BOARD OF REGENTS GETS LOAN $255,000 FROM P. W. A. TO BUILD NEW POWER AND HEAT PLANT

Expect Work To Be Ready To Start Within Sixty Days Time

With the acceptance of the proposed loan of $255,000 from the P. W. A. at a board of Regents meeting held here Monday night, the first step toward the erection of a new, modern, complete and adequate light, heat and water plant was taken. The loan, arrangements for which were made last winter, has been hanging fire for several months awaiting acceptance by the board. Some board members were reported as being unfavorable to the acceptance of the loan, feeling that it might interfere with private business.

However, at the meeting Monday night definite action was taken and the loan was accepted.

The loan is partly in the nature of a grant from the federal government, as 30 per cent is given to the college outright, while the remaining seventy per cent is financed over a long period of years.

It is expected that arrangements will be completed and plans drawn within the next thirty days, and that it will be possible for actual work to begin within sixty days from this time.

WORK TO BE PLENTIFUL HERE WHEN ALL PROJECTS START

Work will be looking up in this county before long, according to indications. With the various work projects being approved by the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration, with the street widening job again under way, and with the prospect that within two months the construction of the new power-heat-light plant for the college will be started, there should be no shortage of labor in this community for several months at least.

Of course everyone in the community is delighted to see the need for work for those that need it. That, however, does not change our minds from the thought that, if the majority were so minded they could make a living without depending on the federal government to donate to them. It is our contention that any man who has an ounce of "gumption" can scratch a living out of the soil of this country. If a patch of five or ten acres or less. Their fathers did it. Their

S. K. L. Meets In Flemingsburg

Elect Officers For Coming Year; Old Clubs Decide To Keep Franchises

The first annual meeting of the Kentucky State Baseball League was held at Flemingsburg on Tuesday night of the week, with the meeting in charge of Lonnie Barnard, president. The following officers were elected to take charge of the affairs of the league for the coming year:

Lonnie Barnard, Mt. Sterling, president; Dr. J. F. Hall, Flemingsburg, vice president; Spooks Crutcher, Morehead, secretary; and Shankland Piper, Owsingville, treasurer. The clubs with a representative of each presented decided to retain their franchise for the coming season. Morehead whose franchise is regarded as one of the best in the league, will retain their franchise and expects to have one of the best teams in the league again this season.

WORK IS AGAIN STARTED ON MAIN

Once more the Main street of Morehead is in process of reconstruction, as the work of widening the main thoroughfare, which was discontinued in December, has started again. The contractors started work Tuesday morning, by tearing up the curbing in the block from the Midland Trail Hotel to the west. This block is slated to be the next one to receive the concrete.

grandfathers did it. They can do it. It appears to us that there are entirely too many able bodied men who are too willing to sit down and let their neighbors feed them. We are not particularly uncharitable, but we see no real reason why you should foot the bills for some lay hulk who has the idea that the world owes him a living. For that reason we are glad to see that the government is making an effort to direct relief into work channels. However we fear that they are going to run up against the usual snag of getting foremen who will get a dollar's worth of work for each dollar expended. If they do get the work out of the men, well and good. If they don't then it's just more good dollars sent after bad ones.

PLANS FOR WINTER CARNIVAL AT COLLEGE ARE COMPLETE

Candidates for king and queen were announced at convocations yesterday: they were Tempe Kees, Avenia Crosthwaite, Myrtle Davidson, Leola Caudill, Nell Cassidy, Marie McKnight, Roy Adams, Roy Caudill, Jarrell Vinson, Irvin Tripst and Frank Webb.

Arrangements for the Annual Rebauster Winter Carnival are rapidly assuming gigantic proportions as representative candidates from every class has announced their intention of seeking election next week to the high positions of king and queen of the biggest fête ever promoted in Morehead. The carnival according to Exer Robinson, co-ops or with Neville Finck, is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 Saturday evening, March 23. Coronation ceremonies will begin at about 8:30, after which a dance will be held. The King's Jesters orchestra directed by Earl King Sniff, history instructor, has been engaged to play for the dance. With the band will be "blues" and "torch" singers. Proceeds from the election, which will be conducted on a "vote-buying" basis, go to the Rebauster fund. Students are permitted to purchase as many votes as they may desire for their favorite at the price of a penny each. Last year approximately $150 were realized from the election. In which Marianna Thomas and Claude Clayton carried off first honors.

The Rebauster photographer will be on hand Saturday night to take pictures of the coronation ceremonies, and a reproduction will appear in the year book.

Booths housing magicians, fat men and women, gaming devices and everything to be seen at a rural carnival will be erected in the gymnasium.

A picture has been received from A. E. Cross and Company of Cincinnati and will be given away during the evening.

So the woman was at a bridge party one afternoon, and all the others was telling the sights they seen. She didn't say anything, but listened. One of the woman says to her, "Why, you was in Europe last summer, wasn't you, Mrs. Gay?" And we ain't heard word out of you about Rome or Paris or Naples or Moscow. Were you in those cities?" "I don't know," she says. "Dare you say we ain't heard word out of you about Rome or Paris or Naples or Moscow. Were you in those cities?" "Well, my husband bought all the railroad tickets and all the liquor."

CITY COUNCIL IN MON. NIGHT MEET ADOPTS ORGANIZATION PLAN FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT

MAYOR BLAIR CALLS MUSICAL MEET

This year Morehead will observe National Music Week in a big way, it is anticipated. Mayor Blair is calling a meeting of Music representatives of all organizations and institutions in the town to make plans for the activities of this annual observance, which this year occurs during the week of May 5. Appoint Ed Hall To Take Over Position Of Fire Chief Here

The adjourned meeting of the City Council held Monday night at the city hall, resulted in a complete reorganization of the fire department, when the city council accepted the resignation of Melvin Hamm as chief of the fire department and appointed Ed Hall to that position, in addition to his duties as assistant policeman.

Mr. Hall has had considerable experience in the capacity of fire chief, having belonged to the fire department for a number of years and having served for chief for several months at an earlier date. He is planning in cooperation with the council, on giving the present equipment a complete overhauling with a view to getting in first class condition for service, as well as siding in determining what new equipment it is entitled to, and which it has been needing for some time.

The city will hold an adjourned meeting on Monday night of next week, at which a member of the actual bureau has been invited to attend. At that time the council proposes to go into detail with him with regard to the equipment needed to give Morehead a first class fire department, such as will be capable of taking care of all the fires that are likely to happen. They are determined to give the city what they have been demanding, feeling that the citizens are the ones who pay the tax burdens and are therefore the ones who should and must receive the protection.

Letter on the department developed Mr. Hall plans on having one man stay at the fire station nights, to insure one being on the job when an alarm may sound.

The News has been discussing the needs of adequate fire fighting equipment for several months, realizing

AND ONCE AGAIN!

Just as regularly as the spring rolls around, the Rowan County News reverts to a time worn topic, that of Forest Fires. And just as regularly as the News writes editorially on the subject of Forest Fires, just so regularly the farmers, and landowners, start their fires and let them get from under control, burning thousands of acres of valuable timber and ruining thousands of dollars in future wealth for your children and your children's children, in this section.

The question arises as to just how much experience and how much loss the land owners of this section will have to sustain before they get the idea that they are costing themselves thousands of dollars. They have been doing it for years, their only excuse being that they must burn the brush in order to let the grass grow and make feed for their cow. If that isn't being penny wise and pound foolish, we have never heard of anything that is. They may get an extra cent's worth of grass by burning the brush, but we doubt it. But, granting that they do, what is that compared with the loss of thousands of dollars in valuable timber that is just about ready for cutting?

It is an eye-opener to walk through the forests surrounding Morehead. Practically every tree bears the mark of fire. Practically every tree is ruined so far as lumber is concerned, largely because some short-sighted individual decided that his COW needed a little more feed. The fire season has started. The spring fever is in the air, and the CCC boys are on line of duty. It is well to suggest that all land-owners in this area read the article relative to forest fires in this issue of the News. The article submitted by the authorities of the Camp, carries some information of interest to all land owners.

Incidentally, the News suggests that land owners make a special effort this year to check forest fires and save the wooded area. The CCC boys do all in their power to care for the area under option to the government, but they are unable to aid the private land owner in protecting his interests. The best way to prevent fires on your land is not to start them, or if someone else starts one, to report it at once. A few convictions for starting these fires would go a long way toward curbing the activities of those who start fires just to see the CCC boys make a run and earn their money. For it should be remembered that the money they earn is money you help pay.

A good slogan for this spring would be: "Cut the forest fires to NOTHING, and save Kentucky for the future."

RAIN DROP FILL BARREL

The rain water that collects in an abandoned barrel will eventually fill the barrel unless somebody comes along and turns it upside down. While the drops are small as they descend they are numerous, and at length, there is plenty of water, up to the capacity of the barrel.

The above paragraph is plain and no one would dispute the facts. Morehead is a barrel, upturned to the economic sky, where current coin is like rain, falling to the ground of commerce in little drops of trade.

The money that falls into this last barrel is captured for the benefit of the citizens of Morehead because in the course of business the contents of the barrel are distributed among us, and is used again.

A barrel of rainwater comes in handy sometimes in case of fire. No one would credit a man with wisdom if, while his barn was burning instead of running to the reservoir, filling his bucket and running to throw it on the fire, he ran into the woods and threw the water in the creek that flows away from his home.

Morehead is not exactly on fire but its very economic life depends upon the money that is stored within it. Wise citizens see that their coin stays home. Foolish citizens, very often without thinking, send their money into surrounding woods, where big city timber men use it to build up their city.

Moral: "Buy in Morehead when possible; build up your own town."

few, if any shared with him the wisdom of his course. Yet through threats of obstruction and approaching storms with undaunted courage he continued his course. Devoted to his people, no fight was fierce enough; no temptation great enough; no obstruction large enough to obscure his vision or cause him to change his course. With unflinching determination, unswerving purpose he delivered his people from isolation into midstream of opportunity and privilege, and in death is their symbol of accomplishment.

How's Business We were talking to a progressive man in Morehead the other day, W. C. Swift, Manager of the Morehead Lumber Company. In his line of business, Mr. Swift has naturally come in contact with the prospective builders in this city and has come through those contracts, to be unusually conversant with the needs of this community. It is his belief that what Morehead needs now more than anything else is a Building and Loan Association. He is not concerned as to whether or not it is a local institution, but rather that some institution, of some sort, local or otherwise take over the problem of financing new homes. Mr. Swift has, to the extent of his ability fulfilled the offices of a Building and Loan Association for a number of citizens of Morehead. He has financed a number of homes in the past six years and has been unusually successful in doing so. His point in working for the organization of a regular association which could take care of the needs of the community, is that with a regularly organized association, a great deal more work could be done and a great many more individual homes could be taken care of. This can be done by one man, whose funds are necessarily limited. "Where I can take care of one or two," said Mr. Swift, "a Building and Loan Association could take care of twenty or thirty. This would mean that many new homes could be built in Morehead within a year's time. "I don't know of any town that needs more homes any more than this town does, with rents as high as they are and with rooms as scarce," he added.

BUSINESS IS BETTER Business in general in Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia is improving at a rate considerably greater than throughout the nation as a whole, in the opinion of B. W. Burroughs, manager of the Cincinnati branch of the Ford Motor Company which includes parts of those three states. "I base my opinion not on steel, which is widely regarded as a good barometer of business, and not upon the automotive industry, one of the largest users of steel, but upon one part of that industry—truck and commercial car sales," said Mr. Burroughs. "When there is an increase in demand for equipment for the handling of raw and finished products, and for the delivering of commodities to consumers, we have a reliable index of increased activity in business in general. One of the best "barometers of business" as Mr. Burroughs calls them, is the advertising of the much greater than last year or any previous year.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kasez, Pastor of the Baptist Church.

subject: Peter Describes The Christ—ian Life. I Peter 3:18.
Golden Text: "Sanctify the Lord
God in your hearts." I Peter 3:15.
(Study these notes with your Bible text.)

Peter was writing here to the churches of Asia Minor who were suffering on account of their faith. If the privileges of Christians were not greater than their trials, we might falter in our spiritual living. We may be encouraged by these words from Peter. The lesson divides itself into four divisions.

1. The Christian life with respect to Christians. (vs. 8, 9). Brotherhood in the basis of all Christian relationship. The practice of this brings good to all the world. God does not expect us to recognize an intimate brotherhood with the entire world, but He does expect it between Christians. The natural result will be a blessing for the world. Note the phrases: Be ye all of one mind, harmony. Having compassion one of another; love love as brethren, a peculiar love, mutual sympathy, courteous, kindness and consideration. Giving blessing instead of evil for evil. For the calling into this intimate and divine brotherhood is to receive peculiar blessings. Therefore be careful to give in this way to the brethren.

to do right according to the Word of God, but His face is against them that do evil.

2. The Christian life and the word of God. Obeyance to the Word is the mark of a Christian. (vs. 10-12). The Word tells us what is right, namely, keeping his tongue from evil his lips from guile, forsake evil and do good, seek peace and follow it. For the Lord is ready to listen to the prayers of a man who is willing

RELIEF

More power to those in charge of the work if they can force these men into working and regaining their self-respect, which so many patch of ground of five or ten acres of them appear to have lost.

CITY COUNCIL

that any delay by the council was not through a feeling of neglect or carelessness, but chiefly through a lack of sentiment of the part of the citizens.

It is not of course to be expected according to the members of the council, that every fire from now on will be put out before it is started, or that Morehead will have no more disastrous fires. It is their hope that new organization and new equipment together will aid in keeping the losses to a minimum, thereby saving the citizens and taxpayers much more than the cost.

ABOUT TOWN

when she had a team, that was a credit to the city.

This year as usual the died-in-the-wool fans are talking baseball language. Even though the stove league failed to hold any meetings throughout the winter, the "bug" is still alive and wiggling.

As usual Dan Parker is taking a decidedly active interest in promoting the game by his constantizing the feeble stirrings of the bug. Dan is a great promoter of baseball. He was manager of the team through the greater part of last season and no game was complete without his presence in uniform. Dan used to play the game and play it well, but old age has crept up on him as it has on others and as it will on others, and now Dan is content to sit, on the bench and direct.

A $1.50 Dinner for 6

LESSINGS on the person who reminds us of a succulent dish which we can serve as the piece de resistance of a dinner. You thought recently of having scalloped oysters play that part. They are not only very good, but very good for you. And so as not to make this suggestion a half way measure, here is one for the rest of the dinner to serve with that popular dish.

*Scalloped Oysters 4lb
Bread and Butter 12c
Cabbage, Celery and Apple Salad 15c
Shredded Wheat Fruit Pudding 15c
Demi-Tasse 5c*

This dinner will cost you approximately a dollar and a half—twenty-five cents per person—and here are the recipes for the beans and pudding:

Baked Lima Beans: Dice two slices bacon, fry till crisp, add two tablespoons dried canned pimiento and the contents of a No. 2 can lima beans. Season with salt and pepper, and turn in a baking dish. Bake about thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

Shredded Wheat Fruit Pudding: Melt three tablespoons butter in skillet, add three crumbed shredded wheat biscuits and stir until evenly mixed with the butter. Mix two-thirds cup sugar, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and a few grains salt, and add. Have the drained fruit from a No. 2 can apricots cut in quarters and two bananas sliced. Put a layer of crumbs in a buttered baking dish, and cover with half the apricots and bananas. Add another layer of crumbs and then the rest of the fruit. Top with the rest of the crumbs, combine one-third cup of the apricot syrup with one tablespoon lemon juice, and pour over. Bake for about forty minutes in a moderate—375° oven. Serve warm with egg milk or with half milk and half cream.

Pretty close for the second lap. Mileage is counted in terms of attendance and offering. Much interest is being manifested. The race closes on Mother's Day, the second Sunday in May.

Farm And Agriculture News

By Professor Henry C. Haggan

Head Of Agriculture Department, Morehead College

Our readers will notice the absence of Prof. H. C. Haggan's article this week. Mr. Haggan has been ill for the past few days and was unable to write his usual contribution. We are glad to be able to state that he will be back next week with his column.

Lepedea is an important legume that has been filling a great need in Kentucky agriculture in the past few years because it grows under so many conditions where red clover, sweet clover and alfalfa will not grow. Because it grows under adverse conditions, farmers may neglect soil improvement practices, such as liming and the use of fertilizer. As lepedea causes an increase for a time in the yield of crops while manure made from feeding the crops is not returned to the soil, there will be a rapid depletion of the calcium and phosphorus of the soil and a shortage of these elements in the crops which reduces their feeding value. Crops grown upon soil already deficient in lime and phosphorus are likely to be deficient in these elements from animal nutrition. It is better to add these elements to the soil and get increased growth of pasture and hay richer in these elements.

An experiment at the Western Kentucky Experiment Station shows the great value of limestone and phosphate where lepedea (mixture of common and Korean) is the third year crop in rotation with corn and wheat. Where superphosphate has been used at the rate of 200 pounds per acre per year, corn has been increased 7 bushels per acre per year; wheat 5 bushels, and hay 1,170 pounds. Where 2 tons of ground limestone was applied in 1927 in addition to the phosphate it further increased the yield of corn 10 bushels per acre, wheat 3 bushels and hay 1,500 pounds. At 20 tons of corn, 75 cents for phosphate and $10 a ton for hay, 5 tons of limestone has been worth $16 per ton and its effect is not yet exhausted. It is just as profitable to use good soil improving practices where lepedea is used as where other legumes are used. Any legume may further exhaust the soil if good management practices are not used.

The use of both lime and phosphate fertilizer and the growing of legumes are essential to any significant soil improvement on most of the soils outside of the Bluegrass region. Liming is profitable on a large part of the Bluegrass area.

Crop Loans For Kentucky Farmers. Twelve new agencies with representatives in every county are making crop loans to Kentucky farmers this spring. In many communities, the lack of credit from customary sources is making loans through production credit associations attractive, points out C. J. Bradley, of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

Five percent interest plus nominal inspection and other costs, is charged on these loans. Borrowers are in addition required to purchase stock equivalent to 5 percent of loans. Fortunately, the money needed for purchasing stock is also loaned to farmers. Of decided advantage to borrowers is the fact that control of the production credit associations rests in this class B stock owned by them.

Loans may be had on all kinds of growing crops. Primary security is a lien on the crop itself, but additional chattel security, such as work stock and farm machinery, is also required. Of special interest is the fact that loans are advanced on a budgeted basis as needed, and interest is charged only from the date of these advances. Interest charges are by this means kept to a minimum, and loans may therefore be said to be made on a cost basis.

Production credit associations usually supplement rather than compete with established loan agencies. Through them, farmers are furnished with credit which might be difficult to obtain elsewhere, and furthermore on cooperative basis.

Production credit associations are located in Paintsville, Flemingsburg, Williamstown, Lexington, Danville, London, Louisville, Glasgow, Owensboro, Elizabethtown, Hopkinsville and Mayfield but there are representatives of these associations in nearly every county.

Further information concerning both loans through production credit associations and local representatives of production credit associations within counties may be obtained from county farm agents.

The Farm And Home. Egg production is the smallest in 10 years, and commercial hatching of baby chicks in January were the heaviest on record, says U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. The high price of grain is tending to keep egg prices up.

Do not buy a remnant unless it is needed and can be used to advantage. Then get a piece that contains the amount of cloth needed, and that can be purchased at a fair price. Remnants may be poor bargains, contain flaws and be excessively priced.

A farmer who has his own corn ground for home use, either as food for the family or feed for stock, is not required to pay a processing tax. If more than a bushel a week is ground for sale a tax of 5 cents a bushel is levied.

A 2 percent decrease in the average of potatoes is in prospect for this year. Maine will reduce 7 percent, Ohio 2 percent, and Oregon 1 percent.

Seeding 6 to 10 pounds of lepedea to the acre will help to protect and improve the soil of the year and will provide pasture and hay next year. If a hay crop is wanted this year, sow 25 pounds to the acre on good land.

THE GARDEN. Peas. — Among the earliest vegetables to go into the garden are peas. They must be started early so that they will have set their pods, in fact, before most of the crop, before the warm weather of late spring comes.

A seed crop the fertility for peas must be balanced. If the garden is to be fertilized with manure, it must be balanced by broadcasting superphosphate at the rate of 1 bay (125 pounds) over a quarter acre. A sign of unbalanced fertility is excessive leafage and few peas. The phosphate should not be turned under before the last disk, or dragging with the manure, but applied just as given the garden. A more economic way to use commercial fertilizer is to work into the soil in the rows the peas are to occupy, using 1 pound to 30 feet of row.

If the garden is in good condition and does not need humus, complete fertilizer such as 4-8-6 or 5-10-5 may be used instead of the phosphate, in the same manner, but at double the rate.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The plan as outlined in an earlier edition of the News, includes the building of a complete water, heat and light plant for the college. It will be built near Triplett Creek on land recently purchased by the college.

It is also planned to construct a series of dams in Triplett Creek to retain the waters of the creek and to thus furnish an adequate supply of water at all times. For the past several years the supply of water in the city has run perilously near to exhaustion during the dry months of the summer, and it is largely to eliminate possibilities of this condition being repeated that the water plant is being constructed. The dams will, according to the estimates, hold enough water to supply Morehead and the college regardless of the drought for several months.

It is planned to erect a series of four dams in the creek, each of which will retain an ample supply of water.

One of the outstanding features of the Regents meeting Monday night was the fact that for the first time Dr. A. O. Taylor, recently appointed board member was present at the meeting.

JAIL BREAK

puty jailer heard a noise, apparently at the back of the jail. He was alone at the time and was afraid to investigate the noise, as he feared that by leaving the front of the jail, he would leave the way open for escape from that point. He unlocked the jail and walked in. The prisoners had turned off the lights. Stamper drew his revolver, a .32, and ordered the prisoners downstairs to turn on the lights. They did so. He found that five of the prisoners were downstairs while four, led by Messer were upstairs tearing out the rear wall. They had also done considerable damage to the cells.

Stamper sent a trustee to ring the court bell to summon assistance. When the prisoners heard the bell, they realized the break was off and retired to their cells.

All of the prisoners who had been sentenced to prison terms with the exception of Omer Kissick were implicated in the attempted break. The ten prisoners were taken to Winchester Thursday night where they were held until Saturday, when they completed the trip to the Frankfort penitentiary.

CRIMINAL DOCKET

his bond. S. F. Hanlon, charged with unlawful conversion of money, in a number of cases growing out of a suit club he organized, failed to appear and bond was also forfeited. The case of Ed Meadows charged with rape in a hung jury when tried during the October term, was continued to the fourth day of the June term.

Wayne Brown charged with carnally knowing a female under sixteen years of age was continued to fourth day of June term.

Cases tried but not mentioned in previous issues were:

Omer Kissick, charged with murder of Jesse Harris; Guilty. Sentenced to ten years in penitentiary. Kissick was tried the first week, the trial resulting in a hung jury, and the second trial was finished Wednesday of last week.

Other cases of more than passing interest were as follows: John Rose, charged with assaulting Chief of Police John Adams, was found guilty and fined $50.00 and costs.

Charles Stephens, charged with trespassing on C. and O. property was found guilty and fined $75.00 and costs.

June Evans charged with assault on the person of Ed Hall was fined $50.00 and costs.

Wednesday morning of this week, Circuit court activities were turned over to Judge J. F. Bailey of Paintsville, for the hearing of civil cases of particular interest to a large number of property owners of this city, when the paving cases were scheduled to come up. Judge D. B. Caudill, who was employed by the city to prosecute a number of the cases vacated the bench on that account and Judge Bailey was appointed to take his place for the purpose.

It has been arranged to try one case as a test case, letting the action with regard to the balance of the sixty seven cases hinge on that decision.

The paving cases grew out of the attempt of Kneff's Bros Contracting Company to collect on the paving in Morehead. In many instances property owners claimed that the paving costs were in excess of the value of the property assessed and that they could not and were not required by law to pay the full amount. It is chiefly to settle these questions that the case are being tested.

According to the present plans, Judge Bailey will try those cases which were filed by Judge Caudill while in the service of the city, while Judge Caudill will resume the bench when the cases filed later are brought up.

The Poor Aim of Mr. Zeno

By IRVIN S. COBB

WHEN the circus reached the small Vermont town the proprietor feared for awhile that afternoon performance might lack its chief feature. The star of the aggregation was Zeno, the Mexican Knife Thrower, answering in private life to the name of Hennessy.

Twice a day Zeno, dressed in gaudy trappings, would enter the arena accompanied by his wife, a young, plump and pretty woman in pink tights, and followed by a roustabout bearing a basket full of long bowie-knives and shining battle-axes. While the band played an appropriate selection of shivery music the young woman would flatten herself against a background of blue planking which had been erected in the middle of the ring. She would pose motionless, her arms outstretched and her feet close together. Then Zeno, stationing himself forty feet from her, would fling his knives and axes at her, missing her each time by the narrowest of margins. Presently her form would be completely outlined by the deadly steel, but such was Zeno's marvellous skill that she took no hurt from the sharp blades which pinned her feet.

But on this day Mrs. Zeno had fallen ill and although the circus owner offered a reward for someone who would take her place, he could find no volunteers among the members of his staff. In this emergency the invalid's mother—who by the same token was Zeno's mother-in-law—and who traveled with the show in the capacity of wardrobe mistress, stepped forward and agreed to serve as a understudy in order that the performance might not be marred.

The hour came. Forth came Zeno, wearing his professional scowl, slightly enhanced. His mother-in-law, skinny and homely, with her hair knotted in a knob on her head and her daughter's fleecings hanging in loose folds upon her bony figure, followed him closely. She plastered herself flat against the wooden background. Zeno gave her a look seemingly fraught with undying hate. He took up his longest, sharpest bowie-knife. He tested its needle-like point upon his thumb. He poised it, aimed it, flung it.

Like a javelin it hurtled on its hissing flight through the air. Striking its first aim, it buried itself deep in the tough oaken planking and stood there, the hit guaranteed.

The issue which was broken by the astonished voice of a lank native sitting on the lowermost tier of blue seats industriously milking his whiskers:

"Wall, by Heck—he missed her!"

C. C. C. CAMP NEWS

Within the next few days the mild breezes from the southland will paint the surrounding hills and fields a delicate green. The smell of fresh earth and flowers will replace the cold and smoky air of winter. New interests will be in some type of springtime work.

Springtime in Eastern Kentucky has always been the time for farmers to burn their old weed fields and break pasture. These fires have often gotten out of control and into neighboring woods where they burn thousands of acres of timberland each year.

With the coming of the CCC camps into Kentucky, the United States Forest Service has started an intensive campaign to reduce the number of fires and the extent of their devastation. Fire in the woods is a sighted for these boys to drop their road work, reforestation work or any other project and answer these calls.

However, the Forestry Officials want the people to understand that these CCC boys are not for the purpose of fighting fires on private property, they will only accept calls to fire on land under government option or government ownership.

The Forestry officials would also like for the people to become familiar with the Forest Fire Laws of Kentucky. Ignorance of the law is no excuse. To avoid possible difficulties it would be well to comply with the following laws: Section 1. (a) Every owner of timberland in the state of Kentucky shall furnish or provide a sufficient forest fire patrol during the seasons of the year when there is danger of forest fires, which patrol shall meet with the approval of the State Forestry Service.

Every man who burns his fields or woods over is responsible for keeping the fire within the limits of his property. Failure to do so, even though it be through no fault of his own, may result in civil liability for such damage as may result.

Section 8. If any person intentionally or negligently set any woods on fire, whereby damage is done to the lands or property of another, he shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars or imprisoned not less than ten days nor more than six months, or both so fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

Lieut. Thomas B. Caldwell, of Hopkinsville, Kentucky, has recently been assigned to CCC company 578 at Clearfield, Kentucky where he will assume his duties as second in command to Captain Rotbrock. Lieutenant Caldwell is relieving Lieutenant John L. Adams who has been transferred to camp S P-1 Corbin, Kentucky.

Lieutenant Caldwell came here from Noble, Kentucky where he has been on active duty with the CCC's for two years.

Lady Says CARDUI Eased Pain In Side

Cardui helped an Oklahoma lady, as described below, and many others have benefited in a similar way. . . "I had a hurting in my side every few weeks," writes Mrs. Bill Stewart, of Dewar, Okla. Kennel Murder Case

That is correct, I had a business appointment for dinner and the evening.

With whom? Is that information necessary? Oh, very. Vance met the other's smile with one equally arctic.

Very well then. With one of the curators of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

And continued Vance, without change of tone, at what time last night did you meet Miss Lake?

The Italian rose indignantly, his somber eyes flashing.

I resent that question, sir! Even if I had met Miss Lake, I would not tell you.

Really, Mr. Grassi, Vance smiled, I would not have expected you to. Your conduct is quite correct. I take it for granted you were aware that Miss Lake is engaged to Mr. Wrede.

Yes; I knew there was some misunderstanding. Mr. Archer Coe informed me of the fact. But he also stated.

Yes, yes. He also stated that he was opposed to the alliance. He enjoyed Mr. Wrede intellectually, but did not regard him favorably as a husband for his ward. What is your opinion of the situation Mr. Grassi? The Italian seemed surprised at Vance's question.

You must forgive me, sir, he said after a pause. If I plead my inability to express an opinion on the subject, I may say, however, that Mr. Brisbane Coe disagreed with his brother. He was very much in favor of the marriage, and stated his views most emphatically to Mr. Archer Coe.

And now both of them are dead, Vance remarked.

Grassi's eyelids dropped, and he turned his head slightly.

Both? he repeated in a low voice. Mr. Brisbane was stabbed in the back shortly after Mr. Archer was killed—Vance informed him.

Most unfortunate, the Italian murmured.

Have you, asked Vance, any suggestion as to who might desire to have these two gentlemen out of the way?

Grassi suddenly became austere and aloof.

I have no suggestion, he replied in a flat, diplomatic voice. Mr. Archer Coe was the type of man who might inspire enemies; but Mr. Brisbane Coe was quite the opposite, genial, shrewd, kindly.

An excellent characterization, Vance complimented him. And what are your impressions of Mr. Wrede? I assure you any opinion you express will go no further.

Grassi appeared ill at ease. He did not answer at once but contemplated the wall before him for some precise manner of a man carefully choosing his words.

I have not been particularly impressed by Mr. Wrede. On the surface he is most charming, but I have a feeling he is inclined toward superficiality. What he is very clever.

Cleverness is our national curse, Vance remarked. But forgive my interruption. You were speaking of Mr. Wrede.

Mr. Wrede, as I have said, impresses me as being very clever. But I have sensed another side to him. He is capable, I should say, of unexpected things. I have a feeling he would stop at nothing to gain his own ends.

Thank you! Vance spoke with unthoughted harshness, I perfectly understand your feelings. He looked Jewy—at Grassi contemptuously. And now, sir, you should like to know exactly what you did yesterday between four o'clock in the afternoon and one o'clock in the morning. His tone was almost menacing.

The Italian made a valiant effort to meet Vance's gaze.

I have said all I intend to say, he announced.

Vance faced the man threateningly. In that case, he said, I shall have to order your arrest on suspicion of having murdered Archer and Brisbane Coe!

A look of abject fear came over Grassi's pallid face.

No, you can't do that, he stammered. I didn't do it! I assure you I didn't do it! His voice rose. I'll tell you anything you want to know. I want to Doctor Montrose's for tea.

We discussed ceramics; and I stayed to dinner. At eight o'clock I excused myself and went to the railway station to take the train for Mount Vernon, to the Crestview Country Club.

Your appointment with Miss Lake was at what time?

Nine o'clock. The man looked appealing at Vance. There was to be a dance, but—I took the wrong train, I'm not familiar.

Quite—quite. Vance spoke encouragingly. And what time was it when you arrived at the club?

Back in the chair as if exhausted. I had to make several transportation changes, he continued in a forced tone. It was most unfortunate.

Yes, very. Vance studied the other icily. Did the lady forgive your tardiness?

Plans are being made to begin spring football training within the next two weeks, according to Coach G. D. Downing. From forty to fifty candidates are expected to be out in uniform including the freshmen from last year's team and the remaining varsity boys who will be eligible next fall.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL FOR GIRLS STARTS MON.

The girls' intramural basketball tournament will be held next week beginning Monday night at 6:30 in the college gymnasium.

There will be three teams represented in the tournament, the town girls team, Allie Young team, and the Fields Hall team.

Eagle Nesters Lose To Davids

Remembering the really fine exhibition of basketball displayed by the House of David team last year when they met the Morehead High School here, Cave Man Rice and Clark Lane are still demanding part of their money back and yelling "Ise Regusted", after witnessing the game between the so-called Whiskers team and the Eagles Nesters which was played at the high school gymnasium on Saturday night of last week.

The House of Daviders appeared with scarcely a whisker in a carload. Far from the much advertised flowing beards, the boys looked as if their whiskers needed a treatment of lime to make the flour, or the addition of several years to their age.

And that was not the only disappointment. They played just about like the high school boys they resemble and although they finally did eke out a victory over the Eagles Nest team, it was by such a narrow margin as to be decidedly squeaky. Cave Man is still asking for 40 cents of his 30 back.

200 EXPECTED TO ENTER MOREHEAD AT MID-TERM

Preparations are nearly complete for the enrollment of the 200 or more students expected here for the spring semester. All of the dormitories are filled to capacity, and most of the available rooms in the town have been reserved by teachers expecting to continue their college work here at Morehead this spring and summer. The administration of the College is making plans to employ additional teachers to conduct the new classes.

What became of the stove League organized last fall to sit around the stove or fireplace or what have you and chat and discuss and lay plans for the coming baseball season.

The idea was good. It's an idea that used to carry great weight. Probably more championships were won in the stove league than were ever won on the diamond. Every little league and every little town used to have them. Some of the best players played most of their games in the winter time and won them. But when the spring time came, many of them had wasted so much energy telling what they could do, that they had none left to do it.

Nevertheless, the Stove League idea is a good one. It serves at least one useful purpose if carried out. It keeps the subject of baseball alive and often results in winning teams being developed.

With the coming of spring, however, the time has arrived for the organization of the local club, if it is to be organized. The league which has been in existence for the past two years, is scheduled to hold its first annual meeting this week, when officers are to be selected and the plans for the season laid. As yet we have not been informed as to the prospect for the coming season.

Last year the Morehead Club was successful in the pennant race. But thus far this season, probably due to the closing basketball season, very little has been heard of baseball.

If Morehead is to have a baseball team, now is the time to get it organized and going. Last year, many of the best local players were taken away because they waited too long to get going. When they did get under way, the boys had already contracted with other teams and the locals were forced to go elsewhere for material. They went out in the end but they should have been organized earlier and under way.

Kentucky Basketball Rated On Par With Flashy Brand Demonstrated By Indiana's Great Teams

While Indiana is supposed to be the "basketball state" of the nation, performances and records of Kentucky teams for the past two years claim to demonstrate that Indiana's claim to this honor may be an exaggeration.

In the S. I. A. A., the largest association for the furtherance of athletics in the nation, Western Kentucky was champion in 1934, with Berea as runner-up, and in 1935 Western was runner-up. Both years a majority of the all-star team members were Kentucky men. In '34, four members were Kentuckians and in 1935 three members came from the Blue Grass State.

In the Southeastern Conference, the University of Kentucky led the conference during the season of 1934 but lost out in the tournament and in 1935 were co-champions of the conference with Louisiana State.

W. A. MEMBERS ATTEND MEETING IN LEXINGTON

Representatives of the Morehead Women's Athletic Association attended the state meeting of the association which was held at the University of Kentucky on Saturday, March 9.

Those who represented Morehead were Edna Rose, Elizabeth Justice, Helen Bush and Marie Thomas together with the sponsor of the organization, Ernestine Troemel.

Colleges represented at the meeting were Centre, The University of Louisville, Berea, The University of Kentucky and Morehead State Teachers College. The general purpose of the meeting was to get better acquainted with different programs and to make plans for attending the national meeting which will be held at Greensboro, North Carolina, March 21.

Two Kentucky men made the all-conference team that year. Kentucky has also produced two all-American center's in Edwards and Sale.

In the Southeastern Junior College tournament, Pikeville College was runner-up in 1935 and placed two men on the all-tournament team. Kentucky had three teams in the semi-finals of this meet.

Ashland High School was winner of the last national tournament and Carr Creek another Kentucky team was a semi-finalist in this meet.

Since Kentucky and Indiana and the other Northern states do not compete to any great extent it is impossible to compare the teams from that angle, but the above data places Kentucky basketball at the peak of the South and on par or superior to basketball in Indiana and the other Northern states.

Morehead Defeats Eastern Debaters

The Morehead debate team won a decision over a team of Eastern Teachers College debaters here last night. Earl Dean and Elijah Hogge of Morehead upheld the affirmative and Lundy Adams and James Neale, representing Eastern, took the negative of the question, RESOLVED - That the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions.

In a non-decision debate yesterday afternoon, Harold K. Clore and

College Football Schedule Nearly Complete; Eastern Here For Home Coming

SOFT BALL CLUB TO REPLACE BASEBALL

Five Games Carded For Football; Basketball Complete

While it is unlikely that the Morehead College will have a regular baseball team this season, due to the fact that the majority of the schools have discontinued the pastime, there is a certainty that they will seek recreation among themselves by organizing a soft ball league among the students. According to Coach Downing there will probably be sixteen teams of at least eleven on each team which will furnish recreation for a large number of the boys in the college.

With both the football and basketball schedules for 1934-1935 well out of the way, the thoughts of the athletes and coaches of Morehead State Teachers College lightly turn to thoughts of next year, and schedules for the games to be played are now nearly completed. It might be well to qualify that statement, since their thoughts are not turning as lightly as might be imagined. In fact, Coach Downing states that he is having considerable difficulty in scheduling the kind of football games he wants for what he believes to be the best material he has ever had.

Juniors Win Class Tourney

The large backs that several of the faculty of the Morehead High School are carrying around are due to one thing only. They resulted from some strenuous exercise when the faculty team attacked their prowess against the field in the annual Inter-class basketball tournament held last week. The faculty team consisted of Dennis Gaudin, who says he has lumbago this week; Austin Riddle, Bull Hogge and Misses Jesse Allen and Ella Mae Doggett.

The faculty won their first contest from the Freshmen, 33 to 20 and their second from the seventh grade, 20-21. They went down in defeat before the Juniors who had eliminated the Seniors and the eighth grade to get to the finals.

The Juniors won the tournament 20 to 30 and the faculty was, mostly crippled.

Spring activities at the high school will consist of a soft ball league of six teams, faculty, high school grades and the seventh and eighth grade team. Games will be played regularly.

Plans are also being made to start a volleyball tournament in the near future.

Donald Michelson of Eastern debated the affirmative side of the munitions question and Paul Holman and Howard Hadden debated the negative side for Morehead.

Judges for the decision debate were Professor William Bridges, debate coach of the Camargo High School; Professor Kenneth Harding, Mt. Sterling High School and Dr. G. H. Fern, pastor of the Morehead Christian Church.

Dr. Saul Houchell accompanied the Eastern team.

Recreation Leader Instructs Students

Hundreds Report To Collins To Learn Art Of Square Dancing From Recreation

Denver Collins, noted recreation leader from the Carr Creek Community Center, has been conducting a series of folk-dancing classes here this week. On Monday and Friday, Mr. Collins exhibited the various kinds of folk dances at convocation. Morehead students from Carr Creek and vicinity assisted the leader in the demonstration.

Mr. Collins also had charge of a recreation period in the College gymnasium each evening of the week beginning at 6:00 and lasting for one hour. During these periods, he personally assisted the students in learning the dances.

Danish, folk games, English country dances, and Kentucky running sets were demonstrated by the Knott Countian. The purpose of the classes was to "show the joy of doing things in rhythm", as well as provide a wholesome form of recreation.

The difficulty is not in being unable to schedule games, but in being able to schedule games that he considers of enough worth. He is not arranging a stiff schedule by any means, judging from the games already contracted for.

The basketball schedule is practically completed with only a few conflicts as to dates to be ironed out. Every S. I. A. A. team in the state with the exception of Western has been scheduled for one or two games. Coach Downing has hoped that he will be able to qualify a game with that team before the close of the season. Murray will be met once as will Berea. All the other teams will play the Eagles two games each. The total number of games in the schedule will run up to sixteen or seventeen in addition to the tournament.

The football situation is somewhat different. Only five games have been definitely scheduled for this season, whereas, Downing hopes to offer a full season in the state already scheduled and hopes to add them as an attraction at the end of the season.

The following is the football schedule as far as it has been arranged:

- Oct. 4 - Georgetown, There
- Oct. 19 - Union, There
- Oct. 26 - Transy, Here
- Nov. 2 - Eastern Here (Homecoming)
- Nov. 16 - Louisville, There

The basketball schedule as completed to date follows:
Jan. 11 - Centre, There
Jan. 11 - Centre, Here
Jan. 14 - Ky. Wesleyan, Here
Jan. 16 - Transy, There
Jan. 18 - Eastern, Here
Jan. 21 - Louisville, There
Jan. 22 - Georgetown, There
Jan. 30 - Berea, Here
Feb. 5 - Murray, Here
Feb. 7 - Ky. Wesleyan, There
Feb. 8 - Eastern, There
Feb. 10 - Transy, Here
Feb. 12 - Centre, There
Feb. 15 - Louisville, Here

The date for one union game has not been definitely settled and will be arranged later. However the game has been scheduled and will be played.

Coach Downing is also making an effort to schedule a game with Western and there seems to be considerable pressure from the Western fans who hold the story of the Eagles in the tournament.

Inter-Class Tourney Played In Junior High

The Junior High School boys have drawn teams and are getting to play a basketball tournament. The captains of the teams are DeVall Payne, Clinton Tatum, Walter Carr, Robert Fraley, Calvin Crosthwaite and Robert Elam. Mr. Van Antwerp is sponsoring the tournament. It will run on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 19 and 20.
