Three Candidates Enter Field Today For Major Offices

V. D. Flood and J. M. Butcher File For County Clerk; Jesse J. Caudill Seeks Sheriff Nomination

The important county political races, always bitterly contested, found impetus today with the announcement of three Democrats for the more important places and the order for the holding of examinations for tax commissioner Monday at the County Attorney's office.

Announcements today included: V. D. "Mike" Flood, of Morehead and J. M. Butcher, Elliottville, for county clerk and that of Jesse J. Caudill, Morehead, for Sheriff. Previously Lyle C. Tackett and Z. Taylor Young, both of Morehead, had announced for the nomination for Representative from both Rowan and Hancock counties district and Bert Proctor for Sheriff on the Republican ticket.

Further announcements are expected within the next week, although many prospective candidates have said they would not file until they saw how "the land lay."

Other talked-of candidates who have not announced are Dan Barker and Bill Carter for Sheriff on the Democrat ticket; Van Hogg, tax commissioner, Democrat; L. Roberts, field tax assessor and John Adams, Sheriff, Republican; Arthur Hogg and Dave C. Caudill, county judge, Democrat; Louis Fraley and C. O. Leach, county clerk, Democrat; C. V. Alfrey, incumbent county clerk, Republican; C. E. Jennings, incumbent county judge, Republican; Mort May, representative, Democrat; W. E. Proctor, incumbent and Harlan Powers, County Attorney, Republican; J. W. Riley, county judge or county attorney, Democrat. This list includes only a part of those who have said they have their candidacy under consideration.

The majority of announcements were made today and the campaign lines fairly well drawn by June 1.

The jailer race, which always draws more candidates than any other office, is without candidates so far, but a large field is anticipated. Jailer Sam Stamper has not said whether he will seek re-election, but it is possible that he will not. Stanley C. Leach served as jailer from 1929 to 1933 has indicated that he may seek the Democratic nomination this year. The fact that the jailer's office has paid a small salary during the last three years may be the number of candidates contesting for the place down to a comparatively small number.

There is no word as yet as to being done behind-the-scenes for the office of County Judge than any other race, although not a candidate has filed. Both parties use this office as the major control of the county and for this reason the candidates, who possibly will have already filed, are looking back awaiting any compromise that might be effected.

The election of 2 members of the Fiscal Court, 3 members of the Board of Education, Coroner and Tax Commissioner will be held this year. In addition the city races will be up for decision.

Baptist Church To Have Revival Meet

Newport Pastor To Preach At Services March 28 To April 11

The Morehead Baptist Church announces plans for a revival meeting to begin March 28th and continuing through April 11th. Dr. H. C. Wayman, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Newport, Ky., will be the guest preacher. Dr. H. C. Wayman, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Newport, Ky., will be the guest preacher. Dr. H. C. Wayman, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Newport, Ky., will be the guest preacher.

Plans are being made in the local church to enlist the entire membership in this meeting, and to bring the Gospel to the unsaved of our community. Each Wednesday evening at the prayer meeting hour church members and Christian workers will bring the names of those in whom they are interested, and prayers will be offered in their behalf. The pastor says, "Tell all Christians of any church to pray with us for a great revival."

Dr. Wayman is one of the leading Gospel preachers of this state. He holds to a sound interpretation of the word of God, and both from the scholastic and the spiritual standpoint is able in his ministry.

Winter Carnival To Be Staged At College Saturday

Linda Lee Eaton, Beryl Motley Vie For Leading Feminine Honor

KING AND QUEEN OF 1937 WILL BE CROWNED

Roger Caudill of Morehead, One Of Entrants In Kings Election

Morehead's College's social highlight—the annual Winter Carnival—will be staged in the gymnasium Saturday evening under the joint sponsorship of the Niagara and Campus Clubs. The crowning of the 1937 King and Queen will headline a full evening of festivities.

At 9:30 the procession to the throne will start, with Paddy Caudill as Court Jester. Then the King and Queen of the first winter carnival, Marianna Thomas Sent and Claude Clayton, will lead the procession, followed by the second Queen and King, Myrtle Davidson and "Doc" Adams, Thelma Carmichael and Gilbert Rose.

The herald, Sonny Graves, who has been herald for two years, will continue the procession followed by the flower girls, Eleanor Bruce and Margaret Dewey, and the crown bearers, Ronald Cooper and Jane Young.

The new King and Queen of the fourth winter carnival join in the procession followed by the train bearers, Lois Ann Carter, Margaret Sue Corsette, Patty Young and Harriet Gevann. Then follow the attendants.

The processions will proceed to the throne where President Babb will crown the King and Queen of the fourth winter carnival. The schedule for the carnival will be 10 cents. With each admission ticket a chance is given to receive prizes given for women by J. Purcell and Dewey, and the men by R. L. Thorpe Co. of Lexington. Immediately after the coronation will draw for door prizes.

President Babb To Give Radio Speech

Morehead College On 30 Minute Broadcast Friday

An address by President H. A. Babb on "Education in Eastern Kentucky" will be the feature of a 30 minute radio broadcast by the Morehead State Teachers College, Friday at 10:15 p. m. The Nashville and Bowling Green stations, South, operates on 650 kilocycles.

The Morehead program is one of a series of broadcasts by the George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, and known as the "Teachers College of the Air."

In addition to President Babb's address the Morehead presentation consists of a short play, music and a vocal solo. The program will be a string quartet. The program was prepared by Dr. Romie D. Judd, Prof. Henry C. Haggan and Prof. Neville Fenell.

Walter Carr Leads Breckinridge Team In Scoring With 110 Points This Year

Clinton Tatum, Second Highest Point-Maker May Not Play In Tournament

Clinton Tatum, who was second in the Breckinridge Training School team scoring with 98 points during the season may be unable to play in the district tournament which opens at the Morehead High School gymnasium Friday evening. The school physician told him today that he might be sufficiently recovered from an illness which he contracted last week to play in the tournament.

Christian Church Will Sponsor Meet

8th District Woman's Missionary Convention Scheduled Here Tuesday

The Eighth District Convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United States will convene at the First Christian church of Morehead next Tuesday morning. There will be morning and afternoon sessions. The morning session begins at 10:30 o'clock. The Missionary Society of the city are invited guests to any and all of the sessions.

The district secretary, Mrs. John Shaw of Morehead, will preside at the opening session and Dr. Fern will give the devotional. A sanctuary at home on first church will be among the speakers which will include state workers and officers.

The local church is already making plans for an important day Easter which comes Sunday, March 26. The services of the day will begin with a sunrise service. A large attendance at all of the services is expected as usual and a large number of additions to the church. The young people of the church are planning to have a luncheon in connection with their services on Sunday night, March 21.

CECIL BROWN, 41, DIES AT SANDY HOOK

Cecil Brown, age 41, son of W. W. Brown and Lulu Brown, of Elliott County, was born February 27, 1896 and died February 10, 1937. He leaves besides his parents, two brothers, John and Curt, both of ordinary Ky., one daughter, Mae, who is a student at Aiken Hall, and one sister, Ethel, of Glasgow, Ky.

He attended school at Danville, Ky., in the Deaf and Dumb school there, obtaining a good education. Although handicapped, he was well up on current events.

Leaving the home folks with a few relatives, he had made much of work, remarking only a few days before that he "would soon hear and speak," and wanted to know if the folks would meet him there.

Morehead Woman Seeks Judgment Of $30,000 Against Pike County Man

Rowan County grand jury yesterday returned 16 true bills including one against County Patrolman Jerry Dye for the alleged murder of Constable Jay Bailey at Clearfield last month.

Among the other indictments returned were: Mason Scaggs, cutting and wounding Morehead City Patrolman H. L. Roberts; Herman Hudson, breaking into a storehouse and grand larceny; Eddie Yell and Orville Brown, breaking into storehouses; William Connor, assault with deadly weapon; and Beecher Adkins, statutory rape.

Judge Caudill instructed the March grand jury on general lines, but gave explicit instructions to investigate drunken driving, carrying of firearms and operation of slot machines and gambling devices in the county. Sheriff Mort Yell said that he did not believe there was a slot machine in operation in the county and he has not had any pin-ball machine operating in the county and has not been since he conducted a clean-up of them in March, 1936.

Judge Caudill's slot-machine instruction was in conformity with advice that he is giving throughout his district.

Cases tried Tuesday and yesterday were: John Dick, breach of peace, $10 and costs; Dick Gilliam, vagrancy, not with deadly weapon, 10 days; Joe Day, operating auto while drunk, $100 and costs; Myrtle Mynhier, assault with deadly weapon, $50 and costs; Ellis Roberts, operating auto while drunk, hung jury, continued first day next term; Homer Trent, cutting and wounding Ronck Adkins, $50 and costs; Jack Tackett, $5 and costs.

Precedent may be broken in the case of Mrs. Bessie Day of Morehead, if Judge Caudill rules favorably on her case against Commonwealth Attorney W. C. Hamilton who asked for a change of venue. In the past it has been customary to file cases away after three jury trials. In each of the three trials of Mrs. Day for the murder of her son, J. C. Williams, juries have not been able to agree. In filing a motion for a change of venue Mr. Hamilton contended that "it is doubtful if a jury could be secured in Rowan County who did not know the particulars of the case."

Judge Caudill is expected to act on the Commonwealth Attorney's motion this week.

Due to the illness of Judge Caudill annulled the marriage of Ray Gibson of Heller, of Rowan county and Margaret Davis, of Morehead, and ordered Gibson to pay her $20 a month for 3 years for the support of a child. Miss Davis, who is now married, was allegedly married when she was presumably dead and she did not know of the former marriage until after her death. The court alleged that Gibson's wife was now suing for divorce under the provisions of the Kentucky County Circuit Court.

M. S. T. C. Professor Gets Appointment

Prof. L. H. Horton Named On National Music Committee

L. H. Horton, Head of the Department of Music at Morehead State Teachers College, has received word of his appointment to the National Music Education Broadcasts of the National Conference of Music Educators National Conference. The appointment comes from Joseph E. Maddy, President of the National Conference of Music Educators, who is Chairman of the committee.

The Southern Conference, a division of the Music Educators National Conference, has its biennial meeting in Columbia, S. C., starting Wednesday, March 3, and continuing throughout the week. Dr. Horton was invited to attend, as Chairman of the Committee on Lobbying, however, he had charge of arranging for conductors to direct these informal sings which always follow the biennial meeting.

Thursday Morning, March 4, 1937 CHANGE IN OWNERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT OF INDEPENDENT

Announcement has been made of a recent change in ownership in the Morehead Independent. Mr. William J. Sample has become the sole owner of the publication by purchasing the interest of his partner, Mr. George M. Calvert. The partnership between Mr. Calvert and Mr. Sample has been a successful one. It is the belief of the publishers that the combination of efforts as resulted in the publication of a newspaper that not only reflects credit upon the management but upon the community as well. Mr. Calvert's untiring efforts have been no small factor in this achievement. The response and hearty support of the people of Morehead and Rowan County has brought about a remarkable growth in the Independent during the past year and the publishers have attempted to repay this by placing Rowan County and its citizens before the eyes of the reading public and by forming a closer relationship between the people residing within the borders of this county. The Independent's policy will remain the same as it has in the past. The newspaper shall continue to bring weekly to the people unbiased accounts of the news, an adequate policy of fairness and not prejudice and a publication that is an institution in Rowan County.

OFFICIALS, EMPLOYEES DO THEIR BIT The support that the Lee-Clay Products Company of Clearfield showed during the flood crisis is worthy of commendation to every Rowan County citizen. This company's donations to aid in the flood stricken area surpassed that of all the rest of the county combined. It was unstinted and unselfish support of a worthy cause, the true benefits of which will be never known. Every community is composed of different types of citizens. There must be leaders and followers. Mr. Bowme, manager of the Lee-Clay Products Company is a leader—a man whom we all might follow with deserved success. Likewise, the employees of the company did more than their bit. Each pay envelope was smaller as the result of the 100 per cent donation that they made and perhaps they and their wives had to deny themselves of something they needed to make that donation. It was a fine spirit on the part of the company and the men it employs.

RAILROADS PLAY LEADING ROLE DURING FLOOD We all take air, light and water for granted. The better they are, the less we think about them or appreciate them. It is only when the supply of these necessities is poor and inferior that we kick. The same situation exists in connection with the essential part played by the railroads, both locally and nationally, in mobilizing and making effective relief efforts in connection with the Ohio and Mississippi Valley floods. We just take railroad service for granted, and the better the railroads do their jobs, the less we say about them. The railroads on both sides of the Ohio river have operated their trains just as close to the flood lines as a train could be taken; have set up emergency terminal facilities wherever possible; have maintained local shuttle service, at heavy expense, in those cases where through service shut off; have brought in the great bulk of all the supplies of food, fuel and equipment which have gone into the flood-stricken area; have taken out great numbers of refugees; and, in general, made possible the work of relief and rescue.

Without the public even knowing it, the railroads mobilized car supplies to take care of not only the people, the livestock and the relief needs of threatened areas, but also the commerce. Coal mines have been kept in operation by reason of the ability of the railroads to divert and marshal coal cars wherever needed. Thousands of extra box cars were mobilized with the idea that the evacuation of the lower Mississippi valley should become necessary on any large scale, the car supply would be available to bring out not only the people and livestock, but their cotton, manufactured goods, stocks in trade, and the materials necessary to enable them to resume business when the waters receded. All of this was done quietly and without fuss on the part of the employees of the American railroads. Much of it was done without cost to relief authorities or refugees. Railroads in the flood emergency as in their everyday service, are pretty much taken for granted in the United States. When a railroad took into it one night 35 carloads of coal and trainloads of food and other supplies, that wasn't news. That's what the railroads were supposed to do. When an airplane unloaded a crate of bread at the airport one would think that a miracle of the loaves and the fishes was about to be repeated.

After all, taking the railroads for granted, like light, air and water, is probably the highest tribute to them, but, nevertheless, they are organizations run by human beings to whom a word of gratitude and appreciation is not amiss when it is so justly deserved. Just being taken for granted becomes rather stale for the best of us.

FINANCIAL HEART IS HUMAN "The CCC camps have done a very good piece of work, and I would favor making this organization a permanent part of the government's social service program." Thus spoke Cameron Beck, director of the New York Stock Exchange Institute. He further pointed out that more than 300,000 boys in America have already become vagabonds, with the likelihood of their number growing larger unless something is done very quickly to take care of them.

These words, coming from a representative of the country's financial center, may be surprising to people who have been led to believe that Wall Street is a neiv organ living on the earnings of aged and helpless people. The New York Stock Exchange, which is the largest "public market" for securities in the nation, has worked hand in hand with the Federal Government to create and enforce laws for the protection of the investor. It opposes disastrous speculation, and is the "financial heart" of sound American industry. Modern marvels such as the electric light, radio, telephone, motion pictures, automobiles, etc., could not have been developed to their present state of perfection and nationwide use if it had not been possible to raise capital through the widespread sale of securities. And the necessary securities could not have been sold except by making them easily available to the public through central market places.

STOP AND THINK WHEN YOU ARE BEHIND THE WHEEL Many otherwise sane citizens become thoughtless fools when they get behind the wheel of an automobile. This year alone, 38,500 lives in auto accidents last year. In the same period 10,000,000 were injured, of which number 400,000 were more or less permanently disabled.

Such a staggering slaughter of human life could not be much worse if the country were in a state of anarchy. How can it be curbed? According to the Portland Oregonian there is no answer to the problem "except in more rigorous law enforcement, and that cannot be achieved this side of public indignation." Thirty-eight thousand-five hundred lives sacrificed on the altar of recklessness would seem to be sufficient cause for public indignation.

Safe driving campaigns, designed to appeal to the common sense of the individual, have apparently been of little benefit. Speeding, drunken driving, gross negligence in approaching crossings, and weaving in and out of traffic, are increasing every day. The only ones who have been thoroughly cured are the victims and bitter experience cured them. Lying mangled in hospitals, perhaps clinging to this earth by a mere thread, they have come to realize how precious life is. But the dead will never have another chance. In that split second before oblivion they too realized—but too late. The next time you hit a cross street at sixty miles an hour STOP AND THINK of what might have happened if you had not been alone in your foolishness. Picture yourself being lowered to your final resting place with the clods dropping on your coffin and the minister chanting "ashes to ashes, dust to dust." If you are blessed with lifelong instinct, the next cross street you will approach the next cross street with due caution and trembling knees.

WHAT OTHER KENTUCKY EDITORS ARE SAYING

WATCH YOUR HOMES The other day Governor Chamber approved the paroles of around 300 prisoners who formerly were housed in the Frankfort reformatory. No doubt the object was to relieve the congestion in the temporary quarters established in a tent-city on the grounds of the Institute for the Feeble Minded. It would hardly seem, however, that the parole of 300 men out of more than 2,000 would mean very much from this point of view. The paroles were granted while all over the country public protests are being registered against the abuses of the parole system. It is pertinent to ask how any parole system can operate effectively unless there are enough agents in this state to furnish genuine supervision even in the cases of this single group of 300. There already were hundreds of men on parole before this last batch of prisoners walked out. The point of this editorial is to issue a warning to householders to guard their property. The paroled prisoners were set at liberty but they had no money, they had no jobs, they had no resources, they face great difficulty in securing honest work, and many of them have been shown to be untrustworthy. Would it be surprising in the circumstances if in many cases they turned, almost without their recourse, to theft or robbery? It behooves families to keep their home from intruders, locking doors and windows, and when absent leaving some one in charge. A good watchdog is of great value, not to bite and tear those who approach the house, but to give the alarm and to warn the intruder as well as arousing the family. For this purpose a small dog in the house is better than a mastiff in the yard, and chained in a kennel. At any rate look out for thieves and trespassers. Lexington has its full share of thieves and burglars, and some of them have been paroled and are coming home. —Lexington Leader

LAWLESSNESS—It is noted that although the docket for the March term of Rowan Circuit Court is comparatively heavy there are few felonies of importance to be tried. In the five months period since the October term there has been but one murder in the county, which if not unusual, is at the same time a good record compared to the previous March sessions.

Robberies increased over the early part of 1936, but officers have apparently cleared up the petty gangs that were responsible. In checking the court records, it must be admitted that law violations of a vicious nature, such as shootings and stabbings have become minimized with each passing year since 1930. All of which speaks very well for Rowan County. It indicates that the people of the county are turning more to honest endeavor instead of law's and other lawlessness. The most gratifying factor of recent court dockets is the fact that indictments for dis-

Your Family Coat-of-Arms

Hutchinson In 1547 John Hutchinson, whose arms are presented, was made Sheriff of the City of Lincoln, England and progressed rapidly to the offices of Alderman and Mayor of the city. He had five children, four sons and one daughter, the youngest son, Edward, born in 1564 was a dealer in furs in Lincoln and Allied Areas of Edward's sons, William, was the emigrant from America, was married to Anne Marbury of a very distinguished family. The coat of arms of the Hutchinson family are found on several tombstones in the Church Hill Old Burying Ground in Boston. They also appear on the will of Samuel Hutchinson, a brother of William the emigrant, and were used as a seal by Governor Hutchinson in 1769. turbing religious worship have become almost nil. Two years ago the docket was cluttered with this offense, one of the most despicable. ELLIOTT COUNTY — The good people of Elliott County should be pardoned if they feel resentful over the many reports that have been circulated to the effect that lawlessness flourished there and slayings were numerous. As a matter of record Elliott County had its first murder in more than five years about a month ago. That is a record that possibly no other county in the state can match. Yet, reports are paramount of the wildness of that county.

Bath-Rowan County district will, as previously predicted in this column, develop strictly along administration and anti-administration lines. Governor Chandler has no intention of letting the legislature get out of his control and knife him as they did Governor Sampson. The politicians behind the administration licenses will make a hard fight in every district to retain control of the lower House. Z. Taylor Young of Morehead is the logical Chandler-supporter candidate. Lyle C. Tackett also of this city will, no doubt, be supported by the anti-administration. And, in most cases, regardless of personal feelings towards candidates who may make the race, the majority of the voters will cast ballots along these well-defined party lines. The Rhea-Chandler fight, which caused a split in Kentucky politics has not heated and the people are still voting pro-Chandler or anti-Chandler. HEALTH UNIT—Dr. A. T. McCormack, who has been in Washington for several weeks working for health and flood funds for Kentucky has obtained a Federal o. k. on health centers or units for every county in Kentucky that is willing to foot 60 per cent of the bill. The Federal government will pay 40 per cent of the total and make a grant of the additional amount. The Superintendent's office will be quartered with the health unit, since they are so much akin. Other offices could also be placed in the building.

Finest and Safest OF BRAKING SYSTEMS! ON THE NEW FORD V-8

YOU'll agree when you try the new Ford brakes, that you never felt "softer" or easier Ford brake pedal action, nor ever had any car stop smoother or quicker. And you get the safety of strong steel cables from the pedal to each wheel. They always work. Weather can't affect them and even damage to one wheel wouldn't affect the other 3 brakes. Also... Ford brakes give extra-long brake-lining life! Big 12-inch drums give more braking surface for car weight than any other car in America. All in all, you'll find these brakes a good example of a great Ford principle. It's the principle that the usual way isn't always the best way in building a car... but that the best at the price is what makes value! YOUR FORD DEALER

ORCHARD MEN TO HEAR FARM PROGRAM OFFERS

Members of the Kentucky State Horticultural Society, in their annual meeting at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington March 11, will hear what the new agricultural conservation program has to offer them. The subject will be discussed by O. M. Farrington, administrative assistant in the program.

Another subject of special interest at this time is the flood damage to orchards, which will be discussed by Ben E. Niles, Henderson county, secretary of the society.

What the cold winter of 1935-36 and the drought of last summer did to fruit trees will be the subject of Prof. A. J. Olney, head of the department of horticulture at the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station.

Dr. W. D. Valleau, pathologist at the Experiment Station will discuss disease control; Prof. H. H.

Jetett, the replacing of last winter's losses in lee colonies; W. W. Magill, orchard fertilization and soil management, and Prof. D. A. Price and others the 1937 spray program.

New officers will be elected. Present officers are Dr. J. B. Jordan, Jefferson county, president; Frank Browning, Fleming county, first vice-president; M. Y. Nunn, Union county, second vice-president; E. C. Hoagland, Oldham county, third vice-president, and Ben E. Niles, Henderson, secretary-treasurer.

EARLY POTATOES

Early potato planting time is approaching. For the region about Lexington, the best time to plant potatoes lies between March 15 and April 10; for the counties along the Tennessee border, two weeks earlier; and for those facing Cincinnati, a week later. By this it is not meant that potatoes cannot be planted after this time in mass, but special procedure should be followed, as later explained.

To be successful in producing a good crop of potatoes, the land must be good. It must be high in humus, so that enough moisture will have been stored, to be released as the potatoes need it. It should be capable of being broken deeply, for the deeper the seed bed, the more moisture there will be. Deep breaking will permit the potatoes being deeply planted, thus putting the feeding roots in moister, cooler soil, and making it unnecessary to throw moisture-wasting ridges or hills to the row. Also, the tubers lying deep will be subject less to becoming strong and losing quality because of the heating rays of the sun. This is of benefit especially to potatoes that are left in the ground until the autumn, when they are lifted and stored for winter. An additional reason for omitting to plant potatoes is that labor is saved.

Good breaking depth is 10 inches, and planting depth, 4 inches. If planting is done at the beginning of the season, a light ridge should be thrown over the row, but as time progresses, less and less ridge, until at the end of normal planting interval, the surface is left level. If potatoes remain to be planted after the later date recommended above, the furrows should still be laid off deeply, but the seed pieces covered with only enough soil to insure them against freezing, the filling of the furrow to be completed as the potatoes grow out of it. The beginning of a crop of potatoes is made when the first green leaves appear.

Potato land should contain some natural fertility, but this is not particularly important because plant food can be supplied through using commercial fertilizer. In fact, may it be said, that no matter how "rich" the land is, fertilizer should be used because land that has been enriched by manure is not balanced for potatoes. Any standard analysis that carries 3 per cent of nitrogen is satisfactory but, if procurable, 4-6-4, 5-10-5 or even 6-10-6 is preferred.

The fertilizer should be sown in the furrow, at the rate of one pound for 25 to 35 feet of row, depending on the fertility of the land. It should be mixed with the soil but kept in the bottom of the furrow so that the roots will stay deep.

Word is timely concerning seed. To plant any but dependable seed potatoes is to invite risk of losing time, labor, land and fertilizer; the way to insure these four items is to use name brand certified seed, but making sure always that what is offered is truly and genuinely certified. The slight margin in price will be reflected at digging, often to a most unbelievable degree.

All seed potatoes, certified or not certified, should receive the treatment that cleanses them of the germs of scab and scurf two bedders from a crop of potatoes. This treatment will be described in this column next week.

As for varieties, Irish Cobbler is by all odds the most popular and there should be enough cobbler to last until Christmas, after which it should be possible to change to the best of the Rube Burbank, to last until Cobbler comes in again.

THE FARM AND HOME

Sheep suffer from drafts, and are subject to pneumonia. Therefore, plugging up cracks and openings in barns is important, especially during severe weather. Chilly and damp barns and muddy lots should be avoided.

Carrot or turnip custard: Beat 3 eggs slightly, add 1 1/2 cups of grated raw carrot or turnip, 3 cups of milk, 1 teaspoon of salt and three tablespoons of melted butter or other fat. Pour into a greased baking dish, place on a pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven about an hour or until the custard is set in the center.

Persons who wish to gain in weight should cultivate a wholesome and cheerful outlook on life. That makes it easier to add pounds and to get along with other people. Nervousness, worry and fatigue are enemies of fat.

Rich, well-drained plots make the best tobacco plant beds. Spots in the woods are still favored, but many farmers use old fence rows and pasture land that has been in grass several years. Such soil usually keeps in a better phy-

Do you remember how, when we were little, we resolved to have lots of parties for our children when we grew up? But now we're so often exhausted after our first attempt at entertaining a roomful of active youngsters that we say to ourselves "never again!" But perhaps we made the mistake of taking the party too seriously. Take it easy! Make it short! And the refreshments simple!

Heaping plates of wholesome cookies and chocolate egg-nogs will make everybody glad they came. Another thing—let your small sons or daughters help. Put them to making ice cubes, for instance. With the handy little ice cube they can quickly make all the pure, taste-free ice cubes you need from the ice in your modern air-conditioned refrigerator. Then, too, it is good for these small hosts or hostesses to feel that they have a real part to play in making a successful party.

Early hatched chicks are the ones that lay most of the winter eggs. Therefore, now is the time to start plans to raise early pullets. March is a good time to hatch most of the common breeds. April will do for the Leghorns. Most persons need eight hours of good sleep. This usually means good ventilation in the bedroom. A comfortable bed no heavy eating before retiring, and resolution to forget all the cares of the day. Worry will interfere with your sleep.

GOOD CARE SUGGESTED FOR EARLY LAMBS, PIGS
Thousands of farm records have been studied in the farm economic department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture to learn how farmers succeeded. One of the things which the investigators have found is that the best livestock raisers make heroic efforts to save early offspring of lambs and pigs. It is worth more to save an early lamb than one born later. From records studied, the following suggestions are made to sheep raisers:

Spend enough time in the care and housing of ewes and lambs during the lambing period to prevent chills or freezing.

Separate the rams from the ewe flock some time before the lambing period.

Lessen the number of lambs born dead by providing enough space to prevent crowding of ewes with lambs.

The more prolific and profitable flocks are drenched periodically each year to prevent parasitic infection.

Lessen the number of lambs born weak and starved to death by proper culling and selection of the ewes and the care of them before lambing.

From two to six years of age seems to be the most profitable period of ewes.

Here are the suggestions to hog raisers:

Know when the sows will farrow by keeping a record of breeding dates.

Provide adequate shelter at farrowing time.

Spend additional time in the care of the sows and pigs at farrowing time.

Follow sanitary practices, especially at farrowing and until the pigs are weaned.

Use care in feeding the proper ration just before and after farrowing. Alfalfa leaves make a good ration supplement.

URGE CARE IN USE OF FLOODED FEEDS
The Agricultural Experiment

Station at Lexington suggests that farmers use care in the use of feeds that were covered with water during the flood. Danger may come from fermentation, sprouting and molds, which might cause indigestion and disorder; or from the deposit of silt, which may contain disease germs of a serious nature.

In many instances farmers have been able to dry corn by placing it on drying racks or in narrow cribs made with wire mesh. If fermentation, sprouting or molding have been prevented in this manner, than little damage, if any, should result and the feeding value of the corn may remain nearly normal.

Where grain or roughage was covered by silt or contaminated water there is danger not only of indigestion and intestinal disorder but from such diseases as cholera and botulism. Horses, mules and chickens are very susceptible to botulism poison; but cattle, pigs and sheep are less so.

It might be advisable to try some of the flooded corn or other grain on a few chickens. If they survive, the grain probably could be fed with safety to other animals. Extreme care should be exercised.

Jesse J. Caudill Files For Sheriff With Strict Law Enforcement As Principal Platform Plank

I take this method of announcing myself as a candidate for the nomination to the office of Sheriff of Rowan County, subject to the will of the Democrat voters at the Primary Election on August 7th, 1937.

For the past six years now I have served as Deputy Sheriff in this county and all the voters here have had time and opportunity to observe my work. I have tried to be fair and impartial in the discharge of my official duties, and to render a real service as a law enforcement officer to the people of this county. How well I have succeeded in this can only be judged by the degree of your support to me in my campaign for Sheriff.

I have no promise to make with the exception that if nominated and elected as your next Sheriff I shall do all that is in my power to make you the very best Sheriff that this county has ever had. I shall be subject to call for official duties day or night and assure you that whenever and wherever it is my official duty to go that I shall be found ready and willing to answer the call.

Respectfully I solicit your support and influence in the coming election.

40 Road Projects Approved In State

Mayo Trail Between Louisa and Paintsville Will Be Paved.

The Kentucky Department of Highways program of Federal Aid projects for the fiscal year ending June 30, has been approved and signed by Major General Federal Engineer. The program is approved by the Commissioner, includes forty road projects and four roadside improvement jobs to extend through 37 counties at a total cost of $4,589,632.

All of the nine road districts in the state will be aided by the Federal program. Five projects are listed in each the first, second, fourth and sixth districts. Two have been arranged for each the third and fifth, three in the seventh, four in the eighth and nine in the ninth.

Important projects in Western Kentucky will include 4.6 miles of high type road in Ballard county on the Wickliffe-East Cairo road from Wickliffe to the bridge under construction over the Ohio River and the Paducah-Smithland Road from 5 miles from Tennessee River toll bridge to the Smithland toll bridge, a stretch of 6.9 miles to be done in high type paving.

Central Kentucky will see further work on U. S. 60. The new project will extend from the city limits of Frankfort 8.13 miles to the Shelby County line. One bridge is listed on the entire program, that over Rolling Fork River between Nelson and Harlan Counties near New Haven. The Louisville-Elliottsville Road will be graded, drained and widened with a high type road. This work will be included in two projects both in Jefferson County.

A high type road from the end of the concrete paving south of Louisville 17.7 miles through Lawrence County is the largest and most important project in the eastern section of the state, another project affecting this road is listed in Johnson county. Following is the apportionment for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938.

Receive Flood Money Rowan County Will

(Continued from Page One) with W. P. A. Army Corps of Engineers in every district in the State, to ascertain to what extent the W. P. A. will cooperate this year with the State in the construction and surfacing of roads and the construction and repair of bridges.

In planning for the 1937-38 work, the engineers and county officials are asked to give first thought and preference to the secondary and feeder roads over which school buses and rural mail carriers must pass. The Department estimates that the number of carrying the majority of their roads graded, drained and in many instances widened before the end of the fiscal year.

Congress has appropriated to the State of Kentucky the amount of $4,000 for emergency work. Fiscal years of 1938 and 1939 for use on secondary highways. These funds must be matched dollar for dollar. The rules and regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture permit approximately 1-7 of this amount to be spent on the State Highway system and the remainder, or $248,000 per year, on the secondary highway system. This means that the Division of Rural Highways must arrange to meet this amount through the State Highway system with funds appropriated for use on roads not now being maintained or constructed by the Department of Highways.

All county judges and fiscal courts in the state have been notified that the $248,000 sum is now ready and to make plans accordingly. No part of this money is to be spent on any Federal or State Highway System, that is on any road that has been accepted by the Department of Highways for maintenance, or is being constructed or reconstructed by the Department of Highways. The projects improved must be on the primary system as the Department must assume maintenance of the projects after completion.

Projects which have been started by the Highway Department and have been abandoned before completion may, however, be included in the program.

In planning for the program the Commissioner declared that the class of roadway in each project will depend upon the location, character and traffic requirement and must meet the recommendations of the Federal, State and Rural Highway Engineers. The Commissioner pointed out to the County Judges that in planning all projects should include the surfacing, unless impossible to do so.

These Federal funds will be available July 1, 1937, and bids may be taken soon after April 1, 1937, as plans and estimates are available. These funds cannot be widely scattered in the counties and necessarily will have to be expended on good projects.

With such funds available all county fiscal courts by taking advantage of the Federal funds, will be able to double all or a portion of their Rural Highway fund.

Those counties to which 1927 Flood Relief funds will be available and the amount that each county can receive are: Ballard, $11,037.13; Breathitt, $17,064.29; Carlisle, $9,646.29; Carter, $16,637.37; Elliott, $10,664.82; Estill, $12,712.45; Floyd, $20,826.96; Fulton, $11,707.44; Hickman, $10,362.02; Hopkins, $21,746.95; Johnson, $14,272.81; Knott, $13,691.46; Lawrence, $15,136.81; Lee, $10,204.18; Leslie, $13,040.15; Letcher,

Congressman Vinson Complimented In Editorial From Owensboro Paper

8th District Representative Has Advantageous Position at Washington

Tom Fred M. Vinson, Congressman from the Eighth Kentucky district, was commended editorially for his accomplishments for the State in the Owensboro Messenger. The editorial reads:

"Fred M. Vinson, the Eighth District Congressman, occupies so advantageous a position at Washington that he will not be tempted to seek the nomination for United States Senator next year, for governor in 1939, nor an appointment as Federal Judge, in the opinion of Tom R. Underwood, editor of the Lexington Herald.

"As a member of the Ways and Means Committee in Congress, one of the most sought-after and powerful positions obtainable, Vinson is proving in Congress a spokesman to his own people and the state at large. The influence he has on national legislation marks him as one of the topmost leaders in Congress, on having the esteem and confidence of his colleagues. His enviable distinction of being only by the Hoover landslide in 1928, has familiarized him with legislative machinery and qualified him to render still more conspicuous service.

The congressman has been for several years a resident of Ashland, Boyd county, neighbor of Lawrence where he was born, and still in the forties he enjoys the enviable distinction of being one of a half dozen strongest members of the National house of representatives. As commonwealth's attorney for two terms he has earned recognition which his signal service in congress has emphasized, and from young manhood this sterling Democrat has been welcomed at party councils and his words heard with deference and delight.

"To have the honor of representing a Kentucky district long enough to be named dean of the state delegation and to hold membership on the Ways and Means aspired to other political positions, Congressman Vinson is a Kentuckian of whom the state is proud. The people who know him best and return him with increasing majorities, biennially to congress, must share him with those who live in other parts of the state. The worth of his service is not to be hemmed in by district lines. He belongs to the commonwealth."

Aggregate imports into Panama in 1936 were valued at $18,957,850, an increase of approximately 10 per cent over the preceding year and only slightly under the record total of 1929.

Do you know about ELECTRIC COOKERY

IT GIVES you meals that are more savory and healthful because all nourishing juices and tasty flavors are retained in cooking.

It saves you much time and work in preparing meals because automatic controls relieve you of constant watching as foods cook. You can go away for hours and find your dinner ready to serve when you return.

It is economical because all heat is used to cook . . . because meats and vegetables are cooked in their own juices and do not shrink . . . because electricity for cooking is only 2c per kw-hr.

It is very clean because heat is produced without fuel, flame, fumes, smoke, soot, etc.

It is unusually cool in summer because the range is heavily insulated to retain oven heat . . . because surface "burners" apply heat directly against bottom of cooking utensils.

Whenever you say, we'll be glad to tell you the whole wonderful story of electric cookery . . . and how you can enjoy its many advantages as you pay for your electric range on easy terms. . . . Why not tomorrow?

ANNOUNCEMENT OF J. M. BUTCHER

I wish to take this means of announcing that I am again a candidate for the office of County Court Clerk of Rowan County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, Saturday, August 7, 1937. I make this announcement after having consulted with many fellow democrats throughout the county.

I wish to state at this time that if nominated and elected to this important office that I will endeavor to make you a better clerk than I did before, and I truly believe that I can as I have had the benefit of four years experience in this office.

I wish to further state that my conception of a good officer is one who serves all the people regardless of their wealth, position or politics and if nominated and elected to this office, I pledge that I will honestly and efficiently serve all who may call on me.

I wish to sincerely thank the people of this county for the splendid support given me in the past, and, if I am so fortunate as to be elected to this office again, I promise that I will not give you cause to regret your actions.

So thanking you for favorable consideration, I am,
Very truly yours,

The west by the Cedar Point road. On the site will be built immediately, Governor Chandler announced, a minimum strength prison to house approximately 2,500 men and cost from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. Funds were appropriated by the 1936 legislature and Governor Chandler said that he expected them to be augmented shortly by a federal allotment.

The new prison farm, the governor declared, would be self-sustaining and would afford agricultural occupation for prisoners now idle. Several hundred selected convicts now housed in a temporary prison camp here will be sent to the new site next week to help clear it and erect temporary buildings. Contracts for actual construction of the new prison buildings will be awarded in the near future, the governor said.

Taking the place of the abandoned state reformatory here, the new prison will be used primarily for youthful prisoners and first offenders. The more hardened type of criminals, Governor Chandler said, will still be kept at the state reformatory at Eddyville, which is now being remodeled.

$942 FROM ACRE MAKES BOY STATE WIDE CHAMP

A yield of 1,823 pounds and a profit of $932 from slightly less than an acre of Burley gave the Kentucky 4-H club tobacco production championship to William L. Sears, a 16-year-old Allen county boy. It is announced from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The crop sold for $59.37 per hundred pounds, bringing a total of $1,098.30. Expenses were $155.44, which left a profit of $932.86. The land had been in alfalfa four years. To make it more productive, seven tons of manure and 500 pounds of superphosphate were applied. Needless to say, careful attention was given the stand, cultivation, control of pests and curing.

Coin machines of the pin-game type have become notably popular in South Africa during the past year, and the United States ranks as the third largest supplier of toys and indoor games to that market.

To The Editor

Editor: The Morehead Independent. I am enclosing an article written on behalf of Public Health Service, a fundamental brace in our Social Security scheme...

I often reflect with pleasure over the many delightful associations I enjoyed during my short stay in your city. Morehead is a progressive town...

Very truly yours, DR. A. M. LYONS, Lawrence Co. Health Dept.

COMMERCIALISM OF CHILDHOOD

The greatest moral treasure is a healthy, vigorous, smiling child. The greatest asset of any country or home is its childhood strength.

What a heritage yet what a responsibility. Oh, but could the fathers and mothers become profoundly conscious of their duty, much suffering, agony and death of children could be avoided...

"Little children, suffer them not to come into me for such is the Kingdom of Heaven." I wonder at the intensity, sincerity and duration of a mother's love...

Furthermore we should not be so selfish as to confine our efforts to that of our own child. Your neighbor needs your help and not criticism and condemnation.

As I pass by the graveyard, gazing the fact that each one contained the remains of one created in the image of God I wonder how many were forced pre-

Funds Being Given To Assist Students At State Colleges

High School Students Allowed Up To $100 Flood Fund Is Set Aside.

Funds for aiding high school and college students, whose ability to continue their education has been impaired as a result of flood conditions, are being allotted to Kentucky institutions by the National Youth Administration.

This announcement follows receipt of a wire from William Williams, Washington, D. C., National Youth Administration, Executive Director, stating that a flood fund of $98,729 was being set aside for the Kentucky Youth Administration.

The new appropriation is being distributed among colleges and high schools of the state on the basis of the number of students they have in attendance who have been affected directly by the flood and who could no longer remain in school without assistance.

Under the NYA program high school students receive up to an average of $6.00 monthly. College students are paid as much as $15 monthly and graduate students are allowed to earn up to $25 per month.

On February 10, 1937, 9,658 high school students and 2,957 college and graduate students were employed on a part-time basis by the National Youth Administration.

State Asks Drivers For All Cooperation

Black and White Safety Signs Installed On Highways.

Those large black and white signs bearing the legends, "Be Prepared To Stop" and "Traffic Survey," which can now be seen at various strategic points along the arterial highways in Kentucky, are requests from the Department of Highways, asking that the driving public cooperate with it in a road planning survey.

The Highway Department, now working in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Public Roads, began this week making its first gesture towards securing definite engineering data on the flow of traffic over all the main roads in the state.

The survey signs, erected on temporary standards placed at the side of the road and lighted at night, indicate the presence of a survey party at its temporary station. This party is equipped with weighing machines and forms for securing all necessary data current to the survey.

All vehicular traffic will be stopped. Trucks will be weighed, the size and kind of cargo be ascertained, the distance of the trip, the origin and destination of the truck load will be listed and for passenger cars the surveyors will ascertain the origin and destination of the car; whether it is being used for business or pleasure and its trip mileage.

These surveys are being made all hours of the day and night, all sorts of weather and during all seasons of the year.

When the survey is completed, twelve months hence, the Highway Department will be in possession of data on the flow of traffic on all state and federal roads in the state and armed with this, it will be fully prepared to build the correct type of road for the amount and kind of traffic prevalent in each section.

The Commissioner of Highways, who has urged the drivers of motor vehicles to be patient in those surveys and answer all questions correctly. He emphasized the fact that this survey was not for the purpose of seeking violations of any motor truck laws and that no arrests would be made at the scene of the survey. He also asked that the drivers of automobile know that a survey is being made on the route to their proposed destination, do not purposefully change their route to avoid the survey party. This would throw the entire plan out of balance and a correct survey could not be made.

The three mobile weight parties are expected to make 72 weigh stations each month. There will be a unit working in each section of the state during the entire year. At the completion of the survey the Department of Highways will have a fair and accurate file of data on traffic flow on each inch of main highway in the state and will be able to plan comparatively for future road building.

District Tournament Will Open Here Tomorrow

B Team Games Will Be Played Prior To Senior Hi Matches

Haldeman and Sandy Hook Are Dark Horses In 1st Sessions

DENNIE CAUDILL IS TOURNAMENT MANAGER

Breck B and Vikings Have Compiled Good Season's Record.

Morehead High School will play host to 3 other schools in Rowan and Elliott Counties here Friday and Saturday at the district tournament which will determine the two teams that will compete a week later in the Regional basketball meet at the Morehead State Teachers College.

Morehead High and Breckinridge, who fell into separate brackets are generally conceded to have almost a free ticket into the finals and thence to the Regional. The winner and runner-up of the district meet here and similar tournaments at Winchester, Olive Hill and Rainsland will compete in the Regional.

To add more games and interest to the district tournament here the "B" teams of Morehead High, Haldeman and Sandy Hook will vie with the Junior High club of Breckinridge Training School in a separate bracket.

The district tournament will be started at 2 p. m. Friday when Haldeman "B" plays Breckinridge Junior High with the Morehead outfit favored. Morehead High looks better, on season's play, than Sandy Hook in the second game of the first session at 8 p. m. Friday.

Morehead High "B" plays Sandy Hook "B" at 7 p. m. Friday followed by the main scrap between Breckinridge and Haldeman at 8 p. m.

The finals in both the Junior and senior brackets will be played Saturday evening, the preliminary equipment getting under way at 7 o'clock.

Austin Riddle and Paul Combs, both of the Hilltoppers, were the basketball players at the Morehead State Teachers College will officiate at all the games. Principal Dennis D. Caudill is tournament manager.

Hilltoppers Have Little Difficulty With Murray In Finals

Western did it again. The elongated lads from Bowling Green, almost as tall as the hill on which they live, won their sixth consecutive championship of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference by defeating the Throughbreds of Murray Teachers College at Richmond Saturday 30 to 18.

The Hilltoppers breezed through the finals of the 12th annual K. I. A. C. meet, with which Eastern Teachers College was host. After the second half began, there was never any doubt as to the outcome and what occurred had been forecast by the activities during the last five minutes of the first period.

Western overcame a 9 to 4 lead which Murray enjoyed after 15 minutes of play in the first and forged ahead as the half waned, lead by 13 to 10 at the intermission.

It was during the early part of the second half that the battle was won. The Toppers, showing their superior defensive as well as offensive strength, held the Purchase prancers scoreless for 11 minutes while accounting for 14 points on five field goals and four free throws.

With a 27 to 13 lead to work on the charges of the veteran Ed Diddle retained full control. While Coach Carlisle Crutchins champion S. I. A. A. quieted battles desperately, there was little they could do about it.

Superior play for Western's two tall boys, McCrooklin and Reed, over Murray's timber-topping pair of McKee and Burdette, was the difference in tonight's final contest. Ably aided by Saddler and Dudgeon in taking half from the back boards, Western's big boys put the game on ice.

Following the final blast from the time's siren, trophies were awarded the winners and runners up and the all-tournament team was announced.

T. E. McDonough, tournament manager, presided at the ceremonies, introducing Dr. H. L. Donnan, president of the host institution, who in turn presented Lieutenant Gordon Keen Johnson, who awarded the trophies.

SPORT SPOTS

What happened to the Morehead Eagles in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament at Richmond on last Thursday? That is a question that is on the lips of many a Morehead fan.

Union's team that the Eagles had defeated without a great amount of exertion during the season, pulled the major upset of the tournament by outplaying and outscoring the Teachers 29-26, to the humiliation of Morehead fans, many of whom had made hotel reservations through Saturday, believing that the Eagles would go as far, at least, as the semifinals.

That Morehead loss made the tournament that much easier for Western's Hilltoppers winning their sixth consecutive championship. The Eagles were picked as the team that might halt Western's long tournament streak, and it was no grief when the men of Ellis Johnson fell before a team believed to be several points below Morehead's calibre.

The principal cause of Morehead's defeat, as seen in the eyes of practically every Eagle fan, was the Blue and Gold's inability to take the ball from the bankboards, coupled with an all-around mediocre performance. At least every 2 out of 3 times that the ball came from the bankboards, the Teachers' favored shooters, playing their poorest game of the year succumbed before Union 29-26 in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference tournament at Richmond.

Offensively Union did not play good basketball but deserved to win by a larger score. The Barbourville team out-jumped, out-played and out-smarted the favored Morehead team. Fully two-thirds of the game the Bulldogs had possession of the ball.

What kept Morehead in the game was the inability of the Union club to connect, especially during the first half.

The longest lead either team enjoyed was 4 points, which the Eagles accumulated in the first minute of play. Arznen took the opening tip and dropped it through for a goal and Carter followed with a "crip. During the balance of the game Arznen took numerous shots but could not connect. It was the worst performance that the Newport athlete has given since he started his brilliant basketball career here.

Union rapidly overcame Morehead's 4 point lead. Arznen sent the Teachers ahead again with a free throw and for 13 minutes neither team scored a point. Union missing 5 free throws. During the last 6 minutes Union made 3 field goals and Morehead 2 to give the underdogs a 10-9 advantage.

The second half was almost over the South represented. It is to that tournament that Morehead now looks. They will have the advantage of playing as the underdogs, the fact that won't be conceded much chance. Ellis Johnson likes it that way.

That Breckinridge and Morehead High School will be the finalists in the district tournament to be played Friday and Saturday at the Morehead High gymnasium is a foregone conclusion. However Haldeman and Sandy Hook are not conceding defeat yet, and it is by no means impossible, although improbable, that one of them might beat the two favorites.

Anyhow the tournament is well worth watching, even to see the B teams play, for they put all their hearts into the game, and their matches often develop into more fascinating tilts for the fans than the main go's.

What makes the Vikings seem a more potent district and Regional threat than the record would indicate is the fact that they won their last five games and 7 of the 8 games played. The addition of Milton Davis, without question the best jumper in the Ekay conference, the second semester, helped the Vikings continue considerably and was a major factor.
