MEETING OF CITIZENS GIVES ENDORSEMENT TO PLANS OF COLLEGE TO SUPPLY WATER

Council Hesitates To Accept Proposal; Citizens Are Heard

The majority of the citizens of Morehead who attended the special mass meeting called by Mayor Blair for Tuesday evening favorably accepting the proposition made by the Board of Regents of the Morehead State Teachers College for furnishing pure and guaranteed water to the city. While no record was taken of the sentiment, the vast majority of those present indicated by their discussion that they wanted a guaranteed pure and wholesome supply of water for themselves and their children, against which there could be no shadow of suspicion and no remote possibility of contamination.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the question of the advisability of accepting a proposition from the Board of Regents to sell water to the city from their new plant, when completed, at a cost approximately the same as the city at present pays for an inadequate, and at the same time questionable supply of water. Briefly the proposition offered by the Board was to rent from the city at $50.00 per month the reservoirs and pipe line and to in turn sell to the city their supply of water at a rate

THE DAY

The Germans had an expression used for other purposes which they expressed as "Der Tag."

It is safe to say that Sunday in the minds and hearts of Americans is literally and actually "Der Tag," the Day for love; the Day for veneration; the Day for adoration of that greatest institution in the world, your MOTHER.

Nothing we can say will express adequately the depth of feeling, the profundity of love and adoration that we as individuals have for our mothers.

Nothing we can do will repay sufficiently the debt we owe to that greatest of all mothers, our mother.

Nothing we can attain will ever reach the height of the ambitions she held for us.

Nothing we can stoop to will ever cause her to forsake us.

And so on the eve of that Day of Days, "Der Tag," we can do nothing but give you the toast, "Our Mothers."

THAT HOUSE PARTY

A certain house party was announced to be held at Louisville on Derby Eve and the week-end that followed. According to the story given the News in advance it was to be quite the swell affair.

Late advice all us that it was held in the lobby of the Seelbach Hotel, the Morehead party arrived in that city about six o'clock A. M. and piled up on the chairs and lounges in the lobby, to catch that forty winds that is so necessary to beauty and repose.

About ten minutes later, according to reports, one of the young ladies was rudely awakened by a hand on her shoulder. A rough voice informed her that it was time to get up. The house detective, commonly called the house "dick," was on the job and shut eye time was over.

Oh, well, it was almost time to start for the Derby anyway.

Needless to say a good time was had by all present at the Seelbach lobby "House Party."

Tatum, Father And Son, Are In Hospital

Like son like father, only worse was the story told to Mr. A. Tatum at the C. and O. hospital in Huntington when he took his son Charles there last week for medical attention. Charles was suffering from an attack of Arthritis and was taken to Huntington Sunday, where he underwent an operation for removal of his tonsils. While there, with his son the doctor noticed that Mr. Tatum appeared to be suffering and an examination ordered him to bed as well, stating that he was in worse condition than his son. He was suffering from bronchial pneumonia and was given a high temperature. He is still confined to the hospital.

A large class is expected to receive the degree at that time. Every member is urged to attend the meeting at the lodge rooms. The work will be administered by the local team.

Fiscal Court Is Unable To Meet

The Rowan Fiscal Court met Tuesday and adjourned without transacting any business due to the lack of a quorum. The deaths of two magistrates has left the local fiscal court in a peculiar position, as there are now but two members, and they are unable to meet the requirements of the law.

Thus far, while there have been, according to reports, a number of applicants for the office, no appointments have been made by the governor. Rumor has it that one will be made until after the fall elections. If that be true, then there will be no possibility of a fiscal court meeting being held until after that time.

In order to fill the office legally, then, it will be necessary to hold an

"PIED PIPERS" TO GIVE REHEARSAL RECEPTION

A number of guests attended the dress rehearsal of the "Pied Piper" held on Wednesday night at the college auditorium. The rehearsal was followed by a reception given by the members of the cast to the invited guests.

The operetta will be presented tonight at the college auditorium.

Morehead Citizens Owe It To Their Families To Accept Water Proposal

A question is before the citizens of Morehead, a question that is fraught with grave possibilities. That question is, "Do the citizens of Morehead want an adequate supply of pure water that has been treated scientifically to guarantee its purity at a cost that is estimated to be a trifle less than they are paying at present for a supply that has to be inspected?"

There should be no hesitation to answer. With one voice every citizen of Morehead should cry out: YES! We not only want but we best obtain it when the best DEMAND a supply of water that will protect the lives of our children and ourselves. We want only the best, we can obtain at no additional cost, we DEMAND that the best be obtained.

K. E. R. A. GIVES WORK TO $51; SPENDS $1982.

In carrying out the relief program of last week for the county, 553 men were given employment with a pay roll of $1,982.70, according to David Nickell, assignment clerk. During the period 611 men were assigned to work with a pay roll of $2,921.50. However, for various causes 58 of them failed to report for work.

During the same period citizens of the county donated in labor and materials the sum of $15.77. This labor and materials was donated by various individuals for roads passing near their own places.

No new projects have been approved according to Mr. Shouse, County supervisor and engineer.

W. C. Lappin Is Honor Student

Announcement from the University of Indiana, at Bloomington, that W. C. Lappin of this city who has been enrolled in that University for the past year is one of the honor students of the university, is of particular interest to Mr. Lappin's friends in this community. According to the announcement Mr. Lappin has been enrolled in the Indiana University on Foundation Day at the special convocation held in honor of the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the college.

Mr. Lappin who returns to Morehead next September as Director of the Training School, was one of the few students who made straight "A" grades during the first semester of the present school year.

A reception in honor of the honor students and their parents was held following the program.

Methodist Sunday School Wins Race In Final Week Of Effort

The Kentucky International Sunday School drive for attendance the past five weeks closed last Sunday. For the Morehead schools it was the low water mark of all. The Methodist school came first with an attendance of 71. The church of God came second with an attendance of 50. The Baptist church came third with an attendance of 45, while the Christian church came last with an attendance of 37.

The heavy down pour of rain came at the time to spoil the attendance at the Sunday school hour. The churches report a good attendance at the preaching hour.

This drive doubtless did much good and the schools of the churches of the city have made a credible showing in the drives. However, it seems that so high records were reached. Much good was accomplished in encouraging Bible reading and hundreds of chapters were reported read.

Co-operation in any good cause is always desirable and this co-operation on the part of the churches of the city in this state wide drive to get people out to Sunday school will bring its reward.

Next Sunday is Mother's Day and

There should be no hesitation in the attitude of the city council in accepting the offer made by the Board of Regents of the Morehead State Teachers College. Health is not a question of price, and if the price were higher there should still be no hesitation. Since there is little or no difference it should not be questioned.

Health officials are unanimous in saying that our supply at present is not safe. The safe guards are not dependable and there are grave possibilities that it may go bad. Why should the children of Morehead be forced to take a chance, especially when the guarantee costs nothing.

We have always taken the position that the best is none good for the citizens of Morehead, As

TO ATTEND MEETING IN ASHLAND ON K. E. R. A.

Mrs. Myrtle D. Williams, local representative, Dixon Shouse and David Nickell attended a meeting of all area workers at the Henry Clay Hotel in Ashland yesterday afternoon. The meeting was called for the purpose of outlining plans for the future conduct of the work under the new set up being installed for the expenditure of the sums appropriated under the new Work Relief Bill recently passed by Congress and approved by the President.

Furniture Factory May Open Here

Mr. E. H. Meredith Area Engineer of the K. E. R. A. and Mr. G. S. Shannon, Area Supervisor were Morehead visitors on Tuesday of this week, inspecting the work being done and examining proposed, new projects.

Mr. Meredith examined the work plans for the balance of the month and gave his approval to them.

One of the principal reasons for their visit at this time was to examine the old Spoke Factory in West Morehead with a view to recommending it as an area furniture factory. If it is decided to establish such a factory here, workers will be set to work manufacturing furniture such as tables, chairs, beds and so on. The furniture will be distributed to needy families in this area, according to a statement made by relief officers.

Question Arises As To Status Of County System In State Money

The Rowan County Board of Education in their meeting Monday took drastic action by rescinding all of the orders made at their previous meeting held in April covering not only the consolidation program outlined by Mr. Jones, State High School Inspector, but the abolishing of the sub-district trustees as well. The order of Monday's meeting was one of the most sweeping ever offered by the board.

Due to the fact that the new order restores the sub-districts in the county, it was impossible to elect teachers for the coming year at the meeting Monday. The previous order doing away with the sub-districts had removed automatically the trustees and as there are a number, approximately twenty schools for which permits must be obtained from various sections before they can be approved, it was necessary to postpone the election of teachers until County Superintendent Roy E. Corneette can obtain these permits from the State Department.

The consolidation program which has stirred up considerable comment was recommended by State Inspector Jones at the April meeting. Mr. Jones at the time stated that unless the county board agreed to the program offered, the state department would withhold the county's school appropriation. It is since that time that the discussion has grown in various sections of the county, to such an extent that the board decided to rescind their previous orders and set them aside.

It is not known yet just what the effect of the new order will have with the state department at Frankfort. If Mr. Jones was right in his statements in April, it may mean that the county's school finances will be crippled so much as to make them ineffective.

Mr. Corneette has written to State (Continued On Page Five)

UNDERSTAND YOUR TIME

"There are no educated men. There never has and never will be."

Considering the millions of dollars expended on public education in the United States annually, this quotation may lead many persons to conclude that we might as well get appropriations abruptly—with the objective of educated men called so unreachable.

But Glenn Frank, even now tussling with budget problems to keep the University of Wisconsin operating as he believes it should, did not mean to express futility when he gave expression to the words quoted above.

"He meant, rather, to help people to see education with an adjusted point of view—to inspire them to new understandings of its place in life.

"The men we may most justifiably call educated are simply the men who have never stopped in their pursuit of the flying goals of information and insight," amplified the Badger state's university head.

And he went on to point out that "Education suffers from calendaritis."

"Diplomas and degrees carry the subtle suggestion that a man's education is finished at a certain age, and that he can then stop learning and begin living," he explains.

"When all is said and done, learning is a life job. Education is endless. A true education registers men at the cradle and graduates them at the grave."

Here is an important point that Mr. Frank makes:

"In many ways the adult years are better than youth for learning. There are things we learn more effectively when years have enriched us with experience. Research has proved that the best time to learn anything is just before we need to use it. And, finally, there are no better clues to learning than the difficulties that vex our personal professional and public lives.

"An effort to understand one's time makes learning a living adventure.

Understand your time. Is that not the real key to the meaning of education and to progress in dealing with current problems?

With an understanding of human experience as interpreted in historical records, with an eye to the generations that are to follow, we of today must, on a basis of disciplined thinking and common sense, deal definitely with the problems that block our plans in community, state nation and world.

What greater advantage could anyone ask than the privilege of being active in a part of this vital scene?

The opportunity is open to any one, anywhere if he has but the will to spur on his mental processes and participate in neighborhood or community affairs.

GORE ASKS FUND FROM RELIEF BUREAU

The Boston Transcript says Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma suggested today the soldier's bonus be paid with $1,700,000,000 from the $5,500,000,000 work relief funds which the President now has available.

Gore made the suggestion, the Transcript says, with the reservation that he felt "the soldiers, of all people in the country, should set an example in times of economic distress by not insisting upon the payment of an obligation which is not due until 1945."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kasez, Pastor of the Baptist Church.

SUBJECT: THE CHRISTIAN
CHURCH ACTS 2:41-45. 4:1-7, 11-16.
GOLDEN TEXT: "So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and everyone members of another." Rom. 12:5.

If we could clear up the existing confusion on the church question we could remove much of the difficulty in the Christian world today. Here is where it seems most difficult to get men to follow the Scripture.

The Roman Catholics take the view that the Church is a great world institution, a single organization, composed of all the adherents to their faith. Baptists take the view that viable churches of Christ are local bodies, each of which is its own entity, over which no power on earth has any authority, and, theoretically, at least, it is not to go through the Holy Spirit for guidance and power. All other denominations take a position identical with or somewhere between these two extremes.

Naturally this writer believes the latter. It has always been our view that the church is a congregation or group of believers in the Lord Jesus Christ, who have been baptized in obedience to His commands and in symbol of their own changed lives, and who have organized themselves into a church of their own volition. The only spiritual officers are pastors (or bishops, a term identical with pastors) and deacons. For authority we simply refer the reader to the New Testament. If he believes otherwise that is his privilege.

1. The passage from Acts shows us the church working. On the day of Pentecost they who of their own volition receive the Word were baptized, and thus were added to the church. When they continued (see Peter's sermon) and fellowship, steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. Fear of conviction was the effect which this produced on the people. The supernatural power of miracles was evident among them. They were all together, they that believed, and had all things common. Some use this as an argument for socialism. Don't forget that this was not governmental communism; it was a voluntary communism, directed by the Holy Spirit. That would be safe any time, but not a communism by force.

2. The first passage from Ephesians described the unity of the church. Paul enjoins lowliness, meekness, long suffering, and forbearance in love. This will bring about unity.

Just as our spirit controls our body and makes it act with unity of purpose, so does God want the church to be controlled by His Holy Spirit. The church, wherever it is, is His body. His abode in earth is a place to live among men and to operate to their salvation, hence, it must yield itself to Him as He directs it through His Spirit. Thus there will be no difference of opinion fundamentally and that unity will be effective.

3. The passage in verses 11-16 shows us the gifts of the church. He gave to some apostles, to others prophets, to others evangelists, to others pastors and teachers. These are the divine callings in the church. The purpose for them is "the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ, and this work is to bring about the unity of the faith, and the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ. It is the purpose of God that Christians should become like Christ. The church is the place where He provides for their growth. So many never grow beyond the infant stage because they are not in the church where the ministry of the various gifts can reach them. The attitude of church weaklings is the tragedy of the Christian church.

library. His face was flushed and there was a sudden angry look in his eyes, a look almost murderous.

Here I am, he murmured curiously through set jaws.

So I observe, Vance murmured mildly. And you seem rather upset, don't you know.

Wrede's attitude did not relax; and he said nothing.

You saw Miss Lake? Vance asked pleasantly.

The man gave a jerked nod. And since speaking to her, Vance pursued languidly, do you still feel that you have no suggestion to make as to a possible preparator of this double crime.

A shrewd light came into the other's eyes, and he hesitated for several seconds. Then he said:

Not at the moment, but it might be well if you temporarily concentrated your investigation on Mr. Grassi. I have just learned that Archer Coe had agreed to sell him a considerable section of his collection. Wrede hesitated. Then he added: It might interest you to know that my engagement to Miss Lake has been broken.

Most distressing, Vance gave his attention to his cigarette. But what could Archer's willingness to dispose of part of his collection have to do with his death? Even had Archer consented to dispose of certain pieces in the hope, let us say, of securing others, I still can't see what Mr. Grassi would have gained by his death.

Archer may have regretted his decision after he had committed himself.

See your point, Mr. Wrede, Vance interrupted coldly. But what of Brisbane.

Yes-Quite. Vance smiled thoughtfully. A most unfortunate accident. Last fully, I'm sure it was an accident; night was filled with the most amazing accidents. But I shan't keep you from your lunch any longer.

Wrede bowed stiffly.

He had no sooner closed the front door behind him than Vance called Gambale from the hall.

Run upstairs, he said, and without saying anything, find out where Mr. Grassi is.

The butler left the room, returning shortly.

Mr. Grassi, sir, he reported, is in conversation with Miss Lake in her sitting room on third floor.

Kennel Murder Case

BY
S. S. VAN DINE
Copyright by W. H. Wright

But why the substituted vase?
In order that no attention would be attracted by the glaring absence of the original one. If a valuable thing was missing, it might indicate another motive for the crime and that motive would have confused the issue and diverted attention from the person the murderer wanted us to think was behind the crime?

That's all very well, perhaps, Markham returned dubiously; but we did not find the dagger in the other vase.

It was taken out and used to kill Brisbane.

By the murderer of Archer?
Unquestionably. No one else would have known where the dagger was.

But Vance, that theory doesn't fit the facts. The Sergeant found the dagger upstairs in Archer's room, with the door bolted on the inside. And Archer died hours before Brisbane was stabbed. Why, if the same person killed both of them, didn't he replace the dagger in this vase? Archer was already dead, and Brisbane was killed downstairs. Why should the dagger have been in Archer's bedroom chair?

Vance smoked unhappily for some time before replying.
That's what I can't make out, he admitted. Brisbane was not stabbed until hours after Archer.

The murderer could have been in Philadelphia by the time Brisbane was stabbed. He certainly wouldn't have tarried here for several hours after disposing of Archer. The only explanation I have is that the murderer, after killing Archer and placing the dagger in the vase, returned to the house and killed Brisbane, too.

Then, I ask you, the sergeant broke out, how did the dagger get in the bolted room? And who put the bullet through Archer's head, and why.
If I could answer those questions Sergeant, Vance told him, I could solve this whole insane problem.
At this moment Wrede came down the stairs and walked past the library door.
Oh, I say Mr. Wrede, Vance called out. Could you take me to you a moment before you go?
The man turned and came into the COUNTY BOARD (Continued From Page One.) Superintendent James E. Richmond to obtain permission to combine the schools as separate units, and expects to receive an answer within a short time. Employment of all teachers in the county will be held up until the decision of the State Department is received, according to Mr. Cornette.

The following is a copy of the resolution adopted at the previous meeting which were rescinded Monday. 1. That the Bluestone School be re-located to a two-teacher school and that the seventh and eighth grades be transported to Farmers.

2. That the Gayhart and Rodburn Schools be discontinued and that the students of said schools be transported to the Morehead Consolidated School.

3. That the Glasswood School be discontinued and that these pupils be transported to the Haldeman Consolidated School.

4. That the Sharkey School be discontinued and that the lower grades be transported to the Little Brushy School and that the upper grades from both Sharkey and Little Brushy be transported to Morehead.

5. That the Bradley and Open Fork Schools be discontinued and that transportation be provided to Seab Branch for the lower grades and that the upper grades from Bradley Open Fork, and Seas Branch be transported to Elliottville.

6. That the Sand Gap and Minor schools be discontinued and that transportation be provided to Elliottville.

7. That the high school work at Farmers and Elliottville be discontinued and that transportation be provided to the Morehead High School, because neither of these schools meets the requirements set up for an accredited school.

8. That provisions be made for a temporary building in the Perkins district, and that temporary permits be asked for to maintain all other emergency schools in the county.

MASS MEETING (Continued From Page One.) of 10 cents per thousand gallons, which is approximately the present rate. Several citizens addressed the meeting among them E. E. Maggard who spoke against accepting the Board's offer and C. B. Daugherty who backed up Mr. Maggard's statement. Speaking in favor of accepting the offer were Dr. T. A. E. Evans, County Health Officer, Dr. John Howard Payne, President of the Morehead State Teachers' College, W. H. Rice, councilman, D. B. Caudill, member of the Board of Regents and a number of others.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be that since the city was losing the school business anyway, regardless of whether or not they accepted the proposal, there could be no logical argument against accepting a proposal which would cost the city approximately the same as their present system is costing, and at the same time guarantee a supply of water for Morehead that is both ample and pure. Letters from the state inspector stated that there is no way in which to guarantee the purity of the present supply pumped under conditions that exist at present. If, said the citizens we can get a guaranteed supply of water at the same cost as at present, we would certainly say get the pure water.

They apparently took the attitude that nothing is too good for the citizens of Morehead, nothing is more worthy of being protected than the children of this community, especially when they may be protected without serious cost. Dr. T. A. E. Evans made a telling talk on the importance and necessity of furnishing a supply of water to the community about which there can be no question or doubt. Dr. Payne discussed the importance of the school and the citizens working together for the welfare of both. He said the school was interested in the welfare of the town and wished to cooperate to the fullest extent with the city officials in developing the health of the community.

No action was taken by the council after appointing a committee to meet with a committee from the Board of Regents to work out further details of the offer. The council meets in regular session next Tuesday night and it is expected that they will be able to submit definite figures on the plan.

This is a matter that should be of vital interest to every citizen of Morehead, since health depends so largely upon the water supply of the city. There are grave possibilities concerned which should compel the attention of every citizen. Therefore, if you are interested in a supply of pure, wholesome water for your family it is urged that you attend the meeting of the council Tuesday night, May 13.

CITY WATER PROPOSAL (Continued From Page One.) American citizens they are entitled to the best. They have a right to demand the best. Now is the time to get it so far as water is concerned.

The Rowan County News is not interested in fighting anybody's battles but those of justice and right to the citizens. We have no ax to grind and no profit to make by asking that the citizens go into this thing and show the members of the city council that they not only want this thing but that they are unanimous in demanding it. The council wants to know where you know. Now is the time to stand on the matter. Let them

No one has yet announced for the Haldeman-Hogtown District. The absence of the two magistrates is bound to leave the fiscal affairs of the county in considerable of a mixup, unless someone is appointed to serve the interim from now until the elections are held.

ABOUT TOWN (Continued From Page One.) of the Derby Day crowd was the fact that every room available in Louisville for the day was taken, as many of those who went from Morehead learned. Even E. Hogge, racing steward, had difficulty in engaging a room, although his reservations are usually made far in advance.

Judge Hogge wrote to a friend here and said that he had finally succeeded in getting a room of sorts. It was so small, he said that he had to go out in the hall to turn around and had to back into bed. He gave explicit instructions as to how to locate his room. But the instructions were so complicated that the friend finally learned that he was in the Seelbach.

Dale Goes Good In Four Innings; Allows Eight Walks In Game

The Western Hilltoppers bunched their hits in the last three innings of a baseball game here yesterday, to score 10 runs and down Morehead College nine 14 to 7. Although out of, 13 to 12, the Hilltoppers combined 8 hits with 4 walks and 2 errors to score 10 runs in the last three frames and sew up the game.

Dale on the mound for the Independents, although touched for one less hit than Williams, his opponent, was wild throughout the game, issuing 8 walks and was a bit shaky in the pinches. Williams for Western granted 13 hits but kept them so well scattered that Morehead was able to cash in with only 7 runs.

Morehead fielded well and was credited with but two errors while Western committed four. The work of Varney and Nolas in the field was especially good as they snagged numerous long flies to hold down the Hilltoppers' score. Clayton and Varney led the Independents at bat with three safe blows apiece.

Morehead started strong and at the end of the fifth inning led 4 to 2. Western tied the score in the sixth and went on a scoring spree in the seventh and eighth to clinch the game.

Mt. Sterling Upsets Maysville's Hopes

The Maysville "Baby Bears," leaders of the Kentucky State Baseball league, split a doubleheader with Mt. Sterling Sunday at Forest Avenue park, winning the first game 3 to 0 and losing the second 4 to 0.

Owing to bad weather and the resulting uncertainty as to whether or not the game would be played, only a few spectators gathered to watch the contests.

The play was nearly as dull as the weather, only the pitching of Keasley of the Bears and McLenore of Mt. Sterling, who staged a pitcher's battle, providing any bright spots. Keasley struck out 11 men, allowing only four hits and three bases on balls, while the Montgomery county moundman fanned six batters and allowed three hits in the seven innings of the second game.

Maysville's scoring in the initial tilt, three runs on five hits, all were tallied in the fourth inning, with Hubbard's double scoring two of

The Soft Ball League at the Morehead State Teachers College is getting under full swing with two games being played each of three days in the week. The other days are devoted to regular baseball practice by the college team.

Friday the Outlaws under the leadership of Eddie Kufahi were defeated by the Cafeteria team while the History Department team led by Earl Benff took the measure of the Trail Blazers.

Monday afternoon in spite of the lowering weather saw two games played with the History department meeting the Outlaws and the Cafeteria team meeting the Carter county team.

SPORTS PLURGES

Basketball, tournaments, tennis tournaments, and now its a tournament of that greatest of all indoor sports, a ping-pong tournament.

With the passing of the Kentucky Derby on Saturday, the outstanding sport event of the year became history. This year, perhaps more than any other year, Morehead has not only taken an interest in the Derby but attended the turf event in greater numbers than ever.

Parties from this city began leaving for Louisville Friday and were well represented in the social circles according to the Louisville papers.

And now his back to baseball for the balance of the season, Sunday was probably Morehead's lucky day in the Kentucky State League. They did not have to play the doubleheader scheduled with Paris on account of rain. And that was a lucky break for Morehead, since they were without the services of Eads, their star pitcher who was called home by the death of his father-in-law.

Eads was wired that he would be unable to return in time for the game Sunday and the managers were up against it to find a pitcher to take his place on such short notice.

And then Saturday night the rain came and solved all the difficulties for them. They just didn't play.

It was probably fortunate from the viewpoint of the crowd as well, as the bad weather would certainly have run the boys well into the hole, had they played.

Sunday next the Morehead team meets the Stumbers of Flemingsburg for the first time this season. The question is, will the local boys stumble over the Stumbers or will the Stumbers stumble over the Morehead team?

There is little question but that the locals have one of the strongest teams in the league, even though their record shows to the contrary. With the proper kind of pitching the Morehead team will go places.

Neither is there much doubt as to the quality of pitching Eads is capable of doing. But one pitcher cannot make a team more than one swallow makes a drunk or summer. That is apparently where the Morehead team is handicapped.

Eads has proved that he has the stuff. Eads cannot be expected all the games. Even if he could take to go through the season pitching one of all the single games played in the season he can't hold up under the double headers. Morehead is going to have to look for more pitching material if she gets anywhere this season.

Claude Clayton is wondering just why it rained when he had reserved Ladies' Day last Sunday. He is willing however to try it again. The coming Sunday, while not a double header is again to be Ladies' Day at Jayne Stadium. Ladies are cordially invited to attend the baseball game Sunday free of charge.

Flemingsburg plays Morehead here.

Omaha Wins Derby By Good Margin

Like father, like son. Omaha, a gallant son of Gallant Fox, owned by a gallant sportsman, William Woodward of New York, won the sixty-first Kentucky Derby Saturday at Churchill Downs. His daddy won in 1930.

Second to Omaha was Roman Soldier. Whiskalo, in the mud one queen in a pack of eighteen field, was third. Nellie Flag, the horses, and the only filly ever to face the Derby ordeal as a favorite, finished fourth.

Omaha was at odds of 4 to 1. Nellie Flag was 3.80 to 1. Roman Soldier, which received stout support in the late wagering was at 5.20 to 1. Whiskalo, with St. Bernard, Woopier, McCarthy, Bluebeard, Moorpluck, Blackbird, West-on and Turticchio, formed the field which was at 8.40 to 1.

The mutual remuneration on Omaha was $10, $5 and $3.80. Roman Soldier paid $6.40 to refund and $4.20 to show. The field retold on show tickets was $3.40.

EAGLES TO MEET WESLHYAN FRIDAY

Friday of this week the College Independents will meet Kentucky Wesleyan representatives in a basketball game at Winchester. It will be the second of a six game schedule for the local league.

Winchester is not known so far as the college team is concerned. The locals are expected to be in better trim than they were last week when they met Western with only one day's practice under their belts and with spring football just around the corner going away.

The locals have four games on their schedule after the incheater try-out.

Flemingsburg's Stumbo Team To Furnish Feature Here Next Sun; Jay; Ladies Day Scheduled

Van'burg Tie With Leaders Of League

Vanceburg took a twin bill from Flemingsburg on the Flemers' home diamond, winning the first tilt by a score of 4 to 0 and annexing the outright ball for the remainder of the game, with Kit Stumbo, fanning 11 batters.

In the first game the Lewis courtians tallied four runs in first innings on a single, two doubles and a home run. Flemingsburg played airtight ball for the remainder of the game, with Kit Stumbo, fanning 11 batters.

The Flemers found J. Steidel's hurling baffling and were able to get only nine scattered hits.

Vanceburg fell on the offerings of Larry Saylor for two runs in the first inning of the second game and three in the sixth, Flemingsburg tallied two in the first on a single, double and homer and was able to get but three scattered hits in the remaining six innings. Oxley, with four hits in eight trips to the plate, and Queen, with four out of seven, were the batting stars.

Oxley, at shortstop for the losers played a nice defensive game.

Clayton's Colts Primed To Take Game From Flemers Sunday

Flemingsburg with the Stumbo Sunday afternoon for the first encounter-masse will invade Morehead center against Claude Clayton's and Bob Day's hopefuls. The game will be played at Jayne Stadium and will mark the first game of the season for these two teams. It will also give the local fans an opportunity to see for the first time these highly touted, much heralded Stumbers of which the Flemingsburg team appears to be chiefly composed.

The Stumbers have already made history in the leagues, having been responsible for the most of the wins of their team. Every man of the announces that Ladies' Day will be seven is said to be a real ball-player and a key man on the team. There's no denying it, they must be good. They dusted Mt. Sterling laying on the ball and Rhodes is no slouch when it comes to pitching. They made history when they met Owensville.

Clayton predicts that if there is a pitcher in the league that can hold the Stumbo-stick work down, it in nobody but Eads. He expects the game Sunday to demonstrate pretty conclusively. Just how the teams rate and naturally he believes that Morehead will win the argument.

Due to the fact last Sunday's games were postponed, Mr. Clayton held over until this Sunday, when all ladies will be admitted free. He requests that as Sunday is also Mother's Day, everybody who can bring mother along.

Laughing Around the World

The Custom of the Country

By IRVIN S. COBB

I CAN remember when, in one of the mountain counties of Kentucky there was only one sewing machine and not a single cooking stove. The houses were primitive things actually were. It may not have been so, but it was at any rate it was an illustration, even though an exaggerated one, of a prevalent condition.

There was a narrow-gauge, jerk-water road which skirted through the knobs about the feet of the mountains. One day the train—there was only one train a day, each day—was laboring slowly up grade when the engineer halted his locomotive to let a cavalcade cross the track ahead of him. First there stroked past a pack of hounds, all baying merrily. Behind the dogs followed men, on horseback and mule-back, rattling top speed and clearing the hunt on with shrill whoops and blasts from a horn. The troupe had vanished into the deep timber bordering the right-of-way when a Northern man, riding in the shabby day-coach addressed a fellow-passenger who was a native.

"Sheriff's posse, I suppose?" he said.

"Nope," said the mountaineer.

"Perhaps your people are seeking to brach somebody?" suggested the Northerner.

"No, 'tain't that neither.

"Then may I ask what is the purpose—the intent—of this chase?"

"Well, mister," said the native, "It's like this: Judge Sim High-runnin' him down to put pants on him."

KENNARDS ORGANIZE SAFETY LEAGUE

Under the banner of Courtesy, Caution, Cooperation, the children between the ages of 6 and 16 are taking the matter of their own and civic safety into their own hands. The three C's motto is the underlying principal of the 3-IN-ONE SAFETY LEAGUE being formed here by N. E. Kennard Hwd. Co. to teach children the safe technique of riding bicycles, where and how to roller skate and general traffic rules.

Cooperating with a national movement for the greater protection of children who ride bicycles and roller skate, Mr. Helwig has announced that all children between these ages will be admitted to the League by making application "to him. They will be given a safety test on the subject of proper bicycle riding and rules of the road and if they qualify will be admitted to the club and given a pin bearing the official emblem together with the book of safety Suggestions. The movement has the sponsorship of the outstanding traffic authorities in the county as well as all organizations interested in child welfare. Parents are urged to see that children join the League which will work toward their protection and which will endeavor to secure special paths and places where they can ride with the maximum amount of safety.

BOYS! GIRLS!

If you roller-skate or ride a bike, join the 3-IN-ONE SAFETY LEAGUE and wear this emblem. Costs nothing! Ask us for free Safety Test and membership blank.

GARDEN PESTS

Before long, Kentucky's gardeners will be in the thick of a fight with the annual host of insects; in fact, their vanguard is already here. All garden insects fall into two classes, those that consume the tissues of the vegetable plants and those that draw their sap. Because of this, the philosophy of insect control is a simple affair, at least theoretically, for the plant material can be poisoned, provided the poison is put where they can get it, and corroding or "gassing" sprays or the sap-suckers can be destroyed by dusts, provided they are hit. As with many philosophies, this one dealing with insect control is beset with difficulties. One is that the tenderness of the foliage of some of the vegetables makes necessary the choice of mild but effective materials. Another is that some necularity or other in the life history of the insect may make special timing of this application necessary. Still another, particularly with regard to poison-application, is that the well-being of the persons who are to use the vegetables must be safeguarded.

Briefly, any chewing insect that attacks any vegetable, except beans, can be stopped by dusting or spraying with the common insecticide, arsenate of lead. Arsenical applications must cease, however, and rotenone used instead, once the formation of food parts of those vegetables whose tops are used for food, starts. On greens and lettuce, no arsenical should ever be used, but only rotenone.

On beans, the exception, special sprays or dusts should be applied, whose bases are calcium or lead arsenate, safe on tender foliage. In contrast with the treatment for all other leaf-eaters, bean beetle dusts or sprays must be applied to the under surfaces of the beans, with special apparatus.

Arsenicals are not effective against the sap sucking insects because no surface tissue is consumed as they bore into the deeper plant parts. This class of insects, the lice and the younger stages of the stink bugs and the Harlequin cabbage bug, must be "gassed" or corroded by sprays or dusts containing tobacco or, in moderation, kerosene in the form of emulsion. The presence of sucking insects is always disclosed by sucking or "blistering" or downward curling of the leaves.

In all spraying or dusting, timeliness is important. Control for the chewing insects should be begun when the first egg-clusters are seen; that for the sucking insects, when the first sign of their presence becomes apparent.

In the foregoing, the general principles of insect control are outlined; for detailed information, write the State Entomologist, College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky.

Control Cannibalism. Cannibalism is usually the result of crowding and hunger. Give the chicks plenty of range and space at the feeders. Cockerels grow faster and may keep the pullets from the feed. Therefore, separate the cockerels from the pullets as early as possible.

Balanced meals should contain two vegetables daily, in addition to potatoes. Green leafy vegetables should be served at least three times a week, a green or yellow vegetable daily, and tomatoes two or three times a week.

Prevent Egg Nests. May is the best month to preserve eggs for the fall and winter. Gather eggs twice daily, and place them in a cool place. Water glass is the best preservative, used in a crock or water tight wooden bucket.

Western Wins Seasons Opener From Downmen Pitching Is Downfall Of Eagles In First

Dale Goes Good in Four Innings; Allows Eight Walks in Game

The Western Hilltoppers bunched their hits in the last three innings of a baseball game here yesterday, to score 10 runs and down Morehead College nine to 7. Although outfield, 13 to 12, the Hilltoppers combined 8 hits with 4 walks and 2 errors to score 10 runs in the last three frames and sew up the game.

Dale on the mound for the Independents, although touched for one less hit than Williams, his opponent, was well throughout the game, issuing 8 walks and was a bit shaky in the pinches. Williams for Western granted 13 hits but kept them so well scattered that Morehead was able to cash in with only 7 runs.

Morehead fielded well and was credited with but two errors while Western committed four. The work of Varney and Nolan in the field was especially good as they snagged numerous long flies to hold down the Hilltoppers' score. Clayton and Varney led the Independents at bat with three safe blows apiece.

Morehead started strong and at the end of the fifth inning led 4 to 2. Western tied the score in the sixth and went on a scoring spree in the seventh and eighth to clinch the game.

Mt. Sterling Upsets Maysville's Hopes

The Maysville "Baby Bears," leaders of the Kentucky State Baseball league, split a doubleheader with Mt. Sterling Sunday at Forest Avenue park, winning the first game 3 to 0 and losing the second 4 to 0.

Owing to bad weather and the resulting uncertainty as to whether or not the game would be played, only a few spectators gathered to watch the contests.

The play was nearly as dull as the weather, only the pitching of Keatley of the Bears and McElmore of Mt. Sterling, who staged a pitchers battle, providing any bright spots. Keatley struck out 11 men, allowing only four hits and three bases on balls, while the Montgomery county moundman fanned six batters and allowed three hits in the seven innings of the second game.

Maysville's scoring in the initial tilt, three runs on five hits, were tallied in the fourth inning, with Hubbard's double scoring two of

SPORTS SPLURGES

Basketball tournaments, tennis tournaments, and now it's a tournament of that greatest of all indoor sports, a ping-pong tournament.

With the passing of the Kentucky Derby on Saturday, the outstanding sport event of the year became history. This year, perhaps more than any other year, Morehead has not only taken an interest in the Derby but attended the turf event in greater numbers than ever.

Parties from this city began leaving for Louisville Friday and were well represented in the social circles according to the Louisville papers.

And now its back to baseball for the balance of the season. Sunday was probably Morehead's lucky day in the Kentucky State League. They did not have to play the doubleheader scheduled with Paris on account of rain. And that was a lucky break for Morehead, since they were without the services of Eads, their star pitcher who was called home by the death of his father-in-law. Eades wired that he would be unable to return in time for the game Sunday and the managers were up against it to find a pitcher to take his place on such short notice.

And then Saturday night the rain came and solved all the difficulties for them. They just didn't play.

It was probably fortunate from the viewpoint of the crowd as well, as the bad weather would certainly have run the boys well into the hole, had they played.

Sunday next the Morehead team meets the Stumbers of Flemingsburg for the first time this season. The question is, will the local boys stumble over the Stumbers or will the Stumbers stumble over the Morehead team?

There is little question but that the locals have one of the strongest teams in the league, even though their records shows two lost to one won. With the proper kind of pitching the Morehead team will go places.

Neither is there much doubt as to the quality of pitching Eades is able to serve up. But one pitcher cannot make a team more than one throw makes a drunk or summer.

That is apparently where the Morehead team is handicapped. Eades has proved that he has the stuff. Eades cannot be expected all the games. Even if he could take to go through the season pitching cure of all the single games played in the season he can't hold up under double headers. Morehead is going to have to look for more pitching material if he gets anywhere this season.

Claude Clayton is wondering just why it rained when he had advertised Ladies' Day last Sunday. He is willing however to try it again. The coming Sunday, while not a double header is again to be Ladies Day at Jayne Stadium. Ladies are cordially invited to attend the baseball game Sunday free of charge. Flemingsburg plays Morehead here.

The college seems to be under the same handicap as the league team. Shortage of pitchers. Dale who pitched the game for the college against Western Friday last week, opened up well but was unable to stand up under the clouting the visitors gave him. For about five innings he delivered the goods, then his arm weakened and he was finally driven from the mound. Eight walks is enough to lose almost any ball game and couples with twelve hits, it's a cinch.

Dale shows evidence of having

Omaha Wins Derby By Good Margin

Like father, like son. Omaha, a gallant son of Gallant Fox, owned by a gallant sportsman, William Woodward of New York, was the sixty-first Kentucky Derby Saturday at Churchill Downs. His daddy won in 1930.

Second to Omaha was Roman Soldier. Whiskulo, in the muelon queen in a pack of eighteen field, was the late wagering was at $29 to 1. Whiskulo, with St. Bernard; Whopper, McCarthy, Bluebeard, Morluck, Blackbird, West-on and Tutti-rucio, formed the field which was at $4.40 to 1.

The mutual remuneration on Omaha was $10, $5 and $3.80. Roman Soldier paid $5.40 to place and $4.20 to show. The field refund on show tickets was $3.40.

Winchester is not known so far as the college team is concerned. The locals are expected to be in better trim than they were last week when they met Western with only one day's practice under their belts and with spring football just around the corner going away.

EAGLES TO MEET WESLHYAN FRIDAY

Friday of this week the College Independents will meet Kentucky Wesleyan representatives in a baseencounter at Winchester. It will be the second of a six game schedule for the local loage.

Van'burg Tie With Leaders Of League

Van'burg took a twin bill from Flemingsburg on the Flemers' home diamond, winning the first tilt by a score of 4 to 0 and annexing the second 5 to 2. Cold wind and a drizzling rain held the attendance low.

In the first game the Lewis couple tallied four runs in first innings on a single, two doubles and a home run. Flemingsburg played airtight ball for the remainder of the game, with Kit Stumbo, fanning 11 batters.

The Flemers found J. Steidel's hurling baffling and were able to get only nine scattered hits.

Van'burg fell on the offerings of Lefty Taylor for two runs in the first inning of the second game and three in the sixth. Flemingsburg tallied two in the first on a single, double and homer and was able to get but three scattered hits in the remaining six innings. Oxley, with four hits in eight trips to the plate, and Queen, with four out of seven, were the batting stars.

Oxley, at shortstop for the losers played a nice defensive game.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. It builds up certain functional parts of the body and helps women to get back to good health.

Cardui predicts that if there is a pitcher in the league that can hold the Stumbo stick work down, it is "moby" but Eads. He expects the game Sunday to demonstrate pretty conclusively just how the teams rate and naturally he believes that Morehead will win the argument.

Due to the fact last Sunday's games were postponed, Mr. Clayton held over until this Sunday, when all ladies will be admitted free. He requests that as Sunday is also Mother's Day, everybody who can bring mother along.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

The Custom of the Country By IRVIN S. COBB

I CAN remember when, in one of the mountain counties of Kentucky there was only one sewing machine and not a single cooking stove. Things have changed these days. The railroad, bringing with it better civilization and its by-products, have crept up through the gaps; the feather beds, the schoolhouses have sprung up; there are live newspapers, colleges even, and modern systems of living.

There was a narrow-gauge, jerk-water road which skirted through the knobs about the feet of the mountains. One day the train—there was only one train a day, each day—was laboring slowly up-grade when the engineer halted his locomotive to let a cavalcade cross the track ahead of him. First there straggled past a pack of hounds, all baying merrily. Behind the dogs followed men, on horseback and mule-back, galloping at top speed and cheering the hunt on with shrill whoops and yells from a horn. The troupe had vanished into the deep timber bordering the right-of-way when a Northern man, riding in the shabby day-coach addressed a fellow-passenger who was a native.

"Sheriff's posse, I suppose?" he said. "None," said the mountaineer. "Perhaps your people are seeking to lynch somebody?" suggested the Northerner. "No, 'tain't that neither. When may I ask what is the purpose—the intent—of this chase?" "Well, mister," said the native, "it's like this: Judge Sim High-tower's oldest boy, Simmy Junior, comes of age today and he're tummin' him down to put pants on him."

Legion Sponsors Mother's Program

"Devotion to mutual helpfulness" is a pledge of the American Legion. If the American Legion can be the agent for a better future America, it will have served a great purpose. We are today launched upon a great work to give the future citizens of this country a little better chance for success and happiness than they have enjoyed in the past and to insure more of the children of tomorrow a mother's love than now enjoy that privilege.

During the past years there have been thousands of mothers in this country sacrificing their lives needlessly in bringing a new life into the world. This has been due principally to ignorance or lack of knowledge. This knowledge, must be brought to expectant parents and to those who are in contact with those parents. We expect to see that such information goes into every village, town and city in the nation. Without detracting from the sentimental aspect of "Mother's Day," we ask that a practical note be added. Let us all devote a portion of the day to the work of making you a parent or for mothers, a better mother.
