Democrats Set Precinct Elections

Rowan County Democrats will gather at their precinct Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to elect precinct committees...

All meetings will be held at the polling places of the November general election.

The persons elected precinct committee and committee members will attend at the courthouse the following Saturday (Dec. 5) to set up a permanent four-year organization.

Political analysts anticipate little controversy at either the precinct or county levels as no state-wide power struggle is involved...

Clinic rehearsals are scheduled for Saturday with a concert by the clinic chorus scheduled at 3 p. m. Sunday.

ULTIMATUM LAID DOWN

City Council Orders TV Goble Firm 'Improve Or Lose Franchise'

A special committee of Morehead's City Council has ordered Morehead TV Cable Company to improve its service or face the possibility of revocation of its franchise.

City Attorney Thomas R. Burns said today that the group had given TV-Cable Company owner Arnold J. Pack until the February meeting of council to show improvement in the quality of the company's transmission or council would move at that time to vacate the contract under which the company operates.

He said he has agreed with the council committee's recommendations that he call in consulting engineers in an effort to estimate electrical interference, and improve the picture quality of the cable.

According to Burns the cable company owner told council he would follow the recommendations of the consulting engineers.

In a letter to Mayor Eldon T. Evans and members of city council, Pack said recently that "everything possible is being done to eliminate this problem."

He detailed moves that have been taken and a possible alternative to the present set up and advised the mayor "I will meet with City Council at the February meeting to evaluate the progress."

The text of the letter: "We are making a supreme effort to eliminate electrical interference and to improve the picture quality on our TV Cable System. (Electrical interference does not necessarily mean power line interference but possibly a neon sign, electric motor, or even an electrical appliance.)"

A matching transformer will be installed on sets not having them. Another consultant engineer is being called in to help with the trouble shooting.

Each time a new piece of equipment is recommended, we have purchased same but still no remedy. A consultant engineer has stated to me that the source of the interference must be located and remedied rather than any special equipment for

Glennis Fraley Named To State Position Soil

Two new members and one re-appointee to the bi-partisan Commission of the Soil and Water Resources Division of the Kentucky Department of Natural Resources have been sworn in for four-year terms.

They are Morton Jett, Breathitt County Democrat, for the Sixth District; Duward Funk, Marion County Republican, re-appointed for the Fourth District; and Glennis Fraley, Rowan County Republican, for the Eighth District. There are five Democrats and four Republicans on the commission.

Two nominations each for the commission are made by Soil Conservation District Supervisors in the nine districts. The appointments for staggered terms are made by the Natural Resources Department commissioner with the approval of the Governor.

Rehearsals For 'Messiah' Changed

Rehearsals for the Christmas-season production of Handel's "Messiah," have been changed from 2 p. m. Sunday to 1:55 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Victor Venetozzi, who is directing the oratorio, announced the change. Rehearsals are held in the First Christian Church.

Salt Lick Man Kills Self At Home Sunday

A Bath County farmer shot and killed himself at his home near Salt Lick Sunday night.

Bath County Coroner Charles Ray Gregory said Johnnie Beaufort, 43, died of a self-inflicted bullet wound at 7 p. m. The coroner said Beaufort shot himself in the head with a .38-caliber automatic. Gregory said he returned a suicide verdict.

Beaufort was a World War II veteran and a member of the Baptist Church.

Cave Run Hearing Expected To Draw Large Delegations

Large delegations from four area counties are expected here next Thursday when representatives of the Army Corps of Engineers explain, for the first time in public, the land acquisition policies which will be followed in connection with Cave Run Dam.

Scheduled at 7:30 p. m. in the Rowan County High School gym, the hearing will attract persons from Bath, Menifee, Morgan and Rowan Counties, all of which will be affected by the impoundment of the Licking River to form the $26,500,000 Cave Run Reservoir.

Specifics of the land acquisition procedure are expected to be spelled out by engineers from the Corps' Louisville office which has construction jurisdiction over the project.

More than $1,000,000 of the $26,500,000 total is expected to be allocated for land acquisition alone.

Construction of Cave Run, with an appropriation of $1,300,000, is to get underway in March. Completion has been targeted for late 1968.

The dam itself will be located about four miles south of Farmers. The impoundment will extend 6 1/2 miles, according to plans prepared by the Corps of Engineers.

Thursday's meeting is a public one, to which all interested persons are invited. Corps of Engineers spokesmen said.

Nuisance Indictment Returned Against Charcoal Processor

The Cumberland Corporation — operators of an extensive charcoal plant at Haldeman — this week was named in an indictment charging that the firm was "maintaining a nuisance."

Commonwealth's Attorney Elijah M. Hogue said the action grew out of a petition presented to the grand jury by residents of the Haldeman section maintaining that the most noxious gas from the plant created a health hazard, causing coughing and general discomfort.

Hogue said conviction on the charge could subject the firm to a fine of up to $5,000, and that continuation of the nuisance after conviction would subject it to the same penalty each day.

The company buys wood and using kilns processes it by burning into charcoal.

The commonwealth's attorney said the indictment would be mailed to the corporation's headquarters in usual proceedings when an incorporated entity is indicted.

Under MATO MISLETT FILED, Under-Secretary of State George W. Ball returned from Europe optimistic about prospects for agreement early next year for formation of a nuclear weapons force within NAJFO.

The United States and West Germany have been pressing vigorously for the seaborn nuclear force of more than a year.

He said the new British Labor Government would need time to work out its position on the nuclear weapons issue.

Civil Action Brought Here by Term Given Auto Driver

Four boys from Boy Scout Explorer Post 142 of Morehead recently completed a 35-mile canoe trip down the Red and Kentucky Rivers.

The trial will be held at 11 o'clock for Mrs. Vesta Caudill, who died Monday at her home on Flemingburg Road.

The rites will be held at the residence to be conducted by Rev. Charles Vantant.

Burial is to be in Carter Cemetery in Elliott County.

Surviving, in addition to the husband are the 10 children: Willis Caudill and Ernie Caudill, both of Morehead; Lonnie Caudill, father Caudill, Virgil Caudill, Mrs. Ann Ewe, Yukum, all of Springfield, O.; and Adolph Caudill, Shاربurgh.

Also surviving are a brother and two sisters. They are: Byrnie Caudill and Mrs. Ethel McBrayer, both of Springfield, O.; and Mrs. Sabra Howard, Sandy Hook.

Stucky Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Rites Held For Oscar Baldrige

Death came Friday to Oscar Baldrige of Clearfield. He was 58.

Baldrige passed away in St. Vincent Medical Center after an illness of about a month.

He was born April 3, 1903 in Rowan County.

Surviving are his wife, Linda Cell Baldrige, a son, Wendell Baldrige, Clearfield, and a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Dunlin, Crestline, O.

Four brothers and three sisters also survive. They are: Estill Baldrige, Charlie Baldrige, Ezra Baldrige and Mrs. Olive Jones, all of Clearfield; Harley Bladrige and Mrs. Mildred O'Garris, both of Plymouth, O.; and Mrs. Leona Thornberry, Osville, O.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the home of God Rev. J. H. Williams and Rev. Willard Day of Clearfield.

Burial was in Forest Lawn Memorial Center under the direction of Stucky Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Luster Lamoreaux, Ray Walters, Clay Lewis, Edgar Bowman, James Lambert and Joe Wallace.

Honorary pallbearers were Wallace J. Forest Wells and Wallace Webb.

Mail Speed-Up Plan Slated For Christmas

Longer post office window hours, expanded delivery services and large-scale extension of ZIP-coded parcel post speedup are planned for Christmas, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski has advised Morehead Postmaster, Claude L. Clayton.

Gronouski outlined to the Monday through Friday, through major new steps he has taken "for the best Christmas mail service the Postal Service has ever had."

Expanded post office window hours Dec. 5 to 6 as deemed necessary by the local postmaster.

Total volume of the 27 major holding sales was 20,634,144 pounds sold for $12,919,470, an average of $62.61 per hundred pounds, the State Department of Agriculture said. Three state markets held no sales.

Last year's average was $61.42 on sales of 2,431,454 pounds. The highest opening day average was $66.92 in 1961.

Observers are looking for higher prices this season, pointing to higher quality leaf and a more abundant harvest. Kentucky's 1964 harvest was estimated at 404 million pounds. For the

Ferguson Gets Life Term In Robbery Case

A civil action involving a check stolen by a burglar against General Telephone Company, Alderman Brothers Construction Company and John Smith will be tried in Rowan Circuit Court today (Thursday).

Blevins allegedly was burned last winter when he came in contact with a utility wire at his home on the Flemingburg Road.

The court's November term is scheduled to end Saturday. The grand jury adjourned Tuesday after rendering its final report.

Arthur Gross, indicted for involuntary manslaughter in connection with the deaths of three young boys who died here last spring, was given three years and nine months in prison when the grand jury was called.

Gross was the driver of a car which collided with a small foreign car on Brady Curve, the Morehead State College students riding in the foreign car were killed.

Gross was indicted at the time they were pursuing the car driven by Gross, which he was on the road when the crash occurred, but no operator's license and had been drinking.

Gross' life sentence in the penitentiary was Donald Ray Ferguson, who pleaded guilty to a charge of armed robbery, was sentenced to life with James Herbert Fultz, who was indicted but not tried at this term, and Fultz, who was indicted but not tried at this term, were given 15 years.

Herbert Fultz, who was indicted but not tried at this term, was given 15 years in the penitentiary for dwelling house breaking.

Elwood Collins, charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the deaths of two men in an automobile accident on Flemingburg road, was acquitted of the charge last Tuesday.

Collins was the driver of a truck which was involved in an accident with the car in which Leslie Kidd and Dorsey Gregor were killed.

Acquitted of a charge of reckless driving was Eugene Stampfer.

At least three indictments returned by grand jury have not been made public because the grand jury has not yet returned a verdict.

Deputy Circuit Court Clerk James Castle said Wednesday.

L. Stegall, 64, Claimed At Sharkey

Leonard Stegall, 64, died at his home near Sharkey Friday following a long illness.

The farmer, Stegall was a native of Rowan County. He was born Sept. 12, 1900 at Sharkey, Miss.

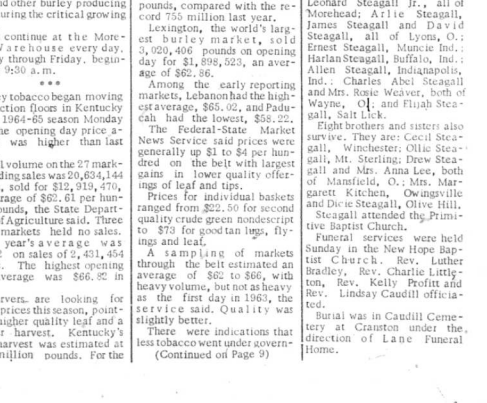

In 1926 he was married to Minnie Tackett, who survives. They are Cecil Stegall, Stegall, Cecil Stegall and Leonard Stegall Jr., all of Morehead. Arlie Stegall, James Stegall and Roy Stegall, all of Lyons, O.; Ernest Stegall, Muncie Ind.; Duane Stegall, Bufile, Ind.; Allen Stegall, Indianapolis, Ind.; Charles Abel Stegall, Ind.; Steve Stegall, Bufile, Ind.; Wayne O. and Philip Stegall, Salt Lick.

Eight brothers and sisters also survive. They are Cecil Stegall, Winchester; Ollie Stegall, Mt. Sterling; Drew Stegall, Bufile; George Stegall, Bufile; of Mansfield, O.; Mrs. Margaret Kitchin, Owensville; Mrs. Duane Stegall, Bufile; and Mrs. Stegall, Owingsville.

Stegall attended the Primitive Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the new Hope Baptist Church. Rev. Luther Bradley, Rev. Charlie Littlejohn, Rev. Steve Stegall, Bufile, and Rev. Lindsay Caudill officiated.

Burial was in Caudill Cemetery at Cranston under the direction of Lane Funeral Home.

Breck Loses 2 Tilts; Cornett Paces Scoring

Breckinridge Training School, despite outstanding scoring efforts by senior Danny Cornett, dropped two basketball games during the week.

The Eagles lost a close one to Grayson, 85-83, with Cornett tallying 39 points last Tuesday, and then fell before surprising Hitches, 76-58. Cornett tallied 32 in that Hitches, although he was double-teamed much of the evening.

The two losses ran Breck's season's record to 1-3 as they prepare to meet Menifee County here tonight (Thursday) and then travel to Jenkins Saturday.

No more than five points separated the Eagles and Grayson at the quarter stop. Grayson built a five-point edge at 23-18 at the end of the first period and then Coach Paul Watkins' Breck cut quint outscore them by three points during the remaining three periods.

Although Cornett tossed in 39 points, he did not hit the scoring honors. Jerry Holtbrook of Grayson managed to net 42.

After playing on even terms during the first period, Hitches pulled away from the Eagles during the last three stanzas to win easily.

The Carter County team built up a 10-point edge at halftime and extended it to the final 18-point lull.

Cornett, who tallied 87 points against Carter City in his first game, scored 26 in the second contest, hit 12 of 26 shots from the field and connected on 15 of 16 free throws against Grayson.

He made 15 of 23 tries from the field against Hitches, running in 40 points for 77 percent to 182, for an average of 45.5.

Sports Center Lauded By Area Broadcaster

Editor, The News

With the opening this fall of the new football stadium, may I convey, through you, to the fine people of the County and to friends of Morehead everywhere, a warm pat on the back, for the sports center which so productively displayed in the attainment of this fine sports facility.

Morehead College has a history of growth and progression unequalled in Kentucky and perhaps the nation. Through these years of rapid expansion, you have been fortunate, indeed, to have a man of the stature and ability of Dr. Doran. I certainly hope you people are fortunate enough to have him at the helm for many more years to come.

My good friend, Bob Laughlin, has certainly labored long and hard in his capacity as Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach at Morehead State College. It's a good thing for the school budget, that this fellow doesn't get paid. He certainly has done a terrific job. His staff deserve special commendation for the remarkable job they have performed in elevating the Morehead football program to a point of perennial title contention in the CVC.

The new three tier, heated seats—box at Breckath Sports Center is a far cry from the little white "cooler" at the old Stadium. I still get a chill thinking of mid November's bitter snow blowing vertically into my face as I attempted to make a fourth quarter 33-0 score in favor of Tennessee Tech sound exciting.

Morehead's wonderful academic and athletic facilities in a testament to leadership with great pride. As for the new football field—good health and good fortune for all those who play there.

Lawrence McGullis, General Manager Radio Station WCYN Cynthia, Ky.

Breckinridge Training School parents are asking, "Why the big fuss locally concerning physical fitness?" The answer is simple. Our students (too many of them) are not physically fit.

It seems that it is time that we, parents and teachers, move the students from the television to the yard. We are interested in the total development of our children. They must keep up with their class physically as well as mentally.

Answering the question many parents ask, "What can I do about all this?" Dr. Charles Bucher of New York University offers the following practical suggestions:

1. See that children get proper rest, medical care, nutrition, fresh air, exercise, and other essentials to physical fitness.
2. Buy toys that give children a good physical workout, as well as fun. For the next gift, why not purchase a horizontal bar that fits in a doorway? This encourages each child to chin himself before passing through.
3. Equip the basement of backyard with climbing ropes, a trapeze, badminton set, deck tennis, table tennis equipment, balance beam, and the like.

4. Involve the youngsters in work around the house such as mowing the yard, taking out the garbage, and other jobs which include a healthy physical activity.

5. Insist that the children practice what they preach. Do not school if the distance is more than two miles. (DID YOU HEAR THAT? PARENTS: PICK UP THEIR CHILDREN! UP TO DRIVE THEM HOME.)

6. Arrange for more physical activities where Mom and Dad and all the kids go hiking, camping, bowling, square dancing, swimming, or roller skating together, especially in the outdoors.

Some people believe that the best means of transportation in the world is walking. Are we getting away from this? We don't want the young people in our school to be physically fit. We want them to enjoy themselves by three means. We would like to solicit your help in making a hale and hardy student body at our school. A total lack of means toward physical fitness is the best help that can be given to a student.

'64 Was Best Year Parks Have Recorded

In all activities, 1964 was the best year yet in the Kentucky state park system's 16 year-history, Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell says in a report to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt.

About 14 million park visitors exceeded by three million the record set in 1963. Receipts were about $5 million at the 34 parks and shrines, up $1 million from 1963, Bell said.

Occupancy percentage—rooms and cottages reserved of the total available for the main vacation months also was at the best yet.

"The chief reason for this," Bell said, "was our new central reservation service. Direct connection to all vacation parks and between parks made it possible to recommend other similar facilities when one park was full."

During the year, new resort lodges were opened at Natural Bridge State Park, near Slade, and Buckhorn Lake State Park, near Hazard. These were the last major projects in a $20 million expansion program started in 1961.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said that he would try to end bickering among Republicans party factions if he is asked to do so. The former President made this statement at a dinner at Columbia University, but did not give out further information on any plans at this time.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War In Kentucky

By Joe Jordan
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week the Federal government issued an abeyance order putting an end to efforts to draft more Kentuckians into the Union Army. The draft call affected, first for the earlier days and once postponed, had been put in operation Sept. 19, and had been a failure. The effort had been renewed in the form of a "supplementary" draft in Kentucky which had not filled their quotas, but it also failed. The order abandoning any further attempts came out Dec. 4.

Men whose names had been listed for military service, and who had been notified to report, disappeared in large numbers. Some of them were known to have joined the Confederate States Army. Others were believed to have joined the guerrilla bands which were preying upon civilians. A few were reported to have left the country. Those who remained at home after their names were drawn were the ones who were finally able to substitute themselves to take their places. It was reported that Negro sub-garage, and other jobs which provided a healthy physical activity.

The "Military History of Kentucky" says: "That the draft failed utterly is borne out by official correspondence and documents, indicating that nearly 7,000 of the men drafted in Kentucky in November and December, 1864, failed to report for duty, and accordingly were listed as Union Army deserters."

It was reported that 576 men

Car Imports Thrive In First 10 Months

Import car dealers did a thriving business in the first 10 months of 1964 and there is no sign of any slackening off in the final two months.

That was the word in automotive circles as a tabulation of registration of the top imported makes showed them running well ahead of the corresponding period in 1963.

Sales of the top 10 were well past the 300,000 mark, compared with 267,482 in the comparable 10 months of last year.

Volkswagen, perennial No. 1 seller among imports in the U.S. market, tallied 929,446 U.S. sales in the January-October period, and by Nov. 10 already exceeded the 200,000 deliveries made in all of calendar 1963.

In conjunction with the report showing imports doing well in the U.S. sales market, a veteran observer of the British auto market raised the question of whether the American industry has not left the door wide open for foreign makes to move into the approximate $2,200 price range.

John F. Dugdale, editor of the magazine Automotive Business, published by the British Automobile News Bureau, asked: "Has the domestic industry allowed the gap to widen between its own and small economy sedans, leaving room for imports to make new headway in the American market?"

"But the evidence seems to argue the other way. In the first place, Detroit's billion-dollar investment in new cars was spent not to perfect austere cars, or to create more effective competitive vehicles in the under $2,200 price category. Rather it was spent to upgrade what were once the compact, to dress up the standard size Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth lines for 1965 and to promote the Rambler models out of the compact line."

Dugdale wrote that while the "era of chrome and horsepower has not returned completely, there is more or less moved in that direction."

"This is not being said in a critical vein," he explained, "but judging by the buyers' emblem of the upgraded '65 models in their initial appearance, the domestic industry would have been foolish not to cater to the demand for frills and power."

Belief that the U.S. car buyer wanted more and more power in his vehicle was refuted in part this week by the trade publication's article on imported cars.

It released a survey showing that 85 per cent of the cars made in 1964 had 200 horsepower or less; 32.3 per cent were in the 200-300 HP class and 12.1 per cent in 301-400 HP ratings.

The argument over just what the American consumer wanted recalled a recent statement by Thomas A. Coupe, American Motors president, who said: "Basic transportation is no longer the important thing that 90 per cent of the people talk about when they go out to buy a car today. The public wants bucket seats, 18 kinds of transmissions and 47 flavors."

Eagles Could Well Be 'Loaded'; Round Ball Coaches Curbed

The round ball predominates the sports pages, and many Morehead fans are confident of the best team since Dan Swartz and Steve Hamilton captured the MSAC champ...

The date was $16, the politely inquired if it was pouring a motel that was cheaper, perhaps $5 or $6. (It was pouring a rain.) The manager strolled to the desk, and said to the lady: "Mr. and Mrs. Caruthers will be coming to the motel..."

The toast of Morehead's basketball was today's Breck's Danny Cornett who scored 87 points in one game, and is a good bet for all-state.

INTEGRATION - The first Negro ever to play against a white team was the Mason-Dixon line was about 16 years ago when Morehead and Duquesne met in basketball at the Louisville Armory.

PRECINCTS DEFINED - Although voting machines were installed almost two years ago, Rowan's precincts were cut from 21 to 13 as obvious, as County Clerk Ortilt Eames agrees, that voters still have difficulty recognizing the precinct where they are registered.

YULE SPIRIT - Orchids to the Chamber of Commerce, and merchants, for installing exterior Christmas decorations, and lights, in the business section shortly after Thanksgiving.

WONDERS NEVER CEASE - It's not being published, but the Democrat party ended with a financial surplus in Rowan County after the Nov. 3 general election. Our experience has been there's never enough money to finance an election.

POSSIBLE - Passage of the Appalachian bill by the Congress would eliminate the chances of a Federal grant to pipe water from Licking River and also widening Triplett Creek.

HAD TALENT - Charles C. Wheeler, of Morehead, recently arrested by federal agents for possessing (or passing) large quantities of near perfect counterfeit money, is an artist. He has painted portraits of many wealthy Kentuckians.

LAST CALL - If you plan to attend the inauguration in Washington this is the final call of the Rowan County delegation. Their hotel room reservations expire next Monday. The Rowan group will spend Sunday (Jan. 17), Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Washington.

Thursday in the nation's capital. Contact Glenn W. Lane, Bruce Bort of Bill Sample.

ROCK SEASON - Quail and rabbit hunters are outspokenly disappointed this year. The coveys are few, and small, and the bunnies ain't where they used to be.

PROPER TRIBUTE - The oldest living former Rowan County official is Sheriff Willis who served as Sheriff about half a century back. It is fitting that Mr. Wells be the first to ring the old courthouse bell being erected as a monument on southeast corner of Main and Market streets.

MORE ON BELLS - Elsie Lee Cornett said the two things she probably misses the most from the days when she grew up were meeting the passenger train and the church bells on Sunday mornings.

COMPLETE FORMS NOW - Rowan County's farm census is underway. Have your form filled out when the enumerator calls. He will review your figures for accuracy.

LEGALLY FILED - City Council has completed the necessary, and final, papers required almost a million dollars for 70 additional rental housing units in Morehead. We think about 40 will be approved.

SIGNING OFF - What downtown Morehead needs is a good shoe shine boy. Don't be surprised if Vice-President Humphrey is the June commencement speaker at Morehead State. St. Clair, Ky. Morehead is one of the very few hospitals east of Lexington that have interns, and one of only two hospitals in the nation with a staff (Medical Center) of specialists.

A POSSIBLY - Radar May Have Cut Highway Death Toll. A preliminary study of the 12 highways where little or no radar was used during the holiday season indicates widespread use of radar may have kept the toll down.

One was killed on U.S. 69 in Union County - after State Police had moved out their roadblock unit. One died on U.S. 25 in Laurel County. The area was being patrolled but no radar was in the area at the time.

There also was considerable radar activity in far Western Kentucky, with 143 speeding arrests tallied. No one died in crashes during the holiday period in that area.

Newman said there were "any number" of roadblocks - with some arrests made for drunken driving and failure to have an operator's license. Details had not been compiled.

It does one thing - people are talking about radar. He said, "To the extent that they are less likely to take a chance on speeding, this is helping us."

The portable radar will continue in-use 16 hours daily on a sporadic basis throughout Kentucky.

Breathitt Calls State Meeting On Agriculture. Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has announced a statewide Governor's Conference on Agriculture to be held in Louisville Feb. 9-11.

The conference will deal primarily with the administration's plan to raise Kentucky's annual farm income to $1 billion. Breathitt said.

Breathitt said several farm-industrialists will be on the program to outline the part they and farmers can play in the overall development of the state's agricultural economy.

SHORT-SIGHTED - So far as we know, no Goldwater supporter has been optimistic enough to leave his "Gold Water 64" sticker on his car and "eat and paste an '8' over the '64'."

Christmas Customs Date Back To The 1840s

A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you - the almost universal greeting of the season - dates back at least a century and appeared in print in 1843 on the very first Christmas card.

The card is divided into a trio of colored panels. The center, larger than the other two, portrays a family at Christmas dinner. The side panels illustrate the Christian virtues of leading the holiday and clothing the needy.

Much of our knowledge of the happy days of greeting cards is derived from the efforts of an eccentric 19th century Englishman who devoted 40 years of his life to amassing in his London home more than a half million Christmas cards, Valentines, and other greetings.

It was Prince Albert, Victoria's consort, who introduced the Christmas tree to England from his native Germany in the same era in which the Christmas greeting custom developed.

The Christmas customs of the Victorian Era rival in beauty and elegance the best cards of our own age of advanced technical skill. Many of the most famous Christmas cards on both sides of the Atlantic were employed to design them - and the symbols of Christmas, many still popular to the present day - the robin, holly, mistletoe, Santa, and carolers, first became popular on cards that appeared to ward the close of the century. The first American Christmas cards were published in Boston by a man named Louis Prang. They cost a penny and were modest in size and design by modern standards.

Prang, who would later be known as "the father of the American Christmas Card," was a German refugee who first established a successful business in Boston selling visiting cards, business advertisements and announcements both here and in England.

In England, the name of Kate Greenaway, whose paintings of children became world-famed, was closely associated with Christmas cards, as were those of Walter Crane and Robert Dudley, both well known artists of the era.

American - designed Christmas cards have been in vogue for a decade at the turn of the century. Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has announced plans for a new John F. Kennedy memorial center for examination and diagnosis of mentally retarded children.

The facility will be located on the grounds of Frankfort State Hospital and School and will have a capacity of 100 beds at the Frankfort institution or at Outwood State Hospital and School, Dawson Springs.

The governor made his announcement on the first anniversary of Kennedy's death, noting the late president's interest in helping the mentally retarded. "I believe this is the kind of commemoration that John F. Kennedy would like," Breathitt said.

"We need a center equipped and staffed to provide neurological and audiometric testing," the Governor stated. "We need to bring together the mentally retarded children and a clinical psychologists, vocational and academic evaluators, and other professional and technical personnel whose services are required if we are to care for this handicapped group as we should."

Flue Cured Losing Out to Burley? The tobacco market, including warehouses at Morehead, will have had the first sale by the time you read this. We predict this year's average will be an all time high. The surplus of flue cured leaf (grown in the Carolinas) is much greater than burley (the red raised in Kentucky). Could it be that the filter cigarette are using more burley and less flue cured?

The Thanksgiving Spirit We were standing in the lobby of one of Lexington's better motels as it was getting dark last Wednesday - eve of Thanksgiving. As motel and hotel operators know, and besoman, their business is the worst during holidays.

A lady, obviously of modest means, who driving what appeared to be a 1956 model automobile, asked the price of a room for herself and three children whose ages appeared to be around seven, eight and ten.

Wonderful way to communicate the Christmas spirit No other gift speaks so well of your thoughtfulness as a bright little STARLITE phone in color for someone in your family. We've made the STARLITE phone easy to give, too. Takes one minute now to put under the tree, and we'll install it right after the holidays.

Arrest Does Not Give Right To Search Car Court Rules

The arrest of a motorist does not give the officer the power to search the vehicle without a warrant, the Court of Appeals said last week.

In reaffirming protection against "indiscriminate" search and seizure, the high court said that even if the driver does not own the car, he may validly challenge such a search.

"In order to meet modern conditions, the powers of various police forces to stop motor-ists on the highway have been extended," said Judge John Mooreman.

"At the same time it may be necessary to restrict the powers of search and seizure without warrant which have heretofore existed," he explained.

At stake was an appeal by Cecil Lane, arrested in his wife's car by a State Police trooper in Boyd County on a traffic charge.

While detaining Lane, the trooper searched his car and found seven cases of whisky in the trunk. Lane was indicted on a charge of transporting alcoholic beverages for the purpose of sale in dry territory.

Lane asked Boyd Circuit Court to suppress all evidence obtained from the auto search. The court granted him and he was convicted.

The appellate court reversed

the trial court. "It is our opinion that when a person is arrested for a traffic or other minor violation, the mere fact of the arrest does not give to the officer absolute right

Korean Vets May Buy GI Insurance

Kentucky veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict with a non-service-connected disability or severe injury caused by commercial life insurance at any price, may be eligible to buy GI insurance after May 1, 1965.

Oney H. Owen, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Louisville, pointed out that new legislation has reopened National Service Life insurance for certain veterans not holding the full $10,000 GI insurance coverage.

Owen said full information may be obtained by writing or visiting the VA Regional Office at 1608 West Broadway, Louisville, Kentucky, or by telephone 582-5811, Louisville.

to search the vehicle or the premises indiscriminately. Mooreman said it is also time to re-examine the theory that only persons who own the property at issue are in a legal position to object to a search.

He went along with a federal decision which held that anyone legitimately on the premises may make such a challenge.

Christmas Tree Sale Scheduled By Optimists

The Optimist Club of Morehead will conduct a Christmas tree sale beginning Monday, Dec. 7, with proceeds going toward the club's youth project.

Beautiful trees imported from Canada will be on sale at the Optimist lot across from city hall. The lot will be open from mid-afternoon until early evening.

Ray Hornback, president of the new club, said, "This is our first major fund raising project and we sincerely hope that the people of Morehead will plan to purchase their trees from us.

We will have a beautiful selection of Douglas fir and scotch pines with a variety of sizes."

Dick Stone, finance chairman of the Optimist club and chairman of the Christmas tree sale, said the Douglas fir will range in size from two feet to 10 feet with sales prices set from $1.25 to $5.00.

Stone said the beautiful scotch pines will range in size from five to six and one-half feet with the average sale price set at $5.

"We were able to receive these beautiful trees by ordering in large lots in conjunction with five other Optimist Clubs," said Stone, "but so much enthusiasm has been shown locally that we would advise interested persons to purchase their trees early.

All Optimists are currently selling $1 tickets which may be applied toward the purchase of a tree at the lot.

Stone added, "We wish to thank Dr. J. K. Smith and Bob Brown for permitting us to use the fine location opposite the city hall and also wish to say that to the aid of many fine public-spirited individuals who have helped us in this project."

Local Officer Aids In Flood Relief

Marine Captain Clarence J. Peacey, husband of the former Doris N. Barker of Morehead, is serving with Marine Battalion Landing Team 3/3, which was awarded a plaque Nov. 15, for assisting in flood relief operations recently in South Vietnam.

The plaque was presented to this unit by South Viet-Nam's Deputy Prime Minister Oanh. His unit is in the midst of operations of bread, flour, soybeans, cottonseed oil, and clothing to assist provincial distribution centers.

The food was the worst in the area for a number of years in South Viet-Nam.

VARIED EFFORT

Many States Involved In Industrial Race

Many states are engaging in a frantic, costly scramble to attract new industries. They are spending millions of dollars and much ingenuity to lure factories to their areas. And they are offering many inducements.

The advertisements, usually placed by state development agencies, stress such factors as access to markets, available labor supply, fast population growth, adequate transportation, pleasant living conditions and favorable tax structures.

Some states and cities float loans to provide sites and buildings for industries who will make their new homes there.

It's an example of the mushrooming move of industry to decentralize and get away from the old concentrations which came into being with the construction of railways and port facilities.

One estimate puts annual state spending on industrial advertising at $25 million a year. At the beginning these ads are concentrated on the business aspects of their areas. More recently they have begun to stress almost equally the desirability from a living standpoint, emphasizing climate and recreational possibilities.

Business Week magazine has conducted a plant site survey in which 1,000 executives of manufacturing industries in 19 cities were queried.

These executives were asked: Whether their company was investigating possibilities for new plant sites, or planned to do so in the next five years.

What general geographical areas would be considered in the event they did decide to select new plant sites.

What specific states, metropolitan areas or cities would be favored.

California, which has been conducting an intensive advertising campaign, came out on top. States ranking just below California were Texas, Georgia and Illinois. Top-rated geographical areas included the South Atlantic, East-North Central, Pacific and Middle Atlantic.

South Carolina is an example of a state with an enterprising approach to attracting new industries.

Last year, South Carolina engaged an advertising agency to improve the state's image. A budget of $200,000 was allocated.

The resulting ads published in several management, public relations and business magazines outlined the state's industrial potentials and its potential for comfortable living and sought to dispel the idea that South Carolina was a land of moonlight and magnolias and underdeveloped cities.

Commercial Recreation Information Available

Information on opportunities, potential and cost of providing recreational facilities on private farm lands will be made available through a new committee in the State Department of Natural Resources.

The commissioner of the department, J. D. Matlock, said the committee on outdoor recreation will work through the State's 121 soil conservation districts to provide information and advice to farmers on the development of outdoor recreational facilities on their land.

The committee will be headed by Deputy Natural Resources Commissioner Marshall O'Quill. Deputy Commissioner Robert Montgomery and division heads in the department will serve on the committees. They are: C. G. Gayle, soil and water resources; Gene Butcher, forestry; Elmore Ginn, game and fish; and reclamation—Steve Wakefield, flood control and water resources; Paul Jordan, information and education; and Mrs. Connie Quinn, clean-up and beautification.

Matlock noted that the State Department of Finance has been designated to formulate a state-wide plan and work with the U. S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation in the application of state and federally-owned lands.

"We will concentrate on the development and construction of recreational facilities on private lands," he said. "We are now in the process of submitting to the State Department of Finance a list of recreational projects that could be developed on State-owned lands."

Matlock said a preliminary survey of 61 soil conservation districts listed 230 privately-owned recreation projects now in operation. These include athletic fields, golf courses, hunting preserves, golf courses, riding stables and vacation farms.

When the survey is completed the information on what is being done, the costs of construction and operation, and the probability of success will be used to advise farmers in selecting and developing recreational projects on their land.

Try the "touch test" on flameless cooking

It's the cleanest cooking there is

Electric cooking can't be anything but clean. It uses pure electric heat—clean as electric light itself. No matter how long or how often you cook, you won't find soot or grime left on walls, windows, cooking utensils.

Only electric cooking is contact cooking—heat goes from surface unit into the pot or pan, not around it. Your kitchen not only stays clean, but cool too.

A flameless electric range gives you first-class service—the cleanest cooking—and it's a long step on your way to the joy of total electric living! Ask your appliance dealer for a demonstration.

Firewood Is Sanctuary For Insects In Winter

By Adrian M. Razor
County Agent

Many of our bugs and beetles hibernate during winter in wood that has been cut for firewood and brought into the home. A pile of firewood left out in the yard will contain many of these insects that if the wood is taken into the home will emerge and start looking for food. The warmer temperature makes them think it's spring and they come out. It is not practical to control these insects in wood stored outside. However, the thing to do is keep the logs and kindling out and bring it in only as you burn it. This eliminates the danger from Bark Beetles, Powder-Post Beetles, ants, and other insects. Many of these may cause trouble in your home if caution isn't observed.

DISASTER

Ken Evans, Rural Defense Specialist, estimates that Kentucky has about 50 days food supply stored away in case of nuclear or other disaster. He emphasizes that families should keep at least a two weeks supply of food stored in case of an emergency.

LOUISVILLE BARRON SHOW

The Annual Louisville Barron Show, one of the top winter shows, will be held at the Kentucky State Fair Grounds on Feb. 3-6. Any one who would like to have a copy of the catalogue can obtain one at our office.

PROTECT THOSE YOUNG TREES

Now is a good time to prevent winter burn on some of our young shade trees that have been set out. Sugar and Norway Maple and some of the others can be saved by using any kind of material as a wrap that will survive the weather. Garden centers and many farm supply stores have a wrap that is especially for this job. Sun Scald or winter burn damage the trees during the winter. The results of the damage show up in the summer time.

TORACCO

We have the toracco from all six varieties that you saw at the Field Day on the H. Meadows farm back in the summer. Elmer Klusik has done an excellent job in following through on the demonstration and anyone who would like to take a look at them can do so by stopping by the office in the basement of the courthouse. The varieties included: Kentucky 10, Kentucky 9, Burley 21, and Hybrids 21 x 9, 21 x 10, and 21 x 12.

CUCUMBERS

We are trading about 80 acres short of the acreage needed for a grading station in Morehead. If you would like to have a plot of land like a crop that will utilize family labor at a time of the year when there is not too much going on around the farm, cucumbers will fill the bill. Also there is only about 3 to 2 months time between the planting and completion. Also, you get paid when you take them in and this money comes in the middle of the summer when there is no other income to speak of. We will have to have 100 acres. If you are interested, let me know and also talk to your neighbor. Plan to take only what you can care for. We don't want any failures this winter.

Exercise On Job May Reduce Heart Attacks

Recognition of work schedules in American offices to allow regular, active exercise during the day is recommended to help prevent heart attacks. A blue-ribbon panel of health-care experts recommended also that sponsors of all new housing in the United States plan to incorporate gymnasiums, swimming pools and other facilities for active recreation in their projects.

And the doctors said a proposal to establish special bicycle paths is a major problem among middle-aged men, particularly men, Stammers' community service committee on occupational health recommended.

The touching-off, by the conference, of the national effort to achieve a breakthrough against coronary heart disease, included: "Periodic physical checkups to help detect 'coronary-prone' individuals. . . . A large-scale, planned exercise program of community and service activities against coronary disease. . . . 'Progressive increase' in taxes on cigarettes as an indirect means of helping effect a marked reduction in cigarette smoking. . . . The committee said such a reduction in cigarette smoking could help prevent coronary attacks.

Two Counties Get Libraries By Petition

Two more counties, Whitley and Green, have established library districts and levied a small property tax for library service through petitions. State Librarian Margaret Willis has reported that both counties levied a tax of 10 cents on each $100 of assessed property valuation. These local funds, which will become available in 1966 and annually hereafter, will enable the two counties to qualify for Federal grants for construction or remodeling of their local library buildings. Miss Willis said. In addition, Green County will retain a Bookmobile, Bookmobile books and other library materials that were provided by the State Department of Libraries on a demonstration basis and Whitley County will now receive these same aids. The department will provide additional books and materials in both counties at regular intervals, along with annual State grants to improve the local library programs.

Cigarette Shipments Are Down 4 Percent

Factory shipments of cigarettes remain below the volume prior to the surgeon general's report on the hazards of cigarette smoking. The report, issued last January, linked cigarette smoking with cancer and other diseases. The Tobacco Merchants Association of the United States reported Tuesday that for the January-September period shipments totaled 984.9 million cigarettes. This compares with 989.9 billion in the like period of 1963, a drop of 4 percent.

Ideal Hunting Conditions Were Lacking

By Joe J. Mauk

Many of the off-limits deer hunters were disappointed this year because of hunting conditions. The opening day of season and the hollers got a little to sick to pull camp trailers over.

Claig Sprout... And His Friend, TIMOTHY TUGMUTTON

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows at the county store Saturday night was having one of their "Round Table" discussions, the kind that goes around in circles and was invented by politicians trying to make some point out of hot air.

Ed Doolittle said he had seen in the papers where they were already getting started fixing up things in Washington for swearing in President Johnson on January 20. He was of the opinion they were running a little late with the preparations. Novaday, claimed Ed, everybody knows about 6 months ahead of the calendar. For instance, he said his old lady had took down her fourth of July flag on the mantelboard the week after Thanksgiving and put up her Christmas decorations, at least as he thought Government planners should have got started on this matter right after the Democratic convention.

Zeke Gubb reported he had had a piece in the papers where it would cost about $215,000 to set up the grandstands and get everything right for the 1968 Olympics. According to Zeke, the piece said when President Pierce was sworn in back in 1860 he didn't cost but $25,000 to offer the ceremony. From $222 back in 1860 to $215,000 in 1968 is a better rate of inflation, Zeke said, than any of the fellows was short the taxpayers was anxious to see the nation's spending power recollect reading when I was a boy that John Quincy Adams said it would be in "this House and didn't have but one suit of clothes and one hat all the time he was in Washington. Our modern Presidents keeps more clothes than that in their dressers.

The fellows were spending their regrets about old Knutty getting thrown out of the lodge. Zeke said, "I was in the lodge when it took him 10 year to learn how to pronounce his name and just after he got the name down he could rattle it off real good when company come, they git a better education than you. Clem Webster was of the opinion it would be a waste of time to keep our spending power in a new feller, that he wouldn't be setting at the head table long with a lot of other fellows. Josh Clodhopper reported he had heard one of their commentators in a debate with the radio we might have to "stabilize" prices again pretty soon. We been "adjusting" prices now for several year and I reckon they was going to "stabilize" 'em up now for a spell. Same difference.

Bond Sales Here Total $85,705

Citizens of Rowan County bought $85,705 of Series E and H Savings Bonds during October. Sales for the ten months totaled $85,705. The county's annual goal was $75,500.

Variety Show, Spaghetti Fete Set RCHS

A 15-act variety show will be presented here at RCHS by the Rowan County High School gymnasium, under the sponsorship of the school's senior class. The show which will consist of 15 acts will begin at 7 p.m. Admission is 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for those under 12.

"I REMEMBER" BY The Old timers

From An-lie L. Smith, Hanceville, Ala.: I Remember we children were always delighted to crawl in the old wagon to go to church. Mother always carried a damp washcloth to get the dust from our faces when we got to the church. We didn't have racks at that time. Just trails through the woods. The old oxen picked their way through.

Later on, just moved to the community. The men built a one room house where we children could go to school five months in summer. I well remember that school building in the woods near a spring of water. We had a wood stove. Some of the boys would go early to build a fire so the room would be warm by the time the children met for school. Our first teacher was a cripple, Miss Hassie Mayo. A kind little woman. We all loved her dearly. After nine years father moved to be near a larger school.

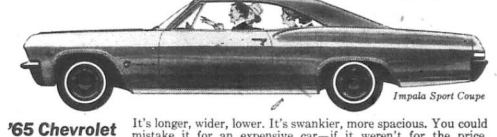

These good old days are long since past. Many of the people have gone on to their rest, but I still like to think back to my happy childhood.

More on the way every day! Thanks for waiting!

Your wait for one of these new 1965 Chevrolets is about over—and we want to thank you for your patience. Come see us now. When you get behind the wheel, you'll be glad you waited!

'65 Chevrolet It's longer, wider, lower. It's swankier, more spacious. You could mistake it for an expensive car—it weren't for the price.

'65 Chevelle Fresh-minded styling. V8's available with up to 350 hp. A softer, quieter ride. And it's as easy-handling as ever.

'65 Chevy II Clean new lines. Fresh new interiors. A quieter 6 and V8's available with up to 300 hp. Thrift was never so lively.

'65 Corvair It's racier, roomier, flatter riding. With more power available—up to 180 hp in the new top-of-the-line Corsas.

Cigarette Shipments Are Down 4 Percent

Factory shipments of cigarettes remain below the volume prior to the surgeon general's report on the hazards of cigarette smoking. The report, issued last January, linked cigarette smoking with cancer and other diseases. The Tobacco Merchants Association of the United States reported Tuesday that for the January-September period shipments totaled 984.9 million cigarettes. This compares with 989.9 billion in the like period of 1963, a drop of 4 percent.

Eagles Play Franklin Tuesday

Morehead State College will play its second game of the 1964-65 basketball season as a guest at Franklin College of Franklin, Indiana, on Tuesday, December 8, in the college fieldhouse.

The Eagles, fresh from a 83-70 victory over Cumberland College, will be taking on a young Grizzlies team. Franklin will start one senior, one junior, two sophomores, and two freshmen.

The top-scorer for the Grizzlies last year was senior guard Harold Sargent, who averaged 14.2 points per game. Center Rich Edwards carried a 12.6 scoring average and a 14.0 rebound average before being lost to the team in mid-year last season. The 6-6 Edwards is back this season.

Morehead will be in top form to take the game with senior guard Harold Sargent, and junior center Henry Akin. Akin got 29 points against Cumberland and Sargent tallied 21 for the high scoring Eagle quintet.

Morehead will have a great height advantage over the Indians as a consequence and this may prove to be the deciding factor. The Eagles will open conference play against Eastern Kentucky, in the Morehead State College fieldhouse.

EXEMPLIFIES PROFESSIONAL SCOUTER

Lucian Rice Gets Top Scout Recognition

Lucian Rice gets national honor

Lucian Rice, a 1956 graduate of Morehead State College has been selected from among 3,800 nominees as a career Scouter as the one man who best typifies the characteristics of a professional Scouter.

Rice, a district Scout executive in Cincinnati, will be honored on the national level for his Scouting work, and a feature story will appear in February's edition of Boy's Life, the official Boy Scout monthly magazine.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice of Morehead. His father has served as superintendent of buildings and grounds at Morehead State College since 1932 and his mother has been a member of the College home economics staff for 25 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice have been active in Scouting for 20 years and they interested Lucian at the age of nine to begin Scouting, and advance through to the rank of Eagle with Silver Palm.

Rice began his professional career in Scouting in 1950 as a member of the professional staff at Lexington. He attended the 45-day National Scouting Training School in Mendham, New Jersey, and after four years with the Kentucky Blue Grass Council he accepted his present position at Cincinnati.

Rice's Scouting friend, Ernest Decker of Boy's Life staff, says, "Lucian Rice is visionary, he's a practical man. He lives Scouting. He can't imagine a world without Scouting. As long as we have such men, we'll have Scouting that's guaranteed to make the difference in the lives of American youth, the men of tomorrow."

Rice is married to Mouta Carol Rice, a 1961 graduate of Morehead State College from Franklin, and is the father of two children, Mary Elizabeth, 5 years, and David Lucien, 20 months.

Vet Aide's Monthly Visit Here Set

Four Minor Mishaps Investigated Here Over Thanksgiving

Kentucky State Police investigated four minor motor vehicle accidents in Rowan County over the Thanksgiving Day weekend.

The accidents involved injuries and property damage was slight in all four.

A car driven by James K. Thomas, 62, of Charleston, W. Va., was forced off the highway by an oncoming vehicle last Wednesday.

Thomas told Trooper Marvin Jennings he cut in an attempt to avoid a collision and lost control of his car, colliding with the road and running with a telephone pole.

Autos operated by Billy Joe Wither, a Morehead State College student, and Kenneth Ray Hall, 19, of Clearfield, collided on KY. 32 seven miles north of Morehead Saturday.

Trooper James A. Farley said the car driven by Hall crossed the centerline and struck the Wither vehicle.

Farley said Hall failed to stop after the accident, but the owner of the car, Rowan Motor Sales, provided his name and address. The auto had been insured to him.

Damage to the left side of a car operated by Allie Thomas, 63, of Morehead, was sustained

Saturday when it was struck by a car driven by Daniel R. Hager, 22, of Louisville.

Trooper Jennings said Hager attempted to pass Thomas as the latter was making a left turn into the drive at his home. Hager said he failed to see the turn signal until he was already in his passing maneuver.

A parked school bus was damaged slightly on Old U.S. 60 at Farmers Saturday afternoon.

Frederick Gerald Burrows of Clearfield told Trooper Jennings he was backing off the highway to park and rammed into the legally parked bus.

Grand Jury Advises Repairs to Jail

The November Rowan Circuit Court grand jury issued its report Tuesday with recommendations that the extensive repairs be made to the county jail.

Included in the recommendations were these: * Adequate light fixtures should be installed, to insure safety of the prisoners.

* Seats of a permanent nature attached to seats (should) be installed for the prisoners.

* The bath or rest room in its upstairs portion of the jail should be enclosed.

The window lights and ventilation facilities of the jail should be repaired or altered to as to comply with health rules and regulations.

The panel said it found the jail and courthouse and grounds to be in a fair state of repair and likewise in a fair state of cleanliness.

Thirty-one indictments were returned in open court by the jury, which was in session four days.

Americans Will Lay Out $155 Million On Trees

Remember the days when dad hiked off to the woods to chop down the family Christmas tree?

Not only has that custom all but vanished, but the natural Christmas tree seems to be losing its place in many American living rooms to the plastic Christmas tree.

So said Chase Manhattan Bank on Sunday, one of the nation's prominent financial institutions.

The bank analyzed the Christmas tree situation in a bimonthly report that dealt with such other topics as the nation's balance of payments problem and bank liquidity.

Americans will spend $155 million this year on Christmas trees, estimated the bank. More than three of every 10 trees, sold about $6.5 million will be artificial.

The bank said sales of artificial trees have shot up 300

Morehead's ZIP Code is 40351. Lexington, Kentucky has been designated a Sectional Center for all satellite offices within the Lexington, Ky. area.

The Postmaster General told Clayton the Christmas plans are part of a nationwide program to bring postmasters into more responsible positions in postal management as "real partners in providing better mail service at all levels."

Breck Club Presents Play Friday Night

Breckinridge Training School's Dramatics Club will present the drama, "Chase by the Dozen," tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Based on a family that lived in New Jersey in the late 1920's, "Chase by the Dozen" has been produced on Broadway. The play was condensed from the book by two of the children of the family.

Tickets are on sale at the school office.

Squirrel, Grouse Seasons Opened Here On Tuesday

Kentucky's crowded hunting season became a bit more complex Tuesday when one new season opened and the second half of split seasons on two species reopened. Minor Clark, commissioner of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, announced today.

The grouse, in an extended season this year, became legal game Dec. 1 and hunting for this fast-flying woods bird will continue through Feb. 28, the longest season in recent years for this target. The bag limit is four with possession limit of eight after two or more days of hunting. The grouse is found mostly in eastern Kentucky and reports indicate a good population of birds this year.
