CLOTHING: HOUSE

DRIVEN DESPERATE.

Such was the State of Affairs in Rowan County, but the Law Must Now Be Upheld.

Lives, Homes and Happiness against Deviltry, Terrorism and Outlawry.

SCATTERING SHOTS.

The Lexington Daily Press has had a correspondent at Morehead. In an interview with Boone Logan, one of the Sheriff's most active men, who gave an account of the Sheriff's pose who killed Craig Tolliver and three of his followers, on June 22nd. Vaughn Logan said:

"Yes, sir, acting under the authority of the law and the expressed wish of Governor Knott this has occurred. It was not the intention of our pose to harm a hair of their heads. But as they resisted, we killed them. It was our lives, happiness, homes and friends against deviltry, terrorism and outlawry. We shall go on until we put the last of them in the ground. We shall exterminate them root and branch. We shall follow them to the end of the world. Pursue them until we make them honest men or dead bodies; we will uphold the law, obey the law and regulate for the future the conduct of this county. We will appoint and elect officers capable of fulfilling the duties of honest, efficient, law-abiding people. If we cannot gain this rightful end by means of peaceful arbitration, we shall do so by our own strong arms. We shall fight to protect our wives, our property and homes. If peaceful means will not accomplish this, we will hang, draw and quarter them and hang them up in the sun to dry. We have no more friends in Rowan County than you, people of Rowan County. We mean to fight this thing out. We mean to have a county in this state where there is no crime, no terrorism, no devilltry, and we mean to hold it and keep it and keep it forever."

The Sheriff's pose are still searching for those of the Tolliver gang, who escaped Wednesday. Wiley Tolliver has been notified that he is wanted and that he must make no resistance to the arrest.

Cayt Tolliver, aged twelve, fought bravely for his relatives. On account of his youth he has been permitted to go to church and condition that he returns when wanted.

Cat Tolliver escaped by concealing himself under a house. He was badly wounded.

Over nine hundred bulletts struck the American Hotel, Central Hotel and a few other buildings.

Hiram Cooper concealed himself in a wardrobe in Allie Young's former room at the Central Hotel. He was dragged from his hiding place and shot.

Howard Logan returned to Morehead Thursday and was received with cheers by his friends.

Dave Martin has returned from Kansas, where he held two or three years ago. He was driven from his home for being there.

A dispatch from Lexington Press from Mt. Sterling says: "Allie Young, who was killed by the Tolliver band in Kansas, has filled the warrant for his arrest. It was immediately arrested on his arrival. He was held on a telegram from Morehead and jailed on the charge of murder. The reason of the arrest was that the two sisters, who have forced Craig Tolliver to issue the warrant for the arrest of the young Logan, who were brutally killed a few days ago, are dead and tried for murder in the first degree."

The Cincinnati Enquirer's correspondent says: "One thing that must be remarked about this uprising is that those who have belonged to both political parties, Democrats and Republicans united in ridding the community of what they believed to be a wrecked type of law and order."

The following is a list of the Tollivers and their pose wanted: Craig Tolliver, Hiram Tolliver, John Rogers, Jim Tolliver, Andy Tolliver, Sam Goodin, Z. T. Young, Junior, Bill Dill, Sam Goodin.

Four of these were killed, seven escaped and one was arrested. William and Henry Ramsey have taken their families and gone to Wisconsin. Henry Ramsey took some part in the killing of the Logans a few weeks ago.

The two Manns who escaped are thought to have crossed the river at Ashland.

W. B. D., has been learned that one of the fleeing Tollivers crossed the river here about 4 o'clock Thursday morning. His name has not been learned. He was light-colored.

The correspondent of the Louisville Commercial says: "Every man of the Regulators—for they are called such at Morehead—was at the murder. There was a drunken man in the whole town. They were cool, but determined and used the guns with fatal aim, and obeyed orders like soldiers."

Governor Z. T. Young has been mentioned in connection with the trouble in Rowan County. In an interview with the Louisville Post's correspondent it was stated that the time of trouble had been numerous and understood that and now another warrant has been served out against me. I shall not go there except under protest, as I am satisfied that I shall be responsible for what will happen after I pass to the other side."

"Death stirs me in the face from Morehead from the Logan faction though I am not particularly interested in the matter. It is not of the same order. I am pursuing there. I deny emphatically knowing anything of the contemplated arrest of the Logan boys until I learned the fact of a court order to hold them. I want a fair hearing and demand nothing else, and have always said it to prove my innocence of all charges against me there."

A large double frame shanty at Lawrence Creek (Moran's Camp) was destroyed Wednesday night at 9 o'clock. The railroad men who were occupying it, lost all their bedding and clothes.
