Police Apprehend Purse Snatchers In Short Order

Quick work by State Police last Friday led to the recovery of a purse snatched from a Morehead woman and the apprehension of two youths allegedly involved in the theft.

Less than half an hour after Mrs. Evelyn West's pocketbook was torn from her grasp in a Morehead supermarket's parking lot, Troopers Robert-Morgan and Pat Hickey arrested a 17-year-old and an 18-year-old two miles east of Owensboro and found them in possession of the purse.

Mrs. West told the officers she had driven her car into the parking lot and gotten out of it when one of the two boys who had been pursuing a nearby car snatched the purse and fled.

Mrs. West, a nurse at St. James Medical Center, provided officers with a description of the car and the youths.

Morgan and Hickey spotted them only a short time after receiving the report.

Arrested and bound over to the March grand jury were Tony Joseph Fouts, 17, and Larry Jesse Rose, 18, both of Muncie, Ind.

State Police dispatcher Robert L. Stappert said the two have had no records for breaking and entering.

Sports Car Plows Into Bridge Rail

A 20-year-old Montgomery County man, who only a short time before had enrolled at Morehead State College, was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon in the wreck of his sports car west of Salt Lick.

State Trooper Robert Morgan said Anthony Ray Rose, of Rt. 5, Mt. Sterling, hit an icy spot on the highway, about two miles west of Salt Lick with the car going out of control and crashing into a bridge railing.

Rose was thrown from the vehicle, which was torn into two pieces. The rear of the 1965 model car lodged on the bridge, while the remainder "just disintegrated" Morgan said, and dropped into the creek bed below. The chassis of the car was ripped from the body by the impact.

Rose had enrolled as a sophomore at Morehead. He was a transfer student.

The mishap took place at 3:40 p.m.

Tuesday's fatality was the second at the same spot in three months. A truck driver for Spring Grove Dairy, Kelly Jones, died in an accident involving the same bridge Nov. 10.

Rose's death was the sixth fatality in the Troop F State Police section this year, compared with five for the first two full months in 1964. Last year's fatality figure of 20 for the Troop F area was a record, and this year's pace is ahead of that.

Eagles Trip Marshall 103-94; Plunge Into OVC Schedule

Scoring their second win in that last six games—the Eagles' first—last night, the team's last previous triumph over Marshall was Tuesday, Jan. 26, 1962.

Tuesday's encounter brought about Morehead's 25th consecutive win over Marshall, which is coached by former MSC mentor, Elmer Johnson.

The mishap took place near the west city limits of Morehead at the intersection of the railway and Highway 519 (Clearfield Road).

Waddell is married to the former Bessie Burton of Elliott County. They are the parents of four children.

Don Wilson Killed At Brady Curve

Nineteen-year-old Donald Ray Wilson of East Main Street, Morehead, was killed instantly early Friday when his car slid into a railroad crossing and was struck by a Glenside and Ohio passenger train.

The mishap was the first traffic fatality in Rowan County this year—happened a short distance east of Brady Curve, near the west city limits of Morehead, where the Clearfield Road crosses the railroad.

State Trooper Martin Jennings said Wilson apparently could not control the car, which was on a down-grade covered with ice, and slid into the path of C&O Train 21, which had left the Morehead station only about one minute earlier.

The engine of the train was B.M. Ward, No. 66, of Ashland. All roads in the area were covered with ice and snow as the result of a severe storm which had passed through this section the night before.

Jennings said there was no indication that the car was traveling at an excessive speed. He said the vehicle probably was moving very slowly, but that Wilson was unable to avoid the crossing because of ice conditions.

Former Morehead State College employee, Wilson died from internal injuries. Death was instantaneous.

A son of Ora Wilson and Mrs. Anna Dean Morrison of Morehead, he was born Feb. 26, 1945 in Carter County.

Surviving are the father, the mother, Mrs. Wiley Wilson, Morehead, a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Stevens, Hamlin, Ind., and a brother, William Waddell, Morehead.

Adoption Requirements Relaxed Providing Increased Placement

Fewer youngsters would spend their childhood and adolescence in foster homes or state institutions if more couples knew the relaxed requirements for adopting children, State Child Welfare Commissioner Richard F. Clendenen said this week.

Regulation regarding the age have been relaxed considerably in the last few years, he said, as placement workers have given more emphasis to the couple's desire and ability to give a child love and emotional stability.

"Hundreds of youngsters—alert, healthy and appealing—know the tragedy of growing up without the personal care and love of a legal home," the commissioner said. "They are orphaned, abandoned, or the victims of a broken home. Many never knew their natural parents."

The department placed 442 children in adoptive homes during 1964, but there are at least that many again now who are eligible and long for a "real" home and family with adoptive parents.

The wage earner may not be too poor, the husband and wife in their mid-40's may not be too old, the working wife and husband may not be too busy if the essential desire to give love, affection and emotional stability to a child is there, Clendenen said.

Miss Marge Friend, adoption supervisor, and her staff have reduced the study and waiting period for adoptive applicants to a little over four months, Clendenen said. The cost of legal fees, borne by the new parents, ranges from $150 to $200, he added.

Newborn infants continue to be the most in demand by adoptive parents, Miss Friend said. Many infants are taken home by their new parents direct from the hospital. Babies under six months of age account for 99 percent of all adoptions, she said.

Orphan children and brother-sister groups are among the hardest to place in adoptive homes, Miss Friend pointed out. She described Paul and David, brothers 6 and 9 years old, both are handsome children, doing well in school, are alert and well adjusted, but because the department feels it is in their best interest to keep them together, they have not been accepted by adoptive parents.

"Bouncy twin girls, 10 years old, also do well in school, get along well with others and have at least average intelligence. Yet no adoptive home has been located for red-haired Linda and Becky, her dark-haired twin."

"Many older couples tell me they now regret their hesitancy in adopting one or more children years earlier," Clendenen said.

"I urge any couple who has an interest in an adoption program to contact our office here in Frankfort, or one of the

Methyl Bromide Can Be Utilized By Two Methods

Use of methyl bromide to kill weed seeds in tobacco plant beds is a quick, useful way to accomplish this task.

Barry Lee Martin, University of Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service specialist, said that in using methyl bromide, for one, methyl bromide is a poisonous gas, so directions and safety measures must be followed. Second, it can be applied cold or hot.

COLD METHOD: Plow and work plant-bed soil thoroughly at least two or three weeks before treatment, and work it again just before treatment. Cover the site with a gas-proof cover and seal the edges with soil. Insert plastic tubing at three points in a 100-foot bed, one at each end and one in the center. Release one pound of gas for 100 square feet of bed. The 9 pounds for a bed 100 feet by 9 feet, 12 cans for a 100 x 12-foot bed.

HOT GAS METHOD: Plowing and covering treatments are the same as for the cold method. When ready to release the gas, puncture the can in the top portion of the cover. Insert the can (except for a punctured portion) in a 3-gallon bucket of water preheated to 150 to 160 degrees F. The methyl bromide then is released as a gas. It will take about five minutes to empty one can. Release two-thirds of the gas needed through tubes at corners of the bed, the remaining one-third through tubes placed alongside the bed.

Soil temperatures should be 50 degrees F or warmer. In the cold method, shallow trays are used under the bed cover to help evaporate the solid liquid. They are not needed for the hot-gas method.

Rights Act Compliance Set By State Education Board

The State Board of Education, meeting in special session, has adopted a plan of compliance with the federal Civil Rights Act.

We have acted as quickly as possible to meet any federal funds," James Melton, an assistant superintendent of public schools, said.

The board hurriedly arranged a meeting Friday night after schools that all federal aid to schools has been held up until the school board of each state has compliance plans to Washington.

"We hope the flow of money will resume reasonably soon," Melton said.

The state board in effect notified the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of two things:

1. It gave assurances there is no racial discrimination in schools it operates directly, such as vocational schools and those for the blind and deaf.

2. It agreed to serve as a clearing agency to receive compliance agreements from all affected local school districts.

Under one portion of the Civil Rights Act, local districts must show there is no discrimination to continue receiving federal money for lunch programs, classroom equipment and vocational courses, among others.

They can do so in various ways. All the information will be sent before June 30, the date for federal review.

The state board disposed of another matter which, Melton said, could help in the financially pressed public schools obtain money to buy library books.

It approved an extension of their forms, but will collect them in batches and submit them for federal approval.

"Every day's delay is a risk because federal funds for certain vocational programs must be used before June 30," he said.

The state board disposed of another matter which, Melton said, could help in the financially pressed public schools obtain money to buy library books.

It approved an extension of Century's role in the attached National Defense Education Act. This means local districts will be able to get 50 percent federal reimbursement for equipment bought to strengthen English, history, civics, geography and reading courses.

Candidates Must Quit State Jobs

Any state employee who seeks public office must resign his state job, Gov. Edward T. Breathitt said this week.

In a memorandum to department heads, Breathitt said any employee who seeks public office but fails to resign should be taken off the payroll on the date he becomes a candidate.

He said his order did not apply to a candidate seeking election to a town or school district office if the office provides no compensation and is held on a non-partisan basis.

LOUIS ARMSTRONG!

Hey, Cats! Satchmo's Makin' The Scene....But Soon...

Louis Armstrong, one of the world's greatest jazz trumpetmen, will appear in concert on the Morehead State College campus Feb. 22.

Armstrong and his All-Stars will perform in the 5,000-seat fieldhouse at 8:30 p. m. before an expected full house.

Considered one of the "hottest" musical attractions in the entertainment world, the famed trumpeter's appearance at Morehead is expected to draw spectators from many points.

Armstrong's most popular recent record is "Hello Dolly" which has already gone well over the 1,000,000 mark in sales.

Many persons believe that Armstrong, who began playing the trumpet in 1913, will soon retire from the strenuous travel schedule which has seen him play in night clubs, civic halls and on college campuses around the world.

Tickets for the performance are priced at $3 for adults and $2.50 for children and may be purchased at the college business office. Tickets may be ordered by mail by writing to the Ticket Manager, Morehead State College, or by calling the ticket office at State 4-4181, extension 329.

Armstrong will bring with him his famed All-Stars consisting of singer Jewel Brown; pianist Billy Kyle; drummer Danny Barcelona; bassist Arvel Shaw; trombonist Russell "Big Chief" Moore and Eddie Shlu, who plays the clarinet, saxophone, guitar, violin, harmonica and trumpet.

Tickets will be sold only for available seats and there will be no standing room.

Feed Grain Plan Opens On Monday

The sign-up for the 1965 feed grain program will be under way in ASCS County Offices, George M. Nelson, Jr., State Executive Director, has announced.

The sign-up period starts Monday and will continue through Mar. 28.

The director explained that the program for 1965 is basically the same as in 1964. It is voluntary, and combines corn, grain sorghum, and barley in a single feed grain base. Participating farmers will qualify for diverted acre, and price support payments, and they will be eligible for price support loans.

Driver Improvement Is Program's Goal

"Driver improvement and driver movement." As the goal of the new Driver Improvement Program of the Kentucky Department of Public Safety and Health and the State Medical Association.

Public Safety Commissioner Glen Lovem said the purpose of the program is to limit the activities of persons who do not possess the minimum physical or mental faculties to operate a motor vehicle under all conditions.

According to Public Safety records, 910 persons were killed on Kentucky's highways during 1964.

The "Driver Limitation Program" is designed to provide safe driving for the majority by removing unqualified drivers from the road. Lovem said.

The program is designed to remove drivers, or potential drivers, who have physical handicaps, mental problems, chronic conditions and those who suffer periods of unconsciousness or loss of control.

Names of people who fall under the provisions of the program will come from accident records maintained by the Public Safety Department's Division of Driver Licensing.

Yule Trees Could Be Grown Here

By Donald B. Nelson

There are several areas in Rowan County that would be suitable for starting a cash crop with Christmas trees. Most of the land is owned by natural Kentucky commonwealth or wild growth areas but in recent years many trees of exotic species have been found in the area.

Many of the trees come out of Canada. So as you can see, by taking a few acres of hillside land you could start a cash crop with Christmas trees.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry has a species of pine called Scotch Pine that makes an ideal Christmas tree. It is much better looking tree than our native pine or pines that have been lost in Rowan County. They will grow on any type of soil in the country and would make a good cash crop for some of our farmers selling them commercially or individually. Some of our adjoining counties have already started on this project.

He has been reported by a physician as incapable of safe driving.

He has obvious physical or mental defects.

His driving behavior indicates such impairment.

Should one or more of the above exist, Lovem said, the individual will be required to submit to an examination by a physician—either his own or a County Health officer. The physician will forward his report to the State Medical Review Board which is composed of specialists in the medical field and representatives of the Department of Public Safety and Health.

The Board will review the report.

With wrinkle-resistant fabrics being used so much today, a suit or coat, properly hung in the closet, will be ready to wear the next day without pressing. Proper hanging can cut down wrinkles in fabrics that do not have a special finish. Remember to give the garment "breathing space" in the closet; clothes shoved close together in the closet may meet pressing before the next wear.

Mr. McCusker offers these other suggestions. When a suit or coat has been cleaned or pressed, take it off the wire hanger as soon as possible; shoulder-shaped wooden hangers give suits and coats much better support than wire ones. If your suit or coat hangs on the pocket, see that they're smooth and flat when you hang the garment; otherwise they may get badly wrinkled and rumpled overnight.

Spot on ties are frequent problems. If you pull something on your tie, blot it; don't try to rub the spot out. Rubbing catches the weave of the fabric, making the spot harder to remove. Water spots usually can be removed easily. Allow them to dry; then rub lightly with another part of the tie or a soft tissue.

Other spots may call for cleaning fluid. If in doubt about how to clean a fluid-wrinkle effect tie, test it first on the back. If the cleaning fluid does any harm, it won't show on the front, Mrs. McCusker notes.

Mayhall Nephew To Head Desalination Symposium

Merrill M. Blevins, nephew of Dr. C. C. Mayhall, of Morehead, has been appointed secretary-general for the first International Symposium on Water Desalination, to be held Oct. 9-11 in Washington, D.C.

Blevins, a foreign service officer with the Department of State since 1961, is on loan to the Department of Interior. He has held a number of posts around the world.

Blevins was special assistant for presidential visit for late President John F. Kennedy, making all arrangements on behalf of the Department of State for the president's visit abroad.

He is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and did graduate work at the University of Chicago.

Invitations have been extended to 114 governments to participate in the Symposium. The Symposium is being organized by the Department of Interior and the Department of State with the cooperation of the Agency for International Development.

President Johnson has laid great stress on desalination research and development and has taken a personal interest in progress made toward the economic desalination of water to provide fresh water.

The Code of Fair Practices' Article 8, outlining the obligations of State contractors, was revised to match the same article of the Federal Government's Contract Employment Rules and Regulations, issued in 1961 by the Federal Government's Equal Employment Opportunity.

The federal document was amended in September 1963, six months after Kentucky's first Code of Fair Practices was issued by Gov. Bert Combs.

All State contractors must now post conspicuous notices advising employees and job applicants of the firm's commitments to nondiscrimination as stated in the contract. The contractor is also instructed to furnish these notices to be posted by labor unions and other collective bargaining agencies.

Anti-Bias Clause In State Forms

Revised State contract forms, consistent with the Kentucky Code of Fair Practices, were amended last November, are now in use by the State Parity Division and the State Highway Department. Assistant Commissioner Felix Joyner and Highway Commissioner Henry Ward have reported.

Contractors doing business with the State on projects involving only State funds will now sign a nondiscrimination clause similar to the one demanded by the Federal Government, the commissioners said.

Little Things Important In Mens' Clothing Care

Little things can mean the difference between a neat, well-dressed appearance and just the opposite. Mrs. Verma McCusker, University of Kentucky Extension Service clothing specialist, gives a few tips to men on "little things" that can help keep clothes in top shape.

With wrinkle-resistant fabrics being used so much today, a suit or coat, properly hung in the closet, will be ready to wear the next day without pressing. Proper hanging can cut down wrinkles in fabrics that do not have a special finish. Remember to give the garment "breathing space" in the closet; clothes shoved close together in the closet may meet pressing before the next wear.

Mr. McCusker offers these other suggestions. When a suit or coat has been cleaned or pressed, take it off the wire hanger as soon as possible; shoulder-shaped wooden hangers give suits and coats much better support than wire ones. If your suit or coat hangs on the pocket, see that they're smooth and flat when you hang the garment; otherwise they may get badly wrinkled and rumpled overnight.

Spot on ties are frequent problems. If you pull something on your tie, blot it; don't try to rub the spot out. Rubbing catches the weave of the fabric, making the spot harder to remove. Water spots usually can be removed easily. Allow them to dry; then rub lightly with another part of the tie or a soft tissue.

Other spots may call for cleaning fluid. If in doubt about how to clean a fluid-wrinkle effect tie, test it first on the back. If the cleaning fluid does any harm, it won't show on the front, Mrs. McCusker notes.

Rowan County Savings, Debt Increased Sharply In '64

From the standpoint of savings, 1964 was the best year in a long time for most Rowan County families.

Despite their recent outlay for goods and services, they ended up with a larger nest egg of cash in the bank and other savings than in 1963.

On the other hand, their installment debt went higher, due to heavy buying of new cars and other big ticket purchases. But this increase was far overshadowed by the increase in savings.

For the Rowan County population as a whole, the amount of new money put into savings in the year is estimated at $75,000.

This included additions to bank accounts, shares in savings and loan associations, purchases of securities and increases in life insurance and pension reserves.

The local estimate is based upon data for the county as a whole, gathered by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and the Department of Commerce and on latest income distribution figures, covering each community.

The record volume of savings reflects the better earnings that prevailed as well as the cut in Federal taxes.

The amount that a family puts away as savings depends on several factors, but especially on its income.

Those that have less than $2,800 a year available after taxes can save little or nothing. They are barely able to keep going on that amount.

Families with net incomes of $3,000 save about 4.9 percent of it. The proportion that goes into savings rises rapidly as income moves into higher brackets.

Applied to Rowan County, with its net, after-tax income of $4,600 per household, according to the latest figures, the average was 2.9 percent and the amount saved in the year was an estimated $175 per household.

For the entire local population, the total savings came to $75,000.

The Government reports that Americans saved more than $50 billion in 1964, an increase of $2.6 billion over 1963.

This brought the accumulated savings in the United States, over and above debts, beyond the trillion-dollar mark, according to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Rowan County High's surging Vikings rolled to their seventh consecutive victory last Friday night upsetting powerful Mason County 54-30. Held to a 42-42 tie at halftime by the visiting Royals, the Vikings, led by Ben Hicks and Bobby Brown, outscored Mason County 19-9 in the third period and aborted a last-minute rally to preserve the victory. Hicks led all scorers with 35 points, his season's high. He also pulled down 16 rebounds. But he was runner-up in that category as Brown grabbed 25 rebounds in action Friday night as they travel to Mt. Olivet to play Deming, a team over which they hold a 71-70 victory. Coach Cooper's five will have to continue to play at top form in order to preserve their winning streak.

Deming is led by 6-4 Wayne Cooper, a nephew of the Rowan County coach.

Rowan County's next home game is next Tuesday when they host Olive Hill's Comets. Olive Hill won an earlier game between the two played at Olive Hill.

The Vikings' strongest test lies ahead, however. They must travel to St. Agatha and Hitchens later in the month. The Vikings own narrow home-court victories over both of the slightly rated 16th grade teams, who will be all-out for revenge.

Rowan County now has a 10-2 record for the season.

Brecks Downs Ludlow 70-67 Fleming Thrashes Eaglets

Breckinridge Training School broke even in two games this week, winning a narrow 75-67 decision from Ludlow, but suffering an 81-46 thrashing at the hands of Fleming County.

Playing without the services of high-scoring star Danny Cornett much of the Ludlow contest, Coach Paul Warmen's Eaglets led most of the way. Cornett suffered an ankle sprain in the first quarter after tallying 11 points and was unable to return to action until less than three minutes remained.

Breck trailed at the first quarter stop, 75-14, but led 20-11 at the half and 53-31 at the end of the third period.

Roger Wilcox led Breck with 22 points.

Fleming County started with a bang, running up 28 first quarter lead from which Breck never recovered.

The halftime score was 46-18, and the third period ended 63-37.

Cornett topped Breck scoring with 23 points.

Warmer's quintet goes to

- Every year, thousands of farmers lose thousands of dollars by sacrificing good manure, good fertilizer, good land, good equipment, good gasoline to inferior seeds (either home-grown or store-bought).
- Good seeds represent only 1.68% of total production expense on the average farm. Yet, good seeds effect the success and profitability of the other 98.32%—more than any other single purchased production item.
- Drill-box surveys by leading universities show that most home-grown seeds are below the quality needed to produce break-even yields.
- 90% of farmers planting home-grown seeds could substantially increase their net income without any additional work or fixed capital expenditure whatsoever—merely by switching to quality commercial seeds.
- One drill-box survey showed that 116 farmers planting home-grown Red Clover seeds were also planting an average of 470,731 weed seeds per acre!
- In another drill-box survey among 211 farmers, home-grown Korean Lespedeza seeds averaged only 77.20% germination.
- A drill-box survey in a neighboring state revealed that 25% of home-grown small-grain seeds were not the recommended variety the farmer thought he was planting.
- Using quality seeds, like those offered by your Southern States Cooperative Agency, often makes the difference between profit and loss on a farm.
- You almost always pay less for Southern States Quality Seeds than for inferior so-called "bargain-price" seeds—in terms of pure live seeds received (the only kind of seeds that can grow to be harvested).
- You'd actually pay less for Southern States Quality Seeds with 95% germination, 90% purity and $32.00 per cwt. price tag—than for inferior seeds with 85% germination, 95% purity and only $28.00 price tag.
- The low germination and low purity of inferior cut-price seeds forces you to increase the planting

This year, more than ever, it pays to choose your seeds for maximum yields and minimum risk. 1965 is certainly no time to fool around with inferior home-grown or cut-rate seeds. Plant "Seeds That Really Grow." Southern States Quality Seeds. That's the way to consistently make top profits.

See Your Southern States Cooperative Agency NOW

- and to maintain proper plant population. You use more seeds. So where's the bargain?
- Southern States Quality Seeds produce higher yields which result in reduced production cost per bushel or ton harvested.
- You can prove to yourself just how little Quality Seeds really cost in comparison to inferior seeds—by figuring your seed cost by the acre rather than by the pound or bushel. For example, with Alfalfa, the slight difference usually amounts to no more than the price of a bale or two of hay over the entire life of the stand.
- The easiest, cheapest way to control weeds before they start is to plant Southern States Quality Seeds... high in purity, low in weed content.
- Your Experiment Station advises: When planting new improved clover and alfalfa varieties, the only way to be sure of variety, disease resistance and winter-hardiness is to insist upon Certified Seed. (That's why Southern States handles no "alfalfa" seed, no "verified" seed, no imported seed, no blends of seeds.)
- Year after year in 5 states, more farmers plant Southern States Quality Seeds than any other. Their reason? Quality—that produces more-profitable yields. Plus Service that's available 12 months of the year.
- Southern States Quality Seeds are produced and sold for maximum farm profits—not store profits.
- Year after year seed law enforcement people in 5 states report that Southern States consistently heads the list of seedmen for tagging accuracy.
- Every bag of Southern States Quality Seeds carries the famous Blue-Tag Guarantee. Germination, purity and variety are guaranteed as shown on the tag or your money back. Do you know of any home-grown, neighbor-grown or cut-price seeds that give you this protection, this assurance of quality?
- Farmers who demand top germination, disease resistance, winter-hardiness, varietal purity, latest adapted varieties, low weed content, superior yielding ability—farmers who plant the best and harvest the most—choose Southern States Quality Seeds. Why not join them?

Tax Account Numbers Must Be Provided With wide-spread distribution of dividend and interest statements currently being made by banks and corporations, Internal Revenue Service today reminded depositors and investors that they are required by law to furnish their tax account number to the paying organization upon request.

For most individuals the tax account number is their Social Security number. It must be furnished to requesting banks, corporations and other payers whether or not the individual is required by law to furnish the number to the Social Security Division.

Dividend and interest paying organizations are required to report to Internal Revenue all such accounts with annual payments of $10 or more showing the name, address and tax account number of the recipient.

Many paying corporations and savings institutions make it a practice to ask for missing tax account numbers when payments are made or when annual dividends and interest statements are sent to their customers. These paying organizations will be issuing statements and asking for tax account numbers during the coming weeks.

Persons needing to obtain Social Security numbers for tax purposes may apply to any local office of the Internal Revenue Service or Social Security Administration.

Internal Revenue also said that "employers" should be sure to show their correct Social Security number on federal income tax returns, which all their taxable dividends and interest.

PRESENT What with the threat of war seemingly increasing, many people have quit worrying about what will become of the next generation and have set in motion all their savings to become of the present one.

Urge Correct And Timely Tax Returns

Thomas B. Thompson, Ashland Social Security district manager, today urged self-employed people to get their 1964 self-employment tax returns prepared accurately and on time.

The deadline for reporting self-employment income and paying the social security tax to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, Kentucky, is April 15.

Thompson said it is especially important for self-employed persons to complete the Schedule SE at the bottom of page 1 of their Schedule C-3 (or Schedule F-1 if farming is involved). It is from the Schedule SE, he added, that the permanent Social Security record of self-employment earnings is made.
