall.

There has been more corn cut and shucked than more corn land sown to small grains, and more lime and phosphate used this year than ever before in the history of the county, he declared.

manufacturers as it is deficient in aroma and color and usually of poor burning quality. In view of the large crop in 1935, there were considerable unsold stocks of domestic tobacco on hand in the Belgian market at the beginning of the 1935 growing season and the area devoted to tobacco culture was reduced by 25 per cent. It is believed locally that the yield for the current year will be probably one-third more than in 1935. Increased consumption of domestic leaf was a factor in curtailing tobacco imports from the United States.

SHE STARTED SOMETHING

HISTORY would be richer if we had record of the first person who ever bought a commercial airplane, who ever drank a coca-cola, or the first to climb up a commercial skyscraper—but those "firsts" are lost. Here is a first—one Miss Emily Horn of Edgewood Park, Ill.—that won't be lost to history. Miss Horn drove her car around the corner to a service station and was the first person to buy one of the new glass-clad batteries. Since that time, less than three months ago, nearly 100,000 more of these batteries have been purchased by housewives, doctors, grocery clerks, lawyers and others in every walk of life. They were originally designed to operate drawbridges, battleships, submarines and airplanes but have been adapted to automobile use under the name of kathanode, and are guaranteed to last you over your car's life span. They have been purchased to revive everything from a 1914 Pierce Arrow to late model low priced cars.

Masked Men Lead County Jail Break

Additional charges of jail-breaking and banding together to commit a felony will be lodged against the escaped prisoners, and any of the masked band if they are arrested, Judge Jennings said.

BELGIUM GREW 17,000,000 POUNDS OF TOBACCO

Fostered by the government, Belgium's tobacco-growing industry has been making substantial progress, reports received in the Louisville District office of the Commerce Department indicate.

The yield of locally-grown tobacco in 1935 on 7,200 acres amounted to approximately 17,000,000 pounds, 40 per cent in excess of 1934 and exceeding that of any post-war year. The quality of the 1935 crop, reports, show, was considered better than average. Belgium's domestic tobacco crop is used entirely in blends for pipe-smoking or home made cigarettes. Jean Arthur Has Film Feature Role

'Adventure in Manhattan,' To Be Shown Friday At College Theatre

'Adventure in Manhattan,' is the feature at the College Friday. Jean Arthur and Joel McCrea both at the peak of their respective careers, promise one of the most engaging screen teams since the Gable-Colbert rumpus that happened one night. Their diverting adventures run the range of high comedy and gripping melodrama with an engaging romance deftly entwined in the surprise-packed plot.

'Adventure in Manhattan,' recalls the exciting escapades of a prominent detective story author who presumes to predict the theft of various art and jewel treasures. Furthermore, he is assigned by a newspaper to write about these crimes-to-be in a series of special articles. It is then that he meets Jean Arthur, star of a play still in production, and launches the adventures that carry the two through every conceivable romantic and melodramatic complication that two young lovers on Broadway could possibly get into.

McCrea appears as the redoubtable young mystery author with Reginald Owen seen as the suave criminal genius who poses as Miss Arthur's theatrical producer in order to camouflage his carefully planned thefts. Also seen in the particularly strong cast are Herman Bing, Thomas Mitchell, Victor Killian and John Galloway. Edward Ludwig directed.

A young boy's attempt to escape the luxurious but inhospitable surroundings of a Yankee grandmother's mansion in New York to return to a Negro mammy's humble cabin New Orleans where he was reared, provides a situation of dramatic intensity in 'Rainbow on the River,' Bobby Bren's current musical vehicle. Cast in the Principal Production as a golden-voiced orphan whose Southern parents were victims of the Civil War, the brilliant boy lyric tenor has a role which offers him rare dramatic opportunities, as well as numerous occasions to display his amazing voice in song selections ranging from Negro spirituals and classical numbers to modern popular music.

May Robson is seen as the austere, rebel-hating grandmother, while Leona Beavers is cast as a devoted colored slave whose sudden emancipation does not alter her love for her young 'white marster.'

Davis And Tatum Added To Vikings

The Morehead High school Vikings rank as contenders for the regional basketball championship if things pan out as Coach Roy Holbrook has planned them.

The Vikings could do little better than break even in first semester matches, but Holbrook has two boys in Charles Tatum and Milton Davis, who clear the six-foot mark with inches to spare, which he will throw against the Green and White's opposition hereafter.

Both will add power to the Vikings under the basket. Davis is especially fast and a good scorer. Tatum, who appeared awkward in last year's play, is now a fairly smooth working player.

Morehead High's probable starting lineup at Catelettsburg Saturday will see Davis and Tatum at forward; Foley at center, and a Butcher and Barker, guards.

LIBELLED

Synopsis—Bill Chandler, engaged by Warren Haggerty, managing editor of the New York Star, to quash a $5,000,000 libel suit brought against the paper by Connie Allenbury, tries to frame Connie into a situation similar to the one printed by the paper while returning from London on the same ship.

gerty's fiancée, so she can file an alienation suit against Connie, and then get a divorce and marry Haggerty. Chandler knows nothing of fishing, so Haggerty sends an instructor to the hotel. By using certain golf strokes, Chandler makes a lousy cast, arousing the instructor's admiration. Gladys is piqued at Chandler for his indifference to her, his bride.

As Mr. Allenbury and Bill Chandler stepped into the living room of the Allenbury lodge, a huge room with fireplace, double sofas, and a wide staircase leading to the balcony and the various bedrooms, the door of the trophy room opened. Framed in it stood Connie Allenbury in a fetching tailored negligee. "Hello, Dad! Surprised?"

Bill's eyes gleamed as she kissed her father, his mind feverishly at work laying out a plan to compromise her. "I certainly didn't expect to see you here," said her father. "I thought I'd just come up and see that the place was in order."

to his distorted vision. Madly he plunged after the rod, the book forgotten. Sprawling in the stream bruised and bewildered, he managed to grab the bend. He was dragged a few feet, but held on for dear life, made a grab at an overhanging bough of a tree. The fish pulled on the rod, and Bill felt as though he were on the rack. Finally he managed to right himself, but the fish pulled madly at the rod, and Bill perforce followed it downstream, around the bend.

Suddenly, Connie perceived the fish, followed by the rod and by Bill, and gave an excited yell. "Feel him!" cried Mr. Allenbury in great excitement. "No, give him more! Now reel him!"

Morehead Topples Centre By 41 to 39

After blowing an early 16 point lead, and allowing Centre College to shoot at 28-35 after four minutes of play in the second half, Ellis Johnson's Morehead college Eagles staged a comeback to defeat the Colonels 41-39 in a grand raising K.I.A.C. struggle at the local gymnasium Monday evening.

It was not Lawrence Carter nor Stanley Arzen, the Eagle scoring ace of former games, who led the attack that brought Morehead its eighth win and the fifth with in the conference. Monday night it was James Ishmael, of Mt. Sterling, who left bewildered Centre players strewn in his path from basket to basket.

At this stage Morehead, controlling the ball on nearly every tip-off, started a scoring rally that gave them an 18-4 lead after 10 minutes of play. Horton started the spree by dribbling for a close shot. Ishmael hit again and Arzen dropped in a long one and Carter made good on a try under the basket. Ishmael dropped in another basket before Campbell broke the Teachers' rally with a one-handed push-in.

Smith made it 20-4 with a field goal. Centre's shooting began to have effect at this stage and Cooper hit two field goals and a pair of foul points and Alexander a beauty from the side to cut Morehead's margin to 20-2. From then on the first half was an even battle, with Morehead ahead 25-19 at intermission.

Centre rapidly overcame this deficit at the start of the second half to go into the lead for the first time. Cooper and May sank two field goals apiece and Ishmael a foul point to tie the basket to send the Eagles into a 31-29 lead which they never relinquished.

Morehead rapidly ran the score to 37-31 but failed to reckon with the comeback qualities of the Colonels team. With three minutes of play remaining Morehead was ahead 40-35 but Fitzpatrick hit a field basket and Cooper scored two foul points to cut the margin to one point. Red Smith sank a foul point half a minute before the game ended to give Morehead the two-point victory.

In Fitzpatrick and Cooper, the Centre club had two polished ball players who brought the most glory to Morehead. Cooper made his shots from close under the basket while Fitzpatrick generally broke away from his guard and took a long pass under the basket on his scoring spree.

Carter and Arzen had numerous shots but could not cash in on them as they did in the fore part of the season. Morehead made 17 field goals and 7 of 12 free throws. Centre gathered 16 field goals and 7 of 12 gratis tosses.

Centre plays Marshall at Huntington tomorrow night. Morehead goes to Louisville Wednesday and meet the Eagles. Maroon comes Saturday in the week's K.I.A.C. feature engagement.

The lineups: Morehead: 1. F. 10, Centre shmael, 17. F. 10, Fitzpatrick Arzen, 7. F. 10, Royalty Carter, 7. C. 10, Cooper Horton, 6. G. 5, Campbell Smith, 4. G. 6, May Substitutions: Morehead—Kiser, Cassidy, Centre—Alexander, 4, Bell 1. Official: Cover. Half score: Morehead 25; Centre 19.

Local Clubs Fare Well Last Week, Winning 6, Losing 1 Tilt

Morehead basketball teams were victorious in seven of eight games played during the week, as the college topped three K.I.A.C. opponents, Morehead High defeated Sandy Hook and the Breckinridge Training school won two of its three encounters.

The college Eagles won over Wesleyan 38-30 and Transylvania 35-29. Breckinridge won handily from West Liberty 34-15 and Haldeman 31-16, but lost a hard fought battle to Paintsville 33-25. Breckinridge Junior High club added another scalp taking Haldeman's B club 25-14. The Morehead High B team run up the season's most lopsided score, defeated Sandy Hook 22 to 1. In another game a group of Independents defeated Morehead High 17 to 15. This was a match to get Roy Holbrook's second semester team in trim for conference competition to come.

Teachers Pressed to Defeat Transy

Although far off form, Ellis Johnson's Morehead Eagles closed with sufficient strength at Lexington Friday evening to vanquish the Transylvania Pioneers 35-29.

For the Eagles seventh consecutive victory, it was Transylvania's eighth defeat this year. Morehead went into the game expected to win as they pleased, but the Pioneers furnished stiff opposition for 35 minutes of the ball game. The lead changed frequently during the first half, which was tied at 17 when the permission gong sounded.

Until the last three minutes of play neither team led by more than four points. In Trover, Transy forward, the Eagles had their hands full. This Transy to Wesleyan's first year club and a 35-22 loss to Transylvania during the week. The Eagles are expected to be no match for the Kittens this evening. This Transy

In other games during the coming week Eastern plays at Morehead Saturday evening in the feature engagement on this week's K.I.A.C. play. Both clubs are undefeated, and are in a virtual tie for first place in the conference. In the general standings Morehead is tied with Murray for first place with seven victories apiece.

The college will take a week's vacation, following the Eastern games, for examinations. Their next scheduled game is at Danville against Centre February 1.

Next Tuesday's Breckinridge plays Washington High, pride of Northern Kentucky, here. This should be one of the best high school engagements that will be played here this year. Morehead High, which played Camargo last night, goes to Cateletburg Saturday and entertains Boyd County High here next Wednesday. Morehead High will have a stronger club than during the first semester, with the addition of several new players to the lineup.

ahead, 13-11, and at this point Carter and Arzen entered the game. Arzen's foul loss made it 14-11. Murphy scored from the side for Transy but the Eagles took a 17-13 lead on foul shots by Carter, Horton and Kiser. Trover dropped in two craps in the last two minutes of the half to send the teams off the floor with 17 points each.

Carter's two baskets in the first four minutes of the second period put Morehead ahead again but Moore's long shot and two fouls Trover knotted the count. Arzen hit a crisp but Trover matched it with a pivot shot to the score of 23-23. Carter made a foul and a crisp but quick success and the Eagles never relinquished the lead thereafter.

In the closing minutes Transy had tough luck on its shots or the Pioneers might have vanquished their favored foes. The lineup:

teams rarely go through a season without defeat. How does Johnson do it? The secret we believe lies in two or three things that he possesses that we would like all to have. Everybody likes Johnson. The men who play under him are ready to give everything he asks. He knows the game, especially basketball. He works hard. He sizes up his opponents and builds his attack and defense accordingly.

Personality—Johnson has more of it than any person we ever know of. Coaches, players, fans, sports writers and officials all have only the best to say of Ellis Johnson.

Ability—Johnson carries that. He started a sports career when he was at Ashland High school. He led the Ashland Falcons to three state basketball titles and in 1928 he was the cog in the wheel that carried them around which they revolved when they won the national basketball championship.

Did you know that the first losing football game was his freshman year at Kentucky? We all know that Ashland's schedule included the greatest teams in the United States—inter-sectional high school battles against every club that had completed a great record. And the club that Ellis led brushed them all aside.

Did you know that his football at the University, however, he did play three years of varsity football, being in every minute of every game when he was not injured.

Adolph Rupp made a great defensive guard out of Johnson instead of a high scoring player as he had been at Ashland. Rupp had a bunch of good scorers on his club so he used Johnson as the man to do most of the passing and to keep the team cool when they needed his steady influence.

Johnson's last year at State, the University went through its Southeastern tournament with ease. For three years Johnson directed the Kentucky basketball team. The time is not far off when Morehead will menace the bigger colleges and universities if Johnson continues at the pace that he set in 1936. There is none who can challenge the mythical honor of the outstanding sports achievement that Johnson holds for 1936. The pace that his basketball team is now setting indicates a continuance through 1937 of the brilliant record he has built up at manhood.

Toy imports into the United States in the same period were valued at $2,248,889, an increase of 19 per cent. Canada was our leading foreign market buyer, valued at $2,248,889, an increase of 19 per cent. South America imported 38 per cent more.

Eagles Top West Liberty, Haldeman, Drop Paintsville Game

By BILLY ROGGE The Eagles of Bobby Laughlin came out on top during the last week of Commonwealth of Kentucky during the good year of 1936 unanimously goes to Ellis Johnson, who has answered himself with laurels and distinction in his first year at the Morehead State Teachers College.

Ellis has had a habit of attracting sports attention in the south and especially in Kentucky for so many years that his performance this year was expected by many. However, those who are "in the know" at Morehead were the first to predict that he would be generally agreed that it would be impossible to make a winning team in the cellar of Kentucky for so long that anytime the Eagles won a game it was "new" the same variety as "man bit dog."

The prospects were not good; the schedule was difficult; the season was limited in number, size and experience; the spirit was bad for many years and the spirit at Morehead was depending did not help matters any.

Yet, Ellis Johnson, assisted by Len Miller took that squad of 24 and on 25 and when the smoke of the grid season had cleared they had lost but one game—that of three or four tough breaks to Murray which was the first game of the season. That record gave the Eagles the best record in the state. Spirit—the team had it aplenty. It was the hardest battling club that we have ever seen. Outweighed in every game but one, this Morehead team composed principally of sophomores, played crafty football and won. They showed signs of good coaching. They clicked. K.I.A.C. circles started taking notice of Morehead and the praise of Johnson and Miller, and his gallant group of Eagles were being sung from one end of the state to the other before the season was finished.

As this is being written Morehead is well on its way to taking the basketball title in the K.I.A.C. The team is at the top today with eight victories and no defeats. Who will best Morehead? That is a question that none of the boys can answer. No doubt they will lose a game or two, for basketball

Now, in the pregnant moment, deeply still... Before the opening bar has yet been played... When hovering bows are poised with quiet skill... And hushed expectation over all is laid... For hope of beauty born of haunting themes... Brought forth, from strings with fingers nimble and agile... When lifting bows weave music into dreams... The silence heaves and shatters with a thrill... As, from behind its waiting ambulance, the music bursts to life with trill on trill... Of glorious notes in sudden fullness... The violins sing gaily, undismayed... Though in viola's voice a teardrop gleams... And cello glows with passion unalloyed... When lifting bows weave music into dreams... I close my eyes and sit there, prim and still... Lest by a move of mine the dreams be frayed... And while the notes their silver music spill... Over my heart in riotous cascade... I feel my body slowly, slowly fade... Till there is nothing left of me, it seems... But strings that quiver where a hand is laid... When lifting bows weave music into dreams... (But strings that quiver where a hand is laid) O, you who left my life twixt changing themes... Can you not hear my soul to you conveyed... When lifting bows weave music into dreams? —ALICE LARSON.

man acting both as sheriff and jailer.

"The only difference that would result" from the proposed merger of the two offices, the Governor declared, "is that the people would not elect" a jailer, but the Sheriff would appoint a deputy sheriff who would in effect be jailer and "each county would still be compelled to have a jailer."

The present administration, the statement continued, should attempt "the complete reorganization of the county governments" and the legislative council will be asked to make a survey with that reorganization in mind.

The Governor said he believes "all county officials necessary to the performance of public duties should be paid a salary consistent with the duties they are required to perform."

Of the tobacco production control bill—which does not become operative until similar legislation is enacted by other tobacco-growing states, the Governor said the Legislature "made an earnest and conscientious effort to provide a bill that would be effective" and would "safeguard the interests of the large and small growers."

In a second prepared statement, the Governor called on the public to co-operate in enforcement of the "omnibus" tax bill until the date of its final repeal, April 18.

"It must be emphasized," the statement put, "that the tax is due and payable on all sales prior to the repeal date."
