The snow-drop and the eglantine.

The snow-drop and the eglantine.

Would bid a labor too.

And writes upon his tiny heap—

"There's work enough to co."

"There's work enough to do."
The planets, at their Maker's with,
Move onward in their care,
For nature's will in never attiliFrogressive as the stars'
And summer breezes woo,
One solemn truth to tuna theclares"There's work enough to do,"

"Thete's work snough to do,"
Who there can sleep, when all around
In stite, fresh, and free?
In stite, fresh, and free?
Our courts and alleys are the field,
If men would exact them through,
That text of sweets or later yield,
And there's enough to do.

And there's enough to do.

To have a heart for those who weep,
The rottlish drunkard win;
To rescue all the children, deep
In ignorance and sin;
To help the poor, the hungry feed,
To give him coat and sino;
To see that all can write and rend—
"Is work enough to do."

"is week enough to do."

The time is short—the world is wide, And much has to be coue;

This wondrous earth and all its pride. Will wanth with the sun!.
