AUTOMOBILE CRASH IS FATAL TO TWO MOREHEAD STUDENTS; MAN IS HELD ON GREENUP CHARGE

Hazel Mae Francis, Thorfin Spears, Die As Result Of Accident.

Two students of the Morehead State Teachers College were killed one of them instantly, another was seriously injured and five other persons suffered more or less serious injuries in what was described as the worst wreck that has ever occurred on the highway between Ashland and Greenup, Saturday night when the car driven by Thorfin Spears, Morehead student, was literally demolished by a car belonging to Forest Muttters of Ashland, and driven by Leonard Newell.

The dead were: Thorfin Spears, 25, Hunnewell, K. Hazel Mae Francis, 18, of Owingsville.

The injured were: Frances Abrams, Ashland, Roscoe Waddell of Hays, Forest Muttters, Ashland, Leonard Newell, Ashland, Donald Mullins, Ashland. The accident occurred Saturday evening when the Chevrolet roadster driven by Spears in which the students from Morehead were crushed by the Hummobile owned by Muttters and driven by Newell. The students were visiting friends in Ashland at the time.

DON'T BREAK THE CHAIN

We thought we were being original and conceiving a brilliant idea, when the Chain Letter wave began to strike Morehead. But, just to prove that there is nothing new under the sun, we found that some little sheet in Middleboro, Ky. had beat us to it and was already advertising their wares.

Our idea was that when the wave struck Morehead and we had to we would print up several thousand from letters and sell them to the unsuspecting for a small sum, five to each victim. By doing that we would save them considerable work in writing and at the same time we would be capitalizing on the scheme in a perfectly legal method without any infringement of the postal laws, as we had no intention of mailing any letters. We figured that if the wave struck here as hard as it has elsewhere we could clean up a small fortune, even easier than if we answered the many chain letters we received. We had visions of wealth pouring in and of vacations in Florida California and all points west.

But, alas! we learned that someone had again beat us to it and we are forced to tell our readers and prospective customers that they'll have to write their own chain letters. And thus another great scheme to curtail the wealth of the world goes glimmering.

SENTIMENTAL — BOSHI!

Somebody, evidently in his dotage or at least nearing the age of senility wrote a few songs several years ago, all about the "Whip-Poor-Will Sings" and "When the Whip-Poor-Will is singing in the Wild-wood" or some such silly title.

City Council Asks Commission Aid

At the regular meeting of the city council held at the city hall on Tuesday night, the council heard the appeal of a committee of citizens from the west part of Morehead who asked that the council petition the State Highway Commission for funds to construct a highway leading into Morehead, widen the street and change the course of the branch according to plans previously submitted. The citizens were represented by H. C. Williams, Judge J. W. Riley, S. M. Bradley and D. C. Caullill.

The council accepted the plea of the citizens and are drawing up a set of resolutions to forward to the Highway Commission. A committee of citizens composed of the above named men was appointed to secure the necessary rights-of-way to alter the course of the branch so that it will carry the surplus waters. The council agreed that in case this committee were unable to secure the rights-of-way, they would instruct the city attorney to file condemnation proceedings against those who fail to cooperate.

WHAT ABOUT THAT ANNUAL CLEAN-UP?

For the past several years there has been an annual "Clean Up" Proclamation issued by the Mayor of the city, setting aside one week in May as Clean Up week. We have been wondering where the proclamation is this year. This annual proclamation and effort on the part of the city council is one of the worth while efforts of civic pride. Houses cleaned and painted, back yards swept of the litter that accumulate during the winter months, fences repaired, other buildings gone over and put in condition, those are all the things that are to be done. It is not too late to issue such a proclamation and it is decidedly worth the effort. And incidentally it might be well to include in that proclamation a moral cleanup beginning with the Triplett Creek boundary and sweeping across certain sections of Railroad Street. Seriously, there is much room for improvement in the care of most of the residence sections of the city. Weeds cut, rubbish raked up, lawns mowed, flowers planted, these things are all decidedly important in developing that civic pride that Morehead should have. It might be added that the members of the Rowan County Woman's Club met with the city council and that May 1 was settled upon as "Clean Up" Day, but nothing further has been heard of it.

CAN'T BLIND CHILDREN

We sometimes overlook the fact that what the children learn in the school room is only a part of their education. Recently the board of education in a middle western industrial city appointed a committee to make a survey of the citizenship training that was being given in the city's schools. The committee presently reported that the courses were making a fine showing, except for the fact that the children were learning too much about their city outside of school. In class the children were taught all about the principals of government, how it is supposed to operate, what the ideals of democracy are. Then in their homes and through other contacts they were finding out that things don't always work that way. They were discovering that the practices in democratic government don't always jibe with the theories. The result was that they were concluding that their school room training was all very pretty, but that it didn't mean much. A child who hears his parents boasting about some evasion of the law, who sees teachers going unpaid while political gangs are loading up the public payrolls preparatory to election day, who sees criminals escaping justice, is receiving a liberal education in government that can't be found in the school books. No wonder if he begins to think that ideals don't mean much in government. The antidote, of course, is a different attitude on the part of his parents and citizens generally. We can put all the fine theories we like into the school books, but they won't have much effect unless we ourselves show a disposition to follow them. We can't achieve perfection over night, but by our example we inspire our children with a sincere feeling that political virtue is worth while we will be doing much toward obtaining it. If we demonstrate disregard for it we cannot complain if they follow our teaching rather than that of the school books.

The Citizens Committee on Public School Finance shows that it costs $100 to keep a boy in school a year and $300 to keep him in prison.

What a man can't understand is why the house is any cleaner with the brockace moved where the davenport used to be. The beneficiaries of the status quo always find the causes of social ills in nature rather than in the constitution of society.

Boys who have finished their studies and have been fermenting in idleness are the tinder lying around this state.

Every boy who has attained the age of 12 or more, will discover that Dad and Mother will be a lot easier to get along with this summer if he will keep the lawn mowed and free from rubbish; will do his best to raise a prize garden and flower bed and be generally useful around the house. He will discover that he will have plenty of spending money, plenty of time off for fishing and swimming. And who knows—it might be so arranged that he can go on that camping trip where he can cook his own meals over an open fireplace?

KENTUCKY 6 EROSION CAMPS

Allocation of 505 Civilian Conservation Corps camps among the states for work in the Government campaign against soil erosion by wind and rain was announced today by emergency director Robert Fechner.

Six camps were allocated to Kentucky in McCracken, Logan, Ohio, Shelby Boone and Union Counties, and six to Indiana in Tippecanoe, Montgomery, Franklin, Scott, Posey and Lawrence Counties.

PAPOOSE SKULL FOUID

A few fragments of skull bones of an Indian papoose of long ago were dug up on Still Athletic Field at the University of Kentucky here by relief workers ditching the field for drainage purposes. The remains lay in a little stone crypt buried about three feet below the surface. They created some excitement at first among the workers, until Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, head of the University zoology department and an authority on archaeological work, pronounced them positively as the fragmentary remains of an Indian child some 4 years old.

CHAIN LETTER RACKETEERS

The chain letter to fortune, already clogged by thousands of thousands of amateurs, was greeted to slippery proportions tonight by gamblers, burglars, and Uncle Sam's agents. The professionals were after the amateurs to take them for a trimming. The agents were after evidence against both. But the chain craze spread like dandelions in spring. No sooner did disillusionment dig it out of Springfield Mo., than it swept over St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Fayetteville Ark, and elsewhere. Invading promoters made a quick haul at Pittsburg, Kan., before police got the order from Mayor Philip Schmidt, a minister, to clean out those racketeers.

A move is on file to have the farmers, who are owners of the land on Licking River, to meet at farmers in Rowan County, on June 15, the purpose of asking congress to appropriate the money necessary to straighten Licking River from the mouth of Cow Creek to the Mason Garner farm below Moore's Ferry, a distance of about 3 miles, which would be worth thousands of dollars to the farmers of Bath and Rowan County.

ROOSEVELT INSISTS N. R. A. GET TWO YEARS

Speaking almost directly into the face of a decision by Senate Democrats to lengthen the Blue Eagle's life by only ten months, President Roosevelt today reiterated his preference for a two year extension of N. R. A.

Reserving full comment until the Senate had acted, the Chief Executive, nevertheless, let it be known at his press conference that, in his opinion, the shorter extension would not permit a revision of N. R. A. needed to clarify several uncertain points.

Last Friday John Howard Payne was officially inaugurated president of the Morehead State Teachers College.

The Missionary Society of the Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Hartley Battson Thursday night. Mrs. Moran Clayton and Mrs. Battson were hostesses.

CAPACITY CROWD SEES OPERETTA Waters And Nickell Star In Roles Of Dream Lady And Hamelin Piper.

"The Pied Piper of Hamelin", an operatic arrangement of the classic poem by Robert Browning, was presented in the College auditorium, Thursday evening before a capacity house. H. H. Horton, head of the department of music, conducted and directed the production. The troupe was sung by Hamel Blair, baritone. The augmented Foster Choral Club took the part of the citizens of Hamelin and sang the introduction and opening chorus. In the first scene, Harold Blair, an outspoken townsman, asks the mayor, Harold Blair, leave to do something about the rats which are the scourge of the town. The mayor confesses that he knows of nothing to do. Suddenly the Pied Piper, John Paul Nickell, senior, appears and offers to rid the town of rats for 1,000 nickels. The mayor and his corporation, Davis Stephens, Erail Ward, Kenneth Ward and Howard Moore, agree to his proposal. The piper plays and the rats follow him and perish in the river. When the piper asks for his reward he is laughed at by the citizens. He plays another tune and the children of the town, enacted by the Junior High School glee club, follow him out of the town. One little lame boy, Tommy Powers, soprano, is left behind. The next scene is in the Mystic Mountain, where the children are being entertained by the dream lady, Sarah Adeline Waters, soprano. Tops, juggling jacks and dolls, enacted by the children of the third and fourth grades of the training school, cavort before them. Ruth Fair dances as the "Night Wind." In the last scene the citizens of Hamelin are lamenting the fact that their children are gone. Again the piper appears and when the lame boy pleads for the return of the children, he blows the magic melody and the children return. The final, "Come All Ye Merry People", was sung by the entire ensemble. The College orchestra played the accompaniment, arranged by Joseph W. Clokey. Philip Runkel designed and executed the scenery and served as stage technician.

(Continued From Page One) will be heard at that time. Luncheon and the semi-annual business meeting have been set for 12:00 in the College cafeteria. Incoming grads will register at 10:30 Wednesday morning in the gymnasium. According to the secretary of the Alumni Association, Mary Alice Calvert, invitations to be in attendance have been extended to every graduate of the College. Latest reports are that a majority of the former students will make the annual visit to the campus. As more than 60 names were added to the role of the association after the graduations of June and August last year, a larger number is expected to participate in the Alumni Day functions this year than ever before.

AUTOMOBILE CRASH

(Continued From Page One) and a number of other injuries. Miss Abrams, also a student in college here suffered a concussion of the brain and it was feared internal injuries. However her condition at present is said to be greatly improved.

The injured were taken to a hospital in Ashland where Miss Francis died. The remains were taken to Owensville Sunday evening.

Matters was arrested Monday charged with voluntary manslaughter in the death of Miss Francis. No charge was preferred concerning the death of Spears. Matters was the only occupant of the Chevrolet roadster to escape with minor injuries, they were driving slowly along the highway toward Ashland, when they observed the Hummobile coming toward them apparently driven by a drunken driver. The Hum was heading west across the road and Spears was driving the Chevrolet pulled off toward the side and came almost to a stop. As he did that, the death car swerved directly toward them and crashed into the roadster, tearing its entire side away and hurling its occupants to the road. The Chevrolet was completely demolished. The Hummobile burst into flames and was destroyed. Waddell stated that he believed the occupants of the Hummobile were drunk, judging by the way they drove.

Both Miss Francis and Miss Abrams had checked out of the dormitories and were visiting in Ashland with the permission of their parents, at the Abrams home.

ABOUT TOWN

(Continued From Page One) And a lot of poor saps like ourselves who had never heard a whip-poor-will went around making the night and day blunders with the melody.

Since that time we have ceased to see the sentiment in the annoying tones of the so called bird. Anybody who can listen to the "animal" for hours at a time as we are forced to listen, and come out still dripping sentimentality for the thing, is just plain "Nerts". And if he isn't and listens to it much longer, he will soon be.

Le car opinion there is nothing quite so nerve destroying as the whip-poor-will's monotonous oft-repeated, shrill and discordant cry. Hour after hour he, she, it or they sit in the tree tops or wherever they sit and whistle. "Whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will" over and over and over and on and on and on. You pound your pillow, you toss and still that damnable bird drums on. And then they sing songs about them. Our only wish is that the imbeciles who wrote the songs were forced to listen to them a few nights in Morehead. Within a short time they would be ready to be put where they belong and where they could no longer write songs about things they have never heard.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kazee, Pastor of the Baptist Church.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
SUBJECT: The Meaning of Baptism, Matt. 28:19, 20; Acts 8:26-39.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost," Matt. 28:19.

The lesson before us is of course another on which there is much difference of opinion. Our treatment will be as near the New Testament meaning as we are able to give.

He who commanded his followers to make disciples of all nations taught and commanded that they should also baptize these disciples. It was not mere idle filling which Jesus placed in this command; it was to the effect that they who entered into the blessed experience of death and resurrection by faith in Him were to declare it to the world in His own chosen symbol.

The only reason for contending for the mode of baptism is that a symbol must be kept accurately original to make sure that its message is not changed. The world of scholarship has agreed that the word in the Greek, "Baptizo" means nothing else but to immerse or plunge. It is not on the original meaning of the word that there is so much disagreement, but in that some claim it is not important and that other modes may be substituted for immersion.

Our belief is that Jesus meant for the symbol to teach the all important truth about Himself—that He died for all men to pay the penalty for their sins, and that He arose from death as conqueror that He might give them life over which death has no power. That is the gospel of Christ, and that is what He wanted declared in the act of baptism. Nothing short of a burial can indicate death, nothing short of coming up out of the water can picture a resurrection.

To be sure that this is in agreement with the teachings of the Scriptures let us look at the example in Acts. Philip has been directed by the Holy Spirit to join himself to the chariot of a certain Ethiopian who is traveling from Jerusalem down to his home. After preaching Jesus to the traveler, doubtless explaining His death and resurrection, and telling the Ethiopian how he may share in this death and resurrection by faith in Jesus as the Son of God, the traveler notices a pool of water and instantly halts the chariot. "What doth hinder me to be baptized?" he asks, "If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest," answered Philip. The traveler makes His confession of faith. Then, and not until then, does Philip take him down into the water "both Philip and the eunuch"; "and he baptized him." It matters not what speculations may be made here, the fact that the record says "baptized" is proof enough that he was "buried in baptism" just as Paul describes it later. The word means nothing else. Here then, was the picture of the death and resurrection of Jesus, in which the Ethiopian visibly, and though Jesus' own chosen symbol, confessed his faith in the sufficiency of the work of Christ for him.

Whenever a soul enters into that Faith Jesus wants a visible expression that: He may be confessed before men. His own unchangeable symbol of baptism, by which He himself visibly pictured His death and resurrection in the river Jordan, is that into which He commands us to lead every disciple who would confess faith in Him.

Kennel Murder Case

BY
S. S. VAN DINE
Copyright by W. H. Wreant

Vance gave a faint satisfied smile And now Gamble, will you ask Mr. Grassi to come here.

Gamble went out and Vance turned to Markham.

I suspected from Wrede's manner that he had found his Latin rival with the young woman. There was probably a most painful scene, and poor Wrede was given his conge. It's very sad. He doesn't like Grassi—no, at all like him. But I doubt if he really suspects him of killing Archer—though I'm sure Wrede doesn't put it beyond his.

Then why the insinuations?

More subtly, Markham, Wrede thinks that, if we turn our attention to Grassi, we will push past the straw man, so to speak, and find somebody else.

Whom, in the name of heaven?

Miss Lake, of course. Wrede has become vindictive and bitter. My asking him about Miss Lake as a possible suspect put ideas in his head, he knows of the auto autogram (that has always existed between her and Archer. Therefore, when he was humiliated a moment ago in front of Grassi, he turned her over to us, as it were, with Grassi as a smoke screen.

Grassi entered the library.

I understand, sir, Vance addressed him, that Mr. Archer Coe had consented to sell you certain items from his collection.

Yes, I informed Mr. Wrede of the fact a moment ago. My reason for so doing was that Mr. Wrede practically ordered me out of the house on the strength of his engagement to Miss Lake. I presume—and I informed him that my business here was not complete inasmuch as a considerable part of Mr. Coe's collection belonged technically to me. It was necessary for me to remain to arrange for packing and shipment.

And what did Miss Lake say?

The Italian seemed loath to answer, but at length he said:

Miss Lake broke off her engagement with Mr. Wrede. And then she asked him to leave the house and remain away.

I saw, Mr. Grassi, Vance spoke suddenly, do you think that Miss Lake killed her uncle?

The Italian stared at Vance.

—I—really, sir, I—

Thanks awfully for the effort, Vance remarked, I can quite understand your feelings. But I should like to know why you didn't tell us before of Mr. Coe's agreement to dispose of some of his collection to you. Was the agreement written or verbal.

Written, the man reached in his pocket and handed Vance a folded paper. At my request Mr. Coe wrote that letter to me yesterday, he explained. I wished to cable the news to Milan.

Signor Eduardo Grassi, Dear Sir,

In confirmation of our recent conversation, I hereby agree to sell to you, as a representative of the Museum of Antiquities at Milan, the following pieces in my private collection.

Then came a detailed list of forty or fifty items, including many of Archer Coe's most precious and valuable specimens of Chinese art. The date at the head of the document was October 19.

Vance put the letter in his pocket. We shall keep this for the present, he told Grassi. It will be perfectly safe, and it will be returned to you when the authorities may wish to refer to it.

Grassi bowed in polite acquiescence. And now, Vance concluded, I shall again ask you to wait in your own quarters until we send for you. Grassi went out, with cautious relief.

Sergeant, Vance said, could you get me a sheet of that note paper on Archer Coe's desk? And his "margin pen"?

After an inspection Vance said: It is certainly Coe's note paper; and Archer's pen wrote the letter; most significant.

He returned Grassi's letter to his pocket, and went toward the front door. Cheer up, old dear, he exhorted Markham, it's not nearly so black as it seems. The clouds are beginning to disperse. We have all the data now and it's simply a matter of arranging them and interpreting them correctly.

I wish I could feel so optimistic, grumbled Markham, following Vance into the vestibule.

Vance halted, and turning, regarded the perplexed Heath.

The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they compare their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. I washed a good Syrup of Black-Draught for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just what I need."

WITH OR WITHOUT DELUXE EQUIPMENT

A FORD is always a FORD V-8

EVERY FORD CAR HAS:

- the same, economical, 85 horsepower V-8 engine.
- the same, new, Comfort-engineered Chassis.
- 6.00x16" air-balloon tires and Safety Glass all round at no extra cost.

IMPORTANT FORD FEATURES COMMON TO ALL BODY TYPES

- 35 horsepower, V-type, 8 cylinder engine with aluminum cylinder heads and dual, downdraft carburetor.
- 123-inch springbase for riding ease on a 112-inch chassis for handling ease.
- Torque-tube Drive.
- Front seat 50 1/2" wide... Ample luggage space in all models at no extra cost.
- Welded steel-spoke wheels, 4" rim.
- All-steel body welded into one piece.
- Big, positive brakes with 12" drums and more braking surface per pound of car weight than any other car under $1995.
- 4 double acting hydraulic shock absorbers.
- 17 plate battery.
- 6.00x16" air-balloon tires.
- Safety Glass all round.

IT is common practice, nowadays, to find two quite different automobiles sold under the same name. This difference will run all the way from a difference in horsepower, chassis and body design to a difference in the number of cylinders in the engine.

No such difference exists between one Ford V-8 and another. Ford builds only one size of automobile with the same V-8 engine on the same 112-inch chassis. The springbase of all Ford cars is 123 inches and all passengers ride center-passed—between the springs in the "Comfort Zone."

The only difference between a Ford V-8 and a Deluxe Ford V-8 is in equipment—not in engineering. . . . And even here, two major items—Safety Glass all round and 6.00x16" air-balloon tires—are standard equipment on all Ford cars at no extra cost.

Therefore, when you are choosing your 1935 car, good judgment demands you check the list of features shown above. All of them are found on every Ford car built and without them no automobile can be considered a true 1935 V-8.

Mt STERLING TAKES LEAD IN KENKY STATE LEAGUE STANDINGS; LOCALS TRAIL

Brooging Upsets Dope To Drag Mayville From Top

Morehead's loss to Flemingsburg in Sunday's tussle, sunk them into the cellar position in the Kentucky state league with one game won of four played. Mt. Sterling by virtue of a win over Vanceburg while Mayville was dropping one to Brooks ville stepped up into the undisputed lead, while Mayville and Vanceburg by the same route dropped in and Owingville tied for third place and Paris comes next with Brooksville a step below and Morehead trailing.

The standing is as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Mt. Sterling	4	2	.667
Brooksville	3	2	.600
Mayville	3	2	.600
Flemingsburg	3	3	.500
Owingville	2	2	.500
Paris	1	2	.333
Brooksville	1	2	.333
Morehead	1	3	.250

Going into the ninth one run behind, Owingville pounded the delivery of Gene Smith and Sherrill Wills for nine markers to win a five hitting ball game from the Paris Merchants 14 to 6 today. The contest, a Kentucky State League before 500 fans.

The Merchants scored three in the first on singles by Wills and Williams and Miller's line triple to center. Another was added in the fourth by Butler's single and Wills's dagger.

Miller, Wills and Williams led the Paris 15 hit attack on Feedback and McKenzie. George Richie, with five safeties, including three doubles and Davis, with three hits, were the outstanding Owingville batsmen.

Junior Merchants Win From Flemers

The East Central Baseball League, composed of junior teams from Morehead, Owingville, Mt. Sterling and Flemingsburg, will open its season Saturday. In opening titles the Morehead Junior Merchants go to Flemingsburg, and Owingville plays at Mt. Sterling.

The Morehead Junior Merchants is a team composed of students of the Breckinridge Training School. Morehead's probable starting lineup: Ralph Holbrook, 2b; J. T. Daugherty, 1b; Bob Fraley, ss; Robert Elam, 2b; Alvin Caudill, p; Paul Reynolds, rf; Ligon Kessler, cf; Leo Oppenheimer, lf; Walter Carr, cf; and Elmer Tackett, rf.

The League had its beginning last year and the youngsters are taking considerable interest with good crowds turning out to see them.

The Morehead Junior Merchants won their game Saturday against Flemingsburg, the score being 12-7. With Caudill pitching for Morehead the Flemers gathered nine hits while the Junior Merchants were hitting safely thirteen times. Morehead bunched hits in the third inning to garner 10 runs and put the game on ice. They picked up one more in the fifth and one in the sixth. Flemingsburg bunched their hits to make five runs in the third and two in the fourth but it was not enough to win.

The Morehead Merchants were decked out in new uniforms which were purchased with donations from local merchants. This may or may not have had anything to do with the win. The boys however say that they are determined to make their record good.

Daugherty, Oppenheimer and Kessler, doubled for Morehead and McDonald for Flemingsburg.

SPORTS SPURGES

Well, the Stumbers failed to stumble as predicted and Morehead drifted to the bottom of the heap in the league standings, with one game won and three lost as a result. Eades did a good job of hurling but six errors will lose almost any ball game. When the opposing team scores runs, without hits, its mighty discouraging to the best pitchers Eades is no exception.

Morehead's Cafeteria team in the college soft ball league seems to be going places and doing things, most taking the measure of the other teams. The Trail Blazers are like Morehead, dragging in at the bottom. Carter county is not much better.

Cincinnati, in the National League, after a start that started fans all over the country, is apparently settling down to their usual pace, losing steadily. The Reds started out like a winning aggregation, but have now lost thirteen games to eight wins. They are now third from the bottom in league standings.

Larry Fraley seems to be hitting his stride with the big stick. If the game Sunday may be called an indication. Larry poked out three hits to step up his average.

Mt. Sterling served notice Sunday that they were decidedly to be reckoned with before any team in the league begins waving the bunting at the end of the season. Mt. Sterling stepped up into the undisputed lead with four wins and two losses, topping Vanceburg and Mayville with three wins and two losses each.

In spite of the apparent lack of sport news locally, this town is on the verge of an epidemic of baseball. Soft ball is in vogue at the college and will probably spread to the town before the summer is over. It did last year. Then there is the college base ball team which will complete its schedule this month after playing six games.

Now we have the Junior Merchants of which J. T. Daugherty and the smaller boys are the center. They have organized a team and are in a league of their own that is going to provide some hot baseball for the summer months.

And last but by no means least there are the old reliables, the war horses and what have you who compose the Morehead team of the Ken-

MOREHEAD DROPS THIRD TO FLEMERS IN SUNDAY'S BATTLE; CROWD ATTENDS

MOREHEAD LOSES TO WESLEYAN 5 TO 4

Flemers Take Advantage Of Errors To Pile Up Safe Lead

Wesleyan College scored a win over the Morehead State Teachers College Independents last Friday at Winchester, after battling under a tie for eleven innings. The final score was 5 to 4, with Wesleyan putting the winning run across the plate as the result of an error by Varney which allowed the runner to take third, scoring on a squeeze play.

Wootton opened the ninth for Morehead, and led the nine inning by being relieved by Dale who finished the game.

The game against Eastern scheduled for Tuesday was postponed on account of wet grounds following the hard rain of Monday night.

Cafeteria Leads In Soft Ball League

Monday the Cafeteria was idle while the History department, was being defeated by Carter county to bring them out of the cellar where they and the Trail Blazers were contending for the lower berth. The Trail Blazers practically cinched their hold on the lower by taking another drubbing at the hands of the Outlaws.

The sensational winning streak of Chief Gammage's Cafeteria team featured the second week of the Intramural Soft Ball League which got under way here Wednesday after being delayed the early part of the week because of wet grounds.

The Cafeteria swamped Carter County Wednesday and trounced the History Department team Friday. The Outlaw team clung to second place in the league by virtue of its victory over the History team, Wednesday.

In the opening game Wednesday the Cafeteria ten, behind some nice pitching by Timmy, downed Carter County, 12 to 5. The Cafeteria team while erring frequently, thrived in a smooth performance at bat and in the field.

Carter surprised by swamping a crippled Newsie team, 21 to 2 in the initial game Friday. The two cellar teams seemed well matched, but numerous errors by the entire

According to Mr. Claude Clayton the stumbling in Sunday's game was done not by the Stumbo team but by himself and Lawrence. Fraley, with the result that the Morehead team lost the decision by 5 to 3. Eads pitched good ball with but one earned run out of the five garnered by Flemingsburg. He allowed nine hits but kept them well scattered. Six errors piled up behind him, gave the decision to the Flemers. Clayton was guilty of two errors, by Flemingsburg. He allowed overthrows second both times, Fraley, Ryan, and the two Noland were responsible for the other four. Together let in four runs.

Stumbo for the Flemers allowed six hits which were scattered except in the first inning when the locals drove in two runs.

Flemingsburg was blanked until the first of the fourth when Clayton made his first bobble in an overthrow to second and the man took third, scoring on a sacrifice. In the fifth, Fraley threw an easy double while the runner scored the second man being held at third. He scored on an attempted squeeze play. He was trapped between third and home, but Ryan dropped the ball letting in the third run.

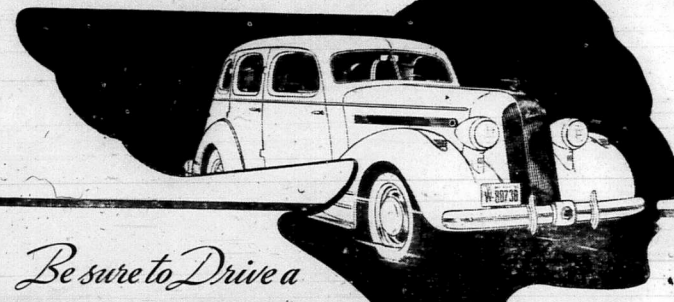

Flemingsburg made it six for Stumbo by scoring one run in the sixth and one in the eighth, while continued scoreless.

Fraley of Morehead and M. Stumbo for Flemingsburg tied for batting honors with three hits each.

Ladies' Day brought a good turnout to the game and the management of the locals were decidedly pleased with the crowd that swelled the gate receipts to a good margin of profit.

Newsie team gave the Carter countline an easy victory. Knapp for the Newsies and Sparks for Carter county were both effective, but superior backing gave Sparks his victory of the year.

Newsie pitcher Cliff Cuffey, continued their rampage by downing the King Sentis's Athletics, 6 in the final contest. Cuffey, Willey for the Cafeteria earned in excellent pitching performance by striking only four hits and no runs.

Presenting Anne Shirley, O. P. Hoggie and Helen Westley, the winning trio of "Anne of Green Gables," in roles rich with sympathy and human appeal, RKO-Radio brings "Chasing Yesterday" to the screen in an adaptation of "The Crime of Sylvester Bonnard," the classic novel by Anatole France which elevated the famous French author to the French Academy, and will show at the College Theatre, Friday May 17.

A fiction classic older and as firmly established as the dome and worldwide prominence, "Chasing Yesterday" makes its first appearance in dramatic form, taking its place as a leading picture-story from the literary classics. Although a favorite with readers for fifty-four years, it never before has been produced as a picture or play.

Although having Paris and its for backgrounds, "Chasing Yesterday" is reminiscent in many ways of the poignantly appealing "Anne of Green Gables."

Most poultry raisers who specialize in good eggs sell or confine roosters after May 1, which should be the end of the hatching season. Fertile eggs become unfit for food much more quickly in warm weather than do infertile eggs.

Stawberries contain so much water that they do not make an attractive canned product. Some kinds keep their color, flavor and texture better than others. The Redheart and Premier are particularly good berries to can.

Gather the berries in shallow trays or baskets and can as soon as possible after gathering. Remove and discard all soft berries and wash by placing in a shallow colander and dipping in and out of water or pouring water over them. Make a little jelly by crushing the small and soft berries. Add one cup of sugar and two tablespoons of juice to one quart of berries, bring to boiling point, cover and let stand overnight. In the morning pack in hot jars and process 20 minutes in a water bath.

Many of the aches and pains in the joints and limbs are thought to be due to the lack of the vitamin spinach and lettuce. Therefore, every garden should produce an abundance of these vegetables.

Keep Chicks Growing. Keep

the young chicks thrifty and growing. Many potentially good layers are ruined every summer by the failure to supply them with plenty of feed and water. Chicks and pullets may be prevented from piling up in corners on chilly nights by teaching them to roost at an early age or by keeping a dim light burning at night.

"That's right," says the violinist,

"I want to be buried with my violin. But I'm afraid you can't go along without my fiddle, even if I can't play it any more."

"Well," says the trap drummer,

"I reckon I'll have them shove in my drums and traps with me, too."

"I'm sorry," says the organist,

"I'm going to be buried all right, but I can't take my precious pipe organ along."
