Mr. and Mrs. James Cox

B Y DEAN J. DAVENPORT

Fleming County once had a radio station. It is James Cox's.

Mr. Cox was born to Benjamin and Elizabeth Cox in 1895 in a small room in the old Cox homestead. His father and uncle were there when he was born.

He attended grade school in Flatsville, Ohio and graduated from high school in 1912.

Mr. Cox's radio was not in use, but in the attic of the house. He and his family listened to the radio in the 1920s. It was the first radio in Fleming County. He was a pioneer in the beginning of Mr. Cox's career in broadcasting.

In those days there weren't many radios and there were no newspapers. Mr. Cox attended a radio program which he listened to for the first time. It was the first day of the month. The radio was in a family in a nearby town which still exists today.

In the early 1920's, Mr. Cox began work at the Fleming County Drug Company where he worked faithfully for forty-four years. In this same time he also started a radio business and ran a general store in the town.

These men, Henry and James Cox began to collect radios and antennas. He and his brother, Homer Cox, were very interested in the new technology and wanted to share it with others.

They began buying radios and antennas and started a business selling them. They also provided repair services for the radios. They were very successful and soon became known as the leaders in radio technology.

Mr. Cox's antenna business was a success and he continued to grow it. He also started to work on antennas and made them himself. He had a large collection of antennas which he proudly displayed in his shop.

Mr. Cox's radio business was very successful and he continued to expand it. He had many customers who came to him for repairs and new antennas. He also provided repair services for the radios.

Mrs. Halley Jordan

A happy day for the women of Fleming county came in 1931 when Mrs. Floyd (Halley) Jordan gave her first permanent beauty salon to the people of Flemingsburg, Ky. Mrs. Jordan was a dedicated volunteer and a leader in the community. She was the founder of the historic Jordan's Group, named for her father.

Mrs. Jordan’s beauty salon was located on the J. F. Jordan building which is now closed.

Mrs. Jordan has many fond memories of her association with her numerous patrons and is equally appreciated by the customers. It is满意度 excellence of her effort.

Some of her former operators are Mrs. Paul Shulze, Ada Williams, John Jordan, and Miss Betty Williams and Mrs. Jordan's greatest personal pride was having her daughter, Cathy Jolly and Velma Stephens.

There were many beautiful hair styles in those days such as the French twist and the victory roll. Mrs. Jordan has been a pillar in the community and a mentor to many women.

In 1931, the town of Flemingsburg was a bustling community with a population of about two years old. The town was located on the banks of the Ohio River, making it a hub for trade and commerce.

Homer Castle's Motto: "Quality Workmanship"

EXPERT CARPENTER AND CLOCKMAKER

BY DAVID FRIED

Quality performance is in Homer Castle's blood. "This is the third generation," he says. When the writer first met him, he was working on a project he had taken in the summer, and also the one he had taken in the winter. That's why, he said, he was never in need of work. Homer Castle is known for his craftsmanship and his ability to build anything. He has a reputation for being the best in his field, and is often called upon to build custom homes and structures. His work has been featured in several publications, including the Kentucky Patriot and the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Born in 1913, Homer Castle learned the trade from his father, who was also a carpenter. He started his own business in 1937, and has been building ever since. His work has included everything from simple sheds to elaborate custom homes. He is also well-known for his ability to build custom clocks.

Homer Castle's motto is "Quality Workmanship." He believes that quality work is the key to success in any business. He takes pride in his work, and is always looking for ways to improve his skills.

Dr. Robert W. Fidler Helps Found New Hospital

BY RAY JONES

Dr. Robert W. Fidler, beloved friend of the community for over 40 years, has passed away. He was a true gentleman and a respected member of our community. He leaves behind a legacy of service to those in need.

Dr. Fidler was born in 1920 and grew up in Flemingsburg. He received his medical degree from the University of Cincinnati in 1942 and served in the United States Army during World War II. After his service, he returned to his hometown to practice medicine.

Over the years, Dr. Fidler was involved in many community projects. He was a founding member of the Flemingsburg Area Hospital, which opened in 1955. He was also involved in the establishment of the Flemingsburg-Fairview Junior High School, which opened in 1958.

Dr. Fidler was a dedicated family man and a devoted husband. He is survived by his wife, Helen, and their three children. He will be missed by all who knew him.

FOR PAST 40 YEARS . . .

This story would not be complete without mention of the many members of the community that have contributed in various ways over the years. Charles and Juanita Thompson, owners of Thompson Hardware in Flemingsburg, have been members of the community for many years and have made significant contributions to the growth and development of the town.

Charles and Juanita Thompson have been married for many years and have raised their family in Flemingsburg. They have always been active in the community and have worked to ensure that it continues to thrive.

In conclusion, the story of Charles and Juanita Thompson is one of dedication andhard work. Their contributions to the community have been significant and have helped to shape the town into what it is today. We wish them many more years of happiness and continued success.
Dr. John Cummings is Son Of Harness Maker

Dr. John R. Cummings, Phantom owner who is a Cleveland supervisor was the son of and Andrew Cummings, who were in Flushing since 1933 and until his death in 1971.

Dr. Cummings is shown in the yard of the Flushing home with one of the treasures a mem-recollection of a harness.

Calder, who is grown now by Dr. Cummings, got it as an integral part of the inventory of the old harness shop, and the young doctor was an Irish supervisor and the one of the harness makers. He was employed by the same harness maker in the harness shop.

By the time he was 12, he began to learn the trade, and by the time he was 16, he was working full time in the shop.

His first job was to clean the harness, and then he learned to make harnesses. He worked in the shop for 20 years before he became a harness maker.

In 1913, the Ford Model T was introduced, and this marked the beginning of the automoobile industry. Dr. Cummings worked in the harness shop for many years, and then he became a supervisor.

He was married in 1913, and he and his wife had one child, their daughter, Alice. She became a nurse and worked in the hospital for many years.

Dr. Cummings was a member of the Flushing Historical Society, and he was active in many community affairs.

He was a member of the Flushing Fire Department and the Flushing Police Department. He was also a member of the Flushing County Board of Education.

Dr. Cummings passed away in 1971, but his memory lives on in Flushing. He was a great man, and his contributions to the community will not be forgotten.

Alice Litton Kin
Of Col. John Fleming

BY RUTH RANIER

Mrs. Ray Litton, the great cousin of John Fleming, was born in Fleming County before 1800.

Col. Fleming, a native of Virginia, moved west to Kentucky in 1782.

He was a prominent citizen and businessman in the Town of Fleming in Clark County. Flem-ing’s name is still associated with the town and county. Fleming was elected the first county commissioner.

He was a man of many talents and was a knowledgeable farmer and hunter.

His house, the present-day
home of the Litton family, was built in 1810.

Mr. and Mrs. Litton have descended from the Fleming

Mrs. Mary Hall in Business Over 40 Years

One of Flemingsburg's best known and most respected citizens, who has served the community in many capacities, is Mrs. Mary Hall.

Mrs. Hall's husband, Tom Hall, died in Flemingsburg around 1972. Their two children, Tom Jr. and Bette, are married to Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Fant and are the parents of three children, E. V. "Chuck" Hall and three grandchildren. The house on Oak Street, once the home of the former Select Bank in Flemingsburg, is now owned by Dr. F. R. Hall, retired.

Mrs. Hall's two brothers are now deceased: Mr. J. P. Hall lives near Flemingsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hall live in New York and were the parents of their only son, Tom Jr.

Mrs. Hall's brother, Mr. J. P. Hall, left New York in 1972 to open a furniture store in Flemingsburg. The store, located on the corner of Clark Street and Mt. Sterling Avenue, was named in honor of Mrs. Hall. The store carries a complete line of furniture and appliances.

The store was opened in 1972, and is located on the corner of Clark Street and Mt. Sterling Avenue. The store is situated in the oldest building in the community, and has been in the family for several years. The building was once owned by Dr. J. P. Hall, who purchased it in 1972 for $25,000. The building was then renovated and opened as a furniture store.

The store was named in honor of Mrs. Hall, who was a pioneer in the community. She was a member of the American Legion and was active in many community organizations. She was also a member of the Kiwanis Club and was a leader in the community's efforts to improve the quality of life for its citizens.

COUNTRY DOCTORS TRAVEL BY BUGGY

In the days before cars, doctors in Mason County often traveled by horse-drawn buggy and almost every doctor had a horse that could pull a buggy. However, during World War II, the horse was drafted and new transportation was needed. Mrs. Hinton was one of the few doctors who continued to use a horse and buggy. During this period, she traveled from farm to farm, often through impassable roads, delivering babies and treating sick patients.

The story continues with the help of her grandson, Louis Hinton, who remembered the days when doctors like his grandmother rode by horse and buggy. Mrs. Hinton's dedication to her patients and community was never forgotten, and her legacy lives on in the stories and memories of those she treated.

1907 Train Wreck Great Historic Event

BY RUTH HANSON

The tragic wreck of 1907 Fleming County is of prime historical importance to Fleming County. It is the event that forever changed the course of the town of Flemingsburg.

In the year 1907, the train was carrying a passenger to Louisville. Unfortunately, the passenger, a young boy, was killed in the accident. The news spread quickly, and the town was in mourning for weeks.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The 11 a.m. view of the renovated Goldfinch, it is now very much like the true and daily home of the Pennsylvania County Hospital. It has been transformed and put in a new location near the Fox Valley School and Maxon Park.

Theresa Wagner was born in 1913, on the farm in the Fleming Township, now known as the Fruitville Farm.

When Fleming County first became aware of the near location of the Pennsylvania County Hospital, the people of the county were very pleased with the new location. It is now the Pennsylvania County Hospital, and it is located near the Fruitville Farm.

This is a front view of the Pennsylvania County Hospital, 1913. It is not the same location as the Pennsylvania County Hospital, but it is the same location as the Fruitville Farm.

Flemingsburg High School erected 1890

Fleming County High School completed in 1941 Various degrees of beard and hair can be seen this week at Little Ford. Above are Randall Harper, Bill Helphine, and Russell McTyer.

Resplendent in matchless dresses or antique vintage are Bernice Archuleta, Golda Miller and Frankie Vice in the New Home Store.

Earl Hens, vice president and secretary of Genoa's Construction Company, and James Browning, office manager, discuss details of the business, which involves the operation of stone quarries in Fleming County and Indiana.

Dentist Dr. C. B. Blair and secretary Mrs. James Jones stand in the doorway to their offices, located in the McDonald building on West Water Street. The building formed in 1903, is said to be the oldest in town. The unique doorway is one of only two in the United States. The other is in a shrine at Portsmouth, New Hampshire according to Mrs. J. K. Grannis.

Mrs. Ella Mattox McKee models a gay nineties dress at her home near the courthouse.

Happy Birthday Flemingsburg - 175 Years Young
A Message From Governor Ford

Dear Friends:

Let me extend to you my sincere best wishes for your celebration July 9-16, I join other Kentuckians in congratulating you on this historic occasion.

The residents of Flemingsburg should take great pride in the 175th anniversary of their community, one which today is marked by heritage, beauty and friendliness. You have much to be proud of, and you deserve the accolades of others.

I am certain that all of your activities will be both enjoyable and successful.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Charles Rhodes had many friends.

By E. A. Berry

Charles Rhodes had many friends. The kindhearted, first-generation Kentucky farmer was a kind soul who always had a smile on his face and a kind word for everyone he met.

His friends included family members, business associates, and community leaders. His circle of friends was broad and diverse, and he was known for his generosity and Hospitality.

The list of Charles Rhodes' friends included his wife, Elizabeth, his children, and grandchildren, as well as his neighbors and community members.

The residents of Flemingburg, Kentucky, were privileged to have such a kind and generous person as Charles Rhodes as a friend and neighbor.

H. S. Dunbar Expands Pharmacy Business

Dr. H. S. Dunbar has expanded his pharmacy business, Dunbar Pharmacy, to include a new store at the corner of Main and Market Streets.

Dr. Dunbar has been a long-time resident of Flemingburg and has been a valued member of the community for many years.

The new store will offer a wide range of services, including prescription drugs, over-the-counter medications, and health and beauty products.

Dr. Dunbar is a dedicated and experienced pharmacist, and he is committed to providing high-quality service to his customers.

The expansion of Dunbar Pharmacy is a testament to the success of Dr. Dunbar's business and his dedication to serving the community.

E. A. Berry Recalls Mules and Tankers

By E. A. Berry

E. A. Berry was a farmer in the early 1900s and remembers the days when mules and tankers were common transportation methods.

In those days, farmers used mules to pull wagons and tankers to transport goods.

E. A. Berry also mentions that he recalls the days when the only way to communicate was by horse and buggy.

The mules and tankers were an important part of life for farmers and were a necessity for transportation.

The use of mules and tankers has changed over time, but they remain an important part of the history of the area.

W. A. Hinton Founder Of New Home Store

By E. A. Berry

W. A. Hinton was a pioneer in the business world and founded the new store, Hinton's Department Store, in 1901.

Hinton's Department Store was one of the first department stores in the area and was a hub of commerce.

W. A. Hinton was a hard worker and a dedicated businessman, and he is remembered as a community leader.

W. A. Hinton's Department Store is still in operation today and remains a beloved institution in the area.

Flemingburg Post Office

By E. A. Berry

The Flemingburg Post Office has been in operation since 1847 and has been a vital part of the community for many years.

The Post Office serves as a hub of communication and is a place where people can pick up their mail, send packages, and access other services.

The Post Office has been located in various locations throughout the years, but it has always remained a vital part of the community.

The Flemingburg Post Office is a testament to the resilience and adaptability of the community.

Flemingburg Decorations

By E. A. Berry

Flemingburg Decorations is a company that designs and creates beautiful decorations for homes and businesses.

The company is run by a family that has been in the decoration business for many years.

The family is committed to creating high-quality, custom designs that are tailored to the needs and preferences of each client.

The company's decorations have been featured in many homes and businesses throughout the area.

The company is known for its attention to detail and its commitment to customer satisfaction.
Mr. CARR \lovelhu\ tile. Good \toof", \nember since 1890, and helped to form the Jones Green American Legion Post #279 in 1947. He recalls some of the earlier members:

H. P. and M. Mullin, Graham, Doug Taylor, Byram Prather, and others.

Mr. Carr is active in the Masonic Lodge, but his greatest effort was made with the Flemingsburg Volunteer Fire Department. Over the past 52 years, all without pay. He likes to recall the changes that have come about in firefighting. He started out with the bucket brigade, moved to the famous landpump (shoo-fly) and then to today's most complex fire lines.

When the Davis family moved from the area in 1893, Mr. Carr joined the family of Minnie Doak. In 1961, he married Minnie Doak, established a small woodcutting operation, and trained new members in the modern trade: conditioned paper for the paper industry, thanks to lr our 175th birthday. Mr. CARR feels that he has had a great chance to help shape this community. He has been active in the church and has attended many different events, always helping out and being a good member of the community. Mr. CARR has been active in the church, at church events, and has been a part of many different church organizations, always helping out and being a good member of the community.

Bill Riddle Fleming County's Paul Bunyon

Andrew Allen Bank Director Over 60 Years

Andrew Allen, President of the Farmers' Bank, is a member of one of Fleming County's oldest and most prominent families. Mr. Allen's father was also a director of the bank, having served from 1917 until 1937.

Mr. Allen is a native of this community, having attended the High School and Military Institute, and also the University of Kentucky. He married Annie Crain, a native of Fleming County, and returned to Fleming County after the death of his father.

Bill Riddle

One of the most honored guests at the 175th Anniversary was Bill Riddle, a native of Fleming County. He is the president of the Farmers' Bank of Fleming County and has been active in community affairs for many years.

By his own admission, Mr. Riddle is a descendant of one of the early settlers of Fleming County, who arrived in the area in 1790. The family has been active in the community ever since, and Mr. Riddle has followed in the footsteps of his ancestors by serving his community with dedication and pride.

Mr. Riddle's family has been involved in agriculture for generations, and he is proud to continue that tradition in his own farm. He has also been active in the community, serving on various boards and committees, and has been a strong advocate for the development of the county.

Mr. Riddle's grandfather, who was also named Bill Riddle, was one of the first settlers in the area. He arrived in the 1890s and started a farm, which is still owned and operated by the family today.

Mr. Riddle's father, who was also named Bill Riddle, was a farmer and a furniture maker. He passed away in 1957, but his memory lives on in the family's tradition of hard work and dedication.

Mr. Riddle's daughter, who is also named Bill Riddle, is carrying on the family's legacy by continuing to farm and to be active in the community.

Mr. Riddle's wife, who is also named Bill Riddle, is a strong supporter of her husband's work and is also involved in various community activities.

Mr. Riddle's son, who is also named Bill Riddle, is following in his father's footsteps and is also involved in the family's farm and the community.

Mr. Riddle's grandchildren, who are also named Bill Riddle, are the fourth generation of the family to be involved in the community and in the farm.
We Came...We Saw...We Stayed!

WE CAME to Flemingsburg not knowing what the future held for us, but...
WE SAW a people who welcomed us as a part of a growing and healthy economy, and...
WE STAYED to become one of the most respected businesses in the community, offering a complete line of clothing and merchandise for the home. We like Flemingsburg, and take pride in having played a part in its continuous growth through all these years, and... WE ARE PROUD to take part in this Special 175th ANNIVERSARY Observance.

Mrs. J. K. Graniss is respected nationally.

When she died in 1877, her son-in-law, Judge E. M. Graniss, sold the house she lived in to the state of Kentucky for use as the state capitol. Mrs. Graniss lived in the house for many years until her death. The house was later moved to its present location on the grounds of the old county courthouse, where it now serves as a museum and historic site.

Mrs. Graniss was a respected member of the community and is remembered for her contributions to the community and her leadership in various charitable organizations. She was a champion of education and worked tirelessly to improve the quality of life in her community.

Food Recipes Change With County's Progress

BY MARJORIE HAMON

I have an old recipe which belongs to Mrs. Nola Caster, the owner of the Old Town Café in Fleming County.

The recipe is for a traditional baking powder cake. It has been passed down through generations and is still a favorite among many people in Fleming County.

The cake is made with 2 cups of flour, 1 cup of sugar, and 1/2 cup of butter. The mixture is baked in a 9x13 inch pan for 30 minutes.

The cake is a perfect dessert for any occasion and is a favorite among many people in Fleming County.

The Lemons from the original home were burned right in the yard. In fact, one mirror has been found to be covered with ash, and the walls are stained with soot. The original residents also kept their belongings in the house, and some of them have been found around the house.

2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
1 cup butter
1 egg
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
2 cups milk

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Cream butter and sugar with an electric mixer. Add flour, baking powder, salt, and soda. Beat well. Add milk and mix until smooth. Pour into a greased 9x13 inch baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

The cake is then served with whipped cream for a delicious dessert.

On January 4, 1946 Bob reopened his store after a seven-month absence due to his service in World War II. He remained in the grocery business until 1966, when he opened a business with his son. In 1972, Bob Klee merged his business with another, becoming the Kerns & Williams Insurance Agency.

During his time in the grocery business, Bob Klee was active in the community, serving on various boards and equities. He also held several positions in the American Le-ternal Association.

Bob Klee was born in Franklin County, Kentucky, in 1910. He was an affable-dable, kind person with a large family and a love for his community. He left an unforgettable legacy in the Franklin County community.

Some facts about Bob Klee:

- Bob Klee was the owner of the oldest grocery store in Franklin County.
- He was active in the American Legion and other community organizations.
- Bob Klee died in 1972.
- Despite his passing, his
