

Sunday Night

Dear Mrs Sandolt

I have just returned from a visit with Mr. King. We talked for over an hour and it was very interesting. I attended the "Post" Church this morning and the two main differences between the services there and those at home were that all present were men and Mr. Sandolt wasn't preaching. It was a swell service and the singing was excellent.

I really miss young people more than ever. I have looked all over Ft. Thomas and still I have not found a single group that meets on Sunday night for worship services.

I am the looks of things you may accept the resignation of Billy Lutton or whoever took my job, next August (second week) for my leave of absence shall be over by then with luck. Good night
As Ever - Jimmie
