

THE MORNING COUNTRY NEWS

VOLUME NO. OLD SERIES NO. 40; NEW SERIES NO. 18

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAR. 28, 1935.

NUMBER XIII

Sometimes the kiddies of the town utter words of wisdom that the older people would like to express, but fail miserably. Thus it was that little Johnnie Croley expressed a little wisdom when he said "I wish I had two daddies."

When asked why he wished he had two daddies, he said: "Well if I had two daddies, one of them could go to work, and the other one could stay home and play with me."

How often have you wished that you were two persons, so that you could do what you had to do and what you wanted to do at the same time?

ADAM STILL LIVES

Another Adam, just like the Adam of the day of Paradise, who said the "woman 'td give to me and I did eat," has come to light in Morehead. It is none other than our neighbor, Bill Battson. It might be known that the News family thinks Bill is "berries."

The other morning one of the neighbors went out into the yard. There were Bill and Earl Leach armed with a saw. Bill was at the moment engaged in sawing his dad's pet plum tree. He happened to look up and see the neighbor. He did not wait to hear what he might say. Instead he told her in no uncertain language that Earl had started.

"What do you think," he said, "Earl has been sawing our plum tree. Earl sawed it twice and I only sawed it once."

"Don't you think," he added, "that Earl ought to be ashamed to saw our plum tree, with all the pretty blossoms on it?"

"Earl," turning to his friend, "do you mean sawing our plum tree?"

Still the neighbor could find no words and no chance.

"Come on," said Bill, "let's find something else to saw. And don't let me catch you sawing our plum tree with the pretty blossoms on it again!"

SCHOOL BOY LOYALTY

And speaking of kiddies, there is that old and out-labeled attitude that has been developed for years among the American school boys, the unreasonable determination not to tell his mates in Georgia he and his school mates in the training school decided that it was not too early to go in wading. So they went. Not only Georgia, but several of the others.

The teacher found out about it, but the only name she was able to learn was that of George. She called him up and tried to find out the names of the other boys. George was mum. He positively refused to tell her his school mates. He took the necessary punishment but his friends came clear.

George had vindicated the school boy honor.

A KID'S COLUMN

Someone suggested that this About Town Column had turned out to be a Children's column. Well maybe it has. If the children's parents have anything worthy of mention they may also get in this column. So far they haven't. We still have hopes.

Local Ministers Arrange Plans For Five "Go To Sunday School" Sundays, Soon

At a meeting of the ministers and Sunday School Superintendents of Morehead Thursday afternoon plans were made for the observation of five consecutive Go-To-Sunday School Sundays in April and May. April 7 will be Church Member's Day, at which time the various churches will endeavor to have every church member present along with others. April 14 will be Family Day. On this day whole families will be asked to come, and special recognition will be given the largest families. April 21 will be Friends Day, at which time church goers will try to get their neighbors to attend Sunday School and church services. The first Sunday

Flood Damages County Roads; Bridges Out

High Water Washes Ditches In Roadways; Damage Is $5,000

Floods came again Sunday night to wreak vengeance and damage on Rowan county. The rains of that night were probably the heaviest of the year. Triplett Creek and North Fork united to flood. Farmers as they did two weeks previous. However Licking River failed to rise to the height of the last flood, so traffic at that place was not tied up as it had been.

According to County Judge Charles E. Jennings, the greatest amount of damage of the year was done to the county road system in the high waters of Sunday night. He estimated the damage to the roads and bridge to amount to at least $5,000.

Many of the roads were almost entirely washed out. Others are impassable and will be for some time. Several miles of these roads have been recently built and the fresh grades were easily damaged. Bridges were washed out in the Dry Creek section, particularly on the newly built Morehead and North Fork road.

In many places the holes left in the highways are waist deep, rendering them completely unserviceable. The water came especially on the hillside roads where fresh grades had been made.

Judge Jennings stated that they were already making plans to repair the damage as quickly as possible. Surveys are being made as

RE-ORGANIZE "LITTLE EIGHT" CONFERENCE

The "Little Eight" which grew in the imagination from the "Little Six" dropped back to where it started from Tuesday night and became, as originally, the "Little Eight" when Grayson and Vanceburg failed to become members. Brocksbridge new conference, A. B. Whelan, principal of the Raceland school was elected president of the conference and Brady Black re-elected secretary.

Council Approves Chief's Requests

The city council held another adjourned meeting at the city hall on Monday night for the purpose of considering recommendations of the new fire chief, Ed Hall, with regard to the purchase of new equipment. Mr. Hall stated that he believed the old truck could be overhauled and repaired and made to serve for some time and that he was not prepared to ask the council to purchase a new truck until it was convinced that the old one would not serve the purpose. He did, however, recommend the purchase of 500 feet of new fire hose which, with that that can be repaired will be enough for the time being, according to Mr. Hall. New fire coats were also recommended and ordered.

The council adjourned the meeting to next Monday night when the orders will be placed.

ATTEND MASONIC LODGE AT ASHLAND SATURDAY

A number of members of the local Masonic lodge spent Saturday evening in Ashland as guests of the Ashland Lodge. Among those who were present were Dr. H. L. Wilson, C. P. Duley, H. H. Powers, J. C. Wells, Fred Reeves, V. D. Flood, Everett Caskey, O. T. Hall, B. F. Penix, Cleve Dillon, Leo Oppenheimer and Robert Bays.

Bonus Boys Plan Another Meeting

On Saturday of last week a meeting of ex-service men of Rowan, Carter, and Bath was held with a record attendance. John Settle of Louisville, Ky., delivered a very fine address on the Bonus subject and other legislation pending before our National Congress. There was also a short address by Commander F. R. Burrows, and Howard Spruck, Adjustment and Service Officer of American Legion Post No. 128. We are, stated Mr. Settle fighting for our dues, namely full payment of our Bonus. This Bill has been passed by Congress and has gone to the U. S. Senate for their approval or disapproval. The American Legion has representatives in Washington, D. C. all the time representing the ex-service man and it is up to us to support them 100 per cent and until the U. S. Senate has approved full payment of our Bonus and the President signed the bill Morehead Post No. 126 American Legion will be prepared each week to do anything necessary in charge of Beans W. H. Vaughan who placed the crests upon the heads of the men present.

Others who took part in the ceremonies were Roy E. Graves, Jr., herald; Patty Young, Barbara Toliver, Billie Tucker and G. D. Downing, Jr. train bearer; Billy Vaughan and Allan Jones Kazee, crown bearer.

Paving Cases To Be Heard In June

Selection Of New Test Case Causes Postponement Of Action

For the many citizens interested in the so called "paving cases" which were to have been tried at the last term of Circuit Court, it will be interesting to know that the hearing of the cases has been postponed until the June term of court. This was done for the reason that a new test case, that of Mrs. Mandie Peters, was selected to be tried in place of the Keeton case, for which the papers had been prepared.

Because of this change, it was found necessary to prepare new papers and pleadings, and owing to the time involved the hearing was postponed until the June term of court.

A special judge will again be called to hear the case due to the fact that Judge Candill was city attorney at the time the suits were filed to collect.

J. J. Thomas Out For Representative

In this issue of the News appears the announcement of Mr. Jay Thomas of Owingsville, for the Democratic nomination to the office of Representative from the Rowan-Bath district. Mr. Thomas is one of the best known citizens of Bath county as a man well qualified to fill the office of representative in a manner that will render real service to his constituents.

He has a wide acquaintance in both Rowan and Bath counties and is thoroughly familiar with the needs of both counties. He is greatly interested in the welfare and future of the Morehead State Teachers College and in his announcement pledged himself to work for the interest of the college at every opportunity.

Mr. Thomas plans on making a personal call on the voters of this county before the primary, so far as that is possible. He is anxious to meet the people of Rowan county and to solicit their support.

Will Conduct Revival

REV. LOUIS S. GAINES, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Lexington, N. C., who will be the preacher in the revival meeting to begin at the Morehead Baptist Church April 10th.

College Carnival Is Held Saturday

The annual Winter Carnival of the Morehead State Teachers College was climaxed last Saturday night with the crowning of the new King and Queen by vote of the students and townspeople.

Roy Adams of Olive Hill was crowned King while Miss Myrtle Davidson was chosen Queen.

The coronation ceremonies were in charge of Beans W. H. Vaughan who placed the crests upon the heads of the men present.

Finish First K.E.R. A. Bridge Project

The K. E. R. A. bridge repair and maintenance project under the direction of Dixon Shouse has already finished work on the Quisenberry bridge and is now ready to start on the Clearfield and Ford Branch bridges.

According to reports the work on the Quisenberry bridge has shown about the best results of any K. E. R. A. project to date. The work has been well done from start to finish and not only in a workmanlike manner, but with speed.

In this project the workmen are required to scrape the entire bridge free from all rust and dirt and then to paint it.

Work-Relief Bill Passage To Help With Gas System

Expected To Learn Fate Of Proposal Within Few Weeks Time

So many of our subscribers have shown a decided interest in the possibility of a natural gas system owned by the city, as outlined in recent issues of the News, and have asked us to keep them in touch with the situation through the columns of the News, that we have made an effort to learn just what the recent action of Congress in passing the Work-Relief measure would mean to the city gas project.

Mr. W. H. Rice member of the city council, who has been most closely identified with the proposal, stated in exclusive interview with a News reporter that he was greatly encouraged since the passage of the bill, and that within two or three weeks he expects to have some definite information for the public. Naturally, he says, it will take some little time for the work program to be outlined and put into effect even after the passage and signing of the bill.

A letter from the P. W. A. head in Kentucky assured Mr. Rice that the Morehead project will receive consideration among the first after the work administration is authorized and set up.

A brief outline of the plan as given in earlier issues of the News follows. According to Mr. Rice's plan, the city will borrow the necessary capital from the P. W. A. organization, in all about $30,000. This fund will be used for the installation of a complete gas pipe system for the city, laying mains along the streets and so on, including

John Lykins Dies In Ashland Wed.

Father Of Manager Of Midland Trail Hotel Dies Suddenly

John M. Lykins, 62, a resident of Ashland for the last fifteen years, died at the King's Daughters Hospital last Wednesday at 12:45 o'clock, after a brief illness.

News of Mr. Lykins' sudden passing came as a shock to his host of friends. He was stricken last Sunday at noon in Morehead while he was visiting his son, J. B. Lykins, at the Midland Trail Hotel, and was brought to the hospital here Monday evening.

Mr. Lykins was born in Morgan county, November 30, 1873, the son of the late Rev. W. F. Lykins. He was educated in the public schools in that county and at an early age engaged in teaching and followed this profession intermittently for forty years. He also served part of one term as superintendent of Morgan county schools.

Drive For Funds To Aid Cripples

Attempt To Raise Funds To Aid Crippled Children

The citizens in Rowan county will be given an opportunity to join other counties in giving the State's crippled children a "lift" each opportunity to help this handicapped and needy boy or girl, and more than 12,000 others similarly afflicted will come with the observance of Crippled Children's Week when the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children renews its annual membership campaign and sponsors a sale of Easter Seals for the purpose of furthering the work being done by the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission to promote the rehabilitation and general welfare of the crippled child.

A recent survey reveals that in the ranks of Kentucky crippled children there are from 12,000 to 15,000 children. More than half this number, it is estimated, can be corrected; one third can be helped and another one third can be educated to be self-supporting. The Commission's funds to meet this appalling need are largely raised by the Society are to enable the Commission to continue

Many At Juniors Meeting In Ashland

A large number of delegates from the Wm. McKinley Council 91, Jr. O. U. A. M. headed by Councilor Harba Caraton attended the Ashland lodge Saturday night taking with them several candidates from Morehead to be initiated. The ceremonies were in charge of the State Degree team, composed of Junior Past Councilors from various lodges all over the state.

State officers presided at the meeting. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Mr. Bonding of Philadelphia, Penn., National Secretary of the Jr. O. U. A. M. on the subject Americanism. Mr. Bonding also discussed the actions of Congress and gave his hearers a new slant on national affairs, being a man of wide experience and having spent considerable time in Washington.

Following the initiation and speaking, the delegates were entertained with music and dancing. Refreshments were served.

LIVE STOCK RUNNING AT LARGE

Forest fires, floods, and then... Chickens, hogs and cows, dry and otherwise, running at large regardless of the gardens and flowers of those who have been attempting to take a pride in their yards and products.

Those are the annual worries of the local gardeners in Morehead. It seems that the many people who have still continued to raise chickens, hogs and who still keep cows in town are not familiar either with the county or city ordinances and laws, and feel that their neighbors are as much entitled to feed and take care of their live stock as they are themselves.

The other morning the entire citizenry of a certain neighborhood in this city was aroused by the barking of dogs the neighbors added to cattle running. It seems that cattle had wandered into someone's yard and devoured the tops of their tulip bed, over which they had worked long hours and which bade fair to be a real beauty spot in the spring.

To some that may seem funny. To the owners it was anything but funny. They had undoubtedly spent not only time but money in developing that tulip bed. They were entitled to protection of their property. Yet the owner deliberately let them run, knowing that they would destroy any garden or any lot they came to.

It is apparently total disregard for the rights of others that we are criticizing. And we wish to remind the city council that it is time to re-issue the annual proclamation, citing the city ordinances that cover the case.

We admit that it should not be necessary, but it will be necessary as long as people breed this total disregard for the rights of their neighbors.

THE WISE GUY

You know the jay-walker in fact, you've probably burned your tires at one time or another in avoiding him. He crosses the street wherever and however he wants to. Walking intersections on a diagonal. He's never content to follow the regular path. He thinks he's saving time. But is he? The dodging, jumping and backing up use more time than it would have taken to follow the regular path. And he is taking a needless risk.

Mr. Jay-walker has a brother—the jay buyer. Although not a product of the depression, his numbers have increased many fold since the country lost the formula for Sanforizing the family income. Today his numbers are legion.

The jay-buyer knows a way to buy things cheaper. He knows of a man from whom he can buy radios at half price, of a small mail-order house that will sell to him at wholesale prices. His favorite pastime is telling his friends what suckers they are and how much money he could have saved them had they only come to him before furnishing their new home or buying a car.

He thinks he is saving money, but somehow or other he just cannot make his income go as far as his acquaintances who read the advertisements and buy standard goods from reputable merchants whose guarantee stands for something.

American education has an infinite capacity for taking tinted money and washing it.—Robert M. Hutchins, President, University of Chicago.

WE LIVE LONGER; HOW MUCH BETTER?

The average life of mankind in the time of Queen Elizabeth was twenty years. Today the average is fifty-eight for man and sixty-one for women, who is biologically more important. Recent discoveries in medicine are leading to astonishing results, and give a prospect that the life of man will soon reach the Biblical promise of three score and ten.— Drs. W. J. and C. H. Mayo.

BURLEY AVERAGE FOR THE STATE IS $17.32

For December 1, 1934, to March 15, 1935, burley tobacco sold in Kentucky totalled 183,064,130 pound which brought an average of $17.32 a hundred pounds, according to report released by Eugene Flowers, commissioner of agriculture. The volume of money received by the farmers was $31,708,366.56. The average for the 1933 crop for 271,899,827 pounds was only $10.60 a hundred.

The leading burley market in the state during the recent sales was at Lexington, with 60,484,945 pounds at an average of $18.45 a hundred; Louisville, with 107,180 lb at $17.97; Richmond, 5,806,208 at an average of $17.51.

Corn Hog Campaign

The College of Agriculture at Lexington has been notified that April 1 will be the closing date for signing applications for corn-hog adjustment contracts. It has been found necessary to make that date final for filing applications, in order to expediate the work involved in the program. Farmers who have not signed applications, and who wish to do so, should see their county agent or members of their control committee by the end of March.

WAR TALK SENDS GRAIN VALUES UP

Nervousness regarding increased notice taken of chances of war in Europe had considerable to do with a material upturn of grain values today.

Contributing to market strength was a revival of inflation talk together with late advices of new dust storms in domestic wheat territory southwest at the day's top prices. May was up about five cents a bushel higher than Monday's inside level. What closed firm 1-2 to 1 3-8 above yesterday's finish, May 85 1-4 to 3-8, corn unchanged to 3-4 higher, March 85 1-8 to 3-4, oats, 1-4 to 3-4 advance and provisions showing a rise of 15 to 27 cents, taking their upturn mainly from hog market returns.

EIGHT RETURN FROM ANTARCTIC

Their faces reddened from polar seas, eight members of Admiral Richard E. Byrd's expedition to the South Pole arrived today, bringing with them motion pictures, sketches and scientific specimens from Little America.

They are the first of 74 members of the expedition to reach the American mainland. Although no official greeting had been arranged because of the wishes of the expedition to subordinate ceremony to the arrival of Admiral Byrd in New York, friends and relatives swarmed over them as they walked down the liner Mariposa's gangplank.

How's Business

WHAT WOULD A FACTORY MEAN?

If Morehead had had no small factory in the past few years, there would not have been nearly so many on the relief rolls. And the sad part of it is that there is really no reason why Morehead should not have had one or more small factories working continuously. Other towns not nearly so fortunately situated as this town have had them, and as a result have gone through the depression without a single person being needy.

This city is perhaps the most fortunately situated of almost any town in the United States, so far as convenient shipping facilities are concerned. Located on the main line of the C. and O. Railway, it is easily reached from almost every point and goods can be shipped as cheaply as from any place even though that place be much larger.

We have ample trucking facilities in every section, with main highways leading north, east, south and west. We have electric service ample to care for the needs of any factory that might decide to locate here. We are certain, that if the company would be willing to offer a real fair as an inducement, should such a factory decide to make Morehead its home. We have a coal supply at a rate that is at least a dollar per ton under that of any city to the north of us.

We have a supply of labor that is unequalled in any section of the United States. Taken all in all, there is not one reason why we should, not be the headquarters of several small factories instead of none. Every reason, except that we have simply sat down like the bean beetle that ate the relief flour and starved to death.

It is directly up to the business men of Morehead whether or no they are content to continue to "starve to death". Opportunity is knocking as it has been knocking for years, and it will continue to knock. It is only a question as to whether or not Morehead will heed the knocking.

MIDLAND BAKING COMPANY

For two months the Midland Baking Company has been located in Morehead, a clean, up-to-date bakery of which this community should be proud and whose products should come "first to the mind of every housewife."

We just wonder how many of them when they buy bread, ask for "Morehead Bakery Bread"? Or do they continue to go to the grocer and ask for bread?

And we wonder just how many groceries push Morehead bread? We want to ask these groceries who fail to push Morehead bread, just how many orders of groceries they sell to the other bread trucks that come to Morehead from Ashland, Huntington and elsewhere? How many customers do they get from that source?

Then we want to ask them how many grocery customers they get from the Morehead bakery? We understand there are about fourteen employed at the bakery. Being human, they all eat, and when they eat they eat groceries bought in Morehead.

It occurs to us that if we don't back the bakery or any other home concern in preference to those from their towns it won't be long before we have no bakery and no town. There is considerable food for thought in that statement.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kazee, Pastor of the Baptist Church.

SUBJECT "REVIEW: LESSONS FROM THE LIFE AND LETTER OF PETER, I Peter, 5:6-11, II Peter 3:15-18.

Golden Text: "Grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ," II Pet. 3:18.

Height C. Moore briefly summarizes the life of Peter thus: "Simon Peter, a Galilean fisherman, became a disciple of John the Baptist and was won to Christ by his brother Andrew on the banks of the lower Jordan. By the lakeside in Capernaum he was called to permanent association with Jesus. In the summer of 28 A. D. he was called to be an apostle. Peter was spokesman on the day of Pentecost, evangelist in Samaritan villages, shepherd of the saints at Lydda and Joppa, missionary to Caesarea where the Gentiles had their Pentecost, target of the hate of Herod, out of whose hands he was miraculously delivered, counselor on the settlement of the question as to admitting Gentiles into the church. It is not certain that he ever went to Rome, but undoubtedly he earned the martyr's crown about 68 A. D."

From the two epistles of Peter we summarize his spirit and teaching in the benediction from each of them.

I Peter, 5:6-11. This passage tells us how to serve the "God of Grace". Each suggestion is sustained by a reason. (1). Humble yourselves. This is the primary duty of all who could serve God. No proud spirit can serve Him properly. The reason given here is "that he may exalt you in due time." Our exaltation will then be permanent. (2). Cast your care upon Him. This is the teaching of Jesus from the beginning, "be not anxious for yourselves". There is a reason, "for he careth for you." (3). Be sober. Self-restraint is a duty to God and to self. Liberty is not a license. (4). Be vigilant. Watch out as we sometimes say. Be alert, because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour. (5). Resist. And do it steadfast in the faith. For the devil is going to attack other Christians, certainly he will not miss you. (6). Suffer. For the God of all grace hath called you into suffering for His glory. To this we may appreciate His glory and God of all grace "be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen."

II, Peter 3:14-18. This passage tells us how to grow in the Grace of God. In view of the coming day of the Lord, there are some things to do in order to "grow up" spiritually. We should "look for such things." The day of the Lord should be the constant hope of this hope we should be diligent, that is, be busy working at our Christianity, that we may be found in peace, without spot, and blameless. (3). Trust the Lord's purposes as good. Don't think that because He is putting layers of comings that He is putting us off. We shall see some day that it will all work out to the salvation of some. Some of these things are difficult to see—some of which those who do not understand misinterpret to their own destruction, but let us wait with patience, knowing that all will be explained, satiating that the Lord comes. (4). Beware lest those unprincipled men who go about spreading error lead you astray. Worship the Lord and serve Him only, forsaking all other. (5). "Grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." Those who look for His coming, who serve diligently while they wait, who trust the Lord to explain all we cannot understand, who keep themselves from the work of all others to the worship of God, cannot but grow in grace. The same parting plaudit is appropriate here. "To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity."

School and church services on Sunday, May 5. (6). To unite the Sunday School people of the state in a definite program for extension of the Kingdom of Christ, by building up larger and better Sunday Schools. To accentuate this campaign the ministers of Morehead decided to emphasize Bible reading along with the attendance program for extension of the Kingdom of Christ. The entire town and community, church goer or non-church-goer, is urged to read the Bible during this month. The Bible reading program as suggested is as follows: April 1-7, read the Gospel of John. April 14-21, read the book of Romans. April 21-28, read I Corinthians. April 28 to May 5th, read the Book of Hebrews. Reports will be gathered each Sunday both on Bible reading and attendance, at the different churches.

Every man, woman and child in Rowan county are asked to either buy seals or join as a member. Our quota is $200.00. This is a very small amount when we think of the worthy cause for which we are giving. The crippled child is looking to you for a chance to live. Your contribution will help. If you live out in the country where we will not be able to reach, won't you please send your contribution or request for seals to Miss Exer Robinson, Morehead, Kentucky.

Won't you give until it hurts?

FORD IS AHEAD

The automobile race between the Buick and the Ford in the Bible school is creating much interest and rolling up a fine attendance record. The Ford is something like 150 miles in the lead at close of the race last Sunday. Buick passengers are determined to "catch up" next Sunday.

Special musical features will make morning worship. Dr. Fern's sermon subject is "Naaman, The Syrian Leper."

THOMAS ANNOUNCES FOR REPRESENTATIVE

TO THE VOTERS OF ROWAN COUNTY.

I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of representative in the 98th Legislative District, composed of Rowan and Bath Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on August 3, 1935.

I am a resident of Bath County, and have lived there all my life. I am an Ex-Service soldier of the World War and my occupation is that of a traveling salesman. I feel that I am acquainted with the needs of my District and I will devote my best efforts toward furthering the interests that will be of help to the people living in Rowan and Bath Counties.

I realize that the greatest interest and the greatest good that a Representative from this Legislative District could do for the people of Rowan County would be to further the interests of the Morehead State

Teachers College. The people of Bath County do not feel that this College is a local affair, and they are as much interested in the success and welfare of this school as the people living in Rowan County. If I should be so fortunate as to be nominated and elected to this office, the people of Rowan County may depend upon me in every instance and in every time and place that I can do so, to do something for this school. I realize that it is the greatest public institution that is located in the Eastern part of this state, and if any action of mine in the Legislature of Kentucky tends to promote the interests of this school, it will be the proudest service that I could render. I expect to see as many of the voters of the County as I can, and I hope that you will inquire of my neighbors and acquaintances as to my fitness for this place. Any support you may give me will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,
J. J. THOMAS

GAS FOR MOREHEAD

ing all the necessary distribution system needed in a city of this size. The city then plans to contract with the Young interests for the purchase of gas from North Fork Gas Field, at wholesale rates, the company to deliver a sufficient amount of gas to the city at the city limits, to supply the needs of the consumers.

The city will then retail the gas to the consumers at the rate established in the franchise recently sold to the Young Company. Out of the proceeds and profits the city would expect to be in a position to repay the federal government for the loan.

It will be remembered that the loans are granted on long term payments, and that thirty per cent of the loan is a grant which does not have to be repaid.

The whole thing, if it is put through amounts to the facts that the city will be given a gas system which would not only be self-supporting, but which would eventually produce revenue in large amounts, permitting the council either to reduce taxes or to make needed improvements without added taxation or the issuance of bonds.

The gas situation here, taken into connection with the apparently unsatisfactory electric rates, has caused more comment than any project that has been suggested to the public in recent years. From the number of endorsements heard on every hand, it appears to be practically the unanimous sentiment of the citizens that the earliest action possible, will be the most satisfactory action that can be taken.

About the only criticism heard has been on the idea that the North Fork Field can not supply gas in sufficient quantities to take care of the needs of the city for any length of time. That however need cause no worry. While engineers from the city of Louisville have assured the city council that the field will supply gas ample for the needs of Morehead for years to come, the council is not basing their entire plans on that fact, but are prepared in case that supply is exhausted to purchase it at a low wholesale rate from other companies that are located in adjacent territory.

Mr. Rice is keeping in touch with the News, and as soon as anything definite is learned, he will notify the citizens through the columns of this paper.

Your Grandfather laughed At This One

By IRVIN S. COEB

DO not pretend that these stories are all new, but merely that they are the stories which the writer, like most of those who has heard them, has found of antiquity. I am including it in the present stories because I think it is an amazingly good example of the group of larkish went com-busting about the world because of his love for the ancient and honorable sport...

Uncle Sam was over eighty years old and all kniked up with rheumatism. He hobbled along behind the hunters as they filed through the woods. The dogs "barked" in a sweet gum snag on the edge of Pipe-maker Swamp, five miles from home; but when the tree fell there rolled out the leg of it, not a raccoon but a full-grown black bear, full of fight and temper. The pack gave one choral ki-yi of shock and streaked away, yelping as they went; and the two-legged hunters followed, fleeing as fast as their legs would carry them. When they came to a moonlit place in the woods they discovered that Uncle Sam was missing; but they did not go back to look for him; they did not even check up. "Pore ole Unc' Sam" bemoaned one of the fugitives, between pants. "His ole legs must 'a' give on 'em on the fugitives, between pants. 'Reckin' that bear's fashin' 's his bones right dis minute." "Dat's so, Dat's so" granted one of the others. "Pore Unc' Sam!" When they reached the safety of the cotton patches in an exhausted state they limped to Uncle Sam's cottage to break the news to the widow. There was a light in the window; and when they rapped at the door and it opened, the sight of him who faced them across the threshold made them gasp. "Poh de Lawdi!" exclaimed one. "How you git hea?" "Me?" said Uncle Sam calmly. "I come 'long wid de dawgs."

Knnel Murder Case

BY S. S. VAN DINE
Copyright by W. H. Wright

Yes; Miss Lake accepted my ex-a show of heat. The fact is, she did planation, the man retired, with the rest of the usual minutes after I did. She had motored to the Arrowhead inn with friends for dinner, and had an accident of some kind on her return to the club. Very distressing, murmured Vance. Were her friends with her at the time of the accident? I do not believe they were, Grassi answered, Miss Lake told me she had motored back alone. At this point Detective Burke stepped into the room. That Chink downstairs wants to speak to Mr. Vance, he said. He's all hot and bothered. Vance nodded to Heath. Send him up, Burge the sergeant ordered. Liang appeared at the door and waited till Vance came to him. He said something in a low voice not distinguish, and held out a crudely twisted paper parcel. Thank you Mr. Liang, said Vance; and the Chinaman, with a bow, returned downstairs. Vance took the parcel to the desk and began opening it. The cook, he said, speaking directly at the Italian, has just found this package tucked away in the garbage pail on the rear porch. It is very interesting you, Mr. Grassi. As he spoke, he smoothed out the revealed all of us many fragments of beautiful, delicate porcelain with a pure white luster. Here, he went on, still addressing the Italian, are the remains of Mr. Coe's Ting yao vase. And if you will notice, several of the pieces of fragile Sung porcelain are stained with blood.

your hat and coat? A cautious look came into the Italian's eyes. I did not wear an outer coat. But I carried my hat and stick to my own room. Why? There is a closet in the lower hall. Grassi moved uneasily and I could have sworn the pallor of his face in presence. If a man were struck with such a vase he would hardly feel it. The man bowed and went out the passageway of the hall toward the front of the house. Markham was immediately on his feet. What about that broken vase? he demanded, pointing at the parcel of porcelain fragments on the desk. Was that the thing with which Archer Coe was struck over the head? Oh, no, this delicate Ting yao china would crack under the least pressure. If a man were struck with such a vase he would hardly feel it. The vase simply would break into pieces. But the blood. There was no blood on Archer's head, Vance selected one of the fragments and held it up. Moreover please note that the blood is not on the outer glaze, but on the inside of the vase. The same is true of the pieces I found on the table downstairs. But I can't possibly connect this broken vase with Brisbane's death or with the Scottie. And how do you connect it with Archer's death? Vance became evasive. Give me a little more time, he said. I have a fairly definite idea about this broken vase with the blood stains in the inside; it's too fantastic to be incredible, I want to verify by suspicions. His cigarette trailed off, and he lighted a cigarette meditatively. Markham regarded him a while and then said: The whole affair strikes me as fantastic and incredible.

News From the C.C.C. Camp

Captain R. L. Adams of Cincinnati Ohio who for the past two years has been commanding officer of the C. C. C. Camp at Natural Bridge, Kentucky will arrive at Clearfield, Kentucky, March 29th to take command of this company, relieving Captain Rothrock whose tour of duty will be completed April 1935. Approximately fifty-five C. C. C. boys are planning to return to their homes from this camp on April 1. Many of these boys have jobs awaiting them and the others are hopeful of finding economic conditions a little more favorable than they were six months or a year ago. The vacancies left by these boys will be filled by the local Ohio relief Agencies. The new replacements will be due here early in April. Mr. Earl C. May, Educational adviser at this camp will go to Fort Thomas, Friday, March 22, to the district meeting of Educational Agencies. Dr. Nat. T. Frame, Educational Supervisor of the Fifth Corps Area will conduct the conference. Dr. Howard Van Antwerp, of Farmer, Ky sent us a letter this week in which he commends the fine work the camp is doing for the county in the construction of roads, conservation of National Forest and promotion of good citizenship. The native wealth has been on the decline for years, but with the restoration of the forests and opening of the miles of new roads the predicts a brighter future than Rowan county has had in view for many years.

FORD V-8 In A Class By Itself THERE is no way to compare the Ford V-8 with any other car because there is no other car like it. The Ford enables you to step up into the fine-car class in performance, beauty, comfort and safety. But there is no stepping up in price. That is kept down by Ford low-profit policies and unique manufacturing methods. Those are as different as the car itself. It takes eight cylinders to give the modern performance you need these days. The Ford is powered by a V-8—the finest type of eight-cylinder engine. You have to pay more than $2000 for that in any other car. FORD MOTOR COMPANY

Legion Post Sponsors A Series Of Bouts At Local High School Gymnasium

Matches Gaining Favor With Local Fans; More To Come

Under the auspices of the American Legion, Post 126, the second of a series of wrestling matches will be held in the Morehead High School gymnasium tonight. While the first match was held two weeks ago, the crowd was not as large as hoped, due largely to the fact that wrestling in Morehead has been undeveloped. However, it is the hope of the local Legion to develop an interest in the sport and to hold matches regularly.

On the card for this match will appear Paul Hanson, 171 pounds of West Liberty, Kentucky, and Buck Jones, 172 pounds, of Hazard, Kentucky in the main bout of the evening. Both are said to be good men and should give the fans something to interest them.

Johnny Masterson of Cincinnati, Ohio will meet Bill Hancock of Lexington, Kentucky in the semi-final bout. In the opener Joe Nickelson of Louisville will be matched against Pat Kelly of Cincinnati.

Admission will be 40 cents to men with ladies admitted free.

MOREHEAD HIGH TO HAVE SOFT BALL CLUB

A soft-ball league will be organized here next week. Coach Austin Riddle announced in chapel. Classes are urged to nominate your team and get ready for some "big league" games.

Some supplies have already been ordered for this sport.

This activity can be carried on during the third period, offering the lunch hour, and after 3:15.

ST. XAVIER WINS IN NATIONAL CATHOLIC

After winning out at the State tournament two weeks ago, St. Xavier of Louisville, signing for new worlds to conquer, went out and conquered them, at the Catholic National Tournament held at University in Chicago last week. In the finals the Kentucky team met the reputedly strong team from St. Mel in Chicago, and took them 24 to 29. Reverman of St. Xavier was high point man in the tournament.

Juniors Beat X-Vikings 22-19

The Junior class overwhelmed the X-Vikings by their tricky plays Thursday afternoon and emerged the victors by a margin of 22-19. Davis and Caudill were high scoring men of the Juniors, with 9 points each. Wheeler was high point man of the X-Vikings with 10 points. The game started out with the X-Vikings taking a lead of 6-1. From then on the Juniors led until the game was over.

FORM RECREATION CLUB

A High School Girls Recreation Club was organized last Wednesday by Miss Anna Jane Day. The purpose of the club is to organize some physical education activities for the girls. They plan to meet two to three times a week from 3:15 to 4:00. Their program will probably include tennis, volleyball, social dancing, and swimming parties. A small fee will be assessed each member in order to purchase supplies.

League To Meet Friday In Fleming

The next meeting of the Kentucky State Baseball League will be held at Flemingsburg on Friday of this week, March 29, when definite plans for the coming season will be perfected. At that time the schedule for the year will also be arranged.

While it is not definitely known what team will be in the league for the present year, it is expected that practically the same teams will be represented as previously.

According to a story appearing in the Mayville Independent of last week Mayville will not have a team in the league this year.

"Little Ten" Is Formed Tues.

Morehead High Represented; Breckinridge May Not Have Football

The Little Eight Conference and its successor, the Little Six today seemed headed for the scrap heap but a new and stronger high school circuit for the small streams in this section of Kentucky arose from the wreckage.

A meeting which ten schools have been invited to send representatives, was held in Ashland at the Independent offices Tuesday night, March 25, at 7:30.

Schools invited to take a share in organizing the new conference are Catlettsburg, Raceland, Greenup, Van-chure, Boyd Co., Grayson, Olive Hill, Morehead High and Breckinridge Training School at Morehead.

The Little Eight Conference was organized in the spring of 1930 during a regional tournament at Morehead and began playing in football this fall.

Former members were Morehead, Olive Hill, Pritchard High of Grayson, Boyd Co., Coles Jr. High of Ashland, Raceland Russell and Green up.

Greenup had no basketball team for several years. Haldeman tentatively replaced that school for the hardwood sport.

Later Coles of Ashland withdrew and McKell High of Fullerton became a probationary member. Even all High dropped out, cutting the number to seven and Grayson followed, leaving six. With McKell, which later became a member, under suspension only five schools took part in the past basketball season and interest fell off completely.

As was the rule in the Little Eight, the new conference will accept as members only schools with both football and basketball teams. Having found the Little Eight and Little Six most beneficial to their athletic interest, several coaches still in that conference have agreed that the best method is to drop the old organization and reorganize, inviting in several new members. This gives them a conference but a new and stronger one.

Greenup Co. team dominated the old conference in football, Russell winning three successive football championships before withdrawing. Raceland took up the torch where Russell dropped it and has carried on for Greenup County with two straight grid championships.

Further laurels have gone to Greenup County in track. Greenup High winning the conference track meet the past two seasons, the only years it has been held.

Honors have been divided more evenly in basketball, however. Roy Holbrook piloted Morehead High to the championship in 1931 and again in 1934. Grayson won in 1932, Haldeman and McKell shared the title in 1933 and Olive Hill won the crown this season.

That gives Rowan Co. two titles, Carter Co. two and a share in a third and Greenup county only a share in one title. Boyd county only has never been able to lift a championship in any of the three sports. The chances of this county to carry off some of the titles would be strengthened if the new conference is organized however, since Catlettsburg would make a powerful representative.

That gives Rowan, Lewis, would be represented in the conference. If Vanceburg should come in a represented in the conference.

Baseball in Morehead is likely to have tough sledding this year, according to present indications. The team last year cost a pretty penny and while they were successful in their pennant hunt, the backers of the team failed to see any great amount of maxima floating their way as a result. In fact the cash customers failed to produce enough of the said cash to pay the expenses of the team and the backers were out considerable 69 cent dollars as a result.

As yet no definite attempts have been made to organize a team although talk is floating about. However, there are a number of those who put up the money for the expense was entirely too great for the benefit they received.

The big trouble with the league last year was the fact that they attempted to step out in too fast company. They hired players, paying salaries beyond their means, and as a result they went in the red.

Baseball in this section is not and never will be on a par with baseball in the major leagues. The sooner the backers of the teams realize the fact the quicker they will put baseball back in the red.

It is not sound judgment to go in over our head on any proposition and it looks as if that is what Morehead, at least did last year.

The general result of a plunge into a lack of interest at following year, and apparently that is what is the matter now.

There are persistent rumors that there is a possibility of a strenuous baseball team at the college this year. Baseball as a college sport was discontinued two years ago, although Morehead has always been able to put out a winning team. Other colleges in this area have discontinued the sport and left Morehead alone with a team and no one to play with.

The last rumor is that Transylvania and State will have teams and that a short schedule may be arranged of about six games. If that is true, Morehead may furnish the fans with some exhibitions this spring.

What the college would actually like to do, however, is to develop an interest in track and field events. Such a program is being built up at other schools and there is ample material here to build up a track team that would be a credit to the institution.

Naturally the first thing that would be done in the case would be to get a suitable club track and equipment. It may be that this program is one to be considered in the future, rather than the present.

There is however a practical certainty that the college will have a football team of from twelve to sixteen teams, according to Coach G. D. Downing. This will provide an interesting sport for at least two hundred boys during their confinement. It should provide considerable interest as well.

The organization of a "Little Ten" superseding the "Little Six" which superseded the "Little Eight" conference, should have decided tendency to put athletics back in the running next season. There is no question but that conference competition is the life of high school sports.

Allie Young's Netters Beat Town Girls, 21-7

The Allie Young Hall Girls' basketball team defeated the town girls' easily, 21 to 7, in the initial contest of the girls' intramural league, last Wednesday night. Allie Young spurred to a 9 to 3 lead at the half and then scored 12 during the remainder of the game to win easily, 21 to 7.

The Allie Young sextet's attack was centered around Kattv Jackson, former Ashland high school star, who was by far the outstanding player on the floor.

The line-up: Allie Young (21) (7) Town Girls O. Borders (5) P. Ward Crisp (3) F. Thomas Jackson (13) C. (7) Cornett Revis (5) C. Daulton Wyant (5) G. Triplett M. Borders (5) G. Kelly

Rowan County Eliminated From Running In Tourney By A Fast Letcher Team

Finals Of Tournament To Be Played At College Wednesday

Rowan County, pre-tournament favorites to repeat as champions, went down in defeat before the Letcher county team, the score being 19 to 15. According to reports neither team scored in the last half.

The finals of the tourney will be run on Wednesday night, according to the present plans. A trophy will be awarded to the winners.

Following impressive first round victories over strong Morgan and Boyd county teams, Floyd and Carter county have been established as outstanding favorites in the county basketball tournament here this week. Floyd turned in the most

Derby Favorites Being Selected

And in the spring a Kentuckian's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of the Derby. As it has been in other springs, so it is in this. The Derby which will be run on Saturday, May 4, has brought out the bookmakers with their odds on their favorite selections. This year at odds of 4 to 1, Chance Sun, owned by Joseph E. Widner, is a strong favorite to win, according to Tom Kearney, St. Louis bookmaker.

Commonwealth, owned by Mrs. W. M. Jeffords, Philadelphia, is a second choice in Kearney's book at 6 to 1.

Other favorites and the prices quoted on them by Kearney are: Omaha, owned by William Woodward of New York, 8 to 1; Boxhorn, owned by E. R. Bradley, 12 to 1; Mr. Dodge Sloan's Psychic Bid, 15 to 1; Mrs. Payne Whitney's Plat Eye, 15 to 1; Warren Wright's Nellie Flag, 15 to 1, and Sachen air and Rueter's Roman Soldier, 15 to 1.

CHECKER TOURNAMENT WILL BE MAY 23-26

The State Checker Tournament is scheduled to be held at the Seelbach Hotel in Louisville on May 23-25, according to announcements made at that city recently. The meet will be held under the auspices of the Checker Club.

A Number of the leading checker players of this community have received invitations to attend. As yet none of them have decided whether they will be contestants or not.

ROBERTA

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY MARCH 28, 29, 30.

Double romance proceeds along a gay and tuneful way in "Roberta". RKO Radio's spectacular new musical production starring Irene Dunne, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Based upon the stage play which made theatrical history on Broadway and in all of the larger eastern cities, the picture deals with love in a Paris gown shop. Jerome Kern wrote the music. Some of the original numbers from the stage play are retained, and Kern has written several new hits especially for the picture.

SUNDAY & MONDAY MAR. 31 April 1st.

A stirring and romantic drama, the love story of a sophisticated New York author and a New England farm girl comes to the College Theatre Sunday and Monday in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Wedding Night" in which Gary Cooper and Anna Stein appear for the first time as a romantic team. Cooper proves that he can be just as convincing and thrilling a lover as he is a soldier and fighter, and the fair Anna sheds all trace of her Russian birth and training, emerging as a full fledged American star. The film provides another cinema triumph for the director, the creator of King Vidor, who made such famous pictures as "The Big Parade" and "Street Scene," and whose "Our Daily Bread" recently won the league of Nations gold medal for the world's best motion picture of the year.

Just how resourceful W. C. Fields Paramount comedian, really is was first discovered during the production of his new starring picture "It's A Gift" coming Friday, Saturday, and Sunday to the Cozy Theatre.

Fields had been recalled from his vacation because the studio wanted to put the picture in production. Nothing daunted, he got in touch with Thomas his chauffeur, and announced that he was going to take the vacation for him - by proxy and do Fields fishing.

The idea seems to be working out. Fields recently displayed a picture posted to Director Norman McLeod. Here's a six-pounder," said he, that I caught by proxy, and I didn't even have to bait the hook."

Baby LeRoy, Kathleen Howard and Jean Rouvrol support the comedian in "It's a Gift."
