Manslaughter Trial of Elwood Collins Is Underway Here

Twenty-two-year-old Elwood Collins went on trial here Tuesday for manslaughter in connection with the deaths of two men in an automobile accident.

Collins had been indicted as the aftermath of a May 6, 1963 mishap in which DuWay Gregory and Leslie Kidd, both of Clearfield, died in a grinding three-vehicle collision on Ky. 32, about four miles north of Morehead.

Collins allegedly was the driver of a truck which attempted to pass the car in which Kidd and Gregory were riding. The accident took place when Collins' truck came from the other direction and cut back on the right side of the highway to avoid a head-on crash with the oncoming truck, according to State Police reports.

Circuit Court moved into its second week here Monday when the grand jury questioning a large number of witnesses. Several indictments were returned Monday afternoon, but none had been made public Tuesday because most of those who had been examined in the trial had not been arrested and arraigned.

Maude Adkins Passed Away Saturday

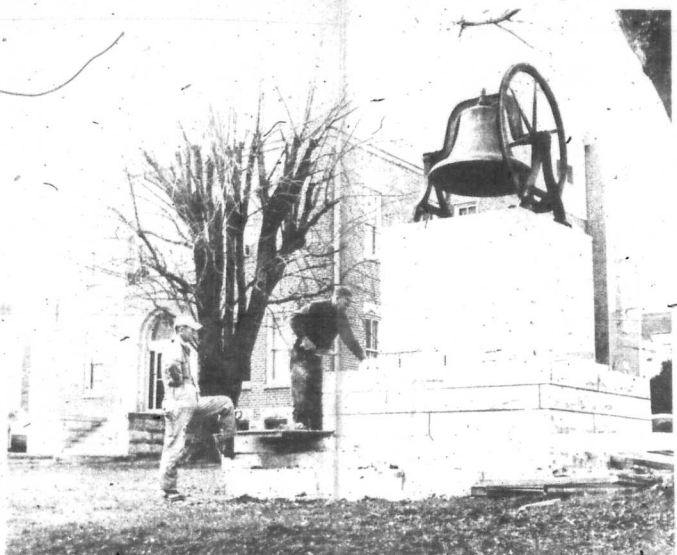

Zoe Maude Adkins, wife of Mrs. Adkins of Haldeman, died Saturday in West Liberty. She was 91.

A native of Elliott County, she was born Jan. 14, 1875. She was married to Mr. Adkins in 1912.

Surviving are the husband and three children: Mrs. Nellie Conley and Mrs. Minnie Burton, both of Morehead; Casey Adkins, Mrs. Della Kinsinger and Dr. Fred Adkins, all of Haldeman; Mrs. Olive Sparks, Mansfield, O.

Two brothers and a sister also survive. They are: Eddie Thornberry, Elliott County, and Mrs. Grace Adkins, Haldeman.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the residence, Rev. Collins officiating. Burial was in New Hill Cemetery under the direction of Lane Funeral Home.

Old Bell Being Remounted

NEW MONUMENT — The bell which tolled terms of court and many historic events at the Rowan County Courthouse since 1836 is being remounted on a stone base in the southeast corner of the courthouse yard. In storage since the courthouse was remodeled several years ago and the bell tower was dismantled, the bell is to be "rededicated" in a ceremony planned in the near future according to County Judge C. Flansbery. The condition of the bell tower made it necessary to remove it from the top of the structure for safety's sake and the bell will be remounted so it can be rung on the new base, Flansbery said.

Burley Sales Open Monday; 3 Million Pounds Seen Here

With 86,000 additional feet of floor space and some 3,000,000 pounds of burley tobacco expected to be on hand, the Morehead Tobacco Warehouse Monday will bring the close of the auction season.

Sales will open, not only in Morehead, but all over the higher than last year goes under the hammer.

The Morehead market is expected to sell in the neighborhood of 10,000,000 pounds during the selling season which will end early in January, according to General Manager Matt Dykes. Last season's sales ran about 11,800,000 pounds, but a 10 percent cut in acreage allowed and the lighter, fluffier tobacco which is expected this season, probably will bring a 10 percent wind up with fewer pounds than in 1963.

However, Dykes said the local market has on hand more tobacco at this stage of the pre-sale preparations than at the same time last year. Burley on hand comes from some 30,000 acres and three states and Dykes pointed out the Morehead market sells for the farmer with the smallest allotment and for the farmer with the largest base.

The crop is expected to sell "pretty well" in line with last season's average, according to Dykes, who predicts that "the companies ought to want the kind of tobacco which we are getting in. There is very little heavy tobacco among that which we've got on the floor now."

The Morehead Warehouse, opened in 1957, has grown from opening year sales of about 3,000,000 pounds to its present status by serving primarily the "mountain farmer." New crops are coming in this year in even larger numbers, according to Dykes with some burley on the market here from distances of up to 200 miles.

The 36,000-foot addition to the Morehead Warehouse is of a new type metal overhead construction.

Thanksgiving Services Set Tonight, Thursday

Morehead's community-wide Thanksgiving services will be held here Monday, continuing tonight (Wednesday) and tomorrow.

The Wednesday services will be held at 1:30 p. m. in the First Methodist Church with Rev. Scott Griffith, pastor of the Clearfield Church of God as the speaker.

Thanksgiving Day ceremonies will be held at 9:30 a. m. in the Free Will Baptist Church on West Main Street with Rev. Tom Ditto, pastor of the First Methodist Church delivering the sermon.

Rev. John Conley, president of the Morehead Ministerial Association, said persons of all faiths are welcome to attend.

Farm Census To Be Ended By Christmas

The U. S. farm census taken each five years (years ending in four and nine) started in Rowan County Wednesday and is expected to be completed before Christmas.

The four Rowan districts and enumerators are:

PINE GROVE DISTRICT - northeast part of county extending from north side of U. S. 60 to Carter County line, and from Morehead east side of Ky. 32 (Fleming County line) to Fleming County line - enumerator, Mrs. Tommie White.

FARMERS - LITTLE BRUSHY DISTRICT - northwest part of county extending from Morehead on north side of U. S. 60 to Bath County line, and from Morehead west side of Ky. 32 to Fleming County line - enumerator, Mrs. Marvin Black.

CLEARFIELD DISTRICT - southwestern part of county, extending from seven feet above Road to Morgan County, and on south side of U. S. 60 from Morehead to Bath County line - enumerator, Carolyn Sue Cauldwell Collins.

HALDEMAN ELLIOTTVILLE DISTRICT - southwest part of county, extending from near Leisure Road to Morgan County line, and on south side of U. S. 60 east from Morehead to Carter County line - enumerator, Jack Carter. (There is more than one Jack Carter in Rowan County. The enumerator is wife of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Carter.)

Farmers are required to fill out their own forms which they have already received. These are reviewed by the enumerator who will call in person at each rural home.

The former required considerable confidential information, including acreage, crop production, livestock, poultry etc.

The 1964 census in Rowan County will bring up to date the farm statistics last collected in 1959.

Here are a few of the many facts recorded in the 1959 farm census for this county:

There were 78 farms in 1959, compared with 740 in 1954. The average size of farms was 129.3 acres in 1959, compared with 107.0 acres in 1954.

The value of products sold by the county's farmers in 1959 was $1,198,829. The value of all crops sold was $835,160. The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $363,669.

The 1964 national census of agriculture is the 18th in a series which began in 1940. Because of the rapid changes American agriculture has been through in recent years, Census Bureau officials regard the current census as one of the most significant ever taken.

INSTALLMENT DEBT LOW Each Family Owes $560

How big a debt load are residents of Rowan County carrying at the present time? What proportion of their income goes each month toward repayment of their installment debt?

The rapid increase in the amount of consumer debt in the United States has been attracting more and more attention from economists and bankers.

The great majority feel that the public has the situation well in hand. They point out that rising incomes justify bigger debt. A few express fears, however, they wonder what would happen if the current economic expansion were halted for an extended period.

At the beginning of this year, the average amount of the installment debt in the United States—for cars, furniture, household equipment and the like—was $896 per family.

This based on studies made by the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center, by the Department of Commerce and others.

In Rowan County, it came to an estimated $460 per household, based on the findings at the national level on average earnings locally.

For the local population as a whole, installment debt added up to approximately $1,854, 000 last year.

The amount of debt per family varies widely from area to area across the country; it depends on local buying habits, upon the age of the family head and upon his occupation and income. Among farmers, for example, only 14 percent have such debt as compared with 50 percent among factory workers.

Last year, throughout the nation, more than $1 out of every $5 of disposable income went for repayment of installment obligations.

In Rowan County, the average was close to $48 per family per month.

The Survey Research Center reports that 26 percent of the families in this county, have auto installment debt, and that 22 percent have debt on washing machines, hi-fi sets, refrigerators and other household equipment.

Installment debt, which totals $54 billion nationally, is only part of what people owe. If bank loans, charge accounts and mortgage obligations were included, the grand total would be $378 billion.

10-Watt FM Station Slated For College

Morehead State College has been admitted to the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System and will have a campus radio station in operation during the second semester.

The educational FM station will have power of 10 watts and its broadcasting coverage will include the campus and immediate area.

Don Holloway, assistant professor of speech and director of the station, said the station will have five basic program divisions: news, education, music, sports and special events which will include every occasion speeches, guest lectures, concert performances and guest interviews.

"We are now conferring with the Federal Communications Commission for call letters, frequency allocation and a broadcasting license," said Holloway, "and we hope to go on the air in March or April."

Construction of the studios, to be located on the second floor of the Corbin Classroom Building, is complete and most of the equipment has arrived.

HE MISSED THE RABBIT

Danny Zeroes in For 87 Points

Danny Cornett went rabbit hunting Sunday and his father tells it, the Breckinridge Training School senior "didn't look any better in the eyes" without cutting down on it.

But his father, ardent hunter Colbie Cornett, was willing to forgive and forget the one lapse, because it is conceivably the youngest player in the area was still so tired he couldn't raise the shotgun to his shoulder.

The reason? Only the night before the standstill Breckinridge cager had pumped in a phenomenal 76 points to lead his team to a 71-61 victory over Carter City in only the second basketball game of the young season for Coach Paul Warminer's quintet.

Cornett's amazing total of 36 field goals and 16 free throws is believed to be the second highest number of points ever scored by a Kentucky high school cager, eclipsing the school record of 48 points tallied by Danny Pierce and was 30 points more than were scored by the entire Carter City team.

Cornett took 56 shots and hit on 56 percent for a red hot 64.2 shooting percentage, gathered in 12 rebounds, and to prove that nobody was especially feeding him the ball, marked up eight assists.

It was the most fantastic shooting exhibition I've ever seen," Warminer told reporters afterward. "The shot cager that only two of the 36 were layups. The other were one-hand jump shots either from the edge of the circle or beyond."

Cornett apparently got hotter as the game progressed. He showed 23 points in the first period, 20 in the second, and a first-half total of 43, and then grabbed 25 points in the final quarter and 19 in the final stanzas giving him a last half record of 44.

The burr-headed "Mr. Breckinridge," as he was crowned just recently by the Blue Club, scored more points in every quarter than the entire Carter City five and in the process picked up only one personal foul.

standout for Warminer's five last season, and a starter on the last Breckinridge five to go to the state tournament (1963), Cornett had opened up the season by five fashion shots.

Rites Held Saturday For Riddle Infant

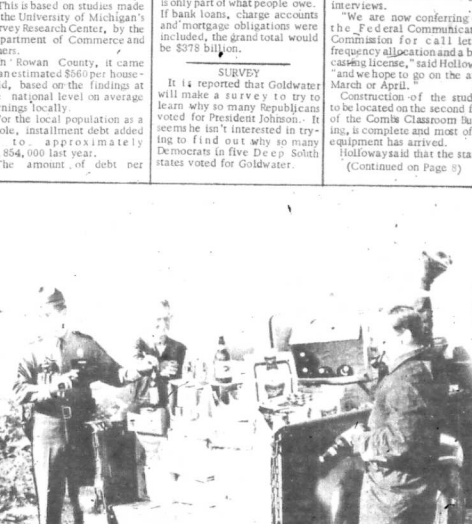

Gravestone services for the infant daughter of Howard and Verne Edridge Riddle, were held Saturday in Cris Cemetery.

The child was born Friday.

Surviving are the parents, a brother, Tommy Joe, and two sisters, Sandra Sue and Pamela Gay, all at home, the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Edridge, Morehead; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Riddle, Clearfield.

Stucky Funeral Home cared for the arrangements.

Beverages Being Broken

OVER THE BANK — Whiskey, beer and wine confiscated by local and state authorities recently, was destroyed last Friday at the city dump. Sgt. Edgar Booher of the State Police, Lt. Deputy Sheriff Dicky White, and Sheriff Charles White, who were in charge of the disposition, while the contraband was hauled in a truck owned by Melvin Hardin, r. County Judge W. C. Flannery said four or five cases of whiskey, two cases of wine and some 250 cases of beer were disposed of by breaking bottles and puncturing cans. Three full loads by a pickup truck were necessary to transport all the illegal beverages to the dump.

Hundreds of farmers and their wives will be... The dam, estimated to cost over $25 million, with a full of 1968 target completion date, will be on Licking River, about 10 miles south of Farmington and 11 miles west of Morehead. The structure will be 135 feet high, over half-mile long, will break a four-mile line of well over 100 miles. Actually, the cost will probably exceed the above figure as this is only a preliminary estimate and the end cost usually is more. More than $11 million has been earmarked by the U. S. UNFOUNDED RUMOR - We heard on Monday last week from more than one downtown source that a young girl climbed on top of the Morehead State College Science Building and threatened to commit suicide by jumping off the forty story structure. The story was so heavily advertised that we never knew money, of consequence, into the house. The late Dave Caudill (Peoples Bank) often told us that he seldom carried more than a couple dollars except when going out of town and always wrote a check. This publisher is, in this respect, another Dave Caudill, except he's right confident the bank wouldn't accept our check in the amount that Mr. Caudill would write. As a lawyer would say "that last statement is prima facie."

REUNION TIME - The church we attend has purchased new song books and one of the hymn Sunday was "Count Your Blessings". The wording of another song dwelt with the (true) thought that although you have trials, tribulations and illness you are fortunate compared to others if you look around your own neighborhood. On behalf of the office staff, and production and printing employees of the Morehead News, we pray for you, and rest, a wonderful Thanksgiving. Instead of dwelling on adversities and heartaches, perhaps sickness or death in the family, let us all count our blessings on this 1964 Thanksgiving Day.

WHAT... ALL OUT OF TURKEY! YES, but we are overflowing with thankfulness - for ever - increasing prosperity and a world at peace. In this wonderful country of ours, we certainly have great cause to be thankful.

Eagles' Open Against Cumberland

With less than a week remaining before his team goes into hardwood action, Morehead State College head coach Bob Laughlin is openly pleased with the progress his young squad has made in pre-season drills.

"We have more speed, height and depth than last year," said Laughlin, "and our sophomores have progressed real well during the past few weeks."

But the colorful Laughlin, who is beginning his 12th year at the Morehead helm, did point out that his squad is not in the best physical shape. "Our timing is bad and we haven't reached the peak of physical condition we usually have at this time."

ONLY FIVE CAN START — Morehead State College basketball coach Bob Laughlin has a problem which isn't bothering him too much — which five boys will be starting in the Eagles game with Cumberland Dec. 1. Shown here with Laughlin are the eight cagers who he says are competing for starting berths as Morehead will have the best depth it has had in several years. Kneeling are (l to r): 6-0 guard Harold Sergeant, 6-0 guard Jim Sandfoss, 5-11 guard Tommy Castle and 6-2 guard-forward Howard Smith. Standing are: 6-7 forward Bob Kohler, 6-9 center Henry Akin, 6-7 forward Sam Hall and 6-5 forward Don DeClercq.

His starting lineup for the Eagles opener against Cumberland College on Dec. 1 is still undecided although senior All-American candidate Harold Sergeant will open at one guard and junior all-OVC center Henry Akin will get the opening call at center.

Bob Kohler, a 6-7 junior, will open at one of the forwards while the other forward is up for grabs between two sophomores — Sam Hall, a strapping 6-7 youth and 6-2 jumping jack Howard Smith. The other starting berth at guard will probably go to junior Tommy Castle, a 5-11 former all-star from Virginia, although 6-0 Jim Sandfoss, a sophomore from Silver Grove, could get the nod.

Three other sophomores have shown steady improvement and are counted on for a great deal of reserve strength. Don DeClercq, a rugged 6-5 forward, David Turner, a great shooter but a short 6-0 forward and John Waggoner, another rugged scrapper who will see action at guard, all could possibly break into the starting lineup.

Morehead experienced a sub-par 10-11 season in 1963-64 although Sergeant and Akin finished the season as the one and two scorers in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Sergeant was 18th in the nation with a 26.0-point average while Akin had a 22.2 average in his sophomore year.

In a game-like scrimmage with the freshman team Thursday Akin checked the nets with 30 points while Sergeant had 19 as the varsity won handily, 101-62.

"One of the real pleasing aspects of the scrimmage," said Laughlin, "was the scoring output of our forwards as they got 30 points, 43 and 28." It was Laughlin who is credited as the scoring second semester freshman Bruce King, a 6-5 youth who will be eligible for varsity competition the second semester.

"Bruce scored 23 points and rebounded well and will provide a great boost to us when he becomes eligible the second semester," added Laughlin.

The Morehead roster includes:

Name	Pos.	Ht.	Yr.	Hometown
Harold Sergeant	G	6-0	Sr.	Ashland
Tom Castle	G	5-11	Jr.	Virgie
Jim Sandfoss	G	6-0	So.	Silver Grove
John Waggoner	G	6-3	So.	Wingo
Henry Akin	C	6-9	Jr.	Troy, Mich.
David Banfield	G	6-4	So.	Frenchburg
Bob Kohler	F	6-7	Jr.	Detroit, Mich.
Sam Hall	F	6-7	So.	Coal Grove, Ohio
Howard Smith	F	6-2	So.	Birmingham, Ala.

One Junkyard In State Permits

Approximately one out of every four junkyard dealers in Kentucky have complied with the state's screening law and have been issued permits. Highway Commissioner Henry Ward announced this week.

Ward said that as of Oct. 31, 206 of the state's 885 known junkyards had erected suitable screens and had received permits. Forty-one permits were issued during October.

Also, Ward pointed out that 50 percent of the junkyard dealers in Kentucky had submitted applications for permits by the end of October.

Tobacco Stalks Have Valuable Nutrients

By Adrian M. Razor
 County Agent

When Kentucky's 1964 tobacco crop is stripped, there will be about 176,000 tons of stalks in and around stripping barns. There will be more than $2 million worth of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium in them.

If these stalks are left outside the barn and exposed to winter rains, 61 percent of the nitrogen, 38 percent of the phosphorus, 83 percent of the potassium and 41 percent of the organic matter may be lost.

Preserve the value of the stalks by spreading them on fields after stripping or keeping them under a shelter until they are spread next spring.

If tobacco stalks are spread in fall or winter, they should be put on lawns, pastures, meadows or small grain fields where a living root system will pick up the nutrients as they leach from the stalks. They can be spread on these same fields in the spring without loss of nutrients. Also there will be little loss of nutrients if stalks are spread on cultivated fields in the spring and plowed or disked in.

Do not use stalks from mosaic susceptible varieties or Black Shank infested stalks on tobacco beds or fields.

Already the Interstate System has saved the average driver $150

These highways don't just cost money — they also save it! And the savings keep growing with the mileage. □ So far, the savings from reduced accidents, decreased driving time and lower car operating costs amount to $150 per driver. This year alone, they'll total $2½ billion. When the System is complete, savings will reach $6¼ billion a year. □ Actually, there's enough to be happy about just in the easier, more relaxed driving you get. It's the safest driving ever known. Right now, these roads are preventing 7,500 accidents every month. □ Another benefit is the way Interstate highways of concrete last. Concrete has the solid strength that keeps the smoothness and comfort in your ride while it minimizes the upkeep costs. □ Portland Cement Association.

Boyd McCullough Services Extolled

Editor, The News

The recent death of our beloved brother, Chief C. B. McCullough, has cast a spell of gloom over every firefighter in the State of Kentucky.

The contributions of Chief McCullough in time and effort in the fire-services were so many and great that they could never be itemized. Through his years of service he became known to most all firemen in the State of Kentucky and was held in the highest esteem. We have lost not only a kind and gracious friend but also a counselor to whom we could turn with the knowledge that his every effort to assist would be extended to the utmost.

Although Chief McCullough is gone, he shall not soon be forgotten by his brother firemen. There is no doubt but that for his unselfish devotion to his responsibilities, many persons alive today, would otherwise be only another figure in the statistics that make up the list of those who died untimely deaths through the ravages of fire.

Graders For M'head Mart Are Selected

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Marketing Service has assigned Ezra B. Vance to the Morehead tobacco market to supervise federal tobacco inspection this season.

Vance heads a group of Agricultural Marketing Service tobacco inspectors at the Morehead market. Others are: David L. Jones and Albert C. Adams. Shortly before the sale of burley tobaccos starts, one of the USDA tobacco inspectors examines each lot of tobacco and grades it according to official United States standards.

He enters the grade, date, and his initials on the basket ticket, which then becomes the certificate of grade for that lot of tobacco. After the sale, data on grades and prices are collected from these tickets and consolidated by the Agricultural Marketing Service's Tobacco Division.

Averages are calculated and form the basis for the published market news and price reports. Current price reports are made available to the growers on the auction floor.

The Agricultural Marketing Service's tobacco inspection and market news services are in effect on all burley markets, according to James W. Greene, district supervisor of A.M.S.'s Tobacco Division. He says the two services provide the burley grower with information as to the quality of his tobacco according to USDA grade, the current average price at which such grade is selling, and the support price for that grade.

The inspection and market news services are authorized by the Tobacco Inspection Act, passed in August 1935, according to Greene. The act provides for free and mandatory inspection on those markets that have been designated for the services by the Secretary of Agriculture, following favorable referrals of growers selling on such markets.

(Continued from Page 1) Scouts passing Merit Badges for achievement such as canoeing, swimming, rowing, citizenship, atomic energy, public speaking, coin collecting, first aid, camping, bugling, personal fitness and basketball were: Chuck Duncan - 5, Ron Jackson - 4, Martin Proffoot - 2, Kim Rogers - 4, Timmy Clayton - 2, Stephen Lewis - 2, Gary Bishop - 1. Ron Jackson was given special recognition for being the second scout in Kentucky to receive a newly added Merit Badge on atomic energy. The program was headed by John Goffin, chairman of the Troop Committee, along with Bruce Harris, Jim Harvey and Russ Jackson, Scoutmasters. Members of the Troop Committee are Thomas Diro, Clint Johnson, Clay Snodgrass, John Will Holbrook, Jr., John Rogers and Sterling Johnson, George Fraley, a college student, now assisting the Troop and Post also participated in the program. Then there's the Republican losing presidential candidate to do it. When you wind it up, it cusses the news media.

10-Watt- (Continued from Page 1) has two studios, a control room, a staff room, production room, library and an equipment and storage room. The transmitter will be located on the fourth floor of the Goble Classroom building with the simple ring antenna located on the roof. The station will be equipped with a dual channel console which will permit station personnel to control one program on the air and a second program at the same time. Two 16-inch turntables, a cartridge tape recorder and two rack-mount tape recorders. Other equipment will include a production-remote control unit which has two turntables, a recorder, mike connections and controls which will be located in the production room for use in rehearsals and disk jockey program. Holloway pointed out that the station will be non-commercial and will carry no advertising. More than 40 students will work on the station's staff. One will serve as chief student announcer, another as chief student engineer and five as program director. Holloway, who has been at Morehead State College since 1958, has worked with educational radio since 1950 when he was on the original staff of the fifth high school radio station in the nation, WVSH-FM, at Huntington High School, Huntington, Ind.

KU Rate Reduction Effective Jan. 1

Kentucky Utilities Company will reduce electric rates for more than 200,000 customers beginning Jan. 1 under a $1,455,000 a year rate reduction K. U. will file Friday Nov. 20 with the Public Service Commission. One purpose of the reduction is to pass on to the customers the full effect of the tax relief provided by the lower federal income tax rate, according to W. H. Skinner, K. U. vice president. The company's income tax rate will be decreased from the current 50 percent to 48 percent Jan. 1. In addition to passing on the tax relief, the reduction contains a further downward adjustment in rates made possible through increased operating efficiency on the part of the company and the increased use of electricity by our customers, Skinner said. This added adjustment accounts for $867,000 of the annual rate reduction. The current reduction, which affects city and rural residential general service, light and power and mine power users, is K. U.'s fourth rate reduction in the historical and industrial customer.

Joseph T. Fannin, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fannin, Jr. of Route 2, Morehead, recently reported for duty aboard the fleet oiler USS Neosho, operating out of Norfolk, Va. This ship transports black oil, gasoline and other petroleum products to units of the Atlantic Fleet at sea, enabling these units to operate at sea for indefinite periods without the support of land bases.

Burley Sales- (Continued from Page 1) structure, and Dykes said farmers who have inspected it call it "the finest we've ever seen." The Morehead market has led the state in opening day average for the past four years - packing up an average of 265,665 per hundred last season, and Dykes predicted "we'll lead the state again this year."

Lt. Thomas Hinton Aboard 'Philip' Navy Lt. (j.g.) Thomas E. Hinton, son of Mrs. W.C. Lane of Morehead, is a crewmember of the destroyer USS Philip, operating out of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. The 22-year old destroyer recently changed her operational schedule to meet a rather unusual commitment - that of portraying the fictional destroyer USS Cassidy in the motion picture "In Harm Way" produced by Otto Preminger.
