

From the National Intelligencer. Despatches from Mexico. CITY OF MEXICO, UNITED STATES, September 27, 1847.

MA. GALES & SEATON: My dear old friends, I'm alive yet, though I've been through showers of balls as thick as hailstones. I got you a letter from the war...

I hope there ain't no truth in the story that was buzzed about here in the city...

You will get the accounts of the battles in General Scott's letters, so I needn't say a great deal about them...

When we come to march up and see how strong the enemy's works was, says I, General Pillow it is as much as all our lives is worth to go right straight up and...

Classical Puns. The learned editor of the Dayton Enquirer was pleased a week or more ago to take notice of my translation of Horace's "Dulce est desipere in rebus..."

Talking of new readings of the classics, reminds us of one heard eight or nine years ago, which strikes us very well whenever we think of it.

Some thing, the business is not profitable, but it is very necessary to understand it. Upon an average, we get at least ten to one for money, any way you can figure it up...

ought to remember that in a Government like ours, where the people are used to voting, the number that we are to stand about in annexation, and not the quality, by no means...

There's a thousand things in this country that I should like to tell you about if I had time; but things is so unsuited here yet, that I have rather a confused chance to write...

Dear Sam: I've done best, according to your directions, to get round Santa Anna, but it is all no use. He's as slippery as an eel...

"Circumstances alter cases, Major," says Santa Anna. "When Mr. Polk had an idea that he would kill him, he needed a few more votes than he can muster in his own country to bring him into the Presidency...

"Very well," says he, "go on the Mexicans like the business, and Mr. Polk will have all the work to do over again every year as long as he lives, for there isn't a place in Mexico that will stay annexed any longer than just while you are holding on to it."

Your faithful friend and private ambassador, MAJOR JACK DOWNING.

The learned editor of the Dayton Enquirer was pleased a week or more ago to take notice of my translation of Horace's "Dulce est desipere in rebus..."

It is pretty hard work annex in this way; but that is the only way it can be done. It will be necessary for the President to keep hurrying on his men this way...

From the New Orleans Delta. THE ARDOR OF A SOLDIER, AND HIS DEVOTION TO HIS COUNTRY'S FLAG, were shown in a most striking manner...

There's a thousand things in this country that I should like to tell you about if I had time; but things is so unsuited here yet, that I have rather a confused chance to write...

Dear Sam: I've done best, according to your directions, to get round Santa Anna, but it is all no use. He's as slippery as an eel...

"Circumstances alter cases, Major," says Santa Anna. "When Mr. Polk had an idea that he would kill him, he needed a few more votes than he can muster in his own country to bring him into the Presidency...

"Very well," says he, "go on the Mexicans like the business, and Mr. Polk will have all the work to do over again every year as long as he lives, for there isn't a place in Mexico that will stay annexed any longer than just while you are holding on to it."

Your faithful friend and private ambassador, MAJOR JACK DOWNING.

The learned editor of the Dayton Enquirer was pleased a week or more ago to take notice of my translation of Horace's "Dulce est desipere in rebus..."

It is pretty hard work annex in this way; but that is the only way it can be done. It will be necessary for the President to keep hurrying on his men this way...

From the Louisville Journal. LATER FROM EUROPE. ARRIVAL OF THE FRENCH STEAMER PHOENIX.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

From the Louisville Journal. LATER FROM EUROPE. ARRIVAL OF THE FRENCH STEAMER PHOENIX.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

From the Louisville Journal. LATER FROM EUROPE. ARRIVAL OF THE FRENCH STEAMER PHOENIX.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

From the Louisville Journal. LATER FROM EUROPE. ARRIVAL OF THE FRENCH STEAMER PHOENIX.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

French failures in England—Money Market—Great Britain—Triumph in Spain and Extermination of a new Ministry by the Queen.

Mr. Clay—General Taylor. The Lexington Observer and Reporter of the 30th ult. contains a long and well written leader, on the subject of the connection of the distinguished names at the head of this article, with the Presidency of the nation.

The writer of the article, labors to prove in substance that Mr. CLAY has not said what he would not be a candidate for the Presidency, and thinks it easier to prove that General Taylor never consented to the use of his name as a candidate for this Presidency than that Mr. CLAY never can be a candidate.

This is in reply to the Nashville Whig, which seems to be of a different opinion.

It is not our purpose now, to examine the correctness of this opinion, believing as we do that neither of these gentlemen, would voluntarily thrust himself forward for the office, and that nothing short of a belief, that it was the wish of a majority of the voters of the Union, would induce either of them to suffer his name to be brought forward for the office. Nor do we believe that either of them will do so, for one moment that the great masses of the people of this great nation, with distinct exception of party, will call either of them to the Presidency. The drill of party has made standing armies of the great mass of the voting population of the Union, and in any political contest which takes place upon the stereotyped questions which have divided the Nation for many years, into two great political parties, much the largest portion of the people will be found true to their ancient banners—dogmatic to their accustomed leaders.

No such contest however, can arise under the existing state of things, unless by the successful efforts of the friends of aspiring politicians, to bring back the attention of the public mind, to the old issues, having first so obscured the starting visions, which loom up in the future as to quiet all apprehension in regard to its developments. Can this be done? Most assuredly not! The warning finger of the past, points the party in power to their inevitable doom, whenever the death struggle shall come—under the lead of Mr. Polk or any Democratic statesman, identified with the policy of his Administration, on the one hand, and the opponents of his Administration under the flag of a man, whose name does not necessarily bring up the gloomy history of thirty years, with all the prejudices which its conflicts have engendered.

It is fully to be feared that the Democratic party upon Tariff bills—Independent Treasuries—and land distributions. The Tariff of '46, owing to a revenue famine, has produced a large revenue. The same cause, to wit, the large export of breadstuffs and provisions from the United States, and a proportionally increased importation of duty paying foreign goods, will operate as an average crop of cereal grain and a greatly deficient crop of beans and peas in England, following upon the close consumption of a year of famine, will not suffice for the year, and besides all this there is not a free trade man North of Mason & Dixon's line, who would not rather consent to an increase in the rate of duties upon imports, fully and sufficiently protecting our manufacturers, rather than consent to direct taxation, to meet the interest and principal of our already large and increasing public debt. Direct taxation or an increased Tariff are the alternatives—Who doubts which the Nation will choose?

The proceeds of the sales of public lands are pledged to the redemption of the bonds of the Nation. There will assuredly be no surplus to distribute. Thus another of the old issues is pushed from the area of party. What remains? The Independent Treasury? We boldly affirm that this question was never popular with the people, and that Mr. Polk was elected in spite of it, rather than through its overwhelming popularity of General Hancock—who brought and Ready of the contest of 1840—annihilated Mr. VAN BUREN, and the virtual abandonment of its cumbersome machinery during the existing war, proves it unfit for the duties to be performed by the fiscal system of a Government like this—even in the estimation of its authors.

Now, if Mr. CLAY could be brought to the people of the United States as the able, patriotic, and talented opponent of existing abuses, and upon the trichotomy of his past political career, with all its noble sacrifices upon the altar of his country, we should not fear the result. But can this be? Is it reasonable to expect it? The firm, united and energetic, yet fruitless efforts, of his thousands of devoted friends, in three successive struggles answer No!

The efforts of his political opponents for the last thirty years, to blur the recollection of his noble fame, have been increasing, and although he is the beau-idéal of a Whig statesman amongst the friends of his countrymen of all parties, and the lustre of his greatness must continue to be obscured, so long as it is viewed by the majority of the people, through the medium of prejudice and misrepresentation, studiously propagated, through the instrumentality of those, whose political opposition is embittered by the personal recollection of rebukes, administered in the heat of debate, by the greatest orator of the age, while battling with the creeping corruptions and shameless usurpations of the political chieftain, who have for many years willed the destinies of his country. They have pursued him with a fiendish hatred as discredit as it is unmerited—and it is not at all likely that they will cease to indulge it while his name is before the public as a candidate for the Presidency.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

How is it with General TAYLOR? Without political power—and with his own untarnished sword, he has carved his way to military, no less than civil fame, for the lustre of his recent splendid career, has lighted his pathway, back to his very cradle and the whole nation is delighted at the justice, generosity, truth, purity, and goodness which his own modesty and humility, which his enemies can make a covert attack, much less attempt by escalate or assault; to deprive him from the affections of his countrymen.

The Eagles—In her new plumage, look well. Friend Ritchie makes the new type talk well, in his self-introduction—the fashion of the day; and now the only danger is, that, the Imperial bird will be compelled, by force of circumstances, to turn Fish-hawk, for we learn there is a report in the political waters hereabout preparing for a splash. The Herald will keep sharp look-out ready to chronicle the result. In the mean time, the news will be scattered broadcast amongst our patrons, and the enlightenment which will follow, will, we trust, react upon the source which it emanated—the Press—aye, the teeming press, the most potent of all engines, whether for good or evil.

We learn from the Louisville papers that the Kentucky Regiments, left that city on Monday last, in five steamers, for New Orleans. The gallant fellows gave the admiring crowd, on the shore, one shout at parting which made the welkin ring. Kentucky is proud of them, and she has an abiding confidence in their guardianship of her ancient fame in arms, no less than in their humanity as victors, which they will assuredly be, if ever they meet the foe.

A public meeting is to be held in Lexington, on Saturday the 13th inst.—The Observer and Reporter says: "We are authorized to say that Mr. CLAY will address the meeting on the subject of the existing War with Mexico, the conquest of Mexico, his annexation to the United States, &c., and will present resolutions for the consideration of the meeting."

COUNTERFEIT MONEY ON THE FLEMINGSBURG BANK.—We learn from the Frankfort Yeoman, that a man by the name of Burnes, from Washington county, was arrested last week in Harrodsburg, and committed to the jail of Mercer county for passing counterfeit money. Besides the ten dollars he had passed off, $150 in tens of the Flemingburg Branch of the Bank of Louisville, dated in January and March, 1847, were found concealed in his shoe. The signatures were bludgeoned exactly, and the paper inferior. Burnes was seized by his men to appear at the next term of the Mercer Circuit Court.

Alexander Campbell and Elder J. Henshall have reached home after an absence of several months in Great Britain. The Richmond (Va.) Times speaks of their persecutions at the hands of the Anti-Slavery men of Scotland, and says "they stood manfully by their country," against the aspersions of her enemies. Mr. Campbell was fully sustained in his legal controversy with Robertson, who sued him for libel.

Col. Barbour of Princeton, (Ky.) has raised a battalion of 300 cavalry troops, which number is still increasing for service in Mexico. The Government is greatly in need of efficient troops of this kind, for the purpose of scattering the robber bands which infest the line of communication between our military posts in Mexico; and we think it probable they will be received into service.

It is now supposed that one reason for the delay in communicating Gen. Scott's official despatches to the Government at Washington has been the time required for the Engineers, to survey the late battles and connect the operations at different points and at different times, with the ultimate object.

We learn from the Louisville Journal, that the Whigs of Woodford county, at a meeting held on Monday last—County meeting day—nominated the Hon. Chas. S. Todd for Governor of Kentucky.

The New Orleans Picayune of the 26th ult., says the weather in that city had become suddenly cold, so much so that overcoats, cloaks, &c., were in requisition. The absent residents of the city, are requested to return, as all danger of yellow fever is at an end.

The Washington Union, of a few days ago, announced the result of the Pennsylvania election, as a triumph over the Wilmot Proviso. What will Mr. Polk and Mr. Ritchie think of the Herkimer Convention, and the result of the New York election.

The Vicksburg Whig of the 29th ult., says: Yesterday morning we had frost, though not very severe, it was sufficient to kill the epidemic, if any existed. The town is now very healthy.

Gen'l P. Collins, Gen'l Leslie Combs, David R. Haggard and Thos. Brown, are recommended by their respective friends, for the Speakership of the next House of Representatives.

Death of Col. Bradbury.—Col. George W. Bradbury expired at a quarter past nine o'clock, last evening, after an illness of five days. His death will cause a vacancy in the ranks of the army.

The Camden (S. S.) Journal speaks of a project on foot in that State, to raise a fund, by voluntary contribution of not more than one dollar for each individual, for the support of the family of the late Col. P. M. Butler, who fell in battle before the city of Mexico.

The North American & United States Gazette, (Philadelphia) speaking of the Wilmot Proviso, unquestionably the most important question in its bearing upon the future destiny of the country which has agitated the public mind for many years, has the following: "In our judgment, we have arrived at a juncture, in which the wisdom of our best and greatest statesmen is required to present to the people, the means of restoring harmony, and the means of restoring harmony. It is a time when such men as HENRY CLAY should be invoked to step forward to the rescue; and, if we might venture upon a presumption, or rather, if we might be indulged the freedom,—for we cannot consider that a presumption, which, we know, is the appeal of many an American heart to the patriotism which is left twice so pure or ardent, the country—we would call upon him, from his retirement at Ashland, to deliver his opinion, and give his advice, to the American people on a question which they feel, not so so numerous, as it is, that they are so anxious to be right."

It will be gratifying to the Editor of the American & Gazette, as to all true patriots, to know that Mr. Clay will shortly give to the nation his views upon this all important question. That they will be statesmanlike and patriotic, no whig can doubt, and we most sincerely hope they may ward off the threatened danger to the integrity of the country.

POINTED.—The Albany Atlas, a leading paper of the Democracy of New York, and the organ of the STATES WARRIOR branch of the party, gives the following reply to the attempt of the President's editor to coax or whip the Wilmot Proviso advocates into acquiescence in the administration policy of extending slavery into free territory. It is pretty saucy language; but at the same time quite pertinent: "We say to Mr. Ritchie and those who concur with him, O YOUR WAYS! You were warned in time against the agitations of the Democracy of the North, in relation to the annexation of Texas would produce, you were implored to take Texas without tear; you chose to TAKE IT with war; and now, at this day, you expect the Democracy of the North to bear the responsibility of your measures, they must at least be permitted to protest," &c.

A young man named Robert Kerr, was arrested in Parkersburg, (Va.) on Saturday evening 23d inst., charged with the commission of a crime in Augusta county. The prisoner was lodged in jail, and on complaint of his arrest the Court was called. The prisoner, proved too much, for his mind—he was completely crazed. On Monday morning, he was charged on Sheriff Cook, for Stagnating—a more fit inmate for mother-home, home. "Such were the only and almost incoherent exclamations of the poor maniac; and who, that heard, would ever forget the poignant remarks which he uttered during these endearing words; Parkersburg Gazette.

Protracted Meeting. Elder John C. Cox will preach in the Christian Meeting-house, on Third Street, on Friday evening, at 6 1/2 o'clock. Also the next evening at the hour, and will continue a most interesting series of lectures, till the 10th inst. Rev. President presiding. The public are respectively invited to attend. nov 3

Attention House, Nov. 3. A meeting of this company will take place on Saturday evening, Oct. 17, at 7 o'clock, at the City Hall. As business of importance will be brought before the company, a full attendance is requested. February next, to select Presidential Electors for the State. Let there be a full attendance. nov 3

County Meeting. The friends of Gen. Taylor are requested to meet at the Court-House at Washington, on Monday next, at 10 o'clock, at 2 o'clock. P. M. for the purpose of appointing Delegates to the Franklin Convention, which is to be held in the City of Washington, on the 10th inst. Let there be a full attendance. nov 3

MARRIAGES. In Dover, Mason county, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, by the Rev. Mr. Mason, M. J. Cox, of East Mayville, to Miss Mary Ann, daughter of Charles Wood Esq. At Washington, on Thursday morning, the 4th inst., by the Rev. J. H. Child, M. Williams H. Row, to Miss Anna Maria, daughter of Mr. John Scudder, all of Washington. nov 3

Compromising the latter notice, was a beautiful supply of Wedding Cake, for the printers, sent by the newly married couple, for which evidence of the kindly remembrance, they are assured of the well-wishers of the happy couple. Bright be the skies above them; Happy their fate; May there be lots to love them, Not one to hate. nov 3

Taken Up. A stray, by Davis & Co., Mayville, Md. one inch high twelve & 10, no brands or marks on its side. Being out of the hands of its owner, it is offered for sale at 25 cents. Given under my seal, at the Justice of the Peace for said county, this 3d day of November, 1847. nov 3 SAMUEL W. WOOD, J. P.

For Rent. A Brick Dwelling house, with all the appurtenances, on a comfortable residence, situated on Limestone street, in this City, for rent—Apply to CUTLER & GRAY. nov 3

Axes! Axes! 210 Doz. consisting of Collins', Simmons', and Stewart's Manufacture in Store, and on hand. HUNTER & PHISHER. nov 3 No. 20 Front St., Sign of the Saw.

Peaches. 150 Bushels Dutch, a consignment just received and for sale low for cash. CUTLER & GRAY. nov 3

Dry Goods, Wholesale and Retail LAREW & BRODRICK. Are now in the receipt of the latest and best assorted stock OF SEASONABLE DRY GOODS! WHICH they have ever opened, selected by an experienced buyer, from the stocks of the principal importing merchants of the Eastern and Northern U.S. THE LOOMS OF EVERY MANUFACTURING NATION!

HATS, CAPS, BOOTS AND SHOES, TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS. We offer the introduction of a fine stock of goods, whose styles we know no monopoly from us and will be quite new to them when offering them at their counters. Our prices will be the lowest figures which will cover a legitimate profit. Our terms the same as usual in western houses. TO OUR RETAIL CUSTOMERS.

Another Arrival from New York. LARWIN has just received another fine lot of Water and Sewing Machine, from the City of New York. Call and see them. nov 3 N. B. I have prepared the services of Mr. Saxe, a first class and the most mechanical department of my business. This will insure promptness in the completion of work entrusted to my care. every manner of repairs done. S. GILPIN.

Window Glass. 40 half Boxes 5 lb window glass 20 " " " 10 lb " " " 20 " " " 10 lb " " " For sale by A. M. JANNEY. nov. 3, 1847. $75,000!!! KENTUCKY STATE LOTTERY, Extra Class 48. Decided by the drawing of the Alexandria Lottery, Class T, for 1847. To be drawn at Alexandria, Nov. 27, 47. 78 Number Lottery—14 Draw Balls.

SPLENDID SCHEME. 1 prize of 75,000 Dollars is $75,000 1 prize of 25,000 Dollars is 25,000 1 prize of 10,000 Dollars is 10,000 1 prize of 5,000 Dollars is 5,000 1 prize of 2,000 Dollars is 2,000 1 prize of 1,000 Dollars is 1,000 1 prize of 500 Dollars is 500 1 prize of 200 Dollars is 200 1 prize of 100 Dollars is 100 1 prize of 50 Dollars is 50 1 prize of 25 Dollars is 25 2824 prizes of 20 Dollars are 564,800

Administrators Sale. ON Tuesday the 9th of November next, I will dispose of the following personal property, at the residence of the late large Carpenter's public sale, viz: one fine large Carpenter's table, one fine building on 2d street, a set of carpenter's tools, consisting of planes, saws, augers, &c., a large and excellent assortment. Also—a stove, 2 large kettles, two pine cupboards, a large chest, and a large bedstead, besides many other articles too tedious to mention. The sale to take place at the carpenter's shop of James and John Ficklin, dec'd, on 3d street, in the city of Mayville, at 10 o'clock, A. M. I will also sell at the same time and place, a lot of new and excellent Furniture, consisting of two Mahogany Bedsteads, one fine work stand, fine bedstead, large chair, chairs, wash bowls and pitchers, Mattress, lounge, beds and furniture, &c. I will also sell the above personal property as administrator of James Ficklin, dec'd, to satisfy as far as may be, two mortgages made by said Ficklin, in his lifetime. The terms: for all sums under $100, cash; over that amount, three months credit. Bond with approved security will be required. D. B. RICHARD, Adm. oct27

Superior Teas, &c. At Low Prices. JUST received from New York, a large and really superior lot of the best quality of Teas, &c. at low prices, and offered for sale at lower prices, quality considered, than ever before offered in this city. CUTLER & GRAY. oct13

Brandy, Wine, &c. JUST received from New York, a large and really superior lot of the best quality of Brandy, Wine, &c. at low prices, and offered for sale at lower prices, quality considered, than ever before offered in this city. CUTLER & GRAY. oct13

Store Emporium. DUKE & MOODY, Market street, near Second, are now in receipt of a general assortment of Groceries, such as Flour, Sugar, Coffee, &c. The attention of the public is invited to the attention of the public. Amongst their stock, will be found the following: Premium Imperial air tight; J. M. & W. Night's celebrated Cook Cooking Stoves, warranted to answer the purpose. French & Windsor's Hot Air Stove, with the opening on top. Rough and Ready Family Store, viz: Stanley Paper Store, Nos. 1, 3 and 3; Rough and Ready Family Store, Six-pence do do Paper Store, with Russia columns and drum; Egg Stoves; Seven and ten Plate do; and ten do wood and coal, with and without doors. All of which they will sell as low as the same articles can be bought, for cash in any western market, Cincinnati not excepted. Call and examine our stock. oct27

Superior Lumber. BOARDS, SHIMS, &c. just received from Pennsylvania and for sale at the Lumber yard of CHAS. PHISTEK. I WILL pay the Cash for each for Barley. W. S. PICKETT, Agt. oct27

Whiskey. In its different varieties kept on hand and for sale by W. S. PICKETT, Agt. oct27

Loaf and Brown Sugars and Coffee. CASH paid for good clean FLAX SEED delivered at my house. R. J. LANGHORNE. oct13

Western Reserve Cheese. JOHN P. DORNEY, agent for the Franklin, Fire, and Marine Insurance Co. at Louisville, Kentucky, to take all Marine risks on the most favorable terms. oct17

White Wheat Flour. A FEW barrels, for sale white Wheat Flour, very superior quality, for sale by J. T. PICKETT, oct17

White Wheat Flour. A FEW barrels, for sale white Wheat Flour, very superior quality, for sale by J. T. PICKETT, oct17

