

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

For Release Thursday, July 1, at 1 p.m.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University and the Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council, Inc. announced here Thursday afternoon that they have joined forces to sponsor a performing arts series during the 1982-83 school year.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet hailed the signing of the joint sponsorship agreement as "a mutual commitment to the future of quality performing arts programming."

Dr. Glenn Rogers, president of the Arts Council, described the joint series as "a splendid example of community and university cooperation."

"This new partnership will make six outstanding programs available to the citizens of this area and enable everyone to enjoy first-rate entertainment at a bargain price," Dr. Rogers added.

To be identified as "Arts in Morehead" (AIM), the series includes these performances:

Oct. 15 and 16 -- Children's Theatre, "Videosyncrasies,"

1 p.m. and 11 a.m., respectively.

Nov. 1 --- Alabama Shakespeare Theatre, "Romeo and Juliet," 8 p.m.

Nov. 17 -- The Norman Luboff Choir, 8 p.m.

Jan. 28 -- MSU Bel Canto Trio and Piano Trio, 8 p.m.

March 16 -- The Chinese Magic Circus of Taiwan, 8 p.m.

April 21 -- Actors Theatre of Louisville, Three one-act plays,

"Chug," "Cemetery Man," and "Rupert's Birthday," 8 p.m.

"Arts In Morehead"

2-2-2-2

All of the events are scheduled in MSU's Button Auditorium.

The series will be financed with funds provided by MSU, The Kentucky Humanities Council, The Kentucky Arts Commission and through the sale of series memberships and tickets by the Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council.

As a condition of the University's participation, full-time MSU students will be admitted free. Family memberships for the series will be $30 and individual memberships will be $15. Tickets also will be available at the door for individual programs.

Dr. Rogers said a campaign to sell series memberships and to solicit private gifts in support of the Arts Council would be initiated later this summer. He reported that the MRCAC has been granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service.

"The Arts Council and the University have agreed that we should expand our audience to adjoining counties and elsewhere in the region," Dr. Rogers added. "We are in the process of recruiting membership chairpersons in the other counties."

As a result of the new venture, each organization will discontinue its separate performing arts series.

Dr. Norfleet and Dr. Rogers paid tribute to the joint committee which planned the new series and to the two individuals who were primarily responsible for the agreement, Dr. Ewell Scott and Dr. Sue Luckey. Dr. Scott is the former president of the MRCAC and Dr. Luckey is the chairperson of MSU's Concert and Lecture Series Committee.

The joint sponsorship agreement is for one year but Dr. Norfleet characterized it as "hopefully the beginning of a long and mutually beneficial relationship."

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- America's popular culture is producing a "ruthless uniformity" in its people and is alienating us from nature and traditional values.

That's the view of Dr. Jim Wayne Miller, noted Appalachian writer and poet, who recently addressed Morehead State University's Jesse Stuart Symposium honoring the Greenup County author.

"There are a lot of people out there who actually hate the idea of a green place because they are afraid of it," Miller said. "They are afraid of it because they don't understand their relationship to it."

He explained that literature, such as the written works of Jesse Stuart, can help people understand their relationship to nature through written portrayal of particular people, places and things.

"The land is humanized in Stuart's works... and it becomes the people who have lived there and their histories," said Miller, one of several Kentucky writers concerned about the deterioration of folkways in an industrial society.

"Popular culture is fueled by anything new," he added. "It thrives on novelty, news and new happenings. It reverses traditional culture, which can be illustrated by language, beliefs, values and customs."

The danger of popular culture, which Miller says has never been stronger, is its tendency to become a substitute for traditional culture and the natural world.

(more)

In contrast to the novelty and sporadic trends of popular culture, Miller referred to literature as "news that stays news" because "it exposes universal truths that manifest themselves always and only through the particular."

Miller views literature as the type of news people need to know when their minds become dulled and when they believe they can hide from nature through skyscrapers and technology. He also advocated literature's significance to freedom.

"I had a conversation with the Russian Dissident Alexander Ginzberg a few years ago about the value of literature and he said we should value our rural traditions because it was precisely those types of historical memories that Russia had to obliterate in order for the communist revolution to succeed," he said.

Ginzberg told Miller that people can resist oppression if they maintain their traditional perspectives but will do anything they were asked once they become oblivious to previous customs.

While popular culture relegates the masses to manipulation, literature helps edify traditional values and develop "rooted variety" in people, according to Miller.

"I think that's one way Jesse Stuart is so significant and valuable to us," he concluded.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

by ALVIN GRIDER
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- "The students literally get their feet wet in this class," says Dr. James R. Chaplin, associate professor of geoscience at Morehead State University.

More than 20 environmental science students in Chaplin's "Oceans" class embarked on a weeklong research trip this spring to the Gulf of Mexico.

During their week at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Mississippi, the students sampled biological and geological materials. Exposed to modern lab research, they learned firsthand about marine life, the effects of pollution on the ocean and geological aspects of oceanography.

"It's neat because it's not all bookwork--you get out and learn," says Linda Andrews, a Glouster, Ohio, graduate student who had taken "Oceans" as an undergraduate and returned to Mississippi with the class this year for a special project in entomology, the study of insects.

"This is an opportunity to see and learn about the ecosystem in the marshlands, for example. At night, we worked on maps and studied the sediments in core samples we took from the marshes and the ocean," she explained.

The students also spent a day out on a research vessel collecting data. Trawling with a net, they collected sea specimens. "They bring these back and we use them in our classes," says Chaplin.

(more)

"Oceans"
2-2-2-2-2

Gulf Coast Research Lab at Ocean Springs, Miss., is a consortium of Mississippi universities. MSU is the only Kentucky affiliate.

During this summer, two MSU geology majors, John S. Roberts, Farmers junior, and William A. Osborne, Paintsville senior, are studying oceanography at the laboratory.

"Kentucky's so far from the ocean," says Ms. Andrews. "Down there, you get to learn about some things you can't see around here."

Chaplin also stresses the importance of the trip, noting that it is the first view of the ocean for several MSU students. Chaplin has taken students to the ocean's shore for 10 years.

"You can write on the board and show them films as much as you want," he says. "But you have to go to the ocean to learn about marine biology and oceanography."

###

7-6-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

by JOE ADAMS
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- When it comes to Kentuckians who are nationally certified judo referees, Bill Rosenberg of Morehead State University is in a class by himself.

Rosenberg, director of MSU's Division of Media Services, recently became Kentucky's first certified national judo referee after a two-day examination in the American-Canadian (AM-CAM) Judo Challenge in Buffalo, N.Y.

"It was like being under a microscope," Rosenberg said. "My every move was critiqued and evaluated and I really felt the pressure. But when you get it, then you say it was worth it all."

Two certification examiners evaluated Rosenberg in three categories: cognitive, a written test determining judo knowledge and rules interpretation; affective domain, which focused on scoring abilities; and psychomotor, or match control abilities.

Rosenberg, now one of nearly 200 national judo referees spanning 34 states, must referee at least one national judo event during the next two years. He also must resubmit for certification to United States Judo, Inc. (USJI), the nation's governing judo body, near his term's end to retain his status.

He will referee his first national event at the United States Judo Association Junior National Championships on July 3 and 4 in Decatur, Ill., where his 11-year-old son, Bill, Kentucky's Junior Olympics judo champion in his age group, will participate.

(more)

Rosenberg
2-2-2-2-2

In addition to his officiating duties, Rosenberg has been chosen by the USJI to manage the national U.S. judo squad which will compete in the prestigious Canadian Cup on Oct. 2 and 3.

"I guess I'm more excited about that than anything in the last several years," said Rosenberg, the MSU Judo Club's student founder in 1967 and faculty sponsor since 1970.

Rosenberg will help select the 16-member squad and will be responsible for all team accommodations, including transportation, lodging and medical care. He also will serve as assistant coach under U.S. Canadian Cup Coach Willy Cahill.

"It's a tough job but it's great because you are a representative of the United States and are helping to coach the best it has to offer," he said.

Rosenberg also is the current president of the Kentucky Judo Council and a member of the USJI Board of Directors.

####

7-6-82rja

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- If you are ready to carve or design your way to success in Appalachian arts and crafts, then you may have more going for you than you think.

"The real market advantage is national reputation in quality and 200 years of Appalachian heritage," Gary Barker, vice president of Berea Craft Enterprises, Inc., said recently during Morehead State University's Appalachian Celebration. "And you can draw upon these things in your marketing."

Barker, along with Rodney Beck, owner of Coffeetree Gallery and Gift Shop in Louisville, and Fran Padgett, assistant crafts coordinator of the Kentucky Department of the Arts, paneled a Celebration workshop designed to serve the needs of Appalachian arts and crafts people.

"It took us eight years to find out we were losing business in our shop because people want something with Kentucky on it," said Beck, one of Kentucky's largest craft retailer-distributers.

Beck presented 32 participating crafts people, who had ventured to MSU from across the state, practical tips in selling thier creations to shops and retailers.

"One of the first things you should do is decide who your audience is," Beck explained. "You should know their age groups, education and income levels. You must determine who is buying your craft or who is likely to buy it."

The conscientious crafts person who makes quality crafts and desires to make a profit will search for new ideas and ways to increase marketability.

(more)

"Shop the marketplace, not just at fairs and exhibits, but nationally to see what others are doing. Experiment a little," Beck emphasized.

The size of the craft should also be considered when planning sales. Beck suggests consulting distributors about which sizes are best for packaging and mailing.

"And don't bring something into the store that you want to sell at the busiest time of the day," he said. "The rush hour is not the time to persuade a shopkeeper to buy a craft."

Craftsmen must also be willing to negotiate on occasional changes in terms but should always strive for the most specific terms of sale.

"You may have a bundle of concerns but so does the shopkeeper. Never dump something that won't sell if you want a continuing relationship," Beck warned. "After your craft sits on the shelf for six months, then the shopkeeper knows he's been had."

Crafts people should visit the shop where their crafts are being sold to pick up marketing hints.

"But remember, the shopkeeper will be as possessive about selling it as you are about making it. So be careful about instructing where to place your craft to be sold," Beck added.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University engineering students will have the opportunity to earn two bachelor degrees--one at MSU and another at Auburn University--beginning this fall.

Under an agreement between the two schools, students interested in an engineering degree will attend MSU for three years and Auburn for two. They will graduate with MSU's bachelor of university studies and Auburn's bachelor of engineering degree.

The cooperative arrangement is similar to a five-year dual-degree program MSU has had with the University of Kentucky for several years.

"Engineering is a hot field now," says Dr. John C. Philley, head of MSU's Department of Physical Sciences. "Those universities with colleges of engineering are facing exploding enrollments and decreasing faculty, particularly as industry attracts engineering teachers away from the campuses."

He continued:

"So, in a way, we're doing them a favor. We'll be able to locate capable, motivated individuals and send them on to the engineering colleges."

Dr. Philley said the new program also will benefit students who don't have enough background in mathematics, for example, to take calculus during their first semester at college.

The Auburn arrangement will permit students to complete general education requirements and background courses in physics, chemistry and mathematics at MSU, before moving to Auburn for more intensive training in a specific engineering field.

(more)

Engineering Degrees
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Auburn will offer 13 engineering degree options to the MSU pre-engineering students, including aerospace, textile, computer science and industrial engineering. In addition, highly qualified MSU undergraduates may enter Auburn with the intent of receiving a master's degree in one of six engineering disciplines.

"Auburn is a very well-known and respected institution in the field of science and technology," says Dr. Philley. "The Auburn program offers a good deal more options to the students here, plus more flexibility in their courses."

MSU already offers a two-year associate degree in engineering, which many students earn before going on to an engineering college.

The number of MSU pre-engineering students has tripled in the last three years, according to Dr. Philley.

"The energy situation has brought about a need for engineers," he says, adding that future prospects in the career may be closely tied to the cost and availability of oil in the U.S.

####

7-9-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's associate degree program in nursing has earned accreditation by the National League for Nursing.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet, who announced the action of the NLN Board of Review, described it as "great news for the University and an outstanding achievement of our nursing program."

The initial period of accreditation will be for eight years.

"We were confident of the quality of our nursing program and now we have demonstrated that we meet or exceed the national standards for nurse education at the two-year level," Dr. Norfleet said. "The University is immensely proud of the nursing faculty and the administrators who have worked so hard to earn this recognition."

Dr. Leroy Overstreet is head of the Department of Allied Health Sciences and Dr. Charles M. Derrickson is dean of the School of Applied Sciences and Technology.

#####

7-9-82kkf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The second summer Elderhostel at Morehead State University will begin Sunday, July 11.

Forty elder citizens from across the nation will be learning about Appalachian folk culture, heritage and history during the weeklong activity.

MSU's Elderhostel programs are part of an international network of more than 500 schools offering special low-cost, short-term residential learning to older adults.

The MSU session will include classes and trips to several Kentucky sites, including Carter Caves State Park and the Kentucky Horse Park.

7-9-82scf

###

l'

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University is hosting its final summer orientation and early registration program for new students on Friday, July 23, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Academic advising and pre-registration for fall classes also are scheduled during the day-long session.

Other activities for new students and their parents include a reception in the Adron Doran University Center Crager Room, campus tours, a slide presentation on campus life and panel discussions.

Additional information is available from the Division of Admissions. Toll free numbers are 800-262-7474 in Kentucky and 800-354-2090 in states bordering Kentucky.

7-12-82scf

###

by VICKI HEATH
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Do you want to know the real answers?

For Morehead State University graduate Jack D. Early of nearby Clearfield, the answer is physics.

"You know the answer's out there somewhere," he said, "and if you don't find it, you know it's your own fault. It's exact."

Early, who majored in physics and math, went to Idaho last summer and spent 11 weeks at Argonne-West where he participated in the Argonne Laboratory Summer Undergraduate Research Program.

"That's where some of the most creative people in the country are," Early said, and his main priority was work experience. He successfully completed research in the Computer Applications Group of the Hot Fuel Examination Facility (HFEF) at the Nuclear Engineering Institute, and his overall job performance was rated "Excellent."

He was busy last semester, carrying 18 semester hours, holding a part-time job, working in the Physics lab and assisting with a robotics project now in the works.

"It didn't leave much time," he says, "but it really doesn't seem like work since I'm doing what I enjoy most - working with computers."

His plans for the future include a master's degree in electrical engineering or computer science and exploring problem-solving techniques and computer systems analysis and design.

"I sort of drifted into computers," says Early, "Career wise, I'll probably go into systems programming."

His objective is to help others find answers.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Early of Clearfield.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- When college instructor Lori Horner needed some films to show her students in consumer skills and family living, she turned to the film library at Morehead State University's Camden-Carröll Library.

"It's exceptional," says the Maysville Community College instructor. "It makes access to good films easy and it's inexpensive for me to just pick them up."

A Morehead resident, Ms. Horner borrowed several films on "almost every subject" during the past year, fitting them into her classroom instruction.

Since the library obtained the more than 1,700 films a year ago, the response has been "tremendous," according to Helen Williams, librarian. The film lending library receives about 75 requests a week for the films, which were given to MSU last summer by the Kentucky Department of Human Resources.

The 16-millimeter sound films concentrate on physical and mental health with topics as diverse as schizophrenia, radiation fallout, skateboard safety, adolescent first love and cholesterol. Intended audiences range from pre-school children to medical and psychiatric professionals.

Jeannette Fannin, Rowan County High School teacher, has used nearly 20 films from the library in her health classes and to supplement an occupational internship program in which high school students work in the community for class credit.

"You have to use audio-visual aids sometimes, rather than just lecture," she says. "They've been real good films, particularly in health."

Unlike Ms. Horner, the majority of the borrowers are not local. Nearly 75 percent of the requests are by mail from all over the state, according to Ms. Williams.

(more)

Films
2-2-2-2

And not all the borrowers are teachers. Regular users include schools, comprehensive care centers, hospitals, colleges, health departments, camps and fire departments, Ms. Williams added.

Among the most popular films are those in a medical self-help series--including first aid and child care topics--and films on cardiopulmonary resuscitation and child abuse.

The film library also includes 190 videocassettes on all aspects of pre-natal, neo-natal and infant care. These are "very technical," says Ms. Williams and are often used in MSU's nursing program.

A catalog of the film library's holdings is available to borrowers. It includes a synopsis of each film, quality ratings and recommended audience educational level.

Additional information is available from Helen Williams, Film Lending Library, Camden-Carroll Library, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 783-4797.

####

7-13-82ag

MEMORANDUM

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY 40351

DATE: July 16, 1982
TO: News Media
FROM: Sharon Crouch-Farmer, Coordinator of News Services
RE: Notice of Meeting of Board of Regents

Please be advised that the Morehead State University Board of Regents will meet Wednesday, July 21, at 10 a.m. in the Riggle Room of the Adron Doran University Center.

If your organization is planning to cover the meeting, please contact our Office of News Services, (606) 783-3325, so that we can prepare sufficient copies of the agenda and related documents.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- It happens each summer while most Morehead State University students are away on vacations and jobs.

Their senior counterparts, in search of knowledge, come to MSU for Elderhostel.

This summer, elderhosteling was again a first-hand look at Appalachia and Kentucky for more than 80 people from across the country.

The "hostelers" are people 60 years of age or over interested in learning the folk culture, history and heritage of the Appalachian region.

"Back in my college days, I wrote a paper on the folklore of the Southern Highlands," says Park Newcombe, a retired United Methodist minister. "Ever since then, we've had an interest in and been curious about this area."

Newcombe and wife Frances are from Kissimmee, Fla. --"Michigan transplants," he explains. The couple attended one of two weeklong elderhostels at MSU to learn more about Appalachia and its people.

"We're enjoying the classes very much," said Mrs. Newcombe. "Our teachers are native Appalachians. They have a better understanding of the region, and they are interested in helping us understand."

In addition to classroom education, participants of the first elderhostel learned about music, literature, crafts and dances of the region during MSU's Appalachian Celebration. Those attending the second session toured Kentucky historical sites each day following classes.

(more)

MSU's elderhostels are part of an international network of more than 500 schools offering special low-cost, short-term residential learning programs to older adults.

"Registrations are taken nationally beginning in February," says George Eyster, MSU's director of continuing education. "Our programs are filled up the very first day."

Eyster credits the staff and the Appalachian subject matter for elderhostel's popularity at MSU.

"The people who present the programs are very good. Those who attend often have some association with the area in their heritage or they are craftspeople who come for the Appalachian Celebration."

Majorie Tuttle of Cranford, N.J., who attended elderhostel with husband Max, has felt ties to the region since she began sending clothing to a social services group aiding low-income families in Appalachia.

She found MSU's elderhostel course to be a real eye-opener.

"It helps separate the fact from fiction," Mrs. Tuttle explains. "When you think about Appalachia, from what you've heard you think of a depressed area. That's not necessarily true. There have been many changes in this region."

Of elderhostel, she adds, "I love the classes, and I'm having so much fun."

###

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The Morehead State University Board of Regents authorized the establishment of the Wilhelm Exelbirt Distinguished Lectureship in action here Wednesday.

The title honors the professor emeritus of history, Wilhelm Exelbirt, who was the first recipient of the MSU Distinguished Faculty Award presented in 1964. The lectureship will be funded through the MSU Foundation, Inc.

The board also administered the oath of office to three new members, including Dr. Forest M. Skaggs of Lynch, Mr. Harry LaViers of Irvine and Donna Totich of Morehead. Ms. Totich holds the seat of student regent as president of the MSU Student Association. She is a senior majoring in clothing and textiles.

In other action, the Regents:

*Approved the transfer of WMKY Radio Station from the Bureau of Academic Affairs to the Bureau of University and Regional Services.

*Approved the establishment of an Instructional and Faculty Development Center to aid in maintaining quality instruction at MSU.

*Authorized the establishment of a Professors Emeriti Center for promoting the continuation of personal, social and professional relationships of retired faculty.

*Announced their compliance with House Bills 537 and 622 in certain financial management and retirement regulations.

*Okayed several personnel actions, including the appointments of Dr. Donald Cunningham to acting head of the Department of Languages and Literature, Dr. Robert Meadows as head of the Department of Management and Marketing, and Harriett E. Whitley as coordinator of nursing.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Sports camps, cheerleading camps and music camps have long been a common denominator in the summers of many youth.

In recent years, inputs and programming have joined the traditional athletic workouts, pom poms and trombones.

"I'm thinking about a future in computer programming, but I've never worked on them before," says 15-year-old Lisa Williams, a participant in this summer's computer camps at Morehead State University.

"That's why I came here--to see if I'm interested."

Ms. Williams, a West Liberty resident, joins more than 80 other junior high and high school students taking part in four one-week camps at MSU, and most have similar reasons for coming.

"People are becoming more and more interested in computers," says Ted Pack, MSU instructor of mathematics.

The camp includes 30 hours of instruction in programming computers and computer language.

Other than those in an advanced camp, these students basically have no background in computers.

"Some have computers in their homes, but they don't know about programming," Pack notes.

Camp participants Michael Briggs and Jon Lake, both of Stanton, will be Powell County High School sophomores this year. Lake's father is a math teacher at the high school.

(more)

"He has a computer in his classroom," says Briggs. "We work on it some during breaks or between classes. We came down here to learn more about them."

Camp participants work on microcomputers, which have keyboards similar to typewriters and screens where their programs appear in green or bluish-white letters. Two students share each computer.

Pack assigns them exercise programs such as one to figure the amount of floorspace in a house and the cost of carpeting it.

"It can be confusing sometimes, but I'm learning a lot," says Richard Bailey of West Liberty. The Morgan County High School senior is attending the camp because he "may have to use a computer some day."

And Bailey is preparing for that. He's taking an advanced math course at MCHS next fall which uses a computer.

"My dad has a computer at home," says Mark Brengelman of Morehead, son of Dr. Russell Brengelman, MSU professor of physics. "He's worked some physics problems on it, and I've used it some. But this is the first time I've ever written programs. I'm having fun and learning a lot."

The Rowan County High School sophomore is unsure about his future career, but says it will "probably be an area in which computers will be used."

Pack agrees.

"Everyone, somewhere down the line, is going to be involved with working with computers."

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A Morehead State University student recently placed sixth in competition at the Phi Beta Lambda National Leadership Conference.

Rick Cundiff of Olive Hill earned sixth place in business administration during the Indianapolis conference.

Other MSU students participating in the conference included Lisa Evans, Huff Hammond and Tim Sublett of Olive Hill; Bobby Hamilton and Danny Watts of Morehead; Terry Clark and Bill Stone of Vanceburg; Robin Buckland of Flatwoods; Cheryl Thomas of Somerset and Marty Brown of Corbin.

Helen Northcutt, assistant professor of business education, is advisor of MSU's Phi Beta Lambda, a national business organization for post-secondary students.

7-22-82agf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

SPECIAL TO KENTUCKY BUSINESS LEDGER

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- At Morehead State University, obtaining a degree in business is more than classwork.

The School of Business and Economics at MSU offers programs of study at the associate, bachelor and master's degree levels, as well as a one-year program in clerical and secretarial studies.

But that is not what makes the program so unique. Special activities have been added to the course offerings to aid students in gaining actual business experience and to introduce them to leaders in the field.

"We feel that a hands-on type of experience is invaluable to our students," says Dr. William Whitaker, dean. "In the past five years, we have tried to move in that direction by adding five new activities to help bridge the gap between the classroom and industry."

The variety of field career experiences available includes the Small Business Institute, Management Internship Program, the Data Processing Field Project and VITA Tax Service.

In each of these activities, the student actually works with public agencies or private businesses, receiving college credit and work experience.

For example, 29 MSU seniors enrolled in the data processing field project last spring and were put into actual work situations around campus and in community small businesses. The projects ranged from robotics to the collection of economic information on a data base.

The VITA Tax Service involves students in doing actual short-form tax returns for low-income families, under faculty supervision.

(more)

Through the American Institute of Bankers (AIB) training program, the Egyptian Training Program and the MBA Off-Campus Program, MSU offers additional training to those currently employed in areas of business throughout the region.

The AIB Program offers ten training courses each year to bankers in Eastern Kentucky. The Egyptian Training program provides coursework in basic business skills to groups of Egyptian nationals, and the MSU Off-Campus Program allows area business people to continue their education close to home.

Other technical assistance is offered to teachers, bankers, realtors and other businessmen in Eastern Kentucky through the Center for Economic Education, the Real Estate Chair and the Kilpatrick Chair of Banking.

MSU's School of Business and Economics also brings industry leaders to campus through seminars and conferences. These include the Future Business Leaders of America Conference, the Business Education Conference and the Executive-In-Residence Program.

Through the Executive-In-Residence Program, more than eight executives from regional corporations visit the classrooms to lead informal "rap" sessions or workshops.

At MSU, classwork and experiences go hand in hand to enhance education and prepare students for a future in the world of business.

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

by VICKI HEATH
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Would you watch television for credit?

"No skills are required, just the skills you've gained from a lifetime in front of a television set," says Dr. Michael Biel, assistant professor of radio-television at Morehead State University.

Taught as an experimental workshop, this is only the second time "The History of Television" class has been offered. It's cataloged as a radio-television elective, but is open to both majors and non-majors.

"Today's students are too young to remember, and regular broadcasting classes don't impart enough of what early television was like. You need to actually sit down and watch it," Dr. Biel said.

"The past two decades have been an important turning point in the learning of television, the time span ranging from 1949 to 1964. My students more or less remember the mid-sixties on," he added.

Dr. Biel has a large collection which he utilizes for the class to demonstrate situation comedies, musical variety, documentaries, dramatics, East vs. West Coast influences, programs recorded live and those in which film editing was not possible. His collection includes several thousand video tracks ranging from live coverage of events, plus early "Laugh-In," "All in the Family," and "The Smothers Brothers" just to name a few.

(more)

Television Class
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

"The main feature of this class," explained Dr. Biel, "is that there is no other way to see this quantity of early television. In fact, the only possible way would be to either go to UCLA, the Library of Congress, National Archives, Museum of Broadcasting or possibly through private collectors," he explained.

Dr. Biel hopes that video is preserved.

"The facts, voice, and the picture, because people who have never seen a show such as "Laugh-In" wouldn't understand it without the video."

"My memories of early television go back to 1950-51 shows," says the native New Yorker.

So from a historical standpoint, he can tell you about it firsthand.

####

7-29-82vh

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A Morehead teacher has completed a graduate-level economics course offered by Morehead State University's Center for Economic Education.

More than 20 teachers and other Eastern Kentuckians took the course this summer on tuition scholarship grants. The grants were donated to the center by Ashland Oil, Beth-Elkhorn Coal, Kentucky Bankers Association and the Kentucky Council for Economic Education.

Among those completing the course was Phyllis Quisard, Morehead Grade School teacher.

7-30-82ag

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Walter G. Emge, Morehead State University's vice president for academic affairs, will be the featured speaker at MSU's summer commencement on Friday, Aug. 6.

More than 300 persons are candidates for associate, bachelor's or graduate degrees during the 10 a.m. ceremony at the Academic-Athletic Center.

MSU's chief academic officer since September, 1981, Dr. Emge previously served as vice president and dean of the college at Transylvania University and as an administrator and faculty member at Duke University and Boston University.

Dr. Emge holds degrees from Yale University, the University of Toronto and Bellarmine College. He is a native of Evansville, Ind.

Dr. Adron Doran of Lexington, president emeritus of MSU, will deliver the invocation and benediction. Music will be provided by Jay Flippin and Vasile Venettozzi.

#####

8-2-82

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The return to school and a full schedule of opening week activities will highlight the month of August at Morehead State University.

Registration for fall semester classes begins Monday, Aug. 23. Classes start Thursday, Aug. 26, at 8 a.m. Monday, Aug. 30, is the last day to register for a full load.

Residence halls open on Sunday, Aug. 22. MSU President Morris L. Norfleet is hosting a reception for new students and their parents at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Adron Doran University Center. A second reception for new students is scheduled Tuesday, Aug. 24, at 8 p.m.

A number of activities will be available for students during their first week on campus, including a talent show, free billiards, a movie, a dance, an antique picture show, a cookout, the annual Lambda Chi Alpha Watermelon Bust and a talk and demonstration by caricaturist Steve Gipson.

August also marks the last summer camps on the MSU campus this year. The final band camp will be Aug. 8-14. A volleyball camp will be held Aug. 11-13.

####

8-6-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- On the 37th anniversary of the Hiroshima bombing, Dr. Walter G. Emge, Morehead State University's vice president for academic affairs, spoke of civilization's future at the graduation of more than 300 MSU students here Friday.

Noting the "pessimistic view that the bomb will come and there will be nothing," Dr. Emge said humanity's destruction is possible "not because man has not been creative in a material sense, but because mankind is not creative in human and social relations."

He referred to modern technological successes, contrasting them with mankind's inability to resolve conflicts in Northern Ireland and the Middle East or to improve the relationship between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

"Your generation has been characterized as present-oriented," Dr. Emge told the summer graduates. "I hope this is not the full truth. If there is to be a future for you and for me, we must courageously create it."

A native of Evansville, Ind., Dr. Emge is a former vice president and dean of the college at Transylvania University. He holds degrees from Yale University, the University of Toronto and Bellarmine College.

Dr. Adron Doran of Lexington, president emeritus of MSU, delivered the invocation and benediction.

####

8-6-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Ronda Lynne Cline of Mansfield, Ohio, has been named as a resident advisor in a residence hall at Morehead State University.

The senior special education major will serve her appointment in Nunn Hall.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cline.

8-6-82ag

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A doubleheader of unique sports classes is being offered beginning in late August at Morehead State University.

"Sports in History" and "Sociology of Sports," both taught in MSU's School of Social Sciences, are included in the fall semester schedule.

The sports history course "traces the influence of sports in society from the ancient Greeks to the modern age," says Dr. Charles Holt, professor of history.

"Usually when you study history, you look at the leadership--the kings, queens and presidents--but this class looks at the average person in sports."

For example, the Greek idea was "every citizen having good physical health. They emphasized track and field, and they competed in the nude."

The Romans' bloody coliseum battles and chariot races had a different purpose, explains Dr. Holt. "These sports were designed to pacify an underemployed urban mass."

Dr. Holt localizes the class discussion with tidbits culled from old area newspapers. The first basketball electric timeclock, he discovered by searching old papers, was used at Morehead State Teachers College in the mid-1930's.

Course topics include religion and sports, women in sports, sports outside the U.S. and the impact of industrialization and technology on sports.

While the history course deals mostly with the past, "Sociology of Sports" takes the student into the values of today's American sports.

(more)

"The class interprets American society by way of sports," says Dr. Mont Whitson, professor of sociology.

"In this class, I teach sociology using sports as a vehicle. The students can then learn about social stratification and culture in a less abstract way."

Students investigate the American Sports Creed, "the beliefs most Americans have about sports," says Dr. Whitson. The creed says sports participation develops good character, loyalty, self-control, altruism, physical fitness and mental alertness.

People today are questioning the creed, says Dr. Whitson, because of extreme competition which has lead to economic troubles in sports, drug and alcohol use among athletes, college recruitment scandals and other problems.

"Sports mirror our society," he explains. "They mirror our competition. They mirror our violence and endorse it.

"Sports are good if not taken to the extreme of supporting violence, over-commercialization, or demanding too much of athletes."

The students also look at alternatives to today's sports organization, says Dr. Whitson, such as more community sports, less emphasis on competition and more equality among classes, races and sexes.

Both professors have special interests in sports outside their classrooms. Dr. Holt was once a junior college basketball coach and Dr. Whitson is an avid racquetball player.

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Lt. Col. Bruce Miller has been named professor of military science at Morehead State University with responsibility for administering MSU's Army ROTC program.

A native of Boston, Mass., Lt. Col. Miller was formerly assistant inspector general at Ft. Knox.

During his service with the U.S. Army, he has been awarded the Bronze Star, Meritorious Service Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Vietnamese Medal of Honor and the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry.

Lt. Col. Miller holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Maryland and a master's in public administration from Western Kentucky University.

He is married to Louise A. Miller of Johnstown, Pa. They have three daughters.

####

8-10-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Morehead State University is offering four courses in Maysville during the 1982 fall semester.

Registration will be at Maysville Community College's auditorium on Thursday, Aug. 26, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS --- MKT 650, Marketing Administration.

EDUCATION --- EDEL 680, History and Philosophy of Education; EDGC 619, Organization and Administration of Career Education; EDSE 683, American Secondary School.

A $25 late registration fee will be charged for registration after Aug. 26. Sept. 7 is the last day to register for credit.

For additional information, contact David.L. Kraemer at (606) 759-7141.

8-10-82ag

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Morehead State University is offering 21 courses in Pikeville during the 1982 fall semester.

Registration will be at Pikeville College's Armington Science Building on Thursday, Aug. 26, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

EDUCATION --- EDAD 645, Principles of Education Administration; EDEL 627, Reading in the Elementary School; EDEL 630, Curriculum Construction; EDEL 680, History and Philosophy of Education; EDGC 580, Measurement Principles and Techniques; EDGC 666A, Techniques of Counseling: Elementary Counselors; EDGC 666B, Techniques of Counseling: Secondary Counselors; EDGC 666C, Techniques of Counseling: Community Counselors; EDSE 683, American Secondary Schools; EDSP 601, Survey of Exceptional Children; EDUC 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development; HLTH 508, General School Safety; PSY 559, Behavior Modification; PSY 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development.

HUMANITIES --- ART 555, Advanced Art Problems.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS --- BIOL 599, Workshop: Taxidermy of Birds and Mammals.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- GEO 600, Political Geography; GOVT 600, Seminar: State and Local Government; HIS 550, The World, 1914-1939; HIS 643, Seminar: Appalachian History; SOC 510, Principles of Sociology.

A $25 late registration fee will be charged for registration after Aug. 26. Sept. 7 is the last day to register for credit.

For additional information, contact Charles Francis at (606) 432-9391.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Morehead State University is offering 39 courses in Ashland during the 1982 fall semester.

Registration will be in Central Office Building at 17th and Central Ave. on Thursday, Aug. 26, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

APPLIED SCIENCES AND TECHNOLOGY --- IET 320, Supervisory Practices; IET 391, Trade and Technical Analysis Techniques; IET 399, Advanced Electronics; IET 399, Advanced Projection Theory; MIN 303 Mine Laws and Management; WEL 399, Advanced Welding Theory; IET 488, Machine Shop II; IET 488L Machine Shop II Lab; IET 497, Seminar in Vocational Education; IET 399, Workshop for VICA Advisers; IET 599, Workshop for VICA Advisers.

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS --- ACCT 500, Survey of Accounting; ECON 545, Industrial Organization & Public Policy; ECON 661 Managerial Accounting; FIN 660, Financial Management; MNGT 500, Survey of Management and Marketing; MNGT 619, Business Policy and Strategy; MNGT 620, Quantitative Business Analysis.

EDUCATION --- EDAD 599, Workshop: Community Relations; EDAD 691, School and the Public; EDEL 630, Curriculum Construction; EDEL 632, Elementary School Curriculum; EDGC 656, Principles of Guidance; EDGC 666A, Techniques of Counseling: Elementary Counselors; EDGC 666B Techniques of Counseling: Secondary Counselors; EDGC 666C Techniques of Counseling: Community Counselors; EDSE 634, Secondary School Curriculum; EDSP 601, Survey of Exceptional Children; EDUC 600, Research Methods; EDUC 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development; HLTH 518, Use and Abuse of Drugs; PSY 590, Abnormal Psychology; PSY 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development.

(more)

Ashland courses 2-2-2-2

HUMANITIES --- ENG 591, Technical Writing I; ENG 592, Technical Writing II; SPCH 370, Business and Professional Speech.

SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS --- SCI 580, History of Science.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- SOC 510, Principles of Sociology; GEO 505, Conservation of Natural Resources.

A $25 late registration fee will be charged for registration after Aug. 26. Sept. 7 is the last day to register for credit.

For additional information, contact Ray McCann at (606) 329-9777.

8-10-82ag

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Morehead State University is offering eight courses in Jackson during the 1982 fall semester.

Registration will be at Lees Junior College's auditorium on Thursday, Aug. 26, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

EDUCATION --- EDAD 628, School Law; EDEL 680, History and Philosophy of Education; EDGC 580, Measurement Principles and Techniques; EDSE 683, American Secondary School; EDUC 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development; HLTH 518, Use and Abuse of Drugs; PSY 600, Seminar: Psychological Services in the School; PSY 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development.

A $25 late registration fee will be charged for registration after Aug. 26. Sept. 7 is the last day to register for credit.

For additional information, contact Dr. Ted Edmonds at (606) 666-4431.

8-10-82ag

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Morehead State University is offering 11 courses in Whitesburg during the 1982 fall semester.

Registration will be at Whitesburg Elementary School on Thursday, Aug. 26, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

EDUCATION --- EDEL 627, Reading in Elementary School; EDEL 630, Curriculum Construction; EDSE 634, Secondary School Curriculum; EDUC 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development; PHED 604, History and Principles of Physical Education; PHED 606, Physiological Effects of Motor Activity; PSY 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development; EDSP 606, Communication Disorders.

HUMANITIES --- ENG 652, 20th Century English Literature.

SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS --- SCI 570, Earth Science.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- HIS 610, American Biography.

A $25 late registration fee will be charged for registration after Aug. 26. Sept. 7 is the last day to register for credit.

For additional information, contact Bernard Watts at (606) 633-4426.

8-10-82ag

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Morehead State University is offering 15 courses in Prestonsburg during the 1982 fall semester.

Registration will be at Prestonsburg Community College's auditorium on Thursday, Aug. 26, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

APPLIED SCIENCES AND TECHNOLOGY --- MIN 304, Mine Systems Technology.

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS --- FIN 501, Survey of Finance

EDUCATION --- EDAC 652, The Community School; EDAD 629, Role of the Administrator; EDAD 696, Secondary School Principal; EDEL 630, Curriculum Construction; EDGC 656, Principles of Guidance; EDGC 665, Program Organization and Informational Systems; EDSE 634, Secondary School Curriculum; EDSP 557, Curriculum for Elementary Exceptional Children; EDUC 600, Research Methods; HLTH 508, General School Safety; PSY 590 Abnormal Psychology.

HUMANITIES --- ENG 611, Grammar Composition, Listening, Oral Skills, and Literature for Grades 1-8.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- SOC 525, The Community.

A $25 late registration fee will be charged for registration after Aug. 26. Sept. 7 is the last day to register for credit.

For additional information, contact James Ratcliff at (606) 886-3863.

8-10-82ag

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Robert E. Meadows of New Wilmington, Pa., has been named head of Morehead State University's Department of Management and Marketing.

He holds doctoral and master's degrees from Kent State University and a bachelor's from Ohio University.

A native of Norwood, Ohio, Dr. Meadows previously taught at Westminster College in New Wilmington, where he was chairman of the Midwest AIDS Small College Committee. He also served in management positions with Firestone Tire and Rubber Co..

Dr. Meadows is married to the-former Joan Nierman of Cincinnati, Ohio. They have five children.

####

8-10-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Jacquelyn Harden McCullough of Terre Haute, Ind., has been named head of Morehead State University's Department of Home Economics.

She holds a doctorate from Purdue University and bachelor's and master's degrees from Indiana State University.

A member of Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Omicron Phi and the Network of Executive Women, Dr. McCullough comes to MSU from Indiana University at Bloomington where she was an assistant professor and coordinator of fashion merchandising.

She also has served as editor of the "Annual Report of Textile and Clothing Utilization Research" at Texas Woman's University in Denton, Texas, and the Alumni Newsletter of the School of Home Economics at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

The new department head is married to Claude R. McCullough. They have two children.

####

8-10-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Andrew C. Boston of Divernon, Ill., has been named head of Morehead State University's Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Boston came to MSU from Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, where he was chief of record of performance for beef cattle in Agriculture Canada.

A member of Phi Kappa Phi, Gamma Sigma Delta agriculture honor society, and numerous professional organizations, Dr. Boston holds a doctoral degree from the University of Illinois, a master's from the University of Missouri and a bachelor's from Oklahoma State University.

He has written more than 100 articles and publications on specialized topics in agriculture.

Dr. Boston is married to the former Mary LaVerne Lebus of Cynthiana. They have two children.

###

8-10-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Andrew C. Boston of Pawnee, Ill., has been named head of Morehead State University's Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Boston came to MSU from Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, where he was chief of record of performance for beef cattle in Agriculture Canada.

A member of Phi Kappa Phi, Gamma Sigma Delta agriculture honor society, and numerous professional organizations, Dr. Boston holds a doctoral degree from the Oklahoma State University, a master's from the University of Missouri and a bachelor's from the University of Illinois.

He has written more than 100 articles and publications on specialized topics in agriculture.

Dr. Boston is married to the former Mary LaVerne Lebus of Cynthiana. They have two children.

####

8-12-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Child Development Laboratory is accepting applications for children aged 3-5 years for the fall semester.

The laboratory provides child care service from 7:45 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in MSU's Lloyd Cassity Building.

"We provide learning activities to stimulate the child's thinking, as well as recreational activities," explains Karen Hammons, laboratory instructor. "We have a full-time teacher and a full-time assistant on staff."

The program is limited to 20 children with four vacancies for the fall term.

Classes begin Monday, Aug. 23.

Additional information is available from Ms. Hammons at 783-3231 or 784-7479.

8-13-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- If you are a high school senior or junior with an interest in computers, Morehead State University has plans for you this fall.

Mathematics 199, Introduction to Microcomputers, will be offered on Friday nights and Saturdays for five consecutive weekends, starting Aug. 27.

The course carries three semester hours of credit and will meet on Fridays from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Dr. Glenn Johnston, head of MSU's Department of Mathematical Sciences, said the weekend course was developed in response to the "overwhelming" interest in the MSU Computer Camp which had overflow enrollments this summer.

The course will be taught by Ted Pack, instructor of mathematics, and will meet in Room 226 of Lappin Hall. Enrollment is limited to 24 persons.

Cost of the class will be $90 for tuition and a nominal fee for materials. Rooms will be available in campus residence halls for students who live beyond commuting distance.

Registration will be conducted at the first class meeting. The course ends Sept. 25.

Additional information is available from Dr. Johnston at MSU, UPO Box 701, Morehead, KY 40351.

#####

8-13-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The opportunity to "run for your life" is again being offered at Morehead State University, in cooperation with the Morehead Clinic.

Registration for the adult fitness program will be Aug. 23-27 in Room 158 of the Academic-Athletic Center.

The program, first offered last spring, enables participants to understand the potential benefits of exercise, according to Dr. Mike Brown, associate professor of health, physical education and recreation.

The 15-week course includes loosening up, stretching, running and jogging exercises. Each participant is required to have a physical examination at the Morehead Clinic and receive Dr. Richard Carpenter's approval before beginning the course.

Participants then are tested for fitness, body fat, flexibility and strength at MSU's Human Fitness Laboratory.

"With this fitness profile we know where we can start," says Dr. Brown. "We can prescribe a program of strength, flexibility and cardio-vascular exercises."

The program is geared to each participant's physical capabilities. "We go slow at first, then build from there," says Dr. Brown. "We never go over 75 percent of the aerobic capacity of a person's body. We are able to prescribe the proper distance, duration and speed for running or walking."

Following the course, participants will be tested again to see what progress they make in fitness. The post-tests also "determine future exercise guidelines," adds Dr. Brown.

(more)

Fitness Course
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

The one-hour course meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5:30 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center. Persons 18 or older are eligible.

The $100 fee covers the physical examination, exercise testing, textbooks and T-shirts. The fee for previous participants is $25.

The registration deadline is Aug. 31.

Additional information is available from Dr. Mike Brown, MSU, UPO 724, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 783-2120.

####

8-13-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Typewriters with memories. Keyboards which type on television-like screens. Office dictating machines which do more than just talk.

These are a few of the innovations which are rapidly changing the modern business office, according to Dr. Louise Hickman, head of Morehead State University's Department of Information Sciences.

Dr. Hickman taught a five-week word processing workshop recently to familiarize secretaries and business educators with the equipment and new techniques of sending written messages.

"We have always processed words, ever since the first person wrote something down," she says. "We've gotten to the point where a secretary can only take so many words a minute in shorthand and can only type so many words a minute."

Technological advances, however, have "increased the amount of work produced," adds Dr. Hickman. "All major businesses are going to the more modern word processing equipment."

Julie Combs, one of four Ashland Oil secretaries from Lexington who attended the workshop, says learning to use equipment such as a microcomputer video terminal is "very important."

"Compared with a regular typewriter, it's great," she added.

"It's also more fun and interesting?" adds Marjorie Van Horn, another Ashland Oil secretary.

(more)

The difference is that microcomputers permit secretaries to make corrections more easily. Nothing is printed on paper until the copy is error-free. Words, sentences and paragraphs can be deleted, added or re-arranged with the push of a few keys. And messages which may be used again can be stored in memory.

"Even small businesses are going to them because they're quicker and easier," says Jan Burge, an August business education graduate from Carter City.

"Word processing is the coming thing," notes Joan Glass of Owenton. The Gallatin County High School business teacher attended the workshop "so I can teach my students what to expect."

Betty Philley, secretary in MSU's School of Applied Sciences and Technology, says she "learned a lot" in the workshop.

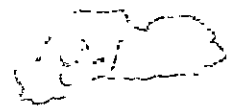

"Offices are changing," she notes, "But the human element is still important. The input has to be created by a person. People have to know how to use the machines."

#####

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

317 ALLIE YOUNG HALL
MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY 40351
TELEPHONE 606-783-3325

To Chronicle of Higher Education

GAZETTE SECTION

Dr. Andrew C. Boston, chief of record of performance for beef cattle in Agriculture Canada to head of the department of agriculture at Morehead State University.

Dr. Robert E. Meadows, assistant professor of economics and business at Westminster College to head of the department of management and marketing at Morehead State University.

Dr. Jacquelyn Harden McCullough, from assistant professor and coordinator of fashion merchandising at Indiana University at Bloomington to head of the department of home economics at Morehead State University.

Eugene Norden, from assistant professor of music and director of marching band to director of bands at Morehead State University.

Keith Kappes, from director of public affairs to director of public affairs and development at Morehead State University.

8-19-82

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A Pulitzer Prize-winning author, a former Presidential candidate, an anti-nuclear weapons activist and a national media lobbyist are coming to Morehead State University as guest lecturers during the 1982-83 school year.

Alex Haley, the author of "Roots," the best selling book in U.S. publishing history, will appear in Button Auditorium on Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 10 a.m. His topic will be "The Future of The Family."

Haley, who also has received the National Book Award, is the first person selected to deliver the Wilhelm Exelbirt Distinguished Lecture at MSU.

The lectureship was established by the MSU Board of Regents with funds provided by the MSU Foundation, Inc., in honor of Dr. Wilhelm Exelbirt, professor emeritus of history and the first recipient of MSU's Distinguished Faculty Award.

Former U.S. Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1972, will be the 1983 Founders Day lecturer at 10:20 a.m. on Thursday, March 17, in Button Auditorium. His topic will be "The Arms Race vs. The Human Race."

A former congressman and senator from South Dakota, McGovern holds a doctorate in history. He recently founded "Americans for Common Sense," in opposition to what he describes as "the new wave of radical conservatism."

Dr. Roger C. Molander, the executive director of "Ground Zero," a nuclear war education project, will appear at MSU on Thursday, Nov. 4. The topic of his 10:20 a.m. lecture in Button Auditorium will be "Nuclear War -- What's In It For You?".

(more)

Haley, McGovern
2-2-2-2-2-2-2

A former member of the National Security Council who served under three presidents, Dr. Molander holds a doctorate in applied physics and engineering from the University of California at Berkeley.

While working in the White House and earlier for the Secretary of Defense, he was primarily responsible for strategic nuclear policy issues, including analysis of material for the SALT negotiations.

Lecturing on Wednesday, Feb. 23, at 10:20 a.m. will be Nicholas Johnson, head of the National Citizens Communications. His topic will be "The Communications Revolution."

A former administrator of the U.S. Maritime Administration, Johnson gained national attention during his seven years on the FCC as a consumer advocate who frequently criticized the networks for abuses of their public trust.

An attorney specializing in communications law, Johnson has written three successful books dealing with technological changes and communications.

All four lectures are free and open to the public.

The programs are sponsored by the MSU Concert and Lecture Series Committee which is chaired by Dr. Sue Luckey, professor of business education.

####

8-20-81scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO-BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University offices will be closed and classes dismissed on Monday, Sept. 6, in observance of Labor Day.

Office hours and classes resume at 8 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 7.

8-23-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Sportsview '82, a new sports magazine show, premieres Friday, August 27, at 9 p.m. on WMKY, public radio from Morehead State University.

The two-hour program will include live reports on area high school football games, with coaches interviews, OVC previews, and other sports features.

"Our objective is to provide regional coverage of the majority of high school football games instead of featuring just one specific game like we've done in the past," explained Rick Hesterberg, WMKY sports director.

According to Hesterberg, "Sportsview '82" will be unique. Reporters have been set up throughout Eastern Kentucky to call in live reports of various games. Unusual and non-traditional sports features also will be included.

"We will have special guests such as MSU Head Football Coach Steve Loney from time to time," Hesterberg added.

"Sportsview '82" will be broadcast each Friday at 9 p.m. during the football season.

####

8-27-82bh

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Doc is coming to MSU this fall!

Doc Severinsen, musical director of the "Tonight Show" on NBC, is performing Saturday, Sept. 18, as the feature attraction of Parents Weekend 1982 at Morehead State University.

Severinsen and his jazz fusion band, Xebron, will be in concert at 8:30 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center, according to a joint announcement by Donna Totich, president of the MSU Student Association, and Dr. and Mrs. Tom Fossett, co-presidents of the MSU Parents Association.

Acclaimed as a performer on the trumpet and flugelhorn, Severinsen also has been honored as an arranger and conductor. In a recent national poll, he was voted the best known musician in the U.S.

A popular entertainer on college campuses, Severinsen has reduced his schedule of nightclub and symphony orchestra solo performances to concentrate on playing with Xebron, a five-piece band he organized recently. The band's music is composed by its members.

Severinsen has been a fixture on the "Tonight Show" since 1967 and has been voted the Top Brass Instrumentalist for 10 consecutive years in the prestigious Playboy Music Poll.

The concert will be open to the public under sponsorship of the Student Association. Admission is $5 at the door. Parents of MSU students will be admitted for $2.

Parents Weekend 1982 will include the MSU-Kentucky State football game, the annual meeting of the Parents Association, academic open houses and tours, boat excursions on Cave Run Lake and a golf tournament.

####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

(For Release at 11 a.m., Aug. 27, 1982)

INEZ, Ky. --- Standing on a surface-mined reclaimed mountaintop, officials of Martiki Mining Corp. and Morehead State University Friday announced a joint research and demonstration project to determine the feasibility of using such land for agricultural production.

"We are joining hands here today with the University and its outstanding agriculture faculty to develop a model farming operation which hopefully will allow thousands of acres of surface-mined land in Eastern Kentucky to be used profitably in the future for agricultural purposes," said Michael H. Vallez, vice president for East Kentucky operations of MAPCO, Inc., parent firm of Martiki.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet described the proposed Martiki-Morehead State Mountaintop Agricultural Complex as "a great opportunity for the University to cooperate with the mining industry to help this region's reclaimed land become the agricultural frontier of Kentucky."

He added:

"From an academic perspective, this joint venture will provide our students and faculty members with an ideal laboratory for applied research into the adaptability of various agricultural enterprises to reclaimed land."

Vallez announced that Martiki will spend about $250,000 this year for construction and operation of the first phase with MSU planning and managing the entire project under a 15-year lease arrangement.

(more)

Mountaintop
2-2-2-2-2-2

The 250-acre site is off Wolf Creek in Martin County, about nine miles southeast of Inez.

Plans call for the eventual development of swine, poultry and beef cattle facilities and for cultivation of row crops, orchard crops, greenhouse flowers and vegetables and forests for commercial wood products and wildlife habitat.

In addition to agriculture, the project also will involve MSU's students and faculty members in mining, reclamation and energy studies, according to Dr. Charles M. Derrickson, dean of the School of Applied Sciences and Technology.

U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins and State Natural Resources Secretary Jackie Swigart were among the more than 80 dignitaries attending the announcement ceremony at the grassy mountaintop site.

Mr. Bruce Wilson, MAPCO's Senior Vice President, said, "In light of increasing national concern over the loss of prime farmland and its potential impact on food production, we are confident that the success of this project will show that a stable economic system, based on agriculture, can flourish in these mountains after the mineral resources have been removed."

#####

8-27-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Parents Weekend 1982 and the opening of fall sports highlight the month of September at Morehead State University.

Mom and Dad will be on campus for several special events scheduled during Parents Weekend, Sept. 17-19. Highlighting the weekend will be the MSU-Kentucky State football game on Saturday, Sept. 18, at 1:30 p.m., followed by Doc Severinsen in concert at 8:30 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center.

Other activities include academic open houses and tours, the annual Parents Association meeting, boat rides on Cave Run Lake and a golf tournament.

Sports scheduled during the month include football with the Eagles hosting Franklin College on Sept. 11 and Kentucky State on Sept. 18.

The MSU women's volleyball team hosts Eastern Kentucky and Miami of Ohio on Sept. 15; Louisville on Sept. 21; and Northern Kentucky on Sept. 30.

The men's soccer team meets Northern Kentucky on Sept. 1; Georgetown on Sept. 11; Charleston on Sept. 15; and Centre on Sept. 25. The women's soccer team hosts Centre on Sept. 25 and Kentucky on Sept. 27.

Musical programs include a Student Association concert featuring Chris Bliss on Sept. 9 and Lexington's "The Bunch" on Sept. 27. Both will be in Button Auditorium.

An exhibit of paintings by Walter Hollis Stevens will be on display in the Claypool-Young Gallery through Sept. 28.

Conferences and workshops scheduled include the Statewide Displaced Homemakers Program Fall Conference on Sept. 9 and 10; the Eastern Kentucky

(more)

Monthly Preview
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Student Library Association on Sept. 29; and the Kentucky Press Association
Legal Advertising Workshop on Sept. 30.

The Bloodmobile will be at MSU on Sept. 28 and 29 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in Button Auditorium.

####

8-31-82scf

Tips

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

SEPTEMBER, 1982

News Coverage:

Kentucky Displaced Homemakers Program Fall Conference
Sept 9 and 10
Contact: Jackie Scott at (606) 783-2370.

Parents Weekend (Special activities plus concert by Doc Severinsen)
Sept. 18-20
Contact: Buford Crager at (606) 783-2070.

Eastern Kentucky Student Library Association
Sept. 29, Adron Doran University Center East Room
Contact: Faye Belcher, Camden-Carroll Library, at (606) 783-2142.

Kentucky Press Association Legal Advertising Seminar
Sept. 30, Adron Doran University Center Riggle Room
Contact: Don Armstrong at (502) 223-8821.

Feature Ideas:

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity is harvesting a record pepper crop at its farm on Ky. 32, three miles south of Morehead.
Contact: Martin Huffman, advisor, at (606) 783-2032 or Duncan Owens at (606) 783-1673.

MSU's School of Business and Economics will be initiating "Weekend College" at Ashland Community College, starting in mid-September.
Contact: Peggy Osborne at (606) 783-2183.

MSU's Department of Mathematical Sciences is offering a weekend course in microcomputers for high school seniors or juniors.
Contact: Dr. Glenn Johnston at (606) 783-2939.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will host a state-wide displaced homemakers conference, "Rural Kentucky Women Throughout the Eighties" on Sept. 9 and 10.

Highlighting the conference will be addresses by Allie Corbin Hixson, secretary of the National Women's Conference Committee and president of the Kentucky chapter of the American Association of University Women, and Col Owens, executive director of the Kentucky Legal Services Program.

Hixson will speak on "What's Ahead for Kentucky Women?--A Local and National Perspective" at a noon luncheon, on Sept 9, in the Red Room of the Adron Doran University Center.

Owens will address "The Feminization of Poverty" at 10 a.m., on Sept. 10, following a 9 a.m. continental breakfast in the Red Room.

Beginning at 1:30 p.m. on Sept. 9, the conference will feature employment opportunities in forestry, lumber, furniture and allied health industries. Conference participants will tour local industries.

Presentations include "Employment Opportunities for Rural Women in the Lumber Industry" by Gene White, owner and operator of White's Lumber Company; "Careers in Forestry" by Deborah Hill, extension specialist from University of Kentucky's Department of Forestry; "The Secondary Wood Industry" by Al Nicholson, a Rowan County entrepreneur who is developing a furniture manufacturing concern in Morehead; and "Opportunities for Women in Allied Health Services" by Charles Stamper, adjunct professor of MSU's allied health services.

(more)

Displaced Homemakers
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

At 5 p.m. Thursday, the film "You Pack Your Own Chute" will be shown at Reed Hall.

An evening picnic at Rodburn Park will follow with a 7 p.m. presentation on "Women in Country Music" by Carmine Bell of Northern Kentucky University. A group sing and special entertainment will conclude Thursday's activities.

Most conference activities will be open to the public.

Additional information or reservations are available at (606) 783-2379.

####

9-1-82bm

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

INEZ, Ky. --- Martiki Coal Corp. and Morehead State University have launched a joint research and demonstration project to determine the feasibility of using reclaimed mountaintop land for agricultural production.

"We have joined hands with the University and its outstanding agriculture faculty to develop a model farming operation which hopefully will allow thousands of acres of surface-mined land in Eastern Kentucky to be used profitably in the future for agricultural purposes," said Michael H. Vallez, vice president for East Kentucky operations of MAPCO, Inc., parent firm of Martiki. MAPCO is based in Tulsa, Okla.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet described the proposed Martiki-Morehead State Mountaintop Agricultural Complex as "a great opportunity for the University to cooperate with the mining industry to help this region's reclaimed land become the agricultural frontier of Kentucky."

He added:

"From an academic perspective, this joint venture will provide our students and faculty members with an ideal laboratory for applied research into the adaptability of various agricultural enterprises to reclaimed land."

Vallez announced that Martiki will spend about $250,000 this year for construction and operation of the first phase with MSU planning and managing the entire project under a 15-year lease arrangement.

Plans call for the eventual development of swine, poultry and beef cattle facilities and for cultivation of row crops, orchard crops, greenhouse flowers and vegetables and forests for commercial wood products and wildlife habitat.

(more)

Mountaintop
2-2-2-2-2-2-2

In addition to agriculture, the project also will involve MSU's students and faculty members in mining, reclamation and energy studies, according to Dr. Charles M. Derrickson, dean of the School of Applied Sciences and Technology.

Bruce Wilson, MAPCO's senior vice president, said of the project: "In light of increasing national concern over the loss of prime farmland and its potential impact on food production, we are confident that the success of this project will show that a stable economic system, based on agriculture, can flourish in these mountains after the mineral resources have been removed."

####

9-1-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- George Eyster, director of Morehead State University's Division of Continuing Education, has been awarded a Senior Fulbright Short-term Scholars Award by the Australian Council for Adult Literacy.

He received the award while attending the national conference of the Australian Council for Adult Literacy in Hobart, Tasmania, last month.

The Fulbright Award was the result of an earlier award, The Mohammed Raza Pahlavi Prize, presented to MSU in 1974 by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) for meritorious work in world literacy.

"MSU is the only college in the United States to receive the Pahlavi Prize," Eyster said. "The U.S. Department of Education nominates one agency a year. We were chosen because in 1969 we began a major research project to find new ways of raising the literacy level of adults in 13 Appalachian states. This project lasted 10 years."

During his four-week visit to Australia, Eyster also presented a series of 24 conferences and workshops on adult education to audiences which included the state minister of education, university adult educators, library science leaders and reading specialists, paid and volunteer teachers, and adult students.

Eyster spoke in Sydney, Brisbane, Adelaide, Perth, Melbourne, Wagga Wagga and Canberra.

(more)

George Eyster
2-2-2-2-2-2-2

"The response was tremendous," Eyster recalls. "Regarding adult education, Australia is at the same stage as the United States in 1969. They just now are becoming aware of the need for an adult literacy program. I tried to save them a lot of time in the trial and error period by showing them what worked and what didn't for us."

Eyster made the tour at the invitation of the Australian government.

###

9-2-82kb

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. David A. Ross of Felicity, Ohio, has been named assistant professor of industrial education at Morehead State University.

Dr. Ross holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Miami University of Ohio and a doctorate from the University of Cincinnati.

He is a member of the National Vocational Association, National Industrial Arts Association and the Southwest Industrial Arts Association.

He came to MSU from the Greenhills Forestpark School District in Somerville, Ohio.

Dr. Ross and his wife, Daria, have two children. He is the son of Byron and Georga Ross of Felicity, Ohio.

####

9-2-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will administer the National Teacher Examination (NTE) four times during the 1982-83 academic year, according to Dr. Steve Taylor, director of counseling, testing, and evaluation services.

The new NTE Core Battery, which tests communication skills, general knowledge, and professional knowledge, and will replace the Common Examinations, will be given Nov. 13 and March 5. MSU requires the Core Battery for all students preparing to teach.

On Oct. 30 and April 30, Specialty Area Tests for students completing teacher preparation programs and for advanced degree candidates in five fields--audiology, guidance counseling, media specialist, reading specialist, and speech pathology--will be administered.

Both the Core Battery and the Specialty Area Tests are scheduled in MSU's Ginger Hall from 8 a.m. until approximately 4:30 p.m. The Core Battery and a Specialty Area Test cannot be taken on the same day. NTE scores are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers. Several states use the tests for certification and licensing.

Additional information is available from Dr. Steve Taylor, 501 Ginger Hall, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 783-2526.

####

9-3-82kb

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Donald H. Cunningham, professor of English, has been named acting head of Morehead State University's Department of Languages and Literature.

A member of the MSU faculty since 1972, Dr. Cunningham temporarily succeeds Dr. Charles Pelfrey who is serving as interim dean of the School of Humanities.

Dr. Cunningham holds bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Missouri.

The author of numerous publications and articles, he also has served as consultant and writer for public and private agencies and publishing firms.

A native of Columbia, Mo., he was the recipient of the Award of Excellence in the 10th annual International Technical Communications Competition of the Society for Technical Communication in 1979.

Dr. Cunningham and his wife, Patsy, have one child.

####

9-7-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Harriett Elliott Whitley of Toluca, N.C., has been named coordinator of Morehead State University's nursing program.

Mrs. Whitley holds an associate degree from Sacred Heart Junior College in Belmont, N.C., a bachelor's from Queens College in Charlotte, N.C., and a master's degree from Emory University.

She came to MSU from Gastonia, N.C., where she was director of nursing at Gaston College.

A member of Sigma Theta Tau, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elliott of Route 1, Casan, N.C.

She and her husband, Calvin, have two children.

###

9-7-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Barbara Barker Crisp of Grayson has been appointed an instructor of radiologic technology at Morehead State University.

Formerly chief technologist at the Morehead Clinic, Mrs. Crisp holds associate and bachelor's degrees from MSU.

She is a member of the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists.

Mrs. Crisp is married to Roy Lee Crisp of Sandy Hook. She is the daughter of Henry T. Barker of Newfoundland and Evelyn Salisbury of Sandy Hook.

####

9-7-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Eugene C. Norden has been promoted to director of bands at Morehead State University, succeeding the late Dr. Robert Hawkins.

A member of the MSU faculty since 1967, he formerly served as director of the marching band.

Norden, an assistant professor of music, holds a bachelor's degree from Western State College of Colorado and a master's degree from MSU.

A native of Colorado Springs, Colo., Norden came to MSU from the Delta, Colo., public schools where he was director of instrumental music.

He is a member of the Kentucky Music Educators Association, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Pi Kappa Lambda and currently is state president of Phi Beta Mu, the national honorary band fraternity.

Norden is married to the former Sandra Abrams of Lucasville, Ohio. They have six children. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Norden of 1511 North Royer, Colorado Springs.

####

9-7-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dawn Huntsman of Olive Hill will present her senior recital on piano on Thursday, Sept. 30.

The program will feature works by Beethoven, Brahms, DeBussy and Copeland.

Her instructor is Lucretia Stetler, assistant professor of music at MSU.

The MSU music major is married to Jay Huntsman of Olive Hill. They have two children.

The 8:15 p.m. concert in Duncan Recital Hall is free and open to the public.

###

9-9-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Private giving to Morehead State University increased by 26 percent during 1981-82 to a total of $338,239.36, it has been announced.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet and Dr. C. Louise Caudill of Morehead, national chairperson of MSU's 1981-82 Annual Giving Campaign, reported that the previous year's total of $267,887.40 had been exceeded by $70,351.96 and that the number of donors had increased from 531 to 903.

"In view of economic conditions during last year's campaign, these totals represent a solid vote of confidence in the future of the University and, more importantly, demonstrate the love and support of our alumni and other friends," Dr. Norfleet and Dr. Caudill said in a joint statement.

Dr. Caudill said she was particularly impressed by the growth in the number of donors, especially the increase in individuals from 442 to 806. The number of corporate, foundation and other donors advanced from 89 to 97.

Dr. Norfleet noted that the gift totals, in accordance with national standards, do not include $133,033.89 given directly to MSU students by private sources for financial aid.

The Eagle Athletic Fund had the highest totals for 1981-82 as $82,806.29 was contributed for support of intercollegiate athletics. Literary and art works totaled $79,043 and financial aid received $58,131.29 for scholarships and student work programs.

(more)

MSU Giving

2-2-2-2

About 70 percent of the total gifts were routed through the MSU Foundation, Inc., and its constituent agencies, the Eagle Athletic Fund, Alumni Association and Parents Association.

"The University is deeply indebted to Dr. Caudill, the members of the Foundation board and EAF Advisory Board and the other volunteers who helped raise these funds for the benefit of the total institution," Dr. Norfleet stated. "They worked hard and had excellent staff support from our professionals on campus."

"To those who gave, we extend our sincere gratitude on behalf of the students, faculty, staff, alumni and Board of Regents of the University." Your generosity will enable us to maintain that margin of excellence in our programs of teaching, service and research."

In the span of two annual giving campaigns, alumni and other friends of MSU have contributed $606,126.76 to the institution, according to the MSU Office of Development and the MSU Foundation, Inc.

#####

9-9-82kk

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

UPO BOX 1100
MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY 40351
TELEPHONE 606-783-2030

DATE: September 10, 1982

TO: People
CASE Currents
Suite 400
11 Dupont Circle
Washington, DC 20036

FROM: Sharon Crouch-Farmer, Coordinator of News Services Seb

RE: Title Change

Keith Kappes, director of public affairs and development, from director of public affairs at Morehead State University in Kentucky.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Mom and dad are invited to college here for the weekend of Sept. 17-19.

Morehead State University is observing its annual Parents Weekend with several activities, including the MSU-Kentucky State football game on Saturday, Sept. 18. Parents are entitled to half-price tickets if accompanied by a son or daughter who attend MSU. The kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m. at Jayne Stadium.

Also, parents may stay in campus residence halls and take advantage of luncheon specials on Sept. 18 and 19 at the University Center Cafeteria.

Activities on Friday, Sept. 17, include a boat ride on Cave Run Lake, a movie, "Victor/Victoria," and residence hall activities.

President and Mrs. Morris L. Norfleet will host a continental breakfast for parents at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 18. The annual meeting of the MSU Parents Association is scheduled at 9:30 a.m. Academic facilities will be open for tours at 10:30 a.m.

A Student Association concert featuring Doc Severinsen is set for 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 18, in the Academic-Athletic Center. The annual Parents Weekend Golf Tournament will be Sunday, Sept. 19, at 10 a.m. at the MSU course.

"We extend a cordial invitation to the parents of all our students to visit the campus for Parents Weekend," said President Norfleet. "This has become one our most popular weekends and we look forward to another outstanding schedule of events."

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Research related to water entering waste burial trenches at the Maxey Flats nuclear waste disposal site will continue through next year under the direction of a Morehead State University faculty member and a colleague in California.

Dr. David M. Brumagen, professor of biology at MSU, and Dr. Robert K. Schultz, professor of soil and plant science at the University of California at Berkeley, have been awarded a $150,000 renewal grant from the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Their study will determine how much water enters the burial trenches by measuring rainfall, evaporation from the soil and the amount of water transpired by plants at the Fleming County facility.

The project also will investigate ways of preventing water from entering the trenches through containment, slope and plant ground cover.

The information collected will be used to decide future management at the Maxey Flats site and procedures for closing other nuclear waste sites.

The NRC grant covers the second year of a potential five-year study and runs through Oct. 1, 1983.

9-10-82ag

###

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

UPO BOX 1100
MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY 40351
TELEPHONE 606-783-2030

Chronicle of Higher Education

Gazette Section

Correction

Eugene Norden, assistant professor of music and director of marching band at Morehead State University to director of bands.

9-10-82

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

by ALVIN GRIDER
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- "I like to work for myself," Randy Ziegler, Carter County woodsman and stone mason, said into the tape recorder.

"I keep the hours I want to keep, try to do what I want to do, and I think that's the secret of happiness."

Ziegler's secret is part of a collection of oral histories recorded by Dr. Mont Whitson, professor of sociology at Morehead State University.

Entitled "Appalachian Business Heritage: The Surviving Craftsman Fulfilling the American Dream," the collection recently was published as a 41-page booklet by MSU's Bureau of University and Regional Services.

The collection includes the stories of seven Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee artisans told in their own words.

Dr. Whitson interviewed them in the summer of 1981 about their crafts, values and beliefs. He taped the sessions and transcribed the tapes, providing transitions so the stories would flow smoothly.

Dr. Whitson believes oral history is a good way to discover the values of traditional Appalachian workers.

"I let them speak for themselves," he says. "I didn't go in with a set pattern or questionnaire. I just let them create their own world, explaining what they're doing and why they're doing it."

(more)

While collecting and compiling the oral histories, Dr. Whitson noted common themes in many of the craftsmen's discussions.

These include beliefs and values about family, the work ethic, independence and self-reliance and humor.

In his introduction to the histories, Dr. Whitson notes that "small businessmen still pursuing ancient trades are a vanishing breed."

"But as you will see from reading their stories," he continues, "these craftsmen express guarded optimism for the future of their trade and a feeling of pride in their work."

Partially funded by the Kentucky Humanities Council, the project was Dr. Whitson's first oral history collection, but not his last.

With a grant from Berea College's Appalachian Center, Dr. Whitson has started interviews for a second study. The new collection will include stories of a Tennessee grist mill operator, a Menifee County hillside farmer, a country store operator whose family has owned the store for 100 years and the teacher of a one-room Kentucky school.

The new interviews will continue "the theme of people doing things in a traditional way, the old way, in our modern world," Dr. Whitson says.

Craftsmen interviewed in "Appalachian Business Heritage" include Glenn and Hubert Hutchinson, Morehead cobblers; Hayden Cole, Owingsville chair caner; Woody Muse, Muses Mill blacksmith; Col. Jim Day, Menifee County sawmill operator; Joshua Bauman, Monterey, Tenn. saddle maker and Charles Terrell, Nashville bookbinder.

A limited number of copies of "Appalachian Business Heritage" are available from Dr. Mont Whitson, MSU, UPO 722, Morehead, KY 40351.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

CORRECTION

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Gary D. Oakley of Benton has been named as associate professor of industrial education and technology at Morehead State University.

Dr. Oakley came to MSU from Trenton State College in Trenton, N.J., where he served as chairman of the Department of Vocational Education.

He holds a bachelor's and master's degree from Murray State University and a doctorate from Southern Illinois University.

Author of "The World of Cosmetology," published by McGraw-Hill in 1981, he is a member of the American Vocational Association, Phi Delta Kappa, Epsilon Pi Tau and Iota Lambda Sigma honor societies.

He is the son of Mrs. Treva Oakley of Benton.

9-13-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- "The President's Own" United States Marine Band will appear in concert at Morehead State University at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 24.

The group was formed in 1798 under a bill enacted by President John Adams and performed for the first time at the President's mansion on New Year's Day in 1801.

The Marine Band has performed at every Presidential inauguration since the induction of Thomas Jefferson and it was during his administration that it was expanded and became known as "The President's Own."

Led by John Philip Sousa from 1880 until 1892, the mission of the group is to provide music and perform such other functions as directed by the President of the United States and the Commandant of the Marine Corps.

The present-day Marine Band, under the direction of Lt. Col. John R. Bourgeois, averages more than 600 musical commitments each year.

Since the band does not travel at government expense, admission to the performance will be $3.50 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens. Tickets will be available at the door or the MSU band office in Baird Music Hall, Room 115.

The concert in the Academic-Athletic Center is sponsored by the MSU Bands.

###

9-13-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Adult Basic Education Teacher Training Project has received a $65,977 grant from the Kentucky Department of Education.

Sharon Moore, project coordinator, said the funds primarily will be used to:

- *provide inservice training for adult education teachers, supervisors, and home instruction para-professionals in Central and Eastern Kentucky.

- *implement a computerized data collection and evaluation system for adult education programs throughout the state.

- *produce a statewide newsletter for adult education personnel which will provide teaching tips, announcements of upcoming meetings and workshops, lists of new books, and other information pertinent to the adult education field.

- *develop a booklet to promote and provide information on adult education to state legislators.

- *fund adult education courses for graduate students.

- *sponsor a conference for adult education para-professionals in Kentucky on April 12-14 at Barren River.

"We feel very fortunate to receive this grant," Ms. Moore said. "It was a very competitive situation, especially with the recent federal adult education cutbacks. We believe we have an excellent adult education program at MSU. Receiving this grant for the seventh straight year just reaffirmed that belief."

The grant runs through June 30, 1983.

####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

(Special to the Morehead News)

Morehead State University's MSU-TV has added a new dimension to its total programming this fall.

Beginning Monday, Sept. 20, four new student produced programs will air on the campus station, broadcast locally on Channel 12.

The new season kicks off at 4 p.m. with "Half-Rest." This one-hour program will feature interviews with both visiting and campus musicians. "Half-Rest" will also air each Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Another program focusing on the musical point of view, "Reverb," will be hosted by Rose Marie Register, Plant City, Fla., senior, and Timothy C. Young, Louisville sophomore. "Reverb" will feature interviews with MSU students and faculty, and will be broadcast each Monday and Wednesday at 5 p.m.

For the amateur horticulturist, "Cornucopia" will provide a 15 minute update with tips for indoor and outdoor plants. Martha Norris, assistant professor of horticulture, will host the program on Tuesday and Thursday at 4:15 p.m. ✓

"TV-DJ," a musical update of the top 40 tunes on the pop charts, will be broadcast each Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. Ray Keeton, Morehead graduate student, will serve as host.

(more)

Returning from last year are "Dianoia," with host Dick Moon on Monday at 4:30 p.m. and Friday at 5:30 p.m.; "MSU At Large," with host Betty Woodard, MSU instructor of home economics, on Monday at 5:30 p.m. and Wednesday at 4 p.m.; "MSU Report," with Dale Greer, MSU instructor of radio-television, Thursday at 6 p.m. and Friday at 5 p.m.; and "Agape," with Russ Taylor, Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. and Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

Also returning are "You and the Law," with Morehead Police Chief Fred Barnsdale, at 6 p.m. on Wednesday and 5:30 p.m. on Thursday; "Our Appalachia," with host Phil Conn, MSU vice president for university and regional services, Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. and Wednesday at 4:30 p.m.; and "MSU Football '82," aired each Monday at 6 p.m. and each Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

The station also broadcasts a student-produced live television news show, "Newscenter 12," each Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p.m., and a weekly telecast of Eagle sports activities.

###

9-15-82scf

Media Advisory

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Not for publication or broadcast

(Special to Local Media)

EVENT: Official Visit of Colonel W. L. Longarzo, U.S. Army, Commander of Area 3, Second ROTC Region

DATE/TIME: Monday, Sept. 20
9 a.m. - 10 p.m.

SCHEDULE:

Col. Longarzo recently assumed command of Area 3 in the Second ROTC Region. He is responsible for the operations of over eighteen ROTC detachments in colleges and universities in Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

His visit to Morehead is part of a series of visits in the tri-state area.

He will be meeting with President Norfleet, Dean Alban Wheeler, Maj. Bruce Miller, and other military science personnel.

For interviews, please contact Capt. Troy in Button Hall at est. 2050.

*File
Sent to Campus media
9-17-82
J*

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Eastern Kentucky bankers are going to school again this fall.

Coordinated by Morehead State University, the Kentucky Mountain Study group, is composed of banks participating in the American Institute of Banking (AIB) training program.

The purpose of the AIB classes is to "increase an awareness of the responsibility that the financial community has in economic development and give it the knowledge to be able to fulfill that responsibility," says Dr. Bernard Davis, head of MSU's Department of Accounting and Economics.

The Kentucky Mountain Study Group is now in its third year of operation. Nearly 250 Eastern Kentucky bank employees have completed two or more AIB courses, according to Dr. Davis.

Most of the AIB students are bank tellers, loan officers and bookkeepers, taking courses such as "Principles of Accounting," "Principles of Banking" and "Installment Credit."

The study group's teachers include some of MSU's School of Business and Economics faculty, bankers and other members of the financial community.

"In the past, we've used a bank president, an attorney and a certified public accountant to teach courses," says Dr. Davis.

Banks pay for the training of employees through AIB, which is the continuing education arm of the American Bankers Association.

AIB offers foundation of banking diplomas to employees who attend a certain number of classes.

(more)

AIB
2-2-2-2

Through the study group, AIB has trained bank employees throughout Eastern Kentucky by bringing courses into their hometowns and regions. This fall courses are being taught at MSU and at community colleges' and banks in Prestonsburg, Maysville, Pikeville and Inez. They are offered during the evening one night a week.

Dr. Davis believes the success and popularity of the banker's schools will continue.

"Many employees are hired straight out of high school, and they have little or no understanding of the financial and economic system. We help provide them with it."

Of MSU's association with AIB, Dr. Davis adds:

"We're interested in the economic well-being of this area and wish to do what we can to help it."

#####

9-17-82ag

Media Advisory

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Not for publication or broadcast

EVENT: Morehead State University Concert and Lecture Series
Presents Alex Haley

DATE/TIME: Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 10:20 a.m.

SITE: Button Auditorium

SCHEDULE:

Alex Haley, the author of "Roots," will be the first person selected to deliver the Wilhelm Exelbirt Distinguished Lecture at MSU.

The convocation will begin promptly at 10:20 a.m. and conclude at 11:20 a.m., with time for possible question and answer period.

PRESS PARKING: One block east of the University Center on University Street

FACILITIES AT OR NEAR SITE: Electrical outlets, typewriters, telephones, telecopier

MSU COVERAGE: Black/white photographs, news release

9-20-82

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Gail Wright Russell, of Morehead, a Valley Station native, has recently completed a biology research project at Morehead State University. The project and a thesis on it completed her requirements for a masters in science which she received in August.

The project involved researching certain effects of the drug Danizol. Danizol is used in the treatment of endometriosis, a disease which affects the inner lining of the uterus. The research was conducted using laboratory rats.

"The research was in a new and very difficult area," says Dr. David F. Magrane, associate professor of biology and Ms. Russell's thesis director.

"She laid the groundwork, the flooring for other research we intend to do here," he adds. "She did a very fine job."

Ms. Russell is a science teacher at Rowan County High School. She received her bachelor's degree in biology at MSU, and taught four years at University Breckinridge School.

She is the daughter of Shirley Kotz of Guston and Fred Howard Wright of Louisville.

####

9-21-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Travis Lockhart of Dallas, Texas, has been named as an assistant professor in the theatre program at Morehead State University.

Dr. Lockhart comes to Morehead from East Carolina State University, where he was an assistant professor of speech and drama, a position which he also held at Buena Vista College.

His professional memberships include the American Theatre Association, Alpha Psi Omega and Phi Kappa Phi. He has been named to the Outstanding Educators of America and is a member of the Oak Cliff Presbyterian Church in Dallas.

###

9-21-82bw

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. ---- Stan Moore of Ashland has been named technical director of the Morehead State University theatre program.

Moore comes to MSU from Francis Marion College in Florence, South Carolina where he was an instructor of theatre.

A member of the American Theatre Association, the U.S. Institute of Theatre Technology, the Kentucky Theatre Association, and the Kentucky Association of Communication Arts, Moore holds an masters from the University of Mississippi and both a master's and bachelor's degree from Morehead State University.

While at Morehead, he won awards for both Best Graduate and Undergraduate Set Designs and received other recognition for Best Set Design and Technical Preparation.

###

9-21-82bw

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Growing fruit on strip-mined land could prove to be another source of income for Eastern Kentucky in the future.

This is the hope of Morehead State University's Department of Agriculture, which is currently doing research to see if such an orchard can be productive.

"We're interested because the mountaintop method of strip mining often leaves more flat land than was previously in the area," said Robert Wolfe, MSU assistant professor of agriculture.

"But most of this land lies idle. We hope this will make the land useful instead of it just growing up in briars."

MSU received a grant from the Governor's Council on Agriculture for research with a peach orchard on a strip-mined site near Hitchens. The trees are only two years old and will not begin to grow fruit for another two or three years. It will be about six years before they reach their full bearing potential.

Once the trees begin to bear, data will be collected for three years.

"From this data, we can see if it works under these conditions and what we have to do to make it work," Wolfe said.

In addition, MSU is working with Martiki Coal Corporation on a similar project in Martin County. There, apple trees were planted on a strip-mined site three years ago.

These apple trees are semi-dwarfs and are expected to produce fruit next year. It will be another four years before they reach their full bearing potential.

(more)

Fruit Trees
2-2-2-2-2-2

Several MSU students have been involved with the Hitchens project, helping with the planting and pruning of trees and mowing brush. Wolfe hopes to have more students working at the Martin County orchard through the internship and cooperative education programs.

"If these orchards are successful," Wolfe said, "we hope they will serve as models for coal companies that have strip-mined land to reclaim."

###

9-24-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Monica Harmon of 4222 Rundell Drive in Dayton, Ohio, will present her senior recital on alto saxophone at Morehead State University on Sunday, Oct. 10.

The program will feature works by Rimsky-Korsakov, Darius Milhaud and Leon Stein. Her instructor is Eugene Norden, MSU director of bands.

She will be accompanied by Jay Flippin, MSU associate professor of music, and Doug Christman, Louisville junior.

Ms. Harmon is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity, Phi Kappa Lambda music honor society and Phi Kappa Phi honor society.

She is the daughter of Julie Langdon of Rundell Drive in Dayton.

The 8:15 p.m. concert in Duncan Recital Hall is free and open to the public.

#####

9-24-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Raymond J. Edington of Head of Grassy in Lewis County has been elected president of the Morehead State University Geology Club, Mu Gamma Sigma, for the 1982 Fall semester.

The new president is a senior geology major.

Other elected officers, all geology majors, are:

*Jeffrey G. Sanders, Liberty junior, vice president.

*Kelly M. Hickerson, Lexington junior, secretary.

*Raymond A. Edington, Head of Grassy sophomore, treasurer.

*William A. Osborne, Paintsville senior, field trip coordinator.

The Geology Club is an academic organization which brings outside speakers, lecturers and former geology students to the campus to share expertise with MSU students.

####

9-24-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University is sponsoring a communications conference, "Mass Media 82," on Wednesday, Oct. 6.

More than 20 media alumni will return to MSU to talk with high school and college students and media representatives during the day-long event.

Keynote speaker for the day will be Alex Haley, the author of "Roots," as part of the MSU Concert and Lecture Series and the Wilhelm Exelbirt Distinguished Lectureship. Haley will address a 10:20 a.m. convocation, free and open to the public, in Button Auditorium.

Panel discussions are scheduled from 1:15 - 3:15 p.m. with media professionals in the fields of radio and television news, sports, management and sales, daily newspapers and wire service, public relations, advertising and community newspapers.

The afternoon sessions, scheduled in MSU's Adron Doran University Center, are free and open to the public.

Additional information is available from the Department of Communications at (606) 783-2134.

###

9-24-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University kicks off its 1982-83 theatre season with "Mornings at Seven" on Oct. 7-9 in Button Auditorium.

Other productions include:

*"Ghosts" by Henrik Ibsen, Nov. 16-20 in Kibbey Theatre.

*Neil Simon's "The Good Doctor," Feb. 22-26 in Kibbey Theatre.

*"The Silver Cord" by Sidney Howard, April 28-30 in Button Auditorium.

Curtain time for all other productions is 8 p.m.

Tickets are priced at $3.50 at the door. Season tickets are priced at $10.

Reservations are available from the MSU Theatre box office at (606) 783-2170.

####

9-24-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's 1982-83 theatre season will open with "Mornings at Seven" by Paul Osborne, on Thursday, Oct. 7.

The play, a dramatic comedy which depicts the loneliness of the elderly and their incapability of articulating despair, opened first on Broadway in 1939. It returned to Broadway in 1980 and continues to run.

"This play is one of the most interesting that we have done, in that it has no lead characters," explained Marvin Philips, coordinator of theatre and director of the production. "It has no minor roles."

The cast includes:

*Tammy Flaughter, Grayson junior, as Cora.

*Billy Nichols, Elizabethtown senior, as Thor.

*Pamela Hammonds, Scuddy senior, as Arry.

*Crystal Cline, Morehead freshman, as Ida.

*Alan Gillispie, Flatwoods senior, as Carl.

*David Hereford, Louisville junior, as Homer.

*Susan Johnson, Portsmouth junior, as Esther.

*Donna Cecil, Louisville freshman, as Myrtle.

*Mike Spencer, Campton junior, as David.

Curtain time for "Mornings at Seven" is 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium on Oct. 7, 8 and 9.

Additional information and reservations are available from the MSU box office at (606) 783-2170.

###

9-24-82scf

Media Advisory

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Not for publication or broadcast

EVENT: The Jesse Stuart home at W-Hollow added to the National Register of Historic Places

DATE/TIME: Saturday, Sept. 25, 1:30 p.m.

SITE: Jesse Stuart home in W-Hollow, Greenup County

SCHEDULE:

Members of the Jesse Stuart Foundation and guests will attend the ceremonies, which will feature the unveiling of a plaque officially recognizing the placement of the home of Jesse Stuart on the National Register of Historic Places by the Department of the Interior.

Please R.S.V.P. if you or your staff plan to cover the event by contacting Sharon Crouch Farmer at (606) 783-2030.

PRESS PARKING: At Site

FACILITIES AT OR NEAR SITE: Electrical outlets, telephones

MSU COVERAGE: Black/White photographs, videotape

Media Advisory

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Not for publication or broadcast

EVENT: ROTC Activity Day
DATE/TIME: Saturday, September 25
9 a.m. - 3 p.m.
SITE: Cave Run Lake Spillway

SCHEDULE:

The feature event will be a helicopter orientation conducted by the 441st Aviation Company, Kentucky Army National Guard of Frankfort, Ky.

The ROTC Rader Company will also be featured, as members of the unit will operate two rappelling stations. They will be giving freshmen and sophomore students instruction on rappelling techniques.

All students will have the opportunity to rappell at the site.

PRESS PARKING: At site
FACILITIES AVAILABLE AT OR NEAR SITE: Electrical outlets
MSU COVERAGE: Black/white photographs

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Electronic melodies, dance, clarinet solos and a multi-media musical presentation will highlight the American Composers Forum at Morehead State University on Thursday, Oct. 7.

The forum, sponsored by MSU's Department of Music and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia professional music fraternity, is a day of activities for music students, professors and the general public.

The forum features performances of original works by composer Burton Beerman and dancer Celeste Beerman. Beerman, professor of music composition and history at Bowling Green University, is the forum's guest composer. Mrs. Beerman, a dance teacher, has experience as a choreographer and dancer in musical theatre, opera and new music multi-media productions.

At 3 p.m., Beerman will conduct a clinic in which he will discuss new techniques in composition and performance. The clinic will also include a recital.

A concert by the Beermans and MSU faculty will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Both the clinic and concert are scheduled in Duncan Recital Hall and are free and open to the public.

###

9-28-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Monthly Preview for October

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Homecoming 1982 highlights the month of October at Morehead State University with activities beginning on Thursday, Oct. 28.

The annual homecoming concert opens the weekend featuring Ronnie Milsap at 8 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center.

Activities Friday, Oct. 29, begin with the traditional Candlelight Dinner and awards presentations, followed by the Homecoming Dance and queen coronation.

Saturday, a reception for alumni, parade, luncheon and a reunion of former cheerleaders and queens are scheduled for the morning. The MSU football Eagles face Western Kentucky University at 2 p.m., capped by an alumni post-game dance.

MSU's Concert and Lecture Series will kick off the season with the Wilhelm Exelbirt Distinguished Lectureship featuring the author of "Roots," Alex Haley. Haley will speak at 10:20 a.m. in Button Auditorium on Oct. 6.

Also Oct. 6, MSU will sponsor "Mass Media '82," a communications conference with afternoon sessions open to the public.

The Arts in Morehead Series, sponsored jointly this year by MSU and the Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council, will open Oct. 18 with the Alabama Shakespeare Festival production of "Romeo and Juliet."

The MSU theatre will present "Mornings at Seven" on Oct. 7, 8 and 9 at 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium.

(more)

Monthly Preview
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Musical programs scheduled for October include the Kentucky Music Educators Association Band Festival on Oct. 5; American Composers Forum on Oct. 7; a Church Music Workshop on Oct. 8 and 9; and a Choral Festival on Oct. 25 and 26.

Conferences and workshops planned include a Department of Corrections Jailer Training Oct. 4; Business Education Conference Oct. 7; Kentucky Weekly Newspaper Association fall conference Oct. 14 and the Eastern Kentucky Education Association Oct. 14.

MSU will host the Eagle Championship Individual Events Tournament on Oct. 22 and 23.

In sports, MSU's football Eagles host Murray on Oct. 2; Tennessee Tech on Oct. 23; and Western Kentucky on Oct. 30.

In soccer, the women's team will host Eastern Kentucky on Oct. 6 and Berea College on Oct. 22. The men's soccer team will meet the University of Louisville on Oct. 2; West Virginia Tech on Oct. 13; Eastern Kentucky on Oct. 20 and Union College on Oct. 27.

Delta Zeta sorority and Theta Chi fraternity will hold the annual Haunted House in Button Auditorium on Oct. 21 through 23.

####

9-28-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Concert and Lecture Series will open its season with the Wilhelm Exelbirt Distinguished Lectureship featuring Alex Haley, author of the best seller "Roots," on Wednesday, Oct. 6, in Button Auditorium.

Haley will address a topic stemming from his work, "The Future of the Family."

After 20 years of military service in the United States Coast Guard, Haley authored "The Autobiography of Malcolm X." He then entered intensive research on the maternal side of his own family, which he traced back some 200 years and six generations.

Haley's resulting book, "Roots," became the biggest best seller in U.S. publishing history.

The 10:20 a.m. program is free and open to the public.

###

9-28-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Music will host a Church Music Workshop on Oct. 8 and 9.

Activities scheduled during the two-day event include Liturgical Dance, Orff instruments, organ playing, adult and youth choirs and handbell choirs.

Registration opens at noon on Friday in the lobby of Baird Music Hall, with classes beginning at 1 p.m. Classes continue on Saturday from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Instructors for the workshop include Lucretia Stetler, assistant professor of music, Vasile Venettozzi, associate professor of music and George Ann McBrayer, MSU alumna and youth choir specialist.

One hour of college credit is available upon request.

Limited housing is available on campus at $5 per night. Workshop tuition is $50.

Additional information is available from Mrs. Venettozzi at (606) 783-2481.

####

9-28-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- National Public Radio's "Jazz Alive," the Peabody Award-winning series, turns five on Saturday, Oct. 2.

To celebrate the series' anniversary, host Billy Taylor brings Public Radio listeners memorable moments from the best of "Jazz Alive" on WMKY, public radio from Morehead State University.

The four-hour birthday extravaganza spotlights such legendary artists as Count Basie, Charles Mingus and Chick Corea. Also included are such audio gems as Dizzy Gillespie's impromptu White House duet with President Jimmy Carter, Stevie Wonder's New Orleans jam session with Ella Fitzgerald and Bill Evans' improvisation to the sound of church bells on the French Riviera.

The program also looks to the future with a tantalizing glimpse of the upcoming "Jazz Alive" fall season, including the musical magic from New York's Kool Jazz Festival, Kansas City's Women's Jazz Festival, and New Orleans' Jazz and Heritage Festival.

This anniversary program marks the farewell appearance of Taylor, renowned pianist, educator and composer, who has hosted the acclaimed series since its debut on Oct. 2, 1977.

"He will be missed," says Fred Bourque, producer of the special, "and this program will be an opportunity to say thanks for carrying the banner so gracefully."

The special is made possible in part through grants from the National Endowment for the Arts.

(more)

"Jazz Alive"
2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Additional funding has been provided by NPR's Arts and Performance Fund.

Contributors to the Fund include the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, the Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation, IBM and RKO General, Inc.

WMKY, at 90.3 FM, airs the program on Saturday, Oct. 2, at 8 p.m.

####

9-28-82bh

Tips

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

OCTOBER, 1982

News Coverage:

Wilhelm Exelbirt Distinguished Lectureship
Featuring Alex Haley, author of "Roots"
Oct. 6

Contact: Dr. Sue Luckey at (606) 783-2741

Business Education Conference

Oct. 7

Contact: Helen Northcutt at (606) 783-2730

Church Music Workshop

Featuring Liturgical Dance and handbell choirs

Oct. 8 and 9

Contact: Vasile Venettozzi at (606) 783-2481

Kentucky Association for Progress in Science

Oct. 15 and 16

Contact: Dr. Ron Fiel at (606) 783-2931

Arts in Morehead Series

Featuring the Alabama Shakespeare Festival with "Romeo and Juliet"

Oct. 18

Contact: Dr. Glenn Rogers at (606) 783-2788

Choral Festival

Oct. 25 and 26

Contact: Vasile Venettozzi at (606) 783-2481

Homecoming 1982

Oct. 28, 29 and 30

Contact: Don Young at (606) 783-2080

Features Ideas:

Sorghum Molasses-Making at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex

Students are involved with the entire process in early October

Contact: Bob Wolfe at (606) 783-2665

American Institute of Bankers Training

Faculty and students work with banking personnel in Eastern Kentucky

Contact: Dr. Bernard Davis at (606) 783-2721

NewsCenter 12

A totally student-produced live television news program broadcast twice weekly on cable television in Morehead

Contact: Dave Collins at (606) 783-2900

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A University Breckinridge School Artifacts Committee has been appointed by MSU President Morris L. Norfleet.

The committee goal, according to chairperson Elizabeth Anderson, is to develop a permanent artifacts room depicting the school's more than 50 years of operation.

The committee soon will be accepting material from the school's past such as trophies, awards, flags, certificates, charters, scrapbooks and photographs for permanent display.

Committee members include Frank Burns, Harlen Hamm, John Vanhose, Sonny Allen, Larry Dales, Hazel Martin and Leslie McBrayer.

Additional information is available from Mrs. Anderson at 784-7889.

###

10-1-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Shakespeare is coming to Morehead State University.

His classic tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet," will be presented Monday, Oct. 18, by the Alabama Shakespeare Festival at 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium.

A part of the "Arts in Morehead" (AIM) performing arts series, the play is the world's most cherished love story. It is the tale of a star-crossed couple who believe their love is truer than the unfounded hatred between their families.

"Romeo and Juliet" is directed by Martin L. Platt, ASF artistic director. Bruce B. Cromer and Evelyn Carol Case, graduates of the ASF Conservatory Training Program, will play Romeo and Juliet, respectively.

ASF is based in Anniston, Ala., where it presents a summer season of Shakespeare drama.

In addition to the Monday evening performance, ASF will offer a special production for high school students.

Admission to the Monday evening production is by season's subscription or valid MSU ID card. In addition, tickets will be sold in advance and at the door at $5 for adults and $2.50 for persons 18 or younger.

The AIM series is sponsored by MSU, Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council, Inc., Kentucky Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts. In addition to memberships, AIM also accepts tax-deductible gifts.

In Montgomery County, tickets may be reserved by contacting WMST Radio at 498-1150.

####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Shakespeare is coming to Morehead State University.

His classic tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet," will be presented Monday, Oct. 18, by the Alabama Shakespeare Festival at 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium.

A part of the "Arts in Morehead" (AIM) performing arts series, the play is the world's most cherished love story. It is the tale of a star-crossed couple who believe their love is truer than the unfounded hatred between their families.

"Romeo and Juliet" is directed by Martin L. Platt, ASF artistic director. Bruce B. Cromer and Evelyn Carol Case, graduates of the ASF Conservatory Training Program, will play Romeo and Juliet, respectively.

ASF is based in Anniston, Ala., where it presents a summer season of Shakespeare drama.

In addition to the Monday evening performance, ASF will offer a special production for high school students.

Admission to the Monday evening production is by season's subscription or valid MSU ID card. In addition, tickets will be sold in advance and at the door at $5 for adults and $2.50 for persons 18 or younger.

The AIM series is sponsored by MSU, Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council, Inc., Kentucky Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts. In addition to memberships, AIM also accepts tax-deductible gifts.

Additional information is available from Phyllis Dickinson at (606) 784-8713.

####

10-1-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- An in-service conference on "Information Processing and the Automated Office" will be held in Morehead State University's Adron Doran University Center on Friday, Oct. 8.

Designed for business teachers, education teachers and others interested in computer literacy, the conference will focus on the integration of data processing and work processing into a total information system.

Topics to be discussed include technological developments, emerging career paths and curriculum trends.

Keynote speaker for the morning session will be Dr. William Mitchell, department chairman of business education and information management at University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. Dr. Mitchell has conducted word and information processing seminars for business professionals and educators throughout the U.S., Canada and the West Indies.

Dr. Mitchell has authored textbooks and software programs for five publishing companies and is currently president of the Business Education Media Corporation and a consultant for several firms including Modern Office Services, Inc., International Educational Systems, Inc., and Professional Education Systems, Inc.

The luncheon speaker will be Lois Weinberg, education consultant from Hindman. Mrs. Weinberg was a member of the Prichard Committee which issued the Council on Higher Education report, "In Pursuit of Excellence."

(more)

)
- Word Processing Conference
-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

)
The afternoon session will feature computer demonstrations and ) hands-on activities involving the microcomputer. This session will be ) directed by Dale McClung of Radio Shack in Huntington. Numerous exhibits ) of equipment and textbooks are also planned. Participants may earn ) continuing education credit for this conference.

) Additional information may be obtained by contacting Helen Northcutt ) or James Smiley at MSU. The telephone number is (606) 783-2154.

)
#####

)
- 10-1-82scf
)
)
)
)
)
)

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Michael Paul Hunter of Shelbyville, a graduate student at Morehead State University, has been selected for inclusion in the 1982 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America."

"Outstanding Young Men of America," a biographical publication endorsed by the United States Jaycees, recognized the achievements and abilities of men between the ages of 21 and 36.

Criteria for selection include voluntary service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments and civic and political participation.

###

10-4-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Tamara Louise Pergram of Mt. Sterling has been named to Morehead State University's Lady Eagle cheerleading squad.

Ms. Pergram, along with five other MSU coeds, will be leading cheers for Lady Eagle basketball games.

A freshman physical education major, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pergram of Mt. Sterling.

The advisors for the group are Becky Hixon, director of promotion and development for WMKY FM, public radio from MSU, and Mindea Lashbrooke, admissions counselor.

10-6-82scf

###

Media Advisory

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Not for publication or broadcast

EVENT: Mass Media 82, Communications Conference
DATE/TIME: Thursday, Oct. 6, 8 a.m.-3:15 p.m.
SITE: Button Hall and Adron Doran University Center
SCHEDULE:

More than 20 successful media alumni of MSU will return to talk with selected high school and college students and media representatives.

- 8 a.m.-9 a.m. - Registration, Button Drill Room
- 9 a.m.-10 a.m. - Tours of MSU radio-television and journalism facilities
- 10:20 a.m. - Alex Haley Convocation, Button Auditorium
- 11:45 a.m. - Lunch
- 1:15 p.m.-2:15 p.m. - Career Sessions III
- 2:15 p.m.-3:15 p.m. - Career Sessions II

Career sessions will include panel discussions on radio and television news, sports, management and sales, daily and weekly newspapers, wire service, public relations and advertising.

Please R.S.V.P. to Mrs. Wanda Jones at (606) 783-2134, or contact Sharon Crouch-Farmer at (606) 783-2030.

PRESS PARKING: East of University Center on University Street

FACILITIES AT OR NEAR SITE: Electrical outlets, telephones, telecopier

MSU COVERAGE: Black/white photo's, videotape

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Six Morehead State University coeds have been named to the Lady Eagle cheerleading squad.

Leading cheers for the Lady Eagle basketball games will be:

*Jamie L. Davis, Hillsboro freshman. She is the daughter of Ms. Lorena P. Alexander of Hillsboro.

*Janet Marie Tomlin, Louisville freshman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carroll of Louisville.

*Tina Long, Blanchester, Ohio, freshman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long of Blanchester.

*Kathy Lynn Whitt, Belfry sophomore. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitt of Belfry.

*Lisa Ellen Armentrout, Chapmanville, W. Va., freshman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armentrout of Chapmanville.

*Tamara Louise Pergram, Mt. Sterling freshman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pergram of Mt. Sterling.

Advisors for the group are Becky Hixon, director of promotion and development for WMKY FM, public radio from MSU, and Mindea Lashbrooke, admissions counselor.

10-6-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Appalachian Development Center has released a research report of special interest to citizens of the Levisa Fork area of the Big Sandy Valley in Kentucky and Virginia and of general interest to the Appalachian coal mining region.

The report was prepared by Dr. Gary Cox and is entitled "Current and Projected Socioeconomic Conditions of the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River Basin of Kentucky and Virginia." It consists of an analysis of the social and economic conditions of an 11-county area.

The counties are all or partially within the Levisa Fork Drainage Basin and include eight Kentucky counties--Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Letcher, Magoffin, Morgan and Pike; and three Virginia counties--Buchanan, Dickinson and Wise.

The study focuses on the impact of increased mining activity on population settlement patterns, on land use and economic structure and on alternative courses of development for the region.

The publication is one of a series of research reports published by MSU's Appalachian Development Center and made available to the public. The series provides a forum for dissemination of scholarly works that deal with "environmental, economic, educational, and social issues affecting Appalachia, with particular emphasis on Eastern Kentucky."

(more)

Research Report
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Other reports in this series include "An Analysis of Population Changes in Eastern Kentucky, 1970-2000," also by Dr. Gary Cox; "The Ichthyofauna of the Big Sandy River Basin with Special Emphasis on the Levisa Fork Drainage," by Dr. Jerry Howell; "The Impact of Federal Regulations on the Small Coal Mine in Appalachia," by Dr. Bernard Davis; and "Fiscal Effort in Eastern Kentucky: Implications for Financing Public Services," by Dr. Douglas Dotterweich.

These reports are available by single copy, without charge, to individuals and organizations. For copies, write or call the Appalachian Development Center, Morehead State University, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone is (606) 783-2077.

####

10-8-82bm

Contact: Betty Marshall
(606) 783-2700

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Student Association will present Ronnie Milsap in concert on Thursday, Oct. 28, as part of Homecoming 1982.

Opening act for the concert, which kicks off a weekend of festivities, will be the country music group "New Horizon," of Louisville.

Tickets are available to MSU students with valid ID cards at $3 each and may be purchased only at the Student Association office in the Adron Doran University Center.

General admission tickets at $9 each are available at Larry's Rock and Read on Main Street in Morehead, The Music Den in the Trademore Shopping Center and the Student Association office. Telephone or mail orders will not be accepted.

The 8 p.m. concert is scheduled in MSU's Academic-Athletic Center. Tickets also will be available at the door.

####

10-8-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University is offering a special "Lunchtime Forum" series beginning Oct. 13.

The focus of the weekly presentations will include problems, issues and concerns on the educational, community, regional and national levels, according to Dr. David Rudy, associate professor of sociology, and Dr. John Kleber, professor of history.

The October schedule includes Dr. Walter Emge, MSU's vice president for academic affairs, addressing "The College Curriculum and the Marketplace" on Oct. 13; Joe Szakos and Joey Childers, Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition, speaking on "Land Ownership: Economic Control in the Mountains" on Oct. 20; and Dr. Wilhelm Exelbirt, professor emeritus of history, addressing "The Crisis in the Near East: A Historical Perspective" on Oct. 27.

Three more presentations are being planned for the month of November, along with one in December, with speakers to be announced at a later date.

The "Lunchtime Forum" series is scheduled each Wednesday from 12:40 a.m. to 1:40 p.m. in West Rooms A and B of the Adron Doran University Center.

All presentations are free and open to the public.

####

10-8-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The Morehead Recreation and Tourism Commission will celebrate the autumn season with a Color Mountain Festival Oct. 15 through 17.

The weekend begins on Friday with the self-guided Senior Citizens Walk along Cave Run Lake and the Shallow Flats Wildlife Trail, scheduled for all three days. The tour will also include a route through Morehead State University. Tour times will be scheduled at individual requests.

Activities on Saturday, Oct. 16, will include the "Magic Mile of the Mountains" and "Pedaling Through Kentucky Country."

The "Magic Mile of the Mountains" is a nature hike through the Daniel Boone National Forest. Beginning at Rodburn Hollow Recreation Area, the walk covers five miles, reaches an elevation of 1,200 feet, follows the Sheltowee Trace and returns to Morehead. Experienced guides will conduct the tours, which leave at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

At 9:30 a.m. on Saturday and 11 a.m. on Sunday, a 39.1 mile bicycle tour through the western and southern portions of Rowan county will depart from the Heck's parking lot. Tour packets will be distributed at the beginning of each tour, and a water and aid station for vehicle service and first aid will be provided. The registration fee is $4.

The Cave Run Lake Biathlon, scheduled for 11 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 17, is a six mile run, 18 miles bicycling, which begins at the Twin Knobs Recreation Area at Cave Run Lake. The registration fee is $10, and includes T-shirts, numbers and other information. A water and first aid station will be available along both courses.

(more)

Color Mountain Festival
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Special prizes will be awarded to the top three male and female finishers in the Biathlon. Age group awards will be the top 10 percent of pre-registered entrants in each age group.

Also on Sunday, a parade of boats is set for 3 p.m. at the Scott Creek Marina. The parade is sponsored by the Cave Run Marinas.

For the artist, a photographic exhibit of prints taken between Sept. 29 and Oct. 18 is scheduled Nov. 13 and 14 at the Carl Perkins Community Center. Only mounted color prints with a maximum size of 16x20 and minimum size of 8x10 will be accepted. The minimum print size is 3½x5. All photographs will become the property of the Morehead Recreation and Tourism Commission to be shown throughout the area.

Entries will be submitted in four categories and prizes will be awarded. A registration fee is required of all entries.

Coinciding with the Color Mountain Festival is the Pine Grove Festival, a competitive arts and crafts exhibit and demonstration sponsored by the Morehead Art Guild.

Additional information on the Color Mountain Festival is available from Reuel Buchanan, Morehead Recreation Tourism and Convention Commission, Box 66, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 784-6221.

#####

10-8-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University is hosting the Kentucky Weekly Newspaper Association fall convention on Oct. 14 and 15.

More than 50 publishers, editors and reporters from weekly newspapers across the state are expected to attend various workshops during the two-day meeting. Topics include photography, computers, newswriting and editing, headline and cutline writing and advertising.

Featured speaker for the banquet on Friday, Oct. 15, will be Byron Crawford, columnist for the Louisville Courier-Journal. During the program, the first "Friend of KWNA" award will be presented to MSU.

A newsworthy feature for the convention journalists will be a luncheon on Friday with Democrat and Republican hopefuls for the 1983 Kentucky governor's race.

Directing workshops will be Larry Dales, MSU assistant professor of journalism; W. David Brown, coordinator of MSU's journalism program; Carolyn Martin, MSU instructor of journalism; Russ Metz, publisher of the Bath County News-Outlook; Warren Fisher, editor of the Carlisle Mercury; Bud Perry, editor of the Paintsville Herald; and Lea Schultz, associate editor of the Berea Citizen.

Additional information is available from Dr. Dick Dandeneau at (606) 783-2696.

####

10-8-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Ten Morehead State University students have been named to key staff positions on the student newspaper, "The Trail Blazer," for the 1982 fall semester.

They include:

- *Editor -- Hayes Burton (H.B.) Elkins, Beattyville senior.
- *Managing Editor -- Leigh Ann Stone, Vanceburg junior.
- *Editorial Editor -- Fannie Madden-Grider, Zion Ridge freshman.
- *Entertainment Editor -- David C. Bauer, Georgetown sophomore.
- *Personalities Editor -- Maribeth Motza, Winchester, Ohio, sophomore.
- *Copy Editor -- Beverly Cottle, Cottle junior.
- *Sports Editor -- Jeff D'Alessio, Ontario, Canada, senior.
- *News Editor -- Virginia Ann White, Morehead junior.
- *Production Manager -- Anne Chaney, Pikeville freshman.
- *Chief Photographer -- Rosemary Sloan, Morehead senior.
- *Campus Coordinator -- Scotty Offutt, Haldeman senior.

"The Trail Blazer" is published each Wednesday during the school year as a laboratory experience in journalism.

10-10-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Four "potential candidates" for governor in 1983 will appear Friday at Morehead State University during the fall conference of the Kentucky Weekly Newspaper Association.

They are Lt. Gov. Martha Layne Collins, Louisville Mayor Harvey Sloane, former state human resources secretary Dr. Grady Stumbo, all Democrats, and State Rep. Raymond Overstreet, a Republican.

Mike Patton, KWNA president and editor of the Allen County News, announced that the four will make brief statements and entertain questions from KWNA members during a 12:30 p.m. session in the Crager Room of MSU's Adron Doran University Center.

The four also will be guests of KWNA at a private luncheon at noon. The 12:30 p.m. session will be open to the public but questions will be limited to media representatives, according to Patton.

"We are pleased to have these gubernatorial hopefuls involved in the fall conference of our association," Patton said. "The election of 1983 will be critical to the future of our state and we are looking forward to meeting with these potential candidates for governor."

The KWNA conference opens Thursday at MSU. It concludes with a 7 p.m. banquet on Friday at the Morehead Holiday Inn. The organization will present its first "Friend of KWNA" award at that time.

#####

10-11-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The Morehead State University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi honor society will hold its "Tribute to Excellence" banquet at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 22, in the Red Room of the Adron Doran University Center.

Keynote speaker will be Dr. John Kleber, professor of history and recipient of MSU's 1982 Distinguished Faculty Award. The topic of his address will be "Read a Good Computer Lately?"

Scholarships will be awarded to three MSU sophomores who have maintained a 4.0 grade point standing. They include Rebecca Giles of Carrollton, Lynette Green of Farmers and Elizabeth Holder of Vanceburg.

Additional information and reservations are available from Margaret Patton at (606) 783-2656.

####

10-11-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The annual meeting of the Kentucky Association for Progress in Science will be held at Morehead State University Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16.

Registration will begin at 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center. Beginning at 6:30 p.m., there will be six concurrent technical sessions.

Dr. Charles Whidden, professor of physics at MSU, will discuss "What to do When Your Energy Bill Exceeds the Gross National Product" at 7:20 p.m. in the ADUC.

Saturday's programs will be highlighted by Andrew Offutt of Haldeman, science fiction writer, who will address the question, "Is There Intelligent Life on Planet Earth?" at 10:20 a.m.

Concurrent one-hour technical sessions also are scheduled Saturday from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m.

An exhibit of books and equipment related to science will be on display in the Crager Room.

Locations of the technical sessions and other programs will be announced during registration.

Additional information is available from Dr. Ron Fiel at (606) 783-2931.

10-12-82fg

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The Kentucky Energy Conservation Consortium (KECC); of which Morehead State University is a member, has been chosen by a national organization as a program of excellence.

The consortium, which is composed of 14 colleges and universities in the state, provides the public with information on means of saving energy.

KECC was selected by the National University Continuing Education Association because it surpassed its goal of reaching 25 people at each energy conservation presentation during the four years of its existence.

Dr. John Philley, head of MSU's Department of Physical Sciences and coordinator of the energy presentations, said past projects have included lectures, displays, information booths and computerized home energy analyses.

"For the home energy analyses, we set up a computer at the shopping center where homeowners can give the size and other information about their houses, such as how much insulation is in the walls," explained Dr. Philley.

"The computer then figures the total energy costs and we analyze the findings and tell the homeowner what they should do to save money. For instance, we may suggest they add insulation in the attic or walls or caulk around the windows."

Almost 90 people participated in the last home energy audit which was held during Energy Awareness Week last October.

In addition to programs in and around Morehead, Dr. Charles Whidden, professor of physics, has made energy presentations in other Eastern Kentucky towns.

(more)

KECC
2-2-2-2

"Although there is a great deal of flexibility in what we can do," Dr. Philley said, "our programs deal with three main topics, wood burning stoves, passive solar energy, and retrofitting, which is anything you can do to make your home more energy efficient."

The consortium is funded by a grant from the Kentucky Department of Energy.

####

10-12-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky.--- Three Morehead State University music faculty members and music students will be participating in the 30th annual Kentucky Music Teachers Association state convention Oct. 16-20 at Centre College in Danville.

The Music Teachers National Association Collegiate Artist Competition will highlight Saturday's activities. Competing in vocal competition will be Jenny Ostenkamp, Cincinnati, Ohio, freshman. Bill Jennings, Gonzales, Ind., graduate student, and Rocky Hardyman, Tollesboro graduate student, will enter the piano competition.

Also on Saturday, an original composition by Dr. Frederick Mueller, MSU professor of music, will be performed during the KMTA Composers Recital. That concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Weisiger Hall of the Centre College Fine Arts Center.

A Monday evening banquet will honor past presidents of KMTA, including Dr. Glenn Fulbright, professor of music, and Larry Keenan, associate professor of music. Keenan will perform with two other presidents in a Gala Scholarship Concert following the banquet.

####

10-13-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to The Morehead News

The sorghum enterprise is alive and well at Morehead State University.

This week on MSU-TV's "Our Appalachia," hosted by Phil Conn, MSU's vice president for university and regional services, viewers of Channel 12 get a close look at sorghum making, from stalk to spoon.

Via videotape, the camera visit on site at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex where students worked at stripping and harvesting the sugar cane crop.

How did MSU become involved in making sorghum?

"We service a large region in Kentucky and, though we are interested in some of the old traditional kinds of things that have been going on since settlers moved into the mountains of Kentucky, we feel like we're sort of carrying on a tradition with the sorghum enterprise here," explains Bob Wolfe, assistant professor of agriculture at MSU.

Eddie Lundergan, MSU farm manager, explains the operation of the mobile mill for extracting the juice from the cane. Marvin and Betty Brown will discuss methods of cooking sorghum.

Sorghum made at the farm will be on sale from 3-5 p.m. weekdays at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex greenhouse at $6 per four pounds and twelve pounds for $8.

MSU-TV airs weekdays from 4-6 p.m. locally on Channel 12.

10-13-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- One of this country's most distinguished conductors will take the podium during the Morehead State University Choral Festival for high school singers on Oct. 25 and 26.

Robert Page, a member of the conducting staffs of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, the Pittsburgh Opera Company, the Chicago Lyric Opera and the Pittsburgh Mendelssohn Choral Society will direct the Festival Chorale on Oct. 26 at 7 p.m.

Page has won numerous national and international awards, including three Grammys.

"Robert Page is one of the top four choral conductors in this country," said Festival Director James Ross Beane, associate professor of music and director of choral studies at MSU. "He brings an enormous amount of energy and enthusiasm to the podium. In fact, he is the most exciting conductor I have ever seen.

"I certainly hope people take advantage of this chance to see a man who is one of the top practitioners of his craft."

In addition to the Festival Choral concert, the MSU choral organizations -- University Chorus, Chamber Singers, and Concert Choir -- will perform Oct. 25 at 8:15 p.m.

The University Chorus, under the direction of Vasile Venettozzi, associate professor of music, will lead off the program.

Tim Brezeale, Pickens, S.C., senior, and Cynthia Stanton, Mars Hill, N.C., graduate student, on piano and Jay Flippin, associate professor of music, on string synthesizer, will accompany the chorus.

(more)

Choral Festival
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

The Chamber Singers and the Concert Choir, directed by Beane and accompanied by Debra Howe, Williamstown graduate student, on piano, will follow the Chorus. Todd Spangler, Middlesboro senior, also will accompany the Chamber Singers on piano.

Students from about 30 high schools will attend the festival. Auditions will determine which students will sing in the Festival Chorale to conclude the festival.

Beane started the festival at MSU 23 years ago and has directed each annual event.

"I started the Choral Festival because there was very little choral music in this region when I first came to MSU," Beane said. "I thought the festival would help high schools build choral music programs and help us build ours. Both objectives have been realized."

All performances will be in the Duncan Recital Hall and are free and open to the public.

####

10-15-82kb

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Dr. Grady Stumbo, former state secretary for human resources, emphasized cooperation between state and local governments as the key to successful economic development for Kentucky at a public forum at Morehead State University today.

Dr. Stumbo spoke at the invitation of the Kentucky Weekly Newspaper Association which is holding its fall convention on campus through today.

"We need more people paying taxes, not less people paying more," Dr. Stumbo said. "Jobs are what Kentuckians want and are what we should strive for."

A graduate of Alice Lloyd College and the University of Kentucky, he outlined a list of things he considers important to the people of Kentucky.

These included: an economic policy to ensure the survival of small farms, medical research on tobacco smoking, development of natural resources, good relationships between state and local governments and increased quality in education.

During a question-and-answer period, the Floyd County native stated he would support no change in the coal severance tax formula that would divert money from the coal-producing counties.

In answer to a question on support of the lumber industry, Dr. Stumbo said Kentucky needs a "central distributing point for small family industries which comprise the bulk of the industry."

(more)

Dr. Stumbo also addressed the problem of road improvement.

"I do not believe roads should be used as a political reward. I will prescribe to the four r's--resurfacing, rehabilitation, restructure and refinancing."

He cited the need for major extension of the state's railways to cut down on the wear and tear of roads, particularly those used in hauling coal.

Discussing his involvement and opinion of the recent data released on the Maxey Flats waste disposal site in Fleming County, Dr. Stumbo said "we have learned a good lesson."

He said that he did not advocate any big push for nuclear-related sites in Kentucky.

"We need a highly technical professional crew to deal with the problems at Maxey Flats."

Dr. Stumbo was asked what he thought of the philosophy of running the state as a business.

"State government is not a business, but some business principles can be applied, such as efficiency, proper staffing and accountability. State government is the business of educating, protecting and providing."

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Homecoming 1982, "A Western Hoedown," kicks off Thursday, Oct. 28, with a concert by country music singer Ronnie Milsap.

The concert is scheduled at 8 p.m. in MSU's Academic-Athletic Center.

Tickets are available at Larry's Rock and Read in Morehead, The Music Den in the Trademore Shopping Center, Morehead, and the Student Association office in MSU's Adron Doran University Center. Tickets also will be available at the door.

Homecoming activities on Friday begin with the annual Candlelight Dinner, starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center. The Homecoming Dance is set for 9 p.m. in Laughlin Health Building with the coronation of the Homecoming Queen at 10 p.m.

Saturday activities begin with alumni registration at 8 a.m. in the Alumni Center. A continental breakfast is set for 9 a.m. in the ADUC Cafeteria for former athletes. The annual Homecoming Parade through downtown Morehead steps off at 10 a.m. Reunions of the classes of 1932, 1942, 1952, 1962 and 1972 are scheduled during the noon luncheon in the ADUC Cafeteria. A gathering of former cheerleaders and homecoming queens will begin at 12:30 p.m. in the Eagle Room.

MSU's football Eagles meet Western Kentucky at Jayne Stadium at 2 p.m.

Post-game activities include a 9 p.m. dance at the Perkins Community Center under sponsorship of the Alumni Association. Tickets are $5 per couple and $3 per single and may be purchased at the door.

Additional information is available from the Office of Alumni Relations, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 783-2080.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- When the pigs get out of the pen or a cow jumps the fence in the middle of the night, Eddie Lundergan is there. And students usually are nearby.

Lundergan, the farm manager at Morehead State University's Derrickson Agricultural Complex, spends a lot of time working with agriculture students, helping them with every job.

"I always go to the fields and work right beside them until they get the hang of the job," says Lundergan. "Many students have no farm experience at all when they come here to live."

The 11 men and nine women who live at the farm are agriculture students involved in the work-study program at MSU. In addition to managing the farm, Lundergan supervises the students who do much of the labor.

"There's no way we could run this place without student help," he says. "It would be impossible."

Lundergan is a 1979 MSU graduate and a former student worker at the farm. He knows that while the students are keeping the farm in operation, they also are gaining invaluable experience.

"Workshop students get a lot more hands-on experience than the students who come out here for only two hours a week during lab time," Lundergan explains. "By living here, they see that farming isn't a clock-in-and-clock out thing, that it goes on all day and night and during the weekends as well."

(more)

7

Eddie Lundergan
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Although little work is done on weekends, the animals still have to be fed. And sometimes, when it looks like rain, there is hay in the field that must be brought to the barn quickly.

Each student living at the farm is required to spend one weekend each month caring for the livestock and doing any emergency chores. Lundergan, who also lives at the farm, helps with the weekend work.

"Nobody ever complains," Lundergan says. "The students always work more hours than they have to. We're all proud of this farm and everybody here is like one big family. We even have cake and ice cream on birthdays."

A native of Brown County, Ohio, Lundergan says it "felt like coming home" when he returned to MSU in June to manage the farm. Prior to that, he raised tobacco in Ohio and managed 3-T Farms in Lexington.

#####

10-15-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Student and faculty representatives from Morehead State University will be participating in United Nations Day at Frankfort on Oct. 24.

The theme of the United Nations celebration in the capitol will be "State of the World Environment: Conflicting Priorities." Professors and international students from Kentucky's colleges will be attending.

MSU representatives will include Kasim Khatijah and Aziz Hashim, graduate business students from Malaysia, and Nicholas Lee, graduate history student from England. Also attending will be Dr. Lindsey Back, associate professor of government; Dr. Perry LeRoy, professor of history and MSU international student advisor; and Dr. Sam Adewoye, visiting professor from the University of Nigeria.

The UN Day activities will include presentations by Edward Prichard, honorary UN Day chairman; Jackie Swigart, state secretary for natural resources and environmental protection; and Harry Caudill, environmentalist and author.

10-15-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Music will host its annual "Octubafest" on Thursday, Oct. 21.

Highlighting the 8:15 p.m. performance will be a German-style band. Twelve MSU students will appear in Alpine-German costumes and will perform traditional German polkas and marches.

The MSU Chapter of Tubists Universal Brotherhood Association (T.U.B.A) will open the evening concert with a selection of works by Bach, Beethoven and Sousa.

A student recital featuring soloists, duets and trios on tuba and euphonium is scheduled for 3 p.m. Selections will include compositions by Bach, Bell and Handel.

Dr. Earle Louder, professor of music, is the faculty advisor for T.U.B.A. at MSU.

All concerts are scheduled in Duncan Recital Hall and are free and open to the public.

10-15-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

ARTS CALENDAR

JANUARY

- Jan. 10-12 Registration
- Jan. 10 Exhibit: Student Artworks
Claypool-Young Art Gallery
Free and open to the public
Contact: Dr. Bill Booth at
 (606) 783-2193
- Jan. 14-16 Celebration: "Happy Birthday Dr. King"
Sponsored by the Black Coalition
Contact: Jerry Gore at
 (606) 783-2005
- Jan. 28 Concert: Bel Canto Tri and Piano Trio
Sponsored by The Arts in Morehead
Tickets Required
Contact: Dr. Glen Rogers at (606) 783-2788

10-16-83

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Establishment of the "Gary L. Bishop Memorial Fund" at Morehead State University has been announced by Mrs. Kay Bishop, widow of the Morehead businessman who was killed earlier this month in a traffic accident.

Mrs. Bishop said gifts to the fund, to be administered by the Morehead State University Foundation, Inc., would be used to assist MSU's athletic program and its School of Business and Economics.

She also reported that RAX Systems, Inc. of Columbus, Ohio, had notified her that it would make a corporate contribution and also match all gifts to the fund from RAX employees. The Bishops recently opened a RAX roast beef franchise in Pikeville.

Mr. Bishop was serving as a member of the Eagle Athletic Fund Advisory Board at the time of his death. The EAF, a component of the MSU Foundation, raises money for athletics. Mrs. Bishop will serve his unexpired term.

Gifts to the "Gary L. Bishop Memorial Fund" should be sent to the MSU Foundation, Inc., MSU, UPO Box 1000, Morehead, KY 40351.

#####

10-18-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's School of Business and Economics is sponsoring a job opportunity lecture on Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Janet Bodo, personnel supervisor for Ashland Oil, Inc., will discuss "Landing Jobs When Jobs are Scarce."

The 1:50 p.m. lecture in the Combs Building, Room 413, is free and open to the public.

Additional information is available from Dr. Jack Peters at (606) 783-2753.

10-18-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The Kentucky Weekly Newspaper Association has honored Morehead State University with the first "Friend of KWNA" award.

Mike Patton, KWNA president and editor of the Allen County News, said the presentation was to recognize "MSU's support of weekly newspaper professionals in Kentucky and the University's work with our organization."

The award was accepted by MSU President Morris L. Norfleet during the concluding banquet of the KWNA fall convention in Morehead.

Patton said that the KWNA Board of Directors would present the award "at appropriate times," but that it would not be on an annual basis.

Leigh Ann Stone, Vanceburg junior at MSU, was awarded the first Friend of KWNA Journalism Scholarship. Managing editor of "The Trail Blazer," MSU's weekly student newspaper, Ms. Stone was voted for the scholarship by the journalism faculty at MSU.

10-18-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University has declined an invitation to send its Symphony Band to a music festival in Red China next year.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet said the invitation to the First Festival of Music in Shanghai in April of 1983 was "respectfully declined with an expression of appreciation."

"We have notified the People's Republic of China through intermediaries that the University is proud of the invitation to our outstanding Symphony Band but that the proposed trip is beyond our financial means," Dr. Norfleet said in a prepared statement.

The 50-piece ensemble, conducted by Eugene Norden, MSU's director of bands, was among three Kentucky groups invited to the weeklong festival and was the only collegiate ensemble selected.

Dr. Norfleet announced that he had approved an alternate plan to send MSU's Symphony Band on a seven-day concert tour in Kentucky and adjacent states during the same time period.

"We will be asking friends of the University to help us finance the tour for these fine student musicians as a way of recognizing their achievements," he concluded.

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Jazz Ensemble I will perform in concert on Thursday, Nov. 4.

The group is under the direction of David L. Anderson, assistant professor of music at MSU.

Program selections will include:

*"Nutville," with soloists Dave Webster, Lawrenceburg senior, and Ashley Tyree, Mt. Sterling sophomore.

*"Meet Benny Bailey," with soloists Webster, Tyree and Todd Spangler, Middlesboro senior.

*"Angel Eyes," with soloists John Roberts, Georgetown junior, Dixie Dawkins, Independence junior, and Tyree.

*"Take The "A" Train," with soloists Webster and Spangler.

*"Le Meme Chose," with soloists Webster, Tyree and Ron Hayden, Louisville freshman.

*"Little Pixie," with soloists Dawkins and Spangler.

*"In a Mist," with soloist Spangler.

*"Waltz of the Mushroom Hunters," with soloists Eric Middleton, Lexington senior, and Spangler.

The 8:15 p.m. program in Duncan Recital Hall is free and open to the public.

10-19-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will host a reception for prospective students at the Ft. Mitchell Holiday Inn on Monday, Nov. 1.

Representatives from all MSU academic, administrative and student life areas will provide information and answer questions from 7--9:30 p.m.

Additional information is available from Dr. Rondal Hart, Director of Admissions, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. Kentucky residents may call toll-free 1-800-262-7474 and Southern Ohio residents may call toll-free 1-800-354-2090.

10-19-82 scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- William Jennings of Gonzalez, Fla., will present his graduate piano recital at 8:15 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 5, in Morehead State University's Duncan Recital Hall.

The MSU music major will perform works by Scarlatti, Beethoven and MacDowell. He is a member of the MSU Concert Choir and received a bachelor's degree from the University of Central Florida.

His instructor is Lucretia Stetler, MSU assistant professor of music. He is the son of Doris P. Jennings of Gonzalez, Fla.

10-19-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Rebecca Payne Shockley will present a piano recital at Morehead State University on Thursday, Nov. 11.

A native of Cincinnati and graduate of Indiana University, she holds a Performer's Licentiate from the Royal Academy of Music in London and a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Colorado.

Dr. Shockley is currently an associate professor of piano at Eastern Kentucky University. She is also active as a performer, clinician and adjudicator, and has appeared as soloist with the University of Colorado and Eastern Kentucky University Symphony Orchestras.

Her program will include selections by Scarlatti, Brahms, Copland and Liszt.

The 8:15 p.m. concert in Duncan Recital Hall is free and open to the public.

10-19-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Phi Beta Lambda chapter will be conducting a workshop for area high school Future Business Leaders of America chapters at Pikeville College on Oct. 29.

FBLA is the high school affiliate of Phi Beta Lambda, a national organization for post-secondary business students.

Additional information on the workshop is available from Cheryl Thomas, president of MSU's FBLA chapter, at (606) 783-4176.

####

10-19-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Ten Morehead State University students recently participated in Phi Beta Lambda's State Leadership Training Conference in Louisville.

The students are members of MSU's Phi Beta Lambda, a national business organization for post-secondary students.

Dan Watts, Morehead senior and state PBL treasurer, conducted a local chapter fundraising workshop.

Robin Buckland, Flatwoods junior and state PBL parliamentarian, headed a workshop in basic parliamentary procedures.

Tim Sublett, Olive Hill junior, conducted a workshop on advanced parliamentary procedures.

Other MSU students participating in the conference included Bill Tom Stone, Vanceburg senior; Terry Clark, Vanceburg junior; Kurt Gorham, Morehead senior; Cheryl Thomas, Somerset senior; Adrian Charles, Pikeville senior; Kathleen Moran, Hillsboro, Ohio, sophomore; and Marty Brown, Corbin sophomore.

Helen Northcutt, assistant professor of business education, is advisor of the local Phi Beta Lambda business honorary society.

####

10-19-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will host the Eagle Championships in Individual Events Tournament, an annual intercollegiate speech competition, on Oct. 22 and 23.

Participating students from colleges and universities in Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia will compete. Categories include extemporaneous speaking, rhetorical criticism, dramatic duo, impromptu, prose and poetry interpretation and after-dinner speaking.

Competition is scheduled across campus, beginning at noon on Friday and 8 a.m. on Saturday.

MSU's individual events team, coached by Dan Vice, instructor of speech, will be competing in individual matches but will not be eligible for the team sweepstakes award.

10-19-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University and the National Palace Museum in Taipei, Taiwan, are sponsoring a nationwide tour of a collection of Chinese art.

The tour began last week at Delta State University in Cleveland, Miss. Spanning 3,000 years of Chinese history, the 58-piece collection contains exact replicas of the silk landscape paintings, bronze utilitarian vessels, procelains, and scrolls which are housed at the museum.

Dr. Bill Booth, head of MSU's Department of Art, organized the tour, which will include at least eight other universities.

While conducting a study of the National Palace Museum last summer through a grant from the Pacific Cultural Foundation, Dr. Booth met the museum's curators and persuaded them to donate the replicas to MSU.

"They agreed to give them to us and let us send them on an exhibition tour," Dr. Booth said. "Their main concern is that the collection be widely exhibited in our country."

At the collection's opening at Delta State, Dr. Booth lectured on the history of the museum and its collection to "the largest single audience for an opening at that school."

The collection is valued at $70,000.

###

10-19-82kb

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to the Morehead News

Rowan County High School students are preparing to walk down new hallways beginning in the spring of 1983.

Dick Moon, the host of Morehead State University's television production "Dianoia," is on location at the new Rowan County High School this week with John Brock, superintendent of Rowan County Schools, and construction manager Art Hoffman.

Plans for the new school, located on Kentucky 32 north of Morehead, began in 1974.

"The physical portion of the facility took just a matter of time," Brock explains, "however, the money came from a bond issue and state funds."

Brock explains that the new facility not only cuts down on overcrowding, but also "gives more opportunity to the students." One example is in the science department.

"The science facilities will have a laboratory which will enable the students to do more advanced experiments," Brock adds.

Dedication of the Rowan County High School is scheduled for Nov. 21 at 2 p.m.

"Dianoia" is broadcast on Mondays at 4:30 p.m. and Fridays at 5:30 p.m. locally on Channel 12.

See this weeks ad in the "Morehead News" for complete program listings.

10-20-82scf

###

MEMORANDUM

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY 40351

DATE: October 20, 1982
TO: News Media
FROM: Sharon Crouch-Farmer, Coordinator of News Services
RE: Notice of Meeting of Board of Regents

Please be advised that the Morehead State University Board of Regents will meet Wednesday, Oct. 27, at 6:30 p.m. in the Riggle Room of the Adron Doran University Center.

If your organization is planning to cover the meeting, please contact our Office of News Services, (606) 783-2030, so that we can prepare sufficient copies of the agenda and related documents.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's individual events team finished second in the recent Ohio State University Buckeye Invitational Speech Tournament in Columbus.

Coached by Dan Vice, MSU instructor of speech, the team came in second to Fordham University of New York City in the sweepstakes competition.

Individual winners for MSU included:

- *Extemporaneous Speaking -- Keith Murphy, Grayson junior, fourth place.
- *After-Dinner Speaking -- Scott Coburn, Grayson sophomore, fifth.
- *Poetry Interpretation -- Belinda Stambough, Salyersville senior, third.
- *Impromptu Sales -- Lori Glass, Parkersburg, W. Va., junior, fifth.
- *Sales -- Murphy, fourth.
- *Duo Interpretation -- Coburn and Murphy, sixth.
- *Informative Speaking -- Murphy, third; Glass, fifth.
- *Impromptu Speaking -- Murphy, second.
- *Prose Interpretation -- Cheryl Pollitt, Morehead freshman, fifth.
- *Pentathlon -- Murphy, third.

10-21-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will be the setting for International Day, a program to foster international awareness, Nov. 4 and 5.

Sponsored by the MSU Cosmopolitan Club and the University's Committee on International Education, the two-day program will feature talks, exhibits, music and food from around the world.

Highlighting the activities will be a guest lecture by Dr. Sam Adewoye, an African novelist and MSU alumnus. He is the chairman of the English department at the University of Ilorin in Nigeria and currently is a writer-in-residence at MSU. He will discuss "The Role of the Individual in Society as Mirrored in the African Novel" on Nov. 4 at 4:15 p.m. in Reed Auditorium.

On Nov. 5, foreign students and faculty will be exhibiting various items representing their home countries from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center. There will also be exhibits on international education opportunities and printed information on foreign cultures.

Throughout the day, MSU's Department of Music will provide entertainment in front of the Crager Room. Groups performing include the MSU Trumpet Choir and tuba, trombone and French horn ensembles.

Climaxing the events is the International Banquet on Nov. 5 at 5 p.m. in the Baptist Student Center. MSU international students will be serving food from their home countries. Admission is $4 per person.

All other International Day activities are free and open to the public.

Additional information is available from Dr. Perry LeRoy or Dr. Lindsey Back at (606) 783-2090.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The pre-game show for Morehead State University's Homecoming football game on Oct. 30 will be opened by a parachute demonstration sponsored by the U.S. Army and MSU's Department of Military Science.

The demonstration team will consist of three parachutists from the Special Forces Green Beret Parachute Club located at the John F. Kennedy Center for Military Assistance, Fort Bragg, N.C.

The jumpers are all skydiving experts, specializing in free-fall techniques. During the homecoming demonstration, the team will exit the aircraft at approximately 10,000 feet. They will free-fall to 2,000 feet above the stadium where they will open their parachutes.

The team will be jumping in with the U.S. flag, the Kentucky state flag and the Morehead State University flag. They will land at the north end of Jayne Stadium where they will be met by members of MSU's ROTC Raider Company. The flags will be raised in the stadium during the playing of the National Anthem.

During their free fall, the team members will be dropping toward the ground at a speed of nearly 120 miles per hour. The jumpers can control their rate of descent by moving their hands and feet. This technique also gives them the ability to move horizontally across the sky, thus enabling them to make pinpoint landings.

The jumpers will be identifiable in the sky by smoke trails, produced with flares attached to their boots. This technique is used for demonstration purposes to enable the audience to see the jumpers.

(more)

Parachute Jump
2-2-2-2-2-2-2

The pre-game show and parachute demonstration will begin at 1:30 p.m., with the kickoff scheduled at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 30.

###

10-21-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Educational activities, music and rallies on the nuclear arms issue are scheduled at Morehead State University during early November.

Sponsored by MSU's United Students for Peace, the events will coincide with the Nov. 4 visit to MSU by the head of a national nuclear war education organization. Other speakers will include an arms limitation expert, a Kentucky nuclear freeze activist, a state legislator and MSU professors.

The two-week event will be kicked off with a mock Pro-Nuke Rally on Nov. 1 in which participants will jokingly protest in front of the University Center in support of a nuclear arms buildup.

State Rep. Pete Worthington, whose Fleming County district includes the Maxey Flats nuclear waste site, will address the problems of nuclear waste. He will speak on Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the University Center.

Dr. M. E. Pryor, professor of biology, and Dr. John Hanrahan, professor of history, will discuss prevention of nuclear war at MSU's Nov. 3 Lunchtime Forum at 12:40 p.m. in the University Center.

At 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 3, Dr. Ernie Yanarella, an arms limitations expert and professor of political science at the University of Kentucky, will discuss "Beyond the Freeze: The Quest for Nuclear Disarmament in an Age of Overkill." His appearance is scheduled in Reed Auditorium.

Dr. .

(more)

United Students
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Sponsored by MSU's Concert and Lecture Series, Dr. Roger C. Molander, executive director of Ground Zero, a nuclear war education project, will speak on Nov. 4. The topic of his 10:20 a.m. lecture in Button Auditorium will be "Nuclear War: What's in It for You?"

That day at 7:30 p.m., Col Owens of Lexington, executive director of Kentucky Legal Services and a nuclear freeze activist, will address "The Nuclear Freeze: What You Can Do" in the University Center.

United Students for Peace will conduct a Nov. 9 workshop entitled "What to Do: Bringing the Freeze to Morehead and Your Hometown." The 7:30 p.m. workshop will be in the basement study center of Camden-Carroll Library.

On Nov. 10, Dr. Hanrahan will speak on "The History of the Arms Race" at 7:30 p.m. in Room 201 of the library.

A film produced by the Union of Concerned Scientists, "No First-Use: Preventing Nuclear War," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 11 in Room 201 of Camden-Carroll Library. A short discussion will follow.

Following the film presentation there will be a candlelight march across campus at 8:30 p.m.

For additional information, contact United Students for Peace, UPO 1014, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351 or call Green Miller, advisor for United Students for Peace, at (606) 783-2171.

#####

10-22-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Eleven Coeds will seek the queen's crown during Homecoming 1982 at Morehead State University Oct. 28-30.

The new queen will be crowned during the Homecoming Dance on Friday, Oct. 29, at Laughlin Health Building. She will be presented during festivities on Saturday, Oct. 30, including the morning parade through downtown Morehead and the afternoon MSU-Western Kentucky football game.

The candidates include:

*Rhonda Asher, a senior from Winchester, the daughter of Christine Howard.

*Laura Baker, a senior from Frankfort, the daughter of Tom Baker.

*Terry Bland, a senior from Paris, the daughter of Jess Bland.

*Kateri Boone, a junior from Springfield, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Powell Boone.

*Anita Dixon, a junior from Sandy Hook, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dixon.

*Mickey Ferguson, a senior from West Liberty, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson.

*Debi Ison, a junior from Enon, Ohio, the daughter of Billy Ison.

*Marcia Phillips, a junior from South Shore, the daughter of Carl Phillips.

*Kristi Shelton, a senior from Maysville, the daughter of Mrs. Ora Shelton.

(more)

Candidates
2-2-2-2-2-2-2

*Edith Rene Short, a junior from Pershing, Ind., the daughter of Richard Short.

*Jonda Smith, a junior from Ashland, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Smith.

####

10-22-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Children costumed for trick-or-treat this year may be outfitted as robots, astronauts and androids but they are actually following a tradition which is thousands of years old.

The roots of today's Halloween customs, including trick-or-treat, predate Christianity, according to Dr. Perry LeRoy, professor of history at Morehead State University.

"Halloween, as we know it, is actually a compromise between early barbaric Europeans and Roman Catholic missionaries," says Dr. LeRoy.

The history of supernatural beliefs in various cultures is a special research area for Dr. LeRoy, who teaches a "History of Witchcraft" course each fall at MSU.

Halloween has its origins in the Celtic and Germanic traditions of a nature-worshipping pagan holiday to celebrate the harvest, according to Dr. LeRoy.

This associates the long-ago festivities with the modern day Halloween harvest symbols of pumpkins, cornshocks and overflowing cornucopias. But, the idea of spirits also comes from the pagan celebration.

"The Europeans would try to appease the spirits of the harvest or make them complacent and cooperative. They would cook some food for them, burn incense and offer gifts."

Dr. LeRoy says the celebration was related to the notion of "wicca"--white witchcraft.

(more)

Halloween
2-2-2-2-2-2

"It was not only a celebration of the harvest but one containing spiritual connotation. In order to continue and insure the future productivity and fertility of their crops, the Europeans would give something to the spirits."

Dr. LeRoy says these spirits were "friendly," at least as long as gifts were offered, and were often considered to be "ancestors."

"The pagan beliefs were the good old-time religion of the rural European peasantry. In fact, the word 'pagan' means 'rural' in Latin.

The pagan harvest celebration did not suit the Christian missionaries who eventually came into the European regions but the traditions of the holiday were deeply engrained in the pagan culture.

"So the easiest and quickest way for the missionaries to convert these people was to compromise."

Through an assimilation of cultures, the pagans were allowed to keep their harvest holiday--even after Catholic attempts to move it to another date--and many of its customs.

Some beliefs lingered on, but "when the old gods were thoroughly discredited" by Christian teachings, the idea of appeasing the gods thoroughly gift-giving was transferred to giving goodies to children costumed as spirits.

And if these counterfeit goblins were not satisfied with their gifts, tricks would be played by the youngsters, in the fashion of the ancient spirits.

Thus, the traditions leading to modern-day Halloween candy and soaped windows were born.

#####

10-22-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Should local government have the authority to veto hazardous waste dump sites?

Dr. David Morell, director of land use research at Princeton University, and William Sanjour, technical advisor to the Citizens Clearing House for Hazardous Waste, will consider that question in the fourth and final face off of "The Great Debates 1982."

The program will be broadcast on WMKY, public radio from Morehead State University, on Thursday, Oct. 28, at 1 p.m.

Sanjour believes that local government should be allowed to squelch proposed sites.

"Ultimately, it's the local residents who bear the ill consequences of the buried chemicals (such as clean-up costs and contamination sickness)," he affirms. Because there is no way to "dump untreated materials safely," Sanjour avows, to ask a community to host a site is "an irresponsible act."

Dr. Morell favors a two-step plan to put the reins in both state and local hands: 1) a yes or no vote on the local level, followed by 2) a provision for the state to override the local decision, if necessary, to accommodate expanded interests. Furthermore, he advocates national laws to encourage states to draft such siting procedures.

As technical advisor to the Citizens Clearing House for Hazardous Waste, Sanjour lectures frequently against the establishment and continuation of hazardous waste landfills. He has also spoken out on the problem in the ABC-TV news special, "The Killing Ground," and in the book "Laying Waste," by Michael Brown.

(more)

Sanjour, who earned his master's degree at Columbia University, has supervised numerous studies on hazardous waste in his ten years with the Environmental Protection Agency. Today, Sanjour is chief of EPA's hazardous waste implementation branch.

Since 1974, Dr. Morell has been director of Princeton University's Center for Energy and Environmental Studies, and a teacher of environmental politics and policies.

He advised the Office of Science and Technology Policy, Executive Office of the President, on facility siting in 1980-81, and is currently a consultant on the same to the Office of Energy of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey.

Dr. Morell, who received his doctorate in political science and public policy from Princeton, recently authored "Fighting Hazardous Facilities: Local Opposition and the Myth of Preemption."

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- ~~U.S.~~ U.S. Sen. Walter D. Huddleston and 10 other persons will receive special recognition during Morehead State University's 1982 Homecoming Candlelight Dinner on Friday, Oct. 29.

A member of the Senate since 1973, Huddleston will receive an award for special service in government. He is a member of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, Senate Appropriations Committee and is the ranking Democrat on the Senate Agricultural Committee.

Receiving a special service award for his work in literature will be author ~~James~~ James Still of Hindman.

Six persons will be inducted into MSU's Alumni Hall of Fame, including: ~~Dr.~~ Dr. James A. Adams, superintendent of Indianapolis Public Schools and a native of Letcher County. He received bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU and holds a doctorate from Ohio State University. Dr. Adams has been a school administrator for 20 years.

~~Mrs.~~ Mrs. Marcheta T. Blackburn, vice president of First National Bank of Pikeville. She is a graduate of the Kentucky School of Banking and a 1968 MSU alumnus.

~~Dr.~~ Dr. William J. Higginbotham of Pikeville, president of Samoyed Mining Co., Inc. His master's degree thesis topic was the history of the MSU Alumni Association, and he received a doctorate from Indiana University.

~~Dr.~~ Dr. William E. Jamison, president and director of the RSM Co. in Cincinnati. He holds a bachelor's from MSU, master's from Xavier University, and a doctorate from the University of Cincinnati. In 25 years, Dr. Jamison has managed and consulted with a variety of operations and established or managed international divisions in Japan, Puerto Rico, Germany, Holland and Italy.

(more)

Hömecoming Awards
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

✓*Paul Lyon, Jr., president of Mineral Labs, Inc., in Salyersville. He holds a bachelor's degree from MSU and a master's from the University of Tennessee. Lyon has also served as president of L & C Engineering in Salyersville and as assistant director of industrial development in the Kentucky Department of Commerce.

✓*Dr. Gary North, assistant vice chancellor of student affairs at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Ill. A native of Letcher County, he received bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU and the doctorate from Michigan State University.

Three persons will be made Honorary Alumni of MSU, including:

✓*Dr. Walter Emge, MSU's vice president for academic affairs; Brenda J. Goldy, vice president of First Security National Bank in Lexington; and ✓Boone Logan, retired senior vice president of the Second National Bank of Ashland, now First Bank and Trust Co.

The 8 p.m. ceremony will be held in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center.

#####

10-25-82scf

✓ Pruitt

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

ARTS CALENDAR

NOVEMBER

- Nov. 4 Lecture: Roger Molander, founder of "Ground Zero"
Sponsored by MSU Concert and Lecture Series
10:20 a.m. - Button Auditorium
Free and open to the public
Contact: Dr. Sue Luckey at (606) 783-2741
- Concert: Jazz I Ensemble
Sponsored by MSU Department of Music
8:15 p.m. - Duncan Recital Hall
Free and open to the public
Contact: David Anderson at (606) 783-2488
- Nov. 11 Concert: Guest, Rebecca Shockley of ECU, piano
Sponsored by MSU Department of Music
8:15 p.m. - Duncan Recital Hall
Free and open to the public
Contact: Vasile Venettozzi at (606) 783-2481
- Nov. 16 Concert: MSU Orchestra
Sponsored by MSU Department of Music
8:15 p.m. - Duncan Recital Hall
Free and open to the public
Contact: Leo Blair at (606) 783-2491
- Theatre: Ghosts, MSU Theatre program
8 p.m. - Kibbey Theatre
Tickets: $3.50
Contact: Theatre Box Office at (606) 783-2170
Thru Nov. 20
- Nov. 17 Concert: Norman Luboff Choir
Sponsored by "Arts in Morehead" Series
8 p.m. - Button Auditorium
Tickets - $5, adults - $2.50, 18 or younger
Contact: Dr. Glenn Rogers at (606) 783-2788
Department of Art at (606) 783-2766
- Nov. 18 Theatre: Childrens Theatre - Videosyncrasies
Sponsored by "Arts in Morehead" Series
1 p.m. - Button Auditorium
Tickets - $5, adults - $2.50, 18 or younger
Contact: Dr. Glenn Rogers at (606) 783-2788
Department of Art at (606) 783-2766

(more)

Arts Calendar
2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Nov. 18

Concert: Trombone Choir
Sponsored by Department of Music
8:15 p.m. - Duncan Recital Hall
Free and open to the public
Contact: Dr. Edward Malterer at (606) 783-2402

####

10-25-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Roger Molander, executive director of Ground Zero, a nuclear war education project, is lecturing Thursday, Nov. 4, at Morehead State University.

The 10:20 a.m. program in Button Auditorium is free and open to the public.

Dr. Molander was a member of the National Security Council staff in the White House from 1974-81 serving under three presidents. His principal area of responsibility was strategic nuclear policy issues which included chairing the interagency working group which prepared all the analytical material for the SALT negotiations.

Prior to joining the NSC staff, he was employed in the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

Dr. Molander received his doctorate in engineering and applied physics from the University of California at Berkeley.

10-26-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to the Morehead News

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Can American literary writers relate to African culture?

Dr. John Kleber, Morehead State University professor of history and director of the Honors Program, and Dr. Sam Adewoye, MSU writer-in-residence from Nigeria, will discuss modern African culture and literature on a special MSU-TV broadcast this week.

Dr. Adewoye, a MSU alumnus and former chairman of the English Department at the University of Ilorin in Nigeria, will talk with four student members of the MSU Honors Program on "Symposium of Honor."

The broadcast is part of the International Day celebration on Nov. 4 and 5 at MSU, and is sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Club.

In the program, Dr. Kleber explains that one of the conflicts between the western world and African society is that there needs to be "a blend and modernized outlook between the two cultures."

Dr. Adewoye added that one of the reasons why many cultures and American writers cannot relate to African society is a lack of exposure.

"To be a writer about other countries, you must study and understand the values of each culture," he explains. "Without the exposure between both worlds, neither one will have an impact on either country."

Dr. Adewoye is the author of two novels, entitled "The Betrayer" and "Glittering Fragments," both of which contain experiences based on his life in Morehead.

"Symposium of Honor" will be aired locally on Channel 12 on Tuesday, Nov. 2; at 4 p.m.; Wednesday, Nov. 3, at 6:30 p.m.; and Friday, Nov. 5, at 6 p.m.

10-27-82fj

###

Media Advisory

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Not for publication or broadcast

EVENT: 1982 Morehead State University Homecoming

DATE/TIME: Oct. 28, 29 and 30 (see schedule below)

SITE: Morehead State University campus

SCHEDULE OF ACTIVITIES:

Thursday, Oct. 28

Student Association Concert - Ronnie Milsap - 8 p.m.
Academic-Athletic Center
Opening Group - "New Horizon"

Friday, Oct. 29

Homecoming Candlelight Dinner - 6:30 p.m. - Adron Doran University Center, Crager Room

Homecoming Dance - 9 p.m. - Laughlin Health Building

Homecoming Queen Coronation - at Homecoming Dance - 10 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 30

Alumni Registration - 8 a.m. - Alumni Center
Continental Breakfast - 9 a.m. - Adron Doran University Center
Cafeteria
Homecoming Parade - 10 a.m. - Downtown Morehead
Reunions of Classes of 1932, 1942, 1952, 1962 and 1972 - Noon -
Adron Doran University Center Cafeteria
Reunions of Past Cheerleaders and Queens - 12:30 p.m. - Adron Doran
University Center Eagle Room
Football - MSU vs. Western Kentucky University - 2 p.m. - Jayne
Stadium
Alumni Post-Game Dance - 9 p.m. - Perkins Community Center

LIVE BROADCAST RIGHTS: Contact this office

PRESS SEATING: Available upon request

FACILITIES AVAILABLE: Telecopiers, telephones, electrical outlets, typewriters

MSU COVERAGE: Black/White photographs, News Releases

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- More than 1,000 Eastern Kentucky high school students will participate in Morehead State University's annual World of Technology Day on Thursday, Nov. 11.

Students will attend demonstrations by MSU faculty and students in industrial technology, agriculture, mining technology, home economics and allied health sciences. Also scheduled are a fashion show, movies and slide shows.

"Our emphasis will be on demonstrating how our equipment works," said Dennis Karwatka, associate professor of industrial education and chairman of the event. "We want to introduce students to what is available here and to the programs we have and make them aware of these fields they could go into after high school."

Registration for World of Technology Day, sponsored by MSU's School of Applied Sciences and Technology, begins at 9 a.m. at the Lloyd Cassity building.

Additional information is available from Dennis Karwatka at (606) 783-2416 or Betty Philley at (606) 783-2627.

All programs are free and open to the public.

###

10-29-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

By ALVIN GRIDER
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Much has changed at Morehead State University since Joel Martin, MSU's new executive-in-residence, graduated from the institution 30 years ago.

And not just the buildings and the faces.

"The information base and the technology are growing so rapidly, these students today have much more to learn than we did," says Martin, a computer expert who is teaching and attending classes during his residency in MSU's School of Business and Economics.

"I have nothing but admiration for the people graduating from college now."

The Prestonsburg native retired two years ago from Ashland Oil, Inc. He was operations manager for the company's computer science department and worked for AOI for 28 years.

He has experience in all phases of computer science, including systems analysis and computer development. In fact, he worked on the "first commercial computer in the world" while employed as an Air Force civilian.

As part of his residency at MSU, Martin instructs an introductory course in computers.

"I try to share my experience and contribute something to the students' education," Martin says.

Of Martin's qualifications, Dr. Louise Hickman, head of MSU's Department of Information Sciences, says, "You can't beat them."

(more)

Martin
2-2-2-2-2

Dr. Hickman adds:

"A student would be very fortunate to have him for a teacher. Anyone with that much experience as an executive and computer specialist at Ashland Oil is a real asset to our department."

While at MSU, Martin is also learning. He is working on a master's degree and is taking graduate courses in statistics and education.

While working for Ashland Oil, Martin lived in Flatwoods. He is currently living on MSU's campus with his wife, Virginia. They have four children and six grandchildren.

Martin has "worked on computers from the very beginning, when they were these huge, cumbersome things," notes Dr. Hickman. "He has seen the use of them expand greatly."

That expansion and the need for everyone to learn about computers is one thing Martin brings to the classroom. He understands firsthand why computers are so important to business and the wide variety of applications for computers.

"The students here are very enthusiastic about learning," says Martin. "They don't have a choice. They're going to have to live with computers and they know it."

####

10-29-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Displaced and needing help finding a place to work for pay? Don't give up. You may fall into the category of displaced homemaker. If so, there's help available through your local displaced homemakers program.

Who is a displaced homemaker? A displaced homemaker is any person who is faced with the responsibility for becoming the primary breadwinner for a family as the result of the death, disability, desertion, or divorce of a spouse and who has spent the last several years working primarily in the home.

Spending years of concentrated effort inside the home--without exposure to the outside world of work--frequently results in a loss of skills or a failure to acquire skills necessary for successful competition in the broader world of work.

The displaced homemakers program is one that prepares displaced homemakers for successful competition in the outside world.

Such a program can help a person become oriented to the current nature of job competition; to the fields of work most in demand at any specific time; and to the vocations one is most likely to succeed in because of individual talents, skills and experiences.

Displaced homemakers programs also provide training and counseling services to aid in development of skills necessary for finding and maintaining employment. In addition, such programs provide on-the-job counseling to assist trainees in on-the-job advancement.

(more)

Displaced Homemakers
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Displaced homemakers programs across Kentucky are supported primarily by federal dollars in the form of Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) funds. These programs are monitored by the Bureau for Manpower Services.

Local programs are sponsored by a nonprofit agency or institution that has recognized and established administrative credibility at the local, state, and federal level; and has designed and proposed development of an effective program.

Morehead State University, through the Appalachian Development Center, is such a sponsoring agency. MSU's displaced homemakers program serves a three-county area--Bath, Montgomery, and Rowan.

If you live in either of these counties, think you fall into the category of displaced homemaker, and want the advantages that the training and counseling provided through the program can give you, call or visit your local Bureau for Manpower Services office in either Morehead or Mt. Sterling.

A caseworker will help you determine if you qualify for the program and will assist you in getting enrolled in the next session.

To be eligible for enrollment in the next session beginning Nov. 8, you must register at your Bureau of Manpower Services office by Nov. 3.

To find out more about the program or about benefits you may be eligible for while enrolled in the program, call or visit MSU's displaced homemakers program on the Morehead State University campus. It's located on the east end of the campus on Vaughn Drive. The telephone number is (606) 783-2379.

####

10-29-82

Contact: Betty Marshall
(606) 783-2077

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Board of Regents voted here Wednesday night to discontinue summer commencement.

The Regents voted unanimously to accept the recommendation, effective immediately, citing declining attendance at the summer graduation ceremony.

The Board adopted internal regulations to comply with sweeping changes in fiscal management statutes enacted by the 1982 Kentucky General Assembly.

In other action, the Regents:

*Granted faculty emeriti status to Dr. Mary Powell, Dr. James Powell and Dr. Paul Ford Davis, retired professors of education.

*Accepted external monies totaling $951,466 for programs funded by external agencies for the period July 1 through Oct. 15 and gifts totaling $344,463.36 for the 1981-82 fiscal year.

*Named an area of the Academic-Athletic Center as the "Len Miller Room" in honor of a former coach.

10-29-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Fine arts highlight the month of November at Morehead State University.

The Arts in Morehead (AIM) Series continues with the Norman Luboff Choir on Nov. 17, and the children's theatre production of "Videosyncrasies" on Nov. 18.

Dr. Roger Molander, executive director of Ground Zero, will appear as the second guest in MSU's 1982-83 Lecture Series on Nov. 4.

MSU theatre will present "Ghosts," by Henrik Ibsen, in Kibbey Theatre Nov. 16 - 20.

Showing in MSU's Claypool-Young Art Gallery through Dec. 17 is an exhibition of Barbizon paintings from France. The annual Cliff Johnson Memorial Scholarship Art Auction is scheduled for Nov. 16 in the Art Gallery.

Concerts scheduled include Jazz Ensemble, Nov. 4; Band Festival, Nov. 5 and 6; Rebecca Shockley, Nov. 11; Orchestra Concert, Nov. 16; Trombone Choir on Nov. 19.

World of Technology Day is set for Nov. 11 with high school students being introduced to programs and facilities in MSU's School of Applied Sciences and Technology.

A series of activities relating to nuclear defense issues will feature State Rep. Pete Worthington on Nov. 2, Dr. Ernie Yanarella, University of Kentucky professor of political science on Nov. 3, and Col Owens, executive director of Kentucky Legal Services, on Nov. 4.

(more)

Monthly Preview
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Other events include a public hearing entitled "Driving Under the Influence" on Nov. 5; a financial aid workshop on Nov. 17; and the Bloodmobile is scheduled in Button Auditorium on Nov. 30.

In sports, MSU's football Eagles close out their home season against Youngstown State on Nov. 13.

The Lady Eagle volleyball team hosts the Lady Eagle Invitational Tournament on Nov. 5 and 6 and Marshall on Nov. 9.

Thanksgiving will be observed on the MSU campus with classes dismissing at 11:20 a.m. on Nov. 24. Classes resume and offices reopen on Nov. 29 at 8 a.m.

####

10-29-82scf

Tips

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

NOVEMBER, 1982

News Coverage

Concert and Lecture Series

Featuring Roger Molander, executive director of Ground Zero

Nov. 4

Contact: Dr. Sue Luckey at (606) 783-2741

International Day

Nov. 4 and 5

Contact: Dr. Lindsey Back at (606) 783-2090

or Dr. Perry LeRoy at (606) 783-2090

World of Technology Day

Nov. 11

Contact: Dennis Karwatka at (606) 783-2416

Annual Cliff Johnson Memorial Art Scholarship Auction

Nov. 16

Contact: Dr. Bill Booth at (606) 783-2193

MSU Theatre

Featuring "Ghosts," by Henrik Ibsen

Nov. 16-20

Contact: Dr. Travis Lockhart at (606) 783-2711

Economics Workshop

Nov. 18

Contact: Green Miller at (606) 783-2171

Arts in Morehead Series

Norman Luboff Choir

Nov. 17

"Videosyncrasies" Childrens Theatre

Nov. 18

Contact: Dr. Glenn Rogers at (606) 783-2788

Feature Ideas:

United Students for Peace Two-Week Teach-In

Nov. 1 - 11, activities will feature lectures, rallies, a visit from State Rep. Pete Worthington, and a film.

Contact: Green Miller at (606) 783-2171

Executive-in-Residence Program

Joel Martin, retired executive with Ashland Oil, Inc. is living and working on campus.

Contact: Dr. William Whitaker at (606) 783-2174.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Black Coalition will present its third annual talent show on Wednesday, Nov. 10, at 7 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall.

"There will be five acts--two jazz, one soul group and two comedy acts," says Keith Smith, Montgomery County freshman and show coordinator.

Competing groups will receive a trophy for first place, a $10 certificate for second and a $5 certificate for third place.

The contestants will be judged on the presentation of the group, content and originality.

Admission is 75 cents.

Additional information is available from Jerry Gore, advisor to the Black Coalition, at (606) 783-2005.

####

11-2-82fj

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University theatre will present "Ghosts," by Henrik Ibsen, Nov. 16 through 20 at 8 p.m. in Kibbey Theatre.

An example of modern serious drama, "Ghosts" deals openly with society's current taboos.

"The play was controversial when it premiered in 1881 because it included things that were not considered proper for public discussion then, things which are more readily accepted today," explains Dr. Travis Lockhart, assistant professor of theatre and director of the production.

The cast includes:

*Crystal Cline, Cape Coral, Fla., freshman, as Regina.

*Todd Thomas, Corbin junior, as Engstrand.

*Bobby Spencer, Morehead junior, as Paster Manders.

*Pamela Hammonds, Scuddy senior, as Mrs. Alving.

*Jackie Salley, Hazard senior, as Oswald Alving.

Admission is $3.50, with MSU students admitted free with a valid ID card.

Additional information and reservations are available from the MSU Theatre box office at (606) 783-2170.

####

11-2-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Todd Thomas, Corbin junior, will portray the role of Engstrand in the Morehead State University theatre production of "Ghosts" by Henrik Ibsen.

The play, a classic drama written in 1881, focuses on the "joy of life" and the consequences of that joy as opposed to society's taboos.

Directed by Dr. Travis Lockhart, MSU assistant professor of theatre, the play will run Nov. 16 through Nov. 20 in Kibbey Theatre.

Additional information and reservations are available from the MSU Theatre box office at (606) 783-2170.

11-2-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The 5th annual Cliff Johnson Memorial Scholarship Art Auction is scheduled Tuesday, Nov. 16, at Morehead State University.

The auction, sponsored by MSU's Department of Art and the Morehead Art Students League, is held in memory of local artist Cliff Johnson and his interest in MSU art students.

Works scheduled for auction this year will include one landscape painting by Johnson, provided by his estate.

"We will have more than 150 pieces available from almost every medium, including paintings, prints, sculptures, ceramics and crafts," explained Dr. Bill Booth, head of MSU's Department of Art.

Contributions are provided by MSU students, faculty, alumni and friends of the department.

The C. Roger Lewis Agency will conduct the auction free of charge in support of the art program.

Door prizes will include one print by Johnson.

All proceeds from the sale will go to the MSU Art Scholarship Fund.

"We have canceled the student Christmas art sale this year, so this will be the only opportunity for the public to purchase these quality artworks," Dr. Booth added.

The works will be on display in the Claypool-Young Art Building, Room 111, beginning at 4:30 p.m. with the auction starting at 7:30 p.m.

Additional information is available from Dr. Booth at (606) 783-2193.

####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Thirty foreign military officers from the U.S. Armor School at Fort Knox will visit Morehead State University on Friday, Nov. 5, as part of MSU's observance of International Day.

MSU's Department of Military Science is sponsoring a tour of campus for the officers and their families. The officers were hand picked by their governments to attend the U.S. Army's armor officer advanced course in Fort Knox. The countries they represent include Spain, Greece, Somalia, Nigeria, Saudi Arabia, Israel and Egypt.

The group will arrive on campus at 10:30 a.m. and be welcomed by MSU President Morris L. Norfleet.

Luncheon is scheduled with members of MSU's Cosmopolitan Club, followed by visits to the international exhibits in the Crager Room.

The visit ends with the annual International Banquet at 5 p.m. in the Baptist Student Center. International students will prepare and serve food representing their home countries.

###

11-3-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Isn't it always a farmer's fantasy to walk into a store just a few miles away and have everything from farm tools to bird seed at hand?

A Morehead State University television crew visits such a store next week on "Our Appalachia."

Phil Conn, MSU vice president for university and regional services and host of the half-hour MSU-TV broadcast, travels to Plummers Landing in Fleming County for a tour of Frank Hinton and Son Farm Supply.

The family-owned business is somewhat unique in that it houses a post office, feed mill, warehouse for seed fertilizer and all pre-mixed feed, tool and other supplies.

"The farm supply company first originated in Grider, Kentucky, in 1918," Bill Hinton explains, "then, in 1922, it was bought by my father, Oscar Hinton. Ever since, for 80 years, it has been owned by the Hinton family."

The farmers supply store operated in three locations--Fleming County, Mason County and Maysville--and serves people from 15 counties.

"Because we grind and mix the fertilizer and feed, we feel our store could be a main calling card for local farmers," Hinton says.

"Our Appalachia" is broadcast locally on Channel 12 Tuesday at 5:30 p.m., Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. and Thursday at 4 p.m.

MSU-TV airs from 4 - 6 p.m. each weekday.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Dr. Roger Molander, executive director of Ground Zero, took a Morehead State University audience on a trip to nuclear war in a recent lecture.

In describing the consequences of a nuclear attack, Dr. Molander said that "there is no question that Louisville and Lexington would be attacked."

Worldwide, "about 500 million people would die immediately, and the living would envy the dead," Dr. Molander said.

"Gradually, the pillars of our society, such as communications, transportation, food distribution and medical services, would disintegrate," he continued.

A former member of the National Security Council staff in the White House, Dr. Molander said the threat of nuclear war is the "biggest challenge the human community has ever faced."

Dr. Molander, whose group authored the book "Nuclear War: What's in It For You," added that if the world stays on the path it is on, it is possible that there will be a nuclear war leading to the extinction of the human species.

He described six "routes to a nuclear war," which included a surprise "bolt from the blue," escalation of a European or third world conflict, and escalation after a false alarm, nuclear accident or terrorist attack.

(more)

In deterrence to a nuclear confrontation, Dr. Molander said:

"We must change the relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union. We need to spend time with each other at different levels, from the family up. This is probably our last chance."

Dr. Molander spoke as part of MSU's Concert and Lecture Series.

11-4-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Despite the failing economy and rising unemployment, there are jobs available in fashion merchandising and interior design.

Dr. Jacquelyn McCullough, head of the Department of Home Economics at Morehead State University, said that although small firms have been hurt recently "these fields are growing nationwide in spite of the economy."

"If graduates are mobile and willing to move where the jobs are, they won't have any problem getting positions," Dr. McCullough said, adding that jobs in small communities and rural areas are scarce.

"By limiting yourself to one place, you limit your job opportunities in home economics, but that's true of any field," she explained.

Two other areas of home economics, food service administration and dietetics, have stopped growing in recent years but are now stable, while home economic's teaching positions have declined. Dr. McCullough attributed this decline to the lower birth rate of the last two decades.

To break into fashion merchandising and interior design, Dr. McCullough advises students to develop a professional attitude and manner, learn to be enthusiastic and how to present themselves well while still in school.

"And one of the most crucial things is to get some work experience before graduation," she added. "Whether it's a co-op or a part-time job on their own, it really makes the difference in who gets the position."

Dr. McCullough came to MSU in July from Indiana University where she was coordinator of fashion merchandising. She received a doctorate in consumer sciences and retailing from Purdue University, and bachelor's and master's degrees from Indiana State University.

####

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATIONS

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY 40351

November 5, 1982

Gentlemen:

The Morehead State University theatre program is initiating the practice of holding a preview performance for the benefit of press personnel. At this performance, your Arts or Entertainment Director will be allowed to take photographs, sound recordings or videotape the performance, as well as evaluate it for review purposes. No photographs or other recordings will be permitted at regular performances.

The enclosed passes are valid indefinitely. The first performance you are entitled to see is Henrik Ibsen's classic, "Ghosts," which focuses on the "dead ideas and...old and obsolete beliefs" which we inherit from the past and rob us of the joy of life.

The preview show begins at 8 p.m., Monday, Nov. 15, in the Kibbey Theatre at MSU.

We anxiously await your attendance and coverage of the event.

Sincerely,

Barbara Whitlock

Barbara Whitlock
MSU Theatre Publicity
UPO 934
Morehead, KY 40351
(606) 783-2170

BW/wlj

Enclosure

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The U.S. Army Drill Team will perform during pre-game activities when Morehead State University hosts Youngstown State University in football on Saturday, Nov. 13.

Organized in 1957, the group of 16 soldiers is one of the most acclaimed elements of the U.S. Army's official ceremonial unit, the 3rd U.S. Infantry (The Old Guard), stationed in Fort Myer, Va.

A highlight of the team's performance involves tossing 10-pound, chrome-bayoneted 1903 Springfield rifles to each other from front to rear, as high as 15 feet in the air and 15 feet to the rear.

Other drills include the execution of the manual of arms in unison, the Queen Anne's salute, and a speciality drill during which a drillmaster stands in the center of a formation surrounded by four soldiers tossing their bayoneted rifles over his head.

All maneuvers are performed without vocal cadence counts or musical cues. The drill team's visit is sponsored by MSU's Department of Military Science.

Pre-game activities begin at 1:15 p.m. at Jayne Stadium on the MSU campus.

####

11-5-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Chamber music, nuclear wastes and class distinctions are highlights as Morehead State University's Lunchtime Forum continues through November and into December.

On Nov. 10, violinist Leo Blair, cellist Suanne Blair and pianist Lucretia Stetler, members of MSU's music faculty, will present a musical lunchtime treat with "Conversations in Chamber Music."

Dr. Russell Brengelman, professor of physics at MSU, and Allen Holbrook, Morehead attorney, will look at the pros and cons of a local nuclear waste site on Nov. 17. Their discussion is entitled "Maxey Flats: Opposing Views."

Dr. Roy Roberson, minister of First Christian Church of Morehead, also will talk about a local issue on Dec. 1. He will address "Rich People and Poor People: A Realistic Look at Class Distinctions within the Community."

Open to the public, the Lunchtime Forum is held each Wednesday at 12:40 p.m. in West Rooms A and B of the Adron Doran University Center. Members of the public are invited to bring their lunch. Drinks are provided.

###

11-5-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Since coming to Morehead State University in the fall of 1980, Leslie Taul of Owingsville has had her heart set on becoming a recording engineer.

The former Bath County High School Homecoming Queen decided to major in radio-television because "there isn't a specific field of study in recording engineering. I felt that radio-television would take me in this direction?"

In her three years at MSU, Ms. Taul has worked in various sections of production at WMKY, public radio from MSU.

"During my freshman year, I ran errands and worked as an announcer," Ms. Taul explains.

She began working her way up, and in her sophomore year she mastered the production of recordings.

"I also ran the main control board at WMKY," she adds.

This year, the junior fashion merchandising major is working as an assistant to Becky Hixon, director of promotion and development at WMKY, along with engineering WMKY's "Morning Edition" two days a week.

Although she started out on the ground floor, Ms. Taul's early experience as a freshman placed her ahead of other student workers at WMKY, and will give her a head start on her career.

"What helped me in the beginning was that I knew what I wanted when I came to MSU," she explains, "and having part-time experience at WMKY will help me reach my goal of becoming a recording engineer."

(more)

Leslie Taul
2-2-2-2-2-2

Of her success in finding positions at WMKY, she added, "being in radio-tv field requires one to have an aggressive personality."

Taul is the fourth in her family to attend MSU.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Taul of Owingsville.

###

11-5-82fj

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- If someone gave you $100,000 to invest in the stock market, what would you do with it?

Six Eastern Kentucky high school teams have each been given this opportunity while competing in Morehead State University's new Stock Market Game.

The game, worth one hour of college credit to the students, does not involve real money, except for the students' tuition which is being paid by MSU's Center for Economic Education.

The game involves six high school Future Business Leaders of America chapters, according to Dr. Bernard Davis, head of MSU's Department of Accounting and Economics. Each team has three to six students.

"The object of the game is to maximize a hypothetical $100,000 by investing in common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange," says Dr. Davis.

Participating schools are Boyd County, Bracken County, Mason County, Ashland Paul Blazer, Raceland and West Carter.

After the teams received their $100,000 and instructions last month, each began sending weekly buy and sell decisions to MSU for recordkeeping and pricing.

The game should give students "some economic awareness related to the stock market," notes Dr. Davis.

"It will get them looking at the stock market every day in the papers as they try to relate market changes back to economic changes which affect the market.

(more)

Stock Market Game
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

"There's also the fun of competing with other high schools."

MSU developed the idea from similar programs in Georgia and Virginia. Dr. Davis says the game may become an annual activity with more schools participating each year.

At the end of the nine-week game, the team with the highest value will receive a certificate of recognition.

"We hope to have a dinner in December to recognize all the participating students and to award the certificate to the winner," Dr. Davis adds.

He concluded:

"Some of these teams may lose their hypothetical shirts in the market, but it should be interesting to see the outcome and to witness the learning experience."

####

11-5-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will present the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band and special guest John McEuen in concert on Monday, Nov. 15.

Tickets are available to MSU students with valid ID cards at $2 each. General admission tickets at $5 each are available in Morehead at Larry's Rock and Read, the Music Den and the MSU Student Association Office in the Adron Doran University Center.

The 8 p.m. concert in the Academic-Athletic Center is sponsored by MSU's Student Association.

11-8-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University is developing a cooperative relationship with LaSalle University in Bogota, Columbia.

Dr. Hermanno Hernando Seba Lopez, academic vice rector, and Dr. Gerardo Eusse Hoyos, director of graduate studies in business administration, visited MSU under sponsorship of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU).

MSU President Morris E. Norfleet said the South American visitor proposed faculty and student exchange programs. While on campus, they toured MSU's School of Business and Economics and Education and the Derrickson Agricultural Complex.

"We are primarily interested in agriculture and business," explained Dr. Hoyos in a Friday press conference. "The exchange program we are looking at would involve only a short period of time, about five weeks, and would involve only one subject at a time."

Dr. Norfleet said MSU will begin the cooperative venture by sharing textbooks and reference books written in English.

"Our objective at the present is to find ways of keeping in touch with each other by exchanging information," Dr. Norfleet added.

Dr. Hoyos added that he is enthusiastic about sending his professors to the MSU campus.

"We can profit from your experience and knowledge in these fields," Dr. Hoyos added.

LaSalle is a private university with an enrollment of more than 8,000.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Norman Luboff will conduct his internationally-acclaimed choir in a concert at Morehead State University's Button Auditorium on Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 8 p.m.

With over 75 LP's and almost two decades of concert touring to its credit, the Norman Luboff Choir has achieved a reputation considered by many to be unmatched by any other vocal group in the world.

Critics have hailed Luboff's versatility and craftsmanship and described him as being at home with the works of Bach and Beethoven as he is with a Bacharach ballad or a Scandinavian folk song.

Admission is by season subscription or by valid MSU ID card. Tickets also will be available at the door at a cost of $5 for adults and $2.50 for those 18 and under.

The Arts in Morehead Series (AIM) is sponsored by MSU, the Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council, the Kentucky Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts.

###

11-9-82rd

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The wacky world of "Videosyncrasies" will come alive in Morehead with actors, dancers, lights and laughter filling the stage at Morehead State University Nov 17 and 18.

"Videosyncrasies" is a musi-comical saga produced by Sheffield Ensemble Theatre (SET), whose creative impetus springs from Buddy and Rita Sheffield, artistic and technical directors. The Sheffields and their ensembles specialize in bringing imaginative theatre pieces to young people.

The first performance of "Videosyncrasies" will be held in the Rowan County High School gym at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 17, for Rowan County students.

The second performance is scheduled Thursday, Nov. 18, at 1 p.m. in Button Auditorium for the general public.

Admission to the public performance is by season subscription or valid MSU ID card. Tickets also will be available at the door at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

This fast-paced parable set to music presents the life of Moe Tarola, the world's first orphan adopted and raised by a television set. "Videosyncrasies" is the story of Mr. Tarola's adventures and misadventures as he weaves his channel-switching way through a supporting cast of family, friends, and laughter-provoking corporate types.

(more)

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's orchestra will perform in concert Tuesday, Nov. 16, in Duncan Recital Hall.

The program will feature works by Gliere, Couperin, Handel and Nelson.

The orchestra is conducted by John K. Stetler, associate professor of music.

The 8:15 p.m. concert is free and open to the public.

###

11-9-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A film festival, fasting, speakers and a "can" dance will highlight the activities during the observance of World Hunger Week Nov. 15-19 at Morehead State University.

The week kicks off with a film festival from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 15, in the East Room of the Adron Doran University Center. Also on Monday, Sonato Bohem and George Plage of Olive Hill, who recently spent several months in India, will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Catholic Student Center on the topic "The Third World View."

John Rausch, an economist from Virginia, will address "Hunger, Economics and the Appalachian Region" on Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. in the ADUC Riggle Room.

National Fast Day will be observed on Thursday, Nov. 18, and students, faculty and staff of MSU will be asked to join in the fast, with the money normally spent on food to be donated to an organization for the distribution of food.

Also on Thursday, a service will be held at 9:15 p.m. in the Baptist Student Center to focus on the Christian response to world hunger, followed by a soup supper at 10 p.m. at the United Methodist Student Center.

The week culminates on Friday, Nov. 19, with a "Can" dance from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. in the Button Drill Room. Admission to the dance is two cans of food.

Additional information is available from the United Campus Ministry at (606) 784-4836.

11-10-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to the Morehead News

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- On a warm day in November, the temptation is great to hop aboard a pleasure craft and go boating at Cave Run Lake.

Morehead City Police Chief Fred Barnsdale, host of the Morehead State University television production of "You and the Law," does just that this week.

Chief Barnsdale and the MSU-TV camera crew meet with Kentucky Water Patrol officers Steven Arnold and Woody Isaacs to discuss their work at Cave Run Lake.

Normally, boating season at Cave Run runs from April through November, according to Patrolman Arnold.

"However, throughout the year, we have all types of pleasure crafts, house boats, sail boats and canoes, available," he added.

With water patrol safety being one of the biggest precautions at the lake, officers Arnold and Isaacs told Chief Barnsdale that one of the major problems is enforcement of the idle speed in the no-wake areas of the docks.

"If this is not obeyed," Arnold explained, "it will cause hazards to other boats in the area."

Another major problem Isaacs and Arnold discuss is littering in the dock and beach areas.

"You and the Law" is aired locally each Wednesday at 6 p.m. and Thursday at 5:30 p.m. on Channel 12.

11-10-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A proposal to require 20 high school academic credits for admission to Kentucky's public universities and community colleges will be examined here Monday in a public forum at 7 p.m. at Morehead State University.

Hosted by MSU and sponsored by the Kentucky Council on Higher Education, the session in the Riggle Room of the Adron Doran University Center will be the sixth in a statewide series.

Representatives of 20 school districts in 14 counties have been invited to raise questions about the recommendations of the CHE's Pre-College Curriculum Committee.

Included are Bath, Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Greenup, Lawrence, Lewis, Mason, Menifee, Montgomery, Morgan, Rowan and Wolfe counties. The state's public institutions enrolled 1,419 freshmen from these 14 counties in the fall of 1981, according to CHE records.

The Pre-College Curriculum Committee has recommended that the CHE require that, starting in the fall of 1987, unconditional admission to the state's public universities and community colleges be limited to high school graduates with at least 20 credit units. The proposed requirements include four units in English, three in mathematics, two in science and two in social studies.

The forum is free and open to the public.

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

By ALVIN GRIDER
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A young Nigerian writer comes to America. He finds a second home in an Eastern Kentucky town. Later, the town provides some inspiration for African novels published halfway around the world.

This may read like a plot outline for an international novel but there is nothing fictional about it.

And it may happen again, now that Dr. Sam Adewoye, an African novelist from Nigeria, has returned to Morehead State University.

"Morehead is my second home, academically and artistically," says MSU's new writer-in-residence. Dr. Adewoye earned bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU 10 years ago and has returned to the campus this fall for a one-year residency.

He served until recently as chairman of the English Department at the University of Ilorin in Nigeria.

"Morehead is good for my artistic imagination," he says. "I like the topography of the area. It is quiet, serene, Wordsworthian. The size of the town is good for me and the people are friendly here."

Two of Dr. Adewoye's novels have been published -- "The Betrayer" in 1979 and "Glittering Fragments" in 1982.

As part of his residency, Dr. Adewoye will be teaching an "Introduction to the African Novel" course during MSU's spring 1983 semester.

(more)

Writer
2-2-2-2-2

The course will survey several African novels, including "The Betrayer." All the novels were published in English.

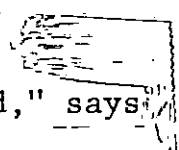

The writer says students in the course will look at major themes of African literature, including the conflicts and tensions caused when European and African cultures meet.

"When the white men came, they wanted to assert their own superiority and subjugate the Africans," says Dr. Adewoye. "African literature is literature of protest, the result of bitterness."

He continued:

"In the course, we will read the novels not just for their protest or political agitation elements but also for their artistic and literary beauty."

Part of that beauty, according to Dr. Adewoye, is in the way the African novelist approaches the motif of land.

"The African psyche is tied to the land and spirits of the land," says Dr. Adewoye, who is currently working on a book-length  critical work on the concept of land in African prose writing.

The novelist also writes shorter critical pieces for scholarly journals and his third novel, "Back to the Start", is now being considered for publication.

Dr. Adewoye's wife, Alice, who received a bachelor's degree from MSU in 1973, and his four children are living in Nigeria while he is in Morehead.

###

11-12-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University students with grade point averages of 3.5 and above are adding a new dimension to their education through MSU's Honors Program.

In addition to taking small classes, having personal contact with teachers, and receiving greater curriculum flexibility, program members this year are attending the Cincinnati Symphony, a performance by the Kentucky Opera Association and the Tower of London display at the Cincinnati Art Museum.

"We have enough money to finance one special event each month," said Dr. John Kleber, professor of history and director of the honors program. Most of our trips will be to Louisville, Lexington and Cincinnati."

The first trip was to the Louisville Palace where students saw the Broadway play "Barnum."

"It was a real good opportunity for me," said Venita Swetnam, Morehead senior and honors student. "I had enjoyed theatre here at MSU for three years but I had never seen a professional play before.

"There's no way I could go to a Broadway play as a student without being in the honors program," she added.

Another honors student, Paul Gibbs, Salt Lick junior, agreed.

"It was a great experience for me," he said. "It was the first time I had ever been to anything like that and I enjoyed it so much that I'm going to all of the other activities."

(more)

Honors
2-2-2-2

It isn't just theatre, ballet and trips that Gibbs likes about the honors program.

"I like the classes because they are smaller and the teachers approach you differently, like you are capable of doing things that are never expected in other classes," said Gibbs. "Sometimes it's harder, but I think it's worth it because you learn so much more."

Swetnam says she enjoys the junior and senior seminars "because of the discussion that is encouraged. It's a nice break from all the lecturing that I get in my other classes."

"These trips will add a dimension of cultural enrichment in urban centers, places where many of our honor students will live and work after graduation," Dr. Kleber observed.

College students with grade point averages of 3.5 and above and incoming freshmen with ACT scores of 26 or above qualify for the program.

Additional information is available from Dr. Kleber at (606) 783-2090 or by writing UPO Box 697, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351.

###

11-12-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Marcia L. Zerzavy of Hyden has been awarded a three-year U.S. Army ROTC scholarship at Morehead State University.

The scholarship will include tuition, fees, books and supplies, plus a $100 monthly stipend during the next three academic years.

The MSU sophomore will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army upon graduation and completion of the ROTC program.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F.M. Zerzavy of Hyden.

###

11-12-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Trombone Choir will perform in concert on Thursday, Nov. 18, in Duncan Recital Hall.

The program, directed by Dr. Edward Malterer, associate professor of music, will include works by Mozart, Shiner, Tschaikovsky, Schubert and Art Garfunkel.

Members of the group include Karen Bailey, Pikeville freshman; Tim Black, Morehead senior; Dan Black, Morehead sophomore; Paul Downs, Louisville junior; Robert Grubbs, Hodgenville senior; David Haynes, Ironton sophomore; Joe Lally, Cincinnati freshman; Joe Phelps, Georgetown sophomore; John Roberts, Georgetown junior; and Scott Dobler, Rowan County High School senior.

The 8:15 p.m. concert is free and open to the public.

###

11-12-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Student Council for Exceptional Children is sponsoring a skate-a-thon for all exceptional children in Rowan County on Wednesday, Dec. 1, at the Great Eskate in Trademore Shopping Center.

Admission and rentals are free to all exceptional children from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m.

Parents are encouraged to participate or to serve as chaperones.

Additional information is available from Beth Shanks at (606) 783-4272.

11-16-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Agriculture is sponsoring a demonstration of tobacco stripping machines on Tuesday, Nov. 23, at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex on Ky. 377 north of Morehead.

Four commercial companies will exhibit their machines and have representatives to answer questions.

"This is a new concept and many farmers are trying to decide whether to buy one," explains Dr. Thomas Fullerton, associate professor of agriculture at MSU. "We hope the demonstrations will help answer their questions."

Tobacco grown on the MSU farm will be used in the machines.

The event is scheduled at the Richardson Arena and is free and open to the public.

Additional information is available from Dr. Thomas Fullerton at (606) 783-2660 or Dr. Andrew Boston, head of MSU's Department of Agriculture, at (606) 783-2662.

11-16-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The recent installation of Merl F. Allen of Morehead as president of the Morehead State University Alumni Association didn't surprise any of her classmates in MSU's Class of 1948.

They remember her as a cheerleader and officer of about a dozen student organizations during her years on campus and, perhaps most importantly, they know she has been active in the Alumni Association ever since her graduation.

Serving on the Alumni Executive Council for nearly 30 years wasn't always convenient for a woman trying to rear four children and maintain her own career as a teacher but Mrs. Allen said she persisted because of her feeling for MSU.

"I always have loved this University and wanted to make a contribution to those who have followed me on the campus," she said recently. "Working in the Alumni Association has been rewarding and I am really excited about serving as president for the next two years. The accomplishments of the past two years have rekindled my enthusiasm about the future of our association and the university we have pledged to serve."

A home economics teacher at Rowan County High School for almost 20 years, Mrs. Allen currently is on a medical leave of absence while recuperating from ankle surgery. Her youngest child, Dwayne, currently is enrolled at MSU and he is continuing a family tradition of involvement with the institution.

(more)

Alumni President

2-2-2-2

Mrs. Allen and her husband, John (Sonny) Allen, MSU's assistant athletic director and former basketball All-American, each have two degrees. Counting children, in-laws, parents, aunts, uncles, brothers and sisters, the Allens have more than three dozen MSU alumni in their family tree.

Mrs. Allen is the daughter of former MSU registrar Linus A. Fair, who retired in 1970 after nearly 40 years of service. He later received MSU's Founders Day Award for University Service. Her sister, Nell Mahaney, is an assistant professor of mathematics on the MSU faculty.

Active in the MSU and Morehead woman's clubs and the First Baptist Church, Mrs. Allen says she is determined to continue the progress made under her predecessor, Pikeville attorney James P. Pruitt, and to build on the programs now sponsored by the Alumni Association.

"We have come a long way in involving students in our activities, in generating new support for the University's fund raising programs, in creating interest in other ways of assisting the school and in challenging other alumni to become active in the Alumni Association," Mrs. Allen stated. "We will be encouraging our fellow alumni to be more aggressive in their recruitment of students, in the enrichment of academic programs through our support committees and in telling others of our annual and deferred giving programs."

Is she ready for the challenge of representing MSU's nearly 27,000 alumni?

"I hope so," she responded, noting that she had faced other challenges, such as serving as Rowan County's first band director and as a girls track coach without any training in the sport.

(more)

Alumni President

3-3-3-3-3

"The Alumni Association, just as the University itself, needs the support of everyone who feels a commitment to their Alma Mater," she added. "I firmly believe that the Alumni Association can help make a difference in the future of our university."

What are her personal goals as alumni president?

"I hope to leave this job with the knowledge that a great majority of our alumni feel good about Morehead State University because they have had an opportunity to become personally involved in our activities and programs," Mrs. Allen concluded.

#####

11-16-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University classes will dismiss and offices close for the Thanksgiving Holidays at noon on Wednesday, Nov. 24.

Classes will resume and offices reopen at 8 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 29.

###

11-16-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to the Morehead News

"There is no privacy greater than the echoing laughter inside a covered bridge."

This is how poet Miriam Woolfolk explained the aura of the covered bridges in Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana.

Phil Conn, Morehead State University vice president for university and regional services, will discuss the tradition of the covered bridge with Stock Bower on MSU-TV's "Our Appalachia" beginning Tuesday, Nov. 23.

One of the oldest covered bridges in Kentucky is located in Fleming County. According to Conn, the host of "Our Appalachia," the Goddard Bridge was built in 1837 on Ky. 32.

"What makes the bridge so different from all other bridges in Kentucky is that this is the only one held together by wooden pegs and the only one to be restored and still standing by its original pegs," Conn explains.

Stock Bower, a bridge builder and an authority on the restoration of covered bridges, says that covered bridges were built with a roof for one primary reason.

"They had to protect the wooden timber that made up the structure of the bridges, the covers weren't just for decoration," he adds.

Conn and Bower also point out that through the years, covered bridges were used for "romantic lovers, wedding ceremonies and social gatherings" in Kentucky.

"Our Appalachia" is broadcast locally over Channel 12 at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, and Thursday at 4 p.m.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University President Morris L. Norfleet this week commended students, faculty and staff of the University for their efforts in developing an awareness of eminent problems in the nuclear arms race.

The text of his statement includes:

"This month, Morehead State University joined nearly 400 colleges and universities across the nation in a movement to educate the public on an issue which is vitally important to our future -- the nuclear arms race.

"From an educational point of view, an argument regarding nuclear arms can be built on economics. Money is being spent from the federal treasury for massive armaments at the expense of education programs, student aid and other human service programs.

"The military budget for the next five years is projected at $1.6 trillion. To graphically illustrate this amount, it has been calculated that if the U.S. had spent a million dollars a day on social and educational services, beginning the day Christ was born, only half of the $1.6 trillion would have been spent by 1982.

"While some of the defense budget will be spent on conventional forces and weapons, much of it is proposed for nuclear weapons research, testing and deployment.

"To those concerned about higher education, the nuclear arms race also means a loss of more than just monetary resources. A considerable amount of mindpower is devoted to the nuclear arms race. Many of these scientists and engineers could teach or develop new low cost non-polluting energy sources or find better and more productive ways to grow crops to feed the world's starving people or contribute their knowhow to finding solutions to other of society's serious problems.

(more)

"I commend the work of our students who are bringing public awareness on this issue to our campus."

President Norfleet's statement came at the end of a two-week teach-in on nuclear arms issues on the MSU campus, including lectures, rallies, films and workshops, sponsored by the United Students for Peace.

11-18-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Music will sponsor a Winter Guard Workshop Friday and Saturday, Dec. 3 and 4.

Guest clinician for the program is Scott Chandler of Rome, Ga., currently with the Bayonne Bridgemen Drum Corps of Bayonne, N.J., and the Connecticut Skylarks Winter Guard.

Workshop coordinators are Jeff Davis, Canton, N.C., senior and Larry Rebillot, Louisville, Ohio, junior, co-captains of MSU's Marching Band fronts and winter guard; and Kate Hawkins, MSU instructor of music.

The workshop will open Friday with registration at 4 p.m. and a general session at 6 p.m. in Baird Music Hall.

The registration fee is $15 per person. Housing is available for $5 per night.

Additional information is available from Kate Hawkins at (606) 783-2486 or by writing UPO 1264, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351.

####

11-19-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

CANCELLED -- CANCELLED -- CANCELLED -- CANCELLED -- CANCELLED

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Jazz Vocal Ensemble will present a special program of Christmas music at Lees Junior College on Tuesday, Dec. 7.

The group's 17 singers and four instrumentalists are led by Jay Flippin, associate professor of music at MSU.

Selections will include a jazz arrangement of "Deck the Halls," "White Christmas," "The Christmas Song" and other traditional favorites.

The 7:30 p.m. concert, sponsored by the Breathitt County Arts Council, is free and open to the public.

###

11-19-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Music will sponsor a "New Band Music" reading clinic on Saturday, Dec. 4.

Mike Mannerino of Cincinnati will be the guest clinician for the program, providing the music and conducting expertise.

The clinic, open to high school band directors, is scheduled from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall.

The MSU Symphony Band will provide instrumentation for the clinic.

Additional information is available from Eugene Norden, MSU's director of bands, at (606) 783-2485.

###

11-19-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The Morehead State University Chorus will present a program of Christmas music on Sunday, Dec. 5, in Duncan Recital Hall.

Dr. Randall L. Wells, professor of education at MSU, will be the featured soloist. He is a tenor.

Other soloists will include Helen Bowen, Greenville, Ohio, senior, soprano; Susan Peddicord, Williamstown senior, alto; Noel Weaver, choral director at Rowan County High School, bass.

Accompanying the group will be Debbie Howe, Williamstown graduate student, on piano; Karen Frazier, Paintsville junior, on harpsichord; and Cynthia Stanton, Mars Hill, N.C., graduate student, on piano.

The 54-voice University Chorus is directed by Vasile Venettozzi, associate professor of music. The chorus will perform the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah."

The 3 p.m. concert is free and open to the public.

###

11-19-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- To the Plymouth settlers, the first Thanksgiving was a time to be thankful for Indians.

And well it should have been, according to Dr. John Kleber, Morehead State University professor of history. He teaches MSU's "The American Indian" history course.

"The first white settlers in New England and Virginia were aided by the Indians," Dr. Kleber notes. "If it had not been for the Indians, it would have been much more difficult for the settlers. Possibly, they would have failed to gain a foothold where and when they did."

The first Thanksgiving is "debatable," says the Louisville native. Although Virginians claim the first celebration more than a decade before the Plymouth colony was settled, historians are fairly certain of the bountiful celebration in late 1621 when Plymouth colonists sat and ate with the American natives.

"The Puritans were very reluctant to celebrate Christmas," says Dr. Kleber. "They looked at it as a Catholic and pagan holiday. They were looking for a substitute and the celebration of Thanksgiving came to take the place of Christmas for many years in New England."

He continued:

"The English could only bring so much food on their ships, so they had to work quickly to get a crop in the ground. At first, they traded for food and afterwards learned planting from the Indians."

Giving the early settlers a bounty, the Indian culture has contributed "about 50 percent of the foods we eat today," says Dr. Kleber. Many of these, including corn, beans, squash, peppers and pumpkins, may be found on the modern Thanksgiving table.

(more)

In addition, the Indians provided wild meat. "The Englishmen were not particularly good hunters," says Dr. Kleber. "They paid the Indians to hunt for them in many cases. Even when land was taken from the Indians, they were still allowed hunting rights."

In trading food, "the Indians went wild over anything the English brought, particularly anything made of iron such as knives and skillets," Dr. Kleber says. In addition, the settlers traded jewelry, clothing and mirrors for food.

One thing the white traders who preceded the settlers gave the Indians was disease. Plagues of smallpox and other European illnesses, to which the Indians had no immunity, wiped out a large population of New England Indians four years before the Plymouth settlers landed.

"Some Puritans believed land not occupied belonged to anyone who wanted it, so they saw the plagues as divine intervention," notes Dr. Kleber. "It was a divine thing that the land should be so divested, and they believed that, in this way, God was giving the land to them."

Still, the Massachusetts settlers had a "harmonious" relationship with the Indians for several years, adds Dr. Kleber. The reasons this peaceful coexistence eventually broke down, he explains, were "growth of the white population into Indian lands, growing mistrust and several individual events of atrocities on both sides."

The relationship in New England was always better than in Virginia, according to Dr. Kleber. The New England settlers "thought it was just to treat the Indians humanely, and they spent a lot of effort trying to Christianize them."

"They knew they needed the Indians help and friendship."

Dr. Kleber has taught the Indian history course for five years. "At first, I knew almost nothing about it but it is one of the most fascinating things I have ever gotten into."

Director of MSU's honors program, Dr. Kleber says he has found "many Indian buffs in Eastern Kentucky, people who collect artifacts and many who claim Indian blood."

###

11-19-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Diane Spencer of Lexington will present her junior flute recital at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 1, in Morehead State University's Duncan Recital Hall.

The MSU music major will perform works by Copland, Riegger and Enesco. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota music society and winner of the Kentucky Music Teachers Association Woodwind Competition.

Ms. Spencer will be assisted by William Jennings, Gonzalez, Fla., graduate student.

Robert Pritchard, MSU assistant professor of music, is her instructor.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Spencer of Grantchester in Lexington.

###

11-22-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Music is sponsoring a student woodwind recital on Tuesday, Nov. 30.

The program will include saxophone and flute ensembles and a clarinet choir.

Music will include selections by DeBussy, Brahms, Honegger, and Anton Reicha.

Directing the ensembles will be Dr. William Bigham, head of the Department of Music, clarinets; David Anderson, assistant professor of music, saxophones; and Robert Pritchard, assistant professor of music, flutes.

The 8:15 p.m. recital in Duncan Recital Hall is free and open to the public.

###

11-22-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A Morehead State University junior has won the flute segment of the Music Teachers National Association Kentucky Collegiate Artist Competition, held last month at Centre College in Danville.

Diane Spencer, Lexington, performed a 10 minute concerto, plus three other compositions, each coming from a different musical period, during her 30 minute program. All four pieces had to be memorized.

"The memorization and the length of the program were the toughest parts of the competition," Spencer said. "It is very tiring, both mentally and physically, to play that long."

Spencer will now advance to the MTNA regional competition in Birmingham, Ala., in February, where she will compete against winners from ten other states.

Even though the competition will be much tougher at the regional, Spencer, because of her busy schedule, probably will not increase her practice time.

"I just don't think I will be able to find the time to practice any more than I already do," stated Spencer, who began practicing for the state competition last Spring. "As it is now, I have to practice late at night, early in the morning, or between classes."

Spencer, who began playing the flute in the fourth grade, said that she practices for at least a couple of hours each day. Once a week, she has a lesson with Robert Pritchard, assistant professor of music at MSU.

(more)

Spencer
2-2-2-2-2

"Mr. Pritchard critiques me," Spencer said. "He tells me what I am doing right and what I am doing wrong. His help is invaluable."

Although she knew she would be competing against only one other student, Spencer was worried about the state competition.

"I found out that the other student was the wife of a faculty member of the University of Kentucky's music department. That wasn't very encouraging news."

Spencer believes that competition improves and sharpens her flute playing. It gives her something to work toward and keeps her practicing constantly.

After graduating from MSU, Spencer plans on going to graduate school at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh. There, she will study with Bernard Goldberg, a former teacher of Pritchard's. Goldberg is the first-chair flutist for the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

Spencer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Spencer, Lexington.

####

11-23-82kb

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Jazz Ensemble II will perform in concert on Thursday, Dec. 2.

The program, conducted by David L. Anderson, assistant professor of music, will include works by Strommen, Nestico, Nordal and McConnell.

Soloists during the program will include Ginger Martin, Portsmouth freshman; Harper Baugh, Louisville freshman; Danny Baker, Bethel, Ohio, graduate student; Paul Downs, Louisville junior; Claudia McCall, Dayton, Ohio, sophomore; Bryan Kerr, Shepherdsville sophomore; John Hall, Converse Ind., freshman; Chip Lewis, Flatwoods freshman; and Terry Wyatt, Butler sophomore.

The 8:15 p.m. concert in Duncan Recital Hall is free and open to the public.

11-23-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The Morehead State University Players will present "A Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, and Monty Python's "And Now For Something Completely Different," in the Kibbey Theatre Dec. 2 through 4.

"A Christmas Carol" will begin at 7:30 p.m., followed by Monty Python at 9 p.m.

Admission is $1.50 per person for both productions or $1 per person for one show.

Additional information and reservations are available from the MSU Theatre box office at (606) 783-2170.

11-23-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- "Hands on" experience.

That's what the students get who work at "NewsCenter 12," Morehead State University's student-produced television news program.

"Practical, hands on type experience is what employers are looking for," says Scarlett Johnson, weather anchor person and Madisonville freshman. "They aren't interested in what you know. They are interested in what you can do."

"You get on-the-job training here at 'NewsCenter 12'," says Larry Hall, Cynthiana senior and director of production. "And this is the only way to gain experience. You have to work at something before you can actually learn it. You have to be able to apply your book learning to actual work."

Paul Gough, Lexington junior and technical director, notes, "At MSU, you don't have to wait until your junior or senior year to work with the equipment, like you do at some other colleges. This is one of the main reasons I came here."

Broadcast to city and campus cable viewers on Channel 12, "NewsCenter 12" concentrates its coverage on community and university issues. While some stories are rewrites from newspaper stories and press releases, many are videotaped reports from field reporters.

"We stress local coverage," says Ray Keeton, news producer and Morehead graduate student. "We feel like we have an obligation to the campus and to the people of Morehead to keep them up to date on news that is happening around them."

(more)

"NewsCenter 12"
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

"NewsCenter 12" airs every Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p.m. Unlike many other college news programs, "NewsCenter 12" is a live show.

"We have deadline pressure here," anchorman Dave Farmer, Harlan senior, says. "On Tuesdays and Thursday, everyone just has to bust it until we go on the air, since we try to keep our coverage as current as possible."

"In the control room when the show is underway, you can cut the tension with a knife sometimes," Gough states. "You have to get used to this pressure, though. You have to have a professional attitude."

Dave Collins, instructor of radio-television at MSU, serves as advisor for the show.

"This is a student-organized, student-run program," Collins says. "I try to stay in the background. I want the students to assume the responsibilities which go with producing a half-hour news show. That's the best way for them to prepare for the jobs they will have when they are through with college.

"I do, however, make sure that everyone works hard."

###

11-23-82kb

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Custer B. Reynolds of Nicholasville has been named national chairman of Morehead State University's 1982-83 Annual Giving Campaign.

In announcing the appointment, MSU President Morris L. Norfleet described the retired educator as "a person of the highest integrity with a lifelong record of dedicated service to the people of Kentucky."

"We are honored to have the strong leadership of Custer Reynolds in this year's campaign," Dr. Norfleet added. "His wholehearted support of our institution has not wavered since his graduation in 1943 and we are confident that he will provide enthusiastic direction to our fund raising program."

A former president of the MSU Alumni Association, Reynolds served more than 35 years as a teacher and administrator in the public schools and at the college level. He remains active as a lay speaker in the United Methodist Church.

"It is my hope that we can convince others who love and appreciate Morehead State University to generously support this campaign," Reynolds stated. "It is essential that we generate new financial resources to help the institution continue its tradition of excellence."

Reynolds will be the chief volunteer in a seven-month effort to raise funds through the MSU Foundation, Inc., to benefit all components of the University.

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to the Morehead News

More than one half of the Kentucky population cannot read or write.

Alice McDonald will take a close look at adult illiteracy levels in Kentucky and the United States on "New Shapes," a production of the Kentucky Department of Education which airs on Morehead State University's Channel 12. Dec. 1 and 3.

McDonald explains that for most people in the Appalachian regions of Kentucky, not being able to read or write carries no shame.

Condy Fonsi, a small farmer and fencer from Eastern Kentucky, says that he feels it is more important to know "how to build a fence or how to survive in the mountains rather than to know how to read and write" in his region.

- More than 23 million people in the United States cannot read or write and most are in prison cells today, according to McDonald.

"About 750,000 of those people in prisons today are in jail because of their illiteracy problems," she explains.

She adds that the first step in combating the problem is to overcome the prejudice associated with the fact one cannot read.

"People have to realize that the reason one cannot read or write is not that they are stupid," she said, "once this barrier is broken, reading will come easier."

"Adult Education, Your Second Chance" will air on "New Shapes" Wednesday, Dec. 1 at 6:30 p.m. and Friday, Dec. 3 at 4 p.m. on MSU-TV, broadcast locally over Channel 12.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will be offering a beginning writing course at Bath County High School this spring.

The course, English 102, Composition II, involves styles of writing, research techniques, and exercises in sharpening writing skills.

Seniors in high school, persons with a high school diploma or GED equivalent may enroll in the class for three semester hours of college credit.

The time and location of the class meetings will be announced after registration.

Registration is scheduled Wednesday, Jan. 12, at 6:30 p.m. in Room 10 at Bath County High School.

####

11-30-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A Morehead State University art professor is now the Kentucky coordinator of Phi Delta Kappa, professional education fraternity.

Dr. Roger Jones was elected to the two-year post at Phi Delta Kappa's Southern District conference in Nashville, Tenn. Only members of the eight Kentucky chapters voted.

Phi Delta Kappa is dedicated to the "promotion and improvement of publicly supported and universally available education."

Dr. Jones said his duties as coordinator will be to visit each state chapter and provide assistance.

Each public university in Kentucky, except Kentucky State, has a Phi Delta Kappa chapter, according to Dr. Jones.

MSU's chapter has about 250 members.

Dr. Jones recently installed Kentucky's newest Phi Delta Kappa chapter at Union College. A graduate of Georgetown College and Indiana University, he joined Phi Delta Kappa in 1963.

He has been a member of the MSU art faculty since 1965.

Dr. Jones is a former president of the Kentucky Education Association.

###

11-30-82kb

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Faye Belcher, associate director of libraries at Morehead State University, has been honored by the American Association of University Women's Educational Foundation.

Ms. Belcher, currently first vice president of the Morehead chapter of AAUW, was one of three Kentucky women to have an endowment named in her honor in recognition of significant service to the group. The gift was earmarked for the General Research and Projects Endowment fund.

###

11-30-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Unlike other secretaries, legal secretaries need to know much more than how to type, take shorthand and answer the phone, according to Gail Ousley, assistant professor of business education at Morehead State University.

To prepare for a job in an attorney's office, for example, a secretary "should work with legal terminology and become familiar with legal documents and their styles," says Ms. Ousley, who teaches courses for future legal secretaries.

Because legal secretaries need different training, MSU has a supervised field experience course in which students actually work in an attorney's office while gaining job experience and college credit.

Janey Robinson, Olive Hill junior, now is completing her field experience with Morehead attorney, Paul Stokes.

"A lot more training is needed by legal secretaries," says Ms. Robinson. "You have to know how to type wills, deeds and legal briefs."

Ms. Robinson defines her field experience as "typing legal documents, filing and answering the phone."

"We recommend that our students be assigned a variety of responsibilities," says Mrs. Ousley, who supervises the program. "Sometimes, they get to accompany the lawyers to the courthouse and see them research deeds and other legal documents."

Mrs. Ousley believes the experience is valuable to the students.

"Acquainting them with a law office gives them a better idea of what to expect. Anytime you've had some exposure, it makes the initial employment interview more relaxing."

(more)

Legal Secretaries
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Getting a job should be easier after the field experience, says Ms. Robinson.

"Even this short time has given me experience in a law office and how it works. It will be helpful if I get a secretarial job in a law firm."

And, according to Mrs. Ousley, jobs are available.

"At a national convention two years ago, they said the demand was greater for legal secretaries than for medical secretaries."

The legal secretary option for MSU secretarial students also includes courses in which local attorneys speak to students and students visit a law office, the county courthouse and a session of court.

The students also take some government classes, and some, like Ms. Robinson, take courses in MSU's new paralegal program.

"I've definitely learned a lot," she says of her studies. "I've learned about legal terms, words you use in everyday language which mean something else in the legal sense.

"I've always wanted to be a secretary," she adds. "I love the work."

####

11-30-82ag

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A materials fair sponsored by Morehead State University's Department of Curriculum and Instruction is scheduled Tuesday, Dec. 7, from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m., and Wednesday, Dec. 8, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Featured will be student projects such as teaching aids and learning centers which include materials geared toward individualized instruction in the classroom. The fair also will deal with topics related to early childhood, elementary and special education.

The two-day fair will be held in MSU's new Instructional Materials Production Activity Center for Teachers (IMPACT), located in Room 301 of Breckinridge Hall.

"We invite all teachers in the area to see these materials which they can make for use in their own classrooms," said Jessie Mangrum, assistant professor of education and fair coordinator. "This is also an excellent opportunity for the teachers to become acquainted with our new IMPACT facility."

Additional information is available from Ms. Mangrum at UPO 984, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 783-2830.

###

11-30-82scf

Tips

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

DECEMBER 1982

News Coverage

Northeast Head Start Teachers Conference

Dec. 10

Contact: Alice Hammonds at (606) 286-4444

Central Kentucky Horse Show Awards

Dec. 10

Contact: Robert Wolfe at (606) 783-2665

Materials Fair

For area teachers

Dec. 7 and 8

Contact: Jesse Mangrum at (606) 783-2481

Nurses Pinning

Dec. 17

Contact: Dr. Leroy Overstreet at (606) 783-2631

Feature Ideas:

Home Economics Fashion Show

Dec. 7

Contact: Betty Woodard at (606) 783-2973

Instructional Materials Production Activity Center for Teachers (IMPACT)

Located in Breckinridge Hall

Contact: George Troutt at (606) 783-2894

Writer-in-Residence Program

Dr. Sam Adewoye of Nigeria, an African novelist and former chairman of the English Department at the University of Ilorin in Nigeria

Contact: Dr. Donald Cunningham at (606) 783-2726

Choosing Christmas Toys for Children

Contact: Karen Hammons at (606) 783-2106

Traditional Kentucky Holiday Foods

Contact: Floy Patton at (606) 783-2969

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to the Morehead News

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- In today's society, the German Shepherd is making both a contribution to society and a commendable living in the professional world as a police dog.

Morehead Police Chief Fred Barnsdale, host of Morehead State University's television production "You and the Law," discusses canine units in Kentucky with Chief Doug Culp and Jimmy Browning of the Maysville Police Department.

The Maysville Police Department began using the canine units in 1975.

Browning explains that each dog is assigned to one officer in training school, and remains with that officer during his career as a police dog.

"While in school, the dog receives specialized training in agility and criminal apprehension, which are beneficial in tracking down suspects, and in investigations of buildings and items," Browning explains.

During the 7 - 10 year career, the German Shepherd also is used for demonstrations in public schools and civic organizations.

After ten years, a police dog must retire either with the police officer he was assigned to or to a specific owner.

"Also, when the dog retires, he will be covered by a waiver from the police department to insure that any medical expenses will be taken care of while the dog is alive," Chief Culp adds.

MSU-TV's "You and the Law" is broadcast Wednesday, Dec. 8, at 6 p.m. and Thursday, Dec. 9, at 5:30 p.m., locally on Channel 12.

12-1-82fj

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A film dealing with the nuclear arms race will be shown at Morehead State University on Thursday, Dec. 9.

"The War Game," a British Broadcasting Company production, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Camden-Carroll Library, Room 201.

A frightening film on the futility of civil defense, "The War Game" was banned in Great Britain for several years because of its realistic dramatic portrayal of a nuclear attack on Britain.

An informal discussion will follow the film.

The showing is sponsored by MSU's United Students for Peace and is free and open to the public.

12-2-82ag

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES,

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Information on Morehead State University's expanded scholarship program for new students will be available Thursday night at the Ashland-Ironton Holiday Inn at South Point.

An admissions program entitled "MSU--A Different View" is scheduled from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and is open to all interested students and their parents.

Tickets are available from area high school counselors or may be reserved by calling MSU's toll-free admissions line at 1-800-262-7474.

Thursday night's program includes a performance by the Kentucky Chimes clogging team which recently won acclaim on a European tour and at the World's Fair in Knoxville. Three of the four dancers are students at MSU.

Following the entertainment, MSU personnel will be available to answer questions concerning academic programs, financial aid, housing and other matters of interest to prospective students, according to Dr. Rondal Hart, MSU's director of admissions.

"We are eager to tell our friends in Boyd, Greenup and Carter counties about the exciting new scholarship program which will significantly increase the University's assistance to outstanding students who qualify academically," Dr. Hart added.

The MSU delegation will be headed by President Morris L. Norfleet.

#####

12-3-82

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

Special to The Ironton Tribune

Information on Morehead State University's new $1,000-per year grants to out-of-state students will be available Thursday night at the Holiday Inn in South Point.

An admissions program entitled "MSU--A Different View" is scheduled from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and is open to all interested students and their parents.

Tickets are available from area high school counselors or may be reserved by calling MSU's toll-free admissions line in Ohio at 1-800-354-2090.

Thursday night's program includes a performance by the Kentucky Chimes clogging team which recently won acclaim on a European tour and at the World's Fair in Knoxville. Three of the four dancers are MSU students.

Following the entertainment, MSU personnel will be available to answer questions concerning academic programs, financial aid, housing and other matters of interest to prospective students, according to Dr. Rondal Hart, MSU's director of admissions.

"We are especially anxious to tell our friends in Lawrence County about our new grant program which will provide $1,000 per year to students who meet the academic qualifications as out-of-state students enrolling in the fall of 1983," Dr. Hart added.

The MSU delegation will be headed by President Morris L. Norfleet.

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Radio sports coverage takes on a new dimension this season on WMKY, public radio from Morehead State University.

"Sportsview," WMKY's Friday night sports magazine, will include live basketball games and a live call-in segment for questions from fans.

Hosting the weekly broadcast are Larry Netherton, WMKY general manager, and Rick Hesterberg, sports director.

The format of the program includes interviews with basketball coaches, players and other sports personalities as well as features and live reports.

"We will feature a college or high school basketball game live each Friday evening and "Sportsview" will follow until 11 p.m.," explains Hesterberg.

"We also want to give our listeners a chance to become involved in the program," Hesterberg adds. "They will be able to call in and comment on a topic or ask questions of our guests."

Sports fans with questions or comments may call "Sportsview" at (606) 783-2001.

###

12-3-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Student Council for Exceptional Children will sponsor an address by a representative of the Kentucky Diabetes Foundation on Tuesday, Dec. 7.

The topic for discussion will be "Diabetes and Children."

The program is scheduled in Ginger Hall, Room 301, and is free and open to the public.

Additional information is available from Beth Shanks at (606) 784-4272.

12-3-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky, --- Acid rain, recognized as a serious problem in Canada, is affecting Kentucky more each year, according to a Morehead State University ecology professor.

"Ashland, Louisville and Covington are the most heavily industrialized areas in the state," says Dr. Jerry Howell, head of MSU's Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences. "With the air pollution and acid rain, they're getting a double-barreled problem."

Acid rain is caused when sulfur and nitrogen dioxides, discharged into the atmosphere in pollution from coal burning industries and automobile exhaust, combine with water in the air. When this water falls to the earth as rain, it increases the acidity of the soil and lake waters.

"Acid rain kills fish," Dr. Howell explains. "But that's not the only problem in Kentucky. It has also caused a decrease in farm crop production. It's hard to tell how much, though, because erosion and poor farming methods also have contributed to the problem."

Kentucky is extremely vulnerable to acid rain, according to Dr. Ted Pass, professor of biology at MSU, because pollutants from the Pittsburgh area blow over the state.

"Rainwater in Kentucky is running above the normal acidity of PH 5.6," says Dr. Pass. "It averages PH 4.4 in Louisville." A lower PH number means a higher degree of acidity.

Although the acid content of rainfall in most cities has been determined, little research has been done in rural areas several miles from industry. Dr. Pass is working on a study covering the eastern half of the United States that will determine the effect that acid rain is having on small towns and the countryside.

(more)

Acid Rain
2-2-2-2-2-2

This study is financed by the Electric Power Research Institute, an arm of the Edison Electric Institute whose members include Kentucky Power, East Kentucky Power Cooperative, Kentucky Utilities Company, Inc., and Louisville Gas and Electric Company.

After each rain, Dr. Pass tests the water from a site in Clearfield for acidity and for electrical conductivity which shows the approximate level of dissolved salts in rainwater. His test results and samples are sent to a central monitoring station where more tests are run.

"When the testing is completed in October, 1984, we will know what impact the wind from highly industrialized areas has on non-industrialized places," says Dr. Pass. "We will also know the impact that electric power plants have on the acidity of rain in a given area of the Eastern U.S."

The goal of the study is to "establish what the problem is now, how much fossil fuels such as coal contribute to acid rain, and what we can expect in the future." explains Dr. Pass.

"This study is something the electric companies aren't required by law to do," says Dr. Pass. "It's all voluntary. We're establishing baseline data which in five or ten years from now can be compared to 1981 acid rain levels.

He concluded:

"If the problem is worse, this data can be used to show if the electric power industry is responsible in part. And if it hasn't gotten any worse, it will show that the industry isn't having much of an impact on acid rain."

###

12-3-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- When choosing Christmas toys, parents should consider safety first, according to Karen Hammons, director of Morehead State University's Child Development Laboratory.

But a toy which is safe for a seven-year-old may be dangerous for a toddler, she warns. Parents need to think about the age and developmental level of each child before buying that special gift.

"One of the most important things to remember about pre-schoolers is that they put everything in their mouths," Hammons says. "We shouldn't give them toys made with toxic chemicals or lead paint. And we should check to see if there are any long pointed parts they can stick down their throats."

Other dangers to small children are sharp edges and small parts that can be broken off and swallowed or stepped on.

A favorite among toddlers is stuffed animals.

"Every child needs a "Lovie," but watch out for those with button eyes that can be pulled off and swallowed," she added. "The ones with painted or embroidered eyes are better."

Bows and arrows, cap guns, and b-b guns are very unsafe for small children and older children should be allowed to use them only under adult supervision, she advises.

"Many toys are used better if parents and older children will play with the child," Hammons adds. "If you demonstrate how to use the toy in a safe way, chances are the child will use it safely, too."

(more)

Toys
2-2-2-2

Although there are "good" regulations regarding safety features of toys made in the United States, Hammons says some toys from foreign countries are unsafe.

Despite the existence of these regulations, the responsibility for making sure that toys a child receives for Christmas are safe belongs to the parents, according to Hammons.

"Nobody else knows your child as well as you do," she stated. "Maybe a toy that would be fine for one child would be something to throw for another child. The mother or father should make the final decision."

The safest and best gift any child can receive for Christmas, Hammons says, is "time with mommy and daddy."

"That's what all children need and want and it's more important to them than any expensive toy," she concluded.

####

12-3-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Four high schools will participate in the 10th annual Eagle Invitational Rifle Match Saturday, Dec. 11, at Morehead State University's ROTC indoor rifle range.

Expert marksmen from the high school junior ROTC programs at Greenup County, Ashland Paul Blazer, Bourbon County and Millersburg Military Institute will compete for 17 individual and team awards. The rifle match is sponsored by MSU's Department of Military Science.

"The competition intended not only to encourage marksmanship but also to orient outstanding high school students to the opportunities available at Morehead State University," said Sgt. First Class Charles Robinson, senior match coordinator.

Each shooter will fire 10 rounds in a prone position, 10 kneeling or sitting, and 10 standing. The maximum possible score is 300.

Robinson estimates that 30 to 50 students and their parents will visit the MSU campus for the rifle match.

Additional information is available from Capt. Jay Troy, assistant professor of military science at (606) 783-2050.

###

12-3-82

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Psychology in cooperation with the WHAS Crusade for Children, is offering a limited number of scholarships for a special class during MSU's spring semester in Ashland.

The course, Psychology 600, is entitled "Seminar: Programming for the Handicapped Student," and may be taken as an elective in all graduate programs in education, subject to the advisor's approval. It carries three semester hours of credit.

The course is especially designed for teachers who are involved in the mainstreaming of exceptional children.

Registration is scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 13, at 6 p.m. in the Ashland School District's central office building. Classes begins Monday, Jan. 17, at 6 p.m.

Additional information and applications are available from high school principals or Dr. George S. Tapp, Head, Department of Psychology, MSU, UPO 874, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 783-2986.

####

12-7-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University will offer a course during the spring semester in Ashland for persons interested in the motivational aspects of human behavior.

The course, entitled Psychology 586, "Motivation," is scheduled each Tuesday from 6 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. beginning Thursday, Jan. 13, at the Ashland School District's central office building.

Registration is scheduled at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 13, at the Ashland Board of Education office on Central Avenue.

Individuals in business and industry, teachers, and others interested in taking the course who are not currently enrolled at MSU may gain admission either as a regular or visiting graduate or undergraduate student.

Additional information is available from Dr. James Gotsick, professor of psychology, at (606) 783-2987.

###

12-7-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A special Christmas program will be held in the Morehead State University Planetarium from Dec. 13 through Dec. 16.

MSU's Department of Physical Sciences will present "Star of Bethlehem" in Room 212 of Lappin Hall on Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m.; Dec. 14 at 4:20 p.m., Dec. 15 at 4:10 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. and Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m.

"The program will follow the traditional theme and provide an explanation of the Wise Men following the star and what that star was, explained Dr. John Philley, head of MSU's Department of Physical Sciences.

Although the program is free and open to the public, Dr. Philley suggests making reservations due to limited space in the Planetarium.

Additional information and reservations are available from Dr. Philley at (606) 783-2914.

12-7-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Fifteen Morehead State University faculty members have received research grants totaling more than $16,000.

The awards for special research include:

*$2,080 to Dr. Bruce Mattingly, assistant professor of psychology, for "Cholinergic Involvement in the Behavioral Effects of Septal Lesions."

*$2,368 to Dr. David Magrane, associate professor of biology, for "Characterization of Steroid Binding and Induction in Estrogen Dependent and Independent Mammary Carcinomas."

*$2,615 to Dr. Wade Cain, assistant professor of chemistry, for "Extrusion and Wet-Spinning of Sawdust Solutions."

*$798 to Dr. Robert Bylund, assistant professor of sociology, for "Housing and Neighborhood Quality of the Elderly."

*$251 to Fred M. Busroe, associate professor of biology, for "Avian Species Attracted to and Utilizing the Minor E. Clark Fish Hatchery."

*$495 to Dr. David R. Rudy, associate professor of sociology, for "Social Movements as Boundary Negotiations."

*$1,530 to Dr. David J. Saxon, professor of biology, for "Thromboxane A₂ Production in Platelets from Pigeons Genetically Selected for Differences in Susceptibility to Atherosclerosis."

*$3,420 to Dr. Maurice Esham, associate professor of science education, Dr. David Hylbert, professor of geoscience, and Dr. John Philley, head of the Department of Physical Sciences, for "Documentation and Reconnaissance Studies of Geologic Features of Kentucky by Aerial and Ground-Level Photography."

(more)

Grants
2-2-2-2-2

*$1,885 to Dr. Jacquelyn McCullough, head of the Department of Home Economics, and Dell Osteen, instructor of home economics, for "An Oral History of Eastern Kentucky Quilters and Their Art."

*$1,275 to Dr. Katharine Herzog, assistant professor of education, Randolph Overbeck, adjunct professor of education, and Mary Anne Pollock, assistant professor of education, for "Field Testing and Validation of Staff-Developed Criterion-Referenced Assessment Program (COPE)."

Institutionally-funded research grants are available to any MSU faculty member whose project meets the desiring criteria established by the University Research Committee.

###

12-7-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Special to the Morehead News

Remember those cold December evenings in front of the fire listening to your grandfather's folk tales that seemed to get better each year?

Phil Conn, Morehead State University's vice president for university and regional services, takes a trip through the land of "once upon a time" with the Farmers' Elementary School Brownie troop on the next segment of "Our Appalachia."

The MSU-TV production features the folklore of yesteryear as told by Conn to sixteen Farmers Elementary School students aged 6 through 8.

A Kentucky tale entitled "Sody Sallyraytus," an early Appalachian term for baking soda or saleratus, takes place, according to Conn, in the tar flats of eastern Kentucky. The story focuses on a mountain bear, as the villain, and a tree squirrel, as the hero.

Conn leads the group in singing a traditional song call "Sauerkraut," and the well-known ballad "Down in the Valley."

"The ballad is an Eastern Kentucky love song sung by a boy to his girlfriend on a Sunday afternoon," Conn explains.

"Our Appalachia" is broadcast locally on Channel 12. Air time is Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 5:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 15, at 4:30 p.m. and Thursday, Dec. 16, at 4 p.m.

12-8-82fj

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Child Development Laboratory is accepting applications for children 3-5 years of age on a first-come, first-served basis.

The full-day operation begins Jan 10 and ends May 13 with classes Monday through Friday from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The laboratory is an interdisciplinary program of the schools of Education and Applied Sciences and Technology.

Additional information is available from Karen Hammons at 783-2106 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

12-9-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Jazz Vocal Ensemble will perform in concert Sunday, Dec. 12, at 9 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall.

The program of Christmas music will include such favorites as "Let It Snow" and "Deck the Halls," and will be performed by both ensembles and solos.

Members of the ensemble include:

*Sopranos -- Monica Harmon, Greenville, Ohio, senior; Denise Willis, Monroeville, Ohio, senior; Aileen Shepherd, Morehead senior; and Beth Cole, Dayton, Ohio, sophomore.

*Altos -- Coletta Jones, Lexington senior; Barbara Langston, Shelbyville senior; Debra Howe, Williamstown senior; and Holly Montgomery, Louisville sophomore.

*Tenors -- Kevin Thomas, Mt. Olivet sophomore; Bob Miller, Medway, Ohio, senior; Alan King, Chillicothe, Ohio, freshman; John Hall, Converse, Ind., freshman; and Dale Raines, Seaman senior.

*Bass -- Alan Daubenspeck, Belle, W.Va., senior; Terry Cain, Paris junior; Charles Moore, Morehead senior; Fred Horn, Ashland freshman.

Also appearing will be a rhythm ensemble including Todd Spangler, Middlesboro senior; Joe Allen, Garrett sophomore; Ron Hayden, Louisville freshman; Chip Lewis, Russell freshman; and Pat Petrillo, New Brunswick, N.Y., senior.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Media Advisory

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Not for publication or broadcast

EVENT: Press Conference
DATE/TIME: Thursday, Dec. 9, 1 p.m.
SITE: Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center
SCHEDULE:

Representatives of Morehead State University and the Kentucky Forest Industries Association will make a major announcement concerning a cooperative venture.

PRESS PARKING: located one-half block from the Adron Doran University Center on University Street
FACILITIES AVAILABLE: Xerox telecopier, telephones, typewriters, electrical outlets
MSU COVERAGE: Black/White photographs, news release, videotape

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

By FANNIE MADDEN-GRIDER
MSU Student Journalist

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- There's a new teacher at Morehead State University these days, quite unlike other teachers. It teaches library science now but will soon begin to teach classes in math, science, word processing, literature, English and other fields.

It's a computer terminal, located on the fourth floor of MSU's Camden-Carroll Library.

Faye Belcher, associate director of libraries, says the terminal will provide access to a computer which, in turn, will help students learn how to use the library in a beginning class entitled "The Use of Books, Materials and Libraries."

Of course, a real teacher will be in charge of the class, and the computer will be a helper. Computer-assisted instruction (CAI), as it's called, enables teachers to serve more students than otherwise possible.

Here's how it works: Students attend classes as usual. Then, in their free time, they will answer questions the instructor has entered into the computer through the terminal. The computer will check the answers and keep a record of each student's progress.

Although the computer is being used for only one class now, other students can use the terminal to access existing programs stored in the University's main computer. The majority of these students are data processing majors, Belcher says.

(more)

Computer Terminal
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

Mike Gresham, systems manager of MSU's Computing Center, says the long-term plans are for an additional 20 terminals in a general user area in the library.

Currently, more than 300 data processing students, as well as information sciences, math and other students, use the computers at the computing center. Gresham says the additional terminals will "effectively double our user capacity."

"We've had requests from every academic area on campus for computer-assisted instruction," says Gresham, adding that instructors are encouraged to write their own programs.

Some people have the misconception that CAI is an "easy way out of teaching" Gresham comments.

"But to write a program for one lecture may take a whole semester, so it's not that easy."

The computer terminal at the library, and the new program, were made possible by a federal grant which Belcher and Juanita Hall, an assistant librarian, received under the Faculty Fellowship Grants Program of The U.S. Department of Education.

###

12-9-82fgg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Kentucky's lumber industry will be the focal point of a new, annual exposition announced here Thursday by the Kentucky Forest Industries Association and Morehead State University.

The 1983 Kentucky Logging Show, co-sponsored by KFIA and MSU, is scheduled Saturday, Oct. 1, and Sunday, Oct. 2, at MSU's Derrickson Agricultural Complex north of Morehead on Ky. 377.

Exhibitors from throughout the eastern U.S. will display logging equipment and demonstrate new procedures. Included will be a portable sawmill operation, chainsaw demonstrations and displays of antique and modern logging equipment.

Competition in individual events such as chain saw cutting, chopping, axe throwing and cross-cut sawing will take place throughout the weekend. An overall Kentucky logging champion also will be named.

"With a large and expanding forest industry in Kentucky, we feel it will be beneficial to bring everyone together to observe and test new developments and equipment and to get to know one another," said Walter Richardson, KFIA president and owner of Wayne Lumber Co. in Monticello. "We are planning to make this a yearly event."

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet said of the event:

"The University is pleased to join our friends in the lumber industry in the co-sponsorship of the Kentucky Logging Show. We welcome the opportunity to make the public aware of the value of this industry to our state."

###

12-9-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Morehead State University is offering three courses in Maysville during the 1983 spring semester.

Registration will be at Maysville Community College on Thursday, Jan. 13, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

EDUCATION --- EDEL 630, Curriculum Construction; EDGC 580, Measurement Principles and Techniques; and EDSE 634, Secondary School Curriculum.

Additional information is available from David Kraemer at (606) 759-7141.

12-10-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Morehead State University is offering 18 courses in Prestonsburg during the 1983 spring semester.

Registration will be at Prestonsburg Community College on Thursday, Jan. 13, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS --- ECON 661, Managerial Economics.

EDUCATION --- EDAD 645, Principles of Education Administration;

EDAD 695, Elementary School Principal; EDEL 627, Reading in the Elementary School; EDEL 632, Elementary School Curriculum; EDEL 680, History and Philosophy of Education; EDGC 580, Measuring Principles and Techniques;

EDGC 619, Organizing and Administering Career Education; EDGC 674, Seminar in Guidance and Counseling; EDHE 641, Academic and Administrative Problems in Higher Education; EDUC 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development;

HLTH 518, Use and Abuse of Drugs; PSY 589, Psychology of Learning; PSY 600, Seminar Program for the Handicapped Student; PSY 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development; REC 585, Programs and Materials for Therapeutic Recreation.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS --- SCI 580, History of Science.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- SOC 603, Appalachian Sociology.

For additional information, contact James Ratcliff at (606) 886-3863.

12-10-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's fall semester ends Friday, Dec. 17, at 4:30 p.m.

Offices will close at noon on Wednesday, Dec. 22, for the Christmas holidays and will reopen Monday, Jan. 3, at 8 a.m.

Registration for the spring semester is scheduled Jan. 10-12, with classes beginning Jan. 13 at 8 a.m.

####

12-10-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- For the first time, Morehead State University students and Morehead civic organizations will celebrate Martin Luther King's birthday.

Sponsored by the MSU Black Coalition, the Jan 14-16 celebration will coincide with activities on other colleges campuses.

"We are asking townspeople, organizations on campus, as well as people in other parts of Kentucky, to join with the Black Coalition, either by attending the march in Morehead or by showing some form of support of King's birthday in their area," said Joseph E. Hamer, Black Coalition vice president.

With the theme of the conference being "Happy Birthday, Dr. King: The Dream Lives On," the Black Coalition "feels it is time to organize a march and petition in recognition of King's birthday as an official holiday, instead of an optional holiday in Kentucky," Hamer, a freshman from Mont Clair, N.J. said.

The idea for the march came about during preparation of an agenda of activities at one of the first MSU Black Coalition meetings this school year.

"First, we planned a small event on campus like a memorial service of Kings birthday," Hamer added, "Now, it has become a politically oriented march symbolizing unity among blacks and whites in the state."

Hamer, a recipient of the 1982 Roy Wilkens Youth Leadership award, explained that having a march organized by students would have a great impact on the campus and the state.

(more)

"It would unify the whole campus," Hamer said. "King stood for humanity, not just for black people." Other conference supporter's include the United Campus Ministry and MSU social organizations.

The Martin Luther King conference will include speakers, legislative meetings and a Jan 15 march down main street in Morehead.

A petition will be circulated among those in the march. Hamer said it will be sent to the legislative branch in Frankfort for the 1984 General Assembly.

"Because the students and young adults held power in the 1960's during the Martin Luther King civil rights marches, I believe the young people still hold a great deal of political power," Hamer explained, "Black students will have something to vote for in the elections of 1984."

Throughout 1983 the Black Coalition will sponsor follow-up programs and workshops to motivate and prepare students to vote in the upcoming elections.

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- A pinning ceremony honoring the 19 midyear graduates of Morehead State University's nursing program is scheduled Friday, Dec. 17, at 10 a.m. in Reed Auditorium.

Sister Mary Delrita of St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead will address the graduating class.

Graduates include Lisa Adkins of Ashland, Karen Bledsoe of Olive Hill, Janet Brisky of Park Hills, Shirley Brown of Morehead, Paula Brunty of Chesapeake, Ohio, Burnetta Chandler of Mt. Sterling, Cynthia Dempsey of Erlanger, Vicki Fairchild of Morehead, Connie Gunter of York, Sharon Haddix of Mt. Sterling, Patricia Ison of Sandy Hook, Barbara Kiser of Olive Hill, Debra Miller of Ewing, Linda Murray of Clearfield, Jackie Porter of Olive Hill, Janet Rayburn of Morehead, Eva Reed of Owingsville, Lorna Wilson of Chestertown, Md., and Vickie Wilson of Olive Hill.

MSU's nursing graduates qualify to take the state examination to become registered nurses.

###

12-10-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Twenty years ago, Larry Lee was a student at Morehead State University. He dropped out before graduating, got married and soon became the father of Ronald Dean Lee.

Now, Larry Lee and his son are students at MSU and are majoring in industrial technology.

"Returning to school after such a long time was something I've always wanted to do, to get a degree, make a personal accomplishment," the elder Lee says. "I don't expect any changes in my career advancement because of it, though."

Lee chose to major in industrial technology because he is a general superintendent at Rockwell International, which is financing his college education. MSU instructors conduct classes at the Winchester plant, and Rockwell provides tuition and books for those employees enrolling.

Lee's son decided on the same major because, in his words, "my dad would take me to visit Rockwell when I was little, and I thought it would be neat to work at a place like that."

Sharing the same educational goal has made father and son closer than before, according to Ronald.

"My dad helps me figure out which classes to take and sometimes he helps me with my homework on weekends," the younger Lee commented. "That makes it a good situation because he started before me and already has completed some of the classes I'm taking."

(more)

Father-Son
2-2-2-2-2-2

But more important than the practical help they give each other, the younger Lee believes, is personal communication. "New channels of communication have opened up between us. We can talk about what we've been doing all day and before we couldn't."

And, his father adds, it may have opened a new path for both of their futures.

"The consulting business is quite lucrative now," he explains. "Perhaps the two of us can start our own business after we've graduated."

####

12-14-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. ---The Christmas season is a time for rituals and traditions and Christmas dinner is no exception. In Kentucky, however, foods served at this meal may be a bit different from those in other states.

"Kentucky has many traditional foods, especially for holidays," says Floy Patton, assistant professor of home economics at Morehead State University. "But most states don't."

In colonial days, Kentucky was a "crossroads to the west," Patton explains. "People from England, Scotland and Germany were traveling through, and many of them settled here because the mountains reminded them of their homeland. So Kentucky's foods are a combination of these three cultures plus the Indians."

One of the traditional main dishes for Christmas is country ham, Patton says.

"People from other states won't eat it and say it's too salty. And they don't like the smoky flavor. But it shows up more than turkey on Christmas day in Kentucky."

A lot of beef is raised in Kentucky so it is only natural that roast beef should be a popular main dish at holiday meals, explains Patton, adding that it is part of our English heritage.

Two side dishes served almost every year--corn pudding, which came from the Indians and which is unique to the South, and "shucky britches," which are dried green beans--will probably fade away with the older generation, she says.

(more)

Christmas Dinner
2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2

"Every family has its own traditions," Patton says. "Our family always had fruit salad for Christmas dinner, I guess that was because we couldn't have it very often and it seemed special."

When she was a child, the dressing always had chestnuts in it, but now they are hard to find wild or in the grocery store. "Chestnut dressing is an old traditional Christmas dish that just isn't seen anymore."

For desert on Christmas day, transparent pie is a Kentucky favorite. "It's like pecan pie without the pecans," Patton explains. "It originated in the state and the best today are made around Flemingsburg and Maysville."

Despite the old time dishes that have survived throughout the generations, many "new" foods are making their way onto the Christmas table.

"We're beginning to be more cosmopolitan in our foods, using cornish hens, and broccoli is rivaling green beans," she says. "People travel more, get ideas from television, and can buy foods at the supermarket that just were not available in the past."

Despite these changes, Patton hopes Kentuckians will keep their Christmas dinner traditions.

"We need to keep our heritage, but we also must continue to grow and change, too," she says. "We should keep the best of our old tradition, add to it and pass it on to our kids and grandkids."

####

12-14-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Porter Dailey, director of budgets at Morehead State University since 1978, has been named executive assistant to MSU President Morris L. Norfleet.

Dailey, a native of Frankfort, will retain his duties in the Division of Budgets. The new appointment is effective immediately.

A graduate of MSU and Eastern Kentucky University, Dailey came to MSU from a policy advisor's position in the Office for Policy and Management of the Kentucky Department of Finance.

The 35-year-old administrator is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dailey of Frankfort. He has two daughters.

As executive assistant to President Norfleet, Dailey will be responsible for a variety of administrative matters involving the president's office.

#####

12-15-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Morehead State University is offering 22 courses in Pikeville during the 1983 spring semester.

Registration will be at Pikeville College on Thursday, Jan 13, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

HUMANITIES --- ART 399, Art Workshop; ART 599, Art Workshop;

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- GEO 550, Geography for Teachers; SOC 545, Death and Dying; SWK 545, Death and Dying.

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS --- MNGT 602, Survey of Quantitative Analysis.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS --- BIOL 606, Biology of Vertebrates.

EDUCATION --- EDAD 628, School Law; EDEL 632, Elementary School Curriculum; EDGC 656, Principles of Guidance; EDGC 667A, Group Procedures: Elementary; EDGC 667B, Group Procedures: Secondary; EDGC 667C, Group Procedures: Counseling; EDGC 669A, Practicum in Guidance and Counseling: Elementary; EDGC 669B, Practicum in Guidance and Counseling: Secondary; EDGC 669C, Practicum in Guidance and Counseling: Counseling; EDGC 679, Advanced Practicum in Guidance and Counseling; EDSE 634, Secondary School Curriculum; EDSP 537, Educational Assessment of Exceptional Children; EDUC 600, Research Methods in Education; HLTH 518, Use and Abuse of Drugs; PHED 606, Physiology of Motor Activities.

12-16-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The return of classes highlights the month of January at Morehead State University.

Registration for pre-registered students is scheduled in the Laughlin Health Building Jan. 10-12. Classes begin on Thursday, Jan. 13, at 8 a.m.

An exhibit of student artworks opens Jan. 10 in the Claypool-Young Art Gallery. The exhibit is open during regular hours until Feb. 4.

The Arts in Morehead Series will feature MSU's Bel Canto Trio and Piano Trio in a concert of classical music on Friday, Jan. 28, at 8 p.m. in Baird Music Hall.

MSU's Black Coalition is sponsoring a celebration honoring Martin Luther King's birthday Jan. 14-16. The celebration will be highlighted by a march through downtown Morehead.

Sports scheduled during January include basketball with the Eagles hosting Western Carolina on Jan. 10; Akron on Jan. 21; Youngstown State on Jan. 22; and Alabama-Huntsville on Jan. 24. The Lady Eagles host Marshall on Jan. 18 and Akron on Jan. 22.

Other events include the Eagle Championships Individual Events Tournament on Jan. 28; a computer software fair on Jan. 25; and a visit by the Bloodmobile on Jan. 26.

####

12-17-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

(For Release at 1:45 p.m., Dec. 20, 1982)

ASHLAND, Ky. --- Ashland area residents received an early Christmas present here Monday when Morehead State University and Ashland Community College announced they would co-sponsor a "Weekend College" program to make four-year degrees available at ACC.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet and ACC Director Robert Goodpaster signed the agreement at ACC and stated that the program would start in January and include Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degrees in accounting, data processing and management.

Lloyd Cassity of Ashland, president of Johnson's All-Star Dairy and chairman of MSU's Board of Regents, described the joint venture as "a splendid example of cooperation in higher education for the benefit of the people of Northeastern Kentucky."

Classes will meet at ACC on Friday nights and Saturdays for five weeks with three separate courses to be offered each semester. Admission to the "Weekend College" requires an associate degree from ACC in the subject area or the equivalent from another accredited university or college.

Registration for the first course will be conducted Thursday, Jan. 13, at Crabbè Elementary School, starting at 6 p.m. Additional information is available from Carl Lively, ACC's assistant director for student services, at 329-2999 or Bonnie Bailey, MSU instructor of data processing, at 783-2174.

#####

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Families are changing and it is affecting everyone from babies to grandparents.

This is the conclusion of Jane Ellington, assistant professor of home economics at Morehead State University and instructor of a course called "Marriage and the Family."

"Working mothers are now the rule rather than the exception," Ms. Ellington says. "Women are becoming more and more career-oriented, and families move more often than in the past. This mobility has changed family structures more than anything else."

In the past, when mothers went to work, grandmothers cared for the children. But with families scattered about, this responsibility has been shifted to the day-care center or babysitter.

Similarly, when grandparents could no longer care for themselves, they moved in with their children or their children moved in with them. Now, they are sent to rest homes.

In addition to the emotional stress caused by not having family members for support, the new family structure has placed an economic burden on young families, according to Ms. Ellington.

"Child care is expensive and, with the current economic crunch, most families say they can't live on one income," she explains. "Both incomes go for necessities, and there's less left over for savings and wants."

Single parent families, which are increasing every year, are hit hardest by the bad economy because that important second income isn't there.

(more)

Families
2-2-2-2-2

"Most single parents are divorced women who traditionally have not continued their education because they were busy raising children," Ms. Ellington said. "Add to their low income the fact that more than 40 percent of the divorced fathers never pay child support and you can see the total situation."

Low income means the quality of child care affordable is not as good as it should be.

"When you subtract the cost of child care from their low incomes, many women earn so little that they might be better off financially to stay home with their children and accept welfare," Ellington says.

Despite many recent changes in the structure of families, Ellington says the family is still the "strongest unit of society, where our basic value system is learned." The family has survived these changes and will survive those coming in the near future.

For instance, another "baby boom" has begun among over-30 couples having a first child.

"And the divorce rate has begun to taper off," she added.

###

12-21-82fg

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University is making two major changes in its 1983 academic calendar.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet has announced that spring commencement has been moved from Friday, May 13, to Saturday, May 14, for the convenience of parents and others with travel obligations.

Also, the University is shortening its summer calendar in favor of two four-week sessions instead of two five-week terms. In addition, the first summer session will start one week later than usual to accommodate those in the public schools whose calendars might be extended by inclement weather.

Summer I will open on June 6 and close on July 1. Summer II starts July 5 and ends July 29.

"We feel that both of these calendar adjustments will be beneficial to those we are trying to serve," Dr. Norfleet stated. "This is another example of our effort to be a people-oriented institution."

The MSU Board of Regents voted earlier this year to discontinue summer commencement exercises because of declining attendance. Students expecting to complete graduation requirements during either summer session may choose to participate in the spring ceremony, Dr. Norfleet added.

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's mining technology program will be offering a class in Ashland during the 1983 spring semester.

The course, Mining 104, Underground Mine Safety, is a study of underground mine safety procedures as required by the U.S. Mine Safety and Health Administration.

A student completing this course will receive three semester hours of academic credit and a MSHA New Miner Certificate of Training.

Registration is scheduled Thursday, Jan. 13, at 6 p.m. at Crabbe Elementary School.

Classes are scheduled Mondays from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., starting Jan. 17 and ending May 9.

Additional information is available from Forrest Cameron, coordinator of MSU's mining technology program at (606) 783-2640.

12-21-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- If you've been wondering how to choose a Christmas tree, order the fruit trees that are right for your family, or gather firewood, "Ag Update" is the radio program for you.

Produced by Morehead State University's Department of Agriculture, "Ag Update" is aired Monday through Friday at 6:55 a.m. and 11:50 a.m. on WMKY, public radio from MSU.

Robert Wolfe, assistant professor of agriculture, says the radio program was started to "give the people in Eastern Kentucky helpful information about farming and gardening. We cover a broad spectrum of agriculture."

Past segments of "Ag Update" included programs about lawn care, mice damage to fruit trees, toxicity of house plants, and an interview with Kenny Sargent, an MSU graduate who now farms near Mt. Sterling.

"It's a general interest show about timely topics that people need to know," Wolfe added.

12-21-82fg

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University begins its 1983 spring semester with registration Jan. 10-12 in the Laughlin Health Building.

Residence halls open for the new term at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 8.

Seniors and pre-registered graduate students will register from 8 a.m. to noon on Monday, Jan. 10.

Pre-registered sophomores and juniors will register from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 10, and from 8 a.m. to noon on Tuesday, Jan. 11.

Freshmen will enroll on Tuesday, Jan. 11, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., and on Wednesday, Jan. 12, from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Classes begin at 8 a.m. on Thursday, Jan. 13. The last day to register for a full load is Monday, Jan. 17, and the last day to register for credit is Monday, Jan. 24.

Part-time students wishing to enroll in evening classes at MSU will register from 5 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. at Laughlin Health Building on Jan. 10 and 11.

####

12-21-82scf

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-3325

(Special to The Morehead News)

Without question, Morehead State University's best news of 1982 occurred last week when Gov. John Y. Brown Jr. exempted elementary, secondary and higher education from the latest state budget cut.

The governor's decision meant that MSU would not have to return about $700,000 in state appropriations during the balance of the 1982-83 fiscal year.

Other agencies of state government were ordered to trim their current budgets by at least three percent to bring expenditures into line with anticipated state revenues.

In other recent "good news" affecting MSU, the University and Ashland Community College announced a new partnership for a "Weekend College" program at ACC which is expected to boost enrollments in MSU's School of Business and Economics.

An anonymous donor has given MSU the sum of $10,000 to finance loans to juniors and seniors who are faced with leaving school because of economic reasons. In making the gift, the unknown benefactor said his own college career had been affected by such circumstances and that he wanted to help others avoid the same fate.

Earlier, MSU's emerging program in mining, reclamation and energy studies received a boost when the MAPCO Educational Foundation announced a three-year commitment to fund a faculty chair, starting with $37,500 for 1982-83.

Also in the area of finances, calendar year 1982 produced record totals of more than $2 million in grants and contracts and more than $344,000 in private gifts as MSU continued its quest for external funds to supplement dwindling state resources.

The School of Education opened its IMPACT (Instructional Materials Production and Activities Center for Teachers) facility at Breckinridge ^{Hall} for the benefit of area public school teachers.

MSU and the Kentucky Forest Industries Association announced plans to co-sponsor a major, statewide exposition, the Kentucky Logging Show, at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex next October.

U.S. Sen. Walter D. Huddleston and 11 other friends of MSU were honored by the Alumni Association during Homecoming and Mickey Ferguson of Morgan County as crowned as Homecoming Queen.

MSU received the first "Friend of KWNA" ^{Award} for its support of the Kentucky Weekly Newspaper Association and Pulitzer Prize-winning author Alex Haley appeared at MSU as the first Wilhelm Exelbirt Lecturer.

The University's associate degree nursing program received accreditation by the National League of Nursing and MSU and Auburn University launched a joint degree program in engineering.

MSU and Martiki Coal Corporation joined hands to determine if reclaimed mountaintop land can be converted to agricultural production. Surface mined land owned by Martiki in Martin County will be the subject of the research project which is being funded by the coal firm.

A local contractor, Packs', Inc., was the successful bidder on two capital construction projects at MSU, including the renovation of Button Auditorium and the installation of elevators in Baird Music

Hall and the Howell-McDowell Administration Building.

Football's Ken Hopkins and basketball's Donna Stephens were among the first six persons chosen to receive the "Scholar-Athlete Award" of the Ohio Valley Conference.

Dr. Ted L. Crosthwait, a native of Morehead, received MSU's 1982 Founders Day Award for University Service. Honorary doctoral degrees were awarded during spring commencement to Ashland banker G. B. Johnson and Marshall University President Robert Hayes.

MSU and the Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council, Inc., combined their performing arts series into an expanded "Arts in Morehead" (AIM) series for 1982-83.

Harriett Leidy of Fort Mitchell was crowned as Miss MSU and President Morris L. Norfleet took office as the board chairman of the Jesse Stuart Foundation, Inc.

#####

12-21-82kk

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Morehead State University is offering five courses in Whitesburg during the 1983 spring semester.

Registration will be at the West Whitesburg Elementary School on Thursday, Jan. 13, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

EDUCATION --- EDUC 582, Discipline and Classroom Management;
HLTH 518, Use and Abuse of Drugs; PHED 604, History and Principles of Physical Education.

APPLIED SCIENCES AND TECHNOLOGY --- IET 520, Industrial Arts Elementary Teacher.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- SOC 510, Principles of Sociology.

11-24-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Morehead State University is offering 13 courses in Jackson during the 1983 spring semester.

Registration will be at the Lees Junior College on Thursday, Jan 13, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

EDUCATION --- EDAD 599, Workshop in Community Relations; EDAD 691, School and the Public; EDEL 627, Reading in Elementary School; EDEL 632, Elementary School Curriculum; EDGC 619, Organization and Administration of Career Education; EDSE 634, Secondary School Curriculum; EDSP 601, Survey of Exceptional Children; EDUC 600, Research Methods in Education; EDUC 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development; HLTH 508, General School Safety; PSY 610, Advanced Human Growth and Development.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- HIS 610, American Biography.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS --- SCI 570, Earth Science.

11-24-82scf

###

News

OFFICE OF NEWS SERVICES

SHARON CROUCH-FARMER, COORDINATOR

MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

UPO BOX 1100

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

606-783-2030

Morehead State University is offering 26 courses in Ashland during the 1983 spring semester.

Registration will be at Ashland's Crabb Elementary School on 17th and Central on Thursday, Jan. 13, at 6 p.m.

Scheduled classes include:

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS --- ACCT 611, Accounting Analysis and Decision Making; ECON 504, Survey of Economics Theory; FIN 360, Business Finance (meets Jan. 21 - Feb. 19); MKT 650, Marketing Administration; MNGT 311, Principles of Personnel Management (meets Feb. 25 - April 2); MNGT 502, Surveys of Quantitative Analysis; MNGT 612, Advanced Management; OADM 399, Information Processing Workshop (meets April 8 - May 7).

APPLIED SCIENCES AND TECHNOLOGY --- IET 320, Supervisory Practices; IET 395, Special Problems in Vocational Education; IET 399, Welding Capstone; IET 422, Industry Safety Standards and Enforcement; MIN 104, Underground Mine Safety.

HUMANITIES --- ENG 544, Folk Literature.

SOCIAL SCIENCES --- SOC 625, Deviance; COR 625, Deviance; GEO 502, Geographical Factors and Concepts.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS --- SCI 570, Earth Science.

(more)

EDUCATION --- EDAD 645, Principles of Education Administration;
EDEL 627, Readings in Elementary School; EDEL 680, History and Philosophy of Education; EDGC 580, Measurement Principles and Techniques; EDGC 619, Organization and Administration of Career Education; HLTH 508, General School Safety; PSY 586, Motivation; PSY 600, Seminar, Programs for the Handicapped Student.

11-24-82scf

###