MORREHEAD NORMAL SCHOOL STARTING WITH 2 TEACHERS AND 1 PUPIL
NOW HAS HALF A THOUSAND MATRICULATES AFTER TWENTY YEARS WORK

CLARENCE FUGA TURNER

Christian's words, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," have ever been the guiding star of the town of Morrehead, in this century.

The principal of Morrehead Normal School is T. W. Gilmer, who, having been graduated from Transylvania University, was appointed the principal of the school in 1889. He is now in his 42nd year of service, and has brought to the school a wealth of experience in teaching and a deep interest in the welfare of his students.

The school has always been well supported by the people of the town and county, and has been able to carry on its work with a minimum of financial aid from outside sources. This has enabled it to maintain a high standard of instruction and to provide a wide range of courses for its students.

The school has always emphasized the importance of practical training, and has provided opportunities for its students to gain experience in the professions and trades in which they may be interested.

The school has always been open to all students, regardless of their background or financial status. It has been a pioneer in the field of education for women, and has been instrumental in providing opportunities for women to pursue higher education.

The school has always been a center of intellectual and cultural activity, and has provided a place for the community to come together and engage in meaningful discussions and events.

The school has always been a place of learning and growth, and has provided a foundation for the development of a strong and vibrant community. It has been a source of pride for the town and county, and has been instrumental in the development of the area.

And so, as we look to the future, we can be confident that Morrehead Normal School will continue to provide a high-quality education for its students and will remain a vital and important part of the community.
