ANNOUNCEMENT

CHECKING THE HUMAN ELEMENT

The National Safety Council reports that the campaign for standard licensing laws for automobile drivers continues to gain power. The term "standard licensing" is used to include both the provisions of the law itself, and the machinery set up for its administration, in that poor enforcement could negate the benefit of the best drawn act.

Since the first of the year, three states have passed laws the Council considers standard in every respect. In one other state, new license legislation was also enacted, but the council considers it wanting in some respects. Movements are underway in a number of other states to bring them into the fold.

In the light of America's tragic automobile death record, it is difficult to see how even the most stringent drivers' licensing laws can be logically opposed. The driver who is congenitally unable to learn to operate a car properly has no right to endanger the lives and property of others, even though his inadequacy is not his fault. And the deliberately reckless, chance-taking driver, is one of the most dangerous influences abroad in the land today.

Every state should have a license requirement law which makes it as certain as possible that the motorist, before he is permitted to drive, is capable of operating his car safely. And the law should provide that, after a number of accidents or arrests, licenses must be revoked for a definite length of time. The human element, rather than the mechanical element, is at fault in over 90 per cent of all accidents—and a well-prepared, strictly enforced law would tend strongly to shrink that percentage.

UNFAILING SERVICE

In the words of an agricultural publication, farm "cooperative institutions, properly organized and managed, have established an unflinching record of service to their members. Unquestionably they have been the means of securing better prices for their products. Today the principle of cooperation is even more powerfully effective, for the people at large throughout the nation are developing a clearer understanding of the farmer's plight and its relation to general economic recovery.

Few economic and social movements have been given—or have earned—so large a measure of public support as the cooperative movement. It is backed by prominent industrialists, who know that methods that have made business progress possible can do the same for the farm. It is backed by wise public officials, who realize that government form relief measures are transitory and limited, and that in the long run farm achievement must come from within. And it is backed by intelligent consumers, who know that successful cooperatives are necessary if the nation is to have a steady, adequate and fair priced supply of quality food products.

The figures show that cooperatives have been making striking gains in membership during the bleak years of depression. That promises well for the years ahead.

FEEDING PREJUDICES

Most of us who consider ourselves broadminded are anything but that. Otherwise, how can we account for the fact that we are seldom interested in reading "the other side" of any question.

We read almost exclusively such books, periodicals and newspapers as we know in advance will generally coincide with our own views. Few Republicans subscribe for a red-hot Democratic newspaper, or vice versa. People take church papers, only of their own denomination. Capitalists take few labor papers, and laboring men would hardly look at one that reflects the capitalistic viewpoint.

In other words, we all have more or less confirmed opinions on nearly every important subject and do not admit that there may be some virtue in the opposite view.

As a recent writer has said, "The only facts we can tolerate are those we already know." We read, not really to learn anything new, but for the purpose of confirming ourselves in our present beliefs and prejudices.

NEWS FLASHES OF INTEREST

SINGER IS 74

Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink observed her 74th birthday yesterday by attending the wedding of her granddaughter and singing one of her best-loved songs, "Calm as the Night." As her last note died away in the hushed church, Mme. burst into tears.

Her granddaughter and namesake, was married to Ensign Henry Peter-Relson Rumble, U. S. N.

RULING GIVEN ON TEACHER PAY RATE

In an opinion written for Gordie Young, Assistant State Superintendent, held that the school department in making up a basal salary schedule for teachers, may consider the increased cost of living. All teachers, Atkinson ruled, must be paid on a single basis, to which may be added increases for special training a teacher may have.

FATHER OF 21 AT 78

William McGinnis, a mountain farmer living near here, recently celebrated his 78th birthday simultaneously with the birth of his 21st child. The infant's mother, 35, is McGinnis' fourth wife.

IF YOU CAN DO ALL THIS, POLICE WILL LET YOU GO

If you can close your eyes and touch your nose with the tip of your right index finger—
If you can stoop and pick up a penny off the floor—
If you can stand erect with your hands on your sides and eyes closed without swaying—you're not drunk.

These are tests evolved for Wichita police to give to persons, particularly motorists, arrested for violation of Kansas prohibitory laws.

BOY SMOTHERED IN CORN

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday for Ellis Justice, 18, who smothered to death Thursday when he fell 25 feet into a bed of shelled corn at the Marsha Milling Company. The boy's body was discovered a half hour later by a life saving squad and resuscitation attempts made.

WIND BLOWS HIS WAGES BACK

Earl Blake, 15 years ago, got $15 for an afternoon's work playing baseball. He slept out on the train that night and lost the money. When dust-laden winds blew over Kansas he found $8.25 in silver of his lost wage, and was willing to dismiss the other with the theory the bills had rotted away.

RAZOR BLADE OPERATION FAILS TO SAVE CHILD

An emergency operation performed with a razor blade taken from a cigar clipper failed to save the life of Patricia Ann Fleege, two-year-old, who died in a hospital thirty hours later.

Patricia was slowly choking to death when a physician reached her. With the only instrument available, the doctor made two incisions in the child's windpipe, temporarily cheating death. Another operation was performed at the hospital but the baby failed to rally.

SALE OF 200-LB. HOG WINTER STOCK ANY PULLY

One good 200 pound Minnesota hog could be sold to stock any home hold pantry in this day of soaring pork prices, according to a survey here.

One year ago a porker of that weight would exchange for 174 pounds of best sugar. But, today it's a different story. In addition to the same amount of sugar, it is figured the porker would also buy:

One and a half bushels of corn, 2 bags oatmeal, 4 cans salmon, 2 pounds candy, 2 packages pancake flour, 4 2 lamp chimneys, 100 bars soap, 3 pounds raisins, one dozen jar caps, pounds of coffee, 2 pounds cheese, 4 pounds lard, 4 pounds bacon, 4 cans peas and a roll of smuff.

BRITISH COW SETS RECORD

A new British record and what is believed to be a world record for milk production in a single day, 149 1-2 pounds, was set by "Beech Nut 38," one of Lord Rayleigh's famous herd of British Friesian cattle. The previous British record was 137 1-2 pounds.

The test was carried out before a qualified list of officials, including the ministry of health and livestock inspector for Essex county. The first milking was at 3:30 a. m., the last at 10 p. m.

EDWIN P. MORROW DIES

Edwin P. Morrow, former Governor of Kentucky and for thirty years a leader in Republican political circles in the state, died suddenly at 3:30 o'clock today at the home here of his cousin, Mrs. John G. South.

DOG ADOPTS FOX

Judge W. S. Toler's pet dog, a small fox, recently adopted four little orphaned foxes which are thriving, although their mother cared for them.

Your Child And The School

By Dr. Allen G. Ireland

SUMMER MEALS

The same old essentials go unchanged. Oh, a little less meat perhaps, and for the overweight child a little less bread and butter, bacon, and potato. All children can do very well without candies, pastries, and especially, soda pop or so-called "tonic." By the way, don't let that name "tonic" mislead you. It's far from being anything of the sort. Instead, try a drink of pure water with your milk. There's real refreshment.

Pass up your old beliefs about winter diets. Most of them were only superstitions without a grain of scientific backing. The needs of the body don't change so very much with the seasons. Heat isn't necessary as it is in the winter, therefore the suggestion to reduce sugars and starches. But the energy and health requirements don't change.

The same good milk is needed. Although quart ice cream may account for a part, green vegetables, fresh fruit, tomatoes, a little meat or fish, some egg some bread and butter, and there you are, winter or summer.

Planning a Scout trip is exciting, important; Dr. Ireland will give some advice about it in his next article.

BUILT IN MIRRORS FOUND CONVENIENT

Built in mirrors are valuable aids in maintaining personal appearance and properly placed, they contribute to the decoration of a home and tend to give the impression of added size to a room.

In bedrooms or dressing rooms, if a mirror does not fit in with the general scheme of decoration or surroundings, it may be attached to the inside of the closet door.

They are very essential but must be considered good practice to prime window and door frames with a coat of paint before they are set in the openings which are made for them. The priming coat provides weather protection and prepares them for the finish painting.

FOREST LANDS IN BATH ARE DEEDED

Nine deeds conveying to the U. S. Forest Service 13,142 acres of forest land in Bath county included in the U. S. forest reserve, have been recorded. A total of $51,83.10 was paid for the land, an average of $3.94 an acre.

The deeds represented the major portion of forest reserve in Bath county, the other acreage consisting of small farms of which sale contracts have not been finally accepted. Deeds to the remaining acreage are expected to be executed by the end of 1935.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kazoo, Pastor of the Baptist Church.

SUBJECT: Christian Missions. Acts 1:6-8; 13:1-12.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15.

Christian missions is a movement very much opposed in this section of our country, but when we consider the Bible outlook on the world and the work of God it is difficult to understand why. In the lesson before we would do well to remember some of the great missionaries of New Testament times. Speaking of the twelve Apostles (disciples) Luke says, "And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick." In Luke 10 we are told, "After other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come." The commission to evangelize was delivered at the close of His ministry here on earth. (See the close of the Gospel.) The long list of missionaries which follows includes Paul, Barnabas, Mark, and others.

"1. The authority of Christian missions. In Acts 1:6-8 we have it. The group to whom He spoke these words was composed of His own disciples. These are the people to whom He gave the commission to evangelize... namely, those who had believed and were baptised. The first thing necessary was power from on High. This, He said, would come when the Holy Spirit had come upon them. Only those who are endowed with a spiritual experience of the Holy Spirit's presence can be used to evangelize the world. Then, He said (after all this power is upon them) "and ye shall witness unto me." That is, "you will tell them of the death on the Cross, the burial, the resurrection, and my presence with you after my death." He was soon to add another great event to their testimony, the Ascension. Where shall they tell it? In Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. This is the authority for world-wide Christian missions. In another place Jesus made it more specific by saying, "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."

- 1,300 dozens of eggs.
- 2-12 tons of butter and other fats
- 8 tons of potatoes.
- 1 ton of dried beans and peas.
- 4 tons of leafy or green vegetables
- 3-12 tons of tomatoes.
- 1 ton of dried fruits.
- 5-12 tons of other fruits and vegetables.
- 7 tons of flour and cereals.
- 2-34 tons of sugar, molasses and other sweets.

The Agriculture Experiment Station at Lexington has been receiving many complaints this spring about loss of chicks from digestion troubles.

Dr. J. Holmes Martin, head of the poultry department, believes over-feeding or improper feeding to be the principal cause of the trouble. Many of those writing or telephoning to the station indicated that they were feeding a rich starter and clabber in addition. Most of the commercially prepared starter meshes contain sufficient protein, points out Dr. Martin, and the addition of the clabber over-loads the chick's digestive tract.

If milk is available on the farm, the simplest solution of the problem is to feed a home-mixed mash and to give the chicks all the milk they wish with milk is made at the rate of 70 pounds of raw bonemeal and a pound of salt.

Dr. Martin also points out that skim milk, either sour or sweet, is better than clabber for either chicks or turkey poults. The reason is that the removal of whey also takes out milk sugars and minerals which the chicks need. In other words, some persons go to the trouble of preparing clabber when skim milk or buttermilk is better.

FRANKLIN AS A SALESMAN

"Experience has taught me that the way to convince another is to state your case moderately and accurately and then scratch your head or shake it a little, and say 'this is the way it seems to you, but that you, of course, may be mistaken about it; which causes your listener to receive what you say, and like as not, turn about and try to convince you of it, since you are in doubt; but if you go at him with a tone of too much positiveness and arrogance, you can only make an opponent of him.'"

Foreman: "Do you think you're fit for really hard labor?"

Applicant: "Well, some of the best judges in the country have thought so."

Bill: "I'm afraid to propose to her. She has offered you no encouragement."

Minister: "What is the best way to induce people to praise your good judgement?"

Lawyer: "That's easy. Just agree with them."

Poker is no game for weak hearts.

Tomato Pruning. — The early stacked tomato should be kept rigorously pruned, each sucker removed just as soon as it starts. The plants should be headed above the fifth cluster. Anticipating their removal as soon as they have borne their crop, two "hills" of bush lima beans may be started after it is time to remove the tomatoes. Any one of Fordhook Bush, Henderson Bush, or Carolina Siva may be used. Two plants constitute a "hill".

The cereal grains are a cheap source of food fuel, and an important item in nutrition. Corn, wheat, rice, rye, barley and oat, kernels furnish a third of the average individual's diet. The "whole grain" or "dark" products are richer in vitamins than refined materials.

A heavy feeding of grain assures fat pullets for the laying house in the fall, says C. E. Harris in Poultry Leaflet No. 4. Feed should be placed in the hopper in the brooder house and left before the chicks constantly. Feed both grain and mash to the pullets on range.

To cook fruits, add enough water to prevent scorching, cook gently until tender and sweeten to taste. To retain the shape of the fruit cook in a syrup. For most well ripened fruits two parts of water to one part sugar gives a mildly sweetened product.

Veal or tenderloin may be used instead of chicken in making salad. A good bleach for the hands may be made by placing 1-4 cup of cornmeal in a bowl with a teaspoon of pure finely shaved soap or soap flakes, one drop water to make a paste thin enough to wash the hands.

Skim milk is often available in such large amounts that it cannot all be used for drinking or cooking, and at least part of this extra milk may be utilized in the form of cottage cheese. It is a highly nutritious dairy product and easily made. Write to the College of Agriculture for directions.

WHAT WE EAT

Suppose that, over a period of 22 years, a farmer and his wife rear a boy and a girl and send them out from the farm home on their eighteenth birthdays to seek their fortunes. The food supply for such a family for 22 years, as calculated by Miss Miriam Birdssey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, would be worth approximately $12,000. Here are the amazing totals required by this family:

- 6,000 gallons of milk
- 4 tons of meat and poultry.

 self would consider his administration a failure if he should fail to do so, when in fact the state debt during that period of time has increased to the appalling sum of more than nineteen millions of dollars, in direct contradiction to that sacred compact with the people. Now, in view of the foregoing facts, we are forced to the conclusion that the Democratic Party is incompetent to manage the fiscal affairs of either the nation or state.

Now, in order to redeem the state from the impending bankruptcy which confronts it and in order to restore lost confidence and to bring order out of the confusion that now confounds the business welfare of the state, that has paralyzed capital and incapacitated labor, which condition has alarmed the minds of this Commonwealth, we propose the following:
 First. The nomination of the Hon. King Swope as the Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky;
 Second. The nomination of the Hon. Frank B. Russell of Louisville, Kentucky for Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky;

An hour later he came to the head of the stairs and called down to us. We joined him in Archer's bedroom. I think I've found a solution to some phase of our problem, he announced seriously, when we were seated. But it may take a bit of working out. He opened the book. The tale, as I gather at a hasty reading, relates of a dead man found locked in a vault with a key to the door on the table before him. The vault door was locked from the outside of course. Here's the explanatory passage: No other word he spoke, but took something from his pocket; it was a reel of stout cotton, then from his waistcoat he produced a new pin, with great care and solemnity tied the thread to the end of the pin. Tab watching him intently. All the time he was working, Rex Lander was humming a little tune, as though he were engaged in the most innocent occupation. Presently he stuck the point of the pin into the hole in the door. He had fastened. Apparently he was satisfied. He unwound a further length of cotton, and when he had sufficient he threaded the key upon it, carrying it well outside the door. The end he brought back into the vault, and then pushed it out again from the inside through one of the airholes. Then he closed the door carefully. He had left plenty of slack for his purpose and Tab heard the click of the lock as it was fastened, and his heart sank. He watched pulling the slack of the cotton through the air hole. Presently the key came in sight under the door. Higher and higher came the sagging line of cotton and the key rose until it was at the table's level, slid down the taut cotton and came to rest on the table. Thirster drew the strain of the thread and presently the pin came out, passed through the hole in the key, leaving it in the exact center of the table. Tab watched the bright pin as it was pulled across the floor and through the ventilator. That's the way the author worked his locked door. But objected Markham. There was an open ventilator in the door, and space beneath the door. These conditions are not true here. Yes—of course, Vance returned, overlook the fact that there was a string and a bent pin. At least they are common integers in this two problems. Now let's see if we can combine those integers with certain common integers of another case. He opened the other book. Konrad, Vance explained was a truly "reiverdriever" in Berlin nearly fifty years ago. His wife and five children were found dead in their cellar room; and the door—a ponderous affair without even a keyhole or space around the molding—was every and health requirements don't order and suicide on the part of the mother; and Konrad would have been free to marry his inamorata (whom he had in the office) had it not been for an examining magistrate of the criminal court, named Hollmann. Hollmann, for no tangible reason, did not believe in the "side theory," and set to work to figure out how Konrad could have needed the door from without. Here's the revelatory passage:—I forgive by rather sketchy translation of the German: Hollmann determined as a last resort, to give the entire door, both inside and outside, a microscopic examination. It required hours of labor just above the bolt he found on the inside, close to the edge of the door, a very small hole which was barely discernible. Opening the door he inspected the outside surface directly opposite to the hole on the inside. But there was no corresponding hole visible. Hollmann did find on the outside of the door, however, a small spot on which the paint seemed fresher than that on the rest of the door. He borrowed a hatpin from one of the tenants in the building and heating it ran it through the hole on the inside. With but little pressure the heated hatpin penetrated the door, coming out on the outside exactly in the center over, when Hollmann withdrew the hatpin a piece of tough horsehair adhered to the pin; and on the pin was also discernible a slight film of wax. It was obvious then how Konrad had first bored a tiny hole through the door above the bolt, looped a piece of horsehair over the bolt's knob, and slipped the two ends through the hole. He had then pulled the bolt-knob upward until the horsehair loop was disengaged, and remained there. Konrad had then filled up the hole with wax and painted it on the outside, thereby eliminating practically every trace of his criminal device. He was later convicted of the murder of his family, sentenced to death and hanged. Heath, as Vance finished reading leaped to his feet. That's a new one on me. He went swiftly to the door and bent over. There's no hole in the door above the bolt, Sergeant, he said. No need don't y' know. There's a keyhole. Heath squared off and looked at the door. Still and all, the keyhole's only halfway over the bolt, and eight inches below it. No string fastened to the bolt and run through that keyhole would lock the room from the outside. True Sergeant, Vance nodded. But that's where the modification of the trick comes in. The person who planned bolting this door carried the idea to a few more decimal points. Don't forget we have two pieces of string and two pins. Well, I don't get it. Heath still stood scowling at the door. Easy cases in those two books are easy enough to understand but neither of 'em will work here. Maybe the two together will work. I suggested Vance. Look at the wall just to the right of the jamb and opposite to the bolt. Do you see anything? I don't see much, he gumbled. Right in the crack of the jamb a wall there's what might be a pinhole. That's it Sergeant! Vance rose and went to the door; and Markham and I followed him. I think I'll try the experiment I have in mind. We all watched him with fascinated interest. First he reached in his pocket and drew forth the two pieces of string and bent pins and the darned string he had found in the pocket of Brisbane Coe's overcoat. By means of his pocket knife he straightened one of the pins and inserted it in the hole. Heath had found in the wall at the edge of the jamb, giving it several taps with the handle of his knife to drive it in rather secretly. He then threaded the other end of the string in through the darned needle and passed it through the keyhole into the hall, removing the needle and letting the string fall to the floor. After this operation he bent the other pin securely round the upright knob of the bolt, passed that string over the pin he had driven into the wall, and threaded this second string into the darned needle, passed it also through the door to the hall. He then opened the door about 18 inches, drawing the two strings partly back through the keyhole in a loop without disturbing the mechanism. Let us see if the device works, he said, with an undeciphered suppressed excitement. You stay in the room while I go outside and manage late the strings. Presently we saw the string which was attached to the bolt knob go taut, as Vance drew it slowly through the keyhole. Passing over the pin in the wall, which acted as a pulley, the string described a sharp angle, with the pin in the wall as the apex. Slowly Vance drew the string from outside and the bolt, getting a straight pull around the pin, began to move into its socket on the jamb. The door was bolted. The next thing we saw was the tightening of the other string—the one attached to the head of the pin in the wall. There came several jerks on the string—the pin in the wall resisted several times and bent toward the source of the pull. Finally, it was disengaged from the wall; and it was then drawn upward from its depending position, disappeared through the keyhole. The other string, still hooked about the bolt knob, was then drawn taut through the keyhole, describing a straight line from the bolt knob to the keyhole which was almost directly below it. Another which was almost directly below it. Another slight pull by Vance on the string, and the knob fell downward into its groove. Another pull, and the bent pin was disengaged from the knob and pulled through the keyhole into the hall.

Morehead Drops One Sunday To Tail - Ending Paris Team; League Games Of Last Week

Loss Of Sunday Fails To Dampen Spirits Of Local Team.

Crippled lineup, due to the absence of several regulars for various reasons including sickness, gave Paris the decision over Morehead in Sunday's performance at Paris. Bob Day, whose vacancy at first was filled by Claude Clayton; Lockhart was absent from third base, App Honker taking his place; Hilton Stagg and Edgar McNabb were also out of the line-up. Vacancies were filled by Wallace Fannin, Leon and App Honker filled in and did a good job of filling, but the tear up of the regular presentation worked its usual result.

Woodson Dale, who has hurled two victories for the locals, was on the mound, and in spite of the loss did a good job of tossing them over. Nine safeties well scattered kept the score down.

The following writup came from Paris:

The Paris Merchants celebrated homecoming day at Hancock Field Sunday afternoon by outwitting the Morehead Pirates both at bat and in the field to win their third game of the Kentucky State League by 3 to 1. It was the Merchants first appearance at home since May 12.

Paris pounded the offerings of Woodson Dale for nine hits, and the Pirates nicked Terry's delivery for seven safeties. Morehead took the lead in the second on Leon's single, a stolen base and a Paris error. The Merchants tied the score in the third on a pass to Wills and Morton's double. The winning tally was pushed over in the fifth after two were out. Wills walked, stole second and scored on Wills' safety through the box. Another run was added in eighth on three hits and a fielder's choice. Both Terry and Dale hurled effectively.

After scoring the first run of the game in the eighth inning, the Maysville Baby Bears suffered their fifth defeat of the season yesterday, when Mt. Sterling tallied two in the last half of the ninth to win 2 to 1. The contest played at Mt. Sterling, was held up half an hour to let the infield dry off.

Four close games featured play in the Kentucky State Baseball league yesterday. Vanceburg maintained the lead by defeating Flemingsburg 3 to 2 at Vanceburg. Owingsville won over Brooksville one to 0 at Owingsville, and Paris vanquished Morehead 3 to 1 on the Paris diamond.

The Bruins scored their lone run in their tilt with Mt. Sterling on Hock's single through second, Keatley's sacrifice and Cracraft's double to right field.

Mt. Sterling came back in the last of the ninth determined to put the game on ice. B. Cox singled, L. Cox walked and Gibb and Rhodes grounded out. With the runners on third and second, Adams hit a single into left field to score both.

Keatley and McLemore both pitched good ball, allowing six hits and striking out six batters apiece. In the Vanceburg-Flemingsburg fray to the Flemers 10 and had two hits the winner made only eight errors in their one. The game between Owingsville and Brooksville was a 10 inning affair. Large crowds saw most of the tilts.

SPORT SPLURGES

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of baseball and in the summer the Sports Editor feels more like taking a vacation than writing Splurges and such. As a matter of fact one fact is obvious in Morehead, that fact is the apparent complete lack of interest in sports of any kind. True a soft ball league has been organized, but the crowds that attend are chiefly noticeable for their absence. The regular Kentucky State League games are also unusually poorly attended, especially after the excellent attendance of the past two years.

Maybe this is because the Morehead team is dragging due to a late start. Maybe it is due to the fact that the average small town can support a team not much more than two years in succession. After that usually interest lags and the team fails because of lack of support.

There is really no reason why the Morehead team should not be given proper support, since they actually appear to have as good a team as they had last year, even though they are fighting to keep out of the cellar. Practically every game lost has been by a squeaky margin. But they have been lost and that tells

WEST MOREHEAD

Mrs. H. W. Keeton who has been under the care of a Dr. for the past week will go to Maysville this week for an operation.

The revival meeting at Clearfield that is being conducted by Orby Beard of Grayson bible school assisted by Ralph Clark evangelist singer of Greenfield, Ohio is well attended and great interest is being manifested. The meeting will continue over Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Hannon and Mrs. George Fultz of Maysville were Sunday guests of their sister Mrs. H. W. Keeton also Mr. Keeton's mother, Mrs. Mollie Keeton spent Sunday as a guest at the Keeton home.

Mr. Walter Caudill and family, Mr. F. P. Hollans and family and Mrs. A. J. Alderman motored to Cincinnati Saturday and spent the day sight seeing.

Mr. Elsie Bayes spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. L. C. McGuire and family and attended the revival at Clearfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Utterback and children and Mrs. J. D. Rayburn and daughter, Louise of Farmers attended the revival meeting at Clearfield Sunday evening.

Mr. L. C. McGuire and family and Mrs. Elsie Bayes were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Easterling and family at Clearfield Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Evans and daughter and Miss Opal Reeder of Flat Fork attended the revival at Clearfield Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ferguson were in West Liberty Monday on business.

Mr. Orby Beard and Ralph Clark were dinner guests of Mr. D. White and family Sunday and were entertained Monday at the home of Mr. Jim White.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Jones and wife of Cincinnati are spending a few days with her parents, Mrs. and Mrs. M. S. Steel.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hollan and daughter, Mrs. Alice Gilbert and Miss Anna Mae Hollan of New Castle, Ind., are visiting Mrs. Hollans son Mr. Perry Hollan and family.

One of the probably real reasons for the lack of support is that Morehead is worn out with sports. For a small community, there is probably more teams of different nature in this community than in any other of similar size in the United States. Here sports is one continual round of pleasure. Beginning with September until next September, there is never a week passes in which there is not some kind of a contest in sports.

Football games in September and the college has three teams while the high school contributes its share with one. Until December football is king to be displaced then by basketball, with which again the town is amply blessed. The college furnishes three teams and again the high school, this season is closed then the county comes in with at least one. After basket ball tournament comes on and after that again spring football training. Interupted with both is boxing and wrestling which takes its toll as well.

And again in the spring they turn to baseball.

Small wonder that Morehead fans sigh for a breath of the time when for a week, if only a week, they may breathe the air untaunted by even the faintest aroma of sports and contests.

Some times even a lowly game of pool would be welcome.

All of which is not said because we feel that way ourselves, but merely by way of giving one possible solution to the fact that the baseball team is not being given the kind of support it has received in the past, and which it is hoped it may again enjoy.

Juniors Fail to Play Off Double-Header

The Junior Merchants had another bad day Saturday and the scheduled double-header with Owingsville was washed off on account of rain.

The lack of a game however gave the boys time to work out a few batting averages and team standings and here they are.

It will be seen by the batting averages that J. T. Daugherty leads the team in batting with the average of .833 per cent, an average that Babe Ruth or Lou Gehrig would wish to attain. Kessler follows him with .500, not a bad average in itself. Brown, who is one of the official heavies for the Juniors, and Tackett are tail enders in the batting list with .142.

Here they are.

Torn Lineup Weakens Chances Of Locals To Climb In League Standing.

A postponed double header with Paris Merchants at the opposition will be played here this afternoon, according to Manager Claude Clayton of the Morehead K. S. L. team. The double header was scheduled to be played here several Sundays ago, but the persistent rain, caused the gala day to be postponed.

Thursday, if it doesn't rain them out again will put an end to the prospects, for the locals will either win or lose on that day.

Being a week-day game a fair crowd is expected to witness the workouts.

It is expected that the entire regular line-up will be back in harness and ready to take their places on the field. Dale and McNabb are expected to take charge of the hurrying for Morehead and Clayton again be cowering behind the bat on the receiving end.

LOCAL TEAM TO PLAY FLEMINGSBURG SUNDAY

Following the Thursday game with Paris here, Morehead will try to stem the tide at Flemingsburg on Sunday. Morehead has one defeat on the record in their previous game with Flemingsburg, played here. The Flemers are up and coming and it is no child's game when they start slugger. However the previous game was played while the locals were getting under way and there is prospect that the score may be reversed. At least that is the determination with which Clayton's team is entering the fray. It is now or never with them, and they are determined to make it now.

Next Sunday Maysville will play at Brookville, Morehead at Flemingsburg, Paris at Owingsville and Vanceburg at Mt. Sterling.

Monday, July 8th.
History vs. Cafeteria, 3:30
Business Men vs. Big House, 4:45
Games rained out may be played on Saturdays.

AT THE THEATRES

COZY

Bing Crosby can't figure it out. The Paramount star can't understand how romances ever developed in those romantic sixties, now that he's had a glimpse of that period in his new picture, "Mississippi," which opens at the Cozy Theatre Sunday and Monday, June 23 - 24. Crosby is starred with W. C. Fields and Joan Bennett.

"With hoop skirts and pantalettes for the ladies," says Crosby, "and mustaches and silk vesting coats for the gentlemen, romance must have been something of a problem in those days."

"I raised a tasteful and highly decorative set of 'Dundrearies' for my role in 'Mississippi.' This beard effect starts with a pair of sideburns and sweeps across the cheek to develop into a flowing mustache. And in the picture, poor Joan Bennett has to love me with a face like that."

"And, for my part, I have the problem of making love to a girl set within three feet of her. No glove costume is such that I can't ponder the dandies of the day kissed their fair ladies' hands. They couldn't have reached their lips unless they were contentions."

"Mississippi," in which Crosby sings a number of new Rodgers and Hart tunes, is the story of the Yankee lad who lost one fair lady through cowardice and almost lost another through too much bravery. Four new songs by Rodgers and Hart feature "Mississippi," and Genevieve Smith, the "Cabin Girl" and Gail Patrick are prominent in the supporting cast.

Wheeler and Woolsey at College Theatre Friday in "NITWITS." Sixty minutes of top-notch entertainment, a mad and merry mélange of comedy, mystery and melody, making this picture one of the best boys' alone Amusement Age. This week is offered at the College Theatre in the "Nitwits."

A title like "The Nitwits" can only suggest the screen's witwitted stars—Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey. For them, "The Nitwits" is an innovation. They have abundant opportunity to exercise their inimitable comic talents while they solve a baffling murder mystery and extortion plot. And that's not all! The locale is Tin Pan Alley, New York's own song writing "Latin quarter," which gives a reasonable excuse for three melodies whose current popularity on the ballroom floor and over the air waves is no surprise to this reviewer! No doubt, you have sung, whistled or danced to any of the three—"Music in My Heart," "You Opened My Eyes" and "The Black Widow will Get You If You Don't Watch Out!"

The murder plot, which could logically stand alone as a separate production, concerns a terrorist campaign by the sinister Black Widow. When Wheeler's finances are accused, the police finding in her possession the weapon which murdered her boss, the boys take a hand privately in their hilarious manner. The result is a baffling success, a credit to any Philo Vance, and they certainly make mystery a laughing matter.

Nonsense runs amok in "The Nitwits" but the results are highly entertaining. Woolsey's rendition of "The Black Widow" strikes a new high in goofing-around. The ridiculousness of their slugging methods is best exemplified with a truth detecting machine calculated to shock the truth out of the best Munchausen—and it gets results.
