MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Department of Art begins the new year with its first Beaux Arts Ball, a new event for a new scholarship fund at MSU.

The Friday, Jan. 25, ball features dance music by Jay Flippin, MSU associate professor of music and well-known Central Kentucky musician. The optional black-tie affair will also offer celebrants a chance to buy selected art works at silent auction.

A professional photographer will be available for portraits and punch and hors d'oeuvres will be served at the 8 p.m. to midnight ball. A contribution of $12.50 per person is requested. Receipts will go to a Freshman Art Scholarship Fund.

The Beaux Arts Ball is from 8 p.m. to midnight on Friday, Jan. 25, in MSU's Claypool-Young Art Building. For more information, contact Marge Troutt at 784-8719 or Brenda Whitt at 783-2766.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Thirty performance-tested bulls will be offered for sale on March 22, 1985, in Morehead State University's Derrickson Agricultural Complex.

The sale, set for 6:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Northeast Kentucky Beef Improvement Federation (NKBIF), a non-profit organization of area beef producers. NKBIF works closely with MSU's Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources and the Appalachian Development Center.

The on-farm test is Eastern Kentucky's first such project. NKBIF members wanted a program close to home, one which would more accurately reflect feeding conditions in generally mountainous Appalachian Kentucky.

The Sale Catalog is available on request. Performance test results will be available the day of the sale.

For information contact Phil Kenkel, Agribusiness Specialist, Appalachian Development Center, Morehead State University, Morehead, KY 40351, or phone (606) 783-2077.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The first performance for 1985 in the Arts in Morehead (AIM) Series is set for Jan. 15 at Morehead State University.

The brilliant young baritone Ben Holt will perform at 8 p.m. in MSU's Duncan Recital Hall to initiate the spring semester of AIM performances. Holt has appeared in recital at Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center, the J.F. Kennedy Center's Terrace Theater and on public television. The young artist has won several talent competitions, including the Young Concert Artist International Auditions in 1983, the 1982 Joy Auditions, the 1980 Washington International Competition and the 1980 Independent Black Opera Singers Competition.

The young baritone has appeared with the American Opera Center and Opera South and made his European debuts at the Spoleto (Italy) and Innsbruck (Austria) Festivals. He also appears on a recent recording of Monteverdi's "Incoronazione di Poppea" with baroque specialist Alan Curtis.

A native of Washington, D.C., Holt attended the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and was a scholarship recipient at the Juilliard School. There he worked with several contemporary masters, including renowned pianist and coach Martin Isepp.

Tickets for the performance are available at the door. The cost is $6 for adults and $2.50 for students under 18. MSU students are admitted free with ID.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Appalachian Development Center has published Research Report No. 9, "Appalachian Kentucky's Economy During the Mid 70s and Early 80s."

Dr. Douglas Dotterweich, former ADC assistant director for regional research, authored the new report, which examines Eastern Kentucky's economic performance with emphasis on population, employment, income and educational attainment.

Dotterweich, now an assistant professor at East Tennessee State University, also prepared Research Report No. 4, "Fiscal Effort in Eastern Kentucky: Implications for Financing Public Services," published in 1981.

The purpose of the Appalachian Development Center Research Report series is to provide a forum for the dissemination of significant scholarly work concerned with economic, social, educational and environmental issues affecting Appalachia, with particular emphasis on Eastern Kentucky. Previous reports have been authored by Gary Cox, Jerry Howell, Bernard Davis, Gerald DeMoss, Robert Justice and David Hylbert.

Research Reports Number 10 and 11 are now being edited for publication. No. 10 will be a two-part study on death anxiety among coal miners and coal mine safety legislation. Its authors are Dr. George E. Dickinson and Dr. Stuart Seely Sprague. Research Report No. 11 will be Dr. Sprague's history of the Appalachian Regional Commission.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Participants are now being registered for Morehead State University's ninth annual Appalachian Celebration, which will take place June 25-29.

The Appalachian Arts and Crafts Market, June 29, is open to area artists and craftsmen by application. Send slides or photographs of work to Wilson C. Grier, Appalachian Development Center, Morehead State University, Morehead, KY 40351. Accepted applicants will pay a $25 booth fee.

Eastern Kentucky residents who would like to display folk art, antique farm machinery, or other regional memorabilia should contact either Shirley Hamilton or Peter T. McNeill at MSU's Appalachian Development Center (ADC). McNeill is also looking for people who can demonstrate traditional skills such as shingle splitting, corn grinding, or soapmaking; such demonstrations could be for a day or for the week-long celebration.

According to Dr. Donald L. Fogus, director of ADC, the 1985 Celebration will also include regional foods for the first time. Meetings of the Appalachian Writers Association, the Kentucky Heritage Quilt Society, and the Jesse Stuart Symposium--plus noon and evening concerts, craft workshops, and the popular tours and hikes--round out the Appalachian Celebration.

For information, contact Peter T. McNeill, Appalachian Development Center, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351, or phone (606) 783-2077.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- "How To Manage Your Advertising" is the topic of a workshop for small business owners and operators on Thursday, Feb. 21, at Morehead State University.

Five MSU faculty and staff professionals will conduct the sessions. Dr. William Pierce, professor of marketing, will present "Starting an Advertising Program." Dr. Richard Dandeneau, professor of journalism, will lead "The Psychology of Advertising."

"Advertising in Print" will be conducted by Garry Barker, Appalachian Development Center communications coordinator. Jay Flippin, associate professor of music, will lead a session on "Radio and Television Jingles and Commercials" workshop. Keith Kappes, assistant to the president for university relations, will present "Public Relations and Free Advertising."

The workshop will be held from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Adron Doran University Center. The fee is $25 per person, and a second participant from the same business may attend for $15. The fee includes refreshments and handouts.

The program, sponsored by the East Kentucky Small Business Development Center, is designed to help owners and operators of small business to design effective advertising plans. The SBDC, part of MSU's Appalachian Development Center, offers a series of workshops throughout the year with the sponsorship of the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Additional information is available from Robert Justice, Appalachian Development Center, Morehead State University, Morehead, KY 40351. The phone is (606) 783-2077.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The talents of Eastern Kentucky's vintage fiddlers will be preserved on audio and video recordings as a result of a newly-funded project at Morehead State University.

Shirley Hamilton and Marynell Young of MSU's Appalachian Development Center have received a $1,000 grant from the Kentucky Folklife Foundation, Inc., to collect and record the works of "accomplished traditional fiddlers."

The project is expected to be completed by June 30.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- ROTC students now have the opportunity to receive two- and three-year Army ROTC scholarships worth as much as $9,000, according to Maj. Gerald Adams, MSU's ROTC scholarship coordinator.

To apply for such scholarships, students must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5, must be a member of Army ROTC, be a U.S. citizen, be no older than 25 at the time of graduation, and be in good physical health.

Students applying for scholarships must major in a physical science, business, or social science discipline. Since the tax-free scholarships automatically pay for books, tuition, fees, and $100 per month to the recipient, an out-of-state student's scholarship could be worth as much as $9,000.

Interested students should apply in Room 306 of Button Auditorium. Additional information is available from Maj. Adams at ext. 2050.

MOREHEAD, KY 40351

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Effective this fall, Morehead State University's academic scholarships will be worth more and be renewable for four years.

The revamped program, which includes full scholarships for National Merit semi-finalists and finalists, was approved Tuesday night by the MSU Board of Regents.

President Herb. F. Reinhard described the board's action as "a clear signal to all that academic quality is important at Morehead State and that we are aggressively seeking the best students possible."

At the top of the scholarship program is the Distinguished Scholar Award which provides tuition, fees, room, board and books to National Merit qualifiers. The grants will be worth about $3,800 to Kentucky students and about $5,500 to non-residents.

Presidential scholarships were increased from $1,500 to $2,000 yearly and Regents scholarships were upped from $800 to $1,000. Those who maintain specified grade point averages will keep their scholarships through four years of study.

Previously, most of MSU's academic scholarships were awarded for only the first year of enrollment.

The Regents directed MSU's scholarship committee to give special attention to high school valedictorians and salutatorians.

Admissions Director Al Bowen said details of the scholarship improvements would be disseminated to area high schools and two-year colleges as soon as possible.

"We are excited about the prospects of helping the brightest young people with these attractive scholarships," Bowen said. "The approval of better scholarships is a major commitment by the University to academic excellence."

In other business, the Regents approved a new affirmative action, equal opportunity policy, as requested by the U.S. Office of Civil Rights.

Robert M. (Mike) Duncan of Inez was reelected board chairman and Circuit Judge James Richardson of Owingsville was renamed vice chairman.

President Reinhard announced that MSU's private giving program is having a record year with more than $164,000 contributed in the past 60 days and that total giving has increased more than 10 percent over the same period of last year.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's basic education project at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base in Cuba has received $13,910 from the U.S. Department of Defense for 1985.

The purpose of the project is to provide functional skills education in math, reading and English to members of the Navy and Marine Corps stationed there. These students have been determined, by testing, to be lacking in reading and English skills. The classes are taught by a coordinator and teachers found on the site and provided with the proper materials.

This is the final year of a three-year contract for the program.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University's Camden-Carroll Library has received a variety of tax forms and schedules from the Internal Revenue Service to help taxpayers prepare their 1984 federal tax forms, according to Faye Belcher, acting director.

Prepared and distributed by the IRS in cooperation with the nation's libraries, 1984 tax information is available at Camden-Carroll Library, Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 to 10 p.m.

Many IRS publications are available in the reference department. Among them are "A Selection of 1984 Internal Revenue Service Tax Information Publications," "The Taxpayer's Guide to IRS Information, Assistance and Publications," "Your Federal Income Tax," "Tax Guide for Small Business," and "Farmer's Tax Guide."

It is stressed that the Camden-Carroll librarians are not tax experts, but library personnel will be able to help the public to find and use these tax materials.

Most federal tax forms and schedules can be photocopied at 10 cents a page. More information is available from the reference department of the Camden-Carroll Library. The telephone number is (606) 783-2251.
