Three Persons Hurt When Auto Crashes Into Pickup Truck

Three persons were injured Sunday night when their car plowed into the rear of a pickup truck which apparently had stopped on U.S. 60 just east of farm.

As a result of the accident, the occupant of the truck, Johnny Hamon, 50, of Westfield, has been charged with being drunk in public and obstructing a highway.

Injured were Coleman Purvis Jr., 35, of Salt Lick, Arnold Steele, Jeffersonville, Ky, and Lois Steele, a student at Morehead State College.

Purvis is patient at St. Claire Medical Center where tests are being run to determine the extent of his injuries. Lois Steele, who sustained lacerations about the face, was released Wednesday, and Arnold Steele was discharged Monday.

The car being driven by Mary EllenHenson, 50, of Olive Hill, crashed into the rear of a vehicle which had stopped in a line of traffic on U.S. 60, south of Morehead Sunday.

Officers said the driver of the station wagon, Jerry Lewis of Bristle, Ky., had stopped in a line of traffic for a lead car to make a left turn.

The Henson woman came over asphalt side in the road and was unable to stop. She sustained 36 feet. 37-year-old Marvin Jennings said.

FAA Grants $45,800 To Airport Board
The Federal Aviation Agency this week made available $45,800 toward the construction of the airstrip at the Morehead-Rowan County Airport.

The Federal grant, along with State and local funds, will enable the Airport Board to bid the top of the 3,000-foot runway, making that total facility an all-weather one.

Two Men Killed in Auto Mishap, Bodies Discovered 12 Hours Later

Two men were killed instantly when their car plunged off Ky. 519 south of Clearfork last Wednesday night, but their bodies lay undiscovered for more than 12 hours.

Victims of the wreck were Larry M. Forman, 26, of Morehead, and Don Lambert, about 35, of Richmond.

The pair apparently were the victims of excessive speed, Rowan County Coroner Buck Jones said.

Bodies of the two were found about 1:00 p. m. Thursday by a passing truck driver, Wayne Pettit, and a passenger, Gary Gregory.

Gregory told the coroner he glanced into a heavily wooded area on the south side of Clark Mountain and saw two bodies in the area of the 1965 model car. Investigation disclosed that both men had been thrown from the hardtop.

The mishap apparently took place about 8:00 p. m. Wednesday. A nearby resident, James Law, told the coroner she heard a crash about that time, but dismissed it from her mind when there was no additional commotion.

Officers said the car left the road and hurtled some 90 feet in the air before striking an embankment.

It had skidded 165 feet on the blacktop and 75 feet along the shoulder of the road before leaving the ground. After striking the embankment the vehicle overturned several times before stopping. Parts of the car were found 300 feet away, Kentucky State Police Sergeant J. D. Cox said.

Both Forman and Lambert were employees of a Lexington automobile company. They had been visiting Forman's brother, Douglas, and were returning from his home when the accident took place.

Active pallbearers were Phil Hardin, Henry Roark, Ott Roark, Clifford Wade, Woodford Clark and Elbert Cox.

MSC Grads Show 'Staying Tendency'

A larger percentage of Morehead State College graduates have remained in Kentucky than any other public institution of higher learning in the state.

The figures are found in a recent study of the 1964 and 1959 graduating classes of the five state colleges and University of Kentucky by the Council on Public Higher Education.

Seventy-eight percent of the Morehead graduates in 1964 now reside in Kentucky, with 13 percent at residence outside of Kentucky and the remainder of nine percent are unknown.

The holding power increased in the class of 1959 with 82 percent of the graduates now living in Kentucky while 13 percent have out-of-state residences and five percent are on the unknown list.

1964 Death Toll Nears '63 Mark
Two fatalities recorded last Thursday on Ky. 519 raised to seven the traffic death toll in Rowan County for 1964.

During all of 1963 only eight traffic deaths were recorded. The 1964 toll stands at 45, compared with only 37 for 1963.

During all of 1963 only eight traffic deaths were recorded. The 1964 toll stands at 45, compared with only 37 for 1963.

Other survivors are: a son, Larry Forman Jr., Morehead; two brothers, Douglas Forman, Morehead, and Kenneth Forman, Shelby, O.; and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Armstrong, Marksville, Ind.

The maternal grandmother, Mrs. Berna Hall of Farmers also survives.

Forman was born June 28, 1929, a son of Goldman and Gladys Hall Forman, both of whom survive.

Halloween To Be Limited To Saturday Night Here

Morehead Police Chief Callis Coyle doesn't want to be a spoiler, and he doesn't want to ruin anybody's legitimate fun.

But, he warned this week, vandalism in the guise of celebrating Halloween is going to face a hard row in the city this year.

Coyle said officers have been instructed to dispense what appear to be loving hands of young people who appear bent on Halloween mischief, and that the police department will attempt to limit traditional "trick or treat" activity to Halloween night (Saturday).

The chief said any action of this sort will be frowned upon and youngsters who engage in it will be ordered off the street, except on Saturday.

'Hedge Hog' Rocket Found Near Farmers

A deadly-looking object found in the yard at the home of Jerry Perry, near the Rowan-Bath County line last Thursday, has been identified as a "Hedge Hog" anti-personnel rocket by Army ordnance experts.

Designed to scatter shrapnel over a wide area, the explosive was discovered Thursday morning by Perry, who told Kentucky State Police he has no idea where the piece of armament came from.

Although discovered to be inactive, the three-foot long, three-inch diameter rocket was defused by Lt. William Graham and Specialist Edward Beckham, both of Ft. Knox, who were flown to Morehead for the task after being notified by State Police.

The object was in a cardboard container and had six-inch fins. Army ordnance experts discount the possibility it might have come from an aircraft, and an infantryman to believe the weapon could have fallen from a truck or could have been a souvenir which was discarded.

Democrats Name 4 To Campaign Posts

Four additional appointments to campaign posts within the Democratic party in Rowan County were announced here today.

Mrs. Homer (Ada) Gregory has been selected to head the local women's section of the Democratic effort for Johnson and Humphrey, while Leland Hall was tapped as farm chairman and Russell Barker is the veterans' chairman for the campaign.

At the same time, Commonwealth's Attorney Elijah M. Rogge has been selected as chairman of lawyers for Johnson-Humphrey in the county.

Hogge's appointment was announced by John Beckridge of Lexington, state chairman of lawyers for Johnson-Humphrey, while the other three were named by Bruce Betts, chairman of the Rowan County campaign committee.

Fall Recreation Plan To Offer A Variety

Morehead and Rowan County's fall-winter recreation program, in the process of being organized, will include everything from archery to music appreciation, it was disclosed today.

Peter Verhoven, supervisor for the Morehead-Rowan County Recreation Association, said the schedule, while incomplete, would include:

Archery, taught by Ronnie Back, a graduate assistant at Morehead State College; industrial arts and crafts, conducted by Ronald Hart of MSC; women's trimmings, given by Ann Pemberton, golf instruction by a member of the MSC golf team, and these other activities—classes in Home Economics, teen dances, wrestling, photography, square dancing, tumbling and gymnastics, bridge tournament, a county horseshoe contest, tennis lessons, a costume, a drama workshop and music appreciation.

Verhoven pointed out that Rowan County is one of only 25 in Kentucky which has what can be classified as full-time recreation programs.

School Board Races Enlivens Election; 5,000 May Vote

Rowan County voters—an estimated 4,500-5,000 of them—will treat to the polls next Tuesday in a section of officials ranging from president of the United States to school board members.

Ballot voting will come as a climax to a quiet presidential election campaign as has been seen here in many years, but campaign which has been enlivened by at least one—and possibly two heated races for seats on the Rowan County Board of Education.

In at least two sections of the county—the extreme eastern and extreme western—political activity between Democrats and Republicans has been overshadowed by the school board fight.

Rowan County will find three parties on the presidential ballot—the Democrats, headed, of course, by Lyndon B. Johnson and Hubert Humphrey, the Republican vote being split by John F. Kennedy and William Miller, and the vote being split between the party, whose presidential candidate is John Kasper and whose vice presidential nominee is H. B. Swoyer.

Also to be chosen Tuesday is a member of Congress from the Seventh District.

The Democratic nominee is incumbent Carl D. Perkins of Hindman, who is completing his eighth term in the House of Representatives.

Seeking to oust the Knott County Democrat is Walter C. Van Orso of Johnson County, who troubled two opponents, in the primary for a surprise win.

Both Democrat and Republican party leaders are optimistic about Tuesday's outcome. As is standard in such situations, predictions of victory are issuing from both camps.

Immediate past performance, however, gives the edge to the Democrats.

The public standard-bearer Louis F. Bunn gained a 12-0 vote in the Rowan County in last year's gubernatorial race.

Senator Thurston B. Morton edged out Wilton Wyatt in the 1962 general election by 47 votes.

The late John F. Kennedy carried the Rowan County in the 1960 presidential election, losing the county to Richard Nixon.

In the same 1960 general election, Senator John Sherman Johnson carried the county by a majority over Democrat Ken Johnson.

The last Democrat to carry Rowan County in a statewide election was Bert Combs, who amassed a 48-5 vote margin in his 1955 general election campaign.

And the last Democrat to carry it in a presidential election was Adlai Stevenson in 1952.

Therefore, history and precedent would appear to be on the side of the Republicans.

However, Democrats have campaigned hard on the stand of Senator Goldwater in relation to farm policy—regarded as the key issue in this area—and they maintain that the campaign has been effective.

Perkins, who commands bipartisan support in Rowan as well as other counties in the Seventh District is regarded as expected to receive a majority over Vanhose, who is making his first run for political office.

School board elections traditionally have been non-partisan, but this year finds party politics involved to a certain extent—but the depth of this involvement is difficult to ascertain.

Basically, the situation is this: Superintendent of Schools Clifford Cassidy has become the central issue at least one district, that encompassing Easton No. 8 and Pine Grove No. 12.

The incumbent member of the board of education member Emerit Binion is faced with a challenge from James (Mickey) Madden, who, despite public protestations to the contrary, is probably expected to be opposed to Cassidy's future re-election with the schools.

Binion, who is completing his sixth term on the board of education, is favorable to Cassidy.

In the other school board race, Longtime board member Fred Calvert is opposed for reelection by Rob Allen, a newcomer to public standpoint, neither man has taken as forthright a stand as has Binion and Madden.

Allen and Calvert are running in the division which includes Farmers No. 2 and Farmers No. 4.

A third member of the board, Morehead businessman Frank Hovey, is unopposed for reelection. He represents Morehead.

W. A. Brown, 22, Claimed On Monday

William Arthur Brown of the Tar Flat section of Rowan County was dead on arrival at St. Claire Medical Center Monday. He was 22.

No cause of death has been established, Coroner Buck Jones said Wednesday, but he reported that the youth had been suffering from rheumatic fever.

Also surviving are these brothers and sisters: Woodrow Brown, James Brown, Arvel Brown and Mrs. Seulah Hart, all of Morehead; Milford Brown, Hillsboro; Paul Brown, Ft. Bragg, N. C.; Mrs. Minerva Cox, Plummer's Landings; Mrs. Thelma Lowe and Mrs. Amy Reynolds, both of Hindman, Ind.; Mrs. Edna Reynolds, Whiteside, O.; and Mrs. Myra Myers, Ridgefield, Miss.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Lane Funeral Home. Rev. Russell Reynolds officiated.

Burial was in Eldridge Cemetery.

Blood Visit Set Here Wednesday

The fall visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Morehead is scheduled for next Wednesday in the Recreation Room at Doran Student House.

Hours are 10 a. m. - 4 p. m.

Over 300 units of blood were used by our people during this last year. "Blood Program John Collins said, in announcing the visit. "Our quota for this year is 365, anticipating an even greater need."

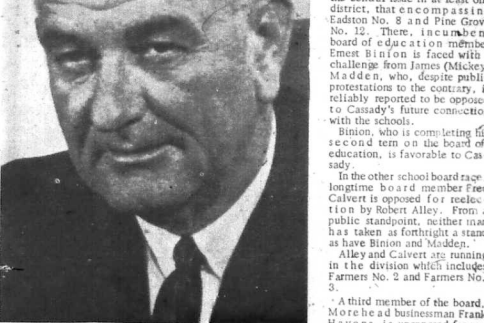

This is one program that is invaluable because we are working with a product that can only be obtained through the consideration of one for another," Collins declared.

Many people have given blood on emergency call at St. Claire Medical Center, the chairman pointed out, but more people are needed to present themselves as ready and willing to help with this responsibility in the community.

"Come to the Student House," Collins asked, "and present yourself ready to assist in our effort to provide our friends with 'life' in a bottle."

Burley Support Set At $58.90 Per 100

Burley tobacco will go to market, in 1964-65 auction beginning Nov. 30, with an average support price of 58.9 cents a pound, an increase of six-tenths of a cent, or one percent, above the overall support level of 58.3 for the 1963 crop.

On the basis of a hundred pounds, this is an average support price of $58.90 a hundred, a rise of 60 cents above the figure for last year's crop. Eligible burley tobacco is taken under price supports when it falls to bring a price above the support figure of a cent or more per pound--or a dollar or more per hundred pounds--for its particular grade designation.

The support price for burley, as well as for other eligible kinds of tobacco, is determined through a formula, which works like this: The support level is determined by comparing the average of parity index for the three preceding calendar years with the 1959 support level in accordance with the percentage of change between the two periods.

(The parity index is the index of prices paid by farmers, including interest, taxes, and farm wage rates.)

support price will be reflected by gain in various grade categories for the 1964 sales season. The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association administers the price support program for burley in five states--Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Missouri.

The acreage control-support price phases constitute the "tobacco program" and each is vital to the other in keeping the tobacco production industry economically healthy. Current procedure for determining the support price is specified in a law which froze the support for burley, for instance, at the 1959 level of 57.2, where it stayed, under provisions of the law, for two years. After that two years, 1960 and 1961, adjustments were made through the index comparison formula--as they will be made for the 1966 and future burley crops.

ON HOME MORTGAGES
Foreclosure of homes financed with FHA-insured mortgages are running at an all-time high. The same is true for home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. Spokesmen for both agencies call it an adjustment toward normalcy and the result of closed military bases or industries.

Group Therapy Includes Play

BOYS in the Department of Child Welfare's new camp for mildly delinquent youngsters at the Woodbend tree nursery in Morgan County work, study, play and discuss their problems together in small groups. The Woodbend camp was dedicated recently with U.S. Representative Carl Perkins of Kentucky's Seventh Congressional District as principal speaker. The installation, which cost $155,000, is an all-purpose steel structure of colorful panels. Located on a knoll near the Licking River, near West Liberty. The single building includes living facilities, and kitchen. The first group of 12 boys is now in residence.

'64 Crop Contains Apples Enough For Pies For All

Enough apples to make an apple pie for every person in the world--that's how many apples U.S. growers are harvesting this year. According to the latest forecast more than 144 million bushels of apples will be harvested in the United States this year, says Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension marketing specialist.

This year's apples are excellent in quality and color, although those from certain areas may be smaller than usual due to dry weather. Whether you want to make apple pie or apple sauce, eat a raw apple as a snack, or cook apples in any of a hundred other ways, this is a good time to buy apples at your local store, Mrs. Jasper notes.

Apples now on the market in the West eating condition are Jonathans, McIntosh, Golden, Golden, and Red Delicious. The best varieties to buy now for cooking purposes are Wolf River, Cortland and York. Other varieties, such as Rome, Stayman, Winesap, Western Red, and Golden Delicious, are now available, but will be better for eating purposes later in the season.

Home care and storage of apples is important, Mrs. Jasper points out. Mellow-ripe apples can be stored in the refrigerator for short periods of time--up to two weeks. Store them in a covered container or plastic bag so they will not mix flavors with other foods in the refrigerator.

Firm apples that are not quite ripe can be kept at 60-70 degree temperatures in a dark, moist place for short periods. For longer storage, they should be placed in a dark, moist storage area where the temperature is 40 degrees or below. Check stored apples often and sort them carefully, she recommends.

Mrs. Jasper gives these facts to remember when buying apples. An average apple contains 85-95 calories, some vitamin A and vitamin C. A bushel of apples yields 96 to 144 apples, a peck gives 24-36 apples, and a pound 2-3 apples. For a 9-inch pie, you'll need 6-8 apples. A bushel of apples yields 16-20 quarts of apple sauce.

INTERNAL TAX FORMS
The Internal Revenue Service has made extensive changes in next year's income-tax forms. The 1964 Income Tax Law made some of the changes necessary and others were introduced to make it easier to feed information into the service's new data-processing machines.

To-What? The world is going through a "transitional period," says a syndicated brain. Yes, indeed, and some fear it is a transition from confusion to chaos.

THESE ARE TRUE FACTS AND UNDISTORTED POSITION OF JAMES (MICKEY) MADDEN

Candidate For Board Member

From Education District Number 3

1. I am opposed to any increase in assessment of property in Rowan County, thereby raising or increasing taxes for public school purposes. I believe that money now being collected from property taxation is amply sufficient for the proper and complete operation of our school system, and amounts to more than enough, if economically and wisely spent.
2. I state that no individual or group of individuals are running me for this office except my neighbors and friends, who have insisted that I run because they feel that they have not had sufficient and proper representation by my opponent, who has been board member for the past 8 years. Further, I am not obligated to any person or persons except that if elected to the office of board member, I obligate myself to the taxpayers and citizens of my district and the county to do what is right and proper in behalf of education and our school system.
3. I am not running against, nor am I opposed to anyone except my opponent in this race for board member from Educational District Number 3. The superintendent of Rowan County Schools was rehired during the first part of this year by contract for a period of 4 years.
4. I further state that I will do whatever is necessary and will work and consult with teachers, parents and even school children, if need be, or anyone, to help and improve our school system.
5. I believe that P. T. A. organizations are necessary for a good school system and I pledge unqualified support to all P. T. A. organizations in this county. My daughter is attending Haldeman school, and I am a member of the Haldeman P. T. A.
6. I understand that my opponent is taking credit for building the new Tildon Hogge Elementary School. I believe that credit is due where it belongs, and I would give credit for the erection of this new school to Mr. Tildon Hogge of Cranston, Kentucky, who donated approximately 9 acres of valuable land for the school site, and to the taxpayers who voted for the bond issue, whereby funds would become available for building new schools and improving school facilities, including the new addition built on the Haldeman School.
7. According to the Financial Statements of the Rowan County Board of Education, which were published in The Morehead News, a business firm in which my opponent has an ownership interest has sold supplies to the Rowan County School System. Of course this is a serious violation of the law and a breach of trust. The law provides that the office of a board member SHALL WITHOUT FURTHER ACTION BE VACANT if such member is DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY interested in the sale to the school system of books, stationery or any other property, materials, supplies, equipment or service for which school funds are expended. This law was enacted as a safeguard upon the spending of public or tax money with the further purpose that a board member who is entrusted with the business of the schools cannot be allowed to make such business an object of profit to himself. This is based upon principles of reason, of morality, and of public policy. The law further provides that in the event a member of the board of education does business with the board of which he is a member, he is not eligible to membership, and is ineligible for reelection.
8. If elected to the office of board member, I promise to attend each and every meeting of the board, and every vote I cast will be in the interest of our school children and for a progressive, sound and honest school system. I will appreciate your support and influence in my behalf.

Census Work Leader For Area Named

ELLA B. GOODPASTER of Owingsville has been named a crew leader for the 1964 Census of Agriculture, Robert A. Yerkey, director of the regional office of the U.S. Bureau of the Census at Detroit, announced today. The new crew leader is one of about 1,832 persons throughout the U.S. to receive this appointment.

The new crew leader will supervise a team of census enumerators who will visit all farms and ranches in Rowan county to collect official census questionnaires from farm operators. Enumeration of all farms in the county will take place in November and early December. The census will be taken in the following way: Shortly after Nov. 5, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, will mail census questionnaires to rural boxholders. Those required to fill out the forms should do so and hold the questionnaires until a census enumerator comes to collect them. At that time, the enumerator will help answer any questions that may have proved troublesome. The crew leader is a key person in conducting a Census of Agriculture. He recruits and trains the enumerators, schedules their work, reviews the accuracy of completed forms, and conducts difficult interviews.

Soil Insecticides Should Be Used

By Adrian M. Razer
County Agent

Did you have any trouble with soil insects in your plant bed last year? I know of some folks who did. If you had trouble from wire-worms, grubs, or ants and other insects last Spring, a plan to put the plant bed back in the same place or if you are going to plow soil ground for a plant bed for the 1965 crop, you might save yourself a lot of trouble next spring by using a soil insecticide now. Many of these insects winter over in the ground and are just lying there waiting to cause trouble again next year. There are some materials that you can use that will kill them. In order to do the killing job, however, they have to be put on ahead of time, as you need and they have to be well dispersed throughout the soil. For that reason, now is an ideal time to put on the control material. Material to use are Aldrin, Heptachlor, and Dieldrin. Follow the suggested amounts on the packages and observe all precautions mentioned.

Some folks have applied this just before seeding and for the most part if done, at this time you are just wasting time and money. It has to be done at least three weeks ahead of time and the longer before the better up to a month or so. However, if you used any of the insecticides on your plant bed last year, don't repeat at the treatment. They are only to be used once every three years. Offener will build up residue in the ground.

plant beds this year? An Answer To Drought Shortened Pastures

Two of our best cattlemen and two dairymen are finding that a H-11 can be a help in supplementing their short pastures. They are using H-11 as a top dressing on their pastures. It is a top dressing of a special mixture of a slatted and a solid material. It is economically constructed and will do a very good job. Anybody interested should stop by and take a look at Sam's, Woodland Black, W. A. Gandy, Jr., or the one built by Willie and Edmund Pennington. These were all built this summer.

Unemployment Rate in State Drops Again

Kentucky's unemployment rate dropped from 3.2 to 2.6 per cent during September and equaled the national average for the month, State Economic Development Commissioner Earl V. Powell said.

Statewide figures showed the number of first payments of new unemployment insurance claims also dropped by about 2000 to 3,411 during September, compared with 3,411 during August.

Powell said the Economic Security Department made some 24,500 unemployment claims and approved for about 2000 to 3,411 during September, compared with 3,411 during August.

Powell said the State unemployment insurance program was $1.3 million, or approximately $4,000 less during September than during August.

Total money paid under the program was $1.3 million, or approximately $4,000 less during September than during August, Powell said.

Payments to trainees under job training programs of the department averaged $33 weekly during September, Powell said. There were 4,092 students receiving allowances under the manpower development and training program and 171 students paid under the Area Redevelopment class program.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK The Civil War In Kentucky

By Joe Jordan
(Kentucky Civil War Commissioner)

One hundred years ago this week, one of the great scandals of the Civil War in Kentucky was initiated when Maj. Gen. Stephen G. Burbridge of the Union Army, military governor of the state, issued his notorious "No Order," as it came to be called.

It read in part: "Those owning or feeding hogs in Kentucky are desired to secure the surplus hogs in the state. A fair market value will be paid for that are for sale. It is not intended to limit the amount deemed necessary to be packed for family use, and it is hoped that all will willingly sell to the government any excess of personal wants, and not allow so much to be packed in the country as to invite raids for its capture."

On the face of it, that sounded fair enough. The trouble, as Kentucky's elected governor, Thomas E. Bramlette, said in a letter to President Lincoln, was in the manner in which it was carried out. "The agent sent out has been attempting to force the farmers to let their hogs to them at greatly less than the market price, by falsely telling them that the government had fixed the price, and unless they received it willingly, their hogs would be taken at that price anyhow, and if they attempted to sell, or if packages attempted to purchase and pack, their hogs would be confiscated and they arrested and imprisoned."

THE PUBLISHER'S PEN Morehead Owned Concern Sold For More Than $250,000

Perhaps the largest private business transaction in Rowan County's 108-year history has been finalized.

The Morehead Limestone Company, Inc., has sold its rock cracker and processing plant on Black Mountain, about six miles south of Morehead, to Kern-More, Inc. This new corporation is primarily owned by Ruth Brothers, Kentucky Rock Oiling Company and Louisville Associates.

Sale price was upward of a quarter-million dollars.

Morehead Limestone was formed in 1952. Stockholders were: Caudill, President; Otto P. Carr, Vice-President; Roger L. Caulliff, Secretary; Treasurer, C. C. Pennington; Clayton Lancaster, Homer Gregory, Everett D. Blair and Williams-Nickell Oil Co.

In less than 12 years of operation Morehead Limestone has shipped 10,700 railroad cars to steel mills, primarily Armo in Ashland and Detroit Steel, Portsmouth, O.

The cracker rock vein is one of the purest in all of Kentucky, testing between 98 and 99 percent pure limestone. Steel mills require such high-grade limestone for fluxing purposes. The company also sells stone for highways, black-topping and agricultural lime.

Purchase by Ruth Brothers, and associates, practically insures them of the limestone market in this part of Kentucky. They also own and operate, similar plants in Olive Hill, Mass. County, Wrigley and Christy Creek in Rowan County.

Ruth Brothers, and affiliates, are primarily roadbuilders, one of the largest contractors for road work in the Commonwealth. They recently purchased Davidson and Shelton Black Top Company.

Sale of Morehead Limestone comes near the time that rock will be in heavier demand with the construction of Interstate 64.

Plans Evidently Have Been Delayed

Plans for construction on a new 800 seat indoor theatre at Morehead by the Phil Chakertes interests of Springfield, O., have not been abandoned, only delayed.

The new theatre will be on the Maple Building Lot, former offices of the late Dr. Grover C. Nickell, Main Street, near College Boulevard.

Toll Facility Income Rises By $217,000

Income from Kentucky's highway toll facilities totaled $609,969 in September, an increase of more than $271,000 over September a year ago, according to Highway Commissioner Henry Ward.

The Western Kentucky Parkway, which was not open in September last year, accounted for $137,483 of the income.

Gross receipts of other toll facilities for September 1964 and September 1963 as reported by the Department of Highways: Kentucky Turnpike, $371,799 this September and $270,349 last September; Mountain Parkway, $78,502 this September and $44,741 last September; State Turnpike, $29,183 this September and $27,077 last September.

PEOPLES BANK OF MOREHEAD

Right On The Nose

Downtown quarterbacks are given little credit for really knowing much about this game of football, and other sports. However, we've always contended they're better informed than most boys.

We asked four avid followers of the Morehead Eagles last week what they thought the outcome of the Eagles-Middle Tennessee game would be. The predicted Morehead would lose by two touchdowns at Murfreesboro. The other favored the Tennessee club by seven points. The final score - Middle Tennessee 13, Morehead 0.

They Bring It On Cable

A nearby newspaper editor called Saturday night during the Eagle-Raider game.

We told him that we were listening to the play-by-play on television. It took some tall explaining that the play came through from a radio network, without a picture. The Morehead TV Cable Company is hopeful of enough sponsors to continue this broadcast by direct wire and over local television sets of Eagle away-from-home night football and basketball games. But, we understand the transmission cost is a little steep for football. Basketball contests require only about half the time.

School Board Races Gain Attention

This column recently reported that some unusual, perhaps strange to many, political alignments could be expected in two Rowan school board races. This has come to pass.

Incumbent Fred Calvert is opposed by Robert J. Alley in the Farmington area, while incumbent Ernest Binion has James (Mickey) Madden for an opponent. The latter contest seems to be the closest and is being bitterly fought.

Democrats and Republicans, as expected, are each claiming victory in the Presidential balloting. Four years ago Nixon carried Rowan County by 126 over Kennedy. Democrats claim this resulted from the better barometer in the state, could be close. Almost everybody is agreed that Congressman Carl D. Perkins will receive a sizeable majority of Rowan's votes.

We expect about 6,000 votes in Rowan County, but this million Americans will go to the polls, or about three million in all.

The race between Kennedy and Nixon was the closest in all history, percentage wise - and based on majority, although Kennedy won handsily in the electoral college. Of more than 68 million voters tabulated, Kennedy's final majority was 118,580 or less than one-tenth of one percent.

Johnson entered Tuesday's election the solid favorite on almost all points and leading of public opinion. But, there have been wrongs in the past. For example, such forecasts put the Literary Digest out of business and Harry Truman was a 20-1 betting underdog against Tom Dewey.

Anyway we ought to know before going to bed Tuesday night who will be President for the next four years unless the race is extremely close. In Grandfather's time it was often three, or four days before the result was final.

Voting places in Kentucky will stay open an hour longer for the first time - 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. But, the count will be fast as all counties have voting machines.

Be sure to vote - give generously to the United Fund. Both are marks of good citizenship.

The 1965 Ford Rides Quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

Prior to the introduction of the 1965 Fords, the country's leading automotive writers drove the new models at Dearborn. Most of these experts remarked about the extraordinary quietness and smoothness of the Ford ride. An automotive writer in Mechanix Illustrated, said, "If there is a quieter car driven in this country, I haven't driven it."

Quiet Means Quality... Since quiet is a traditional measure of car quality, Ford engineers designed the '65 Ford for maximum quietness. To illustrate to be slightly quieter at all speeds. The official test report reads, in part: "At all moving speeds, on both courses, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royce."

The Difference... The sound level difference, to be sure, is small-but it is there. At 60 miles an hour, Ford was actually 2.8 decibels quieter than Rolls-Royce. At 40, Ford was 5.5 decibels' quieter. At 20, Ford was 4.9 decibels' quieter.

However small these advantages are, they are significant evidence of quality-important to anyone buying a car in Ford's class.

Take A Test Drive... A key and a warm welcome await you at your Ford Dealer's. The key, incidentally, fits in the lock no matter which side is up-symbols of the hundreds of advances you'll find in any Ford you road-test. Come in and see for yourself!

*Decibels are the universally recognized units for measuring the volume of sound.

This quality achievement, Ford chose to make a direct comparison test against the world's finest luxury car-Rolls-Royce.

Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., one of the leading acoustical consultants to government and industry, conducted the tests under supervision of the authoritative United States Auto Club. All cars were tested to factory specifications.

Historical Society Library's Volumes Are Now Accessible

The Kentucky Historical Society's newly-renovated library is getting a good workout these days, as historians and researchers come daily to browse among the some 30,000 volumes now, for the first time, mostly accessible. "I can't think of a day since the library re-opened (last April) when we haven't had someone come in for study and research."

New Stamp Honors U.S. Homemakers

Members of the Homemakers organization through the nation -- and Kentucky Homemakers in particular -- have a special reason to be proud this week. A commemorative stamp honoring the Homemakers went on sale Oct. 27 at postoffices throughout the country -- and much of the credit for the adoption of this stamp goes to a Kentucky Homemaker. The 5-cent postage stamp was unveiled Monday in Honolulu, Hawaii, at the opening session of the National Extension Homemakers Council's annual meeting. The Kentucky Federation of Homemakers is this state's member organization in the Council and 115 Kentucky women are attending this Hawaii meeting. Monday's unveiling of the stamp climaxes seven years of effort by Mrs. C.P. Moore, Home maker from Bardonia. In 1957, the idea to try for the stamp was suggested by Miss Vera Richardson, Nelson county Extension home demonstration agent. Mrs. Moore, who was then a district publicity chairman for the Homemakers, secured the National Council's approval of this idea. Since that time, she has led the campaign for adoption of the commemorative stamp. The stamp not only honors the Homemakers and their national organization, but also marks the 50th anniversary of the passage of the Smith-Lever Act. This legislation opened the way to improved home life through-

Apples, Rice Abundant Foods for October

With the biggest apple crop since 1937--16 percent larger than last year's crop--predicted for this fall, apples head the list of foods plentiful in October, according to Mrs. Letta Jasper, University of Kentucky Extension marketing specialist. Look for heavy supplies of apples throughout the month and special promotions during National Apple Week, Oct. 18-24. All types of apple products--canned, frozen and baked--will also be plentiful this winter as a result of the large crop. Rice also is high on the list of plentiful foods this month and October has been designated for the Rice Harvest Festival promotion. Cheese also receives special attention this month with the annual October Cheese Festival. During October's Fish 'N' Seafood Parade, you'll probably find features on crab meat, fish sticks, portions, halibut, catfish, chub, yellow perch, whitefish, haddock, and cod. Fresh oysters also are more plentiful at this season than they were a year ago, Mrs. Jasper says. Beef, especially the port roast cut, will remain in good supply this month and the industry-government promotion of beef will continue through October. You'll see a seasonal upturn in pork supplies this month, but total supplies are not up to last year's production. Both turkey and chicken will be economy buys in October. Eggs may be a cap, a year ago, but prices may be higher this month than they were in June 1964. Home-grown supplies of tender vegetables are lower than usual for October because of dry weather, and a killing frost ended harvest of these vegetables at any time, Mrs. Jasper points out. However, cooking greens, hard-shelled squash, pumpkins, rutabagas, sweet potatoes, turnips, and parsnips will not be affected. Arrival of fall potato supplies on the market have lowered potato prices to some extent, but the total U.S. potato crop may be less than average; this means potatoes will not be extremely low in price this year. Bartlett pears, from a large harvest, are expected to be plentiful this month. Grape supplies are a little smaller than last year, but you'll see a good supply during October of Tokay and Elberta for table eating. Italian prune plums continue in good supply at the beginning of the month and prunes, the dried product of these fresh purple plums, will be plentiful this winter, too. However, raisins will not be as plentiful as they were last year. The nut crop is expected to be more than 30 percent smaller than last year, according to Mrs. Jasper. Pecans, hurt by weather conditions this past year, account for nearly all the decrease. The walnut crop is smaller, too, but almond and filbert crops are larger than usual. Peanut production, although less than last year, is 11 percent above average.

THE Golden Years

HOW ONE BORED RETIRED MAN WASHED HIS TROUBLES AWAY

ROGER W. JACKSON didn't like retirement. He never thought he would be idle. But he went through the motions. "The separation economies at the company went wrong," he says, "and it's pleasant to hear somebody say how wonderful you've been. But retirement parties are basically sad things..."

He loafed around home for a month, got his financial affairs straightened out, took a week's trip with his wife to see the children, then went out and found a job that was sure to hold a small-time business just open. "A new clean laundry had just opened in a shopping center and three blocks from home," he explains, "and was having a hard time getting attendants to run their soft drinks while the customers waiting for their clothes to dry. He bought a second-hand refrigerator, moved it in, and was now in business for himself a couple of weeks he had a transparent door put on the refrigerator. It increased sales. He got permission to sell candy bars, too, and moved in another second-hand refrigerator, also with transparent door. "When I wanted to move in a third one - for ice cream - the owner got wise. Why let me operate my private business on the premises when the owner could sell concessions? I pointed out to him that in the deal he was getting me as an overseer for his laundry at a very low price, but that this was worth more to him than 'concession fees. He agreed to go along. In fact he agreed to let me expand, so long as I didn't interfere with the laundry operation, and provided I would sign a rental lease with him for my space when and if my sales reached a certain level..."

Mr. Jackson installed two shelves of house plants for sale. "Ladies coming to coil laundries are often apartment or rooming-house dwellers. They don't want shrubbery."

He installed on a wall a large "Want Ad Board" where, for 25 cents his lady customers could advertise anything they wanted - except washing machines. So long for the time being, he stopped expanding.

"I'm making some money," he says, "and I get the clothes from the laundry. But mainly I'm having a good time. The laundry business has grown rapidly, due largely to the new life my business ventures have brought the place. I know more people than I ever knew in my life - the people coming to coil laundries are democratic souls, you know. They are coming to occupy my time. I have responsibilities..."

Road Blocks Planned To Catch Drivers Without Licenses

The State's official muscles flexed again in October and grew a little stronger as State Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovren announced that State Police will be beginning road blocks to catch driver whose licenses have been suspended or revoked.

Speaking to more than 750 delegates at the Governor's Safety Conference in Louisville, Lovren called for jail sentences to be given persons found guilty of driving while their operator's permits are suspended or revoked.

Commenting on the highway death toll in Kentucky, which is currently running well above last year's record figure, Gov. Edward T. Breathitt said, "This is an appalling waste of life. Even more appalling has been the failure of many of our public officials and many of our citizens to do something about it."

A traffic safety program in Kentucky or any other state will be effective only if public opinion understands the problem and actively supports the remedial measures," Breathitt continued. "It is up to you people to impress on your families, on your neighbors, on your public officials, and on your community the need for strict enforcement."

"Besides the stepped-up enforcement procedures and revisions in the driver point-system now in effect, Breathitt said the State will prepare a manual for traffic courts, work toward a uniform traffic ticket at all enforcement levels, and improve the physical and training standards for school bus drivers.

The governor suggested that county committees be set up for local, positive, hard-hitting safety campaigns. Believing that strict law enforcement is the key to our drive, our judges must spearhead the highway safety campaign in our counties," Breathitt declared.

Outlining the nationwide picture on highway traffic safety, Russell, known of the State Institute for Highway Safety, Washington, D.C., said more than $1.2 billion is needed for proper safety management of the highway system and to reduce traffic accidents.

State Police Director Col. James E. Bassett said it would cost Kentucky $4 million to meet the National Safety Council's recommendation to add 374 men to the current State police force of 442.

"We added 265 miles of dual lane highways to our system last year, but not one extra State trooper," Bassett said. "Kentucky's 100-million-mile death rate last year was 6.7 compared to the national average of 5.7."

FARM BUREAU in Action

Teris Donnett
Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

Farm Bureau members throughout Kentucky have been hard at work the past few weeks discussing their community and county problems and discussing recommendations designed to help in their areas of concern.

In community groups of a few families and sometimes in county-wide groups, these farmers considered the problems they face. They took a look at the policy booklet developed for 1964 and discussed what their real concerns were about the guidelines in this booklet.

Their suggestions are now in the hands of the State Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee. This group will combine, consolidate and prepare resolutions for the consideration of the county voting delegates at the state convention November 15-18 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville.

The State Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee is made up of one individual from each of the Farm Bureau Districts. These 10 men were chosen at last year's convention during the district caucuses. Farm Bureau President Jack Welch appoints 10 additional members to this 20-man committee.

Through such a policy development process, every member of Farm Bureau has the opportunity to speak his mind and has the chance to make recommendations in areas he thinks are weak. How more representative can you get? Of course, improvements can always be made, and Farm Bureau is continually trying to get more people involved in policy making.

In addition to all this, Farm Bureau's commodity meetings have produced some good suggestions. And during the next F.B. convention next month, the preliminary plans working out the preliminary meetings would be presented in meetings Monday afternoon. If you're interested, be sure to make these meetings.

Now, don't forget to get all your chores done in advance of the State Farm Bureau convention. This is a convention for every member, not just the county voting delegates. Mark your calendar. You'll be hearing more about the convention plans, the speakers and the entertainment in the days ahead.

Plentiful Game Supply Seen By State Wildlife Division

An abundance of game is indicated for Kentucky hunters when they take the fields for the feature attraction of Kentucky's small game season. That's the opinion of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources after checking farmers, conservation officers and others who are in a position to know about the game fluctuations. It is an established fact that more squirrels are being harvested than last year and the early indications are that the dove population is as great, if not greater, than for the preceding season. The Department knows that the deer herd is in good condition and with the opening of eight more white-tails are expected to be harvested by a greater number of hunters.

Reports from the nesting grounds indicate a better supply of certain species of ducks and the status of the bobwhite quail and the cottontail rabbit, two species that are most popular in the small game category, was at least satisfactory at the end of the summer and with favorable weather the harvest of these two species may reach an all-time high for the past few years.

WHERE LOVE HAS GONE

JOHN MICHAEL HAYES HAROLD ROBBINS

Almost without exception farmers in most sections of Kentucky claim an increase in the rabbit population. They report a good survival of the early crops of bunnies and the harvest of small rabbits right up to the end of the summer. The same optimistic outlook for the quail is given also by these farmers, who report having seen some especially large coveys during the summer. Conservation officers, too, are optimistic about the prospects for quail and rabbits and from eastern Kentucky come glowing reports on the ruffed grouse.

The population of this fast flying bird has increased from year to year until the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission, upon recommendation of Commissioner Minor Clark, has increased the length of the season to the greatest number of days since the bird started its comeback. Grouse, which are found mostly in the eastern mountain section, present one of the finest targets for the hunter and more and more sportsmen are entering the field to take this mountain bird presents. The season this year opens Dec. 1 and continues through Feb. 28 with a bag limit of four and a possession limit of eight.

The Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission debated about extending the length of the rabbit and quail season past the 60-day mark, but finally, in its August meeting, decided to hold the season to the 60 days. The season for these two species, and for furbeavers, opens Nov. 19 and continues through Jan. 17. The bag limit for rabbits is again eight per day with a possession limit of 16 after two or more days of hunting. For quail the hunter may take 10 per day or have in his possession 20 after two days of hunting. There are no limits on furbeavers.

Squirrel hunters are finding plenty of "bummies" and the forecast of an increased population by Department Biologist is being borne out. This healthy increase is attributed to a fine mast crop which occurred last year and which most usually means a good squirrel crop the following year. The eastern season opened Aug. 29 and continues through Nov. 15; reports Dec. 1 and continues through Dec. 14. The western season opened Aug. 18 and will continue through Nov. 15, reports Dec. 1 and continues through Dec. 10.

With an anticipated increase in the population the Department of Interior and the Department increased the bag limit from five to eight after two or more days of hunting.

The gun deer season opens Nov. 23 and continues through Nov. 29 in all 48 counties that were opened last year and for eight new counties a one-day season, Nov. 28 has been set. These new counties are Green, Laine, McLean, Monroe, Todd, Wayne and Whitley.

The archery season opens Oct. 15 and continues through Nov. 15 in all counties opened to the gun season, plus Woodford and Anderson. Only one deer may be taken by a hunter in the archery and gun season combined and each hunter, in addition to a valid hunting license, must have a deer hunting permit, cost of which is $10.

The duck season opens Nov. 25 and continues through Jan. 29, a total of 40 days which is five more than for the preceding season. In addition, due to a comeback in the canvasbacks and redheads, these birds have been included in the bag and possession limits. The bag limit of four may include not more than two mallards; two wood ducks and two canvasbacks or redheads or one of each of the latter two species. In the possession limit of eight there may be not more than two wood ducks, four mallards; two canvasbacks or redheads. The bag and possession limits may consist totally of black ducks.

The Kentucky goose season opens Nov. 7 and continues through Jan. 15 with a bag and possession limit of five which limits may not include more than two Canadas or two white-fronted or one Canada or subspecies and one white-fronted. Sums, to sunset hunting will be permitted for both ducks and geese.

For the Ballard County Wildlife Management Area the duck season opens Dec. 1 and continues through Jan. 9, while the goose season opens Dec. 1 and continues through Jan. 15. The statewide bag and possession limits apply to the management area but only morning hunting will be permitted.

Bow Hunting Is Becoming More Popular

By Joe Mauk
Bow hunting is becoming more popular each hunting season within this area. Contacts with hunters by officers of the Forest Service and Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Resources revealed that approximately 250 bow hunters were in the woods last weekend, within or adjacent to the Primitive Weapons Hunting Area on the Cumberland and National Forest located around Tater Knob Fire Tower across Licking River in Bath and Morgan Counties. Most of the bow hunters I have come in contact with this deer season are interested in getting a deer; however, a large number enjoy the relaxation of the quiet stroll over the wooded ridges away from the humdrum of the city. The bow hunting season coincides with the fall season when the woods are in full color and people enjoy being out in the wooded area on the warm fall days.

Camping areas have been established around the primitive weapons hunting area and designed for use by hunter campers. Camping within the area is limited to these areas. These designated areas are provided in order to prevent camp shanty towns being created throughout the area and at the same time keep the woods within the area as primitive as practical.

Field work has been completed on the marking of a boundary of timber located on Moore and Hanes Branches of North Fork of Triplett Creek. The area is estimated to contain one and one-half million feet of sawtimber which will be offered for sale at oral auction at the Ranger's office at 10 a. m. on November 2. Recently fines of $250 each were levied by U. S. Commissioner City Easley of Staunton, Va., against three men for creating a large disturbance in the Horse Quarry Recreation area of George Washington National Forest.

Changes planned by the District Forest Ranger in charge of the area, Complain from citizens using the public recreation area had made improvements necessary in an effort to stop the needless disturbance of people who use the area for picnics and relaxation. Federal regulations governing these areas require that quiet be observed between the hours of 10 and 7 a. m.

All of the recreation areas on the Morehead District of the Cumberland National Forest have rules posted for use of the areas and violators may be punished under the same federal regulations, which in effect are laws. Our areas are patrolled by Forest officers, State and local officers.

Speaking of recreation areas the Roburn picnic and camping area will be closed to the winter from Nov. 1 until about Apr. 15. The outside water fountain will be off this week to prevent damage by freezing and the other facilities will be closed Monday. The Clear Creek area will remain open throughout November to accommodate the hunters using the camping facilities within the area. The picnic area at Morehead Triangle Fire Tower will remain open year round. The water supply is from wells with frost-proof, hand-operated deep well pumps, that can be used during freezing weather. The water fountains and sanitary toilet facilities at Roburn picnic and camp area are served by pressure systems which must be protected against freezing.

Business Outlook Delights Executives

Businessmen interviewed across the country say they see no bad news in the outlook for the economic year ahead...

But the general view expressed in discussions with top business leaders is that they are firm enough control of things and have enough economic power behind them to cope readily ahead.

"We see good business as far ahead as we can see with any assurance," says Robert Galvin, young chairman of Motorola, Inc., in Chicago.

This view also includes the judgment that the coming presidential election will not have any big immediate effect on the business except perhaps some stock market tremors if the outcome is surprising.

Peering deep into the future, the businessmen apparently feel that the nation's economy will continue pretty steadily upward with occasional pauses of pitiless more likely than dips or real downturns.

"The business cycle isn't gone," says soft-spoken J. Harris Ward, President and chairman of Chicago's Commonwealth Edison Co., "but maybe we can call it in the words 'boom' and 'bust'."

Read Hunt, chairman of Conroy Zellertack and Co., says that the nation's economy being created in the general economy for it never to be stagnant very long.

At the same time, Hunt voices a caution many express as the current expansion stretches to record-breaking lengths: "The biggest thing we have to worry about now," he says, "is over-enthusiasm."

In Houston, Gardiner Symonds, chairman of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., says, "when things are going so good, we are sure and everybody wants to get better, then that's the time to trim your sails. Something's bound to go sour. At times like this, you've got to watch it like a hawk."

This kind of businessman wariness is well exemplified by Howie and Dobbie Jr., president of Life Insurance Co. of Georgia. He says, "Businessmen are constantly looking for a break to come, and that's good. It stops them from doing things that really cause trouble."

One of the things that has caused worry in the past—overstocking warehouses—doesn't seem to be happening now these men say, and they consider that a sign of progress toward stability.

It's going anywhere very fast. Says Joe B. Hutchinson, president of Henry C. Beck, Co., Atlanta construction firm, "We're approaching a saturation point in many areas."

Still, to one who seems to feel saturation is anything but a temporary and localized condition.

The University of Michigan's survey research center expert, George Katona, after thousands of interviews with the business public, concludes that more and more spending is indeed for luxuries that are "non-optional."

Consequently, any bad scare can bring curbside. Still, he says, saturation is a myth. The more thing the American people have, the more they want.

Businessmen notice, with economists, that a rise in housing prices about now has not yet materialized. They feel this is merely a miscalculation, and that young men are staying in apartments until they start the kind of family formation, middle-income activities, that will really start cash registers ringing.

Meanwhile these businessmen look to other sales. Motorola's Galvin notices that his lines of industrial components are strong, even when some radio and other consumer items falter.

Amsted's Lanterman shifts from cast-iron water pipe for industrial building business weakens. As long as they can balance their accounts this way, they're not too worried.

They are more worried, however, by the threat of inflation and of labor troubles raised by the auto contracts.

The country did a good job of sitting on the inflation line until the Chrysler settlement came along," says J. Harris Ward, "but that one settlement is so inflationary and it could conceivably have a wide-spread effect, not just in the auto industry but throughout the economy."

Amsted's Lanterman comments, "Neither General Motors and some of these other companies can handle it without increasing prices, but if it spread to some of these others, they just can't."

And don't see how Dave McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union can get by with asking for less in steel rates now.

This could mean tough bargaining ahead in steel and other industries, producing damaging strikes or inflationary settlements or a bit of both, these businessmen agree.

'64 Corn Crop Support Level Set At $1.25

The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced this week that the national average support price for 1964 crop corn will be $1.25 a bushel. This is unchanged from the minimum average support price announced Nov. 6, 1963, the release said.

Cooperators in the 1964 feed grain program are eligible for average price support loans of $1.10 on their farms' production of corn, plus 15 cents a bushel price support payment on normal production of their harvested acres.

On the other hand, Thompson emphasized, there may be many former workers who are now disabled but who have never asked at the social security office to find out whether they may be eligible for social security disability insurance benefits.

Increases in benefits now being paid will be retroactive to November, 1963, and will be paid with the checks to be delivered early in December.

Another change in the law extends through Apr. 15, 1965, the time within which persons who have been in the military for at least 2 years since 1954, may elect to be covered by social security as self-employed persons.

The Ashland Social Security Office, at 1816 Carter Avenue, is open Monday through Friday, from 8:45 a. m. to 5 p. m.

For much of the world, the week of October 11-17 was one of the worst TV's yet.

Mountain Groups To Aid In Health Study Program

Dr. Paul Spray of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Chairman of the Health Committee of the Council of the Southern Mountains, Inc., announced today that the Council will enter a Federal contract which will benefit many residents of the Appalachian South.

According to Dr. Spray, this contract will enable the Council to act as a sponsoring agent for recruitment of 300 additional numbers of healthy residents in the Appalachian area to participate in research programs of the National Institutes of Health, principal research bureau of the U. S. Public Health Service, in Bethesda, Maryland.

Establishment of the contract is the result of a conference held in Beverly, Ky., Sept. 24, between members of the Health Committee of the Council of the Southern Mountains and officials of the National Institutes of Health. The Rev. Philip H. Young of Hazard, Ky., and Mr. William Suters, Health Educator of the Council, were instrumental in bringing the idea of the program to the Council.

In order to move ahead in the conquest of disease, Dr. Spray explained, scientific investigators need to make careful studies of healthy people so that they can better understand how the body or the mind goes wrong in a sick person. Thus the Clinical Center, the research hospital of the National Institutes of Health, houses not only sick people, but also healthy individuals who volunteer to be studied by staff physicians. More healthy "patients" are needed, and Appalachian area residents can help meet this need through a mutually profitable agreement with NIH.

This kind of volunteer program is already working out very well in several other communities. The healthy people of the Southern Mountains who are interested under the new contract will go to the Center for a three-month stay.

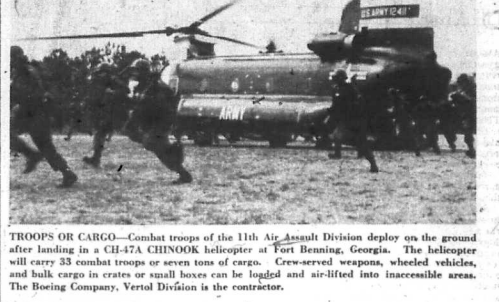

Benefits for volunteers will be transportation to and from the clinical center; room, board,

State Checks Scales At Leaf Houses

The annual check of tobacco warehouse scales is under way by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

Wendell F. Butler, State agriculture commissioner, said the inspection will be completed prior to the opening of the warehouses for the season.

George L. Johnson, director of the Division of Weight and Measure, said his men will check some 750 scales during the inspection period. Kentucky had 238 licensed warehouses last year, and now one has been constructed this year.

Accuracy of the scale balance is checked, according to Johnson, plus the weight uniformity of baskets and handling equipment. Scales found to be in error will be condemned until corrections are made.

Johnson pointed out that his office will be glad to assist any warehouse operator or farmer with problems concerning weight matters. Address inquiries to the Division of Weights and Measures, Department of Agriculture, Frankfort.

Rambler Thru Williba Viets & Nams Shock Washington Badly

By Glennie Holton

The Viet Nams and Nams showed did give the War Department in Washington a shock. Them Viet Nams had them a demonstration that they shook the government up so bad over there that our Americans are now unable to tell who we are fighting with. The men who know think it right set the war back at least two or three months. It will take us that long to find out who we are "fer" or "agin'". One thing about us Americans, we are willing to fight if we can ever find out who it is we are in a d. We'll find out just give us time. At least them helicopters can cool off for a spell. We just don't like to fight them Viet Nams with anything bigger than a helicopter. It's a funny war, look like. We are helping the Viet Nams and Nams fight the Viet Nams and Nams and it certainly is very confusing to know for sure whether that Viet Nams should be shot or not. Sometimes we will shoot him, and sometimes we won't. Everthing depends on something.

Goldwater said if he fit a war, he would just go in and whip whoever he was fighting if it took all the cartridges and bullets he had - big or little. That sounds like it would be the best way to fight. Why drag a little war on and kill a lot of Americans who absolutely don't know why they are helicopter-ing around over in them jungles.

All the time we can read in the big papers or hear on the loud radios or see on the big screens or TV's where they're more prosper in the United States than they has ever been. If they is any prosperity, it certainly ain't in Williba. We ain't knowed of no one around here making a nickel in a mighty long time. Ain't no way of making a nickel in Williba unless'n you could steal it off'n some stray tourist that might happen thru. That prosperity ain't extended into Williba as of yet. Feller might ket on him a mink or muskrat and sell it hide soon.

New Grasses Aid Saving Of The Land

By Donald B. Nelson
Grass is the forgiveness of nature—her constant benediction.

That's what U.S. Senator John J. Ingalls of Kansas said more than 60 years ago. But little was done about the development of new and better grasses until the tragic Great Plains of the 1930's set off sustained research. Today we are benefiting from the research that the "dust bowl" started.

Since the devastating drought, approximately 30 new grasses and legumes have been developed to protect the land from wind and water erosion. Many of them also provide more and better forage for stock. In this development many people have worked together, including the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, agriculture colleges, experiment stations, extension services and private industry.

That's the work from H. A. Taff, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, headquartered at Lexington, Ky.

He cited KY-31 Tall Fescue as a good example of this close cooperation. This grass was discovered by University of Kentucky Experiment Station, growing in Menifee County in 1931. In 1940 the Soil Conservation Service brought a small quantity of seed from the William M. Sulter farm. From this small beginning, its use has spread to many states as a pasture grass, for a winter cover and green manure crop, and for soil stabilizing vegetation on stream and highway banks.

A field brome grass is another excellent plant being used as a winter cover and green manure crop. It can also be used for spring pasture. Wild geese like it, too, he added.

ALL-TIME HIGH

State Farm Income Hits $647 Million

All-time highs in livestock production and in yields of most crops helped Kentucky farmers last year to reach a record total of $647,012,000 in cash receipts.

Actual production in three crop categories. The Commonwealth kept its number one rank in the production of burley tobacco and was exceeded only by North Carolina in total production of all kinds of tobacco.

Kentucky now also is first among the 50 states in the production of tall fescue seed and also in the production of lespedeza seed.

Actually, Butler said, "even more sales will be realized from the record 1963 production, because more of it was held over for 1964 sale than ever before, particularly tobacco. We are moving steadily toward Governor Breathitt's billion dollar farm income goal."

Total cash receipts. This easily kept tobacco as the state's number one cash crop. Total production value of the 1963 tobacco crop was $326,019,000 of which nearly 96 percent was the high type, butter-taste leaf.

Cattle and calves ranked second, but represented only 19.9 percent of the total receipts. Tobacco receipts therefore were double those from second place cattle and calves.

This again points up the fact that the greatest opportunity for Kentucky farmers and the area of the biggest gain potential is in the field of livestock, and Butler said.

Hay, soybeans, and wheat were next in order of contribution to the bigger total value. The most notable changes in the ranking of individual crop values from the previous year were primarily seed crops: fall fescue from seventh to sixth place; orchard grass from 13th place to 12th; and red clover from 21st to 16th.

Both the burley yield and production set records in 1963. The yields, 2,385 pounds per acre, was 290 pounds more per acre than the previous high in 1962. Production, 529,890,000 pounds, was 15 percent above the 1962 record of 454,720,000 pounds.

Corn yields, 60 bushels an acre, also was a record. And corn production, 74,982,000 bushels, was 15 percent above the 1963 figure and the highest since 1959.

It is prepared each year by the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Louisville. This report is issued cooperatively by the Statistical Reporting Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

By C. D. Smith

Girl Wants To Make Herself Attractive

There is no easy one-two to popularity. But, if we want others to like us, then let's consider what it is we like about other people. We do not like someone particularly because he or she is handsome or beautiful. We like them because they are friendly, cooperative, and fun to be with.

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am a teenage girl with a particular problem. I am not very attractive. My girlfriends are always invited to parties and on dates, but not me. I make myself attractive. How can I make myself attractive to other girls?"

OUR REPLY: The girl who wants to put her best foot forward should get advice from a competent adult on how to dress, fix her hair, etc. Too many teenagers, for one reason or another, just don't ask for this kind of help.

If you have a teenage problem you want discussed, an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND URBAN YOUTH SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

State Units Receive $1.1 Million From TVA In Lieu Of Tax

Kentucky State and local governments' share of the Tennessee Valley Authority's payment in lieu of property tax for 1963-64 amounted to $1,184,955, an increase of more than $140,000 over last year, State Revenue Commissioner J. E. Luckert has reported.

progress on the T.V.A. plant under construction at Paradise. Thirty-six additional taxing districts received increased payments. Eleven districts received reduced payments which resulted from decreases in net book value of property located in the taxing districts or a reduction in the local tax rate.

Claig Sprout... And His Friend, TIMOTHY TUGMUTTON Sez

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: The fellers at the country store Saturday night was getting a little on edge now that the political campaigns was in the home stretch.

Personal, Mister Editor, I don't think the price of things has got nothing to do with popularity. Turnip greens can go to $1.50 a sm and we still ain't getting no place until the Government gets its act together. I remember nearly seventy years ago, I remember the Ozarks in a covered wagon. What an experience for a child!

From Maad Tatum, Las Vegas, Nevada: I remember transporting fifty-five year ago. Most everyone had horses. My Uncle D. drove a high-stepping stallion, named Fitzsimmons, to a breaking cart. Then there was my suave uncle who drove a pretty sorrel mare to a fancy top buggy.

The Kentucky Department of Commerce has opened a New York City branch office which will furnish eastern industrialists with information on profit opportunities in Kentucky.

This gives Kentucky a prestige address in the eastern hub of business and industry of the nation. Miss Peden said. The manager of the New York City office is William C. James, Jr., 41, a former lieutenant colonel of the Marine Corps.

Word of Nikita Khrushchev's retirement as Premier of Russia due to advanced age and deterioration of his health, came as a surprise to many Americans. President Johnson said the replacement of Soviet Premier Khrushchev may not be a sign of big turmoil or changes to come, but the American people would remain steadfast.

RECORD 6-3

RCHS Closes Season Friday

head No. 7, Morehead No. 13 and Clearfield No. 9.

For the first time in a Kentucky election, the polls will be open Tuesday from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. An act of the 1964 Legislature extended the closing time one hour and as a result it is expected that the total vote may increase by something like 10 percent.

Results, not only from Rowan County, but from the state at large should be available by 10 p. m., since all but 32 of the nearly 3,000 Kentucky precincts now use voting machines, providing for almost instantaneous tabulation.

Rowan County High School will close its 1964 football season - already regarded as a successful one - here tomorrow night against Louisa.

With a 6-3 record going into the season's finale, the Vikings have run true to pre-season expectations in improving on last season's record.

Louisa is regarded highly and should test Coach Paul Outley's eleven thoroughly, even though comparative scores give the RCHS eleven a slight edge.

upset last Friday at Flemingsburg, losing 14-13 in a contest which saw the local eleven ahead in all the statistics except the one which counts most - the score.

The Vikings rolled up 11 first downs, to seven for Flemingsburg, and outgained the Bobcats both on the ground and in the air.

Bobby Brown tallied RCHS' first touchdown, on a 25-yard pass play, and Wade Hatton natched the other on a two-yard plunge.

County's inability to convert the extra point spoiled the difference.

Fleming County's second win of the season, and the third loss for Rowan County.

Rowan County lost the ball five times on fumbles or pass interceptions in Friday's tilt leading Outley to remind his club of the old adage: "you can't score without having possession of the ball."

Dr. Harold Holbrook On Local Health Board

Dr. Harold Holbrook, Morehead dentist has been named to the Rowan County Board of Health, replacing Dr. C. C. Mayhall.

Holbrook's appointment was made by the Kentucky Dental Society last month.

Two other appointments to the board expire in January.

Farm Census By Mail Coming Up

All farm and ranch operators in the 50 States will take part during November and early December in the 1964 Census of Agriculture, the U. S. Department of Commerce said today.

Results of the agricultural census will be watched closely by the Nation's farm leaders to learn if the trend to fewer and larger farms has continued since the last Census of Agriculture was taken in 1950.

Agricultural censuses are taken by the Department's Bureau of the Census.

Between 1954 and 1959, the total number of farms in the continental U. S. decreased by more than a million (4.78 to 3.70 million) while the average farm increased from 242 to 302 acres.

Farm production increased throughout the period also.

Some of the changes in U. S. agriculture are indicated by new questions to be asked in November. For example, this year farmers will be asked for the first time to report on the use of pesticides for control of crop and livestock pests. Other new questions relate to income received from providing recreational services such as hunting, fishing, and skiing privileges, including board and room, for vacationers and sportsmen. For the first time also, no information will be sought on the numbers of horses and mules on U. S. farms.

Let's look at the RECORDS

BY LINDA NORRIS

YOU WOULD have to be a part of it to believe it.

While we have read, we have written and we have followed with curious interest the kooky world of Beatelemann, never did we realize what it was actually like until the famous quartette came to Chicago for a personal appearance and for kicks we became a part of a pushing, screaming, hysterical mob . . . If it hadn't been so uncomfortable, if we hadn't suffered damaged ear drums, bruised shins and sore ribs, it might have been comical.

But it wasn't. These things are real, whether part of a publicity agent's dream or actual, you feel the effects long after the visit of the great ones. . . They took it in great stride and with jolly good humor . . . In fact, the boys seemed to enjoy it all, perhaps because they were counting mentally the dollars ringing in at the box office. . . At any rate, it didn't bother them in the least, but then it wasn't their ribs or ears being pierced . . . They had good police protection and all they had to do was wave from within a circle of blue-uniformed guards.

Most of the mob we joined so fearlessly was composed of - what else? - girls, but a few boys did get into the thing, perhaps to have something to talk about or twit their girlfriends about at a later date. . . The crowd was orderly enough, although the tension was terrific.

Anticipation is a a stimulating and does unrealistic things to the nerve cells. . . The page came when the boys arrived on the scene and the girls just couldn't take the ecstasy of beholding their youthful faces half hidden under a mass of hair. Their singing? Who knows? No one heard them anyway.

FUEL FOR THE FRONT—Men of the 123d Transportation Company load gasoline-filled Rolling Liquid Transporters (RLT) aboard a CV-2 CARIBBE. The logistical base is established near Fort Gordon, Ga., and will supply fuel to more than 500 aircraft taking part in the Carolina maneuvers, AIR ASSAULT II. U.S. Tire and Rubber Company manufactures the 500 gallon capacity RLT for the Army.

CAN DO VEHICLE, slithering through the mud, can also swim, maneuver in swampy, marshland and travel over hard ground moving forward, backwards and sideways. This MARSH SCREW AMPHIBIAN, 13 feet long, eight wide and constructed of aluminum, was developed by the Chrysler Corporation. It is propelled by two rotating pontoons with special blades. The amphibian is presently being tested by the General Equipment Test Activity, Fort Lee, Va., for possible use by the Army.

Vengeance

Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. —Leviticus 19:18; Deuteronomy 32:35

The Apostle Paul quoted these words to the Romans and urged them to overcome evil with good, to bless and not curse those who persecuted them. It is a hard lesson for all of us to learn. When we are offended in some way, pride and anger beset us and we want to strike back. We do not consider it vengeance, only our own personal definition of the golden rule - do unto others as they do unto you.

It is far more difficult to be kind to those who hurt us in some way than it is to strike back at them. Yet, it is the Christian way, the best way and, in the final analysis, the most personally satisfying.
